

The Growth 654

Chapter 654 12: Qi Sealing Soul Reviving Pill

"Qi Sealing Soul Reviving Pill!?"

Feeling the resentment within his body being dissolved by some mysterious power, the "Hundred-Eyed Dragon" knew he was thoroughly defeated.

The resentment he had accumulated over the years, the power he had extracted from the flesh and blood remains of those Divine Abominations, was being decomposed by this pill.

As long as this "Qi Sealing Soul Reviving Pill" remained inside him, no matter how much resentment he absorbed, nor how many Divine Abominations he devoured, in the end, it would all be in vain.

"Sealed for so many years, have you forgotten my original profession?"

"You should know, I am an alchemist. What's so surprising about me making a 'Qi Sealing Soul Reviving Pill'?"

With a casual wave, the stick behind the Pixiu automatically flew into his hand.

With his tall figure, strong muscles, and a carefree, unrestrained demeanor...

To be honest, if one hadn't heard him speak, it would be hard to link the Pixiu with the profession of an alchemist.

At the very least, Feng Xi beside him looked utterly disbelieving.

"Don't think that with this, you can seal me again."

After a brief silence, the "Hundred-Eyed Dragon" still glared defiantly at the Pixiu.

"From the moment I was found, the 'truth' you have been hiding can no longer remain concealed."

"You can kill me again, but as long as this guy is alive, one day I will return!"

As he spoke, the "Hundred-Eyed Dragon" pointed to his own chest, the meaning clear.

His obsession with the dry well was the root cause of this battle.

As long as he did not give up the pursuit of the truth, the resentment hidden within the well would inevitably rise again.

"Moreover, I won't give you another chance to kill me."

With these words, the "Hundred-Eyed Dragon" transformed one hand into a claw and pierced his chest, extracting the last wisp of resentment along with the "Qi Sealing Soul Reviving Pill."

After the resentment left his body, his eyes became noticeably clearer.

Experiencing everything the "Hundred-Eyed Dragon" did with his body, his gaze was filled with regret and fear.

This wasn't just because the resentment had used his body to severely injure the Old Dragon, but also because he almost killed his most beloved sister.

"Uncle Nine..."

Gripping the restless "Qi Sealing Soul Reviving Pill" tightly in his hand.

Usually rational and clear-headed, he could not bring himself to meet the Pixiu's eyes, only clutching the pill tightly, fearing it might escape at any moment.

Thankfully, the Pixiu did not further blame him, but instead patted his shoulder and sighed deeply.

"You did nothing wrong!"

"It's I and your elder brother who ignored your wishes..."

Looking towards the Old Dragon in the distant pit, the Pixiu's imposing figure seemed so powerless at that moment.

The muscles on his body could not hide that sense of aging...

The wine gourd in his hand could no longer let the Pixiu linger in the beautiful dreams of the past...

The Pixiu knew it was time to make a choice.

"Uncle Nine?"

The Golden Spirit, who appeared by his side at some point, was timidly tugging at his clothes.

Following the Golden Spirit's gaze, he saw the Old Dragon, who had barely regained some power, climbing out of the pit, though still looking somewhat pale.

"Don't worry, your elder brother is fine."

Rubbing the Golden Spirit's head, the Pixiu glanced towards the curious Feng Xi.

"Given the situation, there's no point in keeping secrets any longer."

"The things you want to know, I will confess to you one by one later."

His voice paused slightly, then the Pixiu added.

"Feng Xi, if you're interested, you can come and listen too later."

"After all, you gave up your disguise to save the Golden Spirit, what reason do we have not to trust you?"

With a slight flutter of her eyelashes, Feng Xi knew the Pixiu had misunderstood something, but she didn't explain.

Because in a certain sense, the existence of the replicator was indeed an effective disguise for her in her current situation.

.....

[Time travel? Witness the truth?]

Watching Feng Xi's every move with a peculiar expression, Li Hao couldn't recover his wits for a long time.

Yes, Feng Xi could traverse time and return to the past because of those chaotic spheres Li Hao had cast into the Disaster Realm.

The essence of those chaotic spheres was the same as the Disaster Realm, possessing part of Li Hao's power.

Thus, under the guidance of destiny, the chaotic sphere that struck Feng Xi took her back to a crucial time node for the Disaster Realm.

Initially, Li Hao hadn't realized the importance of this time point.

It wasn't until he noticed the birth of the "Hundred-Eyed Dragon" that he recognized the possibility that this time node involved some secrets of the Golden Era.

Especially that "Qi Sealing Soul Reviving Pill" which sealed unknown resentment.

Li Hao seemed to see a vast network of cause and effect forming and being drawn by that pill.

This cause and effect was large enough to affect the future trajectory of the entire world, and it was why Feng Xi was drawn to this era.

[Looks quite interesting?]

For the first time influencing the timelines of the past, present, and future in this manner, Li Hao found it intriguing.

With just a casual tweak of the timelines, past, present, and future displayed different changes and directions to Li Hao.

Among these different timelines, Feng Xi, holding the chaos sphere, was a key node.

And similar to Feng Xi's key node, there were many others on the timeline of the Disaster Realm, all associated with the presence of chaos spheres.

[However, even among those crucial nodes, this girl is still the most special.]

Li Hao's initial intention of deploying chaotic spheres into the Disaster Realm was to figure out what had transpired there and who was secretly hunting the gods and demons of this world.

This was Li Hao's "bet," as well as a reconnaissance test.

Li Hao originally thought it would take him a long time to uncover the truth, but now it seemed he was close to touching it.

[The truth doesn't seem as complex as I thought?]

With this doubt, Li Hao continued to watch over Feng Xi.

He was curious about what decision this girl, who was gradually mastering the power of space-time with the chaotic sphere, would eventually make.