

The Growth 249

Chapter 249 9: The Social Security System of the Mountain and Sea Realm (3/3)

At the world's peak, beneath the Immortal Tree.

"Achoo!"

Clearly just a skeleton, yet Gu Sheng suddenly sneezed.

This bizarre scene drew the attention of the napping Hua She beside him.

"You finally figured it out? Got yourself a flesh and blood armor implant?"

Faced with Hua She's question, Gu Sheng calmly turned back and said.

"No, it must be someone talking about me."

This statement rendered Hua She silent and looking at Gu Sheng as if he were a fool.

"You haven't activated the 'Ascension Ladder', where did this sensitivity come from?"

"Are you missing that foolish disciple of yours?"

"I really don't know what you're stubborn about, ignoring several paths to divinity and choosing to ponder blindly instead."

Hearing this, Gu Sheng just shook his head calmly.

"It's precisely because I have many choices that I understand the helplessness of creatures without choices."

"There are too many creatures like Xiaohuo, I could never abandon them."

Hua She rolled her eyes, flicking her tongue as she spoke.

"So you refuse to implant a flesh and blood armor into yourself, and instead devote yourself to studying those implants derived from it?"

Faced with Hua She's skepticism, Gu Sheng merely smiled.

"Implants are not derivatives of flesh and blood armor, they are the future of Mountain and Sea Civilization."

"Flesh and blood armor can only be fully compatible with the skeletal Skeletons, but implants can be adapted to all flesh and blood creatures."

"If the full potential of implants can be developed, perhaps it would be a brand new 'Ascension Ladder'."

The hollow eyes of the skeleton seemed to emit an unprecedented light; Gu Sheng's voice was calm yet resolute.

"If Yao Xin knows you plan to take risks again, I bet she won't let you off so easily this time."

With a helpless sigh, Hua She coiled her snake body slowly, then stared at Gu Sheng with a serious gaze.

"If you don't want her really turning you into a Netherworld Race to stay in the Netherworld, I'd advise caution."

Unaware of the conversation beneath the Immortal Tree.

Under the high-speed movement of the "Underground Transportation Type·White Bone Giant Structure," Tianyou and the Fire Raccoon Rat quickly reached the Central City.

As its name suggests, this was a central city standing in the Central Plains Zone.

This place is just a few dozen kilometers from the legendary "Divine Concealment Land," truly the center of the world.

It is said that when building this city, the Hundred Races of Mountains and Seas even received the recognition and support of the Immortals.

Unfortunately, the "Divine Concealment Land" is a place only accessible to those recognized by the Creator.

So although countless Mountain and Sea People visit this city every year, very few can actually enter the "Divine Concealment Land."

"It's so bustling here!"

Unlike any city seen along the way.

Just looking at the bustling scenes, the Fire Raccoon Rat felt like its eyes couldn't take it all in.

In Central City, the various Mountain and Sea People of different forms and races live harmoniously, presenting a prosperous scene of blooming diversity.

Moreover, those who choose to settle in this city have a far greater acceptance of technological products and advanced trends than in other cities.

Throughout the journey, the Fire Raccoon Rat saw gorgeously dressed Merfolk, gracefully alluring Nine-tailed Foxes, and even Hu Jiaos with gauntlets and armor.

When the Fire Raccoon Rat looked up at the sky, it even saw a MinAseerpentg She with mechanically modified wings.

Indeed, even in the current Mountain and Sea Realm, there are individuals using Burrowing Insect Civilization techniques to modify themselves?

The Fire Raccoon Rat couldn't tell if that MinAseerpentg She had injured wings or had simply given its wings a "makeover"...

In any case, when the gigantic MinAseerpentg She swept across the sky, the enormous shadow gave the Fire Raccoon Rat an almost terrifying sense of oppression.

The Fire Raccoon Rat had no doubt that that MinAseerpentg She was stronger than any Epic Creatures ruling a region.

"No need to be afraid, that's a Central City guard."

Clearly seeing the Fire Raccoon Rat's fear, Tianyou turned to comfort softly.

"They are responsible for maintaining the security of Central City. In case of danger, just shout loudly and they can hear you."

Tianyou didn't mention that these guards also bear the responsibility of defending the Mountain and Sea Realm.

Should anything happen in the Brilliant Realm, they would be the first to respond.

Of course, that's just a theoretical scenario; in reality, no one thinks the Brilliant Realm needs their assistance.

"I see!"

With the fear in its heart gradually quelled, when the Fire Raccoon Rat looked up at the sky again, its eyes were filled with admiration.

That was not only admiration for power but also for the profession of being a guard.

The weak Fire Raccoon Rat craved strength and even more so the feeling of being able to protect others.

"We're here, this is your destination!"

Stopping abruptly in front of a building full of a sense of technology, Tianyou woke the Fire Raccoon Rat from its dreams.

Although the overall structural framework of this building adopted the Skeletons' unique white bone structure, in terms of design and style, it obviously borrowed more from the Burrowing Insect Civilization's aesthetics.

"Heterogeneous Transplantation and Body Health Center?"

Dazed, staring at the words neatly arranged on the front of the building, the Fire Raccoon Rat didn't react for a moment.

Fortunately, Tianyou was already accustomed to the first reactions of foreigners upon seeing this building, so did not show much emotion.

"This is the institute specifically for implant transplants."

"You just need to go in and tell the reception that you're a 'native individual' just down from the mountains wanting to transplant a matching prosthetic eye, and they'll contact specific personnel for your registration."

Not worried at all that the Fire Raccoon Rat would fail to understand, Tianyou had roughly gauged the other's intelligence level during their brief interaction.

Besides being a bit smaller and more prone to fantasies, this Fire Raccoon Rat's intelligence was among the top tier in the Mountain and Sea People.

"However, I must make it clear that although A Su has prepared a fund specifically for 'native individuals' to help you adapt to current life, the cost of 'heterogeneous transplantation surgery' is quite high, and not within this fund's coverage."

"If you wish to select more advanced implants..."

"I personally suggest working in Central City for a while to accumulate enough savings before undergoing this surgery."
