

The Growth 246

Chapter 246 6: Multiverse Game Hub (3/3)

"No matter what, the 'Fallen Area' is not a place where you can do whatever you want as you please."

"At least on Earth, I am not at all welcoming you."

After a brief thought, Li Hao lightly tapped the table, then turned to ask Hua She.

"Hua She, have you been playing that 'Multiverse Game Hub' lately?"

The [Multiverse Game Hub] is a transfer-type Secret Realm created by the Donovan God's pantheon, specifically for hosting various authentic or fictitious games.

In Li Hao's understanding, it's like a divine version of STEAM based on [Civilization Game].

Li Hao himself wasn't very interested in those games, but he couldn't stop Hua She from becoming a "gaming-addicted girl" obsessed with them.

Especially when Li Hao isn't using his phone, Hua She is almost constantly playing [Civilization Game].

"Not participating frequently..."

Cautiously glancing at Li Hao, Hua She replied somewhat formally.

Somehow, Li Hao seemed to gradually replace the Winged Serpent God in Hua She's heart.

"I don't intend to hold you accountable..."

"I ask mainly because of those fallen Yawei Gods."

Seeing through Hua She's little mind, Li Hao smiled helplessly.

Perhaps this is the cost of gradually becoming a qualified Creator?

Fortunately, Li Hao didn't deliberately pursue the dignity of the Gods, but continued to communicate with Hua She as usual.

"Since you often play the 'Multiverse Game Hub', are you familiar with Tranyas who hosts this Secret Realm?"

Tranyas, the Supreme God of the Donovan Gods pantheon, is said to be the "God of Contracts, Games, and War."

As one of the few True Gods daringly revealing his title and pantheon in the [Civilization Game], Tranyas is undoubtedly a celebrity in All Heavens and Myriad Realms.

Li Hao sometimes even suspected that the Donovan God's pantheon was created by Celestial Father Hathor?

Otherwise, how would Tranyas have such high permissions and boldness to publicly reveal his title in All Heavens and Myriad Realms.

"Not necessarily familiar!"

"But previously, following your orders, when promoting the 'Ascension to Divinity ceremony' of the Divine Fall Realm, he did offer considerable help."

In this regard, Hua She wasn't hiding anything.

If it weren't for Tranyas's help, the Divine Fall Realm opened by Li Hao and Maitreya could never become the headline of All Heavens and Myriad Realms in so short a time.

"So, Tranyas's news is quite well-informed, isn't it?"

Though in question form, Li Hao said it in a confirming tone.

"Yes, are you planning to obtain more information about the Yawei Gods from him?"

Hua She isn't foolish, realizing Li Hao's intention at once.

Yet looking at Li Hao now, Hua She's heart couldn't help but feel puzzled.

"Great God of Gods, why don't you go find the Faceless?"

"He is reputed to 'know all secrets' and should have more information, right?"

Lightly shaking his head, Li Hao smiled and explained.

"Precisely because he knows too much, I can't go to him."

"Hua She, you are now a God, and should truly think from a God's perspective."

Upon hearing Li Hao, Hua She wanted to refute—having once been a God himself.

But considering Li Hao's increasingly mature style.

Hua She had to admit that Li Hao indeed seemed more like a God.

"Every time I go to the Faceless, it means I am simultaneously exposing my information."

Not caring about Hua She's thoughts, Li Hao continued speaking.

"With more and more information exposed, the Faceless will sooner or later detect my true form..."

"By then, I will become one of those 'secrets' known by the Faceless."

Pausing slightly, Li Hao continued with a different angle.

"Moreover, in genuine information warfare, the key to victory lies in corroborating intelligence from different sources."

"Information gathered from a single source, even if no one deliberately misleads, is incomplete."

A gleam of realization flashed in Hua She's eyes, feeling like he was finally getting wiser.

"Then what about Venerable Maitreya?"

"He should have information about the Yawei God's pantheon too, right?"

Seeing Hua She finally think, Li Hao smiled in satisfaction and replied.

"Yes, Maitreya's side is indeed an effective intelligence network too."

"But unlike the Faceless, my exchanges with the Faceless are purely transactional and rarely involve personal bonds."

"Maitreya is different, asking him for information means owing a favor."

"And mere fallen Yawei God's pantheon is clearly not worth such a favor from Maitreya."

Constantly flickering her tongue, a bewildered Hua She ultimately chose to stop thinking.

From the Winged Serpent God to Li Hao, Hua She rarely faced situations needing thoughtful consideration, and this time was no exception.

"I understand, so should I go ask Tranyas now?"

When Hua She cautiously asked, Li Hao, who had more to say, fell silent.

It seems there's still a long way to go to make Hua She thoroughly enlightened.

"How rare, Lady of Transformation!"

In an unimaginable spiritual data space, a "head" larger than a star suddenly opened its eyes.

Calling them eyes, they were more like some virtually created concept, an ultimate authority capable of seeing all things.

"Same as last time, I need your help with something!"

Soundlessly, a Great Serpent seemingly able to encircle the world appeared out of nowhere.

In the Secret Realm of [Multiverse Game Hub], both the forms of matter and data are false, only will and spirituality form the true essence of everything.

Manifesting such a gigantic form implies the present Great Serpent holds authority almost second to Tranyas.

Realizing this, Tranyas understood that it wasn't the game-enthusiastic "Lady of Transformation" seeking him now, but the "Immortal Snake God" behind Hua She.

"Under the Crown of the Snake God, it's an honor to serve you!"

Paying no attention to Tranyas's politeness, the Great Serpent looming over the universe spoke in a deep, raspy voice.

"I need all intelligence related to the Yawei God's pantheon, in exchange for a new 'Game Secret Realm.'"

"Besides the venue of the 'Game Secret Realm' itself, I will provide supporting NPC roles and game rules."
