

The Growth 686

Chapter 686 18: Supreme Tao

Disaster Realm, Earth Divine Kingdom.

Gogol, originally observing Jiufeng and the Celestial Sorrow Demon Monarch, suddenly looked up at the sky, his eyes filled with disbelief.

And the gods standing upon him could clearly perceive Gogol's body trembling.

"How is this possible!"

The tone carried an undeniable despair.

Gogol's eyes reflected the stars in the sky.

In the Disaster Realm, the stars in the sky symbolize the existence of gods; there are as many stars as there are gods.

And now, in the Disaster Realm, there are at least several million gods, so naturally, there are also millions of stars in the sky.

Yet now, those millions of stars are all shining with a brilliance far beyond that of the gods—it is truly the power of the Main God level.

The Disaster Realm has hunted countless gods through countless generations, and escaping alive like the Master of the Stars, Yami, was rarely achieved.

In most cases, the Disaster Realm successfully harvested an era of gods, then allowed the mightiest god of that era to ascend to some form of concept.

This concept, although without self-awareness, is indeed a fixed rule, but it is genuine divine power of the Main God.

At this moment, the Monarch Will that sensed the advent of the Xuan Bird projected the power of those millions of gods onto the stars, making them temporary carriers of these concepts.

Think back to when Yami escaped, the world-extinguishing calamity fire that nearly ignited the entire world.

That was merely the advent of a concept representing "flame," and it almost ended that era.

Now, with millions of such concept entities, it's no wonder Gogol felt such despair.

Not everyone can remain calm when they find out that the goal they have exhausted all means to pursue is merely a starting point.

In the face of such absolute power, Gogol suddenly felt that his previous actions were utterly clownish.

"What is that!?"

Also stunned by the power radiating from the starry sky.

The Celestial Sorrow Demon Monarch found that ever since he arrived in the Disaster Realm, everything that happened here repeatedly shattered his understanding.

—Millions of Main Gods simultaneously descending incarnations.

Such a situation is an unimaginable miracle throughout all the heavens and myriad realms.

To carry the power of millions of gods, the Disaster Realm itself is expanding and fortifying in a way that ordinary people can hardly imagine.

The Disaster Realm is already independent of all heavens and myriad realms, even creators of Li Hao's level cannot easily enter it.

Therefore, when the power of those millions of Main Gods appeared simultaneously, this world displayed a growth distinct from all heavens and myriad realms.

As if, beyond the Ascension Area and Fallen Area, the Disaster Realm has independently opened another domain.

The millions of Main God level concepts incubated through countless eras and the death of numerous gods serve as the cornerstone that supports this domain's independent existence.

"This is... the Supreme Tao!"

Despite being equally shocked by the descent of those millions of Main Gods.

Jiufeng, knowing more, exhibited unusual fanaticism at this moment.

Once a member of the Mountain and Sea Gods, although Jiufeng was not as powerful as the Xuan Bird and others, he knew the concept of "Supreme Tao."

The thirteen Celestial Fathers of all heavens and myriad realms symbolize thirteen "Supreme Taos."

Jiufeng never expected that the present Disaster Realm actually concealed a fourteenth "Supreme Tao."

Although this "Supreme Tao" is not yet perfect, the development of another dimension beyond the Ascension Area and Fallen Area already proves the feasibility of this "Supreme Tao."

[This world was indeed created to explore the possibility of becoming a Celestial Father...]

Having suspected the descent of those millions of Main Gods, Li Hao was not particularly surprised.

Because Li Hao understood that the descent of those millions of Main Gods was merely a facade.

Through the expansion of those millions of concepts and rules, the Disaster Realm gradually became another dimension distinct from the Ascension Area and Fallen Area, which is what Li Hao is currently most concerned about.

The essence of the world is the aggregation of dimensions, with different combinations of dimensions forming different worlds.

For example, the original Mountain and Sea Realm was a complex world composed of eight dimensions, nurturing flourishing life and civilization.

After Li Hao entered the Mountain and Sea Realm, he oversaw the fusion of the Netherworld with the Mountain and Sea Realm and the introduction of the Cyber Dimension, adding four more dimensions to the already complex world.

But even the complex Mountain and Sea Realm has only twelve dimensions.

And the different combinations of these twelve dimensions spawned various concepts of the Mountain and Sea Realm, making it one of the most powerful worlds in all heavens and myriad realms.

But the current Disaster Realm is even more complex in dimension composition than the Mountain and Sea Realm.

Those millions of concepts and rules are not the final purpose; they are merely the foundation for restoring and reorganizing dimensions.

As those millions of concepts collide and merge with each other, the number of dimensions born from this process momentarily exceeds Li Hao's observational scope.

And with so many dimensions directly impacting the Disaster Realm, the most obvious manifestation is that this world is expanding rapidly at a speed visible to the naked eye.

Neither the Ascension Area nor the Fallen Area...

The Disaster Realm uses the vast number of dimensions to form an independent cycle system apart from the two.

From a creator's perspective, Li Hao could not comprehend how such complex dimensions could coexist without conflict.

It is worth noting that Li Hao once attempted to introduce the Cyber Dimension into the Mountain and Sea Realm.

The result was that due to the balance of the eight dimensions, he could not directly introduce the Cyber Dimension into the Mountain and Sea Realm.

In this situation, Li Hao had no choice but to introduce the Cyber Dimension into the Netherworld, thereby indirectly increasing the Mountain and Sea Realm's dimensions.

[Is it just a completely random combination?]

Perplexed by the new dimensions continuously born from concept collisions, Li Hao felt his common knowledge breaking.

Perhaps an inappropriate analogy can be used.

From one to infinity, it's a normal number sequence.

But randomly arranging these numbers to finally piece together Pi, that's what's currently happening in the Disaster Realm.

Completely without logic, no need to consider right or wrong...

The endless concepts continuously collide violently, unraveling the essence of the universe, creating hundreds of completely different dimensions in a short span.

These different dimensions then fit together and combine, reconstructing the current Disaster Realm in this manner.
