

The Growth 636

Chapter 636 20: Truth Lies Only Within Range

In fact, according to the original plan of the residents of the City of No Gods, they only wanted to plunder the Power from the Divine Abomination remnants cast into the Land of Ten Extremes.

But unfortunately, due to the influence of some unknown factor, the City of No Gods unexpectedly spawned a terrifying Divine Abomination during the third large-scale sacrificial ceremony.

Its body was stitched together from countless Divine Abomination remnants, but its will was the obsession of countless residents of the City of No Gods.

Unlike typical Divine Abominations, this one was not violent.

Contrarily, this Divine Abomination inherited the ideology of the City of No Gods and tried to transform this city into a Peach Blossom Spring devoid of Gods and disasters.

However, due to its inherent obsession and the urgency of the Apocalyptic threat...

This Divine Abomination residing in the City of No Gods reached a level of tyrannical control over the city.

Not only was the belief in Gods abolished, but even new ideas that might foster technological advancement were not allowed to emerge...

Though this indeed curbed the interference of Gods and the arrival of the Apocalyptic threat, it also turned the City of No Gods into what it is now.

"This is the truth you've been wanting to know, about all that has happened in the City of No Gods in the past ninety years."

Compared to the magnificent grandeur at the founding of the City of No Gods, Old Dragon's description of the city's ninety-year history appeared extremely simple.

"According to you, this Divine Abomination sounds more like a Demigod who has lost its way?"

Frowning in thought, Marquis Yi, being an Ascender, naturally had learned knowledge related to Ascension to Divinity in the schools of the Mountain and Sea Realm.

Ignoring external influences, everything this Divine Abomination did was almost identical to the actions of a Demigod when raising the Divine Throne.

Moreover, at times, the differences between Divine Abominations and Demigods weren't as clear-cut as outsiders might think.

"You're overestimating this Divine Abomination a bit."

Old Dragon snorted coldly, clearly holding a different opinion on this matter.

However, perhaps due to being advanced in Age or perhaps there were other hidden reasons, Old Dragon, having long seen through everything, did not intend to argue with Marquis Yi further on this issue.

Yet for some reason, when Feng Xi heard Old Dragon's words, he vaguely saw a hint of sorrow on the old face.

"If it weren't..."

Just as Old Dragon was about to continue speaking, a sudden loud crash sounded from the sky.

Bang!

As if the sky were torn apart, a gigantic Space-Time Rift visible to the naked eye spanned across the sky.

In the next second, countless Autonomous soldiers flew out of the rift, diving straight toward Gunlong Village.

"Have they discovered this place so quickly?!"

With a hint of surprise, Old Dragon obviously didn't expect the City of No Gods to lock onto Gunlong Village's location so quickly.

"It seems that Divine Abomination has grown stronger again!"

Ignoring Old Dragon's lament, Marquis Yi sternly looked up at the sky after suddenly rising to his feet.

This time, the number of Autonomous soldiers appearing at Gunlong Village clearly exceeded the number during the battle with Marquis Yi and his group earlier.

When hundreds to thousands of Autonomous soldiers emerged from the Space-Time Rift, a small-scale War was on the verge of erupting.

"What do we do now?"

"This is beyond our capability!"

Equally staring at the Autonomous soldiers, Feng Xi, while being vigilant, also felt a vague sense of rekindled combat desire.

The previous escapade without fighting was not a very good feeling for the always competitive and aggressive Feng Xi.

"Let's ask for help!"

Without even a moment's hesitation, Marquis Yi decisively pulled out a special Locator from his pocket.

"What is that?"

Old Dragon asked, though neither Feng Xi nor Hephaestus had uttered the question, having vaguely realized something.

But precisely because he realized what Marquis Yi was planning to do, Old Dragon was utterly incredulous.

"Only Gods can intervene in the Divine Kingdom..."

"Do you have the protection of Gods?"

"Then why did you flee to the City of No Gods?"

The old voice of Old Dragon was intermingled with strong confusion and bewilderment.

He thought Feng Xi and Marquis Yi were new believers recruited by Hephaestus, thus choosing to assist their God in finding the long-lost core.

But now it appears the relationship between the three is far more complex than he imagined.

"Didn't the Celestial Council say they couldn't provide us with more support before we left?"

Unlike Old Dragon's focus, Feng Xi was more concerned with why Kangtao clearly stated he couldn't offer more support, leading him to find Marquis Yi as a temporary teammate and partner.

"Indeed, manpower from Sky City is insufficient, but I'm not a lone wolf like you."

Quickly activating the Locator in his hand, Marquis Yi did not forget to explain to Feng Xi.

"After that, I directly went to Kangtao and forcibly obtained this Locator from him."

"I can accept this mission, but when I need reinforcements, it must immediately dispatch personnel who can engage in battle to assist me."

Planning thoroughly and preparing "what if" scenarios has always been Marquis Yi's habit, and he naturally wouldn't entrust his life and safety entirely to Feng Xi and Hephaestus.

Moreover, Marquis Yi's demand wasn't actually unreasonable.

After all, the most challenging part of this mission is searching for clues, which requires tremendous time and effort, and the current Sky City happens to lack such manpower resources to expend on this.

Turning it around, as long as manpower resources aren't long-term exhausted, purely requesting Martial Power reinforcements is achievable.

For instance, right now, with Marquis Yi activating the Locator, the Power from the God of Autonomous and Floating Cities swiftly intervened in this Divine Kingdom lacking a Godly ruler.

Buzz, Buzz...

Visible Electric Light appeared on the horizon, and a metallic "moon" suddenly appeared above Gunlong Village.

Suspended in the sky, it released Electric Current of high intensity.

More importantly, as that Electric Current, rivaling Thunder, spread across half the sky, Mountain and Sea People fully armed flew out from within.

Encased in Thunder, those Mountain and Sea People descended like the Thunder God, swiftly and precisely intercepting the Autonomous soldiers.

Bang!

When the first sound of combat echoed across the sky, the communication channels of Marquis Yi and Feng Xi swiftly integrated into the wartime Network.

[Special Operation Third Squad, ordered to arrive at the battlefield!]

[Sky City Inter-City Alert Team, ordered to arrive at the battlefield!]

[Mountain and Sea Volunteer Militia Brigade, ordered to arrive at the battlefield!]

[We are from Wuhua Security Company, ordered to arrive at the battlefield!]

...

With the voices from support forces echoing in the communication channels, the previously aggressive Autonomous soldiers were immediately suppressed.

The Mountain and Sea People arriving subsequently at the battlefield far exceeded the Autonomous soldiers in number and quality.

Moreover, the forcefully projected [Sky City] into the Divine Kingdom was not to be trifled with.

Thousands of cannons were reorganizing arrays, and the city's Power System was temporarily integrating into combat readiness...

If there is any anomaly at the other end of Space-Time Rift,

This great weapon, blending the highest technological crystal of the Mountain and Sea Civilization, will teach the natives of this world what it means when "truth lies only within the range of cannons."
