

The Game 38

Chapter 38: It's As if I'm Eating A Meal Worth More Than 100,000 Yuan!

Time passed very quickly!

More tourists were attracted to the villa by the promotional video. There were already more than 100 of them, and they had earned more than 5,000 yuan just from selling tickets.

Furthermore, these people had more or less bought strawberries of Quality 1 or watermelons of Quality 1.

Ordinary people could not bear to buy watermelons worth 100 yuan a catty and strawberries worth 200 yuan a catty, but they could still afford watermelons worth 10 yuan a catty and ordinary strawberries worth 40 yuan a catty.

On the contrary, it sold better than the ordinary watermelons and strawberries Qin Lin had wholesale. This was also a psychological problem for most people. When they came out to play, they could not afford the most expensive ones, but they could not possibly eat the cheapest ones, right? They had to get a medium-grade one.

Especially those young people who brought girls to play. They could not be stingy in front of girls. They usually bought some quality ones.

The watermelon also provided a skinning and cutting service. It was cut and placed in a large transparent cup to be eaten with some toothpicks.

This way, not only would it be easier to clean the villa, but it would also give tourists a better experience.

Furthermore, the watermelons and strawberries with Quality 1 would not disappoint the tourists. The tourists who had bought them would be completely impressed after tasting them.

Therefore, just the Quality 1 strawberries alone sold 210 catties, and the watermelon also sold 165 catties. This was 10,050 yuan...

At noon, many people chose to cook lunch at the villa and rented a stove and grill.

There were already tourists picking vegetables in the vegetable field.

The Quality 1 okra that cost 10 yuan a catty also sold 65 catties, earning 975 yuan.

Of course, many people also rented fishing rods to fish. Just the rental of the fishing rod, stove, and grill cost 1,600 yuan.

Beside the fish pond.

The girls who were not interested in fishing were also accompanying their male companions with interest, looking forward to the harvest.

This was the atmosphere they came to such a villa to play.

Furthermore, the fish pond was filled with wild fish. The introduction was that it was nutritious and attractive. To be honest, most ordinary people had rarely eaten wild fish.

Suddenly, everyone by the pond was attracted by the man in a suit. Because he had raised his fishing rod, the water on the surface was splashing loudly.

Everyone looked over.

How big of a fish had he caught with such a big splash?

Chen Shengfei looked happy. After fishing for so long, he had finally caught a big fish.

From this strength alone, this fish was definitely not small.

The fish struggled to escape, while Chen Shengfei pulled the fishing rod. It actually felt like a stalemate.

Crack! The fishing rod suddenly broke, attracting everyone's attention.

The fish had broken the fishing rod.

Chen Shengfei was shocked.

Was this a joke?

Fortunately, he was fast enough to grab the other end of the broken fish. The fish seemed to be tired of struggling and was pulled out of the water.

At this moment, everyone looked at the size of the fish in surprise.

"The fish he caught is so big. It's more than 30 catties, right?"

"It's taller than our Dou Dou."

"This fish is also wild."

Many people took out their phones and took photos while Chen Shengfei struggled with the fish. This seemed to be a common habit among many people. Who did not share their Moments when they came out to play?

Furthermore, this scene was very rare. Anyone would want to show it off on their Moments.

Chen Shengfei looked at this wild grass carp and felt an inexplicable sense of accomplishment. It seemed to weigh more than 30 catties. He had never caught such a big wild fish.

This also meant that the waitress was not lying to him. There were really wild goods in this fish pond.

When Chen Shengfei caught such a big fish, it also increased the enthusiasm of the other tourists. Many girls even urged their male companions to catch one too.

However, some people muttered and discussed.

"This kind of big item seems very expensive!"

"Yes, it's very expensive. There's a sign over there. Didn't you see it?"

“That big grass carp cost 250 yuan per catty. The big black carp and bass are even more expensive.”

This price frightened many people. One catty was 250 yuan. Wouldn't more than 30 catties cost 70,000 yuan?

He should just catch a small wild fish and barbecue it!

Chen Shengfei, on the other hand, was satisfied as he used the fish rope to pass through the fish gills. He definitely had to pay for the broken fishing rod, but he did not care at all. When he carried the fish back, the fish was still struggling. He was holding it tightly. He was really happier catching this big fish than negotiating a big deal.

Beside the villa's hall, many tourists were already busy building fires on the stoves and grills in front of the half-exposed private rooms.

Chen Shengfei did not want to cook himself. His wife was very good at cooking. If his wife was here, she could cook for him. Now, he could only find a chef in the villa to cook.

After entering the hall, he found Gao Yaoyao.

Gao Yaoyao had an impression of this first guest. She looked at the 30-pound grass carp and said in surprise, “Sir, you're really lucky. You actually caught a big fish.”

Chen Shengfei said in a good mood, “Young lady, help me weigh it and cook this fish.”

Gao Yaoyao quickly reminded him, “Sir, we have a price for such a big item at the fish pond. It's more expensive than ordinary wild fish. 250 yuan per catty. This will probably cost a lot. Are you sure you want to cook it?”

Chen Shengfei did not care about money at all. Instead, he smiled and said, “Let the chef cook. Also, get me two catties of okra that costs 400 yuan a catty. Cut one watermelon for 100 yuan a catty. Arrange a few other dishes.”

He had eaten the taste of the strawberries earlier, so he was looking forward to eating all these expensive things.

“Okay, sir.” Gao Yaoyao remembered the menu and immediately ordered for Master Lin in the kitchen.

“Sir, you're so lucky.” Master Lin came out and was surprised to see the 30-pound grass carp Chen Shengfei had caught. Someone had really caught it with those lousy fishing rods in the villa.

How unlucky was this fish? That lousy fishing rod should not be able to withstand this weight.

After Gao Yaoyao finished writing the list, she welcomed Chen Shengfei to a table and sat down.

A moment later, a cut Quality 2 watermelon was delivered to Chen Shengfei.

Chen Shengfei picked up a piece of melon and ate it. Then, he asked Gao Yaoyao in surprise, “Young lady, your melon is a special breed, right?”

The melon tasted surprisingly good, just like the strawberry. It was even more delicious than what he had eaten before.

Gao Yaoyao quickly replied, "Sir, you guessed right. Our boss said that these are special watermelons. There are only 20 or so a day."

"This kind of melon is good." Chen Shengfei nodded.

Soon, Chen Shengfei's fish, okra, and a few vegetables were brought out of the kitchen.

Master Lin said, "Sir, you can't finish this fish at once. I only got you a fish head and a piece of meat... You can bring the rest back..."

"Okay." Chen Shengfei nodded and did not dwell on this. He picked up his chopsticks and ate.

However, not long after, his eyes shone again.

This smell! Even the dishes made by top chefs did not taste like this.

Chen Shengfei was really surprised.

He was a foodie, to begin with. He had eaten all the delicacies domestically and internationally. The taste of this fish was definitely the best in the world.

Was the chef of this small villa so powerful?

It was really too surprising.

Of course, he did not know that this was a game attribute bonus. Delicious +2, taste +2.

Chen Shengfei began to taste it slowly. He also ate the 400 yuan a catty of okra.

The taste of the okra was not special, but as he ate, he was surprised to find a warm feeling at his waist. There was even a warm current in his body, making him feel very comfortable.

Chen Shengfei really felt that it was unbelievable. This feeling was like eating a top food therapy that cost more than 100,000 yuan.
