Chapter 3421

"Please excuse my ignorance. This way, please!"

With that said, the manager bowed and led Philip inside. However, his face was full of wicked smiles as if he had seen a big prey.

"I have ten million star dollars here. Let's see how we can play today. If things don't go well, I'm afraid I'll lose everything to you." Philip waved the communicator in his hand and said self-deprecatingly.

"We wouldn't dare." The manager answered so but secretly called someone specially hired by their casino.

Philip came to a spinning wheel full of holes, and a pipe was located on the top of the wheel.

"How does this work?" Philip asked.

The manager pressed a button, and the wheel spun faster and faster. A small ball was fired through the pipe onto the wheel. After spinning around with a loud tinkling sound, the ball finally fell into hole number 36.

Philip explored the inside of the machine with his senses, but there was a large magic circle here that prevented people's detection. Despite that, Philip grinned and asked the manager to exchange some chips for him.

The blue iron plankton seemed like it was dying. Philip pretended to lie on the edge of the table and urged it along.

Seeing the others quickly overtaking it, Philip cursed the iron plankton, "I chose you not to see you stop here. Hurry up and move it, you piece of trash!"

Philip was hysterical.

Next to him, Carl grabbed hold of this Sir Gordon Tine tightly. His eyes gradually dimmed. It seemed that this expert was useless now.

Soon, iron plankton number seven was the first to reach the finish line through numerous obstacles. That person played his part well, pretending to be very shocked and excited.

They lost one million just like that. Carl looked helplessly at Philip, who was lying on the table and kicking a fuss to win it back.

"Sir, let's stop playing. We can pay back what we owe by working."

At this time, Philip looked as if he was buzzed from gambling.

The others did not pay much attention to this. After all, iron plankton would go fast or slow at any time. Although all the iron plankton was rigged, it was mostly targeted at the customer's iron plankton.

Philip did the same on the second one, but it was not easy to do the same on the third one for fear of arousing suspicion.

Thus, Philip added a little boost on the back of his iron plankton number two and saw a significant increase in its speed.

"Go, go, go!" Philip cheered frantically.

Carl also looked excited at the sight of possible victory.

That iron plankton finally overtook iron plankton number three at the last minute and reached the finish line.

“You’re almost in my face. Why are you yelling so loudly? Is there something wrong with your eyes?”

Philip sneered before continuing, “I’m the one messing around. What’s the problem?”

“I advise you not to be so cocky. You’ll get beaten up like this.” The middle-aged man saw that this man was so arrogant and spoke coldly.

The manager hurried up to this man, told him what happened, and was scolded by the boss, “Trash! How dare you believe in magic tricks? You let a beggar into my casino. I think you must be tired of living!”

“Boss, please spare my life. I won’t dare to do this anymore!” The manager fell to his knees and begged for mercy.

The man kicked the manager away and said, “Hurry up and get out of my sight. Don’t let me see you again.”

The two continued to glare at each other, and Philip said, “Where’s the money I won?”

Philip had long noticed the boss’ movements but did not call him out.

Suddenly, a cold light flashed in front of his eyes. With a fierce killing intent, the middle-aged man wanted to stab Philip’s eye socket with a dagger.

When he thought he was about to succeed, a huge gust of air gushed out from Philip’s body, and the man could hardly open his eyes from the huge pressure.

When he opened his eyes again, his dagger was firmly clamped by the man in front of him with two fingers.

Philip’s hair was all messed up by the strong wind. His eyes pierced into the boss’ mind like sharp swords, and his dagger could not break free from that vice-like grip no matter what.

“You have no chance. Tell me how you want to deal with this.”

As Philip spoke, he took a step forward, grabbed the man by the collar, and lifted him.

“M-My father is the leader of Mountain Wolf Squad! You can’t do anything to me!”

Although the middle-aged man lost his composure, he still tried his best to keep his tone steady.

”Really? Oh... I’m so scared...”

Chapter 3426

The group of people insisted on buying Philip dinner to repay Philip for saving them. Philip tried his best to refuse but to no avail.

Carl got anxious in the end before Philip finally agreed.

However, Philip detected someone with his senses from the Golden Lotus Casino who had been following them the entire way. It seemed that the boss was unwilling to give up.

That so-called Mountain Wolf Squad would probably find trouble with them later.

There were five men and three women in this group of nine, and all of them looked quite inexperienced. If Philip were not here, they probably would not have noticed the danger.

A quirky little girl in the team kept asking Philip why he did not cut his hair and beard when he was so rich. She was the one who advanced with the help of the stone fruit.

After the meal, Philip left with Carl's contact details, and the other party returned to the hotel.

"Where are you from?" Philip asked loudly.

At this time, three people came out of the shadows between the buildings. Philip had seen one of them before. He was one of the captors.

"The leader of Mountain Wolf Squad would like to see you. Can you come with us?"

Although the man in the middle posed it as a question, he adjusted the gun on his waist, meaning that things would turn rough if Philip refused.

Philip felt amused. Among the three, two were in the middle stage of seven stars while the other one was in the early stage of seven stars. It seemed that the power he displayed just now was not a strong enough deterrent.

"Lead the way," Philip said with his hands behind his back.

"Okay, you're smart enough."

The man thought Philip was a fool who had no fear of death and said with a grin.

Philip and the three walked out of the building and came to an independent high-rise building through the connecting track. A huge neon sign on the high-rise building read out 'Mountain Wolf'.

This sign was obviously not on the same level of aesthetics as the signs on other buildings.

The smell of meat permeated the whole room, and those who did not know would think they were having a barbecue.

“Damn boy, how dare you?!” the wolfman bared his fangs in pain and glared at Philip as he howled.

With the help of his subordinates, the flames were extinguished, but the neatly groomed hair on his body was now scorched and burnt, making him look unkempt.

“I’m going to rip you apart!”

The wolfman growled and rushed toward Philip again. His sharp claws flashed with cold light as he swiped at Philip’s neck.

Seeing this, Caelum Sword flashed with a fiery red as Philip blocked his attack. With a bang, Philip staggered a few steps back, his arms numb from the impact.

Chapter 3429

In a mountain forest at this time, the wolfman leaned against a tree and panted heavily. He was almost killed in the fight just now. Even though he ran fast, he was still seriously injured.

He could not help the lingering fear at the thought of Philip, wondering how the hell his stupid son offended such a guy.

“Damn, I was careless, but where there’s a will, there’s a way. I definitely won’t let him go for messing with me!” the wolfman said coldly.

He got up and was about to leave, but in the next second, a leaf pierced through the tree trunk beside him.

“You have no chance now. If we were in the city, maybe it’d be inconvenient for me to do anything, but I have no restrictions in this remote place.”

At this time, Philip walked over from a distance and said unhurriedly, holding the Caelum Sword in one hand and fiddling with a few leaves in the other.

“H-How is this possible? How did you catch up?”

At this time, the wolfman looked at Philip oddly. He ran so far, but this guy managed to catch up with him.

This incident happened so fast that Philip did not notice it at all.

Philip was thinking about some things on the way back. He was thinking about what sort of clothes he wanted to make with this fur.

After thinking about it, he could not figure it out and simply stopped thinking about it.

As Philip pondered, the Caelum Sword in his hand suddenly vibrated. It broke free from his hold and scrawled a few words on the floor.

[Just look at Little Kai and then look at you. Do you need to think so long about making some clothes? What a shame!]

The writing on the ground made Philip's mouth twitch. He held his forehead.
