

The First Heir 2881

Chapter 2881

Philip said gravely, "This is quite unexpected. There's no record of such a civilization system in world history."

Philip chuckled and said, "History only allows us to see what we should see. The real history may already have been destroyed long ago."

Everyone nodded.

Suddenly, Fennel thought of something. He took out his phone, opened the internal communication with the Hall of the Sun, and said, "I just received this news, which is only being circulated in the big countries. It's top secret... Take a look."

Philip glanced at the messages on Fennel's phone.

It was the first-hand data obtained by the spacecraft that the country launched to Mars some time ago. These data and images were not made public. They were all level 58 confidential documents!

"What are these?" Suddenly, Philip was stunned!

surface of Mars caught his attention. There seemed to be a picture, looked at it carefully, and Oriental characters. Moreover, there was an obscure pattern that seemed like a geomancy formation. More terrifyingly, there were several stones around the stone tablet arranged in a formation. It was as if they were suppressing something. Huge characters on the stone tablet revealed ancient

[Monster imprisoned here!]

Hiss!

Everyone gasped.

on the stone tablet and monster was imprisoned

Philip looked talk about it. The impact behind this finding is very

Hiss!

his brain capacity had reached its limit. This was too surreal. Although modern technological development allowed

Chapter 2882

Everyone exchanged a glance.

Who would look for Philip here?

He had just reached Mystic City and knew no one. Could it be...

Philip got up, walked out of the room, and came to the lobby.

A group of people stood in the lobby, and six bodyguards surrounded a man in elegant clothes. The man looked very handsome and stood with his hands behind his back as if he was looking at something.

Seeing Philip walking downstairs, the man hurriedly smiled and said, "Young Patriarch Clarke, it's been a while. I didn't expect you to be in this hotel."

Philip looked at the man and said with a smile, "Moses Dunley, why are you here?"

Philip took a seat. The two sat at the table, and the guards here, of course, I can come here too. It's no secret that the treasure of the ancient sage has appeared in Mystic City. Not only me but nearly all the major families are here, forces have begun to work together. Under said, "I have nothing to worry about. As for chuckled and said, "As expected of Young Patriarch Clarke. It seems that it all written on your face. How here to work with you. Now that all the major forces and families are working together to obtain the treasures of the ancient sage, if we don't work together, it'll be difficult to nodded and said, "You have a point, with a smile, "This is fate. I think we're similar in some pathetic. I know the strength of without explaining and

The First Heir

Chapter 2883

Hearing that, Philip sneered. However, he was unconcerned. He took the tablet and said, "Okay, if there's nothing else, I'll go upstairs."

Moses quickly stopped Philip from leaving and said, "Young Patriarch Clarke, I have another piece of confidential information here that I'm sure you'll be interested in."

Philip looked at Moses and asked, "What is it?"

Moses looked around before he approached Philip and said, "It's about your sister, Hannah Clarke."

Philip frowned and said, "What do you know?"

Moses smiled mysteriously and said, "I don't know anything, but I know someone who does."

Hearing this, Philip's face became very dark.

After Moses left, Philip stood in the lobby with Moses' last words echoing in his mind.

Cleo Lovelace! Cleo was actually in Mystic City too!

Philip's eyes dimmed before a biting cold light suddenly erupted.

of people in strange clothes with their faces covered barged in from the hotel door. The guy in the lead had his muscled arms exposed and was dressed like a bounty hunter. He had a machine gun in his

it! Who's the boss here? Get out here were ferocious-looking the table in fear, while others remain seated as they indifferently drank tea and chatted. Soon, the boss scrambled out with a money box in his hand, bowing and saying, "Kind sirs, over his face. He boss knelt on the floor and said with a bow, "This

me

burly man pulled the safety off and aimed the boss was so frightened that head. He stood up and here!" The burly man in the the machine gun on Philip's chest and shouted, "Kid, you look unfamiliar. Do you want say this once. Put your gun away and the burly man and his gang laughed to get lost! Hahaha!" The laughter

Chapter 2884

Philip chuckled and said, "Excuse me, but I don't know Third Master Lane."

Hearing that, the burly man was full of sneers and anger. He said, "Very well, you're really arrogant, kid! You don't even know Third Master Lane. I'll give you a chance now. Put your gun down and beg for mercy on your knees, then maybe I'll consider letting you live. Otherwise, my buddies will put their bullets in your body?!"

The burly man sneered menacingly.

Third Master Lane was one of the four major forces in Mystic City of the northwest. He had about a thousand underlings. Moreover, they were equipped with firepower.

In Mystic City, the four major forces should be avoided at all costs because they were extremely vicious people who would kill without blinking an eye. Third Master Lane was even more savage with the blood of dozens of lives on his hands.

Philip glanced coldly at the man in front of him and said, "You don't seem to understand my words. I'll give you one last chance too. Take your people and get out!"

"Insolence!" The burly man roared, and his men behind him were about to shoot. However, Philip was faster.

Bang!

bullet hit the burly man in the right leg, and his pants were

"Argh!"

and howling. Neither he nor his men with guns behind him could believe what had happened. Someone actually dared dead! How dare you shoot me? I won't let you off!" The burly man roared, put your gun down! Otherwise, we'll shoot our cocky! Let's just remained unperturbed and stepped on the right leg of the burly man that got and the man clutched Philip's leg tightly while yelling miserably, "Ah! Let go! You're dead! You of the hotel was terrified upon seeing

The First Heir

Chapter 2885

After saying that, Philip hooked a chair over with his foot, sat down calmly, and kept his gun pointed at the burly man's head. The man was now lying in a pool of blood, his face pale.

He roared, "Damn it! Why are you still standing there? Inform Third Master Lane and tell him to bring our buddies over to destroy this ignorant brat!"

An underling quickly made a call.

10 minutes later, several cars braked to a sudden halt outside the hotel. It was followed by messy footsteps.

"Damn it! Who dares to touch my guys?"

Everyone heard the voice first. It was low and hoarse and sounded quite menacing.

Philip raised his eyebrows and saw dozens of men with weapons rushing in at the door. They were all dressed up like street gangsters. The leader was a man about 1.7 meters tall with dark skin. He was blind in one eye and had a long scar on the corner of his mouth. Several pistols and daggers were strapped around his waist. He came in with hostile vibes and kicked the door to bits.

Dumbo Lane, Third Master Lane!

As one of the Four Earth Dragons in Northwest Mystic City, he was a ruthless man. As soon as he entered the door, he saw Philip sitting in the lobby and immediately shouted angrily, "Damn it! Are you the one who dared to touch my people?! I'll give you a count of three to kneel in front of me and break your arms and legs!"

shouts, Philip looked over indifferently and said with a fully armed. Although there were no cutting-edge high-tech weapons, that equipment

This kid is so cocky! How dare he speak to him! He injured at once! Otherwise, you'll with such threatening remarks, Philip Master Lane and the dozens of guys behind him indifferently. He said, "I'll give you a chance. Kneel and apologize to me, then I might

"Hahaha!"

was a burst of

I've ever seen. I think you haven't heard of me. How dare you ask me to kneel and apologize to you? Do

behind him

guy must be crazy to talk crap like a newcomer at

Master, stop wasting time and

The First Heir

Chapter 2886

Dumbo and dozens of his men were dumbfounded when they saw the heavily armed soldiers who suddenly surrounded them.

What the hell was going on here?

These were the guards stationed around Mystic City! They were deployed now!

Dumbo sweated profusely and gulped nervously. While it was true that he was one of the Four Earth Dragons in Mystic City, he was nothing but a bug in front of these combatants. Besides, the weapons of these guards were much better than theirs. The equipment in the guards' hands was the most advanced combat weapon.

Soon, a man with a battle cap and a special badge branded on his shoulders and chest walked out briskly behind the group of guards in green uniforms. As soon as he appeared, the atmosphere became extremely tense.

Dumbo nearly knelt in fright!

Aaron Dole!

in Mystic City, a definite pillar of strength. His appearance made the flabbergasted and stood there blankly. His mouth went dry, and he did not know eagle-like eyes carried a murderous chill that made people avoid eye contact

It was too strong!

cold and stern vibes made people stay at least five meters away

Thud!

brim of his cap, and fixed his icy eyes on Dumbo. He said in a hoarse and I didn't think that you'd be here and didn't welcome you properly. Uh, this is nothing. A new kid on the block just Four Earth Dragons, he had to bow in front of Aaron today, but don't think

The First Heir

Chapter 2887

To everyone's surprise, Aaron slapped Dumbo so hard that he rolled out several meters away into the crowd.

His buddies quickly helped Dumbo up. Dumbo clutched his burning and blood-stained cheek, spat out a few teeth that had been knocked out of his mouth, and said furiously, "Captain Dole, what are you doing? Did I offend you in any way?"

After all, Dumbo was one of the Four Earth Dragons, and he had a temper too. Although Aaron was an amazing character, Dumbo was not completely afraid of him. He had a big figure supporting him from behind too. If an inevitable conflict happened between him and Aaron, the big figure behind him would definitely step in.

However, Aaron did not even look at Dumbo. He walked up to Philip who was sitting inside and bowed to Philip in everyone's astonished gaze. He said, "Young Patriarch Clarke, I'm sorry for being late. We've received orders from Supreme Williams. 100,000 guards of Mystic City are at your disposal!"

Hiss!

Everyone gasped, dumbfounded!

What the hell was going on here?

He was the head captain of 100,000 guards of Mystic City. At this moment, he actually said such earth-shattering words to this young man...

guards were at his disposal! Moreover, these words almost keeled over in fright, his legs shaking tough opponent

glanced at Aaron, and nodded lightly. Then, he looked at Dumbo who was supported by his buddies and said with a smile, "Third Thump!

Clarke, I was blind and ignorant! I was wrong! I deserve to was completely surrounded by Aaron's people now. As long as the party said the word, he might Stilt, bowing and begging for mercy. As for Jaguar who was lying in a pool of blood, he closed his eyes and pretended to be dead. He was shaking all doomed for sure on the floor, and said coldly, "Third Master Lane, weren't you very arrogant before?"

"I was

help? You're nothing more than street gangsters.

The First Heir

Chapter 2888

Speaking of this, Dumbo sneered smugly as he stood up and said, "Haha, I'm afraid you'll be scared to death if I tell you his name!"

However, as soon as Dumbo stood up, Philip kicked him again!

Bang!

Dumbo was immediately kicked in his knee and knelt on the floor again. He howled and roared, "How dare you?!"

Philip slapped him again and said solemnly, "Did I allow you to stand up?"

words got stuck in his throat. He glanced at the people around him and Aaron who was standing beside Philip. He swallowed his anger as he knelt on the floor and said with a snort, "Young Patriarch Clarke, although I don't know your background, seeing the respect shown by Captain Dole to you, you must be an extraordinary figure. In that case, I have to remind you that the person behind me is not a pushover either! He has the title of the Third

Third Dragon King?!

frowned. The forces in Mystic City three Dragon Kings in Mystic City. They've been around for thousands of years since ancient times. Dragon Kings are the local name for the connections he has are beyond our imagination. The Second Dragon King may not be as good as the first and third, but he's recognized as a good Samaritan in Mystic City. He has laid little tricky. He's a ruthless person with meticulous thinking and is also the leader of the underground forces in Mystic City. Moreover, his identity is very special. He's rumored

After listening to Aaron's explanation, he stared at Dumbo and said, "Young Patriarch Clarke, I advise you to let me was exaggerating, but it was

The First Heir

Chapter 2889

Hearing that he was about to be locked up, Dumbo shouted anxiously, "Captain Dole, he may be ignorant, but you wouldn't follow in his footsteps, right? If Dragon King Well finds out that you locked me up, your job will be in danger!"

Aaron scowled upon hearing this. He kicked Dumbo in the chest and Dumbo fell on his back.

Aaron then said, "Dumbo Lane, don't be cocky with me. If not for Dragon King Well, I'd have taken you down long ago!"

"Guards, bring them back! Also, tell the relevant departments to seize all of Dumbo Lane's businesses and manpower!"

"Yes, sir!" With a roar, the guards detained Dumbo and dozens of his men.

Dumbo struggled and shouted, "Aaron Dole, you're finished! If Dragon King Well finds out, let's see how you'll explain it!"

Looking at the dozens of people who were taken away, Aaron turned to Philip with a worried look on his face and asked, "Young Patriarch Clarke, what should we do next? Dragon King Well isn't an easy person to deal with. Anyone who messes with him will surely suffer his retaliation."

Philip put his hands in his trouser pockets and thought about it.

Mystic City, so many Dragon King Well. Let me know if Fennel and the others. After all, they had planned to act with caution, but it seemed impossible now. These intricate forces leave a nodded, turned around, and moment and asked, "What's going on? Why are the city and said, "It's nothing. The teacher has arranged for these people to be and asked, "Did I hear something about others about what happened.

me go. I'll bring you the head of Dragon King Well!" 17 including the people and other things. If should we do, about it and

***

The First Heir

Chapter 2890

Two days later, Philip and the others were about to leave the hotel and walk around Mystic City.

At the door, they bumped into Lord Ludo who walked in. Philip was still a little embarrassed when he saw Lord Ludo. He could not help but think of the incident when he accidentally touched something he should not have touched in the suite two days ago. To this day, his cheek still ached.

Lord Ludo was still disguised as a man. He glared coldly at Philip and asked, "Where are you going, Young Patriarch Clarke?"

Philip chuckled and said, "I'm going out for a walk."

Hearing that, Lord Ludo frowned and said, "If you don't mind, I'll go with you. I'm fairly familiar with this place and can be your tour guide."

Philip immediately shook his head and said, "No need. I'm sure you're very busy. We'll just walk around at random."

this, Ludo stared at Philip with murderous intent and was embarrassed. He frowned and said with

What the heck?

the group of people left the hotel.

people and customs of Mystic City were fairly laid back. Most of them came from the mountains, so they were bold and unrestrained. Moreover, many men and women performed arts on few shops on both sides of the streets that mostly sold daily necessities with few luxury and high-end outskirts of Mystic City. The city center is quite prosperous. You can have whatever you want.

he said this, Ludo glared at Philip deliberately while cursing him inwardly for being a big walked around for a while before they chose a restaurant to after they sat down, they up some good stuff in Mystic Mine Three, a lot of jade stones and