

The Growth 571

Chapter 571 41: Battlefield of the Myriad Realms

"If not seen with my own eyes, it's really hard to imagine that the world, broken as it is, can still continue to exist."

Through the transit between the Brilliant Realm and Marz World, Chi Qiu observed the true face of the Celestial Human Realm for the first time and commented with such emotion.

The tentacles on his jaw danced continuously, and his whole body's muscles turned into organic armor...

Just looking at Chi Qiu now, he's frankly more monstrous than those creatures emerging from the space-time rift.

Following closely behind, though Celestial Decree was slightly stronger, his silvery-white metallic bio-armor was not much stronger than the monstrous Chi Qiu.

The most critical thing is, as soon as these two arrived at the Celestial Human Realm, their commenting made Yan Xi, who is responsible for receiving them, annoyed.

Among the Mountain and Sea People Yan Xi has received, these two individuals were definitely the most peculiar of the peculiar.

"Are you two from the Combat Sequence? Or the Support Sequence?"

Suppressing the helplessness in his heart, Yan Xi walked slowly to Chi Qiu and Celestial Decree and asked.

As the Celestial Human Realm was on the brink of collapse, the Golden Crow Sect of Nine Peaks Mountain finally stepped into the spotlight and announced the transaction between Haoguang and the Mountain and Sea Civilization.

Despite being extremely uneasy inwardly, the mortals and cultivators of the Celestial Human Realm tacitly accepted the appearance of the Mountain and Sea People in the face of the various monsters and invaders emerging from the space-time rift from time to time.

Among them, the forces of the Taiping Taoist Soldiers and the Pingchuan Overlord were the most proactive, almost immediately responding to the Golden Crow Sect's call.

Up to now, the Celestial Human Realm has received nearly a hundred batches of rescue forces from the Mountain and Sea Civilization.

Unlike the first few batches of combat personnel, the subsequent Mountain and Sea People arriving in the Celestial Human Realm were more of technical personnel.

Agricultural and animal husbandry experts, environmental assessment experts, medical assurance experts...

Students from various institutes, Demigods who can Call Wind and Rain, Prophets who promote the Creator's faith...

The food and supplies urgently needed in the Celestial Human Realm, materials and technology to help rebuild civilization post-war, training for professional warriors, and theoretical models for legion operations...

With the help of these technical personnel and wartime supplies, various forces finally recovered from the crisis of world destruction and gradually restored the original vitality.

"We... should be considered 'Risk Assessors,' right?"

Before Chi Qiu could speak, Celestial Decree stepped forward proactively to converse with Yan Xi.

"Although this world was barely stabilized by the Great Sun and the Day of Sin, the space-time rifts that could be traversed by divine level existences were blocked by the 'Weihe Combat Team'..."

"But new space-time rifts keep appearing, requiring someone to specifically observe and assess the risks therein."

After a slight pause in his tone, Celestial Decree looked at the confused Yan Xi and further explained.

"Before this, there was no need for us to assess those newly appeared space-time rifts..."

"Only when powerful invaders appear in those space-time rifts would there be specialized combat personnel to guard them."

"But with more and more Mountain and Sea People arriving..."

"There naturally needs to be professionals like us to reassess the risk levels of the space-time rifts to avoid unnecessary losses."

Hearing this, Yan Xi finally understood the meaning behind Celestial Decree's words.

It turns out that the Mountain and Sea Civilization initially didn't send Risk Assessors like Celestial Decree because the combat personnel sent to the Celestial Human Realm already possessed sufficient self-protection ability.

Now, sending dedicated Risk Assessors to assess the risk levels of the space-time rifts is to prevent enemies emerging from the space-time rifts from harming the technical personnel.

In a sense, this approach of the Mountain and Sea Civilization is indeed a good thing.

However, from the perspective of a native, after hearing Celestial Decree's statement, Yan Xi felt a subtle sense of displeasure in his heart.

This displeasure had two aspects.

On one hand, it was due to the Mountain and Sea Civilization's distrust of the Celestial Human Realm.

On the other hand, it was because the "unnecessary losses" mentioned by Celestial Decree evidently did not include people from the Celestial Human Realm.

In other words, if not for concerns about the safety of the Mountain and Sea People, the Mountain and Sea Civilization might not have sent professional assessors to evaluate the risks of the space-time rifts at all.

.....

"What's there to be upset about?"

With a slight lift of his head, Bai Shasheng glanced at the gloomy Yan Xi and spoke calmly.

"Although the words of that assessor were unpleasant, they're a fact."

"The Mountain and Sea People and the creatures of our Celestial Human Realm are inherently not weighted on the same scale."

"Moreover, the Mountain and Sea People who could arrive in the Celestial Human Realm at this moment indeed deserve us to do everything possible to ensure their safety."

In Bai Shasheng's view, Celestial Decree was just direct in his speech, but his implicit meanings were undeniable.

The Celestial Human Realm could not afford the loss of Mountain and Sea People's personnel.

According to the sayings from the Golden Crow Sect, the transaction between Haoguang and the Mountain and Sea Civilization was not obligatory; how far it goes depends entirely on the will of the high-level leaders of the Mountain and Sea Civilization.

Even if only to obtain more support from the Mountain and Sea Civilization, Bai Shasheng would absolutely not allow any personnel losses of the Mountain and Sea People in the Celestial Human Realm.

"This is the last chance that the Sun Star Monarch has secured for us, and we absolutely cannot loosen our grip easily."

Gently tapping the table, Bai Shasheng turned to instruct Yan Xi.

"You go contact the Immortal Mountain Archipelago over there; I know many of them have ulterior motives..."

"But my bottom line is that the Mountain and Sea People cannot be harmed, at least not by their hands."

This world has never lacked guiding parties, and even some extremist individuals with self-destructive tendencies exist.

Those individuals might not be able to harm the Mountain and Sea People, but Bai Shasheng must express this attitude.

"I understand, anyone who dares to harm the Mountain and Sea People is an enemy of our 'Taiping Taoist Soldiers'!"

Quickly adjusting his mindset, Yan Xi naturally knew the importance of understanding the bigger picture.

"Moreover, those Celestial Beings who have gone into hiding are also extremely dangerous elements."

"Share the intelligence we have gathered about the Celestial Beings with other forces, ensure they won't appear in areas frequently visited by the Mountain and Sea People."

Bai Shasheng continued to think about how to express his attitude and goodwill towards the high-level leaders of the Mountain and Sea Civilization, in order to gain their further support for the Celestial Human Realm.

"And as for weapon development, let them cooperate with the actions of the Mountain and Sea People as much as possible, and produce a sufficient number of weapons in the shortest time."

"Before those true formidable enemies reveal themselves, we must acquire enough ability for self-preservation."

"Even if the Mountain and Sea Civilization eventually decides to withdraw, we must still be able to continue fighting in this world!"