Chapter 681 13: Longevity Is Easy, Immortality Is Hard

Just when Feng Xi was stirring winds and rains at various space-time nodes, altering the course of world lines.

The Celestial Sorrow Demon Monarch finally understood the current situation of the Disaster Realm and Sky City.

The Celestial Sorrow Demon Monarch and Jiufeng were not actually the first batch of reinforcements sent to Sky City by the Mountain and Sea Realm.

The Xuan Niao that Jiufeng wanted to find was actually the first reinforcements arriving at the Mountain and Sea Realm.

When he learned from Li Hao that his Huanglong Incarnation actually came from a Dragon God of the Disaster Realm, Xuan Niao realized the end of Huang Minzi.

The Dragon God named "Huang Minzi" was once the most promising junior of the Mountain and Sea Dragon Race.

Born during the most glorious period of the Mountain and Sea Dragon Race, Huang Minzi naturally possessed divinity and divine power and was always dedicated to finding a way for the Mountain and Sea Dragon Race to coexist peacefully with other races.

Under the guidance of this philosophy, not only Zhu Jiuyin exceptionally favored Huang Minzi, but even Xuan Niao, the Main God of another race, had high hopes for Huang Minzi's future.

Unfortunately, before Huang Minzi truly grew up, the Mountain and Sea Dragon Race had already begun to decline from prosperity.

Having no other choice, Huang Minzi could only lead the last batch of the Mountain and Sea Dragon Race away from the Mountain and Sea Realm to seek a glimmer of hope in other worlds.

In truth, looking over the entire Mountain and Sea Dragon Race, Xuan Niao felt that any Dragon God might perish prematurely, except for Huang Minzi, whose chances were the smallest.

But fate is unpredictable, and Huang Minzi's character determined his fate.

Unwilling to abandon his clan, Huang Minzi was eventually captured by the Disaster Realm and became one of the main forces of the Golden Era's resistance against the Apocalypse.

The purpose of Xuan Niao's journey was to ascertain the truth of Huang Minzi's death.

So just after arriving in the Disaster Realm, Xuan Niao brought the Old Dragon back to the City of No Gods — the place where it all began.

"Sounds like trouble..."

"We still don't know how many Gods will be watching us on this journey."

Before leaving Sky City, the Celestial Sorrow Demon Monarch complained in such a manner.

"According to Kangtao's and the others' predictions, perhaps this time the 'Apocalypse' will restart in the City of No Gods."

"That's a disaster capable of destroying the entire world!"

"Normally, shouldn't we be figuring out a way to leave this accursed world first?"

Having long been accustomed to the Celestial Sorrow Demon Monarch's complaints, Jiufeng just smiled faintly.

Currently, the body was being controlled by the Third Sister.

She was always aloof and indifferent, rarely participating in the decision-making and choices among the sisters.

Only when facing the Celestial Sorrow Demon Monarch did the Third Sister actively appear, showing a different side from usual.

"It's just a collection of Main God remnants."

"As long as the true Supreme God does not descend, I can protect you completely."

Hearing the Third Sister say this, the Celestial Sorrow Demon Monarch immediately looked terrified.

"Third Sister, did you forget about your bad luck star attribute? How dare you talk so recklessly!"

The Third Sister's inherent bad luck star attribute was also one reason she spoke very little on ordinary days.

At the very least, when the other heads of Jiufeng discussed matters, they absolutely did not want the Third Sister to randomly interrupt.

"How come you're just like them?"

With a slightly coquettish gaze at the Celestial Sorrow Demon Monarch, the cold and charming Third Sister displayed her diverse charms.

"I'm not some bad luck star; those are just coincidences!"

Rolling his eyes helplessly, the Celestial Sorrow Demon Monarch had no intention to criticize the Third Sister for this lack of self-awareness.

Once, twice perhaps, were indeed coincidences.

But every time being able to predict the worst-case scenario, this obviously could not be explained by mere coincidences.

It was not until the formal departure from the protection of Sky City that the Celestial Sorrow Demon Monarch truly sensed the horror of the Disaster Realm.

Just when the front foot stepped out of the Sky City range, the Celestial Sorrow Demon Monarch immediately felt his body being transformed.

All information constituting himself was being analyzed...

His talents, abilities, body, even his soul were being spied upon by an invisible force...

The Celestial Sorrow Demon Monarch clearly realized that if he did not act, in the next second, he would be dragged into some singular dimension, thus becoming a part of the Disaster Realm.

"The Disaster Realm... truly lives up to its name!"

In just a moment, the Celestial Sorrow Demon Monarch's body had undergone countless changes.

When he reappeared in front of Jiufeng, he was a mortal with incredibly weak aura and power.

"If it were not for Sky City's transit, and I entered the Disaster Realm's range directly, I fear I would have already been captured by this terrifying world."

The Celestial Sorrow Demon Monarch was not exaggerating; he was telling the truth.

Though possessing the ability to undergo countless changes, the Celestial Sorrow Demon Monarch could escape various calamities through Transformation Technique, but it required time.

The Disaster Realm would not allow the Celestial Sorrow Demon Monarch any reaction time, accomplishing the conversion of a God Level being in under a second.

"Indeed somewhat eerie, no wonder Huang Minzi got trapped in this world."

Unlike the Celestial Sorrow Demon Monarch, who disguised himself as a mortal, Jiufeng directly shielded the Disaster Realm's perception of herself.

As long as Jiufeng did not use power above Divine Level.

The Disaster Realm would not detect her existence, let alone capture her.

"Not seen for many years, your 'Escape from Tribulation Technique' has become more refined."

Utilizing the Thousand Transformations Skill to avoid various tribulations was originally a Magic Gate practiced by the Celestial Sorrow Demon Monarch specifically for ascension.

Transforming into stone upon encountering water, turning into gold upon encountering fire, turning into earth upon encountering wood...

Transforming into a cat upon encountering a mouse, changing into a chicken upon encountering an insect, becoming an eagle upon encountering a snake...

The three disasters and six tribulations, worldly calamities, all have their natural mutual generation and restraint.

This is the essence of the Celestial Sorrow Demon Monarch's 'Escape from Tribulation Technique', a Divine Technique he created long ago.

However, during his wanderings across All Heavens and Myriad Realms, this Transformation Technique gradually became the primary Divine Technique practiced by the Celestial Sorrow Demon Monarch, saving him from dangers countless times.

Until today, this ability to undergo countless transformations has become a signature of the Celestial Sorrow Demon Monarch.

"I've always cherished life since I was young, you know that."

"Aside from longevity, various methods of avoiding and escaping tribulations are what I'm good at."

Faced with the Celestial Sorrow Demon Monarch's expression of shamelessness regarded as pride, Jiufeng also laughed.

Because this was precisely Jiufeng's philosophy.

Much like Jiufeng's nine heads, which are actually her nine lives.

So long as one head remains alive, Jiufeng can return, making her one of the hardest Gods to kill across All Heavens and Myriad Realms.

If seriously considered, the Celestial Sorrow Demon Monarch was merely a successor influenced by her.

"How many in this world pursue longevity, yet do not know longevity is easy, but immortality is difficult."

"Especially for 'Lost God' like us, a slight carelessness could lead to perishing in some hidden corner, without a chance to start over."
