

The First Heir 571

Chapter 571

Philip did not want to pay attention to him. He looked at the ceiling with his arms behind his head. Then, he started humming and said, "Sometimes, you have to pay the price for your wrong choices. Norm, enjoy your last moments."

At the same time inside a luxurious office in a tower, a man with a solemn expression was resting his eyes.

He was the leader of the Hull Clan, Solomon Hull!

His phone's ringtone broke the silence of the office. Solomon frowned slightly. He opened his eyes and rubbed his temples. He answered the call after glancing at the caller ID.

"Hello, Mr. Hull. How's the progress?"

A cold laugh sounded from the other end of the phone.

"Mr. Parker, don't you worry about how I do things."

Solomon's face was white from the reflection of the computer screen. The corner of his lips tugged upward confidently.

"Alright, if that's the case, I'm going to express my gratitude to you. After it's done, I'm buying you dinner."

Juan smiled pleasantly. He could finally avenge himself!

At this moment, several black Audi A6Ls with special car plates were speeding toward the hotel!

"B*stards! They're just causing trouble! Do the people in the other district not want their jobs anymore? How dare they do this? Investigate this and get to the bottom of this! I don't care who you find, arrest all of them! I don't believe that anyone would dare to do this under my watch!"

A middle-aged man in uniform sat on the backseat. He had a symbol of peace on his shoulder and a star with four corners. His face was filled with anger.

He was the director of Riverdale's Department of Law Enforcement. He was the person in charge!

They alerted so many people from arresting Philip last time!

Even Reed Williams was alerted!

The people in the other district were just doing things without thinking!

How dare they arrest such an important person?

Were they not digging their own graves by doing this?

"Mr. Wade, what happened? Why are you so mad?"

The staff on the passenger seat turned around and looked at him in confusion. This was his first time seeing Deaton so mad.

Mark was leading the way while Deaton followed behind him closely. The sound of everyone’s footsteps was very loud. It sounded extremely messy and hurried in this long corridor.

Mark still did not know what exactly was going on. He only heard from his subordinate that Norm had arrested someone. After that, Mr. Hull’s men came over and said they wanted to take him away.

Mr. Hull.

If Mr. Hull was involved in this, it would be a little troublesome.

What was going on? Who did Norm arrest? Why was the Hull Clan involved? Even Deaton had to come all the way here for this.

Mark was feeling uneasy. He pushed open the door of the room and said. “Mr. Wade, we’re here.”

At that moment, the strong smell of blood wafted out from the room. Everyone frowned as they were irritated by the smell. Someone even ran aside to throw up.

Mark suppressed the acid reflux in his stomach and looked into the room. When he saw what was going on inside, he shuddered as cold sweat started pouring from his body. Then, he lifted his shaky hand and yelled angrily, “You ruffian! Get him! Get up now!”

He was the boss of the other district and was experienced. However, this was the first time Mark had seen such a gory scene.

Inside the room, three of Mr. Hull's men were beaten badly. One of them was also his friend, Anton Gooden!

His trusty partner Norm was also cowering in a corner in fear. He did not even dare to move.

Then, he looked at that ruffian who had the audacity to smile at him. How arrogant!

Did Deaton come all the way here for this ruffian?

"You got the wrong person?"

Philip chuckled coldly and said, "I don't think it's so simple. I think you got some goodies from someone. Did someone ask you to do this?"

Norm shook his head and refused to admit. He said, "No! There's no such thing! You're falsely accusing me!"

"I'm spewing nonsense? I guess you really won't give up until all hope's gone."

Philip replied in an icy tone.

After Deaton heard that, he widened his eyes as his imposing manner skyrocketed. He said, "Norm, you'd better tell us the truth!"

When Norm saw Philip's cold eyes, his final defense crumbled. The threat of death was making him very uncomfortable. It was as if his entire body was being stabbed by needles.

He lowered his head and did not fight back.

"What a loser!"

Deaton was beyond livid. He pointed at Mark and yelled, "Mark, this is your brilliant employee! You have to severely punish him! I'll wait for your report."

Mark lowered his head and did not say anything as well. His forehead was covered in a layer of cold sweat.

He knew his career had been single-handedly destroyed by Norm West!

"Mr. Wade, don't worry. I'll get to the bottom of this. I'll give you an appropriate explanation."

Mark said solemnly.

Deaton shouted instantly, "You should give Mr. Clarke an explanation! Not me!"

Wynn witnessed this at one side and was shocked. She got up and pulled Philip away. She said hurriedly,

"Philip, what are you going?"

“Who gave you permission to meet him?”

Philip turned around and yelled at Wynn.

This was the first time in a very long time that Philip screamed at Wynn.

Wynn was shocked. She knew her husband had a lot of misunderstandings with Juan.

However, it was not right to hit him.

“I-I’m just worried about you, so I asked Juan to help me come up with a plan to get you out of there.”

Wynn mumbled while lowering her head. She felt extremely aggrieved. She was scared that Philip would yell at her again.

Even though Wynn knew how powerful her husband was, were his assets not frozen by his family? This was a critical moment!

Plus, the cops were involved in this. It did not seem like a matter that could be settled with just money.

Philip grabbed Wynn and turned around to leave.

Juan grabbed some tissues and covered his nose. He mumbled, “Hehe, Philip. I’ll remember this. Don’t think I’ll be scared of you because you’re the young master of Clarke Group in Capital City. You’re in a difficult position now as well. You can’t protect Wynn and Mila! It’s impossible!”

Martha pointed at the door unreasonably and screeched.

Anne knew about Martha’s unreasonableness. She did not want to argue with her, so she grabbed her things and went back to her room. Philip had prepared a room for her.

“Hey, what are you doing? You’re going to stay here as well?”

When Martha saw Anne going back to her room, she was livid. She grabbed Anne rudely and started screaming, “You’re just a vixen! How can you live with us? Did that loser bring you back so that the two of you can carry on your clandestine love affair in front of me?”

“No way!”

Martha yelled loudly.

Anne was mad. Martha was too evil. She even insulted Mr. Philip.

“Who’s that? Do you want to die?”

Martha was lying on the floor face down. Her nose was broken. She yelled while turning around and holding her nose.

However, when she saw the person standing behind her, she shuddered.

Oh no, it was Philip!

Oh no!

Last time, he taught Joel a lesson right here in this living room.

Martha started trembling when she recalled what had happened last time.

Philip was livid. He bared his teeth as he glared at Martha. Then, he turned around and walked to Mila. He asked while squatting down, "Are you okay? Did Grandma hurt you?"

Mila was terrified. When she saw her father, she jumped into his arms and bawled. "Daddy, boo hoo..."

Martha sat on the floor and bawled while slapping her thighs.

At this moment, Charles walked in through the door. He was shocked when he saw what was going on in the hall.

"Martha, what's going on?"

Charles ran to Martha. When he saw the blood on her nose and her swollen cheeks, he was heartbroken.

"What else could have happened? You good-for-nothing, you only know how to play with your birds and play chess. Your wife is going to be beaten to death by your son-in-law!"

When Martha saw that Charles was back, she was confident. She pointed at Philip and started hurling abuses at him.

When Charles heard that, his face fell. He scowled at Philip and scolded, "Philip, how can you hit your mother-in-law? You even hit her until she's in this state. This is illegal!"

Philip looked at Charles coldly. His gaze caused the latter to shudder and back away.

"Charles, I'm warning you to watch your wife closely. If I see her bullying Mila again, I'll chop her arms off."

Philip said coldly. He turned around and took Mila from Wynn before going upstairs.

"Charlie, look at this! Look at this! That's your brilliant son-in-law! He even wants to chop off my hands! I can't stay here anymore! I don't care! I want you to kick him and that animal out of here!"

Martha grabbed Charles and bawled uncontrollably.

"Why are you here?"

Philip frowned and looked at Chloe. She was still so hot-tempered. She never dilly-dallied whenever she wanted to do something.

“I’m here to teach this little b*tch a lesson. It’s all because of her that you’re being served the family restraining order. If she wasn’t in the picture, you’d be back to...”

Chloe was talking fast without thinking. She just blurted out whatever was in her mind.

Philip was shocked. He immediately slapped her and roared, “Who allowed you to slap my wife?”

Damn!

If he was one second late, she would have exposed his identity.

He did not have a choice. After he slapped her, Chloe clutched her red face as tears welled up in her eyes. She scowled angrily at Philip and Wynn. Then, she said angrily, “You’ll regret this, Philip.”

After she said that, Chloe walked away while her high heels clicked angrily.

Over here, Wynn’s face was dark. The handprint on her left cheek was extremely eye-catching.

“When are you going to cut all ties with her?”

Wynn asked coldly. There were tears in her eyes.

Her husband was too soft-hearted. Why was his ex-fiancée still terrorizing her?

Wynn was frustrated. She turned around and walked away with her high heels clicking against the floor.

Philip was feeling helpless. He looked at Wynn’s slender back and ran after her.

Back at the villa, she collapsed on the sofa lifelessly. She did not know what to do.

Coincidentally, Philip and Wynn came downstairs.

Martha asked, "Where are you going? Do you need me to save some dinner for you two?"

Wynn replied, "No need. There's a dinner party tonight. Philip and I are attending."
