

The Growth 34

Chapter 34 - 11: Divine Abomination

"Mm, I understand."

Faced with the warning of the Faceless One, Li Hao expressed his understanding.

For the real Gods, things like Divine Format, Divine Position, Divinity, Divine Power are not as simple as described in novels.

It seems that as long as one is a person, they can become a new God through these things.

In some novel games, Divine Format and Divine Position might even be standard features for becoming a god.

However, in the real world, these things are equivalent to the Gods themselves, and are the foundation of their existence.

Forcibly separating these elements from Gods is no less than extracting organs from a human.

Unless a massive Divine War occurs, or you've killed a God...

Otherwise, ordinary Gods would never trade their Divine Format, Divine Position, or Divinity.

Divine Power is somewhat more widespread, but also considerably less valuable.

After all, "God's Power" is a consumable item, once used it's gone, most of the time it's the Apostle and mortals who seek it.

"Since..."

Just as Li Hao was about to continue speaking, a loud noise suddenly came from the sky.

Boom boom boom!

As if a thunder struck on a clear day, as if the dome was torn apart...

Only a single gigantic eye, almost covering the entire sky, suddenly opened, gazing coldly down at the earth, mixed with hatred.

.....

"Uh, what's going on?"

Standing from Li Hao's perspective, he only felt his phone suddenly vibrate.

The next moment, a gigantic eye covered the entire phone screen, making it impossible for him to see Hua She and the Faceless One anymore.

"It's the Divine Abomination!"

Also seeing the sudden change on the phone screen, Hua She opened her mouth wide in amazement.

"Divine Abomination?"

Looking at the Hua She standing upright at his fingertips, Li Hao seemed even more surprised.

"You recognize this thing?"

Nodding affirmatively, Hua She spoke in a low tone, unsure if it was fear or helplessness.

"Maybe not all Gods recognize the Divine Abomination..."

"But any god who has experienced the 'World Destruction Crisis' won't forget this horrific thing."

Divine Abomination is a monster that only appears when the world is annihilated.

They might be fallen Gods, constructs of civilization, or the utter despair and resistance of the World Will...

Divine Abominations are often born with overwhelming hatred; their existence itself is for destruction and revenge.

But in most cases, the targets of Divine Abomination's revenge are usually the Gods who destroyed the world, hence they are called "Divine Abomination."

"Gods" and "world destruction", these sound like two completely unrelated terms.

But factually, naturally perished worlds cannot nurture Divine Abominations.

And those non-naturally perished worlds mostly are on the brink of destruction due to the interventions of the Gods — only Gods could lead a world to non-natural destruction.

Therefore, these monsters born from the sins created by the Gods naturally become Divine Abominations.

.....

"What's happening?"

Hua She raised her head, looking at the gigantic, ominous eye in the sky, showing a somewhat shocked expression.

"Why did the Divine Abomination appear here?"

Before the Faceless One beside her could reply, the gigantic, ominous eye had already started to attack.

Boom boom...

Like celestial fire descending from the heavens, or as if stars fell to the earth...

Huge "fireballs" rained down from the sky, momentarily making the dazzling and stars-filled world even brighter.

The flames shot up to the sky, and mountains shook with ground tremors.

In this apocalyptic scenario of calamity.

Hua She and the Faceless One had no choice but to fly up into the air to avoid being engulfed by the Fire of Calamity.

Their eyes saw fierce flames accompanied by terrifying earthquakes sweeping in all directions.

The cracked earth was visible everywhere, the scorching heat ravaging everything in sight.

Just as Li Hao thought that this disastrous scene was the limit.

Those "fireballs" from the heavens suddenly split open, shattered and scattered into every corner of the world.

Upon closer inspection, what kind of fireball is that?

Those are clearly massive bone graves built from countless skeletons!

As they fell from high altitude, the friction produced turned these bone graves covered in flames, appearing as the "fireball" Li Hao saw.

And when they hit the ground, the scattering flames and broken bones naturally restored them to their original form.

They were strange, completely formed of bones beings.

They lack consciousness, wisdom, even instinct, driven purely by hatred.

They attempt to destroy everything they see.

Be it life or matter...

The hate within these skeleton beings made them a terror more dreadful than any Celestial Calamity.

"The forsaken ones of God — Skeletons!"

Gazing at those skeleton beings eager to destroy everything even at their own demise, the Faceless One softly called out their name.

For some reason, Li Hao seemed to hear a faint sadness in the Faceless One's voice.

"I apologize, under the Crown of the Snake God."

"Due to some errors by the battle members, your interest was disturbed."

"But rest assured, these 'puppets' abandoned by the Gods will not greatly impact us."

Almost as if to prove the Faceless One's words, the gigantic eye in the sky shuddered fiercely.

Boom!

In an instant, blood surged forth like rivers from the corner of the eye, falling to form a blood-colored lake on the ground.

One drop, two drops, three drops...

As more and more blood dripped from the sky, the giant eye finally showed a trace of pain.

Unfortunately, this pain not only failed to frighten the giant eye, it further intensified the hatred within it.

Influenced by it, those skeletal beings below grew more frenzied.

They entwined, climbed atop one another, intertwining, using the natural tacit understanding among them to form larger super entities.

Among them, there was a nameless monster with bone wings rising into the sky, charging at the floating "Hua She" and Faceless One.

The hatred carved deep in their souls made them possess an aura more terrifying than their appearance.