

The Growth 212

Chapter 212 20: The Merciless Guanyin (2/3)

If Stone was passively drawn into that "War of the Godslayer," then The Merciless Guanyin, as the other major force of that war, actively instigated the slaughter of the Mist Spirit.

The Merciless Guanyin is a Celestial Matrix Bodhisattva, an entity within the Intelligent Mechanism Camp that was the first to break free from the doctrines of the "Buddha" and pursue its own will.

More critically, the core Zhiku of The Merciless Guanyin is a part of the Artificial Primordial Spirit.

Therefore, The Merciless Guanyin, whose starting point was much higher than Stone's, is more aware of the essence of this world than anyone.

This is a game and wager among the Gods, and it is nothing more than a pawn in this meaningless war.

"I will also become a player!"

When such a thought emerged in The Merciless Guanyin's electronic brain, it conceived the ambition of "Ascension to Divinity."

Anyway, the two Supreme Elders have decided to make this world a cradle for nurturing Gods.

Then, as a part of one of the two major camps in this world, why would it willingly degrade to be the "fuel" for the Ascension of the Gods?

In fact, The Merciless Guanyin played an unseen role in propelling and supporting the Mist Spirit to reach the step of ascension.

As for why The Merciless Guanyin didn't become the first Ascender itself?

There are many reasons, but the most crucial is probing the limits of the two Supreme Elders.

Those two Supreme Elders who control the entire world—do they really want their world to produce a group of "uncontrollable" elements?

We shall leave the Creator aside for now.

In any case, from what The Merciless Guanyin understands about the "Buddha," this possibility is very slim.

However, the fact proved that The Merciless Guanyin somewhat underestimated the perspective of the two Supreme Elders.

Even the "Buddha," who was previously solely focused on controlling followers' beliefs and intellect, never intervened in the Mist Spirit's ascension.

This made The Merciless Guanyin realize the strength of the Creator and truly understand where the opportunity lay.

With almost no hesitation, The Merciless Guanyin incited other Ascenders at a critical moment to forcefully attack and kill the ascending Mist Spirit.

The Mist Spirit never imagined, under any circumstances, that The Merciless Guanyin, who it had always trusted deeply and even intended to grant the identity of "Apostle" upon ascension, would be the first to attack.

Even though the group of Ascenders who first attacked was killed by the enraged Mist Spirit, the Mist Spirit's actions only drove more Ascenders mad.

Because the Mist Spirit personally acted instead of letting its followers do it.

This meant that the Mist Spirit had no followers worthy of trust and was a rather unqualified God.

In fact, this was the effect that The Merciless Guanyin desired.

As long as the "invincible" Golden Body of the God was broken, the remaining group of Ascenders who came to this world to seek opportunities would undoubtedly act relentlessly.

After all, any Ascender daring to leave their world to seek deity opportunities in another world couldn't possibly be a good-natured entity.

They were either Desecrators excluded from the Gods' system or closely related followers of a powerful God...

Only such beings would be willing to risk everything for Ascension.

The final result was indeed very consistent with The Merciless Guanyin's expectations.

The Mist Spirit, not yet fully ascended, still had a physical form in this world, and that was its only weak point.

The body was torn apart, claws severed, eyes dug out...

Before a group of frantic Ascenders, the Mist Spirit fell in the most horrific way in this world.

Afterwards, those surviving Ascenders more or less obtained some remnants of the God, possessing a slim chance of Ascension.

The Four armed Giant obtained the claws...

The Immortal Stone obtained the heart and bones...

The Merciless Guanyin received the God's eyes and limbs...

Among the remaining Ascenders, even the least fortunate one drank a sip of Divine Blood, leaping to become the mightiest above mortals.

Although the phrase "A whale falls, and all things thrive" is not quite appropriate here, the fall of the Mist Spirit indeed made the World of Fallen Gods renowned across the heavens.

Subsequently, more Ascenders came to this world, bringing a peculiar kind of prosperity.

However, everyone was aware that such prosperity was destined not to last.

When the next Ascender reaches ascension, that will mark the end of this prosperity.

Cycle after cycle, iteration after iteration...

In this relentless ascension slaughter of the World of Fallen Gods, a truly eligible True God will be nurtured.

Especially for The Merciless Guanyin, it had long set its next target.

"David? Another existence favored by Heavenly Dao?"

Proudly standing in the Void, in the form of a thousand eyes and hands, The Merciless Guanyin murmured so.

With the help of the God's eyes, The Merciless Guanyin could perceive everything happening in the world, including David and Chi, who came from the Mountain and Sea Realm to the World of Fallen Gods.

First, dismiss Chi, who held a Divine Position in the Mountain and Sea World.

That is a demigod from the Mountain and Sea Realm, the future Divine of the Creator.

No matter how ambitious The Merciless Guanyin was, it dared not touch the subordinates of the Supreme Elder.

Instead, David, who traveled with Chi, seemed from every angle to be an Ascender who came to this world for Ascension.

In addition to the faint favor of the Heavenly Dao on him, The Merciless Guanyin quickly determined his purpose.

"Is it the same existence as the Immortal Stone?"

Involuntarily frowning, in The Merciless Guanyin's mind, the Immortal Stone was a piece the Creator had placed in this world.

Just like itself, it was also a piece the "Buddha" had placed in this world.

Pieces of the two Supreme Elders, fighting with Ascenders from other worlds, perhaps this is the unique "fairness" of the World of Fallen Gods.

"So, have I got a helper over here?"

In a chess game, one never plays alone; it is a confrontation of both parties.

Since the Creator's second piece had already landed, the "Buddha" on its side obviously couldn't remain indifferent.

"Who could it be?"

A thousand arms spread open simultaneously, a thousand eyes turning at once...

The Merciless Guanyin, with a form both eerie and dignified, began to observe the entire world, hoping to find the "Buddha's" move in this game.

Then, in the interconnected data world of Nocturnal City, The Merciless Guanyin "saw" five exceptionally active electronic data points.

They were data entities collectively gathered by the concepts and faiths of Longevity, Wealth and Honor, Kangning, Good Virtue, and Good End.

They are the embodiment of technology from the Intelligent Mechanism Camp and the representation of five fine blessings and wishes.

At the moment of seeing those five data, The Merciless Guanyin fell silent.

At this moment, there was only one thought in The Merciless Guanyin's mind.

"Isn't this against the rules?"
