

The Game 861

Chapter 861 The Enemy Is On The Ground Before I Can Make A Move 2

The Food and Drug Administration was clearly supporting Linlin villa.

The key was that the date of the test report released by the Food and Drug Administration was before the promotion of the new vegetable by Linlin Manor.

Moreover, when the data was released, many people in the related industry expressed that it was incredible. The data showed that the medicinal properties of the vegetables were really stronger than those on the market.

Of course, this was not the end. The Ming City Food and Drug Administration also released a notice. This notice also contained the information that Linlin Manor had reviewed and approved the vegetables.

In other words, professor Li Kai's new products could be used as both vegetables and medicinal herbs after they were approved.

Moreover, the date of the application was still before the promotion at Linlin villa. The surveillance footage of the Linlin villa employees' application showed that there was no lie.

What other proof would be more convincing than these two official ones?

In a short period of time, as these two pieces of evidence were released, the public opinion on the internet began to lean towards one side. Everyone began to support Linlin Manor.

At this time, there was new news on the internet. Professor Fuxin Ming and the well-known medical professor who had jointly sued Linlin villa, the drugs they had developed more or less overlapped with the effects of the vegetables in Linlin villa.

For example, the high cholesterol medicine developed by Fu Xinming, Linlin villa's new variety of eggplants, had such an effect. Moreover, the drug test proved that it was more effective than the medicine developed by Fu Xinming.

This time, everyone seemed to have reacted. This so-called joint prosecution was really despicable.

It was because these western medicine professors' 'medicine was not as good as others', so they came to complain first.

I knew it. Some Western doctors are dirty!

"I only hope that someone will punish these people."

Western doctors only care about benefits. They're too rich in the color of capital. They've already banned red packets, but some hospitals just don't give us red packets or arrange surgeries for us!

Sigh, Western medicine is dominant. It's really difficult to see patients. From the conduct of these medical professors, I can also see this industry.

The people on the internet began to feel indignant.

It wasn't that there were no good doctors in Western medicine. Good doctors could be found everywhere. However, in general, those who had been to the hospital before knew what it meant to treat an illness.

the two sudden public announcements on the internet stunned fuxin ming and chu shanhe, the president of the association of drug control and prevention.

When Xin Xinming received the message, he was still looking at his mouyin account. He even sent a video of himself condemning Linlin villa.

After the video was posted, the number of likes and fans kept increasing. With such popularity, there were naturally people who followed him.

This made him very happy.

When faced with such a situation, a medical professor's desire to become an internet celebrity was no different from an ordinary person's.

But suddenly, Fu Xinming noticed that his private messages and video comments section were filled with angry scoldings, and the number was increasing.

"So it's just an old dog who only knows how to slander people!"

"the medicine i'm researching can't compare to other people's vegetables, so i want to spoil them."

I'm sorry to remind you, but you might be in trouble. The last person who slandered Linlin Manor was sued very miserably.

"Seriously, you're going to Sue Linlin villa, TUI."

This sudden abuse made Fu Xinming dumbfounded.

His student, Chen chuanjia, was holding his phone in a panic. teacher, it's not good. Look at the latest news on the internet. The Food and Drug Administration of Ming city and the Food and Drug Administration have made an announcement. They prove that the vegetables from Linlin villa have those effects. Moreover, the vegetables from Linlin villa have been tested and approved by the Food and Drug Administration. They say that this new vegetable is not just a vegetable. It can also be used as a medicinal herb.

"what?" When Fu Xinming heard this news, his face instantly changed.

He hurriedly took his student Chen chuanjia's phone and saw the two announcements. When he saw the two announcements, he was dumbfounded.

how did this happen?

At that moment, his phone rang. It was a well-known medical professor who was jointly sued.

He hurriedly pressed the answer button and heard the other party's angry scolding. "fu xinming, what are you doing? Didn't you say that there wouldn't be a problem? Why is it like this?"

A series of angry curses came from the phone, followed by the busy tone of hanging up.

However, as soon as the call ended, another call came in. It was also from the professor on the joint prosecution list.

When the call went through, there was still a burst of angry scolding, "Fu Xinming, are you not going to promise me three times? I trusted you so much because I thought of you as a friend, but you actually tricked us?"

Obviously, with these two announcements, not only would Fu Xinming be in trouble, but the people who were jointly sued by him would also be implicated.

Especially when it was revealed that the medicine they had developed was not as good as the vegetables in Linlin Manor, so they had made the first move. This would have a huge impact on their reputation.

They had never thought that a famous professor like Fu Xinming would do such a stupid thing. The key was that they were very good friends with Fu Xinming. They used to discuss research matters together, so they trusted Fu Xinming out of friendship.

Who knew that this guy would actually scam them?

However, reality was like this. Sometimes, the one who harmed you the most was often the person you trusted the most.

At this moment, Fu Xinming also felt that things were not going well. He casually scrolled through another video and saw an official announcement about you city:

as a professor, you need to have the most basic manners. At the very least, you need to have a good moral character. As a professor, just because the product of your research is not as good as the other party, you have to slander others without telling the truth.

This was you city's condemnation of professor Fu Xinming, and the general meaning was clear, that this person was not worthy of the title of Professor.

This was a critical statement from the local government, and it had a great impact on a person.

This might even cause problems for his Professor title.

That would be terrible.

When he thought of this, Fu Xinming's face turned pale.

At this time, cold water was poured on him continuously, and he finally woke up. Once he woke up, he could calmly think about what he had done before.

Then, his expression turned even uglier. He clearly knew how stupid he had been.

Similarly, the sudden turn of events on the internet also dumbfounded Chu Shanhe, the president of the Association of pharmacologists.

He didn't expect that the vegetables from Linlin villa would be approved by the Food and Drug Administration.

Was professor Li Kai really that good?

at the same time, this turn of events also caused the internet to start criticizing and hurling abuses at their association.

This made Chu Shanhe regret his decision. Why did he believe in Fu Xinming?

But he obviously didn't think about it, why didn't he investigate clearly before believing in Fu Xinming?

When people make a mistake, they would subconsciously shirk their responsibility and find a scapegoat. Fu Xinming was his best scapegoat now.

Moreover, this Association was only an academic social group after all. It wasn't strange for it to have such a brainless President.

Chu Shanhe did something brainless, but he knew that he had to remedy the situation. He hurriedly asked his Secretary to remove the document that Linlin Manor had never bothered with.

However, the Secretary walked in with an unsightly expression. President, bad news. The higher-ups sent us a document.

"What document?" Chu Shanhe noticed the Secretary's expression and felt that something was off.

"it's already in your back-end email," the secretary said hurriedly.

Chu Shanhe immediately opened his back-end email box. His expression changed drastically when he saw the email.

It turned out to be a document for rectification.

The content of the document was very simple. It said that their Association did not act based on facts and had caused a great negative impact. It needed to be rectified and so on.

Chu Shanhe was dumbfounded. He opened his mouth but did not know what to say.

They had sent a document to rectify the situation to others but they had failed. Who knew that their Association would be the one being asked to rectify it?

Moreover, the change requirements were issued by the higher-ups, so they had to change it.

Naturally, the relevant government agencies also released the rectification document. For a time, the internet was filled with happy comments.

Because the Liu family did not do anything about the cerebral infarction medicine last time, the Association of pharmaceuticals and Prevention was questioned. This time, the reputation of the entire Association fell even lower.

It was also because of this incident that no one paid any attention to the Association anymore. Their status was no different from those pheasant associations.

However, in Linlin villa, Qin Lin was dumbfounded when he saw the news on the internet.

this was because he realized that his enemies had all fallen to the ground before he had even made his move.

This Kasaya

Chapter 862 Stronger Than Imagined! This Is A Real Healer! 1

Linlin villa had made some changes, but it didn't affect the villa in any way. The only thing was that when advertising the new vegetable, they needed to include the drug test certificate and the approval document, which meant that they had to add some content on the introduction board.

it wasn't a big deal, so he could just leave it to the internal staff of the multimedia department.

However, after it was proven that the new vegetable from Linlin Manor really had those effects, the popularity of this new vegetable also went up another level.

Some people even made a list of the effects of these vegetables, and then made a list of the medicines on the market for these diseases to compare.

And in this list, the ingredients of Linlin villa's new vegetables were stronger than these medicines.

Among them, the most popular ones were the high cholesterol medicine developed by Fuxin Ming and the new eggplant.

After all, the name of the initiator, Fu Xinming, was also very famous, but it was all negative.

Naturally, this incident had also affected Western medicine to a certain extent.

Fu Xinming and the others were all professors of Western medicine, and they were also researching Western medicine.

At this time, those families with Traditional Chinese Medicine inheritances did not let go of such a good opportunity and suddenly started to promote it.

The Chinese Medicine Research Department of the Chinese Academy of Sciences, in particular, announced several Chinese medicine formulas in one go.

The effects of these Chinese medicine formulas were all developed by the old Chinese medicine Masters from ancient formulas. The effects were not inferior to Western medicine, and some were even stronger.

The key was that the price of these Chinese medicine formulas was cheaper than that of Western medicine.

Chinese medicine received a lot of attention.

Chinese medicine had once again entered the eyes of the public.

The ups and downs had a great impact on both Western and Chinese medicine.

Naturally, no matter how great the impact was, the attention it received was not as great as Linlin Manor.

After finding out about the medicinal effects of the new vegetables, more and more people rushed to the sales center to buy them. Most of them were just there to join in the fun.

For this reason, Linlin Manor also released an announcement: " new vegetable has a special area. anyone who goes to the special area of the sales center to buy new vegetables will need to show their previous disease certificate! "

It was very simple. They would specially prepare some vegetables. If these vegetables were sick, they would buy them. If they were not sick, then they would not join in the fun.

It also saved the trouble of not having the bright light of those vegetables that didn't join in the fun, but the ones that were really sick couldn't be bought. This also couldn't reflect the actual effect of the new vegetable.

Linlin villa's parking lot.

Sun Xi brought her grandfather out of the taxi early in the morning. As soon as they arrived at the villa, she felt a different air.

Grandpa, the air here is really good. Just stay here and have fun for a few days. I'll take you to try out the new white vegetables later. Sun Yu supported his grandfather as they walked into the villa, a bag in his hand.

Her grandfather had high blood pressure, and high blood pressure could easily cause problems.

It didn't cost much to take medicine. Good medicine only cost a few dozen Yuan, and it was only 700 or 800 Yuan a month.

However, the elderly were not afraid of taking high blood pressure medicine, but of being hospitalized.

because of his high blood pressure, his grandfather had to pay at least 2000 to 3000 rmb to be admitted to the hospital.

There was no way to cure high blood pressure. Also, it was not known if it was due to the medicine or something else, but the control effect was not very good, so Grandpa was often hospitalized.

The doctor even listed eight possible conditions for his grandfather. Once he encountered these eight conditions, he would have to go to the hospital for a check-up. Every time he waited in line, he would have to wait for a long time, which was torture.

Every time he saw the elderly with high blood pressure enter the hospital and wait in a long line, he would think of the capitalists who made the workers line up and extract their blood and sweat.

Although the description was a little wrong, the logic should be the same.

The old man allowed his granddaughter to make the arrangements. He said, " "Xi, do you really think that white vegetables can cure my high blood pressure?"

Sun Xi smiled and said, " didn't you see the data on the internet? the effect is stronger than those high blood pressure drugs. Anyway, it's just a gift to the hospital. There's no harm in trying it out. Besides, you can have some fun at Linlin villa and relax. At least the scenery here is really good.

The old man did not refute this.

Along the way, he watched those videos. Just from the videos, he could see that the scenery was not bad, and it made him yearn for it.

After sun Xi entered the villa with her grandfather, she went to the sales center first, planning to buy some white vegetables first.

After all, this was not the purpose of her bringing her grandfather here.

At the sales center.

Sun Xi and her grandfather were still a little late. When the two of them arrived at the new vegetable area, the vegetables had already been snapped up.

Fortunately, Linlin Manor had specially taken out some of the dishes for patients who needed them.

Moreover, there were special employees in this area who checked the proof of the disease. Only when it was really proven that the patient had the disease could they buy the vegetables related to the disease.

Sun Xi brought her grandfather to this area. According to the regulations, she took out her grandfather's proof of high blood pressure and handed it to the staff. Then, she went to the sales counter of the White vegetables and saw the introduction of the White vegetables.

[category: white vegetables]

[product introduction: this is a special type of vegetable, Youyou. It's a new product developed by Linlin's laboratory.]

[medicinal effect: it can clear away heat and detoxify, and is very effective in treating gastritis and high blood pressure.]

Different from the introduction that was posted online, this new one had the test report and approval document from the Food and Drug Administration printed on it.

This would shut everyone up.

Sun Xi directly bought a few catties of white vegetables.

She felt that Linlin villa had done a good job.

If the vegetables were really effective, those who joined in the fun would not be of any help. On the contrary, those who really needed them could not buy them.

Now that they had specially set up a portion, it would not make ordinary tourists dissatisfied, but also allow tourists who really needed it to buy it.

Sun Xi brought her grandfather to the sales center to buy a lot of other vegetables and meat ingredients. Only then did they settle the price and leave the sales center.

The purchased vegetables could be registered and stored at the restaurant, so that when it was mealtime, the restaurant's kitchen could cook and serve the dishes. Naturally, they could also rent a stove or barbecue grill from the self-service area to make their own.

After renting the stove, there would be a small storage box beside the stove. You could also put the vegetables in the storage box first, and then go out to play and cook when you came back.

Sun Xi bought so many vegetables and meat foods, so she naturally planned to go to the buffet area to rent a stove and then cook herself.

After placing the vegetables and meat she had bought into the kitchen and the storage box that could keep the food fresh, she took her grandfather to play around in Linlin villa.

He definitely had to visit the free leisure area, followed by the floating bridge Scenic Area, the triangular plum blossom sea, and the comprehensive sea of flowers. He couldn't miss any of these.

As for Linlin Ranch, he would have to wait until tomorrow.

After sun Jing put down her things, she brought the old man to play around Linlin Manor. It was only at noon that she returned to the buffet area and started to cook.

her cooking skills were not bad, and she quickly prepared the dishes and meat.

When it came to cooking white vegetables, she was even more serious. This was for her grandfather, and the amount she had sold was enough for her grandfather's lunch and dinner. She could just buy them tomorrow.

After the meal was ready, sun Xi brought the White vegetables in front of the old man and said, "Grandpa, try it and see if it's effective," the old man nodded and started eating with the other dishes.

"Grandpa, how is it?" Sun Xi immediately asked.

I just ate it. How can it have an effect so quickly? " The old man shook his head and said.

"That's true!" Sun Xi nodded.

Indeed, even if Grade 1 white vegetables were effective for high blood pressure, it was impossible for it to be so fast.

After the meal, sun Xi also brought the old man to tour the floating bridge viewing area.

The old man's walking speed was very slow, so he played very slowly as well. At this speed, it was possible that after today's tour of the floating bridge viewing area, the integrated sea of flowers would no longer be able to continue.

However, when they were playing, sun Xi found that her grandfather's condition was much better, and he did not look as tired as he did in the morning.

"Grandpa, how do you feel now?" sun xi asked subconsciously.

The old man was stunned for a moment, and then he was a little surprised. After having high blood pressure, walking for a long time would make one feel dizzy, neck discomfort, and even lack of strength and pant.

But now, he had been gone for quite a long time, and he actually didn't have such a sight.

This made him feel incredulous. I feel much better. I don't feel uncomfortable. he said.

Sun Xi was surprised. Grandpa, it might be the effect of the White vegetables. Let's find a place and I'll help you measure your blood pressure.

"en!" The old man nodded.

Sun Xi brought the old man to a gazebo on the floating bridge and sat down. Then, she opened the bag and took out a blood pressure measuring device.

After that, she turned on the device, took out the testing part, and wrapped it around the old man's arm.

In an instant, the value on the detection device began to increase rapidly. It reached 75mm HCG very quickly, but the value stopped when it reached 75mm HCG.

This number surprised sun Xi, because the normal blood volume of a human was 60mm to 90mm hmg.

this was a normal blood pressure value.

However, after her grandfather had high blood pressure, even if he took medicine, it would be difficult to maintain this value.

Sun Xi tested the old man twice with uncertainty, and both results were between 75mm to 80mm HCG.

And this was the number after walking for a long distance.

Her grandfather's blood level would rise after walking for a long distance, so he needed to take medicine. The old man had to walk, so he had to carry the medicine with him.

It was shocking that his grandfather's blood pressure was still the same even after walking for such a long distance.

Or rather, the White vegetables were really effective.

Moreover, the effect of the White vegetables from Linlin villa was indeed stronger than those high blood pressure drugs. At least, those high blood pressure drugs didn't have such an effect on his grandfather.

with this result, sun xi also heaved a sigh of relief. she pulled her grandfather along and once again played around in the viewing area of the floating bridge.

In the evening, she cooked another meal in the buffet area and also made a meal of white vegetables for the old man.

Back at the hotel, before the old man was about to sleep, she took his blood pressure. It was only 70mmgh, which was an absolutely safe level.

The next day.

After sun Xi finished washing up, the first thing she did was to go to the old man's room to take his blood pressure.

Her grandfather's blood pressure would rise from 6-10 in the morning and 4 - 8 in the afternoon. He often entered the danger zone, so he needed to take medicine.

these two periods were also the two times when high blood pressure patients had high blood levels.

sun xi took out an instrument to test her grandfather. very quickly, a number appeared on the instrument: 75mmHg!

This number stunned Sun Bin.

Because it shouldn't be this number.

In the past, when his grandfather woke up, even if he had taken medicine for high blood pressure before going to bed, his blood pressure would still rise the next day at these two times.

No matter how the medicine was used, there was no way to cure the illness.

Grandpa's blood pressure hadn't increased at all, so he was still in a very safe area.

Could it be that the vegetables from Linlin villa could cure hypertension?

This was something that even Western medicine couldn't do.

high blood pressure was one of the most common chronic diseases at present. there were about 330 million people with high blood pressure in the country. the current treatment concept was long-term treatment, but it was difficult to completely cure it. some people could keep their blood pressure normal by taking medicine or taking medicine intermittently.

Even Western medicine couldn't do anything about this disease. Therefore, there were only drugs to suppress high blood pressure on the market.

Now, Sun Yu felt that there was something wrong with the White vegetables in Linlin Manor.

her grandfather's blood pressure was actually normal today after he had eaten the white vegetables yesterday.

"Xi, the numbers this morning seem normal," the old man said in disbelief.

"Yes, indeed." sun xi had some guesses in her mind, and then she said to her grandfather, " Grandpa, let's try not to take blood pressure medicine or white vegetables today. We'll check your blood pressure.

Sun Xi brought her grandfather out of the hotel and headed to Linlin villa. Today, she was naturally going to bring her grandfather to Linlin Ranch to play.

Linlin Ranch had a wide range of quality 2 Dogtooth grass, so the overall aesthetic value was stronger than that of Linlin villa's single event.

After sun Xi brought her grandfather into the Linlin Ranch, she sighed in admiration at how well-deserved its reputation was. As expected, people would fall in love with it as soon as they entered.

After spending half a day at Linlin Ranch with her grandfather, she began to measure his blood pressure. In this test, her grandfather's blood pressure was also within the safe range.

At noon, she took her grandfather's blood pressure again. It was still in the safe zone.

This was her grandfather's blood pressure from walking the entire morning. Furthermore, he had not taken any medicine. This was impossible in the past.

In other words, the effect of the white vegetables from yesterday had been maintained until now?

Sun Xi continued to take her grandfather on a tour of Linlin Ranch. In the evening, she took her grandfather's blood pressure again.

This time, her grandfather's blood pressure had risen to about 90mmgh, which was on the verge of high blood pressure.

In the past, the value would definitely be off the charts, and one would need to take medicine and rest immediately.

The effect of Linlin Manor's white vegetables on high blood pressure was not just stronger than those high blood pressure medicine. It was simply more than one grade higher.

At night ...

Sun Xi made a meal of white vegetables for her grandfather, and this situation made her feel that the White vegetables of Linlin villa might really be able to cure her grandfather's high blood pressure.

With this thought, sun xi planned to stay in you city for a few more days with her grandfather and directly call the hotel to renew the room reservation.

After letting her grandfather eat white vegetables for a few more days, Sun Yu told her grandfather to stop and stopped eating.

A day later, she measured her grandfather's blood pressure again. This time, his blood pressure was only in the 80mmgh range, which was lower than the critical range of 90mmgh last time.

Moreover, after two consecutive days, his grandfather's blood pressure had only risen from the 80mmgh range to the 82mmgh range.

This was truly shocking.

According to this progress, the White vegetables in Linlin villa could really cure high blood pressure, so that it would no longer be incurable.

But this was awesome.

After all, high blood pressure was something that even Western medicine couldn't cure after so many years of research.

Obviously, it was impossible for outsiders to know that the attribute of the game system's products was the high blood pressure treatment +1.

The word "treatment" was literally "treatment."

With this discovery, sun Xi logged into mouyin as soon as possible, planning to take a video and share this discovery with others.

However, after she turned on Beicheng, before she could take a video, she found that the first video was about white vegetables.

It was a video taken by a young man, and the location seemed to be Linlin villa. In the video, the young man excitedly said, " you might not believe it, but my grandfather has been suffering from high blood pressure for years. He often takes medicine in this area, but high blood pressure has always been a difficult problem for Western medicine. It's difficult to cure.

that's why my grandfather can only rely on medicine to maintain his blood pressure every year, and he's often hospitalized. But this time, after eating the White vegetables at Linlin villa, I realized that something was different.

I've found out that white vegetables can completely cure high blood pressure. It's really amazing. I'm confused now. Why can the vegetables from Linlin Manor solve a problem that even Western medicine can't solve? "

Seeing that someone had asked this question, sun Xi lost interest.

Only the first person to post this would feel a sense of accomplishment.

Sun Xi scrolled through a few more videos and found that it wasn't just white vegetables. Many patients found that the new vegetables from Linlin Manor could cure the disease after using them, and they all posted videos on a certain website.

you'll never believe it. I've always had the symptoms of having endless urine, but after eating the White radish, this condition has actually been alleviated so quickly, hehe.

Linlin villa's eggplants are amazing. My father had high cholesterol before, and after taking him to Linlin villa to eat some eggplants, he found that his high cholesterol was reduced. Also, when he went to the hospital for a check, all kinds of data showed that it could be completely cured.

"....."

As more and more videos about the effects of Linlin vegetables appeared on the internet, the new vegetable dish became more and more sensational.

Everyone realized that the vegetables from Linlin Manor could cure a few troublesome diseases that even Western medicine couldn't cure.

Wasn't this equivalent to giving the entire Western Medicine Department a tight slap?

But some people didn't believe it.

These people included those medical professors from Fu Xinming.

A Western medicine professor posted a video online: "I'm very confused about the internet saying that the vegetables from Linlin villa can cure hypertension."

"or perhaps the vegetables in linlin manor are effective for these diseases? that's an exaggeration."

from the data in the inspection report of the drug Inspection Bureau, it's impossible to say that the vegetables are effective, but it's impossible to say that it can cure the root.

Fu Xinming also felt that it was impossible. According to the data reported by the Food and Drug Administration, these vegetables were indeed effective for these diseases, and the new eggplant was even more effective than the medicine he had been researching.

However, according to the test data, it was impossible to cure high cholesterol.

This was a huge joke.

These people on the internet must have been hired by Linlin villa. When he thought about how badly he had been hurt by them, he immediately opened a new account and went to various videos to oppose those people's comments, commenting that those vegetables could not cure those diseases.

Moreover, if he analyzed the data in detail, he could let everyone know why it couldn't achieve a radical effect.

that was not in line with the laws of science.

After all, if those ingredients were added, he would have to worry about the fact that the medicine was 30% poisonous, and there would be problems.

then, he pasted and copied them, repeatedly commenting on every related video.

He didn't know why he was doing this, but if he didn't do it, he wouldn't be happy and would expose Linlin Manor.

However, as he scrolled through the videos one by one, one of them suddenly made him freeze.

The video was posted by professor Wu Hua, an internet celebrity whom he had looked down on before. He looked down on Wu Hua's ability and the school she graduated from.

Now, this guy had posted a video about the vegetables in Linlin Manor.

In the video, the internet celebrity professor Wu Hua said, Linlin Manor's vegetables are very popular now. I've asked someone to buy some of these vegetables for testing. I also saw some Western medicine professors questioning these vegetables, saying that the test data of the drug Inspection Bureau can't cure those diseases.

regarding this point, I also admit that it's impossible to cure the disease by looking at the data alone. However, if these professors can test these vegetables personally, they will find that these vegetables actually contain a special ingredient.

"This ingredient will have a boosting effect on the original effect. It's because of this ingredient that these vegetables can cure those diseases."

the drug Inspection Bureau will only test the ingredients of the medicine for the related diseases. They won't test for additional ingredients. These special additional ingredients should be discovered by us researchers.

"although i have no way to analyze what this special ingredient is, i would like to ask all researchers to be more cautious and test it personally before making any comments. don't be like professor fu xinming who didn't test it and spoke without understanding the situation. it will only be embarrassing."

When Fu Xinming saw the video, he could only feel the anger on his face growing.

He had been commenting and explaining for a long time, and now he was telling him that there was a special ingredient in these vegetables. Was it because of this special ingredient that these vegetables had a radical effect on high blood pressure and other diseases?

Didn't that make him look like a clown when he pasted and copied so many comments just now?

More importantly, this fellow that he looked down on had actually openly called him out and said that he was a disgrace?

When he heard the last sentence, his veins were already bulging. He was so angry that he smashed the phone in his hand to the ground, breaking it into pieces.

He only felt that everything was not going as he wished.

As the video of professor Wu Hua, an internet celebrity, was released, some people who had vegetables in their hands quickly tried to test them. As expected, many people detected a special ingredient in the new vegetables of Linlin Manor.

This special ingredient was like a jack of all trades, it could boost the various medicinal ingredients of these vegetables.

Some people tried to extract this special ingredient and fuse it with some medicinal ingredients, but found that it had no effect again. It seemed that it was only useful for the medicinal ingredients of those vegetables.

This made the people who were testing feel incredulous.

Moreover, many people began to try to analyze this special component, but they all ended up failing. This component seemed to be made up of many complicated molecular structures, but when they tried to analyze it, the molecules broke and scattered, losing the effect of this special component.

This also made the people who were analyzing and cracking the game a little dumbfounded.

Of course, Qin Lin didn't know about this. If he did, he would definitely say that things that came out of the game system shouldn't be too simple.

however, he was quite impressed by this internet celebrity, professor wu hua.

To be honest, he didn't pay much attention to the grade 1 vegetables. In the game system, a Grade 1 vegetable was considered trash.

linlin's laboratory did mention this special ingredient. he didn't expect the internet celebrity professor wu hua to be the first one to discover it. the other professors who questioned the discovery didn't even notice it.

Therefore, it was not without reason that he could become an internet celebrity professor.

Qin Lin also scrolled through the videos about the vegetables in Linlin Manor. After scrolling through a few, he found an interesting video.

This video was posted by the Western medicine Association.

The person in the video was obviously a high-level official of the Western medicine Association. first of all, we would like to congratulate Linlin Manor for developing such an amazing vegetable.

in our country, the medical field is divided into Traditional Chinese Medicine and Western medicine. Traditional Chinese Medicine focuses on tradition, while Western medicine focuses on scientific research. This new vegetable from Linlin Manor is a part of scientific research.

because this vegetable has the effect of medicinal ingredients, it can be regarded as another big progress in Western medicine.

for this, our Western doctors and Linlin villa feel very honored!

Qin Lin was a little confused. How did the vegetables in his Linlin villa have anything to do with Western medicine? was he forced to use western medicine?

however, the western medicine association's next words made him even more dumbfounded.

but there's something that the Western medicine Association has to say. The research funds and price for the new vegetable of Linlin Manor must be quite high.

Linlin villa's vegetable prices are too low. This is not good for the domestic medicine market as a whole. It's a low price destructive invasion of the market.

my personal suggestion is that we need to consider the value of research and development in the prices of vegetables in Linlin villa. It's not that our people can't afford the medicine. Once the medicine market is destroyed, it will instead stimulate more medicine prices to increase, which is not a good thing!

“ ? ? ? ”Qin Lin felt as if his world view had been shattered.

Was the Western medicine Association speaking in human language? They all said that he would be a sinner if he didn't raise the price of his vegetables.

The key point was that they actually made it sound so Grand. What was the difference between this and a real estate expert suggesting that the price of property should increase and that young people could not afford a house?

This also explained why more and more people were doubting hospitals and pharmaceutical companies.

Perhaps Western medicine had dominated this land for too long, and it was getting closer and closer to the style of doing things in capitalist countries.

Qin Lin wasn't the only one who was dumbfounded by the video. Everyone else who saw it also felt that they were being treated as fools. Therefore, in the comments section of the video, there were only one sentence in addition to scolding:

"I really can't afford the medicine!"

I really can't afford medicine +12645765!

However, what surprised Qin Lin even more was a piece of news the next day.

A pharmaceutical company mainly dealt with high blood pressure drugs.

This high blood pressure drug's effect on suppressing high blood pressure was only about the same level as the market's, and it only maintained a slight lead.

But now, the company released a piece of news: our company will be releasing the latest medicine to treat high blood pressure. This is the latest product that can completely cure high blood pressure!

"? ? ?"Qin Lin was dumbfounded when he saw the news. A new product would be released at this time?

Was this a finished product that had been released before, or was it a new product that had just been developed?

The sudden announcement of this pharmaceutical company had shocked many people.

Some people on the internet were even more suspicious. Why was it that there had never been any medicine that could completely cure high blood pressure? now that Linlin villa had produced vegetables that could cure high blood pressure, medicine that could cure high blood pressure had appeared on the market?

There had always been a saying on the internet: Medicine that cut off the roots were all collected by these pharmaceutical companies. If others did not release it, no one would release it. Then, they would use medicine with weaker effects or diluted ones to market.

In this case, the medicine could cure the disease, but it couldn't cut off the root, which meant that he had to continue to take the medicine.

For a pharmaceutical sales company, it was easy to imagine which one would be more profitable.

At first, everyone was still skeptical about this statement. After all, people were kind. They didn't believe that there would be a company that would earn this kind of money, right?

Wasn't this wicked?

However, the company's sudden behavior made people skeptical.

However, this pharmaceutical company did not care about the storm on the internet at all. It was like a proud White Swan.

Not long after, another pharmaceutical company announced another piece of news: our company's research has made a sudden breakthrough, and we're going to replace the medicine for high cholesterol with a new one. The new medicine can completely cure high cholesterol.

A few days later, another pharmaceutical company's laboratory also made a breakthrough in their research and announced a drug that could cure one of the diseases.

The sudden news from these pharmaceutical companies made many patients confused.

A few days ago, when they were in the hospital, the doctor had told them that there was no medicine that could cure the root of the problem and that they could only receive conservative treatment. How did this happen in such a short time?

This also made many people on the internet sigh with emotion. No matter what industry it was, as long as one company made a breakthrough, the other companies would also make a breakthrough in the shortest time possible and launch new products. Otherwise, everyone would be like a pool of stagnant water, without any fluctuations.

Just like this time, weren't these pharmaceutical companies a pool of stagnant water? For so many years, there had been no medicine to cure these diseases.

Now, because of the new vegetables from Linlin villa that could cure the root of the disease, these pharmaceutical companies had also made breakthroughs in succession.

As expected, there was only 'competition' to improve.

Otherwise, how could these pharmaceutical companies achieve what they had not been able to do for decades in just a few days under the 'competition' of Linlin villa?

Beijing.

Minister Lu was also looking at the news.

During this time, the news about the Linlin Manor's vegetables had become the mainstream Daily News. Every platform was blasting this news.

It was hard for them not to pay attention to it, and it was related to boss Qin, so they had to pay attention.

These pharmaceutical companies are really amazing. In just a few days, they've developed such amazing research abilities and launched new products. Minister Lu said to his Secretary with a self-deprecating tone.

He wasn't a fool, and he naturally understood the twists and turns.

This was inevitable. After all, no matter how good professor Ren and the others were at medical research at the Chinese Academy of Sciences, their energy was limited, and the types of drugs they developed were also limited. They could only carefully choose some drug projects for research.

Therefore, a lot of medical research could only be done by these pharmaceutical companies.

However, this time, they could see that there were some problems, which was the lack of competition and the control of the market.

once there was no competition in an industry, and the companies in the industry had a tacit unspoken rule, it was a terrible thing.

Just like now, there was clearly a cure for the disease, but it was not sold. Wasn't this an unspoken rule of the industry?

Therefore, the industry still needed to have 'competitors' like Linlin villa.

They might even need to support Chinese medicine more.

the storm on the internet was abuzz, and it only slowly subsided after a week.

After all, people's attention to one thing was limited, especially when it had nothing to do with their own interests. Many people and their family members who didn't have these diseases gradually stopped paying attention to this matter.

However, for people who had related illnesses, they would definitely be happy to see it.

For example, troublesome diseases such as high blood pressure and high cholesterol had been delayed for many years. They had to rely on medicine to maintain their health, which was a pain and cost.

But now, there was a cure for the root of the problem, and he could finally be cured.

Naturally, the Kongtong mountain also attracted a craze once again. Countless people came for the vegetables.

More and more people had proven that eating the new vegetables from Linlin Manor had cured their illnesses.

Just as Qin Lin had thought at the beginning, the quality of Linlin villa had obviously improved because of these vegetables. However, the supply was very small, far exceeding the demand of the tourists, and the tourists also had a lot of opinions about it.

After all, he had traveled thousands of miles for this new vegetable and couldn't buy it for several days in a row. It would be strange if he didn't have any opinions.

For this reason, Qin Lin also asked Yu Shui to bring some people to expand the scale of planting these vegetables on the vacant land contracted by the villa to increase the supply.

Even if they did not supply it to the outside world, they had to satisfy the tourists who came from thousands of miles away.

The days passed by quickly.

In the end, Linlin villa's new dish of vegetables became a norm and became a signature dish of Linlin villa. Tourists who visited the villa would blurt out the same sentence: He definitely had to try this new dish from Linlin Manor.

As for the popularity on the internet, it had also returned to normal.

Chapter 866 No One Dared To Shout That The Whole Audience Would Pay The Bill Anymore 2

It was the beginning of the daily life of internet celebrities, live streamers begging, and celebrities selling fake wine.

Lin Lin Manor Office.

Qin Lin looked at the game in his mind leisurely. He controlled his character to go to the goddess mountain to see if there were any surprises today.

There were still many new trees on the goddess mountain today, and there were also some surprises.

[congratulations, you have found a yellow rosewood tree. You can cut it down!]

Today, a new yellow pear tree had appeared on goddess mountain. However, he was not looking forward to it anymore.

This was because there was already a lot of yellow Rosewood in the wood storage of the ranch, both of grade 1 and 2.

Old Rosewood was very rare in the outside world. If he was given some time, he could even build a house with it.

After cutting down the trees, Qin Lin continued to control his game character to go to the place where the mountain products were spawned on goddess mountain. He found that there were really mountain products that had spawned.

[congratulations, you have collected 30 catties of wild tieguanyin!]

[congratulations, ran ran]

This was another discovery of wild tea leaves.

he had stored a lot of the wild tieguanyin tender leaves in the storage room, but he had not taken them outside to be stir-fried.

Moreover, he didn't intend to take it out now. It would be too urgent to take it out after the stir-fried ones outside were used up.

He controlled his game character to send the tea leaves back to the farm. Just as he regained his senses, Deng Guang came back with a bag of things.

"chairman qin, look at these things," he said to qin ran as soon as he entered the door.

As he spoke, he placed the bag of things on the table.

That bag of things contained small bags after small bags of things. Inside were things that had already dried up and looked like long leaves.

He knew what it was when he saw it.

"Leek?" he asked.

After he got the leek, he gave it to Deng Guang and asked him to contract the land for planting and then sell the leek.

Moreover, the production time of The Hangover leeks was extremely fast. It was indeed the first batch now. Deng Guang smiled and said, "Chairman Qin, you're right. It's the hangover cure leek. According to your request, we've set up a production line and made it into Dried Leek. This way, it can be stored for a long time. It's also convenient. You can put it in your pocket and open it to eat at any time. Chairman Qin, try it.

Qin Lin nodded and opened a small bag of chives. He took some out and tasted it.

In an instant, a delicious taste gushed into his mouth, and the texture was very good.

after the sober-up chinese chives were turned into dried chinese chives, the taste attribute and texture were not affected. after tasting it, he knew that it was still +2.

"Will the effect of The Hangover be affected?" Qin Lin asked again.

Deng Guang explained, "don't worry, Chairman Qin. I've already gotten someone to try it out. After it's made into dried leeks, the effect of dispelling the alcohol isn't affected at all.

"What's the price?" Qin Lin asked again.

the total cost of each packet is 1.5 yuan, the factory price is 25 Yuan, and the selling price is 30 yuan, "said Deng Guang.

"Ran ran." Qin Lin was a little speechless when he heard the price. He frowned and asked, "the total cost is only 1.5. is there any problem with the price?"

"Don't worry, Chairman Qin. All the other companies care about research and development costs. We can't possibly have no research and development costs for our products, right? Besides, people who come out to drink won't care about the 25 or 30 yuan."

"especially those who go to nightclubs. one is a few thousand yuan for three suns grand opening, one is ten thousand yuan for perfect beauty, one dance is 200 yuan, a flower is 500 or 1000 yuan, and a golden cloak is 2000 yuan. hehe. " these people are very generous. Those who drink with the wine are even less so. When they drink with the guests, they can take 500 or 1000 flowers. When the wine is gone, they can continue drinking and there is a possibility of taking flowers.

"As for those who play low-end games, a meal at a food stall would cost a few hundred Yuan, right? You've already spent a few hundred Yuan on the wine, why would you still care about 30 yuan?"

Qin Lin nodded when he heard this.

Especially when he heard old Deng say that the flowers in the bar were not 500 or 1000 Yuan, and that there was something about a golden cloak. He felt that he should make a special version for the bar and sell it at 50 or 100 yuan.

He had never been to a bar before and knew nothing about it. If old Deng had not told him, he would not have known about ordering a dance, giving flowers, or a Golden Cape.

People were just too pure.

Deng Guang added, " Chairman Qin, The Hangover leek is called Linlin hangover grass. The product has passed the test and Chairman Qin has no objections. I'm planning to inform the agents of the food companies. These agents are interested in selling the Dried Leek.

"Yes, you can do as you see fit." Qin Lin nodded. He had no objections to this at all. After signing the papers, he let Deng Guang leave.

Even though a company could not only have a few agents after it had grown big, it was impossible to find another agent for every product when the number of agents was enough.

After that, the company's new products entered a mode where all agents could purchase them.

Naturally, if something happened to these agents, it was possible that they would be replaced. If necessary, they would find new agents to participate.

after deng guang left, qin lin locked the office door and entered the game with the hangover food. he saw the remark:

Chapter 867 No One Dared To Shout That The Whole Audience Would Pay The Bill Anymore 3

[hangover dish: 2]

[this is a special Chinese chives product produced by Linlin company. The characteristics of this Chinese chives: It grows very quickly and is very resistant to cuts. It has a special effect: Taste +2, deliciousness +2, removing the drunken state +2!]

Qin Lin felt that something was wrong when he saw the note.

after a while, he realized that he was missing the +2 boost in his yang energy.

Obviously, it was still affected after being made into Dried Leek, but why was it that it was the +2 masculinity that was affected?

fortunately, this was the hangover grass, which was mainly used to dispel alcohol. as long as it had the +2 effect of dispelling the drunken state, it was fine.

Deng Guang left Linlin villa and returned to the food company. The first thing he did was to gather all the distributors of the food company and introduce The Hangover grass.

Because the growth time of The Hangover leeks was very fast, and they would grow again very quickly after being cut off. The key was that it was easy to produce, so this product could be promoted on a large scale from the beginning.

Cheng He (tomato sauce), Wang Xiang (Linlin leisure tea), and the others found out about the effects of the Linlin hangover grass and tasted it for themselves. They were in disbelief.

Especially wang yang, he instantly thought of several sales channels. Just these channels alone would be enough for him to sell all of the production that CEO Deng had given him.

Moreover, he thought of a very interesting scene.

At the nightclub, there really was a pretentious guy who said that he would pay for the night. He would give every girl two bags of hangover grass and then drink it until he vomited blood.

Even though Cheng He didn't have the same channels as wang yang, he knew how big the market for The Hangover grass was. Just by looking at the excited expressions on the agents' faces when they left, he knew. None of them were stupid, they could tell.

So, after the distributors left one after another, Cheng He also left immediately. He returned to his own city and immediately found his son, Cheng Xi.

"Dad, why did CEO Deng ask you to go over this time?" Cheng Xi asked as soon as he entered.

Cheng He explained, "the company has just released a new product. The first broken product will be here soon. Take some people and promote it with the merchants. We have to promote this product as soon as possible. The market for this product will not be as good as Linlin ketchup.

"Dad, what product is it?" Cheng Xi was a little surprised. He naturally knew about the market for Linlin ketchup, which occupied almost the majority of the ketchup market.

Didn't the Cheng family rely on the distribution of this ketchup to grow?

this is the Linlin hangover grass, Linlin. Cheng He handed the product he had brought back to Chenxi and introduced the effects of the Linlin hangover grass.

after cheng xi heard about the effects of the hangover grass, he immediately looked shocked.

Was there really such a thing? Linlin company was indeed Linlin company. None of the products they produced were simple.

On the other side, after Wang Yan returned to min province, he also called Jiang Lingling and the others over and told them about the Linlin hangover grass.

After Jiang Lingling and the other women heard about the effect of the Linlin hangover grass, they knew how popular it would be in the nightclub without Wang Yan saying anything.

Similarly, the other distributors also made arrangements as soon as they went back.

not long after, the linlin hangover grass became common in all the shops and supermarkets.

And soon, something that would make all the wine merchants confused would happen.

Chapter 868 A Good Pig! 1

Zheng Bin was 28 years old this year. He was a white-collar worker with a monthly salary of more than 20000 Yuan. After paying his tax, car loan, and house loan, he would have to pay 15000 Yuan in total. The remaining 5000 Yuan made it very difficult for him to survive in this international city. He didn't even dare to find a girlfriend.

Therefore, if it was not necessary, he really did not dare to go out to eat. He could only cook some noodles at home.

Fortunately, with the Linlin ketchup product, he could enjoy the delicious food and his life wouldn't be too hard.

This also made him a loyal fan of Linlin company.

He had always wanted to go to Linlin villa one day to take a look at the place where the Linlin company originated.

People had already posted about Linlin villa's original villa on the internet.

Everyone knew that Linlin villa was originally a small villa that had gone bankrupt and the person in charge had entered it. It was the boss of Linlin company who had taken a fancy to this place and spent 1.2 million yuan to auction off the small villa. After a series of efforts, Linlin villa had developed to its current state.

After that, the food company was established. It was a very small company at that time. The original Boss of the company was in trouble because he had to pay off his son's debt. It was the boss behind Linlin company who spent more than 1 million to buy the company, and gradually, the current Linlin food company was established.

After that, the boss of the Linlin company met professor Li Kai, and then the Linlin laboratory was built.

This was naturally Zhao Moyu's authorization to let Lin Lanzi spread the news with the media department. Otherwise, it would be very difficult for the outside world to know about this.

After all, if a person succeeded, he would have to write a legend to add color to his Foundation. Otherwise, who would he show his success to?

This was something that every Big Shot would do.

What Big Boss Ma started from scratch, what Big Boss Ma disguised as a man and chatted with people, what Big Boss Dong quivered

Qin Lin didn't care about these things at all. However, Zhao Mo felt that it would be good for Lin Lin's company and could increase Qin Lin's reputation, so he asked Lin Lanzi to do it in secret.

Moreover, all of this was true.

Hence, Linlin villa became the birthplace of taxi companies.

Zheng Bin thought about the Linlin villa, and in the end, he could only sigh and finish the noodles mixed with Linlin tomato sauce in one go. If he went to Linlin villa to play, he would not have any savings, and he did not even know when he would have a holiday.

then, he thought about how he had to accompany his boss to dinner with those customers and had to block the alcohol for his boss. moreover, blocking the alcohol as an apology was a punishment of three glasses. he didn't know if he could come back in one piece tonight.

Zheng Bin felt helpless about his current life.

He wanted to escape, but his house loan and car loan had become chains that firmly bound him.

After leaving the house, he went to the supermarket downstairs, intending to buy a bottle of Linlin leisure tea to drink at work.

After entering the supermarket, he went to a special area marked with the words " Linlin.

Linlin's company's products exploded in popularity. Whether it was Linlin ketchup, Linlin leisure tea, Linlin liquid medicine, Linlin watermelon, or Linlin hot spring powder, they were all the best-selling products.

In fact, many places didn't have Linlin ketchup or Linlin leisure tea, and the customers would turn around and leave.

Therefore, the supermarkets and shops that sold these things had learned to be smart. They had specially planned out an area for Linlin's products, and some had even erected a sign at the door, saying that the store had Linlin's products.

zheng bin walked toward the linlin product area, which was filled with linlin ketchup, linlin leisure tea, and linlin potion.

To Zheng Bin's surprise, he also saw a new product here. It was a small package, the size of a 50-cent spicy strip.

Inside were dried leaves of some long, strip-like plant, and the packaging said: Linlin hangover grass!

"Boss, Linlin company has a new product?" Zheng Bin asked curiously.

When the new product was released, Linlin company did not advertise it at all. If it were any other company, the new product would have been advertised all over the world on TV and in online videos.

However, Linlin company's products were so daring to be launched on the market without any advertising. Every time, Linlin villa's products exploded in popularity and were sold out of stock. This was probably the basis of Linlin company's confidence!

At this time, the boss also walked out and introduced, " "This is The Hangover grass from Linlin company. It's a new type of leek developed by professor Li Kai."

this thing is probably the same as the new variety of vegetables that can cure diseases, " Wang Yao said. the only difference is that this leek can cure alcohol, and it's in a very good state.

I tried it myself. I drank until I was dizzy and my head was swollen. I was already a little drunk, but after eating a small bag of this hangover grass, I felt that my drunken state was gone in a short while. Moreover, my head didn't hurt anymore, and I didn't feel dizzy anymore.

Zheng Bin's eyes lit up when he heard this. He was most troubled by the problem of drinking alcohol, but he had no choice but to drink.

Thinking of the bar that night, he decisively bought a few packets and took a bottle of mineral water to pay the bill. After paying, he stuffed The Hangover grass into his pocket.

the day passed by quickly. when night fell, zheng bin was called to the boss 'office.

In the office, there was a girl in a professional OL uniform. The girl had a good figure and was very good-looking.

She was also called to a dinner party by her boss, and she was the most beautiful Public Relations Officer in the company.

Chapter 869 God Of War In The Bar! A Good Pig! 2

Naturally, although she was in charge of public relations, he still had to drink more of the wine on the table. After all, she had a good figure and was beautiful. What could you guess what the boss wanted to do after the dinner?

why else would she bring him along? He would just let her drink it.

Zheng Bin could only feel helpless about this. The other party's salary was higher than his.

This was how unfair society was. He had paid more and done more, but his salary was not as high as the other party's. The other party could earn more than 40000 Yuan a month, but the other party had to lie flat.

Most importantly, one had to look at their face to be able to lie flat. There were so many female employees in the company, why didn't they look at the others? Which one could lie flat?

Therefore, sometimes, there was no fairness in the world. Some people were born with an advantage.

Believe it or not, when the other party didn't want to lie flat and wanted to go home and find an honest family, they were still more in demand than many honest girls.

Zheng Guang could only think about it and didn't dare to complain. Otherwise, he would lose his job very quickly. There should be many people who wanted to take up a job that paid 20000 Yuan.

he was able to maintain this difficult job because of his good tolerance for alcohol.

"Let's go!" The boss walked out in a suit and said to Zheng Bin and the girl.

The boss was bald, but his condition seemed to have improved a lot recently. Because the boss had used Linlin Health Pharmaceuticals 'hot spring powder, his hair had grown back.

Zheng Bin, his boss, and the girl from the public relations department went to the restaurant's private room that they had agreed to meet with the customers. As soon as they entered the private room, Zheng Bin saw the customers.

He had more than one client, and they were all long-term partners of the company.

"Everyone's here, sorry for the long wait." After the boss sat down, he began to pour wine and apologize to the customers, looking very forthright.

However, after a few glasses, he looked at Zheng Bin and gestured.

Zheng Bin immediately reacted and went up to persuade him to drink. "Boss, you have a stomach problem today, so you can't drink too much. I'll drink this for you."

Then, he turned to the customers and said, "bosses, my boss really can't drink too little, so I'll drink the next drink on his behalf. I know my status is low, so I'll punish myself with three glasses.

This was not the first time he had done this, so he was very familiar with it.

Very quickly, a round of toasts was over. He naturally felt uncomfortable all over. His stomach was churning. The after-effects of drinking were showing.

if it was a normal drinking session, it was almost time to rest after drinking to this extent. after all, he would not treat himself shabbily. however, this kind of drinking session was not good.

very quickly, the second round of toasts began.

After a few rounds.

The boss was very generous and opened three bottles of minshi. After that, the boss was generous and he suffered. After another three rounds of toasts, he felt that his head was really going to split open.

The repercussions of being an official were really great.

Zheng Bin felt an unbearable urge to vomit. He couldn't help but run to the toilet. No one said anything about it. After all, everyone knew what kind of character he was.

When he reached the toilet, Zheng Bin felt like he had vomited all over the place. He pressed his hands on the sink and felt uncomfortable for a long time.

Then, he suddenly thought of something. He reached into his pocket and took out a pack of hangover grass.

Thinking of the supermarket owner's words, he tried to open a pack and stuffed it into his mouth without hesitation.

The Hangover grass was made from chives, but it tasted really good. Even when he was drunk and his mouth was full of the taste of wine, the delicious taste could not be concealed.

After eating The Hangover grass, Zheng Bin immediately felt something strange. There was a strange warm current in his body, as if it was flowing through his blood vessels.

Soon, the alcohol in his blood seemed to be quickly dissolved, and he could clearly feel that his mental state was rapidly improving.

The dizziness and headache from the alcohol were quickly disappearing.

This feeling was unbelievable.

When Zheng Bin came out of the toilet, the boss, the female host, and the customers were all in disbelief.

This was because he didn't look like the drunk man he was before. He looked like he was in high spirits.

Zheng Bin came out and looked at the customers with ill intentions. The effect of The Hangover grass was too strong and unbelievable. It was simply a divine weapon in the drinking field.

" mr. lin, " he said to a customer, " i'll toast you on behalf of my boss. i'll have three glasses and you'll have one! "

president lin didn't stand on ceremony and immediately raised his glass with a smile. the other party had three glasses and he had one. even if the other party wasn't toasting on behalf of his boss, he still had to drink. after all, in this kind of occasion, one shouldn't slap a smiling person.

After Zheng Bin toasted President Lin, he started to toast the other customers. Finally, it was president Lin's turn. President Lin, I feel that you've always been supporting our company. I'll toast you again on behalf of my boss. I'll drink three more glasses.

President Lin still didn't refuse.

The third round!

Mr. Lin, thank you again for your support of our company, Yingluo.

The fourth round!

Mr. Lin, your support is too important to our company. Thank you for your support, Wanwan.

President Lin drank another glass. At this time, his face was already very red. Obviously, he had drunk a little too much.

After two more rounds, Zheng Bin couldn't help but go to the toilet again and take out another bag of hangover grass.

When he came out again, he was still full of energy.

"President Lin ran ran"

Zheng Bin continued to toast these customers round after round. He had never thought that he could have such a good time when he was toasting.

Soon, Zheng Bin ran to the toilet again, but the customers were already looking at him as if he was a monster. One of them obviously had some food in his mouth, and he only felt an uncomfortable stomach.

They had never seen someone take turns drinking with them like this. It actually had the rhythm of getting them drunk.

The other party couldn't possibly be able to drink it, right?

However, a moment later, Zheng Bin came out of the toilet again with a look of high spirits.

He smiled and walked towards the customers. He was the first one to say to President Lin, " President Lin, it's because of your support that a worker like me is able to survive. I respect you so much that I'm toasting you on behalf of my boss!

another round was about to begin.

what the f * ck! President Lin's eyes almost popped out when he saw Zheng Bin. The next moment, he covered his mouth and ran to the toilet.

Obviously, he had reached his limit. He couldn't stand looking at the wine in front of him.

"This person is simply poisonous."

Zheng Bin then looked at the other clients.

"Aiya, little Zheng, I can't drink anymore."

"Hey, I'm going to vomit!"

"....."

Therefore, because of the Linlin hangover grass, Zheng Bin had defeated all the clients.

The boss looked at Zheng Bin in disbelief. He couldn't believe that he had such a powerful boss under him.

Even the public relations beauty could not help but give him a thumbs up.

In the Esmi bar, the provincial capital of min province, wang yang brought Jiang Lingling and Jiang Jianan into the bar and quietly walked to a corner.

There was a man accompanying Wang Yan, the man was the boss of this bar. He was naturally surprised that Wang Yan had contacted him today.

In the past, this Wang Yan was the person who organized high-end games in nightclubs, and he also hoped that he would come to his bar to organize a game.

But now, this CEO Wang had become a legend in the nightclub industry. He had a relationship with the boss of Linlin villa and became an agent. Just Linlin leisure tea alone had made him a lot of money.

Those big bosses who relied on their own business to develop their careers didn't make as much money as this CEO Wang.

In addition, there was another Xiangshui brand in Mr. Wang's hands. It could be said that all the girls in the entire min province were getting goods from him, and it was a great deal.

It could be said that with his relationship with the owner of Linlin villa, this CEO Wang would be able to enter the list of the richest people in the provincial capital of min province in the future.

How could he not be flattered when the other party came to his bar today? He was afraid that the other party wouldn't bring him along to play!

director Wang, does your product really have the effect you said? " The boss couldn't help but ask.

After hearing about the effect of this product from director Wang, he realized that if he were to sell it in his own bar, he would make a big profit. How much did he buy this wine?

Jiang Lingling was looking at some women in the bar. They were obviously distributing something. It was the Linlin hangover grass.

To Wang Yan, there was no better place to experiment than this bar.

Now that the items had been distributed, he just had to wait for the girls to test it out. The customers at night were all pigs!

Just as Wang Yan was thinking about this, the loud and clear voice of the DJ rang out. " tonight, the diamond brother yong from the venice booth will pay for the entire place! "

As soon as he said that, the entire bar was in high spirits.

There were always people who got drunk in a place like a bar!

Wang Yan's eyes also instantly lit up.

Good pig!

Chapter 870 Brother Yong's Soul Has Scattered! The Nouveau Riche Doesn't Dare To Act Cool Anymore! 1

brother Yong, the director of the diamond Association in Venice, will pay for the bill tonight!

The customers in the bar also looked at the Venice booth in unison.

The customers in the bar were also divided into different classes. Ordinary customers were ordinary customers. If they were long-term customers, they could get a black card.

As for the higher level, he would have to spend more money.

Although Esmi was considered a mid-to-low-end nightclub, a Diamond Manager would need to top up 200000 Yuan in one go to get it.

So, with this card, as long as you sat there, the big screen in the bar would project the information of the diamond Chairman of a certain booth.

Naturally, the girls playing in the bar also knew that you were rich. Whether they were drinking with you, fishing for rich men, or just having fun, they would all be more willing to come and play with you.

Moreover, with a Diamond Director, he could pay for everyone. Even in the low to mid range market, he was considered rich. One bill would cost hundreds of thousands, or even millions.

along with the lively atmosphere, the DJ's voice sounded again, " everyone, follow me and shout,'brother Yong is awesome!'

"Brother Yong!" As soon as the DJ's voice fell, a series of voices rang out around them.

"Awesome!"

"Brother Yong!" DJ。

"Awesome!"

They were all out to have fun. When they met such a drunk nouveau riche, everyone would give him face and agree. Having fun was the most important thing.

Jiang Lingling immediately signaled to some girls in the bar, and they immediately surrounded brother Yong.

Besides, not only the girls who were invited by Jiang Lingling, but many girls from the bar also went over.

The girls who could hang out in bars were not fools. If they met such a Big Boss, they would go over to propose a toast and act coquettishly. When the boss was happy, they might get a 5000 Yuan blue cloak, or even a 10000 Yuan Queen's cloak.

In a short time, brother Yong was surrounded by a few girls. They all wanted to lean on Him as if they wanted to stick to him.

There were even a lot of people with good figures who were already dancing in front of brother Yong.

Brother Yong didn't stand on ceremony either. He hugged each of the girls he liked and started working together. The most important thing was to have fun. That was his life motto.

The DJ shouted again, " brother Yong, you're awesome! Come and let me hear your voices! The stars are shining tonight!

At this moment, the girls surrounded brother Yong and shouted in unison, " "My heart is full of love for you!"

The DJ: " come on. The river bends and flows East!

The girls: " brother Yong! Brother Yong!

The atmosphere was extremely lively.

Brother Yong also scanned the girls around him. He had such a Big B * stard tonight, so he had to take two or three of them with him, right?

After all, he couldn't just spend hundreds of thousands of Yuan for nothing.

"Brother Yong, a toast to you!" Some girls were already toasting to brother Yong.

Brother Yong was obviously very happy to accept it as well. His eyes were already fixed on the two girls who obviously weren't here to go with the wine. "Drink as much as you want tonight, it's all on me."

Some girls had already started to look at each other, and then they started to move.

One of the girls picked up a glass of wine that brother Yong poured for her and poured it into her mouth.

Some girls had already walked to other tables, and they just looked at the seats with high-end drinks and toasted them delicately, drinking.

Two girls specially walked to a table with a centaur on it, sat down, and desperately toasted and drank.

There were a few middle-aged men at the table, and they didn't have any objections. This way of drinking, this girl would get drunk easily, and it would be easier to take her away.

Moreover, they realized that the two girls had really drunk a little too much, and they looked a little drunk very quickly.

One of the girls immediately apologized and went to the toilet. Then, she ran to the toilet.

In the toilet, she took out a pack of hangover grass from her pocket and stuffed it into her mouth.

That sister Lingling said that this thing was very effective in dispelling alcohol.

The girl's eyes quickly widened as she swallowed the whole packet of hangover grass. She naturally felt the effect very quickly.

the centaur had drunk so much just now, so the aftereffects should've been there a long time ago. now that he had drunk a bag of hangover grass, he felt nothing at all.

The girl immediately went out of the toilet and quickly returned to the booth where she had been drinking the Centaur. The other girl took the opportunity to go to the toilet.

Soon, the bottle of centaurs was emptied by the two girls. The middle-aged men had a headache from drinking, but when they saw that the girls were not drunk, they felt even more headache.

One of the middle-aged men immediately ordered another bottle of centaurs. Since the local tycoons were paying, it would be a waste not to order.

At the same time, the guests at the other seats also realized that some of the girls were good at drinking tonight, but the key was that they didn't get drunk.

The wine that could usually be drunk all night was actually finished in one go today.

There was something wrong with these girls at night.

brother yong also realized that something was wrong. there were a few bottles of 1.5 kilograms of mmos on his table. even if many girls came to toast him, he could drink for a long time. why were they all gone now?

Brother Yong couldn't lose face when he came out to play, so he ordered a few more bottles of moonshine. He didn't like to drink centaurs or blue belts, he liked moonshine.

When the new moguls were served, the young masters of the bar had already helped to open the bottles. However, brother Yong soon realized that the moguls were soon empty.

what the f * ck?! brother Yong was shocked. How could the girl drink so much tonight?

However, he wasn't someone who would haggle over a few bottles of wine, so he could only order more wine.

In the corner of the bar.

Wang Yan looked at the scene in the bar with a smile on his face. He was a night club player, so he naturally knew that the alcohol consumption rate in the bar was increasing.

The bar owner was holding his phone and looking at a message from a group chat, but his face was full of smiles.

That was the bar's internal group. The internal staff would count the number of drinks at any time, which also allowed him to directly see the bar's business situation at night.

Of course, there was also a group for girls to collect flowers. The girls who registered in his club would have to pay the bar a Commission of about 15% when they received flowers.

There was another type of bar that paid a salary, and they took 50% of the money.

The Commission wasn't for nothing. If something happened, the security of the bar would have to be responsible. It was impossible for those who didn't have much money to think that they could take girls out with 500 or 1000 Yuan.

this kind of people often didn't know their own limitations and liked to do some messy things.

To be honest, the girls in his bar, as long as they were not ugly and had good figures, could earn at least 20000 to 30000 Yuan a month. Some even earned 56000 Yuan a month.

Most of the people who came to his bar didn't earn as much as they did.

Time flew by, and it was soon 3 o'clock. By this time, the customers in the bar had basically started to leave.

moreover, many girls usually got off work at this time.

Brother Yong would usually play until this point, and he was almost drunk by now.

Naturally, there were only three girls left by his side.

He had his eyes on these three and wanted to bring them out at night. The other girls naturally left tactfully.

As for how much he would give the three girls after he brought them out, it was not a problem.

He wouldn't go back on his word about paying the bill for everyone. He called the bar manager over and said, "Calculate how much it costs this time!"

The manager quickly handed the bill to brother Yong and said, " brother Yong, we spent a total of 3.2 million at the bar tonight.

"What?" Brother Yong's soul almost left his body when he heard this.

What kind of joke was this? he usually only spent a few hundred thousand Yuan on the whole place, but this time, he actually got more than three million Yuan?

The bar manager also felt that the night's spending was a little unbelievable, so he hurriedly said, " brother Yong, we drank quite a lot at every table tonight, especially wine. You can take a look at the empty bottles in the other seats. Of course, we can also provide you with surveillance!

"No need!" Brother Yong could only sigh helplessly.

He still wanted to save face. After all, in such a situation, it might be because the other seats were very expensive, and he was unlucky to have met them.

Most of the time, the bill at Esmi bar was only a few thousand dollars, but sometimes, he would meet people who spent hundreds of thousands.

Who could have thought of this?

However, he also realized that the girls from last night could really drink. Just his table alone had several bottles of wine.

moreover, he didn't even know a few of these girls.

Something was very wrong!

Brother Yong took out his card and handed it to the manager. To be honest, he didn't feel bad for paying hundreds of thousands of Yuan, but his heart was bleeding for him to pay more than three million in one go.

After paying with his card, brother Yong left with the three girls.

the bar owner found wang yan with a face full of smiles, and handed a card to him. director Wang, there's 1 million in this card. The password is . Although it's not much, it's a token of my appreciation.

The biggest profit of his bar was the wine. The profit margin of the wine was 50%, so one could imagine how much he had earned from the three million Yuan tonight.

Anyway, he wouldn't lose out by taking out this one million Yuan as a form of filial piety. Moreover, he and this CEO Wang's attitude had reached a certain level. He would feel proud and would bring you to play in the future.

Only a fool wouldn't know how to hug someone's thigh.

Wang Yan didn't care about one million Yuan at all, so she handed the card to Jiang Lingling and said, "Let's split this money among everyone!"

Jiang Lingling also nodded and created a group on WeChat. She added all the girls she had brought to experiment with the Linlin hangover grass and sent a message, " come to our company tomorrow. i'll give you a million yuan as a reward! "

In the WeChat group, the girls with beautiful profile pictures cheered.

"Brother Yan is awesome!"

"Brother Yan, 666!"

"I love brother Yan."

one million yuan was not a small sum of money even after they had split it evenly. at least, it was a pretty good side income.

"Director Wang, can you give us a batch of your hangover grass?" The owner of the bar explained to Wang Yan with a smile.

He had already seen the effects of The Hangover grass today. If his bar had such a thing, he would be rolling in money.

but he also knew that in min province, only mr. wang could get his hands on linlin's products.

"You can click on sister Lingling's side!" Wang Yan's original intention was to promote the product, so he naturally wouldn't disagree.

The owner of the bar said to Jiang Lingling with a smile, " "Sister Lingling, I'll have to trouble you then."

He was actually older than Jiang Lingling, so it wasn't appropriate to call her sister Lingling. But sometimes, it had nothing to do with age.

jiang lingling was president wang's friend after all.

Jiang Lingling liked being called " sister Lingling " very much. Brother Yan called her " sister Lingling " because they were close, and the owner of the bar called her out of respect.

This was all because she was someone close to Wang Yan.

This was the dignity that she had never gotten in the night clubs. Even if she was fancied by some rich man and followed him, others would not take her seriously.

Now, she only needed to serve one person well. When she sent money to her family, she could proudly say that she was working for the regional main sales agency of Linlin company.

jiang lingling followed wang yan out of the bar after she registered the owner.

Outside the bar, wang yang suddenly thought of something after seeing the effect of The Hangover. He asked Jiang Lingling, "Sister Lingling, do you know anyone who knows how to manipulate the stock market?"
