Chapter 729 11: Helium Flash Fusion

In the All Heavens and Myriad Realms, the definition of "Life" is very broad.

As long as it is an "open system" capable of basic energy metabolism, it can be regarded as one form of life.

Specifically, the concept of "organism" refers to an individual who can respond to external stimuli and possesses reproductive desires and abilities.

From this perspective, Demon Vanquishing Seven is obviously not an organism.

However, the problem now is that although Demon Vanquishing Seven does not have reproduction desires and abilities, the instructions written into its logical base by the Mountain and Sea People have given it an "instinct of motherhood" extremely similar to that of organisms.

"Maternal love" derives from reproductive desires and is a biological protective instinct towards offspring.

Although Demon Vanquishing Seven lacks true "maternal love," it can go to any lengths to protect the "victims" in its instructions.

Especially after being forcibly invaded by unknown code, the instruction to "rescue victims" has already overridden all underlying logic in Demon Vanquishing Seven.

Even if its opponent is a true Immortal, Demon Vanquishing Seven, which has broken inherent logic, dares to launch a counterattack.

Ka... ka... ka...

The entire structure transformed into the appearance of an alien mechanical structure.

Sinister barrels extended from the body of Demon Vanquishing Seven.

By heavily compressing solar particles, the emitted light cannon instantly covered an area of several hundred kilometers.

Swoosh—Boom!

Realizing the danger, Shu Hai dared not be careless at all.

Nimbly dodging among the seemingly endless light cannons, he was like a "mosquito" under bombardment.

"I hate this feeling..."

Veins burst out from his body, and with a wave, Shu Hai made a fierce wind transform into a giant spirit to attack Demon Vanquishing Seven.

Were it not for the massive explosion earlier that destroyed all surrounding material, Shu Hai's attack methods would not have been so scarce.

"Attack method recognition... Exorcism..."

"Response strategy adjustment... Wind Stasis..."

Wind is a natural phenomenon caused by air flow, and the giant spirit born from a storm cannot escape this principle.

Therefore, when Demon Vanquishing Seven quickly adjusted the transforming module.

By releasing the surplus solar particles from its body in one go, forming a massive static magnetic field, everything instantly fell into silence.

Whoosh!

Within this enormous magnetic field, air flow was prohibited.

And once air flow was prohibited, the giant spirit formed by the storm naturally dissipated.

"This..."

Witnessing this scene with his own eyes, Shu Hai widened his mouth in shock, momentarily at a loss for words.

Shu Hai had considered countless ways for Demon Vanquishing Seven to resolve his attacks, but he never expected its method to be so... scientific?

"Those mad Skeletons actually classified this technology as a 'rescue method'?"

Taking a moment to sneer, Shu Hai suddenly pressed one of the light cannons fired at him with one hand.

Fizzle fizzle fizzle...

In an instant, Shu Hai's palm emitted a scorched smell from being burned.

However, possessing an Immortal Body, Shu Hai was unconcerned and once again used Exorcism and Spirit-Controlling Techniques.

—Exorcism and Spirit-Controlling Techniques-Sun Giant Spirit!

In an instant, a giant spirit composed of solar particles reappeared, and without hesitation, aimed its cannons back at its original master.

—Everything has a spirit, and everything is at my command.

This is the most mysterious and terrifying aspect of the Exorcism and Spirit-Controlling Techniques.

A cultivator mastering this magic to its extreme can ensure their combat ability under any extreme war conditions.

Thus, in the subsequent rounds of engagement, Demon Vanquishing Seven and Shu Hai commenced a back-and-forth attack and defense battle.

Boom! Boom! Boom!

Every time Shu Hai used an attack ability, Demon Vanquishing Seven would morph to counter it.

And every countermeasure by Demon Vanquishing Seven would ultimately be utilized by Shu Hai, turning into a new form of attack.

As they engaged in back-and-forth exchanges, in just a few moments, they had clashed no less than hundreds of times, with a myriad of magical combat abilities continuously emerging.

Shu Hai relied on his Immortal Body and the battle wit and experience accumulated over many years.

While Demon Vanquishing Seven, using the transforming module and data hub, always found a targeted way to thwart Shu Hai's offensive.

"I can't keep going like this..."

After reorganizing his body once again, Shu Hai realized the severity of the situation.

At every moment, the "collapse state" in the high-temperature area was ongoing.

And as the main body of this collapse—Demon Vanquishing Seven—was like a limitless machine, absorbing and assimilating solar particles endlessly with its mighty body.

Shu Hai could hardly imagine what would happen once Demon Vanquishing Seven absorbed all the solar particles.

Would it be like another world, turning into a world-engulfing inferno and vanishing?

Or by virtue of the powerful performance of Demon Vanquishing Seven's own body, become a walking "Sun God" on earth?

"It shouldn't be that bad, right?"

With a sudden shake of his head, Shu Hai negated his pessimistic speculation.

Without understanding the nature of the abnormal high-temperature area, any situation could potentially occur.

Boom! Boom! Boom!

Shu Hai pondered, but his battle with Demon Vanquishing Seven did not cease.

After another few rounds of engagements, Shu Hai's figure suddenly became ethereal, finally vanishing like a bubble from the scanning range of Demon Vanquishing Seven.

"Detected abnormal energy state..."

"Performing data characteristic comparison..."

Quickly accessing its internal database, Demon Vanquishing Seven attempted to figure out what this was all about, then locate Shu Hai's true form.

"After all, it's just a machine!"

Silently, Shu Hai's figure reappeared, and this time, he appeared directly above Demon Vanquishing Seven.

The next moment, Shu Hai suddenly struck down toward Demon Vanquishing Seven.

Boom!!!

At the instant Shu Hai launched his palm strike, the surrounding solar particles suddenly went frenzy.

It was as if a second sun had suddenly appeared, with a massive mushroom cloud rising immediately, engulfing both Shu Hai and Demon Vanquishing Seven within it.

—To use the other's method against them!

In fact, every seasoned warrior would never halt their attack due to Shu Hai's sudden disappearance but instead become more vigilant of their opponent's next assault.

However, no matter how powerful Demon Vanquishing Seven was, it remained a mechanical structure.

Demon Vanquishing Seven only analyzed already occurring information and intelligence, incapable of defending against sudden and unknown attack methods like Shu Hai's.

Let alone, Shu Hai was pulling no tricks this time.

He first usurped control over the solar particles through Exorcism and Spirit-Controlling Techniques.

Then instantly transformed them into a real solar detonation.
