Chapter 131 Disowning Her (2)

Disowning Her (2)

Chapter 131 Disowning Her (2)

Lillee quickly dialed Conrad's number while donning a tearful expression; it was at the first ring that Conrad picked up the call.

"Lillee?" Conrad asked after a few seconds of no words from Lillee. And immediately he did, he was replied with sniffles from Lillee.

"Lillee?" Conrad called again only to hear Lillee burst into tears. "Lillee?"

"Master, please can I visit my parents?" She cried out in a teary sad voice which stabbed Conrad's heart deeply.

After seeing what the William's family were capable of during the wedding, Conrad began to dislike the William's family for tossing Tinsley out as if they were not the one who gave birth to her so when

Conrad saw that they were doing the same thing to Lillee, he wasn't surprised that the wicked families could do that.

Lillee had always had a fragile heart which Conrad knew and he knew that Lillee will definitely be sad by the news which was the reason he called her earlier.

And then karma caught the William's family by the neck, in just a few minutes, the William's family were arrested by the police. Unfortunately, Lily was sad on their behalf not minding what her parents had done to her.

Conrad wanted to remind Lillee that those were the parents who had just disowned her in front of the world while painting her black a few minutes ago but he kept his shut and feigned nonchalance.

"I've told you that you can go to any place of your choice without permission." He replied to her only to hear a loud sigh of relief. Conrad didn't know that Lillee was this afraid of him but after remembering what he had done to her ever since he heard the rumors, he kept his mouth shut.

"Thank you. Thank you so much, Master." Lillee replied in an excited voice before she cut off the call.

Surprisingly, a smile made its way to Conrad's face but upon remembering what he was doing, he cleared his throat to stop himself. He quickly assigned a guard to watch over Lillee.

Even though he liked to believe that she had changed, there was still a tiny voice in his heart that kept making him more suspicious.

Lillee dressed shabbily, not quite shabbily.

She wore a Mini white gown and ran out of the house in slippers with a sad expression on her face.

She entered her car while feigning sadness but when she entered, her expression changed into an excited smile.

Lillee smiled and caressed her steering wheel happily. "Mama missed you. Now, I am ready to return to my old life." She whispered to herself with determination. This time she'll have to thank Tinsley for planning everything.

Soon, Lillee arrived at the police station. They were a lot of reporters crowding the police station and when they saw Lillee, they were filled with excitement

The reporters quickly rushed toward her while pushing the microphone closer to her mouth as if in that way they would be able to know the truth.

"Actress Lillee, why did you go silent for a long time?"

"Actress Lillee, where have you gone to all this while? Is it true that Mr. Conrad skipped home because of your slutty behavior?"

"Actress Lillee, what did you think of your parent's disowning speech? Did you come here because of your parents?"

"Actress Lillee, are you fighting with Mr. Conrad? Why did you come alone without a bodyguard? Is this another way to fetch pity from netizens?"

The reporters kept on pushing and asking.

Lillee's eyes turned red and she quickly used her hand to protect her stomach against the reporters pushing and pulling. "Stop it, please. I am only here to visit my parents. I do not welcome any interview, please don't force me to answer any questions."

She cried out with reddened eyes, she was staring at their cameras while holding her stomach.

Naturally, many of the reporters were sharp-eyed and they soon caught on the fact that Lillee was touching her stomach.

"Is actress Lillee pregnant after what happened online? Is that why you were quiet? Did it belong to Mr.

Conrad or not? Is the sexual video about you or not? Did it affect your marriage or not?"

Conrad's bodyguard suddenly appeared when they saw that it was getting too much and they began to lead Lillee away from the reporters.

Lillee had just entered the visitor sides of the police station when she saw Tinsley. Her eyes were red in anger because she had the inkling that Tinsley was the one to set up the reporters for her arrival. "Hi, sister. Did you have a nice time faking with the reporters as you've always done? No worries, there's no one here so you can shed off your mask of pretense." Tinsley said which made Lillee glare at her.

"Tinsley, how dare you visit Mum and Dad with that evil face of yours after making Mom and Dad reach this point. You definitely do not have any bit of shame." She accuses only for Tinsley to laugh in delight.

"You're right. I love to see my enemies in their pit." Tinsley whispered and began to make her way toward the prison room where the William's parent was staying.

"Miss, please." An excited policeman told Tinsley.

"Thank you." Tinsley nodded and immediately entered the visitors' cell.

The William's family was immediately annoyed by what happened and when they saw Tinsley, the cause of the event, confidently walking into the cell, they were more annoyed.

"What are you doing here? You useless child, how dare you show your face here?" Mrs. William yelled at Tinsley angrily.

Tinsley's eyes reddened with sadness, "What are you saying? I am just here to show my concern..."

She cried out only for Mr. William to hit the table angrily

"Are you trying to fake concern after all the wicked things you've done to us? You better get out of here before I tear you apart."

"I only came here because I cared."

"What stupid care? After using Jarek's power to knock us down?" Mr. William muttered angrily.

"Dad, what are you talking about? I was sincerely trying to help you and the company. Didn't we talk about J Empire protecting the William's family? Who knows that Mom and Dad will..."

"Tinsley!" Mrs. William glared at Tinsley angrily. If looks could kill, Tinsley would have definitely been buried six feet deep. "Get out!" Mr. William growled at her angrily.

"I regretted that I didn't kill you with my hands immediately after you were born." Mrs. William muttered coldly which made all the playfulness Tinsley had in her face disappear.

Her eyes turned cold, and she stared at the two coldly. Somehow this side of Tinsley sent fear down the two spines and it made the two believe that they were in the hand of the devil for a few seconds.

Chapter 132 Lillee's Game

Lillee's Game

Chapter 132 Lillee's Game

"Good for you," Tinsley muttered after a few seconds before she walked out of the cell with reddened eyes.

"Miss," The policemen who led Tinsley in saw her sad expression and he was angered immediately.

After all, he heard all that the William's parents told Tinsley.

"No worries, I'm fine." Tinsley bowed her head to hide her sadness and quickly waved the policeman away before making her way out of the police station.

Her eyes met with Lillee who was waiting for Tinsley to come out of their parent's cell. Lillee mocked

Tinsley's reddened eyes were caught by the sharp-eyed reporters and they tried to question her but

Jarek's bodyguard watched over her tightly and didn't permit any of the reporters to question Tinsley which further sparked news.

'The William's family rejected White Tigress again after visiting the prison.'

'White Tigress came out of the William's cell with reddened eyes, what happened between them?'

A lot of news like that was released online not long after Tinsley left the police station.

"What is the situation?" Jarek asked a guard while working on the documents.

The guard reported everything the William's family had done to Tinsley which made Jarek's expression turn cold.

"You can leave," Jarek ordered the guard. He powered off his laptop and arranged his things before he began to leave the company immediately.

Jarek knew that for Tinsley to come out like that, she was definitely hurt by what her parents said and what are his benefits if he won't be able to comfort her at a time like this when she is low?

Jarek immediately called the chief of the police after entering his car. "Mr. President Jarek." The chief called with fear and respect in his voice.

The top Dawgs knew that Jarek was the leading man, so who was he in front of Jarek who could change the owner of the seat without lifting a finger.

"What do you want me to do, President Jarek?" The chief cut to the chase immediately.

"The William's parents mustn't be released from the prison and ensure they have a hard life throughout their stay in the prison," Jarek ordered.

The chief was stunned, he thought Jarek's call was to make him do something difficult but he never expected that it was something this simple, "Yes, I'll do so." He quickly replied while promising to make sure that the William's family lives a life that's worse than dying in the prison

Jarek arrived home before Tinsley did after breaking a lot of traffic rules which he told Assistant Jacob to handle.

He walked to the bathroom and prepared a warm bath for Tinsley which includes adding stress relieving fragrance, etc.

He returned to the kitchen and asked the maids to exit the kitchen before he began to make Tinsley's favorite meal.

When the sad Tinsley returned home, she saw Jarek patiently waiting for her outside. "Jarek." Tinsley cried out and ran into his embrace

"Are you okay?" Jarek asked and she shook her head to signify that she wasn't. Jarek sighed and quietly picked her up in a bridal style. He swore to make the William's family experience nothing other than a worse life.

He placed a kiss on her cheeks, watching her stare at him. "What are you doing?" She silently questioned.

"Let's get you relieved." He replied.

Tinsley was surprised when she saw the prepared warm bath with lit calming incense. As if that wasn't enough, she was shocked when Jarek began to massage her body on the well-prepared before he later served her some meals.

The sadness she had accumulated after visiting her parents was diffused immediately.

The visit of Lillee and Tinsley sparked a major discussion. Even though both of them went to show concern, they both had different expressions while coming out and it made everyone understand that even though the William's family had disowned Lillee, she was still their parents' favorite.

"Does that mean that the William's parents knew what was going to happen beforehand which was the reason they publicly disowned Lillee in order to prevent her from being dragged by the fans?"

"I didn't expect that the William's family still had a bit of compassion in them, so sweet."

"But what does everyone think could have caused White Tigress to show her sadness in front of the media?"

The curiosity about what the William's parents sparked further discussion and people began to guess what the couple said to Tinsley.

But it wasn't even up to 30 mins when a piece of news was uploaded. "The real reason behind Actress Lillee's disownment. What the William family told White Tigress in the prison."

Naturally, such news quickly caught netizens' eyes especially when it was uploaded by a trusted and famous blog.

And when netizens read what the William's family had done, their pity for the William's family quickly turned into disgust. They even signed a petition to make sure that none of the parents were sentenced to death. Instead, they should be sentenced to life imprisonment with hard labor.

Another news that sparked was the debate on whether Lillee was pregnant or not. Besides, Conrad and Lillee didn't come out to clarify the sex scandal nor did it affect the two marriages which made people wonder if the person in the video was truly Lillee or not.

Lillee remembered what she told her parents with a low whisper so that none but her parents would listen to her words. "Both of you are such a disgusting thing. I'm really happy that you were sent here for life. I hope you have memorable days here..."

"What are you doing, drive on." A driver suddenly honked his car and yelled behind Lillee. Lillee rolled her eyes when she saw that the yellow light had switched to green. She quickly drove home in glee.

Conrad hadn't arrived when Lillee entered donning red eyes. Seeing that no one was present but herself, Lillee quickly changed her expression back to normal. She calmly catwalked to her room.

She picked up her phone and began to laugh happily when she saw that the tide had turned and no one was making fun of her anymore.

She was pleased until she saw a comment, "Did Lillee really go there in support of her parents or did she purposely use her parents to get pity."

Lillee will never accept such things in her comment anymore because she was afraid that it would make people remember all the bad things that she had done.

Lillee quickly bought the help of keyboard attackers anonymously. So whenever people tried to comment negatively on her post, they'll be attacked by the people Lillee bought

Seeing that the people were calm and collected, Lillee quietly took a picture of the sky and captioned:

such nice weather but a bad day. And with that, she uploaded it online after a long time accompanying her message with a sad emoji.

The netizens began to like her post while sending her condolences. And not long after, Conrad loved her post which made her beamed happily.

Unfortunately, her smile didn't stay for long because Constance's call came in. Lillee snorted before she picked up the call.

"Lillee, are you joking with me, you told me we'll meet at..."

"Let's meet in four days. I'll send you the address."

Chapter 133 Constance Fury

Constance Fury

Chapter 133 Constance Fury

Constance already knew that the tide had turned over for Lillee and soon Lillee may be back to being the famous actress as long as she doesn't cross with Tinsley which was why she was annoyed. After all, Lillee had led her to such a position but Lillee had quickly returned to the top unlike her who was being ignored and bashed online by the fans.

Currently, her life was worse than a rat's. Since Lillee will be paying her soon, she had to think of a way to get another evidence of Lillee soon, or else what if Lillee suddenly grew out of this threat?

Now that everyone was speculating whether Lillee was pregnant or not, she knew that even if she posted the shreds of evidence with her now, many people would believe that she was just trying to shade Lillee and they wouldn't believe her. So she had to make sure she found something more.

Just like that, the days went by quickly with Lillee pretending to be worried about her parents who were in prison and would soon be taken to court.

Lillee went hunger-stricken for those days while acting as if she was lost in thoughts. Many times

Conrad would even find her crying silently in a corner.

Conrad sighed when he saw Lillee staring into space like she has been doing the past few days. She was so lost in thoughts that she didn't even notice that he was leaving.

"I told you to go out to get fresh air for the baby's benefit, why are you still lost in thoughts and refusing to do what I asked you after several days had passed!" Conrad ordered coldly which made her jump with fright.

"I am sorry. I will do so today." Lillee quickly bowed her head and replied. Suddenly, she raised her head to show a determined and fond look, "Yes, I have to be strong for the baby in my stomach." She muttered with a determined look. She smiled while caressing her stomach with a fond look.

Conrad suddenly burst into laughter which made her face reddened with embarrassment. Thinking that Conrad was laughing at her actions, she began to run toward her room with a shy expression.

Conrad couldn't help it and began to make his way to his car, chuckling happily. Maybe he would try forgetting the past and would work on their relationship. Maybe things will go well.

Lillee smirked proudly and even giggled childishly when she stepped into the room. She picked up her phone and texted an address to Constance where they'll be meeting for the money.

A few hours later, Lillee climbed down the stairs putting on a casual-looking but luxurious overflowing white gown, her hair was casually packed into a bun and she was wearing a face mask and cap to prevent the fan from seeing her.

She stared at the two bodyguards who had become a lot more humble to her after treating them well,

"I'm going out, did Conrad ask you guys to come with me?" She asked and the guards nodded while replying with a "Yes."

Lillee smiled and naturally entered the car. After a long time, she arrived in front of the high school she and Conrad went to in the past

Because it was the weekend, the school was mostly empty except for a few children who were attending lessons. "I'm going to get fresh air here," Lillee told the guard with a smile.

Seeing that Lillee had entered the school, the guard chose to stay outside and wait for Lillee's return.

Because they were young students having class, the school rules prohibited the menacing bodyguards from entering the school ground in order to prevent the young children from being unable to concentrate due to the bodyguards' presence.

Lillee smiled when she entered the school compound. She couldn't help but remember when she was attending high school.

Back then everyone knew Lillee as the princess and because of that, she was famous and known as the number one female of the school because she was the princess of the William's family and the apple of Conrad's eyes.

Being here and remembering those memories made Lillee smile freely, it was as if nothing bad had happened to her. She looked so innocent and free and she couldn't resist the urge to take a picture and send it to Conrad which she did

Lillee sent a smiling picture of her sitting in the classroom where Conrad and her always studied while sitting on the seat where the both of them always sat. 'I miss this.' she wrote.

Lillee soon left the class and went to visit the school principal whom she had a good relationship with and they both had a chat. She even donated to the school before she began to stroll around the school casually.

Casually until she climbed the stairs that led to the school football. When Lillee would enter, she saw Constance sitting and waiting for her with a grumpy look on her face.

Constance secretly sighed with relief when she saw Lillee enter the room, she thought Lillee wouldn't come anymore. "Look, whose bitch is here? Our pure Actress Lillee."

Constance snickered in annoyance.

Lillee was looking beautiful, smooth, and radiant as if she wasn't the one who was being punished online a few days ago.

Constance had expected Lillee to be looking very miserable. After all, Lillee's sex tape clip was posted online which made her believe that Conrad will be unhappy with Lillee's actions which would result in Conrad torturing and punishing Lillee seriously.

She had made many scenarios in her head and none of them expected that she would be looking at a smooth-looking Lillee and it made her jealous.

She suddenly looked at Lillee's hand and she saw that Lillee wasn't holding the important thing that she was there for which made her expression change. "Where's it?" Constance yelled at Lillie.

Lillee casually took a glance at Constance. Her gaze was filled with disgust toward Constance which made Constance more furious.

Lillee began to make her way toward Constance calmly. "You naive thing, do you think that I am going to give you like I've been doing all this while?" Lillee spoke.

Chapter 134 Unplanned Accident

Unplanned Accident

Chapter 134 Unplanned Accident

Constance's anger turned into disbelief, "What did you just say? What do you mean? Did you lie to me? Didn't you promise to give me the money?" She yelled.

"Money? Well, I have given you all the money I could and now I don't want to give you anymore so you can fuck yourself." Lillee said and began to climb down the stairs where the football match would have been held had it been that the students were around.

Constance was annoyed by the way Lillee was talking to her and more so the disgust filled in Lillee's gaze and tone.

"Listen," Constance said angrily, which made Lillee stop in her tracks.

Lillee even returned to the spot near Constance was currently staying while staring at Constance with a ridiculing gaze.

Constance brought her phone angrily while staring at Lillee with a menacing look. "If you don't give me the money now, I promise to reveal everything on the internet, right now." She yelled at Lillee.

Lillee only shrugged and chuckled nonchalantly, "Without caring about the billionaire's deed?" She asked Constance.

"What is my concern with the billionaire's deed? After all, ever since I joined that team, nothing good has been going my way." Constance roared angrily. Her voice echoed in the field.

Lillee's eyes suddenly flashed with a sinister expression. She suddenly reached out her hand and snatched the phone from Constance successfully.

Constance never expected Lillee to snatch her phone so she was caught off guard which made Lillee successfully collect the phone.

Constance was so furious and she tried hard to reach out for Lillee but Lillee began to dodge nimbly while pressing some things on the phone and trying to find a way to clear the phone's memory.

"Give it to me. Give it to me." Constance continued to roar at Lillee who kept on dodging Constance successfully.

After a while of running after each other, Lillee was finally able to delete everything on the phone. She cleared all the memories on the phone without leaving anything, leaving the phone as good as new.

After being successful with her actions, she casually threw the phone toward Constance with a grin.

With a relieved smile on her face, she took a deep breath and began to leave through the way she entered, which is by walking down the stairs

Constance was so angry when she went through her phone and saw nothing on it. "You bitch! I'll kill you!" she roared at Lily and rushed toward the happy Lillee.

She suddenly reached out to pull Lillie's hair harshly but unfortunately, the force she used in reaching out was too much so she mistakenly pushed Lillie down the stairs instead.

Lillie's eyes widened and she pale with fear but she could only roll down the stairs while releasing painful cries. By the time Lillie arrived at the bottom of the stairs, she had fainted with blood emitting from her.

Constance pale with fright. She never expected Lillie to end up like this because of her.

Constance had also seen the speculation about Lillie being pregnant or not online but upon seeing the blood emitting from Lillie, Constance realized that Lillie was pregnant and she had made Lillie miscarry the baby.

She knew she was doomed and if she was caught, she would definitely be carted to the prison so she quickly ran out of the school building intending to escape.

Due to her carelessness and suspicious actions, she caught the gaze of the security who immediately tried to stop her but because of her guilty behavior, she began to flee without looking in her direction.

Unknowingly, her feet had led to the main road and because she wasn't looking before she knew it, her body was hit by a speeding car.

BANG!

Constance's body fell to the floor like a broken doll.

Chapter 135 Death And Funeral

Death And Funeral

Chapter 135 Death And Funeral

Lillie only opened her eyes the next day and she saw Conrad staring at her with a guilty expression.

Lillie's expression pale with fright when she thought of something. She caressed her flat stomach with fear written in her eyes. "Conrad, don't tell me that..."

Conrad gently held Lillie's hand with a remorseful expression. "I am sorry Lillee. I made you lose our baby. If I had not forced you to go out, none of it would have happened." Conrad muttered in regret.

He couldn't help but remember Lillee's determined look, yesterday morning. She had promised to be courageous for their baby, who knew that'll be the last morning they'd both spend with their baby.

Conrad regretted it so much! Had it been he knew, he wouldn't have forced her against her wish.

Besides, he'll have paid attention to both of them.

Upon hearing that her baby was gone, Lillee screamed in pain while gripping her stomach hard. Tears almost fell from Conrad's eyes but he could only try to suppress himself while trying to console the crying Lillee.

Lillee's face suddenly turned harsh after a few minutes of crying. "Where is Constance? I have to make her pay. She pushed me down the stairs without a reason. She made me lose my baby, all because she was annoyed that I was doing well online, I have to make her pay. She had to pay for making me lose my first treasure. Baby." Lillee cried out in a heart-wrenching voice while crying hard.

"Lillee. It's okay. Look at me, Constance is dead..."

"So I can't look for her. I can't make her pay." She interrupted and cried more loudly. "But our baby.

What are we going to do, Conrad? I'll miss our baby so much." She said while hugging him tightly.

Conrad wiped her tears away softly, "Lillee don't be sad, when you are ready we can have another baby. Lillie don't cry anymore." He tried to console her while trying hard to prevent himself from crying in her presence.

"But our first baby is gone. Gone forever." Lillee sobbed sadly and separated from him. "Why do I keep losing everyone in my life lately? It seems the world hates me, maybe I should just commit suicide and die..."

"No. Lillee." Conrad yelled in shock and quickly hugged her tightly. "Don't, please. I will be here with you. I promise to love you forever." He uttered only for her to shake her head absentmindedly.

"You hate me also, you will also leave me once we leave the hospital. You saw me as nothing but a whore now." She cried out while shaking her head.

"No. I won't leave you."

Tinsley scrolled through her phone while shaking her head sympathetically. "Lillee lost her baby." She commented before logging out with a complicated expression.

Jarek's gaze showed his nonchalance at the news. Instead, he kissed his beautiful wife's cheeks. "You want us to have one?" He asked.

Tinsley sighed exasperatedly. No matter how she looked, there was no way she deserved such a reply from him. She stomped his feet hard and pushed his lips which kept kissing her. "We are in front of Dad, be civilized." She warned.

Tinsley and Jarek also went to the Hart family to support Mrs. Hart, Rylee, and Walker in support of Mr.

Hart's death. And currently, they were holding Mr. Hart's funeral and greeting the visitor on behalf of the Hart family.

Currently, social media was abuzz due to certain news about Jarek being a son of Mr. Hart and another news that claimed that Lillee had miscarried due to a certain Constance who had purposely pushed her down the stairs because she was jealous of Lillee's luck. Unfortunately, who knew that would also be the end of Constance?

The netizens began to curse Constance repeatedly for her evil and there were more curses when they discovered that most of the shady rumors that involved Lillee in the past were related to Constance who was jealous of Lillee's luck and would do anything to pull Lillee down with her Jarek pulled Tinsley by the waist saying, "Father was a womanizer when he was alive, so he will definitely not blame me when he sees me with my woman."

Tinsley was about to reply to him when she saw Anabelle coming toward them while holding the triplet.

"Mom. Dad." The triplet ran toward their parents and hugged them happily.

"We missed you." They both replied while hugging them.

Anabelle smiled at the scene. She had always wished for such a happy life for her family but unfortunately she was never able to fulfill it. Even though she wasn't able to, she was glad that her son was able to do it.

"Mom." Tinsley greeted Annabel with a hug.

Annabel pats her back gently. "Happy married life, love." She winked at Tinsley who giggled. "Thanks, Mom."

"When is the real wedding holding?" Annabel stared at the two.

"Hm. Soon." Jarek replied while holding Tinsley's hand.

"I guess he must be planning a surprise." Annabel grinned, causing Jarek to be exasperated. "Mom!"

"Sorry for interrupting." Mrs. Hart and Rylee uttered, which caused them to look at each other.

"Welcome." The family greeted Annabel quietly.

Annabel pursed her lips and stared at the family for a few minutes. "Thank you and sorry for the other time." She squeezed a smile which made them sigh in relief. "I'll see him now," Annabel said and immediately entered the ceremony room.

Tinsley snapped out of her daze and led the triplet toward Mrs. Hart, Rylee, and Walker. "Mason, Jason, and Ariel meet Grandma, Aunt Rylee, and Uncle Walker." She introduced.

"Oh, I love Aunt Rylee and Grandma. They're so beautiful." Mason utter with a grin that almost made Tinsley roll her eyes. This boy is using his sweet mouth again.

"Aww. Little Mason." Rylee bent down to hug him.

"Me too. Aunt Rylee is in Taming Her. She acts so well, I want to be like Aunt Rylee in the future." Ariel replied cutely.

Jason stared at Walker. "Uhm. I love the Hart limited edition collection. Dad bought me one." He said which made Walker's eyes light up

"You love collections?"

The family continued to interact together sweetly until Annabel returned.

"I'm taking them home. They're so sweet." She told Tinsley and Jarek who nodded nonchalantly. "Okay, mom."

Mrs. Hart had a hesitating expression on her face but after a while, she ended up keeping quiet. "You know if you continue like that, no one will know what's on your mind." Annabel suddenly says which almost made her jump.
