

The Growth 733

Chapter 733 15: Mother of Sun and Moon

"Are you Xi He?"

The enormous body of the Winged Serpent God coiled in mid-air, and the appearance of Hua She added another sun to this world.

The rise in temperature brought by the dual suns did not, however, burden this world as it might in others.

On the contrary, all the active Elves of this world raised their heads to gaze at the sky, greedily absorbing the light of this sun from beyond.

In just a few breaths, many Fire Spirits were influenced by Hua She, evolving into a completely new form similar to the Winged Serpent.

Honestly, Hua She had never imagined that a world made entirely of flame could be so wondrous.

The fiery winged serpents born under her influence were naturally her followers.

Hua She felt that with just a slight thought, she could plant her belief within that group of fiery winged serpents.

This was a gift from the Supreme Fire God, a boon to attract other gods possessing the "Flame Power" to reside permanently in this world.

[This Supreme God is truly generous...]

It was unclear whether this thought originated from Hua She herself or was influenced by Li Hao.

But Hua She had to admit that she was indeed a bit tempted.

If not for Hua She having already become the sun of the Mountain and Sea Realm, this flame-constructed world would be the most suitable for her growth and advancement.

"Are you the new sun of the Mountain and Sea Realm?"

Xi He stared at the near Hua She, her expression equally complex and inscrutable.

In terms of individual strength, Hua She was not stronger than Xi He, let alone comparable to the Supreme Sun incarnated as Di Jun.

But Hua She's backing was absurdly strong.

Even the Supreme Fire God who harbored them was unwilling to sever ties over personal matters.

In this situation, Xi He could only rely on her eloquence to persuade Li Hao.

In fact, Xi He had no confidence in this, but for the sake of her children, she had to do it.

"Let's get straight to the point! I don't like to waste words."

Without answering Xi He's question, Hua She spoke openly.

"You brought a Supreme God back to the Mountain and Sea Realm this time, what are you planning to do?"

"If the God of Gods hadn't confirmed that you had no hostile intent, your actions would have already provoked the Mountain and Sea Gods' attacks."

Although Hua She's words contained an element of intimidation, they also stated a fact.

In any world, any civilization, the "Guiding Party" is absolutely unwelcome.

In terms of hatred, the "Guiding Party" is even more despised and loathed than the "Invader", a presence that is to be exterminated.

"I am here to find my children..."

After a brief silence, Xi He spoke softly.

Based on Xi He's normally irritable nature, she would never reveal such a weak side to outsiders.

However, aside from being the irritable "Sun Emperor", Xi He was also a mother.

Faced with her children whose fates were unknown, and in need of the Creator's help, Xi He portrayed herself as a gentle mother.

"Are you referring to... the Golden Crows?"

Hua She's eyebrow raised, having already been informed of the details by Li Hao.

"Not just the Golden Crows, but also the Jade Rabbits."

Gently shaking her head, Xi He's children were never only the Golden Crows.

The twelve months born of Di Jun and Chang Xi were also regarded by Xi He as her own.

"Can the Jade Rabbits also be resurrected?"

Now it was Hua She's turn to be shocked.

According to the current observations of the Mountain and Sea Civilization, there were indeed ten worlds, including the Mountain and Sea Realm, displaying "abnormally high temperature phenomena".

But apart from this, the Mountain and Sea Civilization had discovered no other anomalies.

"The Moon Rabbits differ from the Golden Crows; they are the shadow side of the world, and the anomalies during their resurrection are far less... grand."

After hesitating, Xi He finally decided to use the neutral word "grand" to describe the destruction caused during the Golden Crows' resurrection.

"However, this does not mean the destructive nature of the Moon Rabbits is lesser than that of the Golden Crows."

Seeing the somewhat bewildered Hua She, Xi He further explained.

"The Golden Crows' rebirth requires extreme high temperatures and hosts, and during the time before rebirth, they are without consciousness..."

"But the Moon Rabbits are different; they only need to lurk in the shadow side of creatures to gradually complete the rebirth ceremony."

"Most importantly, the Moon Rabbits possess ancestral memories and know how to hide themselves."

At this point, Hua She finally understood Xi He's meaning.

"You mean, those Moon Rabbits hold grudges? And they might retaliate against the current Mountain and Sea Civilization?"

The Jade Rabbits remember the great battle of the past, and they know exactly who killed Di Jun.

If any Jade Rabbit were to be reborn in the Mountain and Sea Realm, seeking revenge for their father would almost be a given.

This was the fundamental reason Xi He hastened to the Mountain and Sea Realm so urgently.

She feared arriving too late, that the Moon Rabbits would join the Golden Crows in causing chaos, ultimately provoking the Creator to take action personally.

With Di Jun as a precedent, Xi He had no doubt about the Creator's ability to kill the Golden Crows and Jade Rabbits.

No, it wouldn't even require the Creator to act personally...

Given the abilities shown by the Mountain and Sea Civilization and the Mountain and Sea Gods, imprisoning and eliminating her children would not be questionable.

"Yes, the Jade Rabbits are my sister's children, and they have similar natures to my sister."

"Each appears gentle and serene but is actually stubborn and impulsive."

With a helpless wry smile, Xi He successfully made Hua She realize the severity of the issue.

If the twelve hidden Main Gods intend to stir trouble...

Without the Creator's personal intervention, the current Mountain and Sea Civilization might indeed struggle to quickly resolve it.

"Do you have a way to find those Moon Rabbits?"

Upon hearing Hua She's inquiry, Xi He hesitantly nodded.

"I can find them, but it will take some time..."

.....

[With ancestral memories, the Jade Rabbits, are they?]

Listening with interest to Xi He and Hua She's conversation, the omnipresent Li Hao then refocused his gaze on a part of the Mountain and Sea Realm.

It was a settlement of the Hundred Races of Mountains and Seas – a small, futuristic city.

At this moment, a humanoid toad flickering with electric light was arduously training in a park within the city.

Under the moonlight, the shadow of this humanoid toad faintly resembled a rabbit.

With each swing of the humanoid toad's arm, the rabbit shape of its shadow became increasingly clear.

Unbeknownst to anyone, a surge of moon essence qi was flowing into its body, aiding the humanoid toad in rapid growth and transformation.
