

The Growth 665

Chapter 665 23: The Dragon God Descends

"Uncle Nine, what are you doing?"

Watching as the Ten-tailed Dragon Carp continued to devour more Divine Pills.

Even the Old Dragon, who knew the inside story like Pixiu, was now somewhat perplexed by the other's actions.

"It's all because of you, you fool!"

Glaring at the Old Dragon with disappointment.

Pixiu could only resent that, with a great enemy at the door, he couldn't give the other a good beating.

If it weren't for the Old Dragon's reckless decisions, how could the Hundred Eyed Dragon and the Golden Spirit have appeared on the battlefield?

How could the situation have deteriorated to this uncontrollable state?

If only the elder brother, Old Dragon, hadn't been so impulsive and had stayed in the Land of No Gods, this grudge from the previous era would've ended with him alone.

Thinking of this, Pixiu became even more frustrated.

"Uncle Nine, we are family!"

At this moment, the Golden Spirit suddenly grabbed Pixiu's hand and said firmly.

"Since we are family, we should stay together no matter when."

Blinking in surprise, Pixiu finally let out a long sigh.

"Your Uncle Nine, I have actually been preparing for this battle for a long time..."

"To withstand the power of the Divine Pills to the greatest extent, I've been training my body over the years, trying to forge a truly Vajra Indestructible Body."

"However, my talents are limited, and I could never reach the level of my elder brother."

After a brief pause, Pixiu continued to explain.

"But this Ten-tailed Dragon Carp is different; it is formed from the remnants of my elder brother's body, innately possessing the Vajra Indestructible attribute."

"Using it to bear the Divine Pills I crafted over the years has a high chance of reviving part of my elder brother's divine might..."

"The only uncertainty is how the Dragon Soul Grudge managed to regroup the remains when they were clearly dismembered by the Gods."

"But now, none of that matters..."

"Even if there's something peculiar about these remains, we have no choice but to take a gamble now."

As if to validate Pixiu's words.

With the increase in the number of Divine Pills devoured, the appearance of the Ten-tailed Dragon Carp underwent a dramatic transformation.

The hideous Dragon Head, the elongated Dragon body, the golden scales, the sharp claws and teeth...

When the ten tails intertwined and evolved into a Dragon form, a high-pitched Dragon roar suddenly emerged from its mouth.

"Ang!"

This Dragon roar resonated across the heavens and the earth, shaking all directions.

Even the stars in the sky, which were falling, showed a noticeable pause, seemingly fearing this still-forming Dragon God.

Rumble...

In an instant, a colossal Huanglong appeared in the Disaster Realm.

Due to its sheer size, the commotion caused by its manifestation was dramatic.

No matter where one stood, most beings in the Disaster Realm could witness the grand spectacle of the Huanglong soaring into the sky, battling against the stars.

Boom! Boom! Boom!

It devoured all the Divine Pills, manifesting the form of the Dragon God.

The Huanglong, formed by the Ten-tailed Dragon Carp, resembled the descent of an actual Main God, with every move altering the world's laws and appearance.

And standing in the wind atop this Huanglong's Dragon horns were Pixiu, Old Dragon, Hundred Eyed Dragon, and Golden Spirit, only feeling excitement and thrill.

.....

"Is that... a Dragon?"

Gazing at the Huanglong battling the stars in the sky, Laputa was stunned and couldn't recover his senses for a long time.

And with the fall of the stars and the appearance of the Huanglong, the Divine Abominations in the Land of No Gods trembled as if encountering a predator, once again lying dormant.

[Indeed, that is the Power of the 'Dragon'!]

Silently and suddenly, a voice echoed in Laputa's mind.

Startled by this voice, Laputa quickly looked around but saw no one speaking to him.

[There's no need to look; my true form is not here. What is communicating with you is merely a thought of mine.]

Though he couldn't see any physical reference, Laputa's mind conjured the specific image of the voice's owner.

It was a gigantic train, its front and rear unclear.

Its most distinctive feature was the large mechanical eye located at the front.

Upon seeing the mechanical eye, Laputa realized the voice's owner was named Maitot.

"Are you a God?"

With a hint of disbelief, Laputa lowered his voice to ask.

[To be more precise, I am a God who refuses to 'go with the flow' of this world.]

[I sense in you a power that can traverse time and space...]

[If you are willing to become my Apostle, I can not only ensure your safety but even help you return to your original era.]

Upon hearing this, Laputa fell silent at once.

But soon, he remembered Feng Xi, who saved him, and the Dragon Siblings who took him in.

"The danger you speak of... do you mean that Dragon?"

Clearly seeing Laputa's inner turmoil, Maitot hesitated before continuing.

[Did you know?]

[This world is actually a hunting ground specifically for hunting Gods.]

[An unknown Creator crafted this world and then dragged a multitude of lesser Gods into it, forcing them to ascend to Main God through brutal battles.]

[Unlike ordinary Gods, Main Gods, in a sense, are Incarnations of the world, capable of affecting and formulating the rules of their domain.]

[However, the birth of a Main God is exceedingly rare.]

[Even a massive Divine Pantheon with numerous worlds might only have a handful of Main Gods.]

[But the Creator of this world uses a variant of 'Faith Poison,' allowing reciprocal influence between believers and Gods, ultimately mass-producing Main Gods.]

[The only drawback of this method is that Main Gods, once born, will no longer possess self-identity, becoming amalgamations of rules and concepts.]

[For those Gods unwilling to become puppets, they will eventually be erased by this world.]

Speaking of this, Maitot intentionally provided enough time for reflection, allowing Laputa to seriously consider this shocking truth.

[I do not wish to be erased by this world, nor do I wish to become a puppet like Yami.]

[Yami, known as the 'Lord of the Stars', essentially has infinitely approached the concept of a star, just one step away from merging with this world.]

[Once Yami officially ascends to become a Main God and transforms into the concept of a 'star,' the entire world will reboot, entering another cycle of reincarnation.]

[But not long ago, an entity on the same level as the Creator of this world intervened, casting a 'Catalyst' capable of changing the world into this realm...]

[In you, I sense the presence of this 'Catalyst.']

[You are our, and this world's, only Hope!]
