

The Growth 473

Chapter 473 - 21: Adam Rampages

Under the protection of the Golden Magic Ring and the support of the primordial sun.

Eve easily stepped into this Land of Chaos that even the Mithra Gods could not enter.

Her ease surpassed even that of the Supreme Death God and the Goddess of Harvest.

It was only when Eve came to the side of the Supreme Death God and the Goddess of Harvest that these two Gods finally understood her ability.

Unlike the two Gods, Eve did not forcibly carve out an order in the Land of Chaos using a Divine Artifact and Divine Power.

From beginning to end, she didn't change the essence of this chaotic force but naturally transformed herself into a state between order and chaos.

This requires insight into the nature of chaos and a subtle control over one's own abilities.

In other words, although Eve is not as strong in Divine Power as the Supreme Death God and the Goddess of Harvest, her mastery of Power has already surpassed that of the general Main God.

"It seems we understand far too little about our own world..."

"If you hadn't appeared personally, we might never have known that such a dangerous figure like you was hidden in this world."

Without showing much hostility, the Goddess of Harvest merely slightly raised her eyebrows.

As for the non-verbal Supreme Death God, he did not speak at all and instead looked at Eve with a scrutinizing gaze.

"Adam protected me too well."

With a mournful smile, Eve's words came from the heart.

"He always thought I was still that girl who needed protection, so he never let me face danger alone."

"Even this time challenging Enoch, he didn't want me to live that wandering life anymore."

After a slight pause in her tone, Eve continued.

"But he never thought that as long as I could be with him, I would be happy doing anything."

Glancing over the Supreme Death God and the Goddess of Harvest, Eve looked at Adam, who was barely reunited but still covered in scars, and smiled happily.

"It was you who protected me all along, now it's my turn to save you."

Before her words could fade, the Golden Magic Ring in Eve's hand suddenly vanished, and her figure directly walked towards Adam.

"You..."

With pupils suddenly constricting, the Supreme Death God looked at Eve in shock.

Because without the protection of the Golden Magic Ring, Eve was destined not to survive in this Land of Chaos.

"She's already prepared to sacrifice."

"Or rather, she stepped out just for the sake of sacrifice..."

Shaking her head to stop the Supreme Death God who wanted to act, the Goddess of Harvest had already seen Eve's resolve.

"Adam, I'm here!"

Under the erosion of the Land of Chaos, Eve's body dissipated at a speed visible to the naked eye.

However, Eve seemed oblivious to the physical pain, slowly, step by step, reaching Adam.

"I'm sorry I didn't listen to you this time."

"But it's also the only time I don't plan to obey you."

Reaching out to caress Adam's face, all the superfluous expressions on Eve's face faded away, leaving behind infinite tenderness.

Murmured whispers, deep affections...

The Supreme Death God and the Goddess of Harvest couldn't hear what Eve was saying, but they could see the changes happening to Eve's body.

Skin, flesh, until the bones...

Under the erosion of the Land of Chaos, Eve quickly turned into a pallid skeleton.

Then, this skeleton underwent a change, transforming from a human-shaped skeleton to an incomplete rib.

When that rib, under the guidance of its own will, fused into Adam's body.

Adam's originally dim pupils suddenly brightened.

His many wounds rapidly healed and recovered.

At this moment, Adam was the most complete Adam, the original Eldest Son of the Holy Spirit.

Whoosh!

The wings behind gently flapped, and a gigantic Cross emerged out of thin air.

The resurrected Adam appeared bewildered, wide-eyed in shock, as if he hadn't realized what had occurred.

Only when Adam saw the Supreme Death God and the Goddess of Harvest not far away, did his face change from confusion to clarity.

"I..."

Instinctively, he touched his chest.

Adam first froze, then looked down in disbelief.

The Holy Spirit had once created Eve using Adam's rib; since then, Adam's rib had always been missing.

But now, Adam could actually feel his rib again.

"Eve!!!"

Adam was never a fool, so he immediately realized what had transpired.

The mixture of sadness and anger was uncontainable, making Adam's expression look ferocious.

Even during the previous battle with Enoch, Adam's face had never been so grim and terrifying.

Whirl... whirl... whirl...

Visible whirlpools of time and space appeared around Adam.

Overwhelmed by rage and sorrow, Adam looked up at the sky, and the holy light transformed into a blazing white flame radiating outward.

This Power was so violent, so savage.

Even the Land of Chaos could not withstand this Power, beginning to collapse inward and disintegrate.

The Supreme Death God and the Goddess of Harvest immediately reacted, retreating toward the outskirts of the Land of Chaos.

The Mithra Gods, who had long taken notice of what was happening inside, cooperated to attempt to confine this Power within the Land of Chaos.

Unfortunately, Adam in a rampage clearly possessed Power beyond imagination.

Rumble... Rumble... Rumble...

Accompanied by an explosion that could be felt across the entire Mithra World, Adam charged out of the Land of Chaos.

In the next instant, Adam's body rapidly expanded, becoming gigantic.

"Enoch!!!"

Storming skyward like a God of Giants, Adam in this state wielded terrifying Power far beyond before.

His wings spread to block out the sky, and the Cross behind him thrust into the clouds...

More astonishingly, as Adam forcibly tore through time and space, it seemed the entire world could no longer bear his Power.

"I want you dead!!!"

Feeling the positions of the Lance of Longinus and Cassius' Spear.

With eyes burning red, Adam plunged into the Chaos outside the world, leaving those in Mithra World in unspeakable shock and fear.

Especially the Mithra Gods began to doubt their existence.

That raging, world-destroying God of Giants, was he truly the gentlemanly "Saint Mithra" from Legend?

And moreover, having his Divine Power seized by Enoch, why was he even more powerful after resurrection?

This completely illogical phenomenon, how did it happen?
