

The Growth 590

Chapter 590: End of Volume: Forging the Chain of Civilizations

The Fallen Area, on Earth.

"Is it the curse of the Lord of Chaos?"

While adjusting his automatic alchemy furnace in the Divine Treasure Vault, Li Hao recalled the recent conflict in the Celestial Human Realm.

After Li Hao shattered the world cluster forming the Mother of Thought with the Vast Heaven Mirror, the war that nearly forced the Celestial Human Realm into reconstruction could be declared over.

However, the chaos in the Celestial Human Realm was only temporarily halted from the coveting and spying by the Lords of Chaos.

After the successive deaths of the Chaos Seventeen Ancestors and the Third Ancestor of Chaos, the remaining Lords of Chaos dared not cast their eyes toward the Celestial Human Realm again.

Especially after Ji Meng dragged the Day of Sin back to the Mountain and Sea Realm, the Celestial Human Realm, lacking the Power of the Day of Sin for sustenance, once more teetered on the brink of destruction.

Space-time rifts appeared frequently, and spying from other worlds never ceased.

If Li Hao were to directly transform the Celestial Human Realm, changing its current state wouldn't be impossible.

Yet the problem was, that would mean reshaping the existing order and rules of the entire Celestial Human Realm.

Compared to an entire upheaval, creating a new world might actually be less challenging.

This was the curse of the Lord of Chaos—a curse more nauseating than troublesome.

From the moment the curse was cast, the Celestial Human Realm remained susceptible to invasions from other worlds.

The battleground of All Heavens and Myriad Realms, where blood and fire intertwine...

This was Li Hao's definition and view of the current state of the Celestial Human Realm.

It was a world more chaotic than the Divine Fall Realm, doomed to eternal chaos.

The chaos of the Divine Fall Realm still lingered at an individual Ascender level.

But the chaos of the Celestial Human Realm was the conflict between worlds and civilizations.

Just imagine, if the Mountain and Sea Realm suddenly opened a passage to another world, which had space-time rifts connecting to other worlds too.

At that time, even the usually gentle Mountain and Sea People would promptly take the most radical measures!

"Great God of Gods, what do you plan to do next with the Celestial Human Realm?"

Hua She raised its snake head and asked softly, hanging down from the lamp beside.

Before leaving the Celestial Human Realm, Ji Meng not only forcibly took away the Day of Sin but also used his Power to reinforce and stabilize the already fragile world barrier of the Celestial Human Realm.

Additionally, with the birth of the Human Path, the Celestial Human Realm didn't collapse again because of the departure of the Day of Sin.

But the current chaos in the Celestial Human Realm was born from a curse, and it was a curse left by a Supreme God Level existence.

Thinking about the fate of Long-Eyed God made it clear how tricky curses of this level were.

"Handle it?"

Lifting his gaze to glance at Hua She, Li Hao feigned surprise in his retort.

"Why should I handle the Celestial Human Realm?"

"The Celestial Human Realm is the world of Celestial Beings, not the world of Mountain and Sea People..."

"Even if the Celestial Human Realm becomes the battleground of All Heavens and Myriad Realms, what does it have to do with me?"

Glaring at Li Hao for quite a while with frustration, Hua She naturally caught on to the teasing tone in Li Hao's words.

"I wish you wouldn't meddle with the Celestial Human Realm, just like other Creators and Supreme Gods..."

"But are you that kind of Creator?"

"That type of Supreme God who dislikes meddling?"

Though long since giving up on Li Hao being a "standard" Creator recognized by all beings.

Hua She, habitually bickering with Li Hao, still couldn't avoid a sense of grievance.

"Besides, haven't you heavily invested in Haoguang? Do you plan to withdraw without any gain?"

Haoguang willingly sacrificed herself, transforming into a great sun to illuminate the Celestial Human Realm, which Li Hao hadn't foreseen at all.

Even more unexpected, before transforming into the great sun, Haoguang used the Sun-Hunting Gold Coin, completely forfeiting the legacy of Sun Hunter Ra.

Considering the past sealed history of the Celestial Human Realm.

It fundamentally meant Li Hao couldn't figure out what happened during the peak period of the Celestial Human Realm in a short time.

Why did the Fourth Celestial Father's Sun Divine Format appear in the Celestial Human Realm?

Why did the Sun Divine Format transform into the Sun-Hunting Gold Coin, and how did it end up in Haoguang's hands?

The most critical question was whether there were other Gods' machinations behind the Sun-Hunting Gold Coin, and was Sun Hunter Ra truly dead?

These myriad questions were the reason why Li Hao continued to invest effort into Haoguang and the Celestial Human Realm.

"Haoguang's choice was somewhat unexpected, but calling it a complete loss is still somewhat exaggerated."

Gently opening his palm, the Vast Heaven Mirror spun leisurely in Li Hao's hand.

"That Chaos Creator and the current Celestial Human Realm, they all are 'harvest'!"

In Hua She's somewhat confused eyes, Li Hao spoke so calmly.

Reaching Li Hao's current level, ordinary wealth and Divine Artifacts were no longer important.

As long as Li Hao wished, he could create a Creation Gold Coin of the same level as the Sun-Hunting Gold Coin, not to mention others.

Regarding secrets of All Heavens and Myriad Realms, regarding unreplicable miracles...

Those were what truly constituted valuable wealth in Li Hao's eyes now.

A Chaos Creator who failed to ascend to Celestial Father...

A Celestial Human Realm that could perpetually draw invasions from other worlds and civilizations...

These two were the greatest harvests for Li Hao in this period, and the reason why he didn't mind his "investment" going down the drain.

Whether by mistake or not, losing on one side while gaining on the other...

Li Hao never believed the world had to operate according to his will and plan; it was these occasional surprises that gave him a genuine sensation.

"What you mean is... you plan to create another Divine Fall Realm?"

Understanding the implied meaning, having been with Li Hao for such a long time, Hua She instantly understood his intention.

"You may understand it that way."

Without correcting Hua She's statement, Li Hao spoke with a calm expression.

"The current situation of the Celestial Human Realm is due to the curse of the Lords of Chaos, and it's evidence of the existence of the past Celestial Human Civilization."

"Even with my current abilities, recreating such a world would require immense time and effort, and the results might not be satisfying."

Pausing slightly in his tone, Li Hao then added.

"Also, to the so-called Enlightener, known as the Akasha Records, I am quite curious about what more she could stir up."

"Does she want to recreate the peak period of the Celestial Human Civilization?"

"Or plan to construct a new sub-civilization belonging to the Godslayers?"

"Within my envisioned chain system of Mountain and Sea Civilization, the importance of the current Celestial Human Realm may be second only to the Divine Fall Realm and the Mountain and Sea Realm."
