Chapter 871

“What are you waiting for? Take him away now!” Chip shouted at his men.

The men noticed that their leader was angry and quickly tried to grab hold of Philip. However, the latter suddenly turned around. A pair of gloomy eyes was bursting out with a cold light, staring at Chip.

Chip frowned. He had never seen such a fierce gaze before. His heart thumped as he shouted, “Why are you still in a daze? Take him away!”

This time, Philip did not resist but allowed them to take him out of the private room.

Philip narrowed his eyes and stared at Chip.

“Do you know Chuck Norton?” Philip suddenly asked.

“What do you mean?”

Chip did not understand why Philip had suddenly asked this question.

However, he did know Chuck Norton because Chuck was his brother!

His brother was in charge of external affairs back then, and he was responsible for unorthodox matters.

Moreover, Chuck was the most outstanding talent in his generation.

Klein let out a sigh of relief when everyone in the private room had left.

Wynn was very intense.

However, Klein Hane would not fear anyone!

After all, he was a member of the Hane family of Capital City!

Shaking his head and smiling bitterly, Klein took a sip of the red wine. At this moment, the door of the room was also pushed open from the outside.

A man with a sullen face walked in. Dressed in a black leather jacket, the aura he exuded was very cold.

As soon as he entered the door, he sat down and started eating the food on the table.

Klein looked at the man with a smile and said, "Why? Are you done?"

The man took a few mouthfuls, nodded, and said, "How is it?"

Klein sat down, poured him a glass of red wine, and said, "He has been taken away. I hope you can take care of the rest."

“Hehe, what’s the point of saying this now? Now that you’re in my hands and this place is full of my people, getting you to talk is a piece of cake. Of course, it’ll be better for you if you don’t force me to do it. We’re not bloodthirsty people after all,” Chip said impatiently. He did not want to waste time talking to Philip.

However, in the next second, his eyes widened as he inhaled in shock.

Philip raised his hands and clenched his fists. Immediately, he saw the handcuffs changing shape right in front of his eyes!

In just a few seconds, Philip had broken the pair of shiny silver locks!

Chip was so shocked that he took a few steps back.

Was this the strength a human could possess?

After breaking the handcuffs, Philip sneered faintly and flexed his wrists. Looking at the three dumbfounded people in front of him, he said, “Do you know what happened to Chuck back then?”

Chip was stunned, his back already drenched in a cold sweat. Of course he knew about how his brother had gotten beaten up so badly that he ended up a vegetable. He was still lying in the hospital right now!

He was the most powerful external affair steward of the Hane family back then!

Chip was not a fool. Philip's nonchalant attitude was enough to indicate some problems!

This man could not be provoked. Otherwise, he would end up just like Chuck!

However, he had already offended him!

Under tremendous pressure, people would be prone to wild imagination, just as Chip was facing now!

Philip looked at the flustered Chip, the smile on his face still as bright as summer. In Chip's eyes, however, that smile was terrifying!

"I'd advise you to not make any judgments before making sure of the situation, or you'll get yourself into trouble. Just like the Hane family, acting all high and mighty like this. They're really not afraid of death," Philip said indifferently.

Chip was full of panic at the moment.

That was the only thought in Chip’s mind.

“It’s not that I’m complaining, but you just brought me in here. We haven’t even discussed this properly but you’re already letting me go. I feel very unwanted.”

Chip was stunned at Philip’s words. He did not expect that the other party would say this, and it seemed that he had made up his mind not to leave!

What the hell was he trying to do?!

In Moonlight Restaurant’s private room earlier, this guy was very reluctant to come with them. Now that he was released, he was reluctant to leave. Did he have a loose screw in his head?

Guessing that Philip’s identity was special, Chip dared not talk back to him so directly.

“Why aren’t you leaving? Do you want to stay here? You’ll only get one chance. Once I change my mind, you won’t be able to leave even if you want to. The Hane family is not as simple as you think!”

Chip was getting anxious.

Klein had already returned to the hotel suite at the moment. He was sitting on the sofa in the living room and watching TV. No one knew if he was actually watching it. He just kept switching channels.

"Mr. Hane, you're too polite. We're old friends. There's no need to stand on ceremony with me. Naturally, I'd help you to the end for this matter."

Juan chuckled. "Don't worry, Philip will definitely not escape this time. The things we've provided are enough to keep him in for more than ten years."

Klein nodded, finally feeling more comfortable. He said, "Mr. Parker, thank you so much. I've asked my secretary to prepare a big gift for you. I hope you like it. If you're free, let's have dinner tomorrow."

Juan smiled like a flower in full bloom. He was very happy. It was just a trivial matter and he had not even done much. He did not expect to forge a good relationship with Klein. This was a good deal for him!

As for the thank you gift, it was probably not a simple one.

The Hane family was an affluent force in Capital City after all.

At this time, a black commercial vehicle was driving on the elevated highway of Riverdale. It was obviously heading straight toward the city!

“Morons! You can’t even keep watch on one guy! If Third Young Miss finds out, none of us will be spared!”

The one angrily cursing was a burly man who was sitting in the front passenger seat.

“Mack, you can’t blame us for this. If someone from the Hane family wants to catch him, we can’t possibly stop them,” a man wearing a suit said from the back seat while wearing a sullen expression.

Originally, he was the person responsible for keeping watch on Philip, but today, he suddenly discovered that Philip had been taken away by the Hane family. As such, he immediately reported this to his leader because he dared not inform Third Young Miss about it.

“What is Third Master Hane planning to do in the middle of the night?”

The man in the front passenger seat held a trace of unhappiness in his sharply-defined eyes and seemed full of complaints.

After that, the man picked up the phone, dialed a number, and changed into a respectful demeanor as he said, “Third Young Miss, Mr. Clarke has been taken away.”

Vivi Joo was taking a comfortable bath. Upon hearing this, she immediately got up from the bathtub that was filled with roses, raised her long legs, and wrapped a bath towel around herself. She asked with a cold expression, “Who did it?”

"Third Master, this... You really should come here in person."

Chip wanted to continue explaining, but he was interrupted by Klein. "Chip Norton, I'll give you another half an hour. If you still can't produce any results, then you should just wait to be kicked out of the Hane family!"

With that said, Klein hung up the phone angrily!

Listening to the beeping tone, Chip looked at Philip helplessly as if he was waiting for further instructions.

Philip seemed to have become his leader.

With a smile, Philip said, "Don't worry and just wait."

Until now, Chip still had no idea what Philip was waiting for, so he was confused.

However, Philip said to wait, so he could only wait along with him.

Besides, Baloo was also silent, which made him very anxious.

Chapter 879

Hardy shook his head and scorned. "Mack, I've already told you that these people are a bunch of pig-heads, and that includes the Hane family. It's useless talking to them. It's better to just break in and bring that person out. We're doing this for their own good but they don't even appreciate it. If I were you, I'd just mind my own business and let them regret it later."

"Hardy, don't talk nonsense! Mack has his own arrangements. We still have to wait for Third Young Miss."

Another person wearing a jacket spoke at this moment, "But then again, these people are really not smart enough. I really can't bear it anymore. They're just courting death!"

The man in the jacket was Roy, a person with a sharp tongue.

Of course, that was not to say that Roy and Hardy knew Philip.

They were just worried that the appearance of Third Young Miss would render the situation out of control later.

Hearing these two people's remarks and their insults directed to the Hane family and himself, Baloo's expression became very unpleasant.

At any rate, he was Baloo Trent, one of the three renowned gamblers of Riverdale. He was used to getting respected everywhere he went.

Today, however, these two unsophisticated folks dared to speak about him like this.

Furthermore, they trespassed into the Hanes' private property, which was completely a foolhardy act!

In the end, Mack decided to expose his identity. He took out a small badge from his jacket and said to Baloo solemnly, "Special Field Bodyguard of the Joo family in Capital City—Mack Quinn!"

Now, it was Baloo and his men's turn to be stunned!

Especially Baloo, who had an uncertain expression on his face. He quickly walked over, wanting to take a closer look at the little badge.

After he looked at it clearly, Baloo's back was already drenched. How did things turn out this way?

They were actually people from the Joo family!

Special field bodyguards at that!
