

The Growth 684

Chapter 684 16: A Clash Across Time and Space

The arrival of Jiufeng and Celestial Sorrow Demon Monarch naturally could not be hidden from Li Hao, who was always paying attention to the Disaster Realm.

However, at this moment, Li Hao did not focus much energy on them.

After all, compared to the stealthy troublemaker Gogol hidden in the dark, the situation with Xuan Niao was truly worthy of Li Hao's attention.

[Is this 'Apocalypse' this time the Intelligent Mechanism crisis?]

With a peculiar expression, he looked at the machinery monsters continually produced by the City of No Gods.

Ever since the "Artificial Apostle" was exposed, the Divine Abomination hidden in the City of No Gods began to massively produce similar mechanical monsters, intending to sweep through the entire Disaster Realm with these creations.

However, the problem arose here.

Where did the Divine Abomination acquire so many souls and resources to create these mechanical monsters?

One must know that the Gods in the Disaster Realm imposed comprehensive restrictions on the City of No Gods.

Especially since the exposure of the [Steel Cast Soldiers] technology, the Gods had long ceased allowing Unbelievers to go to the City of No Gods.

Not to mention, after realizing the cruel truth behind the [Steel Cast Soldiers] technology, no one dared to venture to the City of No Gods anymore.

[Intervening finally?]

Pondering thus, Li Hao's gaze once again leaped through the timeline, seeing that Monarch Will existing simultaneously in the past, present, and future.

Bang!

The next second, the confrontation between Li Hao and that Monarch Will shook all space-time.

The timeline instantly became chaotic, different world line branches and Parallel Space-Time corresponded at this moment, leading to some people who should have died living again, while some living had already died in the past.

Because the confrontation involved all space-time.

Besides Gods, only Space-Time Travelers like Feng Xi could sense this change.

[Forcefully correcting reality, drawing souls and resources from other timelines?]

[Just from this approach, you're indeed taking a gamble!]

After this brief confrontation, Li Hao finally saw where the endless materials and souls in the City of No Gods originated.

At the center of the City of Divine Abomination, in the dry well where the Divine Abomination hid.

Souls and materials from the past and future gushed forth, reaching the current era.

This desperate interference with the timeline indeed reflected the determination of that Monarch Will.

As a corrective mechanism born at the beginning of the world, the existence of Monarch Will is to hunt Gods, and complete itself.

Unfortunately, due to Li Hao's interference, Feng Xi, active at various critical nodes of different times, bit by bit weakened or even eliminated the influence of Monarch Will.

Monarch Will felt the crisis and traced the root to lock onto the current Space-Time Node.

To completely eliminate the influence from Li Hao, Monarch Will made this era the final battlefield.

Li Hao, who was prepared for this, was not surprised.

His biggest confusion now is whether this Monarch Will is truly just a corrective mechanism?

The initial Creator of this world created it to explore the "Tao of Celestial Father".

Standing with regular logic, the ultimate beneficiary of this world should be the Creator—at the very least, the Inheritor of the Creator.

Otherwise, merely allowing a corrective mechanism to hunt Gods mercilessly and supplement concepts would only breed a monster.

.....

In past space-time, ninety years ago in the City of No Gods.

"Did the timeline just change again?"

Laputa questioned, turning to Feng Xi beside him while tossing the dice in his hand.

This is a habit Laputa developed over the years, whenever facing an undecidable issue, it would use this "Maggie's Love" to decide.

Over time, Feng Xi couldn't tell whether it was witchcraft that could predict the future or just Maggie's suggestion.

"Yeah, the City of No Gods looks different from before."

The wings behind gently stirred, surrounded by Space-Time Balls.

Feng Xi was earnestly comparing changes in the timeline and its impact on this era's City of No Gods.

"There wasn't that statue there before, and there are fewer residents in the city..."

Following Feng Xi's pointing direction, Laputa saw a black and white Panda man statue erected in the city center.

That is the statue of Pixiu, the Hero who saved this city.

"I hate this feeling of timeline change..."

"In my memory, that statue always existed."

Laputa lacked Feng Xi's talent and couldn't simultaneously retain memories from before and after timeline changes.

"In your impression, is Uncle Nine currently dead or alive?"

At this time node, ninety years ago, whether Pixiu still lived was a key event.

If Pixiu remained alive, it meant the Divine Abomination born from his corpse couldn't possibly appear, changing the future.

But if he was already dead, even if his corpse was thrown into the Land of Ten Extremes, Feng Xi would have to find another way to prevent the birth of that Divine Abomination.

"Dead!"

"He died before the City of No Gods was established, in a siege by the Gods."

Laputa's answer left Feng Xi somewhat dejected, with her current power unable to interfere with that hunt initiated by the Gods.

"Seems I must start with Hundred Eyed Dragon of this era."

"What exactly happened in this era? Why did Hundred Eyed Dragon and Old Dragon eventually part ways?"

"And why was Hundred Eyed Dragon's soul ultimately forged into the core of an 'Artificial Apostle' by that Divine Abomination?"

Sighing deeply, Feng Xi took out the "Eye of Hundred Eyes" from the future from her pocket.

"Well, regarding this point, I think I might have guessed."

Gently pointing to his temple, Laputa had similar rumors and news in his memory on this World Line.

"What happened?"

Looking at Laputa delightedly, Feng Xi didn't expect this timeline change to have such unexpected gains.

"Nine Revolutions Soul Reviving Pill, recently Hundred Eyed Dragon is collecting materials to refine Nine Revolutions Soul Reviving Pill."

"But due to the city's population decrease, he had to entrust this task to outsiders like us."

Never slow-witted, Feng Xi immediately widened her eyes.

"Hundred Eyed Dragon wants to use the 'Nine Revolutions Soul Reviving Pill' to resurrect Uncle Nine and Golden Spirit?"

"Is this why Old Dragon parted ways with him?"

"How dare that madman? Doesn't he know the consequences of doing so?"

Facing the shocked and furious Feng Xi, Laputa calmly spoke.

"Maybe he thinks he might improve the formula of 'Nine Revolutions Soul Reviving Pill'."

"After all, he's always been so smart, so arrogant..."