

The First Heir 3171

Chapter 3171

At this moment, Leopard stepped out from one side.

Seeing Philip, he was stunned for a moment before asking, "Boss, did you do this?"

Philip glared at him and said with a snort, "Didn't you see it clearly just now?"

Hearing that, Leopard scratched his head in embarrassment. He realized that Philip had already discovered him just now.

"Are you here for revenge, or do you want to make up for the star dollars you owe me?" At Leopard's appearance, Philip immediately asked.

Leopard quickly waved his hand and said, "No, Boss, you misunderstood. I'm here to be your apprentice!"

'Apprentice?' Philip frowned.

Emily also looked incredulous on the side.

Philip stepped on the new floor before he cleaned up and went to sleep on the bed that Emily had prepared for him.

In fact, this was not a bed at all and only a sofa, but the space here was too small for anything else. He could only put up with it for the time being.

Emily also cleaned up and went to sleep. However, soon after Philip lay down, he heard a sound from the door. It was a rustling sound as if someone was trying to break in.

Philip smiled glumly.

No way, Emily was already so poor, but thieves were still attracted to her house.

Just as Philip was about to get up, he suddenly saw that it was Iris at the door. He frowned.

Why was this woman sneaking around in the middle of the night?

However, Iris seemed very familiar with Emily's home.

Philip decided to stay still, wanting to see what Iris was up to. At this moment, Iris suddenly took a step inside and lay down on the sofa. She did not notice Philip on the sofa at all.

Iris finally realized something was wrong when she lay on top of Philip.

Emily simply could not figure out how they had the energy to bicker with each other so early in the morning. However, Emily's grandfather just smiled and looked at the two of them, seemingly enjoying the atmosphere very much.

"Grandpa, why do you seem so happy watching the two of them bicker?"

Hearing Emily's question, Grandpa just smiled lightly and said, "Silly girl, you'll know when you grow up. That's the smell of love in the air!"

While talking, Grandpa closed his eyes and sniffed.

He said, "Well, it smells really good!"

As he said this, he did not keep his voice down at all. This made Philip and Iris glare at each other and fell silent. However, at this moment, someone knocked on the door

Since this person was here for him, Philip stepped forward and said, "Are you here for me?"

Keegan nodded and said, "My useless buddies were defeated under your hands yesterday, right?"

'Useless buddies?' Philip thought for a moment and recalled the few people who fought with him yesterday.

He asked with narrowed eyes, "Are you here to avenge them?"

Hearing that, Keegan smiled lightly and said, "I won't go as far as to say that, but I do want to experience for myself how strong this fire elemental practitioner is!"

Although he said he was not here for revenge, this man's face looked a bit frenzied. Obviously, he was here to mess with Philip.

At this time, Keegan shuddered all over, and five rays of light burst out from his body.

Leopard exclaimed, "A five-star talent practitioner!"

A star talent practitioner could practice the elements of heaven and earth and use them to enhance their strength, offense, and defense. It was the same as the attributes in the original world.

The stronger the elemental level of the star talent practitioner, the stronger their ability. They could enter a higher and more powerful level.

Leopard scratched his head and said, "Boss, I have something to discuss with you..."

With a glance at Leopard, Philip said, "Just speak your mind. Don't dilly-dally."

With that said, Leopard looked at Philip worriedly.

“Boss, the person who messed with you today is an expert from the lower eastern district. His name is Keegan Weldon. He belongs to the Rain family, which has ruled over the lower eastern district for a long time. He’s also in cahoots with Young Master Curry...”

Philip glanced at the Leopard in front of him. “What are you trying to say?”

Leopard said to Philip, “Boss, you defeated him today but didn’t kill him. He’ll definitely come back and mess with you. I’m scared!”

The old man’s voice attracted the attention of many people around. They were here in a big group, and everyone was already talking about it.

Seeing Philip and the others heading to the test tower at this moment, everyone wanted to see the excitement and see what Philip and the others were about to do.

Philip turned to the old man and said with a smile, “What else can we do in the test tower? It’s to test our talent, of course!”

The old man sneered when he heard that Philip and the others were here to test their talent.

“You should know the rules for using this test tower. If you don’t have talent, it’ll cost you 100 star dollars for the test. Can you afford it?”

Hearing that, Philip just smiled lightly and said, “Only one of us will be taking the test. Why can’t we afford it?”

When the old man heard Philip’s words, he turned his head away immediately!

“The test can’t be done with just one person!”

The old man’s words were extremely tough, not polite at all.

However, Leopard looked at Philip glumly and miserably.

The old man snorted coldly. He had already tested Leopard, who had no talent at all, so he was certain that Philip would lose for sure.

Everyone was staring at Leopard at the test tower. They wanted to see if Leopard had the strength and talent. However, as the light that shrouded Leopard faded a little, there was still nothing on the stone that represented the element of fire.

The old man was very smug. He could almost see the 20,000 star dollars shining before him.

At this moment, however, Philip’s voice suddenly became distant and clear. This voice did not seem to sound in Leopard’s ears but in his heart!

“Mobilize the raging fire element in your heart. Use your anger! Think about how you were belittled by others. Are you willing to accept it?”

Leopard’s expression suddenly changed at this time.

As he was always bullied by others when he was a child, he became a bully when he grew up.

The old man suddenly grabbed a very timid-looking child next to him. It was a little boy, seven or eight years old, still wet behind the ears.

The old man pushed the child in front of Philip.

Philip chuckled and asked, “What do you mean by this?”

“This is the subject for our second test, of course!”

Philip said indifferently, “You can’t just pull a child with no elements over for the test. No matter what, we can’t find any elements, can we?”

After a pause, Philip continued, “Let’s do this. If anyone has taken a test under this gentleman before, let me check if anyone has been overlooked. That’s only fair!”

Hearing that, the onlookers who came for the show gathered together quickly.

The old man wanted to say something but he did not want to cause public outrage!

So, he snorted coldly and said, "Okay, I'll see what tricks you can come up with!"

Hearing that, Philip simply smiled faintly and started walking past these people one by one.

Leopard asked Philip, "Boss, how did you manage to make Arlene possess the water element?"

Philip knocked Leopard on the head and said, "She already has that in her. I can't make people get elements out of thin air!"

While talking, Philip and Leopard headed to the boxing arena.

In fact, Arlene's condition was caused by a special cold energy that prevented her talent from activating.

At that time, although Philip seemed like he was touching Arlene's belly lightly, that brief moment required Philip's precise control over the fire element to eliminate the cold energy without hurting Arlene.

Arlene felt as if she was dreaming. At first, she had promised her father she would enter into a political marriage. After all, she was a white husk, so she could hardly achieve anything great in this lifetime. However, now that she was a level 2S water elemental talent, even in the face of her father, Lion Shannon, she had the right to refuse to get married.

Philip and the others turned around and saw a young man in a leather jacket.

When Leopard saw this person, his expression changed drastically. "Kerry Rain, why are you here?!"

Hearing that name and seeing Leopard's expression at this time, Philip roughly guessed the identity of this person.

"Someone from the lower east area?" Philip did not look at Kerry but asked Leopard.

Leopard promptly nodded.

Philip stood up from his chair and said softly to the young man named Kerry Rain, "Are you here to seek revenge?"
