

The Growth 508

Chapter 508 6: End of Dharma World

"Is this the 'Celestial Human Realm'?"

Gradually landing on a mountain peak inverted into the earth.

Li Hao glanced around, unable to conceal the curiosity on his face.

Even Chi Qiu and Celestial Decree from the Mountain and Sea Realm could discern that a catastrophic battle had once occurred here, so Li Hao, who had arrived in person, certainly could not fail to see what had transpired.

"This sense of contrast... is far stronger than I imagined."

Sweeping his gaze over the fragmented continent, Li Hao noticed the drifting islands at the edges.

From Li Hao's perspective, he could clearly see that these islands were indeed being moved by certain creatures.

They were enormous Giant Turtles, whose shells formed part of the islands, and they themselves were a small ecosystem.

Apart from that, the floating Immortal Mountains in the sky were the same.

However, bearing these Immortal Mountains were not physical creatures, but beings akin to Elemental Lifeforms.

Naturally, according to this world's tradition, these Elemental Lifeforms should be called — Immortal Spirits.

They are the physical embodiment of Dragon Veins or Heaven and Earth Primordial Qi and are Elves that naturally grasp the "power of Tao."

Unfortunately, these originally free Immortal Spirits are trapped and enslaved by the Celestial Beings' arrays, becoming servants forced to move the Immortal Mountains continuously like the Giant Turtles.

"Great God of Gods, you shouldn't have descended upon this world yourself!"

Without a sound or trace, Hua She appeared by Li Hao's side, encircling him protectively.

Different from the small snake form in the [Fallen Area].

Now Hua She was in her true Winged Serpent God form, exuding a sense of divine majesty with every move.

Especially when her wings unfolded behind her.

Mortal beings dare not even gaze upon her existence, let alone the figure of Li Hao she guarded.

At this moment, no one could see Hua She's exact appearance; they could only see the radiant golden light like the sun.

Only a True God could barely discern through that dazzling golden light the Winged Serpent God who should not appear in the mortal world.

As for Li Hao, protected by the Winged Serpent God?

No matter how hard they tried, they could only see a blurry silhouette.

"You're just making too much fuss..."

Paying no heed to Hua She's complaints, Li Hao simply chuckled.

"Staying in the 'Fallen Area' can be quite boring."

"Besides, the one coming to the 'Ascension Area' this time is merely one of my incarnations, sort of paving the way for my future ascension!"

Li Hao was speaking the truth; his physical body was still on Earth.

What appeared in the Celestial Human Realm was just a human incarnation Li Hao had recently created.

Using the ability of [Hunting Fish] to traverse the Dimensional Gap.

Li Hao easily ascended dimensions with his human incarnation and reached the Celestial Human Realm.

The entire process was much easier than Li Hao imagined, even giving him the feeling that ascending dimensions was not a difficult task.

Fortunately, Li Hao hadn't let this feeling cloud his judgment.

Because even in the [Ascension Area], it would be extremely difficult for an ordinary being to ascend dimensions.

Not to mention the difficulty for an ordinary human from Earth to ascend to the [Ascension Area] in the lawless [Fallen Area].

Across All Heavens and Myriad Realms, probably only a mysterious creature like Li Hao could accomplish such a feat with ease.

As Li Hao said, his attempt this time was actually paving the way for the future.

Not to mention leaving the Earth, escaping the [Fallen Area] forever.

At the very least, mastering the ability to ascend and descend dimensions like [Hunting Fish] is necessary.

"Sometimes you are too impulsive..."

A bit helplessly retorted, Hua She finally had time to observe this unfamiliar world.

Immediately, Hua She's eyes widened in astonishment as she had initially intended to say something but suddenly became speechless.

"Seems you've noticed too."

Smiling with raised eyebrows, Li Hao continued speaking.

"It's truly incredible that this world can persist until now."

Upon hearing this, Hua She instantly regained her composure and asked Li Hao in a low voice with confusion.

"What's going on?"

"Why can't I sense the sun in this world?"

Hua She is a deity who governs the sun; even in unfamiliar worlds, she can harness the solar power.

However, just moments ago, Hua She was startled to find she couldn't sense the sun's power here, as if still in the [Fallen Area].

The problem is that Hua She is clearly manifesting as the Sun God now, and not in the small snake form of the [Fallen Area].

"It's quite normal that you can't sense the sun in this world."

Looking up at the sky, Li Hao watched the sun still hanging high in the sky, his lips curving into a tantalizing smile.

"Because the 'Primordial Power' of this world has been completely plundered."

"Sun, earth, stars, ocean..."

"Aside from the dimensions that maintain the world's normal existence, all dimensions capable of nurturing 'Primordial Power' have vanished."

His tone paused slightly, and Li Hao suddenly spoke again to correct.

"No, more precisely, it's incredible this world continues to exist."

"Because it's a world that's entered the 'End of the Dharma'..."

"An era where all 'Extraordinary Power' is gradually stripped away..."

Instantly grasping the meaning in Li Hao's words, Hua She's expression turned even more surprised.

"How is this possible?"

"Dimensions are the foundation of the world. When a world's dimensions diminish to just matter, it will completely descend into the 'Fallen Area'."

It's a known fact, and also Hua She's most puzzling point.

Despite not sensing the solar power here, Hua She was certain this world hadn't descended into the [Fallen Area].

"Normally, as the dimensions forming a world gradually disappear, the world itself does indeed inch towards the 'Fallen Area'."

"But this world is somewhat different."

"Although its 'Primordial Power' has indeed been entirely plundered..."

"Those plunderers accidentally left behind just a sliver of dimension capable of sustaining the world's existence."

"Because of this, this world can still remain in the 'Ascension Area', even continue to birth new life..."

"Apart from that, it doesn't differ much from the lawless 'Fallen Area'."

At this point in the conversation, Li Hao didn't hide his admiration for the Celestial Beings at all.

"This is a man-made 'Fallen Area'..."

"A terminal world that's entered the end of the Dharma era..."
