

The Growth 738

Chapter 738 20: Little Golden Crow·You Wen

Although the process was somewhat different.

The Golden Crow on the other side was finally willing to follow Shu Hai and Duo Mu out of the protected area, thanks to the appeasement by Xi He's incarnation.

Meanwhile, Shu Hai and Duo Mu learned the name of this Golden Crow from Xi He's incarnation—You Wen.

He is the youngest brother among the ten Golden Crows, with the most immature mind and personality.

Unfortunately, before Shu Hai and Duo Mu could continue their inquiry, attempting to extract more information about the Little Golden Crow from Xi He's incarnation.

Xi He's incarnation reverted to a golden feather due to exhausting her power.

Xi He's incarnation was manifested with Li Hao's approval and borrowed Hua She's power.

Now that her mission has been completed, Hua She certainly couldn't allow her to remain in the Mountain and Sea Realm.

Subsequently, Shu Hai and Duo Mu witnessed the golden feather merge into Demon Vanquishing Seven's body, restoring its vitality.

"So, is Demon Vanquishing Seven now considered an incarnation of the gods?"

With a peculiar expression, Feng Rong turned and asked Shu Hai while scrutinizing Demon Vanquishing Seven before them.

As for Duo Mu?

He had long been eagerly eyeing both the Little Golden Crow and Demon Vanquishing Seven.

If it weren't for the Little Golden Crow seeming ready to go berserk at any moment, Duo Mu might have already tried to touch them.

Even so, facing Duo Mu's eager demeanor, the Little Golden Crow dared not let down his guard.

"Probably not..."

Shu Hai shook his head hesitantly, giving a light slap to the back of Duo Mu's head before looking at Demon Vanquishing Seven and speaking.

"The current Demon Vanquishing Seven still acts only according to a fixed program."

As if to prove Shu Hai's words.

The hovering Demon Vanquishing Seven suddenly turned around and spoke with its mechanical voice.

"According to Mountain and Sea Civilization's definition of 'Artificial Intelligence', I, Xiao Qi, conducted a self-check on my program, and do not meet the criteria for 'Artificial Intelligence'."

"If the self-check is unsatisfactory, I suggest customers submit feedback and requests to the 'Demon Vanquishing Series·Engineering Headquarters' for re-evaluation by professionals."

"Additionally, Xiao Qi solemnly reminds everyone..."

"Xiao Qi belongs to the 'Demon Vanquishing Series·Engineering Headquarters' of Mountain and Sea Civilization, and arbitrary damage and destruction will not only require compensation at full price but also face confinement and imprisonment of over a hundred years."

Shrugging slightly, Shu Hai said helplessly.

"Well, that's the situation..."

"Do you think we should notify members of the 'Demon Vanquishing Series·Engineering Headquarters' to check?"

At this moment, a flame suddenly ignited out of thin air and turned into a humanoid figure beside Feng Rong.

"Ahem, umm... I am one of the developers of Demon Vanquishing Seven..."

A bit embarrassedly, the Flame Race hesitantly explained in a low voice.

"And, I didn't mean to hide from you guys..."

"I actually quite like you Immortals... I just have some..."

Before the Flame Race could finish its words, Feng Rong replaced it to say the next words in the surprised gaze of Shu Hai and Duo Mu.

"It just has social anxiety, afraid to interact with unfamiliar people."

Glancing around at the Mountain and Sea People, Duo Mu could tell from their accustomed expressions that Feng Rong was indeed not lying.

"Social anxiety?"

"The Flame-Scorned Clan has social anxiety?"

The Flame-Scorned Clan is one of the rare pure elemental species in the Mountain and Sea Realm, known for its irritable temperament and penchant for fighting.

To be honest, it was Duo Mu's first time seeing a member of the Flame-Scorned Clan appearing in a clerk profession and having severe social anxiety.

"Stay on topic!"

"The current priority is to check the core data of Demon Vanquishing Seven."

Giving Duo Mu another slap on the back of the head, Shu Hai grumpily brought the topic back.

Though among the Immortal group, going off-topic and having divergent thinking are quite common phenomena.

Yet everything has its priority, and Shu Hai did not want unexpected troubles to arise from procrastination.

.....

With Shu Hai's appeasement, the process of extracting Demon Vanquishing Seven's core data went smoothly.

Although the Little Golden Crow displayed a very reluctant attitude, he seemed to understand that this would not cause any substantial harm to Demon Vanquishing Seven.

Thus, after a series of twists and turns, they finally obtained all the footage and information of Demon Vanquishing Seven's entry into the "Abnormal High Temperature Area".

Unexpected yet predictable, the Little Golden Crow did not voluntarily choose to parasitize Demon Vanquishing Seven.

During the rebirth of the Golden Crow, solar particles and heat are constantly emitted outward.

Then these solar particles continuously transform various substances in the native world, accumulating enough heat waiting for rebirth.

Until a host capable of embodying the Golden Crow enters the "Abnormal High Temperature Area", it becomes the incubation bed for the Little Golden Crow's growth.

In theory, Demon Vanquishing Seven cannot possibly be recognized as a host by the Golden Crow.

Because the choice of host for the Golden Crow determines the future growth potential of the Little Golden Crow.

This potential is not merely reflected in abilities but also greatly influences the future personality traits of the Little Golden Crow.

A battle-ready host will make the Little Golden Crow aggressive, while a gentle host will make the Little Golden Crow gentle...

Without intelligence and emotion, Demon Vanquishing Seven seems impossible to be chosen as a host by the Golden Crow.

Yet Demon Vanquishing Seven detected life signals shortly after entering the core area.

Though it sounds incredible.

As the highest crystallization of wisdom in Mountain and Sea Civilization—Demon Vanquishing Seven, designated for reconnaissance and rescue, can even detect the existence of high-dimensional life across dimensions.

This was originally a "beta function" for testing, additionally installed on Demon Vanquishing Seven by developers.

However, this function ultimately became key for Demon Vanquishing Seven's discovery of the Golden Crow.

Since then, Demon Vanquishing Seven has been circling within the "Abnormal High Temperature Area", collecting scattered life signals and storing them within its transforming module.

Indeed, this is the main reason why Demon Vanquishing Seven has remained largely uncontacted.

After collecting all life signals, Little Golden Crow·You Wen naturally was reborn within it.

Due to premature rebirth, Little Golden Crow·You Wen was innately deficient, a being destined for early demise.

Under normal circumstances, Little Golden Crow·You Wen would, like his brothers in other worlds, derive another "Abnormal High Temperature Area".

Thus, cycles continuously repeat and accumulate until sufficient power and conditions for a complete rebirth are garnered.
