

The Growth 610

Chapter 610: Cat-headed Wizard: Shadow of Space-Time

"How dare mere two Ascenders, who are not even Demigods, act so presumptuously?"

Reaching out to stop the furious Marquis Yi, Kangtao, who had appeared in the front at some point, sneered disdainfully.

After analyzing the previous battle, Kangtao had already figured out the secret of the Armored Apostle.

Although the opponent had formidable combat power and possessed the ability to break energy conservation, in the end, he was just an Ascender.

As for the cat-headed wizard who appeared later?

From the tone and words of the Armored Apostle, it was obvious that the opponent was likely of the same rank as him.

Kangtao's only concern now was the elusive ability of that cat-headed wizard.

After all, in All Heavens and Myriad Realms, any profession related to "wizard" was known for its eeriness.

"Ascender?"

"Is that how your civilization refers to the 'Titled Wizard'?"

Gracefully twirling the magic wand in his hand, the cat-headed wizard's surrounding space-time twisted once more.

And this time, from those distorted spaces walked out alternate-space-time identical bodies from other dimensions, other space-times, other timelines.

"Calling me again? You all know how much I hate fighting!"

The first to walk out of the twisted dimension was a cat-headed wizard wearing glasses and a researcher's white robe.

Similarly holding a magic wand, the white-robed cat wizard held a book in his other hand.

"I quite enjoy fighting, but unfortunately, you never like to call me out."

This time out of the twisted dimension came a cat-headed wizard with unusually developed muscles.

Instead of a magic wand, he held a giant sword larger than the Dragon-slaying Sword of the Armored Apostle.

Most astonishingly, this third cat-headed wizard wielded the sword single-handedly, while the other hand was inscribing symbols and Dharma Seals on the sword's blade.

"It's not that we dislike calling you out, but your lust for slaughter is too overwhelming."

This time, the speaker was a cat-headed wizard whose entire body had undergone metallic modifications.

The metallic structure all over his body, along with the unique metallic staff, made this cat-headed wizard look more like a cat-shaped robot from a futuristic tech era.

"If it comes to slaughter, who has killed more creatures than you?"

Seizing the moment from the metallic cat-headed wizard's statement, a calico cat person, dressed like a swordsman with a longsword on his back, mocked disdainfully.

As one of the few non-wizard entities among the alternate-space-time identical bodies, the calico cat person had always despised the hypocritical demeanor of the metallic cat-headed wizard.

"In any case, this time it's all to execute the will of Our God!"

As more cat-headed wizards appeared, all the Mountain and Sea People present became vigilant.

Seeing the hundreds and thousands of alternate-space-time identical bodies made even the battle personnel open their mouths in astonishment.

Although the number of cat-headed wizards still didn't match the present Mountain and Sea People, they kept appearing continuously from the distorted space.

So many individuals, such diverse abilities...

The current cat-headed wizard seemed only an Ascender, but if the fight started, it definitely wouldn't be much weaker than a typical Divine Incarnation.

This was the ultimate "Titled Wizard" who had developed Space-Time Magic to the extreme—the Shadow of Space-Time!

.....

"This looks a bit troublesome now..."

The eagle-headed winged person stared at the sky filled with cat-headed wizards while thinking rapidly about various space-time related abilities.

Power of Space-Time is undoubtedly one of the strongest abilities under the normal worldview.

Whether in the Mountain and Sea Realm or other worlds, those who can master space-time abilities are essentially top contenders for "the world's strongest."

Looking around the current Mountain and Sea Realm, the only one known to truly possess the Power of Space-Time is Yayu, known as the "Saintly Divine Being."

The eagle-headed winged person thought the only way to counter space-time ability was the disordered space-time itself.

In a world where space-time is normal, like the Disaster Realm, even gods cannot truly kill someone who controls the Power of Space-Time.

After all, from some perspective, space-time is a kind of high-dimensional matter.

So, though the cat-headed wizard in front of them is merely an Ascender, anyone who treats them simply as a regular Ascender will surely return to the Mountain and Sea Realm to relearn their lessons!

[Then the question is...]

[What is the intention behind summoning so many alternate-space-time identical bodies?]

The eagle-headed winged person's mind raced, and the Celestial Eye on his forehead quickly scanned the surroundings.

Unfortunately, before the eagle-headed winged person could clear his thoughts, the confrontation between cat-headed wizards and the Mountain and Sea People commenced.

Boom!

Marquis Yi was the first to strike.

Transforming into five-colored light, Marquis Yi charged directly at the initial cat-headed wizard, with the five-colored light that disrupted the balance of Yin Yang Five Elements revealing its most lethal aspect to date.

When the balance of a world is shattered, when the order of all things is disrupted,

A special phenomenon similar to "Void Chaos" is born.

Anything engulfed in this five-colored light is forcibly decomposed into the chaos of the void.

Even the powerful cat-headed wizard, who mastered the Power of Space-Time, dared not confront the terrifying five-colored light head-on.

"Now you're showing your true strength?"

The cat-headed wizard couldn't help but murmur at this sight.

Thinking the previous performance was Marquis Yi's limit, now it seemed he hadn't been giving it his all.

With this realization, the cat-headed wizard glanced at the equally dumbfounded Armored Apostle.

"Were you underestimating me just now!?"

With an angry roar, the Armored Apostle, who found the situation even more unacceptable than the cat-headed wizard, brandished his Dragon-slaying Sword once more.

Unfortunately, what awaited him was only Marquis Yi's unabashed disdain.

"In your world, Ascenders might be powerful individuals second only to gods."

"But in our civilization, Ascenders are merely a threshold that's not too difficult to cross..."

"Any Mountain and Sea People qualified to ascend to Sky City may not be specialized in combat sequences or skilled in fighting, but they are indeed genuine Ascenders!"

As the words fell, Marquis Yi's figure immediately split into two.

One five-colored light continued to charge at the cat-headed wizard, while the other appeared before the Armored Apostle.

"The reason I hadn't been going all out earlier was simply because there was no need."

"After all, capturing a criminal requires considering many factors, but to eliminate an enemy, you only need to think about how to kill them!"