

The First Heir 991

Chapter 991

Philip was startled, and his face suddenly changed.

The Beauty Killers was actually founded by his mother.

What could be the secret behind all this?

Philip was a little flustered, and the voice on the other end of the phone continued, "The Beauty Killers is a secret organization founded by the lady during her lifetime. It only obeys orders from the lady and did many things for the lady and the Clarke family. However, after Lady Larson's accident, the Beauty Killers suddenly disappeared from the world for a while. It was only a few years ago that they returned to the arena and gradually began operations again. During this time, someone must have taken control of it again."

Philip was silent for a moment before reacting and asking, "Have you found out who it is?"

The voice paused before saying hesitantly, "It's not easy to find out. They've basically erased all the past information. I managed to buy the rest with a lot of money from some old friends. It can also be said that the Beauty Killers nowadays is no longer the same organization as the one founded by the lady. Many changes are quite different."

When Fennel found out about this information, his brows had furrowed deeply while his heart was full of emotions.

The Beauty Killers was actually founded by Lady Larson.

Philip's face darkened as he recalled past events.

After a while, he said, "What's the situation with Yana Young and Nina Jacques?"

At the same time in Phoenix Pavilion at Phoenicia.

Wallace Phoenix had just received the report about Fenix Hotel.

Apart from anger, he was also full of shock!

Unexpectedly, this Young Master Clarke's methods were so forceful!

It actually took him less than half an hour to completely defeat a worthy opponent like Cecil Dane!

Moreover, Bowen was successfully released from prison, redefining the sphere of influence and ranking in the South River District.

It was Bowen Roy!

He was the epitome of a real overlord!

Wallace once looked up to Bowen.

There were too many variables in the underground chamber of commerce this time.

Who exactly was this Young Master Clarke to employ such methods?

He had the money.

He also had connections.

The masked guys looked at each other at that sentence.

Upon taking a closer look, there was no one in the room except for a few beds!

What was the situation?

This was obviously a hospital ward!

Where did everyone go?

“F*ck! Who are you trying to scare?”

The masked man who took the lead hardened his resolve. His eyes were glinting with violence as he tore open the wrapping around the long dagger in his hand, revealing a sparkling white luster.

However, Philip kept his back to them. By looking out the window, he had a panoramic view of the scene of them barging in from downstairs.

At the same time downstairs, dozens of bodyguards in black suits were rushing over in full gear!

Philip turned around with a faint sneer at the corner of his mouth as he looked at the people at the door. He said, “Congratulations, please check the luxurious gift package you’ve just received.”

“Check my *ss!”

The masked man roared furiously as he got ready to hack Philip into pieces.

Philip's eye was twitching as a cold glint flashed across his gaze. He said, "If I want to touch him, according to your guess, will the person behind him save him, or can the person behind the scenes withstand my attack?"

Don raised his eyebrows and glanced at Philip. After a long while, he said, "Yes, they can."

In an instant, Philip's brows furrowed deeper!

Theo stood aside. This was the first time he could sense such danger!

Some people could withstand Philip's methods!

What sort of formidable character could this be to withstand it?!

Philip was also silent with a layer of frost on his face.

He had never been a bully. Although the Clarke family held most of the wealth in the world, he also had his own background and connections.

Wallace's expression was very unpleasant. The other party came to his doorstep without any hesitation at all.

They were going to demand an explanation.

Wallace glanced at Jerome and said coldly, "Arrange for someone just in case! This time, don't mess things up again! Look for Lame Fred!"

Jerome nodded and said, "Understood."

Then, Wallace followed the female assistant out of the office. In the lobby on the first floor, he saw Philip, Don, Theo, and others who had been waiting.

The cold expression on Wallace's face immediately turned into a friendly look as he greeted them cheerfully with a smile. Standing behind Philip who was looking at the interior decor of Phoenix Pavilion with his hands behind his back, he said, "Young Master Clarke, I wonder if you have anything important for your sudden visit?"

Philip turned around, glanced at Wallace indifferently, then flashed an unfathomable smile at the corners of his mouth. He asked, "Do you know what books I like to read?"

Wallace was startled by this question.

The opponent was not playing by the books.

Wallace smiled superficially. "Young Master Clarke is a person of great vision. The books you read must be different from those we read. I wonder what sort of books you enjoy reading? I can get my men to buy me a copy later."

Philip nodded and stretched out his hand to Theo.

Theo took a book from behind and handed it to Philip respectfully.

Philip flung the book to Wallace. With narrowed eyes, he looked at the other party smugly and said, "I wonder if Boss Phoenix has read the Seeing Wallace motionless, Philip continued, “Why? Are you scared?”

The corners of Wallace’s mouth twitched as his eyes flashed. He said angrily, “Men, cut off their left hands!”

As soon as his voice fell, several of Wallace’s subordinates rushed into the hall and drew their daggers from their waists.

“Mr. Phoenix, please spare us!”

The dozen people who were kneeling panicked at the moment, desperately begging for mercy.

However, Wallace just waved his hand.

Swoosh!

Sounds of swishing daggers fell.

For a moment, the stench of blood permeated the whole hall, and everyone’s ears were filled with sounds of howls and wails.

“Drag them out!” Wallace gritted his teeth. “Send people to clean the floor!”

Wallace's face was full of fury, and he was clenching his fists tightly.

He had never suffered any disadvantage before despite being in the business for decades, but this time, he was meeting one setback after another. It made him very unhappy.

The opponent simply did not play the game by the rules!

Jerome's capture was a small warning from the other party.

Philip shrugged casually and looked at the pale-faced Wallace. He was not anxious at all. On the contrary, he appeared very relaxed when he said, "Actually, I don't know what I want. I just feel that since you said you have nothing to do with this matter, then why is your second brother mixed up with this group of people?"

Wallace twisted his eyebrows and immediately explained, "My brother enjoys making friends with people. Perhaps they're just casual acquaintances. Isn't it normal for them to greet each other?"

What a shameless explanation.

“Yes, that’s right! What’s wrong with knowing a few friends? I just greeted them and you arrested me just like that. This is a blatant disregard to the four golden phoenixes! Anyway, in Phoenicia, we have a reputation to maintain!”

Jerome immediately retorted, his face still flushed.

Philip also lost patience at this moment and said bluntly, “Wallace Phoenix, I’ll give you two choices.

come in and smash up your Phoenix Pavilion. Then, I'll personally chop off your brother's hand. How about it? It's a fair transaction, right?"

Fair transaction?

It was a total loss!

Wallace was full of anger. With red eyes, he shouted in a deep voice, "You've gone too far!"

Philip shook his head and said with a smile, "It's not that I've gone too far, but you did something wrong and have to be punished for it."

After that, Philip stretched out his hand and motioned to Don to hand over the document. He directly tossed it in front of Wallace, saying, "Look at it. It's the notice issued by the association. Your Phoenix Pavilion has been ordered to close for reorganization... How many years is that?"

Philip turned to ask Don. Don smiled slightly and replied, "Indefinite closure until Young Master Clarke is satisfied."

Chapter 1000

Anna just watched with red eyes as she blamed herself. “Mr. Clarke, I’m sorry. I didn’t protect Mila.”

Philip shook his head and said, “I’m not here to listen to your apologies. I’m here to thank you.”

“Thank me?”

Anna was puzzled.

Philip cut the peeled apple into cubes, then poked a piece with a toothpick. Stretching his arm out, he placed the cubed apple at the corner of Anna’s bruised mouth.

Anna was still a little apprehensive and hesitated for a moment before opening her small mouth shyly.

“If you hadn’t protected Mila with your life, she might have been tortured by them a long time ago,”

Philip said with a trace of hatred in his eyes.

Anna said after a brief silence, “It’s my responsibility. It’s because of my inability that I couldn’t protect her.”

Philip paused, raised his eyebrows, and glanced at Anna before saying with dissatisfaction, “I said, I’m not here to listen to you blaming yourself.”

Of course, his words contained a trace of humor—not complete dissatisfaction.

Anna was dumbfounded. She closed her small mouth as her fingers scrunched the sheets unconsciously. She dared not say anymore.
