Chapter 626 10: God of the Faceless

"As long as I meet someone who knows its worth, I can sell it at an unimaginably high price as a 'Divine Incarnation'."

When saying this, Feng Xi unabashedly cast a glance at the chubby person across from him.

Clearly, the 'someone who knows its worth' mentioned by Feng Xi referred exactly to Chubby.

"Don't look at me like that, I'm not the kind of unscrupulous merchant who cheats or forces sales."

"On the contrary, I actually value my reputation a lot; otherwise, I wouldn't be honestly revealing all this to you."

Spreading his hands openly, Chubby continued speaking.

"Don't you hate the way you look now?"

"Just sell me that Celestial Eye, and I can give you an equivalent, or even more valuable, exchange."

With a tone rich in temptation, Chubby's essential nature as a merchant was fully displayed at this moment.

"A Civilization Game Invitation, an independent other-dimensional space, a versatile Void Mask, the secret address of a Divine Apostle's society, or even an effective clue to becoming a god..."

"As long as you make a request, I can definitely fulfill it."

However, to Chubby's surprise, neither Marquis Yi nor Feng Xi showed too much interest in what he said.

Marquis Yi was simply uninterested, while Feng Xi didn't want to end the karmic entanglement with his master in such a way.

"Give up! I have no interest in selling my own organs."

Seeing Chubby's seemingly bewildered expression, Feng Xi added a sentence.

"I'm not a merchant; I don't like to measure everything by its intrinsic value."

"I truly don't like this eye of mine..."

"Because it constantly reminds me that I was just a commodity in my master's hands waiting to be sold."

"But likewise, this eye is a part of my life journey; selling it would mean denying my past."

Upon hearing this, Chubby, who finally understood Feng Xi's mindset, hesitated for a moment, then shook his head with slight regret.

"What a pity, I thought I would have another precious item!"

Fortunately, Chubby's regret didn't last long before he opened a new topic.

"Although we couldn't reach an agreement this time, we can proceed with the next trade."

Blinking in some confusion, Marquis Yi asked back.

"Next trade? What next trade?"

After the conversation just now, Marquis Yi initially thought Chubby had targeted Feng Xi.

But from what Chubby said now, it seemed he might have overthought it.

Recalling Chubby's previous words that Feng Xi was just one of his targets, Marquis Yi grew curious about what the next proposed trade might be.

"It's simple, I know you want to leave this world."

"Aside from people like me with special purposes, everyone who has just arrived in this world is trying to find a way to leave it."

"I can tell you the way to leave this world—before you are completely assimilated by it."

At these words, both Marquis Yi and Feng Xi fell into silence.

Their purpose for coming out here was to solve the issue of the Mountain and Sea People being gradually assimilated by the Sky City.

And now Chubby claimed to have a way to let them leave this world, fundamentally solving the troubles faced by the Mountain and Sea People.

"The price? What is the price?"

There has never been a free lunch in this world, especially from someone like Chubby who navigates between civilizations and Gods as a 'Faceless one.'

To abandon even one's name and identity as a 'Faceless one' itself is a form of self-protection.

"The knowledge of your Mountain and Sea Civilization..."

"Or more accurately, the knowledge of the 'high-dimensional module' you used to build that Sky City."

[Faceless one?]

Upon hearing the name Faceless one, Li Hao, in the void, focused his attention on Chubby.

After hearing the entire conversation between Chubby, Marquis Yi, and Feng Xi, Li Hao was surprised to find that this supposed "Faceless one" was actually the Faceless one he knew.

The difference was simply that the Faceless one he knew was the "God of the Faceless."

While the Chubby now, was just a believer in the Faceless one, not yet an apostle of the Faceless one.

But from the fact that he appeared in the Disaster Realm, it wasn't far off for him to advance to become an apostle of the Faceless one.

After all, although the Disaster Realm has many restrictions, its internal civilization and the diversity of its Gods are indisputable.

As long as Chubby within doesn't offend too many forces, he can acquire the information and resources other Faceless ones find hard to obtain.

Using this information and these goods as a foundation, it was only a matter of time before Chubby became an apostle of the Faceless one, or even a fragment of the Faceless one.

[This Faceless one... truly everywhere.]

Softly marveling at this, Li Hao grew more curious about the true form of the Faceless one.

A being that completely hides its existence amidst the river of time, known externally only as the "Faceless one."

Looking across All Heavens and Myriad Realms, such an existence would definitely not be simple.

Moreover, Li Hao still remembered that when the Faceless one first contacted him, it was directly through the channel of the [Civilization Game].

Li Hao had been studying the [Civilization Game] for a long time and hadn't found a way to directly connect its system to unknown Gods.

This point further proves that the identity of the Faceless one must be related to the creator of the [Civilization Game]—Ninth Celestial Father Hathor.

[Could this Faceless one be the long-lost Ninth Celestial Father?]

Thinking this over, Li Hao once again focused on the trio still in conversation.

He could understand Chubby's desire for the knowledge of the "high-dimensional module."

After all, that's technology capable of deifying beings, one of the pinnacle achievements of Mountain and Sea Civilization.

But the problem now is that Sky City isn't qualified to decide to trade such crucial core technology.

In reality, with the character of the Mountain and Sea People, even if they were trapped in the Disaster Realm, they would never engage in such a trade with Chubby.

This is evident from the fact that although Sky City has been in the Disaster Realm for so long, it hasn't developed any followers outwardly.

The "God of Autonomous and Floating Cities" refuses to expand his followers using such 'poisonous' knowledge.

One reason is the unknown risks mentioned by Hephaestus.

On the other hand, is it not also due to a desire not to divulge Mountain and Sea Civilization technology?
