

The Growth 736

Chapter 736 18: City Guardian

Almost at the very moment Xi He's incarnation descended.

"Mother!?"

Gu Tu, bathed in the moonlight, suddenly materialized, emitting a sound in the truest sense.

As Chan Meng, the host of Gu Tu, instantly reacted, it saw its shadow suddenly transformed into a tall rabbit figure upon turning its head.

The rabbit had a humanoid shape, its limbs robust to a somewhat terrifying degree.

Compared to this humanoid rabbit, the rotund and tall Chan Meng seemed unexpectedly frail.

"What are you doing!?"

With a touch of terror and a hint of panic...

Chan Meng never expected that the Jade Rabbit within would so brazenly reveal its true form.

It must be noted, this was at the city center, the stronghold of the Mountain and Sea Civilization.

"..."

Returning to its senses from the surprise, Gu Tu clearly realized its recklessness.

Upon sensing Xi He's presence, Gu Tu almost forgot where it was.

In any world, the allure of a descending deity would not be much less than that of the highest divine artifact.

Let alone, this world's civilization still lacked reverence for ordinary deities.

The thought of falling into their hands turned Gu Tu's previous delight into fear.

Whew!

The thought became reality.

Chan Meng and Gu Tu barely had any time to respond effectively before a gust swept from the sky.

It was the wind stirred by the wings of a giant creature, a herald of the city's guardian — MinAseerpentg She appearing.

Whew!

In the current Mountain and Sea Civilization, MinAseerpentg She and Canglong were undeniably the city guardians.

In any cluster of city-sized cities, there is a significant number of MinAseerpentg She and Canglong patrolling day and night, maintaining order.

These City Guards are not only inherently strong Ascenders.

They have also undergone various advanced technological modifications, implanted with combat implants possessing great strength.

In terms of combat ability, the elites among them can even rival top-level martial demigods.

"Suspicious individuals below, you have triggered a 'Level D Alert'..."

"I now suspect you have an unregulated hazardous implant, which could possibly cause significant destruction to this city..."

"Your every move is recorded by the 'Celestial Eye,' please refrain from any action that might cause misunderstanding."

"If you have special needs, you can report them directly to me, I will consider accommodating them."

The giant wings stirred the gusts, its massive body descended from the sky...

What appeared before Chan Meng and Gu Tu at this moment was a MinAseerpentg She with wings spanning twenty to thirty meters.

Its entire body was encased in a layer of special implant armor, appearing as if it were implanted with a complete set of metal battle armor.

Especially those wings that covered the sky, metallic components used for perception were clearly visible.

Just by looking from afar, a sense of shock and fear unconsciously surged within Chan Meng's heart.

However, before Chan Meng could explain, Gu Tu, having already realized the crisis, acted first.

Bam!

The legs suddenly stomped, a network of dense cracks instantly spread over an area of several dozen meters...

Even the specially reinforced pavement of the Mountain and Sea Civilization could not withstand Gu Tu's earth-shaking leap.

By utilizing this recoil, Gu Tu quickly approached the opponent before MinAseerpentg She could react.

Zoom—Boom!

Like a cannonball out of the chamber.

Adding impact to Gu Tu's own explosive power, the unprepared MinAseerpentg She was kicked out in an instant.

Crack...

The metal battle armor on its surface shattered instantly, and its body soared to the sky, piercing through the clouds.

The bewildered MinAseerpentg She only felt its vision blur.

The city beneath its feet quickly receded, only able to see that cunning rabbit diving in the opposite direction.

"Detected an abnormal individual, unable to determine if they possess illegal implants!"

"Comparing biological data, found no similar race in the database, suspected to be a foreigner from an Exotic Realm!"

"Danger level medium, possesses extremely strong jumping and running ability..."

"Unclear about its destructiveness, advising evacuation of the surrounding populace!"

Immediately uploading Gu Tu's information to the central network, MinAseerpentg She simultaneously sent its current coordinates to nearby colleagues.

"Additionally, there's an individual from the Golden Toad Race together with the abnormal individual..."

"Named Chan Meng, in growth phase, non-Ascender status..."

"Upon comparing biological data, a shadow anomaly was found, and an unusually active Moon Essence Energy was detected inside."

"Low danger level, advising notification to the Prophet of the Golden Toad Race for handling."

Taking one last glance at the stunned Chan Meng, MinAseerpentg She then resolutely charged toward Gu Tu.

Compared to the low-danger Chan Meng, Gu Tu, who might cause significant destruction to the city, was MinAseerpentg She's immediate concern.

As for how Chan Meng was involved with Gu Tu?

Whether Chan Meng deliberately hid information related to Gu Tu?

Whether the relationship between the two was voluntary or coerced?

These were matters for the prophets and high judges of the Golden Toad Race to consider.

As a frontline City Guard, MinAseerpentg She's task now was to quickly capture the rabbit who might cause significant destruction to the city.

Whew!

The vast wings whipped up a gust, sending dozens of small drones flying out...

These small drones are external implants directly connected to the brain-computer, not only aiding MinAseerpentg She in detecting situations it can't observe, but capable of independent combat when necessary.

Working with MinAseerpentg She's abilities, they almost allow it to monitor most of the urban area single-handedly.

Thus, no matter how Gu Tu maneuvered, how she hid and evaded, she was unable to escape MinAseerpentg She's pursuit.

In fact, Gu Tu was not only unable to evade MinAseerpentg She's pursuit.

Instead, as more MinAseerpentg She and Canglong joined, her situation became increasingly perilous.

"..."

Speechless at the events occurring within these few short seconds, Chan Meng remained silent for a long time.

Gu Tu had suddenly created such a commotion.

Realizing it even as a fool, Chan Meng knew that trouble as a 'Protector' was imminent.

"Chan Meng!"

When a slightly elderly voice suddenly sounded through the communicator by Chan Meng's ear.

Chan Meng was first startled, then quickly realized the identity of the caller.

"Prophet Old Dad?"

With a slight timidity, lowering its voice, Chan Meng racked its brains contemplating how to defend itself.

"Come to the Guard Hall immediately! I'm waiting for you here!"

Suppressing the anger in the tone, the Prophet of the Golden Toad Race ordered without doubt.
