

The Growth 593

Chapter 593 - 3: The Death of He Bo

"Huh? There's actually an unexpected gain?"

When He Bo pushed open the laboratory door, the researchers inside had all died tragically on the spot.

What He Bo couldn't have imagined was that the extraordinary who had infiltrated here was also among the deceased.

She was a white woman with golden hair reaching her waist.

Sadly, now He Bo could only see her iconic golden hair.

Because that white woman, just like the other dead here, had her flesh dissolved to the point where only a skeleton remained.

As for the one who uttered that voice of surprise?

He was none other than the immortal once brought to this base by He Bo.

Or more precisely, it was the true Death God's obsession resurrected through the immortal's body.

"As a true god, your current state is quite disgraceful!"

Even though his eyes were on He Bo, the Death God's incarnation seemed to see through him to the Nine Songs God hidden within.

This was the ability of the Death God, which was also why he could possess in the Fallen Area.

Unlike the other Ancient Gods' Will reduced to mere obsessions, this Death God retained full consciousness during the dimensional descent.

Not just consciousness, but even part of his abilities were preserved.

[I'm disgraceful?]

[No matter how disgraceful, I am far superior to a coward who abandoned his Divine Kingdom!]

Seeing through the essence of the Death God's incarnation at a glance, the Nine Songs God couldn't conceal his presence any longer, mocking disdainfully.

Before the world fell into the Fallen Area, the gods had countless opportunities to leave their world and go to other worlds in the Ascension Area.

The gods who chose to fall with their world into the Fallen Area were mostly deeply in love with their world.

The Nine Songs God didn't know why the Death God didn't leave his world before it fell into the Fallen Area.

But he could see that his counterpart's complete retention of rationality and ability in the Fallen Area indicated that the world was used as a barrier or even a cost.

Only at the cost of totally sacrificing his original world could the Death God's incarnation achieve his current rebirth.

"You talk tough; let's see if your abilities are as tough as your words!"

A flash of anger passed by, and the Death God's incarnation appeared instantly before He Bo.

In a split second, the Death God's right arm turned into a phantom, directly reaching into He Bo's chest.

"I..."

Feeling the pain of his heart being gripped, He Bo didn't have time to curse the hard-headed Nine Songs God and instinctively shot at the Death God's incarnation's head.

Bang!

After the gunshot, the Death God's incarnation just slightly tilted his head, without even a scratch on his scalp.

Because the body he now possessed was already immune to normal gunfire damage.

Though not yet comparable to true high-dimensional beings, after so many experiments, this body was already immune to most ordinary physical harm.

At least in the realm of common harm, this body was nearing an "invincible" state.

[He hasn't completely fused with this body yet! Attack his Divine Soul!]

Seeing this, the well-informed Nine Songs God immediately pointed out the Death God's incarnation's weakness.

But He Bo only rolled his eyes in response.

He Bo did want to attack the other's soul, but he needed the means to do it.

Moreover, attacking the soul of a Death God, who could guarantee not getting killed in return?

Whoosh!

As the situation reached a deadlock, light suddenly burst from He Bo's chest.

The Death God's incarnation, taken by surprise, quickly withdrew his arm from He Bo's chest but still got burned by the sudden light.

"This..."

This unbelievable scene stunned not only He Bo but also left the Death God's incarnation in disbelief.

The body he used now was an Immortal Body specially created for him by a powerful Ancient God in the Fallen Area.

Without transcending the dimension of life, this Immortal Body had already reached the extreme of "immortality."

To say nothing of the fact that the Death God's incarnation sensed high-dimensional power from that light.

In the unique Fallen Area, how could someone wield higher-dimensional power?

[What are you staring at? Run now!]

Before He Bo could come to his senses, the Nine Songs God's voice roared in his mind again.

Although He Bo had no idea what had happened, now was undoubtedly the best chance to escape.

Thus, He Bo turned and ran towards the exit of the laboratory, and his body turned into a stream of water, giving no chance for the Death God's incarnation to harm him further.

"Heh, seems my gain this time is much richer than expected!"

Coming back to his senses, the Death God's incarnation laughed pleasantly and arrogantly.

"Fallen Area, I really came to the right place this time!"

.....

Running away without looking back, He Bo, turned into a stream, displayed his extraordinary escape abilities.

Swiftly traversing through a barrage of bullets without any vital point to target, He Bo quickly approached the base's gate.

There was a tributary of a large river next to the base.

As long as he could jump in time, He Bo believed he would be safe.

[Watch out!]

Just as He Bo was about to escape, the Death God's incarnation appeared out of nowhere amidst the shocked gazes of both fighting parties.

The Nine Songs God's warning didn't have time to take effect before the serious Death God's incarnation swung a scythe symbolizing death.

Swoosh!

The scythe flashed, and a cold gleam entered his vision.

The last thing He Bo saw was his body returning to flesh and blood before being sliced in two.

"Did you really think you could escape?"

Walking slowly to He Bo's side, the Death God's incarnation smiled coldly.

"Stop playing dead!"

"Your host is dead, but you aren't."

With that, the Death God's incarnation again reached for He Bo's heart.

That was where the Nine Songs God resided; it was also the physical manifestation of his will in the Fallen Area.

During He Bo's first awakening, he had replaced his original heart with the Nine Songs God, establishing this unique dual-life connection.

"You'll regret this..."

When the Death God's incarnation extracted He Bo's heart, it manifested a twisted face.

"Still threatening me, are you?"

With a dismissive raise of his eyebrows, the Death God's incarnation saw a mocking smile on the twisted face.

"Not a threat, just stating a fact..."

"Do you think you're the only special one in the Fallen Area?"

"Why do you think I was imprisoned in a human's heart?"
