Chapter 111 Choosing Her Career

Choosing Her Career

Chapter 111 Choosing Her Career

A day before the release of Taming Her teaser, Jarek suddenly informed Tinsley and the Taming Her crew to postpone the release date of the Taming Her teaser silently without informing the fans why they did so without question.

Jarek was the investor besides he was an expert so they believed that he had a reason. Even when Tinsley asked about the reason for the postponement during a phone call, Jarek didn't reply to her;

instead, he switched off the topic.

While the teaser release day moved closer, everybody was fueled with eagerness, and Taming Her teaser was the most talked-about topic online.

Lillee knew that the day for her deed was getting closer which made her decide to go to gain Conrad's forgiveness because she wanted to show off her love life when Tinsley fell to her end.

She wanted to show Tinsley that if Tinsley thought her little display was enough to end her marriage then she was kidding.

Because Lillee was used to going to Conrad's office, no one stopped her until she arrived at his office.

Lillee was shocked by what she saw when she arrived in his office.

Conrad's office was filled with smoke fumes while Conrad was staring into space, smoking.

Lillee was shocked by the things she saw because she never knew Conrad to be a smoker. She didn't even know him as a drinker if it wasn't for the meeting.

Lillee dropped the lunchbox she brought and placed it on his table. She quickly opens up the curtain to let the smoke out of the office with Conrad silently smoking as if he didn't notice Lillee's presence.

After Lillee was done with her actions, most of the smoke had cleared from his office which made her sigh in relief. She walked toward him with a frown.

"Conrad, what are you doing to yourself? Don't you know smoking is bad?"

She chided him with unhappiness in her voice.

Conrad silently stared at Lillee which made her frown silently. "Conrad, do you recognize me..." She asked thinking that the smoke had clouded his brain but...

Before she could complete her sentence, Conrad suddenly yanked her toward him and pulled her onto his lap which made her let out a low cry in shock. "Ah. Conrad?" She stared at him with her heart pounding.

Conrad had thought it through. He knew that he couldn't let Lillee go nor could he let the fight between them go unsolved for a long time.

Conrad kept having a feeling that Lillee may one day choose to leave him which made him search for ways to tie her down and he learned that the best way to tie a woman down was to get her pregnant.

Yeah, even though Lillee had explained herself to him, he found himself not believing her words.

Lillee was shocked by Conrad's sudden actions but when she regained herself, she quickly tried to stand up.

Unfortunately, Conrad's hand wraps around her waist tightly, giving her no chance to escape which made her anxious while wondering what he was planning to do.

Lillee smacked Conrad's chest in order to awaken him, but what she did not know is that Conrad was fully aware of what he was doing.

Conrad without words stood up and began to carry Lillee to the small bedroom in his office which made her more anxious.

"Conrad, what are you doing? STOP." She cried out while struggling in his embrace but his hold was tight and no matter what she did, she wasn't able to escape until they both entered his office bedroom.

Without warning Conrad threw Lillee on the bed which made her try to scurry far, but before she could,

Conrad pulled her right leg and immediately got over her.

"Conrad, stop." Lillee cried out with reddened eyes.

Conrad ignored her pleas and silently began to take off her clothes gently while she continuously struggled to beat his chest to escape.

After a while, Conrad was finally annoyed by her struggles, he held her chin in place and kissed her fiercely. "Lillee, why are you struggling? We should have done this a long time, we are married." He uttered.

Lillee's expression changed and she felt that she couldn't understand him anymore. "Conrad, what are you saying?" She asked him.

"Lillee. You claimed to love me, right?" He asked her and she nodded her head without hesitation.

"Of course, I do. Why..." Before she could complete her word he kissed her.

"Let's have a baby." He suddenly said which made her freeze.

"What?" Lillee stared at him in disbelief but he ignored her.

"You love me and I love you. Let's have a baby." He remarked which made her begin to struggle under him.

"But my career. I can't get pregnant..."

Lillee's words immediately sent his fury burning. "Do you think I'll still let you choose a career over me again?" He remarked angrily which made her heart beat pound faster.

"I..."

"Enough! Even if you get pregnant, that can't stop you from being popular." He muttered angrily and started to tear her clothes angrily.

"Are you still a virgin or did you have it with someone else?" He suddenly asked which made her eyes watered but before she could respond to him, he kissed her hard.

Chapter 112 Destroying Tinsley

Destroying Tinsley

Chapter 112 Destroying Tinsley

Conrad pecked the drowsy Lillee's cheeks. He stared at the blood stain on the bedsheet happily. In the end, she was still a virgin that belonged to him.

Even though he stared at the bedsheet that had blood-stained, he felt that something was...

"Uhm." Lillee suddenly cried gently which snapped him away from his thoughts.

Conrad wrapped his hand around her waist. "Lillee does it hurt?" He asked anxiously and she nodded her head gently with tear-stained eyes. "I'm sorry." He uttered with remorse because he had later lost himself due to pleasure even though he promised to be gentle.

"It's okay, you were gentle to me Conrad. It was hurting because it was my first time." She whispered gently and comfortingly which made his eyes light up.

"Really?" Hearing her confirmation that he was the first made all his doubts cleared away without a trace.

"Conrad, I need water and yogurt." She pleaded with a whisper.

Conrad quickly sat up. He sighed angrily when he saw that he had none of it in his fridge.

He had consumed everything due to his low mood and when he had consumed them all and found nothing to consume, he had resorted to smoking.

"I'll be back." Conrad pecked her lips and quickly left the room in order to get her things.

Lillee's soft expression immediately changed when she saw him leave. That bastard had suddenly decided to bed her which had shocked her a lot.

Lillee was thankful that she had been annoyed a lot and hadn't even had sex in mind after marriage or else he would have known that she wasn't a virgin.

Thankfully, he had done it with her now so there was no need for her to worry about any surgery or drugs to help her fake being a virgin like she had done many times.

But the most worrying thing is the pregnancy, now that she was in the office there was no way for her to get an after-sex pill to prevent the stupid pregnancy.

Maybe! Her eyes suddenly lit up when an idea flashed in her mind. Maybe. Maybe, the pregnancy won't be bad.

Hearing the footsteps of Conrad, Lilee quickly pretended to look hurt and quickly shut her eyes to pretend as if she was asleep.

Conrad sighed when he saw that Lilee was fast asleep, he kissed her cheek and helped her adjust the bedsheet before leaving the room with the yogurt and bottle of water intending to put it in the fridge.

"Conrad," Lilee whispered after he had silently left the room with a concealed glint.

Obviously, Conrad and Lilee's relationship had gotten closer again and he had begun to pamper her with his everything, acting as if he had forgotten everything that transpired.

William's family had also apologized to him secretly and he had brushed everything aside since he already had Lilee.

Everything was going well until suddenly, Norton's company began to fall heavily.

"Conrad, don't stress yourself too much, okay?" Lilee played her compassionate wife role very well.

She kissed his lips and helped him fix his tie.

"Hm, I'll. Father and I will be holding a meeting with the investors because someone had been mysteriously buying our stocks during this so I would be home late tonight."

He explained to her and she nodded her head gently.

"Okay, I'll wait for you." She replied softly which made him smile.

"Don't go out yet, okay? In case you met with the enraged fans." He advised her which made her nod her head gently.

"Okay, I'll listen to you." She replied even though she was angry inwardly because she knew that he was purposely saying that because he was afraid that she would go and seduce Jarek. Not only that, but he had also locked her in his house ever since that afternoon.

Conrad smiled upon seeing that she wasn't asking questions and was understanding. He kissed her lips gently, waved to her, and turned to leave.

Lillee smiled upon seeing that he had left. She had been waiting for him to let her be all alone but he had stuck to her like glue.

Today is the day that the teaser will be released and she wanted her space to be able to upload the video online so now that Conrad had finally let her be, how won't she be happy?

Lillee locked the door and hummed happily. She tapped on the file that her person had sent to her and began to watch it. The Taming Her video had been so poorly edited that no matter who watched it, the person would be cranked up in anger before watching the second scene, which was exactly what she wanted.

After she uploaded this version of the Taming Her movie, she knew that the people's expectations will fall low and everyone will begin to curse Jarek, Tinsley, and the Taming Her crew for the stupid job done. Tinsley may even be banned in Ryle!

And when everyone was cursing at Tinsley, it would be the perfect time to advertise Billionaire's deed which would definitely win people's hearts at that time.

The more Lillee thinks about it, the happier she was so when it was exactly three minutes before the teasers would be uploaded, she smiled and uploaded her version of the full movie online with a secret account with a caption that says: 'White Tigress Taming Her. The best teaser.'

Lillee already knew what people were eager about so she purposely used such clickbait to grab people's attention. Lillee knew that once people saw it, there was no way that they wouldn't be attracted to such teasers.

"I have uploaded it. Make it go viral." Lillee quickly leaned back on the chair with satisfaction.

After three minutes, she would go back to see Tinsley's misfortune. Well, Tinsley tried to ruin her so she had to show Tinsley that she was poor in that aspect compared to Lillee who was a veteran.

Chapter 113 In Big Trouble

In Big Trouble

Chapter 113 In Big Trouble

The release of the Taming Her video by Lillee's fake account grabbed people's attention but they all thought it was a fan-made video until they saw the comments left by the water keyboard.

'I'll definitely watch it next time, etc.'

Even though some people weren't attracted to the movie since it wasn't from the Taming Her official

Besides, Lillee had asked her secret PR to make sure the movie was spread about which had been done.

Soon many people began to click and it wasn't even up to 3 minutes when the most unexpected news and video overtook the social media causing massive conversation.

Lillee smiled when it was exactly 1:00 pm, the time the real teaser was to be released. She logged onto her social media and decided to greet her fans because she knew that due to the current topic many people will forget all that she had done in the past and instead began to pay attention to her in a good way.

'Hi.' Lillee simply uploaded her message ignoring the notification and messages that were making her phone buzz. She believed that it was caused by her actions of logging in.

She quickly typed the name of her new account and clicked on the account. She saw that she already had thousands of followers on that account which made her smile. She quickly went to pick up a cup of popcorn and sat down to read through the people's comments.

'Why is Lillee such a bitch?'

'Wait, does this means she had been f*cking around with men before marrying Conrad? F*cking slut!'

'Men! What the hell? Where's she anywhere near a Goddess? Damn, pure Goddess and golden couple! I swear if I ever meet, I'm...'

Lillee was stunned by what she was reading. Wait! Isn't this mixed up? Why are people shading her instead of Tinsley? Lillee almost ran mad when she continued to go through the comments.

What had she done to deserve such a thing? Lillee angrily tapped on the post to be sure that she was being shaded for no reason but it was only a second that her face pale in disbelief.

"No way!" Lillee cried out in shock and replayed the video and she confirmed that she wasn't dreaming.

Instead of the Taming Her movie she had posted what was currently showing was Lillee's sexcapade with several men since when she was young.

It was a mash-up of different sex videos of hers and watching herself with several men on her screen almost made her faint.

Lillee was fucking sure that what she had posted was Tinsley's end, how come it was hers? Her hand was shaking upon remembering that she had even posted on her social media.

To even think that she had ignored her notifications and messages alert.

Lillee doesn't even know when the popcorn fell from her hand. Her hand was trembling but she slapped herself hard and quickly tried to log into her new social media account but no matter what she had done, she couldn't log in to it because it had been hacked by someone else.

Lillee almost fainted and she quickly began to call all her PR but no matter what she did, she couldn't reach any of them.

Before she could call any of her men, she suddenly received a call. Seeing that it was Manager

Frankie, she quickly picked up the call while thinking that maybe Manager Frankie could help her.

"Hello." Lillee's voice was trembling hard even though she was trying to be calm.

"You stupid bitch! Getting involved with you was the worst decision I ever made. From now on, I'm never your manager or agent. Let's meet on Tuesday to cancel the contract between us at the company." Manager Frankie said harshly and cut off the call without giving Lillee any chance to reply.

Even Manager Frankie was tired of her, what about Conrad? She was definitely dead! Lillee quickly began to pack a few of her important things knowing that Conrad would definitely kill her this time.

Maybe hiding at one of her private houses is what she was going to do, she quickly fixed her makeup into an old woman's own with her phone ringing without a stop.

Lillee's heart began to pound in fear when she saw her mom call but she quickly placed it in silence and began to leave the house with a suitcase.

She had just opened the door when she met with Conrad who was also about to open the door. Conrad had the coldest expression that Lillee had ever seen before and it made her tremble. His mother was with him.

"Where are you going, bitch?" Conrad spat out harshly when he saw the luggage with Lillee.

It was during the meeting to solve their current stock price fall when they suddenly discovered that the stock price which they had terribly tried to increase had begun to fall back again.

And when they'll find out the reason it was because of Lillee's goddamn video. Conrad and the Norton's family had never been humiliated as much as he did a few minutes ago. Because of Lillee's case, their billionaire company's stock price is now beginning to fall rapidly and they fear that it may make them bankrupt.

"You bitch!" Mrs. Norton, the president of the Norton company, slapped Lillee hard which almost knocked Lillee off. "Ever since my son got to know you, everything had been going haywire. How dare you cheat on my son?" Mrs. Norton pulled Lillee's hair while slapping her continuously. "How dare you give him such a useless body like yours after telling him you have preserved your virginity for him? I'll kill you." Mrs. Norton began to pinch and beat Lillee furiously while Lillee tried to struggle.

"Mom, you can leave." Conrad suddenly yanked Lillee from his mom's grasp harshly. Lillee's hair was scattered and she currently had bruises that were caused by Mrs. Norton.

"Conrad!"

"Leave!" He retorted harshly and pulled Lillee and her luggage into the apartment without sparing his mother any glance.

(NOTE: The author doesn't support hitting or bullying females. Just for the chapter. Thank you.)

"Honey." Mrs. Norton turned to Mr. Norton, who had followed and was silently watching everything unfold.

"Since Conrad said we should leave, that means he doesn't want us to interfere with his family matters.

You should know that Conrad never let his enemies go scot-free." Mr. Norton replied.

"That bitch!" Mrs. Norton cursed and turned to leave with vivid anger. "I swear I will make the William's family pay for this." She said and stormed out, Mr. Norton sighed and also turned to leave.

"Ouch!" Lillee cried out as Conrad pushed her hard until she fell hard on the couch. "Conrad!" Lillee cried out in shock while trembling in bewilderment. She couldn't believe that he was the one to push her so harshly.

"It hurts because you're my first." Conrad mimicked, faking Lillee's soft voice.

"My dear virgin wife, will you mind if I ask who's currently trending on the internet? It's not you, right? You're definitely a virgin, isn't it?" Conrad questioned her calmly which made her tremble in fear. She couldn't even muster the courage to reply to him due to fear which made Conrad angry.

"Right?" Conrad yelled at her harshly which made her jump in fright.

Lillee had never been scared of someone like she is scared of Conrad right now.

This version of Conrad is making her heart beat in fear. She wished she could be swallowed up by earth to avoid his wrath, but there is no way she could.

Lillee tried to take a deep breath while trying to convince herself that Conrad will fall for her lies again just like he had always done. He's always gentle to her. Yes, he had always been.

She quickly got down from the chair and knelt in front of him with sadness and fear, "Conrad, someone is definitely framing me. You also saw that I was really a virgin on that day. I'm not whoever it was that was online." She uttered while trembling and inwardly begging whatever god that was listening to please help her change Conrad's mind.

"Really?" Conrad asked with a calm expression which made her calm down slightly. She quickly stood up and went to hold his hand with a feigned tearful expression believing that he wasn't as angry as she thought.

"Yes Conrad, you should know that I will never lie to..." Before she could complete her sentence,

Conrad suddenly pulled her hair hard which made her cry loudly in pain, but Conrad was unremorseful instead his hold tightened.

"Whenever you do something wrong you'll always have a perfect lie to say, do you take me for a fool that will believe every lie you told?" He retorted angrily which made her heart begin to pound.

"Ah, Conrad. Conrad, it hurts." Lillee cried out in pain while trying to pull her hair from his tight hold but no matter how she struggled she was unable to let him off.

"What do you mean I take you as a fool? Conrad, didn't you promise to always believe whatever I said?

I was telling you the ahhh..." She cried out when Conrad pulled her hair tightly again.

"Telling the truth?" Conrad suddenly began to pull Lillee toward the stairs that lead to their bedroom.

Soon he arrived at their bedroom, and he pushed her into the room before locking the door. He took out his phone and quickly searched social media for the trending video.

And not long, the video began to play on Conrad's phone, and immediately it did, Conrad placed the phone in front of Lillee.

"It is not true, right? You're really innocent." There was a sinister smirk playing on his face. Now Lily has never been this afraid.

"Conrad, please you can't listen to..."

"Shut up. I haven't finished talking." He interrupted her coldly which made her gulp fearfully, but he ignored her and instead pointed at his phone, "The guy in the first video, do you remember who it was?" He asked calmly, but she quickly shook her head without even checking the video.

"You don't?" He suddenly nodded and smirked at her as if he had forgotten his question, and she quickly nodded.

"But... If you are really innocent as you claimed, why did you try to run away while donning an old woman's makeup?" He asked casually while arching his brows.

Lillee became tongue-tied, "Because... Because..." Lily began to stutter endlessly. "I just wanted to meet Mom and Dad." She finally forms a lie.

Conrad scoffed inwardly, "And I instruct you not to leave our matrimonial house today, right?" Conrad asked calmly.

"And you promised me not to leave, didn't you?"

"Conrad, I missed mum, can't I not visit them anymore..." Before Lillee could complete her sentences a massive slap fell on her cheek leaving a red fingerprint on her pale cheeks. Lillee's lips parted in disbelief and tears pulled to her eyes.

"You've always taken me as a fool, right? And everything you have always told me was always a lie, you stinking liar." He remarked and grabbed her chin harshly. "So you claimed not to know my antagonist back when we were at high school, didn't you?"

Back in high school, Conrad was the president of the school and naturally, he had an antagonist who was always trying to pull him down and that was the person in the first video with Lily. Lillee had been a slut right from young.

"Not only that, you also said that you aren't the one in the video, but the mole on your breast was showing in the video. You also lied about you visiting your mum, but you are trying to run away instead.

You also lied about being a virgin when in fact you are far from that. You even lied against your sister for your own career, how come I was blind to notice that you were such a big devil?" He scoffed.

"You know I kept on wondering that if I never believed you back then, I'd have Tinsley as my wife, not you, but you bitch came between us and destroyed everything. Your claim that Tinsley became my friend due to my identity was a lie, right?" He asked.

"Conrad..." She began to panic and stutter.

"Shut up! Tell me the truth." He demanded harshly.

"I..."

"I forgot that you don't even know how to tell the truth anymore; lying is your truth. Lillie you repeatedly tried to ruin my life all because of your selfishness, now I have to make you pay for this. Since you enjoy being a slut that much, then I will make sure to honor your career." He sneered at her and suddenly tore her clothes. "Let me show you the useless difference between those men and me."

Chapter 115 Jarek And Jason

Jarek And Jason

Chapter 115 Jarek And Jason

"Jarek, what did you do to my elder sister?" Tinsley asked while chuckling. They had just finished promoting their drama, and she had just retired for the night in a hotel she was in when she decided to call Jarek for the details.

"I'll be back," Jarek informed Mason and Jason who were currently practicing before he walked out of his study to receive the call from Tinsley.

"Wife, how are you doing?" Jarek asked after he entered the bedroom. He walked toward the window and stared at the scenery outside.

"President Jarek, I'm fine. You've failed to reply me, is that fair?" She purposely said in a cute voice which made him smile.

"How's the..."

"Ugh!" Tinsley groaned. "When did you start going around the circle? Just tell me right now." Tinsley groaned angrily which made him chuckle lightly.

"When did White Tigress begin to love gossip?" He asked with a chuckle.

"Ugh! Jarek, I'm going to cut off the call." Tinsley groaned in frustration.

Jarek suddenly sighed, "Wife, you only call us because of..."

"I love you, hubby," Tinsley said eagerly and knowingly.

"Hm. Love you too. I didn't do it." Jarek replied.

"Huh!"

Jarek smiled and began to explain to her patiently "The spy that Lillee planted in Taming Her set is with me. Lillee planted the spy in order to have a copy of the film which she'll use to create a poor edit of Taming Her before she releases it ahead of the teaser..."

"That bitch!" Tinsley spat out angrily. She understands that if something like that happens, one, people will lose interest in watching the movie, and two, that's piracy which means people already knew everything that happened in the movie for free. Three, fans will lose interest in the movie. Even the movie's success will flop. And the crew and J empire will be shaded, etc.

"Words." Jarek chided upon hearing her release a curse word.

"Uhm, sorry." Tinsley apologized because she knew that he hated curse words. "If she released the poor edit, it's going to spell bad for us, the crew, and our hard work. I was so angry that I couldn't stop myself." She replied

"Mmmhh, I understand," Jarek replied before he continued. "The spy was with us, so we were the one who sent a video to her, we planted a powerful but very helpful bug Jason mistakenly created to..."

"Jason did what?" Tinsley was shocked upon hearing that her cute and innocent Jason was capable enough to create a powerful bug. "Jarek, you never told me you'll teach them this much."

"Jason already knew so much before I could even start with him, don't underestimate your son. He's quiet but he's very capable." He replied.

"Hm, I'm worried, Jason won't go bad, right?" She asked with anxiousness.

"No, he won't," Jarek replied confidently which made Tinsley sigh in relief.

"Dad, I've created the software." Jason suddenly called behind him. He stood at the door while staring at Jarek eagerly.

"I'm coming. Stay with Mason." Jarek told him gently and he nodded. "Okay, Dad." He was about to close the door, but he suddenly stopped and stared at Jarek eagerly.

"Dad is speaking with mom?" Jason asked Jarek and quickly ran forward with shiny eyes.

"Uhm..."

"Mom," Jason yelled eagerly while jumping as if he was afraid that Jarek would prevent him from talking to Tinsley, so he wanted Tinsley to hear his voice.

"Baby. Jarek let me talk to my baby." Tinsley said eagerly which made Jarek huff in jealousy. "You're dumping me for your kids," Jarek complained.

"Hm. My babies will always be there to stay and protect me if you decide to dump me." Tinsley replied proudly which made his lips twitch.

Jarek gave the phone to Jason who was jumping happily.

Upon receiving Jarek's phone, Jason quickly bolted to Mason and Ariel and the triplet all had a chat before they returned the phone to a slightly-sulking Jarek.

"Wife, when you're back, we need to have a vacation." He declared with eyes that were shining with cunning glint.

Tinsley suddenly fakes an awkward laugh. "Uhm. But... I may or may not promise the children that we'll let them follow whenever we have a vacation. Sorry hubby." Tinsley replied while snickering inwardly.

"White Tigress." Jarek grunted unhappily. "I'll await your return, my bed has turned cold," Jarek replied with its underlying meaning that said that she'd pay for it on the bed.

"Don't be like this, hubby Jarek," Tinsley replied. "Right hubby, after planting that bug what happened next?" She asked talking about Lillee's case.

"We were able to have access to all her files coupled with her encrypted devices, so we were able to watch her activities which Brigitta took over. Brigitta was the one to mash up the videos. So when Lillee tried to post your poor edit, she hacked Lillee's secret account and replaced it with the sex videos instead." He explained which made her gasp.

"Ugh. Can you send me the poor edit? And wait, how come she didn't know her video was changed and were you the one to use Public Relationship to make it popular?"

"No. After posting, she logs out of the account with the plan to see a massive uproar when she logs in.

So she expected to use that chaos to her own advantage which was the reason she 'hi' her fans. She wanted to use that scandal to make everyone pay attention to her again."

Jarek replied, which made

Tinsley not to know if to laugh or cry.

"Karma. She deserves it." She said. "Poor her. She's going to face Conrad's wrath." She snickers happily.

Jarek frowned. "What do you mean?"

"You know when I first met Conrad, he was very nice to me but when Lillee spoke to him, his attitude made a 360° change," Tinsley explained which made Jarek turn cold.

He muttered in a dark voice, "Wife, you seem to know about Conrad so much..."

"Hubby, definitely not. I only know you, praise you, model you, and love you. I'm definitely telling the truth." Tinsley quickly replied knowing that Jarek was being jealous again.

"Uh. I'm busy, call you soon.

Bye." She replied and quickly cut off the call which made him chuckle.

He sighed and returned to attend to his triplet.
