Chapter 723 5: Fragments of Haojun's Divine Kingdom

[Fallen Area] is filled with endless stars, and more are being added every moment.

And any planet that can nurture life or even civilization in the [Fallen Area] must possess some unique traits.

Either it is remnants of powerful gods, or certain surviving races are reproducing...

When Li Hao took his parents' blood to create a third incarnation, he was mentally prepared in advance.

Even if all humans on Earth were descendants of gods, Li Hao wouldn't be too surprised.

However, Wang Shu's words still shattered Li Hao's psychological expectations.

This planet was not formed by the fall of a world in the [Ascension Area], but is one of the shards of the Divine Kingdom of the first Celestial Father·Haojun.

A long time ago, an Ancient Emperor from the Mountain and Sea Realm discovered Earth's existence and sought to explore its secrets.

Whether it was a rumor or a fact, no one knows...

Nevertheless, in the Mountain and Sea Realm, there was a legend that Earth harbors Haojun's research on the "Secret of Life and Death."

Since then, every god from the Mountain and Sea Realm who knew this legend has tried their best to die on Earth.

Be it Bai Ze, Candle Dragon...

The ancient existences from the Mountain and Sea Realm, one after another, chose Earth as their burial ground, all related to this original rumor.

Even Wang Shu, upon learning this information, chose to hide on Earth for years, hoping to find the rumored "Secret of Life and Death" to completely resurrect Bai Ze.

"The Secret of Life and Death?"

The real self of Li Hao in the [Divine Treasure Vault] gazed vacantly at the ceiling, murmuring thoughtfully.

Whether Haojun's "Secret of Life and Death" is hidden on Earth, Li Hao was unsure and dared not confirm.

But one thing Li Hao was certain of: "Earth" is special.

This peculiarity is not only because Earth nurtured life and civilization, but also because the incarnation of the [God of Chaos] briefly appeared on Earth.

The [God of Chaos] originates from an unknown civilization, serving as a tool for exploring the [Fallen Area].

Due to the interference of a powerful God of Time, the [God of Chaos] exists in the past, present, and future of various spacetime, impossible to trace to its original source.

"Could it be a coincidence?"

Along with Li Hao's thoughts, the ceiling of the [Divine Treasure Vault] suddenly twisted.

Then, to Li Hao's gaze, a chaotic and distorted Dragon Head appeared out of thin air.

The entire Dragon Head was composed of countless fierce Evil Dragons.

Each Evil Dragon vividly writhes its body, giving off an indescribable terror.

Occasionally, these vividly alive Evil Dragons would break free from their bodies, poking their heads out to showcase their vitality.

And the visage of this twisted Dragon Head is not symmetrical.

The left side has three eyes, blood-red like an Evil Ghost, while the right side holds an eye as merciful as a Saint.

The four eyes come from four different Evil Dragons, each rotating with its own will, gazing in different directions.

Combined with the asymmetrical structure, it strips one's sanity at first glance.

——Chaos Incarnation: Chaos Dragon!

"God of Gods?"

Sensing the upheaval of the incarnation, Hua She, who was engrossed in the [Civilization Game], immediately awakened.

Her first glance upon raising her head was at Li Hao's Chaos Dragon Incarnation.

To be honest, whether it was due to repulsion from its menacing form or unease with the special group of the "God of Chaos," Hua She didn't like this Chaos Dragon.

Even though one of the countless Evil Dragons composing this Chaos Dragon was Hua She's own incarnation.

Of course, it wasn't just Hua She who disliked the Chaos Dragon; even Li Hao himself didn't frequently use this Chaos Incarnation.

Most of the time, this Chaos Incarnation hid within the crevices of time, exchanging intelligence with other Chaos Gods of different spacetime.

"Are you planning to attend the 'God of Chaos' meeting this time?"

The Chaos Gods traversing spacetime hold a meeting at intervals.

Li Hao didn't participate in every meeting, but once he did, it indicated that something significant was about to happen.

"Yes, I just learned some secrets and now need to verify them."

Even before Li Hao finished speaking, the twisted Chaos Dragon swiftly departed from the [Divine Treasure Vault].

Meanwhile, the perspectives of Li Hao and Hua She appeared in the crevices of time, moving against the current towards the Chaos Space-Time where the Gods of Chaos reside.

Boom!

Still maintaining that indescribable high-dimensional state, still hidden by spacetime vortexes and shattered worlds is that space.

When the Chaos Dragon descended here again, the thrones of thirteen supreme Chaos Gods emerged one by one.

Without any hesitation, the Chaos Dragon coiled onto its throne, concealing its form with spacetime vortexes and world fragments.

Opposite the Chaos Dragon, the other twelve supreme Chaos Gods slowly opened their eyes.

"Has the vacant seat been filled so quickly?"

"This is much faster than I expected!"

Glancing at the positions once belonging to Brahma Heaven and Poxun, the Chaos Dragon's voice was deep and hoarse, as if multiple sources were speaking simultaneously.

"Which spacetime do you come from?"

With undisguised malice, the Chaos Dragon cast a menacing gaze at those two unfamiliar Chaos Gods.

The Chaos God sitting in Brahma Heaven's former position was a rotten entity composed of countless decaying flesh.

The festering masses were continuously decaying and regenerating, even emitting a faint stench.

By contrast, the Chaos God replacing Poxun seemed far more normal.

It was an alien mechanical entity.

Metal carapaces enveloped its entire body, with various scanning devices unabashedly surveying this broken dimension.

"Spacetime?"

"So this is another spacetime?"

The alien mechanical entity was clearly new, its cold mechanical voice betraying a hint of realization.

If not for maintaining its aloof and cruel persona, Chaos Dragon almost couldn't hold its composure.

[This guy is too naive, right?]

Among so many Chaos Gods the Chaos Dragon had encountered, this was the most naive.

A single sentence betrayed not only its ignorance but also exposed its vulnerable side.

"Don't reveal too much of your information."

At this moment, the Bronze Divine Tree spoke proactively.

Just like the goodwill shown to Li Hao initially.

The Bronze Divine Tree's words timely halted the other Chaos Gods' probing of the alien mechanical entity.

"Hmph, I'm not very interested in such naive beings."

Without any expression, the Chaos Dragon glanced at the Bronze Divine Tree and maintained its persona.

"In any case, with such naive behavior, it probably won't be long before being replaced by other gods."

Concluding the future of the alien mechanical entity in a single sentence, the Chaos Dragon turned its gaze toward the other Chaos Gods.

"You have tried to probe my background, so this time I won't hide."

"I come from the era after Haojun's disappearance; if any of you have information related to Haojun, I am willing to pay a high price for an exchange."
