

The Growth 751

Chapter 751 9: The Unreliable Wishing Lamp

No one knows when it began, but suddenly, legends about the "Divine Lamp" started to spread across the Mountain and Sea Realm.

Initially, these stories only circulated among the Gods, but over time they gradually spread throughout the entire Mountain and Sea Civilization.

Thanks to the powerful information exchange network of the Mountain and Sea Civilization, even in the most remote regions, people had heard of the legend of the "Divine Lamp."

According to legend, the Divine Lamp was originally a divine artifact created by the Creator to illuminate the darkness.

However, after the Winged Serpent God returned to his place and dispelled the darkness of the Mountain and Sea Realm, that Divine Lamp was abandoned by the Creator.

For reasons unknown, the Divine Lamp eventually ended up in the Mountain and Sea Realm.

Anyone who can find this Lamp can summon the genie within it and have any three wishes fulfilled.

"Doesn't this sound ridiculous? Would anyone actually believe it?"

Lazily lying on the front desk of his own museum, Tianyou turned his head to look at Shuli next to him and asked.

"It is quite ridiculous, but indeed some people believe it,"

Carefully polishing the bronze lamp in his hand, Shuli said without even lifting his eyelids.

"The Divine Lamp they're talking about wouldn't happen to be the one in your hand, would it?"

Suspiciously examining the bronze lamp in Shuli's hand, Tianyou felt that his companion had left something unsaid.

Considering that Shuli was an Immortal with a notoriously wicked personality and various prior offenses, Tianyou wasn't surprised by his own suspicions.

The only ones who could make Shuli act obediently were the Great Prophet of the Immortal and his foster mother, A Li.

"Take a guess!"

Pausing his actions for a moment, Shuli glanced at Tianyou.

"Guess, guess, guess! What am I supposed to guess?"

"At a time like this, you're still playing riddles with it?"

With a swift kick, A Li burst through the inner room door, storming out with a flustered expression.

"The legends about the Divine Lamp are true, and there are far more than just one such lamp..."

Those words left Tianyou wide-eyed with astonishment.

"What? Such an outrageous legend is actually true?"

Tianyou glanced at Shuli and found that he did not deny it.

On the contrary, Shuli simply chuckled and wiped the bronze lamp in his hand, from which a wisp of pale blue smoke wafted out.

"How many times do I have to say it? Your wishes are beyond my capabilities!"

"If you really want to make such absurd wishes, why don't you go find a stronger genie?"

"I'm just an ordinary genie who prefers normal working hours!"

With obvious discontent, the blue smoke transformed into a female genie.

Her entire form exuded a blue hue, but only the upper half of her body was visible, accentuating her graceful figure with billowing blue smoke concealing key areas.

"..."

Staring blankly at the female genie, Tianyou was at a loss for words.

In contrast, Shuli, accustomed to the genie's complaints, nonchalantly cleaned his ears before stating his purpose for summoning her.

"I just want you to give my kid a simple introduction..."

"After all, it's one thing to hear it from me, another to hear it from an actual participant."

With Shuli's reminder, the female genie finally noticed the dazed Tianyou beside her.

"Huh? That's your kid?"

"It's true that hearing is not as good as seeing!"

"You never mentioned that your child possesses a genuine Epic Level Divine Artifact!"

Instantly seeing through Tianyou's trump card, the female genie's eyes lit up.

The Epic Level Divine Artifact she referred to was, of course, Tianyou's [Ring of Dominion].

It was truly the Heavenly Father's Treasure, the Supreme Divine Artifact of the Sun Hunter, Ra.

The bearer not only has dominion over twelve Main Gods but also these Main Gods are indestructible Immortal Gods.

"Child, give me that ring, and I will grant you any wish!"

"How about this deal?"

Tianyou had no time to utter a single word.

A Li quickly stepped forward and decisively flicked the bronze lamp.

"Don't trick the kid, the child is already a bit dim-witted, and if they get dumber, it'll be troublesome."

Even though she flicked the bronze lamp, the female genie clutched her head as if in pain.

Unfortunately, having suffered many setbacks from A Li, the female genie was too frightened to speak against her.

"What's going on here?"

It wasn't until then that Tianyou slowly regained his senses and asked.

"This is how it is..."

"The legends about the Divine Lamp are true, and similar lamps have appeared throughout the Mountain and Sea Realm."

"If you're still vacationing here, I estimate you'll hear much more than just rumors about Divine Lamps..."

Perplexed once again, Tianyou detected an ominous undertone in A Li's words.

"Do you mean... someone will find these Divine Lamps and make haphazard wishes?"

"Hold on, can these genies really fulfill any wish? And unconditionally at that?"

Speaking the last sentence, Tianyou couldn't help but cast his eyes on the female genie.

At this moment, the female genie was still holding her head, like A Li had genuinely struck her.

"As incredible as it sounds, that's the reality."

Sighing helplessly, A Li nodded in affirmation.

"According to the intelligence we've gathered, genies within the Divine Lamps can indeed fulfill the holder's wishes within a certain range."

"Except for this useless one, most of them will proactively guide the holder to realize their wishes..."

"As for the methods and types of wish fulfillment, it largely depends on the genie's preferences and nature."

Upon hearing A Li call her "useless," the female genie immediately straightened up to retort.

"Who's useless?"

"I simply refuse to serve holders unconditionally!"

"If you and Shuli are willing to exchange some of your treasures, see if I can't fulfill your wishes!"

Shrugging slightly at Tianyou, A Li didn't counter the female genie's claim.

"See, this is the nature of this 'useless' genie."

"As long as you're ready to pay an adequate price, she can help you realize your wishes."

"Among the known types of Divine Lamps, she's considered a rather well-behaved genie..."

"At the very least, she won't maliciously twist your wishes and fulfill them in a way you'd absolutely despise."