The First Heir

Chapter 3031

Teams of guards kept the city under close watch. One after another, armored vehicles and fighter planes rushed to the battleground. The huge spaceship was fighting with dozens of fighter planes at the moment.

All the disciples undergoing training in Cochly Mountain also came out and joined the battle.

A battle that could destroy a city broke out here!

In the distant land, the Nonagon received communication from Cochly Mountain.

“Report! An unknown aircraft has appeared in Cochly Mountain and is currently fighting against the garrison.”

A correspondent quickly reported.

“Move the satellite and see what’s going on there!” A man in a combat uniform ordered coldly.

Soon, the satellite screen was launched and showed the huge spaceship fighting against armored vehicles on land and fighter planes in the sky. There were dozens of disciples joining the battle. The scene was very intense.

“What did you find?” the man in combat uniform asked coldly.

Hearing that, the Imperial Preceptor frowned and said, "How did she make contact with Philip?"

The middle-aged man shook his head and said, "It should be credited to the little Beelzebub she abducted. It smelled its kind on Philip."

The Imperial Preceptor's eyes turned icy, and he said, "When the Beelzebub family wreaked havoc in the human world back then, they should have been exterminated with no survivors left behind!"

The middle-aged man said, "But that little one is kind by nature, different from the combat beasts of the Beelzebub family."

"Hmph!" The Imperial Preceptor snorted coldly and said, "If they hadn't joined forces to submit the petition, I wouldn't have agreed to keep that creature."

The middle-aged man smiled and said, "Imperial Preceptor, you were magnanimous. They have found many things from that little one now, so the benefits to the human race and civilization outweigh the disadvantages."

The Imperial Preceptor fell silent at the remark. He looked up at the stars and said, "I hope so. Immediately send some people to keep an eye on Riverdale. Also, the Heavenly Court is bound to make another move. We need to be prepared. I don't want any accidents beyond the control of the chess game."

"Yes, my lord," the middle-aged man said and left the hall silently.

The girl pouted and said, “The stargate is my home. I’ve always lived at the stargate, and I took Blackie with me too. If you don’t believe me, just ask Blackie.”

After saying that, the girl held Blackie up to Philip’s face. Blackie got annoyed and roared. It struggled free from the girl’s hold, turned around, and arched in the direction of the door!

“What does it mean?” Philip asked.

Seeing this, the girl said worriedly, “Oh no, they must be here to catch me!”

With that said, the girl picked up Blackie and was about to run. However, suddenly, two figures, one tall and fat while the other short and thin, rushed over from a distance and landed at the door, blocking the girl’s path.

The tall fat man carried a huge ax on his shoulders. His head was bald, and he wore a golden metallic mask that covered his nose and below. Vital parts such as his chest were covered with golden armor.

The short thin man beside him held a morning star in his hand, looked at the girl indifferently, stretched out his hand, and said in a gruff voice, “Hand the Beelzebub over!”

The guy with the ax had lost one arm, and the blood stained half of his body red. Even so, he still did not stop attacking Philip. He swung his giant ax at Philip with his other arm.

Philip's eyes turned cold. He raised his hand and a chimera fist burst out. A chimera formed and slammed into the man's chest!

A ball of flame engulfed the man and burned vigorously. The man was covered in flames and screamed miserably. Finally, he fell to the ground with a plop, turned into ashes, and dispersed as the wind blew.

Philip glanced at the scene coldly before his eyes fell on the short guy. He said grimly, "Why did the people of Heavenly Court enter the secular world without permission? Tell me your purpose and I might let you live."

The girl panicked and quickly backed away. She looked at Philip nervously and asked, "W-What do you want to do?"

Philip frowned and said, "Beelzebub isn't something you can bring out to play with. Since it's a beast from behind the stargate, I have the right to kill it now!"

A longsword made of air appeared in Philip's hand, and he could kill the creature at any time!

The girl was so anxious that she burst into tears and said, "Please don't kill Blackie. It's innocent and very well-behaved. If not for Blackie's company, I wouldn't have anyone to talk to and play with."

“That reason is insufficient. All I know is that they’re the source of destruction to this world,” Philip said coldly and walked toward the girl.

The girl backed away, crying and begging. The little thing in her arms grew more nervous and ferocious.

As Philip raised his sword, a figure rushed over from a distance!

This person landed in front of them and reached out with one hand, which turned into a big hand. It grabbed Blackie from the girl’s arms!

Philip looked up at the turtle, but it was looking at Emperor Kai's Token that was suspended in the air instead. It said in a weather-beaten voice, "I'm surprised to see the Human Emperor's Token left over from the Human Emperor's era after thousands of years..."

'Human Emperor's Token?' Philip was shocked and puzzled.

Was that not Emperor Kai's Token?

How did it become the Human Emperor's Token instead?

Then, the shadow of the huge turtle slowly lowered its head and glanced at the tiny human being in front of it.

It exhaled noisily and said, "Are you the boy chosen by the Human Emperor?"

Philip did not understand, but he still bowed and said, "I'm sorry, I don't know how to address you, but I don't know this Human Emperor whom you're referring to..."

The girl stomped her feet, pouted, and followed Philip out of this place. Soon, Philip returned to First Palace with the girl and the turtle shell.

When the girl saw Philip's luxurious house, she kept running around the villa in awe.

Martha scowled when she saw Philip returning with a young girl of 17 or 18 years old but dared not say anything.

Philip was still such a playboy, flirting with a young girl.

What did he take Wynn for? Speaking of which, where was Wynn?

"Philip, why isn't Wynn back with you? She has been away for a while. Where did she go?" Martha walked over with tea and asked with a smile.

"Aunt, thanks," the girl said sweetly.
