

The Growth 376

Chapter 376 - 22: The Ninth Ghost Dragon

The obsessions from the generations of Canglong are conflicted and sharp.

They seem to want to break free from the shackles of the Ghost Dragon, incarnating as Evil Ghosts that seek revenge on all living beings.

[Is this what you have been bearing all along?]

A feeling of compassion arises inexplicably.

Geng Chen finally understands outside of the world, why the Ghost Dragon is so obsessed with seeking death.

Apart from wanting to break free from the ideological shackles imprinted by the obsessions of generations of Canglong.

The different ideas and thoughts from the generations of individuals also continuously produce fierce conflicts in the heart of the Ghost Dragon.

The fact that it hasn't become a mentally disordered psychopath or split into numerous personalities is already a proof of the determination of the current Ghost Dragon.

As this inherited memory passes further down, the Ghost Dragons born later will only become more schizophrenic.

Until the last moment, when no newly born Ghost Dragon can suppress the obsessions of the generations of Canglong, a Demon Dragon, born to transcend reincarnation and achieve immortality by destroying the entire world, will emerge.

[Kill me! Let me be free!]

Obviously feeling Geng Chen's gaze, the Ghost Dragon's deepest thoughts convey to it without reservation.

This time, Geng Chen does not mock as he did before, but solemnly nods his head.

In the next second, Geng Chen extends his claw from a higher-dimensional perspective towards the central core of the Ghost Dragon's massive body—the Dragon Pearl.

Snap!

In an instant, the Ghost Dragon in the Mountain and Sea Realm suddenly freezes.

Then, under the gaze of the spectators, its body suddenly splits into seven grotesque Ghost Dragons shooting into the sky.

They were all once Ghost Dragons, inheriting the memories and legacy of generations of Canglong.

However, unlike the legacy of Canglong.

These Ghost Dragons leave behind not only memories and obsessions but also their souls.

Each Ghost Dragon must inherit the soul of the previous generation to qualify as the new generation of Ghost Dragon.

And this is the fundamental reason why today's Ghost Dragon says that Ghost Dragons cannot be considered a species.

"Yes! That's it!"

In the center of the seven grotesque Ghost Dragons, the Ghost Dragon returns to normal size and smiles relievedly.

Faced with the attack from a higher-dimensional perspective from Geng Chen, the Ghost Dragon deliberately did not resist, aiming to liberate its soul from the legacy of the Ghost Dragon.

"I can finally go to reincarnation!"

With one last longing glance at the world, the shadow of the Ghost Dragon disappears in the Mountain and Sea Realm.

"That damned guy! Why did he run away so fast?"

Returning the perspective to the level of the Mountain and Sea Realm, Geng Chen curses under his breath, caught off guard.

Even though he knew the Ghost Dragon was using his hand to commit suicide, Geng Chen never expected the other party to be so decisive, so swift.

He merely made an exploratory move from a high-dimensional perspective for the first time.

The Ghost Dragon, without hesitation, exposed the position of its soul.

Then, after shedding the obsessions that had bound it for thousands of years, it immediately chose to reincarnate.

"You've just passed this huge trouble onto me?"

Looking down at the Dragon Pearl in his hand, Geng Chen's emotions can't simply be described as speechless anymore.

This Dragon Pearl is undoubtedly the core of the Nether Spring, the center of the entire Ghost Dragon heritage.

Beneath its semi-transparent exterior lies the life essence and power source of generations of Canglong.

It's no exaggeration to say that any Canglong obtaining this Dragon Pearl could leap to become the strongest Demigod below a True God.

And for someone like the Ghost Dragon, Geng Chen, who has reached the extreme of [Ascension Ladder].

Upon obtaining this Dragon Pearl, just a single opportunity could allow him to rise to the Divine Throne and become a True God.

"Seems like I'll have to go all out!"

Without any hesitation, Geng Chen directly swallows the Dragon Pearl, then without hesitation, charges towards the seven grotesque Ghost Dragons in the sky.

Only by devouring these seven grotesque Ghost Dragons, obtaining all their legacies and power, does Geng Chen qualify to become the true ninth Ghost Dragon.

"Roar!"

Accompanied by a sonorous dragon roar, the eight Ghost Dragons begin to tangle in mid-air.

As the battle is about to escalate further, the reinforcements from the Mountain and Sea Civilization finally arrive.

Bang!

With a thunderous boom, Kuilong, riding electric light, makes his debut.

He sheds the image of a bull-headed creature and transforms into a single-footed Divine Ox riding thunder, appearing on the horizon.

Due to his enormous size, even though nearly half of his body is submerged in the sea, he still reaches heights capable of touching the sky.

"Geng Chen! Focus on dealing with one Ghost Dragon! Leave the rest to us!"

Only hearing Kuilong's loud roar, he manipulates the dark clouds in the sky to drop a massive electric light network, isolating the encirclement of the other six Ghost Dragons.

Under the divine might of thunder, even the Ghost Dragons deprived of all reason can't help but tremble and feel fear.

"Indeed! You now do what you should be doing!"

Following Kuilong appears Dragon-headed Bird-bodied God·Fu Xiang.

Although he does not have the power to wield thunder like Kuilong, as the incarnation of a True God's descent, he possesses the ability to influence fortune and disaster.

As it's said, when the time comes, heaven and earth help; when luck departs, heroes are not free.

Fu Xiang is the embodiment of such "timing," offering Geng Chen assistance even greater than Kuilong.

The most apparent point is that when Geng Chen wants to enter that higher-dimensional perspective again.

He finds that the world seems to relax restrictions on him, allowing him to enter the higher-dimensional perspective at will.

Not only have the conditions for entering the higher-dimensional perspective been relaxed, but the time Geng Chen can maintain this state has also become longer.

The previous situation of falling in dimension after one move no longer appears for him.

Under such circumstances, how could a mere grotesque Ghost Dragon be a match for Geng Chen?

Moreover, it's not only Kuilong and Fu Xiang who urgently came to the battlefield.

Shortly after Kuilong and Fu Xiang entered, numerous Demigods also rushed to the battlefield, participating in the siege of the grotesque Ghost Dragons.

"..."

By the time Geng Chen comes back to his senses, the seven grotesque Ghost Dragons are already surrounded by a group of Demigods.

Among them, Kuilong's achievements are the most impressive.

Geng Chen, using his high-dimensional perspective, manages to subdue one Ghost Dragon.

Kuilong, with his control over the Power of Thunder, has captured three grotesque Ghost Dragons alive.

As for the remaining three Ghost Dragons?

They are restrained by a group of Demigods led by Fu Xiang.

However, looking at those seven immortal grotesque Ghost Dragons, everyone, including Geng Chen, cannot help but fall silent.

—Next, how should these unkillable freaks be dealt with?
