

The Growth 756

Chapter 756 14: The Descent of the Spring God!

[Your third wish was to survive?]

Gently stroking the tip of the massive beast's nose, Dongjun had already completely figured out why the other party had transformed into this current form.

The third wish made by the girl was indeed realized by the Genie of the Divine Lamp for her.

Even though she transformed into a completely malformed monster during the metamorphosis...

Even though her body had entirely decayed into an indescribable mass of flesh and blood...

The girl's soul was still trapped within this body, and she would live forever in this state.

Decayed flesh, withered bones...

Regardless of what the girl would eventually become, she would continue to live.

[Yes! All of this is my own doing...]

The beast's lament still echoed within the Void Layer, her tone filled with a pleading meaning.

[Merciful gods! Please kill me!]

[I am in so much pain right now, I beg you to release me!]

Even though the flesh was decayed, the soul remained trapped within the body.

With the girl's will alone, she simply could not endure this pain, the despair she experienced could not be quantified by any measure.

"..."

Watching the girl struggle in pain and despair, Dongjun did not immediately give a response.

Instead, after understanding the girl's current state from a higher dimension, Dongjun found that he was fundamentally incapable of killing the girl.

Of course, if it came at the cost of annihilating the girl's soul, Dongjun, as a god, could still kill her.

But the problem was, Dongjun simply could not bring himself to destroy the girl's soul.

The girl might indeed have made the wrong choice, but it did not deserve to cost her soul annihilation.

"Don't worry, I will save you."

With a solemn expression, Dongjun promised the girl, a faint blue-green light emanating from his hand.

In the next instant, the beast's howling seemed to gradually subside, and those eyes that continuously oozed pus slowly closed.

Since becoming a massive beast, the girl hadn't had a decent sleep for a long time.

Tormented by pain and despair, the girl fell into a deep sleep under Dongjun's soothing.

The storm barrier that originally enveloped the top of the Void Layer also gradually dissipated with the slumber of the massive beast.

Because that storm barrier was originally created by the massive beast to prevent her power from affecting the outside world.

When the beast slept, the storm barrier naturally disappeared.

In fact, with the sleep of the beast, not only did the storm barrier undergo a change.

The visibly decaying power corroded the ground and quickly surged toward the surface above the storm barrier.

Zzzzz...

In less than a breath's time, the corrupted stones turned into powder and fell.

Fortunately, Dongjun was prepared for this.

"Hoo!"

Dongjun suddenly took a deep breath.

A warm and gentle force appeared in the Void Layer, akin to a newborn morning sun.

Swoosh!

Under this warm and gentle atmosphere, the decaying power retreated immediately as if encountering its nemesis.

Forget about continuing to radiate outward, even the original decay power of the Void Layer was dispelled.

Sprouts began to grow in the Void Layer, and a budding spring greenery spread outward from Dongjun.

——Arrival of the Spring God, Everything Revives!

At the edge of Yunmeng Marsh, in a secluded grotto pool.

"I finally found you!"

Almost as the beast fell into slumber, the waters of the grotto pool suddenly boiled.

Accompanied by the boiling waters, a humanoid figure slowly emerged from the pool.

Bathed in dripping blood, the exposed muscles and veins inspired a sense of abnormal terror...

This figure emerging from the grotto pool was none other than Nagisa, a metamorphosis species individual who had completed three transformations.

"Feng Sheng, I will find you!"

"No matter where you hide, I will eventually find you!"

The deep voice was filled with a frightening persistence.

Nagisa slowly raised her right hand, exposing the bone lamp to the air.

Though she had acquired the divine lamp, Nagisa didn't know how to use it, let alone summon the genie residing within.

Thus, to conveniently study the divine lamp, Nagisa kept it at hand nearly all the time.

Swoosh—Boom!

She suddenly shot up into the sky.

Nagisa's figure turned into a streak of light, tearing through the sky at supersonic speed, heading toward the Void Layer.

During this process, Nagisa's skin began to writhe and grow anew.

Though the newly grown skin appeared dark and still quite abnormal.

At the very least, with her skin regrown, Nagisa no longer seemed as terrifying, faintly revealing her handsome pre-transformation visage.

"Roar!"

At this moment, a roar suddenly came from below Nagisa.

It was an epic creature of this region, the undisputed overlord of this mountain forest.

In the eyes of this epic creature, Nagisa's brazen behavior was nothing short of a provocation to its authority on the food chain.

"Noisy!"

Narrowing her eyes, Nagisa looked toward the source of the roar.

It was a deer with four horns on its head, its form robust like a fierce tiger.

Most astonishingly, this deer had a pair of colossal wings on its back, granting it the speed to pursue Nagisa in the sky.

"Roar!"

The phrase "adding wings to a tiger" was vividly displayed by the deer.

Even Nagisa, speeding through the forest at the speed of sound, could only watch as the deer steadily closed in on her.

Hoofs stepped on clouds, wings spread in flight...

The deer's roars incited storms, with visible thunderclouds and lightning converging.

Unfortunately, the deer's opponent this time was not a normal epic creature.

Just as the deer was about to catch up.

Nagisa suddenly turned and countered, charging at her adversary with an unstoppable momentum.

This sudden twist evidently caught the deer off guard.

Even more unexpectedly, Nagisa's counterattack did not employ any extraordinary power, instead relying solely on her iron fists.

Crack!

In an instant, two of the deer's four horns were broken, and it howled in pain from the intense impact.

"Overconfident fool..."

With a cold taunt, the relentless Nagisa wrapped herself around the deer's neck and snapped it.

Crack!

The sound of the deer's spine fracturing rang out.

This proud epic creature was effortlessly brought down by Nagisa, unable to resist at all.
