

The Growth 305

Chapter 305 - 20: Ring of Reincarnation (2/3)

"What's happening over there?"

The fierce battle between the Super Mimetic Entity and the Dragon Form naturally caught the attention of Wu Kui on the other side of the world.

"Is that the body the Godslayer values so much!?"

After a brief hesitation, Wu Kui immediately thought of this possibility.

If the two sides fighting are indeed the bodies valued by the Godslayer, it would explain the battle ripples capable of affecting the entire world.

After all, only such powerful beings, almost as strong as the Gods, would possibly qualify to carry the will of the Godslayer!

Swoosh!

Almost without a moment's hesitation, Wu Kui swiftly spread his mechanized wings and flew toward the Deep Sea.

His speed was so fast that it left a striking "lightning bolt" in the sky.

In fact, Wu Kui wasn't the first Ascender to realize this.

The other Ascenders who came to this world seeking opportunities also rushed toward the battlefield, hoping to grab a share in time.

Thus, the sky was filled with "meteors," which were traces left by the Ascenders.

Among them, there were quite a few Ascenders faster than Wu Kui.

However, sometimes being fast does not mean getting the advantage first.

Especially during the fiercest and most stalemate moments of the battle between the Super Mimetic Entity and the Dragon Form, those Ascenders who arrived first became the first casualties in the battle.

Despite being all below the Gods in terms of life ranking, at the Ascender Level, in terms of actual combat power, both the Super Mimetic Entity and the Dragon Form had reached the limit that an Ascender Level could achieve.

Any of them, when thrown onto the battlefield where Gods descended, was the strongest Demigod capable of Godslaying.

Thus, when those Ascenders wanting to seize opportunities arrived at the battlefield, they were shocked to find that they couldn't even defeat the derivative forms of these two strongest Demigods.

Moreover, both the Super Mimetic Entity and the Dragon Form had the ability to assimilate other life forms and enhance their own powers.

In their eyes, the Ascenders who reached the battlefield first were a banquet, a perfect tonic to defeat the opponent.

The Dragon Form was slightly more reserved, as it was dominated by Ashoron's will.

It wasn't too blatant when devouring and assimilating those Ascenders.

But the Super Mimetic Entity was different; it didn't care about the identities and origins of those Ascenders and decisively ordered its derivatives to massacre them.

Because of this, the power of the Super Mimetic Entity increased once again.

In contrast, the Dragon Form, infiltrated and assimilated by the Super Mimetic Entity for too long, began exhibiting signs of petrification once more.

When Wu Kui arrived at the battlefield, it was already tilting in favor of the Super Mimetic Entity.

Without a moment of hesitation or doubt, Wu Kui chose to quickly join the battlefield and firmly took the side of the Dragon Form.

It wasn't because Wu Kui feared the Super Mimetic Entity and wanted to maintain balance in the battle for personal gain.

What truly compelled Wu Kui to help the Dragon Form was the familiar power surrounding it.

It was the Heaven and Earth Ghosts and Gods activated by the Exorcism and Spirit-Controlling Techniques, the entities materialized by all elven spirits...

Since this power appeared on the Dragon Form, it proved it had a connection with the Mountain and Sea Realm.

Even though the exact relationship between the two was still unclear.

Wu Kui didn't care about that; he only knew this was the best chance to attract the Creator's attention.

As a twisted fanatic, Wu Kui would never miss any opportunity to capture the Creator's attention.

Boom! Boom! Boom!

The claw cabins at the front ends of his arms suddenly opened, launching countless biological missiles rapidly at the Super Mimetic Entity.

Under Wu Kui's comprehensive firepower, the difference in size between the two sides no longer mattered.

Taking this opportunity, the Dragon Form launched a desperate counterattack, using its massive body to tightly entangle the Super Mimetic Entity, giving it no chance to struggle.

"Roar!"

In this scenario, the Super Mimetic Entity had no choice but to divide its body into countless tiny entities, hoping to escape the Dragon Form's entangle and Wu Kui's firepower coverage.

Admittedly, this maneuver of the Super Mimetic Entity indeed achieved some effect.

Even the Dragon Form looked a bit bewildered facing these microscopic individuals.

However, this tactic of the Super Mimetic Entity only made the inexperienced Dragon Form confused but couldn't escape Wu Kui's eyes.

Swish!

In an instant, his form changed dramatically, his soul split into numerous parts.

When the crowd reacted, Wu Kui had already transformed into a colossal entity made entirely of shadows.

This huge shadow was also composed of countless small shadows and showed incredible suppression and dominance over the micro-level entities of the Super Mimetic Entity.

Realizing the unfavorable situation, the Super Mimetic Entity wanted to return to its original form, only to see a ring emanating infinite light within that shadow.

It was a sub-ring of the Epic Divine Artifact Ring of Domination - the Ring of Reincarnation.

The Ring of Reincarnation possessed an astonishing dominance over all beings below the Gods, and even a powerful Demigod like the Super Mimetic Entity was no exception.

Fizz... Fizz...

Almost without offering any effective resistance, the Super Mimetic Entity was deprived of its physical form and suppressed its soul by the Ring of Reincarnation.

Especially when the Ring of Reincarnation slowly rotated, Wu Kui, as its possessor, could distinctly feel a qualitative transformation in his own body and soul.

First and foremost, Wu Kui's soul became increasingly akin to the form of the Super Mimetic Entity.

This not only granted him the characteristics of the Super Mimetic Entity but also bestowed the ability to seamlessly take over its physical form.

Soon after, the body of Super Mimetic Entity reassembled and ultimately turned into Wu Kui in "Mechanical Demon Dragon" form.

—Ring of Reincarnation · Myriad Transformations!

This was the ultimate power of the Ring of Reincarnation.

As long as the essence of the enemy's life hadn't reached the level of the Gods, it could let the possessor completely control the opponent's body and soul.

[Just like that... is it over?]

Upon successfully transforming into the Super Mimetic Entity, Wu Kui froze for quite some time before realizing.

The "soul battle" he anticipated never occurred, and the will of the Godslayer never descended upon the Super Mimetic Entity.

This certainly dashed Wu Kui's original plan to directly become the Godslayer, yet he couldn't help but breathe a sigh of relief.

Whether it was regret or relief, only one thought lingered in Wu Kui's mind.

[Where did the Godslayer's will go?]
