

The Game 871

Chapter 871 Linlin Hangover Grass VS Drunk Driving

There was a type of person in this world who was naturally clever and quick-witted, able to grasp the opportunity that appeared inadvertently around them.

Wang Yan was such a person.

He wasn't from a rich family. He could only be said to be from an ordinary well-off family.

In the beginning, when he had just graduated, his salary was quite high. He was not considered a nouveau riche. One time, he went to a bar with his friends to have fun. Just once, a certain gene in his body seemed to have been opened, and then it went out of control.

He also took the opportunity to get to know a rich second generation. At first, he just wanted to play with some high-end girls, so he helped to organize the game.

However, after he had the opportunity to come into contact with high-end games, as he organized more and more games, he actually relied on his unique talent in the nightclub to become more and more famous and high-end. In the end, he was given the title of The Little Prince of the nightclub.

It was also because of this that he got to know girls like su Juan and Jiang Lingling.

After that, it went without saying that he had tried his best to fight for it and seized the opportunity to ride on Linlin's company's coattails.

This was also the biggest opportunity he had ever seized in his life.

after seeing the effects of the hangover grass at the bar, he thought of one thing. would the stock price of those alcohol companies rise?

With The Hangover grass, it would definitely increase.

As long as he was fast enough, he should have the chance to earn some extra money, right?

Jiang Lingling didn't understand wang Yang's intention, but she still said,"i do know a few people who know about the stock market."

"Help me make an appointment," Wang Yan nodded.

Time passed!

the next day came quickly, and many people who were used to watching Short Video on mouyin were surprised to find that linlin's company was on the hot search again.

let me share something with everyone. You definitely don't know that Linlin food company has quietly launched a new product. This product is very magical.

Linlin's hangover grass is too awesome. If you don't drink a few bottles of wine and eat a bag of Linlin's hangover grass, you won't know how awesome it is.

After the Linlin hangover grass was rolled out, the first batch of people who used it uploaded their videos. The effects of The Hangover grass became popular.

the people who saw the video were obviously shocked. drinking, getting drunk, and feeling uncomfortable after drinking were problems that many people couldn't avoid.

Moreover, there were actually many hangover medicines on the market, but they didn't have much of an effect. The Hangover grass in these videos was really incredible, or simply unbelievable.

It seemed a little ridiculous that a person who was completely drunk would wake up very quickly after consuming a pack of hangover grass and still be in high spirits.

However, since the Linlin hangover grass was on the hot search, there would definitely be people who would try it. After watching the video, many people would immediately go to the nearby shops to buy the Linlin hangover grass and then go home to experiment.

The more people tested it, the more people confirmed it. Then, the results of the experiment were also posted on the internet, making the Linlin hangover grass more and more popular.

Furthermore, as more and more people found out about the effects of The Hangover grass, some people realized that the stocks of alcohol companies like Maotai started to rise.

That's right, this Linlin hangover grass could actually affect the stock price of alcohol companies.

the provincial capital of min province.

There were already several computers in an apartment.

Wang Yan was already staring at the few men in front of the computers operating the screens, and the men's faces were also filled with joy.

"CEO Wang, it really rose."

the shares of companies like Maotai, Fenjiu, and Kongtong have risen by a few points!

"....."

When Wang Yan heard this, he smiled.

This meant that he had guessed correctly.

With the Linlin hangover grass, it was impossible for the alcohol companies not to increase their prices.

At the headquarters of the Maotai company.

In his office, Yuan renguo looked at his company's stock price in a daze. He would check on his company's stock price from time to time.

But today, he saw that his company's stock price had inexplicably started to rise, and it had risen a lot.

The key was that his company had not done anything recently. There were no activities or new products that could boost the growth of the stock. How did the stock start to rise?

Yuan renguo immediately called his Secretary over and asked, " check why the company's stock price has been rising today.

The Secretary immediately said, " Mr. Yuan, I was just about to report something to you. Linlin company has launched a product called Linlin hangover grass. This product has a very good hangover effect. The internet is full of news about this product.

When Yuan renguo heard this, he immediately took out his phone. In the modern information age, big companies like them were also paying more and more attention to online publicity. They had also begun to focus on online publicity.

He soon saw the news about the Linlin hangover grass. When he saw the video's introduction and verification of the Linlin hangover grass, his face revealed disbelief.

There was actually someone who was eating Linlin hangover grass and drinking Maotai. After drinking two bottles of Maotai, he was completely fine. He even said, " Linlin hangover grass and Maotai were very refreshing to drink, and also very refreshing to drink.

This Kasaya

After reading the news online, Yuan renguo hurriedly said, " "Go and buy me some Linlin hangover grass."

The Secretary then took out a few packets of Linlin hangover grass and handed them to Yuan renguo. "President Yuan, I've already bought it."

Yuan renguo received the Linlin hangover grass from the Secretary with satisfaction. He looked at the bags of hangover grass, which were introduced as dried leeks.

He couldn't believe that these dried leeks could have such an effect.

He walked to the side, opened a wine rack in the glass window, and took out a bottle of Maotai.

The Maotai wine that he, the boss of the Maotai company, had personally collected was naturally of the highest quality. Usually, this wine was used to taste. As he had to experiment, he opened it and drank it in big gulps.

He only stopped when he was a little tipsy. It was uncomfortable to drink such a high alcohol content like Maotai in large gulps. Fortunately, he had a good alcohol tolerance.

Then, he opened a bag of hangover grass and put it in his mouth.

Similarly, in just a moment, Yuan renguo felt the effects of the Linlin hangover grass, and his eyes were filled with disbelief.

After he had fully recovered from the effects of the Linlin hangover grass, he felt as if he had never drunk alcohol before. As long as he washed away the taste of alcohol in his mouth, he could say that he had never drunk alcohol.

I didn't expect such a product to exist. Professor Li Kai is really amazing. Yuan renguo couldn't help but exclaim.

It wasn't strange that this product could increase his company's stock price.

However, he also thought of something. What if his company's wine was bundled with the Linlin hangover grass?

Thinking of this, he instructed his Secretary, " help me contact President Deng Guang from Linlin company. Tell him that I want to visit him.

the boss of linlin's company was too mysterious, and he had not asked to meet him.

At the same time, other domestic alcohol companies were doing the same thing. After knowing why their company's stock price had inexplicably risen, they all wanted to visit Linlin company to discuss the bundle sale.

in the future, if he sold his family's wine, it would be very good to bundle some linlin hangover grass.

In the same provincial capital of min province, brother Yong was in the middle of three hot chicks in a luxurious hotel suite. He arrived at the hotel from four to six the night before. If it wasn't for Linlin leisure tea, he felt like he would have lost his life today.

But even so, he slept until noon today. Because of the alcohol, his head was still a little heavy.

Brother Yong was also a fan of a certain voice, and he had a certain Voice number as well. Naturally, the videos he posted were all about playing at the bar.

because he was very open, he also attracted a lot of attention.

After scrolling through a few videos, he found news about the Linlin hangover grass.

When he saw the Linlin hangover grass, he was stunned. A moment later, he shouted in shock, " "i'll f * ck!"

The sound woke up the three girls, who looked at him in confusion.

Brother Yong was even more confused. He seemed to know why he had spent more than 3 million last night.

linlin hangover grass.

There was such a thing. He seemed to understand why there was something wrong with the girls last night. They all drank so much, but they didn't get drunk.

It was this thing that had cost him more than 3 million Yuan in one night.

Oh my God! brother Yong immediately felt like his nightclub life was going to lose a lot of fun.

His favorite thing to do was to pay the bill at low and mid-end bars. It was necessary to occasionally show off when he had the money.

But now that Linlin company had come up with such a thing, how was he going to act cool in the future?

Who could stand it if he earned more than 3 million each time?

The Linlin hangover grass suddenly made him lose all interest.

All of a sudden, he felt a mixture of love and hate for Linlin company. He loved it because Linlin leisure tea could help him recover his strength, and he hated it because of Linlin hangover grass. Why did they have to make such a thing?

It wasn't just brother Yong. Many local tycoons in the country were also wailing when they saw the Linlin hangover grass.

obviously, brother yong wasn't the only one who was affected by the linlin hangover grass.

As the Linlin hangover grass became more and more popular, a video attracted everyone's attention:

I wonder if anyone has ever tried eating The Hangover grass after drinking wine. Would it be alright? "

As soon as the video was released, it attracted the attention of countless people. The comments on the content were even more exciting.

"? ? ? ? ?"

"? ? ? ?"

"This is a very cruel idea, who wants to give it a try?"

"@ Uncle traffic police!"

Indeed, wine racks had always been a big social problem, and many people had to pay the price for drinking, which was a very troublesome thing.

There were even times when it was hard to get drunk driving.

The video was taken down not long after it was released, because challenging drunk driving was indeed a very difficult question.

However, many people had seen the video, and there was no lack of people who were bold enough to take action.

Some people even dared to do anything to attract attention and traffic.

Ma Qing was such a person. He was just a small-time live streamer who wasn't very famous. Therefore, he seized this opportunity.

as soon as night fell, he found out where drunk-driving was caught. then, he got into the car immediately, took out a bottle of wine, and poured it into his mouth.

After drinking one bottle, he was a little dazed and dizzy!

Then, he took out a packet of Linlin hangover grass and put it in his mouth, chewing it.

It wasn't the first time he had eaten the Linlin hangover grass. After a while, the effect was shown.

He hurriedly took out a strong perfume and sprayed it on himself.

In a short while, the smell of alcohol in the car was completely covered by the perfume!

Then, he started the car and drove towards the checkpoint set by the traffic police. It didn't take long for him to arrive in front of a traffic police officer.

"blow!" The traffic police brought the device to Ma Qing's mouth.

Ma Qing held the instrument in his mouth and began to blow air. He was extremely nervous as he blew. if he wasn't careful, he would lose his driver's license and be in jail for a while.

"You're very nervous?" The traffic police took back the device and looked at Ma Qing in confusion.

Mr. Policeman, I just got my driver's license, so I'm nervous. Ma Qing hastily made up a sentence.

"Let's go!" The traffic police officer nodded and reminded him, " "We're new, drive carefully!"

"Alright, police uncle!" As Ma Qing spoke, he started the car and set off. In that instant, his heart was beating extremely fast!

Chapter 872 399-Targeting Linlin's Hangover Grass!

with this hangover grass, only those who don't like to drink will suffer. I could still pretend to be drunk in the past, but now I don't even have the right to pretend to be drunk.

A video of a netizen's miserable state made it to the hot search.

The Hangover grass was very popular now, and once this video was released, it gained traffic from a sharp point of view.

Previously, the netizens had all described how strong and powerful the effects of The Hangover grass were. The facts had also proven that The Hangover grass was very powerful and very awesome.

The stock prices of the alcohol companies online had all risen because of The Hangover grass. If Linlin villa stopped selling The Hangover grass, these alcohol products would probably drop by a large amount.

However, it was precisely because The Hangover grass was so powerful that people who didn't like to drink would immediately have a few bags of it in front of them if they wanted to pretend to be drunk.

One could imagine how sad that scene would be!

The netizens in the video were very depressed, saying that his friends were not human. Each of them had a bag of Linlin hangover grass, making him drink more wine in one night than he would in his life.

This video naturally attracted countless people's ridicule.

"It seems like I've found some fun!"

"I'm just thinking which friend of mine doesn't like to drink!"

I thought of a friend who can get three glasses down. How about we get him to pour ten glasses a night?

With the appearance of this hot search, another hot search attracted people's attention:

I've personally verified that after drinking and eating a pack of hangover grass, you'll be fine very quickly. Moreover, the traffic police's alcohol test can't detect it at all!

Once the video was released, it caused another sensation.

Previously, there were people talking about the use of The Hangover grass when drinking, but the video had been decreased.

Now, there was actually someone who was trying it out.

And this video was posted by Ma Qing. The moment his video was posted, it gained traffic, likes and comments kept increasing.

" f * ck, brother, quickly prepare your own tea leaves. the tea leaves inside don't taste good! "

"Brother, you're really good at torturing!"

"Are you self-destructing or walking right into the trap?"

"....."

The comments section was very lively. Ma Qing was also very nervous.

He knew that he was seeking death. Sometimes, it was natural to seek death. Otherwise, how could he be called testing the edge of danger?

He courted death because he liked this kind of situation where traffic was fierce. However, he also specially @ the Traffic Police Department one by one, hoping that they could save him when he courted death.

This was a very contradictory mentality. He wanted to court death, but he didn't want to die.

As soon as the video was released, many designated drivers felt a chill down their spines and even had a bad feeling.

Why did he feel like he was about to lose his job?

Because of this hot news, more and more people began to experiment with it. The stock price of some companies was affected, and those were the driving companies.

Previously, the stock prices of the alcohol companies had soared because of The Hangover grass.

Now, the stock prices of these companies that had designated driving services began to fall due to the influence of the Linlin hangover grass. This was especially so for DD company, a small brother of the Association. They were affected even more.

In the headquarters of the DD company, the boss, Chen MUYANG, was a little troubled.

This was simply an unexpected disaster. The CD driver business had always been very good in his company, and even the stock price rose in a short period of time because of this business.

Who knew that the Linlin hangover grass would cause his company's stock price to fall, even more than it had risen before?

Chen Muyang was very vexed. Previously, because he had participated in the blockade of Big Bear, he had made a wrong move and was boycotted, which had already caused the company's stock price to drop greatly.

We can't let the company's stock price drop again because of this.

Chen Muyang's expression turned sinister. He immediately made a call and called for someone.

It was a young man, the company's public relations manager. He was usually the one who controlled the public opinion about DD.

after all, he was standing on the same side as the liu family. it was inevitable that there would be negative effects. therefore, when the public opinion was against the doyle family, the public relations department would be needed to do public relations.

Therefore, he had to spend a lot of money to raise a group of very capable public relations personnel every year. The cost was too high.

However, there was no other way. After acknowledging the star-stripe virus as his father, some things were inevitable.

"President Chen, what are your orders?" The public relations manager asked Chen Muyang the moment he entered.

Chen Muyang immediately ordered,"do you know about the influence of the Linlin hangover grass on the company's stock price?" Control the public's opinion immediately and use the harm of drunk driving as the attack point against the Linlin hangover grass. It's best to have the higher-ups restrict the Linlin hangover grass. Of course, no one can know that we did it!"

This was the only way to solve their company's predicament. It would be great if they could use public opinion to resolve this Linlin hangover grass. Then, the hidden danger would be completely eliminated.

"Alright, President Chen." The public relations manager also got the order and left the office. Then, he began to contact the Internet Water Army.

Although public opinion was not good for their company and there were many people targeting them, this world had never lacked people who would do anything for money.

These fake reviewers were like that. As long as they were given money and told to say that DD company was the most patriotic company, they would also publicize it word for word on the internet and create public opinion.

Not long after, there were discussions on the internet about the Linlin hangover grass being bad.

"Linlin hangover grass should have a corresponding restriction!"

the horror of drunk driving and car accidents. The Hangover grass will increase the probability of such things happening.

The Hangover grass will increase the probability of drunk driving. The relevant departments should strictly ban it!

For a time, the internet was filled with arguments about how the Linlin hangover grass would cause drunk-driving to break out and lead to tragedy.

Chapter 873 399-Targeting Linlin's Hangover Grass!

moreover, at the same time as this argument appeared, there was also some news about drunk driving and car accidents on the internet, which were completely targeted at linlin's hangover grass.

This also helped Doyle achieve some of his goals. At least, the falling stock price was temporarily stabilized.

In Linlin Manor.

Naturally, Qin Lin also paid attention to this news immediately.

However, he didn't care much about it, because old brother li had already done a test in Linlin's laboratory and knew the effects of The Hangover grass.

The Hangover grass had a special substance that could completely break down the alcohol in the human body without affecting the human body.

The alcohol content had been broken down completely, so how could he talk about drunk driving?

The relevant departments would probably conduct tests on The Hangover grass soon. At that time, the drunk-driving problem could be directly solved.

Moreover, it wasn't just Ma Qing's video that was @'ing the Traffic Police Department. In the video news that these video companies had released, there were also netizens who were constantly @'ing the Traffic Police Department.

The Traffic Police Department also paid attention to this matter at the first moment. They even paid special attention to Ma Qing, the instigator of this incident.

However, the Traffic Police Department was very troubled by Ma Qing, who had posted the video.

First, the other party was taking advantage of a loophole. Second, the other party was reporting a loophole!

It could be said that this was a mistake or a credit.

Minister Lu also noticed this.

After all, drunk-driving was a serious problem, and the criminal law for drunk-driving was also very strict. No one was allowed to take advantage of a loophole in drunk-driving.

No matter who it was, no matter what the reason was, drunk driving was harmful to others and oneself, and they had to be severely punished.

However, this hangover grass seemed to be able to make people take advantage of drunk driving. This was a very serious matter.

Moreover, he didn't want this matter to affect boss Qin and Linlin company.

However, he was not in charge of the traffic.

He picked up his phone and made a call.

As soon as the call went through, he asked, " "Department head Guo, have you read about The Hangover grass and drunk-driving? I've seen it Yingluo okay, I'll bring some people over to join in the fun Yingluo "

Minister Lu hung up the phone, got up, and left the office. He then took some staff from the Chinese Academy of Sciences and equipment to another department.

Minister Guo was in charge of transportation, and the other party had already paid attention to the matter of the liquor grass. They were now gathering people to discuss the matter of The Hangover grass.

When Minister Lu arrived, he was taken to a track Plaza under the control of the race track.

The square was very large, and there were many large racing tracks inside.

As the Transportation Department, it was natural to have a place that could simulate traffic operations.

"Minister Lu, I knew you'd be interested in this." A middle-aged man greeted Minister Lu with a smile.

"Minister Guo, are you ready?" Minister Lu asked curiously.

"it's just starting, we're just waiting for you people from the chinese academy of sciences." Minister Guo explained as he led Minister Lu in.

He knew that Minister Lu had now become the bridge between the higher-ups and Linlin company. Some things were more or less known by people of his level.

The Linlin hangover grass was something that belonged to Linlin company, so the incident on the internet would definitely involve Linlin company.

If the results of the test they were doing were not good, it would definitely affect Linlin's company.

Because Linlin company's reputation had always been good, and it had made a lot of contributions to the country. However, when it came to drunk driving, they couldn't be careless, even if they had to make a decision that was unfavorable to Linlin company.

He thought about the drunk-driving incident when he ran into the pedestrian on the sidewalk and killed them.

He thought about how he crushed a dozen elementary school students with drunk driving.

He thought about the car explosion caused by drunk driving, which had broken up more than 20 families.

This kind of thing happened everywhere, every day.

Therefore, drunk driving could not be tolerated.

Minister Guo and Minister Lu walked to a place where the staff had already started to prepare. They saw that a table was already filled with all kinds of wine from the market.

There was a staff member in front of each type of wine. They had already started to drink the wine. Their task now was to get drunk.

When these people had drunk to a certain extent, the traffic Department staff next to them started to test their alcohol content with a detection device.

Without a doubt, these people had all reached the level of drunk driving.

Such a state would be considered detention and a fine.

At the same time, the people from the Chinese Academy of Sciences began to draw blood from these people to verify and record their blood.

Because of the special equipment from the Chinese Academy of Sciences, the blood test results came out very quickly.

Similarly, the alcohol content in these people's blood was seriously over the limit, which was also the data for comparison.

The already drunk staff members began to take out bags of hangover grass and put them in their mouths.

Their goal was to test The Hangover grass.

It didn't take long for the workers who had eaten The Hangover grass to feel incredulous. The intoxicating effect had completely disappeared, and even the dizziness and negative feelings after getting drunk were gone.

This was really too shocking.

At least, in this state, they knew that they were very clear-headed and even in high spirits.

At this time, the traffic Department staff began to test the drinking staff again. The people from the Chinese Academy of Sciences also took their blood and did the same.

Chapter 874 399-Targeting Linlin's Hangover Grass!

The results of the machine's test showed that there were no problems.

this also let them know that the linlin hangover grass could indeed help people escape the test of drunk driving. so, now it was time to see the blood test.

Soon, the results of the blood test came out, and the results shocked everyone.

This was because after eating The Hangover grass and recovering, the blood of these workers did not contain any alcohol. Everything was the same as normal.

Under normal circumstances, people could only drive after drinking for 24 hours.

At this time, he had finally reached the standard of driving.

However, in a drunken state, after 24 hours, there would still be some alcohol in the blood, and the aftereffects on the nerves would still be there.

But now, eating The Hangover grass, in such a short time, the effect was even better than drinking alcohol for 24 hours.

He could totally drive in this state.

When Minister Guo got the results, he was so cautious that he asked people to test it a few more times.

Minister Lu heaved a sigh of relief. It seemed that Linlin company's products were as strong as ever.

Soon, the results of the tests were out, and the results were the same as the first time. No matter how drunk one was, after drinking and using The Hangover grass, one would be able to meet the conditions to drive in a very short time.

Minister Guo asked the people from the Chinese Academy of Sciences to help examine the bodies of these staff members. He wanted to see if there were any hidden dangers in their bodies while driving.

However, after a few tests, The Hangover grass broke down the alcohol and had no effect on the consumer's body. Moreover, after eating The Hangover grass, there was a component in the body that could break down the alcohol, but there was also another special component.

This special ingredient had no effect on the human body. On the contrary, it could stimulate blood circulation and keep one awake. After eating The Hangover grass, this special ingredient would exist for more than ten hours before it slowly disappeared.

This seemed to be another surprising discovery.

The Hangover grass could solve the problem of drunk-driving, so it was inevitable that some people would be caught for drunk-driving and insist that they had eaten The Hangover grass. It was not his fault to say that The Hangover grass had no effect.

At that time, they would also draw a blood test and the results would be known very quickly.

Therefore, this hangover grass was really a good thing. It could completely solve the problem of drunk driving and even make up for the loopholes that people could take advantage of.

The reason why drunk-driving was so strict was that the consequences of drunk driving were very serious. If there was something like hangover grass that could solve the problem of drunk-driving, then it would be a good thing for the overall situation along with the original drunk-driving penalty.

Moreover, with The Hangover grass, the sentence for drunk driving could be even heavier.

If you were drunk and drove without looking for a price, you could say that it was troublesome to look for a price, or that you had an emergency, or any other excuse.

However, if you didn't eat The Hangover grass before you drove, you could only say that you did it on purpose, and you had to be severely punished.

It could also be stipulated through a document that as long as there was an occasion where wine was being sold, The Hangover grass must be placed in the most obvious position for sale.

The results of the test for The Hangover grass made Minister Guo and Minister Lu feel relieved, While they were testing, the public opinion on the Linlin hangover grass had already fermented on the internet. Even with the call of the Internet Water Army, voices to ban the Linlin hangover grass had appeared.

These were the families who had been harmed by drunk driving before, who had been fooled by the Internet Water Army.

At the DD company.

Chen Muyang had been paying attention to the public opinion on the internet. His company's stock price had temporarily stabilized because of the public relations manager's orders to create public opinion.

However, he knew that it wasn't enough. It wasn't stable enough. He still needed to do something to make public opinion completely believe that The Hangover grass was a part of drunk driving. He could even force the relevant departments to ban The Hangover grass.

Chen Muyang called for the public relations manager again and asked, "Have you prepared what I asked you to?"

The public relations manager nodded. it's already been prepared. When the news of drunk driving comes out, Linlin's hangover medicine will be completely beaten to death.

Since he had already made an issue out of drunk driving, he might as well create another one!

Chapter 875 400-Framing!

Since the public opinion on the internet was all about drunk driving, he had to create a drunk-driving news article to make the public opinion explode.

At that time, what if the drunk-driving driver said that he had taken the Linlin hangover grass, but it didn't work?

The netizens were all stupid. When the time came, with a little guidance, it would create a bigger public opinion.

Under that kind of public opinion, as long as the driver insisted that he had eaten Qin Lin's hangover grass after drinking, he would not be able to explain himself.

naturally, he had to find a good driver. after all, if something went wrong, he would have to go in.

However, in today's society, money could make the devil turn millstones. As long as one was willing to spend money, there would always be some people who would throw away their lives for money.

the public relations manager quickly left chen muyang's office.

Chen Muyang's lips curled into a smile.

The Linlin hangover grass's effect was indeed powerful, but some methods didn't have to be used in the open. The effects of the underhanded methods could sometimes be unimaginable.

The sun set and night gradually fell.

The bar was once again filled with people, and the cheers were endless.

In the parking lot outside the bar, Li Jiajun was already sitting in his car. He was holding his phone and looking at the transfer message on it. He gritted his teeth and deleted the message. Then he took out a bottle of wine from his car and poured it into his mouth.

Although he didn't know who the person behind the scenes was, he knew that the person had paid.

And he really needed the money.

After a bottle of wine, he threw it out of the car window, then took out a bag of Linlin hangover grass and opened it. However, he didn't put the grass in his mouth, but threw it out of the car. He only put the bag on the passenger seat to prove that he had eaten Linlin hangover grass.

After all, if he insisted that he had eaten it, who could prove that he had not?

After doing all this, he started the car and drove to the side of the road, straight to a block.

He already knew that there were traffic police checking for drunk driving.

Sure enough, Li Jiajun saw the traffic police after a while.

Without any hesitation, he stepped on the accelerator and rushed there. He was going very fast and had no intention of slowing down.

The traffic police noticed him and immediately waved for him to stop.

however, li jiajun had no intention of stopping. he charged forward as if he was going to crash into the traffic police.

The traffic police could only hurriedly avoid the car. Then, Li Jiajun drove directly into the police car that was parked on the side, and the alarm went off.

Li Jiajun's car also stopped.

The surrounding traffic police surrounded him angrily. They didn't expect such a death-seeking driver to appear not long after they were on duty today.

He opened the car door and saw that Li Jiajun was fine. He dragged him out of the car and pressed him against the car.

This scene also attracted the attention of the people around them, especially the drivers who were still being checked. Because they were close, they all got out of the car and took out their mobile phones to film the scene.

he reeks of alcohol. Test his alcohol content! A traffic police officer said with a frown.

Another traffic police officer immediately took out a device and asked Li Jiajun to blow on it.

Although Li Jiajun pretended to be flustered, he was very cooperative. The test results came out very quickly.

what a f * cking b * stard! the traffic police officer holding the device said angrily. he's still driving when there's so much alcohol in his body.

This time, Li Jiajun cried out that he was wronged, " " that's impossible. i ate the hangover grass after i drank. the packaging is still in my car. "

These words caused a commotion in the surroundings.

The Linlin hangover grass had been so popular recently that everyone knew about it. There were even a few drivers who were panicking.

As for why they were panicking, only they themselves understood.

The traffic police officers were also stunned.

The Bureau was also discussing the Linlin hangover grass. The biggest discussion was that someone had used the Linlin hangover grass when drinking, and the equipment couldn't detect it. He had been caught and what to do.

However, the head of the Bureau did not give an answer at the moment and said to wait for the news from above.

However, they didn't expect to meet a driver who had used the Linlin hangover grass on their shift today. The driver still looked drunk, as if the Linlin hangover grass had no effect.

A traffic police officer opened the car door and checked Li Jiajun's car. Sure enough, he found an opened package of Linlin hangover grass.

In other words, this guy might have really eaten the Linlin hangover grass before he drove.

if that was the case, it meant that there was a hidden danger to the linlin hangover grass, and they definitely couldn't let a drinker eat the hangover grass and drive away.

This matter had to be reported immediately.

However, before the traffic police could do anything, the drivers around them had already uploaded the video of the scene to the internet.

These drivers had uploaded the videos just to attract attention, but there were already internet trolls who had been arranged to comment, like, and boost the popularity of the videos as soon as they appeared.

The drivers didn't know what was going on and thought that a video that they had casually filmed had gone viral.

In fact, there was a hidden mastermind behind this.

In a short period of time, the Traffic Police Department did not have time to respond. There were many Hot Searches on the internet:

'Someone was caught by the traffic police even after eating Linlin hangover grass.'

the traffic police have clearly confirmed that the Linlin hangover grass is useless. Even after eating it, they were still detected to have excessive alcohol content!

"The Linlin hangover grass might not be useful!"

《.....》

Moreover, in these video news, each of them had a picture of the traffic police arresting Li Jiajun. It seemed that the evidence was conclusive and very convincing.

Chapter 876 400! Trap!

The speed of the hot search was so fast that the traffic police who had just returned to the police station and started interrogating were a little confused. The leader went to the door to ask and found out that the person he had arrested had already made it to the hot search news.

But it shouldn't have happened in such a short time.

Linlin Manor.

Qin Lin also received the news on the internet immediately.

When the hot news appeared on the internet, Lin Lanzi knew that it might be a deliberate move against the Linlin hangover grass.

Although the Linlin hangover grass belonged to Linlin food company and wasn't under her control, she had to report it to her boss.

When Lin Lanzi saw Qin Lin, Deng Guang had also arrived.

As the person in charge of Linlin food company, he naturally had to know about the news about the Linlin hangover grass that had suddenly appeared on the internet.

Before the two of them arrived, Qin Lin had been focusing on the game in his mind, controlling his game character to fish.

When he heard the two's report, he immediately took out his phone and saw the news about the Linlin hangover grass.

He wasn't a fool. He could tell that there was something wrong with the news. There was a video that showed the time of the arrest. It was too fast for such a hot news to spread.

Even though the Linlin hangover grass was very popular now, it would still take time for the news to gain traffic and even become a hot search.

But now, it was as if there was no time for this to ferment. It had directly become a hot search.

"What do you guys think?" Qin Lin also asked Deng Guang and Lin Lanzi.

Lin Lanzi replied, " boss, there's something wrong with the speed at which these videos are trending. I suspect that someone is deliberately targeting them behind the scenes. Moreover, there are traces of fake reviewers in many of the comments online.

"Our food company's employees have also seen the comments on those videos. Indeed, they realized that many of the comments on those videos have been standardized." Deng Guang added.

also, the market analyst hired by the company said that it's very likely that this is an online public opinion war organized by companies with designated driving services, specifically to target our Linlin hangover grass.

because of the Linlin hangover cure-all the companies with designated driving services have been affected and taken down. They definitely won't sit still and wait for their deaths. Among them, DD company was the most affected, so it's most likely that DD company is behind this.

"Since we know that someone is behind this, what we need to do now is to figure out how to deal with this matter," Qin Lin nodded and said.

Qin Lin's phone suddenly rang. It was Minister Lu.

It was strange that Minister Lu would call him in the middle of the night.

Qin Lin immediately pressed the answer button, and Minister Lu's voice came over, "Boss Qin, have you heard about the news on the internet?"

yes, I know," Qin Lin immediately replied. I didn't expect Minister Lu to call me so late at night!

Minister Lu immediately said, "it's obvious that someone is targeting your Linlin hangover grass. Don't rush to make a statement at this time. It will only make things worse. Wait for our official announcement. The news on the internet won't matter.

When Qin Lin hung up the phone, he felt a little emotional and even a little touched.

Come to think of it, Minister Lu called you at night just to tell you about this trivial matter on the internet. It shows how much he cares about you.

Moreover, since Minister Lu had said so, he also said to Deng Guang and Lin Lanzi,"Let's not do anything for now."

Deng Guang and Lin Lanzi were a little confused, but they also heard the words "Minister Lu". As the founding members of Linlin company, they more or less knew something, so they nodded.

Qin Lin didn't do anything, but the public opinion on the internet was getting more and more heated.

Chen Muyang did not return home since the incident at the DD company's headquarters. He was in his office, keeping an eye on the situation on the internet.

The beautiful secretary and the public relations manager also kept him company.

Chen Muyang was very excited when he saw the public opinion online. He had achieved his initial goal, and it had even exceeded his expectations.

This meant that the money had not been spent in vain.

Now, he could only wait until tomorrow, when the public opinion completely erupted, and then he could use public opinion to pressure the officials to ban the Linlin hangover grass.

Public opinion was his usual tactic. Otherwise, their DD company would have been investigated multiple times and be the center of public opinion. They would have been killed by public opinion long ago.

There was a saying that a patient becomes a doctor. After being attacked by public opinion many times, he naturally knew public opinion like the back of his hand.

At this moment, the public relations manager at the side said in surprise, " " chief chen, something's not right. i'm monitoring the popularity of this matter, but from the start, the popularity of this matter on the internet has started to drop. "

The public relations manager was staring at a special software. If there was someone who was good at manipulating public opinion on the internet and making a living on the internet, they would know that it was an software to detect news popularity, similar to websites like mouyin and Weibo.

Chen MUYANG's expression changed when he heard that.

When public opinion was fermenting, how could the popularity drop?

"Let's see what's going on!" Chen MUYANG said hurriedly.

The public relations manager nodded and immediately started working on the computer. However, after a while, the Secretary's face turned even uglier. chief Chen, it seems like mouyin and the other platform officials are controlling it. Many of the videos targeting Linlin's hangover grass have been banned and can't be seen anymore.

"Damn it, what's going on?" Chen MUYANG was a little angry.

Chapter 877 400! Framed! There Will Be Nowhere To Hide

His public opinion wasn't limited to just one platform. It was impossible for several platforms to help Linlin get rid of The Hangover grass, right? Unless there was a force from above pushing it.

If that was the case, it would be terrible. He had wanted to use public opinion to force the higher-ups to ban the Linlin hangover grass, but who knew that the higher-ups would help him first?

As time passed, Chen MUYANG and the public relations manager could only watch helplessly as the popularity of the Linlin hangover grass dropped rapidly. Furthermore, they were completely helpless.

Even the Internet Water Army had retreated. They didn't even want to increase the money and sent out a batch of blocked accounts. They obviously couldn't take it and even felt that something was wrong.

At that moment, the Secretary hurriedly passed the phone to Chen MUYANG and reported, " chief Chen, take a look at this video. The official website has released a video about the Linlin hangover grass.

Chen MUYANG frowned as he took the video and watched it.

This was an announcement from the department in charge of transportation:

"In view of everyone's attention on the Linlin hangover grass and the problems it caused, we conducted a rigorous test on it as quickly as possible and found that it does indeed have the effect of breaking down alcohol."

"After taking The Hangover grass, you can meet the conditions to drive after 30 minutes, Yingying."

Of course, 30 minutes was the official insurance policy. The Linlin hangover grass's effect was much shorter than this.

When he saw the video, Chen Muyang's face was drained of all color. This was the official platform. Even if he was loyal to Hoshino Hoshino, he felt helpless when the official took action in such a way.

The netizens on the internet also saw the video and immediately became lively. After all, there were people who had been caught for drunk driving after eating the Linlin hangover grass without any effect. Now, the officials actually said that eating The Hangover grass for more than 20 minutes could meet the driving conditions.

The following words in the video made everyone understand something.

"In addition, the Linlin hangover grass contains a special component that promotes blood circulation. This component can exist in the human body for a total of 11 hours, and the time difference between individual blood types is less than two minutes!"

so, don't be too lucky. Eat The Hangover grass for 30 minutes before you start driving. Think about it, if you eat The Hangover grass after you're caught driving, the test will know the time, and when that happens, the punishment will be even more severe.

The video was a little long. After all, this was the first time something like The Hangover grass had appeared, so the higher-ups had to be very careful.

The three points were:

1. Eating The Hangover grass can indeed meet the driving conditions, but it will take half an hour!
2. The Linlin hangover grass has a special ingredient. It can exist for 11 hours with a time difference of less than 2 minutes. Therefore, it can be completely measured. No one should take any chances.
3. Those who were hoping for a fluke or still thought of drunk driving despite having the Linlin hangover grass would receive a more severe punishment. The higher-ups might even hold a meeting to discuss the punishment!

This also made everyone think of the driver who was caught by the traffic police. Since the time of eating The Hangover grass could be detected, there was no way the other party could lie about whether he had eaten The Hangover grass or not.

oh no, Zhenzhen. Chen Muyang had a bad feeling when he saw this.

If that was the case, it wasn't a matter of whether the driver could resist, but whether the driver would involve his company. After all, once his lie was exposed, there would be a record of the money he had transferred.

Chapter 878 A Special Secret Recipe! Could It Be That Someone Likes To Eat Dog Food?

Qin Lin naturally saw the sudden official announcement, which made him smile.

With this announcement, it was equivalent to an official platform.

Now, all they had to do was wait for the Traffic Police department in the news to run a blood test on the drunk-driving driver, and the truth would be revealed.

Therefore, there were still benefits to making more contributions. Otherwise, why would the higher-ups help him so quickly this time?

The next day, the Traffic Police Department also issued an announcement:

" this brigade has received the test method and data of linlin hangover grass from the leading department. we have also conducted a blood test on the drunk-driving suspect, li xx, overnight and found that there is no special component of the hangover grass in li xx's blood. we have determined that li xx has never eaten linlin hangover grass before and drunk-driving, and we have found that his account has a large amount of unknown source of funds, youyou. "

As soon as the announcement came out, it quickly became a hot search.

At this moment, everyone knew what was going on. Someone was targeting the Linlin hangover grass. Otherwise, how could they explain the source of the large amount of unknown funds?

Linlin Manor.

When Qin Lin saw the announcement early in the morning, he called Lin Lanzi and Deng Guang over again.

Deng Guang was in a good mood after seeing the announcement. Chairman Qin, it seems like someone paid the driver to cause this trouble and then used the Internet Water Army to create public opinion against the Linlin hangover grass. I just don't know which company did this!

Lin Lanzi said, " previously, I guessed that D was the most likely. But now that I think about it, with public opinion, any company that has a driving service could be the one.

Qin Lin nodded. but we can't just pretend that nothing happened. Since all these companies have the possibility of being hired drivers, we should just kill them all.

we can also find a water Army and say that the drunk-driving incident was created by a company in the driving agency business in order to protect the driving agency business. As for who it is, let the netizens guess!

Qin Lin was actually very good at stirring up public opinion. After all, it wasn't the first time he had done this kind of thing.

He believed that as long as he directed this to the companies that had designated driving services, the people behind the scenes would definitely be in trouble.

But just as he finished speaking, Lin Lanzi suddenly said, Chairman Qin, it seems like we don't need to do anything. There are already people online denouncing these companies that have paid a price.

Qin Lin took out his phone and went online to check the situation. Sure enough, he found that there was a lot of news on companies that had designated driving services and framed Lin Lin for his hangover grass in order to keep their business.

Moreover, the news had also made it to the hot search. Among them, there were many videos that said that D was the biggest suspect.

But the public opinion was too strong.

It was even more popular than the one online that targeted the Linlin Hangover Grass.

This was not right.

Lin Lanzi also noticed the problem after watching some videos. She frowned and said, Chairman Qin, something's not right. There are traces of fake reviewers in many of these videos.

She was now in charge of media management. Although the traces of the internet water army were well hidden in this video, there were traces of the internet water army in the video where the guide suspected that the driving company had spent money on their lovers to frame Linlin's Hangover Grass.

"Boss! Take a look at the official accounts of those wine companies!" Deng Guang suddenly said.

When Qin Lin heard this, he immediately checked the official new media accounts of the wine industries such as Maotai, Fenjiu, and Gumaofeng. He found that these official accounts had all reposted the announcement from the traffic police.

This repost also made the news even more popular.

Moreover, this was also equivalent to expressing some hidden meaning.

Qin Lin laughed.

He also understood.

The stock prices of companies with designated driving services dropped because of the Linlin Hangover Grass, but the stock prices of other companies rose sharply because of the Linlin Hangover Grass. Therefore, those with vested interests certainly didn't mind doing some casual things.

at a certain D company.

Chen Muyang felt helpless as he read the news on the internet.

The public opinion on the internet had been directed to their company. In a short time, their company's stock price had fallen sharply.

However, public opinion had already reached such a level, and they couldn't do anything at all.

He didn't understand why there would be such a crazy thing as The Hangover Grass.

Chen Muyang's phone suddenly rang just as he was thinking about it.

He picked up the call and his expression changed when he heard the words.

There was still a hidden danger in hiring the driver, and someone was already investigating it.

The popularity of the Linlin Hangover Grass had finally dropped. Under the control of a certain voice, a social issue had also attracted a lot of attention, and no one paid attention to D Company.

This social news was about an old man who refused to listen to others' advice and insisted on digging a pipe under the corner of a neighbor's wall to sell for money. Then the wall in front of him collapsed, crushing the old man to death.

This was clearly a matter of self-inflicted and disrespectful behavior.

However, there was a saying that goes, "when society develops, morality falls."

After the old man died, the old man's family actually took the neighbor to court and asked the other party to pay 650,000 Yuan because the other party's wall had smashed the old man to death.

The phrase "the villain speaks first" was played out incisively and incisively.

It was no wonder that this news attracted so much attention, and the comments section was filled with indignation.

"Tell me the truth, does it mean that in the future, people only need to touch the cars that are parked in the parking lot? Because it's your car!"

Chapter 879 A Special Secret Recipe! Does Anyone Like To Eat Dog Food? 2

"He was killed for stealing money from the bank. Will the bank have to pay?"

"It seems that the thief came to my house to steal something and accidentally fell to his death. I have to pay with all my assets!"

"It's really a rising trend of evil."

"....."

Obviously, almost all the netizens had the same attitude towards this matter. No one felt that compensation should be paid. If compensation was needed, similar things would definitely happen in the future.

It was just like the scamming back then.

Unfortunately, the official mediator seemed to be trying to smooth things over. He still expressed that he wanted the neighbor to pay.

The calabash monk?

.....

Time passed.

The weather was also getting hotter.

Beijing.

Lin Daxing got up early in the morning and stretched his back. After washing up, he habitually looked at the air quality detection equipment in the hall.

The values on the air detector were: 85。

In the past, this was definitely a rare good air in the capital.

"I don't need to wear a mask today!" Lin Daxing was obviously in a good mood when he saw the data. He washed up, had breakfast, and went out.

When he reached the street, he saw clusters of beautiful pink-purple purification grass.

It was because the purification grass had been planted in the area where he lived that the air quality in the area was getting better.

Otherwise, the air quality would not have been so good every day.

In the past, the government had spread news every year that they had approved the improvement of the air quality in Beijing. However, the air quality in Beijing had not changed much each year. On the contrary, sometimes there were more and more Hazes.

Now that he had planted the purification grass, the air quality in the area was obviously getting better and better.

Therefore, Linlin's laboratory was the best.

If they had Linlin's laboratory and the purification grass, they wouldn't have to endure the terrible air quality for so many years.

Linlin's laboratory.

Qin Lin and Shen Li appeared in the purification grass plantation in Lin Lin's laboratory.

Although he usually didn't care about the company's Affairs, Linlin's laboratory had previously signed a project to transform the purification grass with Beijing, and now the transformation of Beijing was already in progress.

Moreover, the higher-ups had stepped in to help him with the Linlin hangover grass. He didn't want anything to go wrong with the purification grass 'transformation of the capital, so he had to be concerned.

In the purification grass plantation, the employees were also spraying the purification grass with a special liquid so that the purification grass could not reproduce before it could be sold.

"Chairman Qin, we're currently in the third region of the transformation of Beijing. After this batch of purification grass can be collected, we can transform the fourth region of Beijing," Shen Li said.

Qin Lin learned about the progress of the purification grass in Beijing and left after knowing that everything was going well.

To be honest, the transformation of the purification grass in Beijing was very smooth. No one dared to find trouble with the project or make things difficult for them.

Firstly, this was a project that the higher-ups were concerned about. Secondly, everyone in Beijing wanted this to be carried out as soon as possible. Everyone was supervising.

In this situation, whoever dared to mess with his son would be courting death.

Qin Lin returned to the office in Linlin Manor. As soon as he entered the office, he looked at the game on the screen in his mind. He controlled the game character to start today's daily task.

Unfortunately, his luck was not good today. He did not gain anything from the daily mission. The fish by the river and the sea were all ordinary fish.

A new oak tree did respawn on the goddess mountain, but to him, there were already enough oak barrels in the wine cellar, so it was not of much use.

After completing his daily missions, Qin Lin saw that there was nothing else to do, so he controlled his game character to walk around ore town to see if there were any plot missions that could be triggered.

There was a road where the east side was not bright and the west side was bright. When he controlled his character to enter the mine Town Park, he saw a familiar scene. In front of the park's noticeboard, there was another group of NPCs surrounding it.

He controlled his character to move forward, and these NPCs would start a conversation!

[you're here. The new flying disc competition is about to begin. You were the champion of the previous competition. You have to work hard!]

[I'm looking forward to your dog's performance this year!]

[my dog is very powerful. He will definitely defeat your dog this year!]

This was the beginning of the flying disc competition.

The noticeboard of the game character approaching the park indeed showed the relevant content:

[the flying disc competition is about to begin. If you want to participate, you can sign up at Thomas 'place. The dog owner who wins the flying disc competition will get a mysterious gift!]

Without hesitation, Qin Lin controlled his character to go to Thomas's place.

In the last flying disc competition, after wangcai won the competition, it obtained the dancing skill. As long as the skill had 10 songs and the voice met the requirements, the dog could dance a Magic Dance on time.

Because of this skill, the young paparazzo had more than 20 million fans and was even called 'Liu genghong of dogs'. He was not far from becoming an internet celebrity in the dog world.

Therefore, he was still looking forward to this doggie disc race.

The game character appeared in front of Thomas. He clicked on it, and Thomas's conversation appeared:

[you're here to participate in the dog Disc flying competition again this year. That's great. Hurry up and bring your dog here. However, you need to work hard to be the champion. Don't let other dogs snatch the championship away!]

After Qin Lin clicked on the sign up button, he controlled his game character to go back to the farm. Then, he left the office and headed to Linlin villa.

Chapter 880 A Special Secret Recipe! Don't Tell Me Someone Likes To Eat Dog Food?

As soon as they arrived at the office area, they saw wangcai walking out with snowy.

Snowy had been learning wangcai's steps. Unfortunately, as a Fox, its legs were not as strong as wangcai's. Therefore, it had to run a few steps to catch up with wangcai and then start to learn wangcai's steps again. It was very magical.

These two little fellows were really acting out what it meant to be bad friends. Then, they also saw Qin Lin and grinned at the same time. They ran over to him with joy and circled around him.

"Let's go, I'll take you to the flying disc competition!" Qin Lin smiled and greeted the young paparazzo.

Wang Cai seemed to have understood and immediately followed behind. Xiaoxue also followed behind Wang Cai.

Soon, Qin Lin brought wangcai and snowy back to the manor's office. He locked the door and entered the game with wangcai. Snowy followed him in.

Wang Cai, this dog, obviously remembered this game. Once it entered the game, it started to run like crazy,

This time, snowy couldn't keep up with his speed at all, so it didn't follow. It turned around and ran to Qin Lin, climbing up his thigh and into his arms.

Qin Lin also held it in his arms. It was so furry that it felt nice to touch.

"Squeak!" Snowy also barked at Qin Lin adorably and even stretched her head towards him. Her meaning was obvious.

qin lin smiled and reached out to rub the little fox's head. snowy immediately squinted her eyes in enjoyment.

With a thought, he brought snowy out of the game. Qin Lin looked at the game on the screen in his mind again. At this time, wangcai was running around in the pasture in the cartoon dog form again.

He controlled his game character to go to wangcai's side. After the happy Red Heart appeared on wangcai's head, he took wangcai out of the farm and headed to ore town.

He suddenly envied Wang Cai.

After all, he couldn't leave the farm in this game. He had never seen ore town or what Mount goddesses looked like.

however, the dog could follow the game character out to the farm and stroll around the game in its cartoon dog form. he wondered if the dog had any memories of these things.

Soon, Qin Lin brought wangcai to Thomas's place again. After clicking on the "talk," the game screen changed again. It was the same screen as the previous "puppy flying disc" game.

With the previous record, he was able to control wangcai this time. After a series of competitions, he won the championship very quickly.

When the screen returned to the normal game screen, Thomas once again appeared in front of the game character.

[your dog is really amazing. Congratulations on winning the doggie disc flying competition again. This is your prize. I look forward to your dog's next performance!]

There was an additional gift bag in his game character's backpack. The note on it was 'the first prize gift bag of the flying pug. Open it to receive a mysterious gift.'

Qin Lin opened the gift bag without hesitation.

[congratulations on opening the first prize of the flying disc for dogs. You have received a secret recipe for making dog food!]

" ? ? ? "when qin lin saw this, he suddenly felt that this dog was winning gifts for him every time.

He controlled the game character to bring wangcai back to the farm and entered the game immediately.

"Wuwuwu!"

As soon as he entered, Wang Cai surrounded him and whimpered. Its eyes were full of excitement, as if it was asking if it was very powerful. That look, it still retained the excitement of the competition.

Qin Lin, on the other hand, looked at the secret recipe for dog food.

special dog food recipe: quality 2 "

[this is a special dog food formula. After using it, you can obtain a detailed secret recipe, and the dog food produced will have special effects: Deliciousness +2, taste +2, nutrition +2, doggy likes +2, owner likes +2!]

" ? ? ? ? "Qin Lin felt that something was wrong when he saw the last attribute in the remarks.

Did this mean that there were still people who liked to eat dog food?
