

THE SUBSTITUTE BRIDE TRIPLETS AND THE IMPOTENT BILLIONAIRE

Chapter 146 Attacked And Accident

Attacked And Accident

"So the couple are at Country EL, where Tinsley spent her seven years, right?" A woman asked the person over the phone with a hoarse voice. Because Jarek wanted to make Tinsley happy, they decided to do their wedding in El country.

"Yes. Tinsley's wedding with Jarek is seven days from now, so the whole family is present. They're currently residing in Tinsley's Mansion." The masculine voice replied, and Lillee nodded.

"Okay." She replied hoarsely. "What is the current news about Lillee Norton?"

"Lillee Norton is a wanted criminal who had been arrested some weeks ago at the deck of Ryle's country when she planned to escape." The person replied, which made the woman nod her head.

"And what about Conrad and Jane?" The woman with a fairy-like face asked.

"Jane was approved by the Norton family; the two planned to wed at the end of the year. The couple is doing well." The person replied, and the woman cut off the call.

"Ending of the year?" She spat out. "Okay."

"Time flies. It's so surreal to believe that everything happened." Tinsley muttered while Brigitta, Rory, and she accompanied the triplet to the amusement park.

She couldn't believe how much things had changed. She had won over Lillee, who was now in prison, and she was about to wed her husband.

"Yes, Rory was the broken, lonely lady. Now she has Onyx." Brigitta joked playfully, which caused Rory to roll her eyes.

"And you are the crazy stalker who tied Aldean down." She retorted, which caused Brigitta to touch her chest pompously.

"I know that I am wonderful. You don't need to tell me anymore. Okay. Okay. Envious girl!" She retorted, which made Rory roll her eyes.

"In your dream. In your dream." She retorted.

The group of friends continued to chat while they accompanied the kids. "So when are you getting your dress? It's three days to the wedding." Rory asked, which made Tinsley's eyes widen.

"Oh my God, I should have gone to the company. Oh, I'm an hour late already." Tinsley replied, which made Brigitta roll her eyes.

"I haven't heard about a bride forgetting her wedding dress; White Tigress will always surprise me."

Brigitta teased, which made Tinsley scoff.

"So, what do you plan to do?" Rory asked.

"I'll drive over," Tinsley replied and placed a kiss on the children's forehead. "When the kids have already had their fun, you can take them home," Tinsley informed, and they nodded.

Tinsley waved them bye and quickly entered her car before she dialed Jarek's number. "Hubby. I forgot." Actually, Jarek had chatted with Tinsley to remind her to check the dress and pick it up, but at that moment, they were chatting about an interesting topic, so she had forgotten until Rory reminded her.

"Let's meet. I will take you back." Jarek replied to her, and she beamed happily.

Soon Tinsley arrived at the company where Jarek and her clothes were being made.

"You're here already?" Tinsley stares at Jarek in shock. She thought she'd be the first person to arrive among them.

"Hm. Come on, check it out." Jarek replied and held her waist.

Tinsley quickly pushed him away. "I told you, you won't get to see me in my wedding dress until the wedding day." She replied proudly and quickly turned to leave while giving him a cold glare to make him stay in place.

Jarek chuckled and walked toward the chair.

"President Jarek, your suit is ready."

The two's clothes fit perfectly, and they both collected them before they entered Jarek's car. "So, have you gotten the wedding hall settled and everything?" Tinsley asked. Since she was clueless about it all, she dumped everything on Jarek and the Hart family.

"Hm. Mom has done so." Jarek said and hugged her tightly. "So tired." He uttered silently because he was the one busy with most of the things involved with the ceremony.

Tinsley smiled and began to pat his back gently. "Lay on momma, my big baby." She teased, which made him pinch her waist playfully.

"Ouch. Jarek, you rascal!" She muttered and frowned slightly. "I need to ask Rory if they're home with the kids..."

Before Tinsley could complete her sentences, Jarek and Tinsley's phone began to ring repeatedly, which made the both of them frown slightly, but when they saw that it was an important call, they both picked it up. Rory called Tinsley, and Brigitta called Jarek.

"What's wrong with the both of them?" Tinsley laughed playfully and picked up the call. "Hey..."

"Tinsley, a weird black car is suddenly tracing our car. What do we do? We don't have the guards with us!" Rory suddenly cried out. Her panic was clearly heard over the phone, which made Tinsley sit up in shock.

"What... What do you mean?" Tinsley's voice was trembling even though she tried to be calm

"The triplet suddenly pointed out a weird person staring at us all day, which made us leave the pack quickly, but ever since then, a car had been tracing us. Even though we tried to escape from them, they were... Oh shit! Gun! Tinsley, they've got us surrounded." Rory suddenly screamed after a gunshot sounded, and then the call was cut off.

Tinsley's face paled with fear, and she turned to Jarek, who was currently dialing a number. It seems that Brigitta had said the same thing to Jarek.

"Jarek. Jarek." Tinsley's body trembled.

"Tinsley calm down, okay? Nothing will happen to our triplets, Rory and Brigitta. I promised to keep them safe." Jarek said while trying to be calm.

He began to dial numbers to dispatch them toward the triplet area. He also instructed the driver to begin to drive toward the triplet location at the highest speed.

Tinsley also began to pull connections since they seemed to not be that far from home; she also instructed the guards to trace the triplet, Rory and Brigitta.

"Boss, three cars are behind us." The driver suddenly said with a frown. They were on a not-busy road, yet that car had been tailing them for a few minutes now.

Tinsley paled and suddenly had a bad premonition. "Jarek." She called fearfully and held onto him while her body shivered.

This is definitely not a coincidence, they had been attacked, and their kids were being trailed...

Suddenly, her eyes widened because a truck suddenly began to drive toward them.

She grabbed Jarek hard. Jarek placed a kiss on her forehead and quickly leaned toward the driver's side to control the steering wheel.

After a lot of swerving and driving, Jarek was finally able to drive the car away from the truck attack, but they were yet to sigh in relief when a car hit them from behind before another hit them from the side.

Chapter 147 Please Wake Up And Jason'S Help

Please Wake Up And Jason's Help

The siren of an ambulance filled the surroundings a few minutes after the accident occurred.

The doctor quickly got down from the ambulance and ran toward the accident car. The cars that had collided with Tinsley and Jarek's car had run off immediately after they did.

The doctor quickly opened the car door, which fell to the floor immediately. Jarek, who was covering Tinsley, had fainted immediately after the car was hit by the unknown car.

They both had heavy injuries on their body. Meanwhile, Tinsley had a faint injury on her skin since Jarek had covered her. She still regained her consciousness even though her eyes looked drowsy.

"Save him. Save Jarek. Save." She mumbled while gasping heavily as the doctors separated her from Jarek. "Save."

"Hush, miss. Please, stop talking." The doctor muttered in a gentle voice, but tears only dropped from Tinsley's eyes.

"Don't save me. Save Jarek. Rory. Rylee..." She uttered while trying hard not to lose consciousness.

Tears were dripping from her head.

Suddenly, her phone began to ring, and she twitched her finger. "Pick. Please pick." Having no choice, the doctor quickly picked up Tinsley's call

"Tinsley, we are saved. We are..."

Hearing that Rory was saved, Tinsley immediately lost consciousness... The doctor sighed, knowing that he had to pick up the call.

"Hello."

"Please, who are you? Where's Tinsley and Jarek?" Rory asked with a slight pant.

"Hi, miss. The owner of this phone was just involved in a car accident. Please go to XX hospital." The doctor revealed.

"What?"

Tinsley, Jarek, and the car driver didn't wake up until a week after when Tinsley woke up. "Jarek," Tinsley called weakly. She could remember all that happened, and because Jarek took most of the injury, she was afraid that something bad had happened.

"Tinsley." A tired Rory, Brigitta, and Rylee cried out happily.

They never expected that the couple would have a serious accident that would make them unable to attend their wedding. Now every blog carries the news.

"Let me inform Mom," Rylee muttered and ran out of the ward.

"Rory, how's Jarek?" Tinsley cried out in a weak voice.

"President Jarek is fine. How are you feeling?"

"Hurting. How many days was I out?" Tinsley questioned weakly.

"8 days..." Before they could complete their talk, a doctor and nurse came in, which prevented them from speaking.

"We'll like to check the patient."

It was after two weeks that Tinsley recovered well, yet Jarek was yet to awaken, and because the media outlets were carrying details about their accident, they could only return to Ryle secretly to Globe

Hospital.

"Jarek, wake up. Don't you want to see me in a wedding dress anymore? It's been a month now. I am sorry for not giving you the chance to see me in my wedding dress. If you wake up, I'll wear it as much as you want. Not only that, I'll dress however you want, go on a vacation as long as you want, and roleplay with you; just wake up, please. Mason, Jason, and Ariel call for you every day. They want to practice computers and play sports with daddy. Jarek, quickly wake up, or else I'll fall in love and marry another man; you don't like that do you?" Tinsley bent her head at Jarek's bed as tears streamed down her eyes.

"Madam." A voice whispered, which made Tinsley raise her head. She quickly wiped her tears and stood up. She placed a kiss on Jarek's forehead before she walked out of the ward.

Unfortunately for her, she didn't catch sight of Jarek's finger moving slightly.

Tinsley walked out of the ward with a cold expression, "What information have you gotten?" Tinsley had made it her aim to figure out who was involved in such an accident.

She doesn't care if it is related to the underworld since this was related to her Jarek; she swore never to let anyone go.

"Madam, after tracing the cars and trucks from the CCTV, we discovered that even though they took different paths, they still ended up at the outskirts of the city where there's no usage of CCTV, and now we aim to trace them silently since they've burned the vehicles." Assistant Jacob uttered, which Tinsley noded.

"That would take a lot of work," Tinsley uttered silently and knitted her brows.

"Why don't we trace where the car came from, including the triplets? I know it would be a lot of work, but we should be able to find something. Besides, the triplet mentioned seeing..."

"Uhm. Madam..." Assistant Jacob suddenly called with hesitation.

"What is it? You can tell me."

"Uhm. Young master Jason is known to have a good hacking skills. Can you let him join our hacking team?" Assistant Jacob uttered.

Tinsley frowned slightly. "No. He's too young to see violent things." Tinsley quickly replied, which made Assistant Jacob sighed.

"Miss, we only need his tracking skills. I'll definitely protect him from 9+ images; I know little about Young Master Jason's tracking skills." Assistant Jacob tried to convince her.

"Okay," Tinsley pronounced weakly and quickly turned. She suddenly stopped in her steps and whispered only for assistant Jacob's hearing. "I believe that the person behind our incident is likely to appear on the incident day and perhaps in the hospital, still watching us in order to plan an attack. Ask the team what they get."

Upon hearing Tinsley's words, Assistant Jacob's eyes lit up, and he quickly typed Tinsley's words and sent them to the hacking team. Immediately he did so, he received a text; "They asked me to hold on for a moment." Assistant Jacob replied, and Tinsley nodded

However, a few minutes later, Assistant Jacob received images and documents from the hacking team.'Through the CCTV at the accident spot and the hospital, we were able to find this woman lurking around coupled with other people, but this woman appeared at the two places.'

Assistant Logan quickly tapped on the image and showed Tinsley the picture of a beautiful fairy-like woman.

"I don't know who this is. Let's check the details." Tinsley uttered, and assistant Jacob tapped on the file, and Tinsley silently went through it.

Suddenly, Logan and Tinsley frowned. "Something is wrong," Tinsley muttered.

"According to the details here, this woman is a poor person, but according to the videos in the CCTV, this lady is currently putting on expensive materials," Logan muttered while scrolling through her phone.

Tinsley picked up her phone and called Brigitta, "Are you home? Is Jason with you?"

"Yes, he's," Brigitta replied and quickly put Jason on the phone as Tinsley instructed. "Mom."

"Baby, I need you to do something, will you?"

Chapter 148 Tinsley Evil Side

Tinsley Evil Side

Tinsley wasn't thinking too much. No, she wasn't at all.

Tinsley swore that every single character related to the accident wouldn't be set free.

She asked the hacking team to trace the other people while she gave Jason the track to trace the woman who was caught in the hospital and the accident zone.

Tinsley continued watching Briggita and Jason together, and she felt her head heating up by how fast they were typing, so she instead shifted her gaze to working on the company documents.

Since Jarek is yet to wake up, Tinsley won't give outsiders a chance to stir up trouble with her husband's company, so she picks up the role of Jarek temporarily.

"Madam, the young master is very talented." Assistant Jacob praised, which made Tinsley smile.

"Yes, he is. Wait a minute. I'll check on Jarek." She muttered and quickly entered the ward after closing her documents.

"Jarek, our son is showing off his talent, and he looked so cool doing so, so wake up to continue guiding him," Tinsley said sadly and adjusted his cloth before she walked out. Unfortunately, her departure made her not catch the sight of Jarek's hand that stretched toward her figure.

"The investors aren't causing any trouble anymore?" Tinsley asked while working on the documents.

Because Jarek was yet to wake up, the investors tried to cause trouble, but Tinsley shut them up after scheduling a meeting with them.

"No, madam. Since the company's profit hadn't declined, Madam still kept the profit at the top like Madam promised." Assistant Jacob replied, to which Tinsley nodded.

"Aunt Brigitta, Mom, I'm done." Jason suddenly said, which caught their attention.

Tinsley smiled at Jason over the phone. "Thank you, baby. When mom is home, mom will prepare baby favorite." She said, which made Jason beamed happily.

"Briggita, please send the file over," Tinsley informed, and Brigitta sent the compiled files to Tinsley and assistant Jacob.

Tinsley quietly skimmed through the documents with pride that Jason delivered detailed documents.

Anita was a lady who was born in a poor city in the country El. She is a hardworking and jovial person who wasn't fazed by all the mystery and sad things that happened to her. She works in a tiny restaurant and uses all her money to sustain her sick mother.

Until she had an accident a few weeks ago. Since then, she has changed. Suddenly, the broke Anita turns into an expensive girl who doesn't care about her sick mother. She also moved to the city, and now she's aiming to become an actress.

"Uh." Tinsley frowned. "Jason darling, can you track the accident she was involved in and the bank details coupled with her numbers and who she met with the past few days," Tinsley said, and Jason noded.

"Yes, mom."

While Jason worked on finding the details, the hacking team was also done. Tinsley and Assistant Jacob scrolled through, and they discovered that the other people weren't related to the incident.

Soon Brigitta sent them a file, and Tinsley quickly went through it again.

Surprisingly, Anita and Lillee were found at the same accident scene, which made them frown.

"I feel like something is weird," Tinsley said, and assistant Jacob and Brigitta nodded.

"Something weird is playing." Tinsley quickly sent the hacking team a file. "Contact the hospital and find out the details of the accident involving Lillee and Anita."

By evening they finally got a full response from the hospital, and it made Tinsley furious.

It turns out that Anita and Lillie were involved in a car accident that was caused by a drunk driver. The two were crossing the road when the driver collided with them and escaped.

At the end of the day, their face was battered and unrecognizable. After a few days, one of them awoke, and after she did, she pointed at Anita's face, while the other was put into Lillee's face.

It was after the hospital scene that Lillee was captured while Anita was discharged.

"Something is weird. Lillee was said to cry out that she wasn't Lillee after she woke up even when she was caught; Tinsley, do you know the meaning?" Briggita smirked.

"Something shady is going on between Lillee and Anita," Tinsley muttered calmly. "And one of them was the one who caused our accident. Brigitta, trace Lillee's information while I go out to check Lillee in prison. And the hacking team should also check if Anita had gone to visit Lillee in the cell." Tinsley informed, and after that, she stood up and drove out of the hospital.

And after Tinsley used her influence, she was able to meet with Anita.

"Look who's here, my younger sister." Tinsley was mocked immediately after she entered.

"Ah, right! The slut of an elder sister. How has prison been treating you so far, our pure goddess Lillee?" Tinsley crossed her legs and folded her arms proudly.

"It's none of your concern." Lillee glared at Tinsley angrily.

"Oh. It's mine because I sent you here, Lillee." Tinsley chuckled and proudly scrolled through her phone. "Do you know who this is? This is Conrad and Jane; they're getting married soon." Tinsley smirked, but Lillee stared at her nonchalantly.

"So, how's that concern? Do you expect me to cry?" She utters angrily.

Tinsley suddenly smiled, then laughed, then continued to laugh loudly, which made Lillee frown.

"What's funny?"

"Such nice acting Anita," Tinsley suddenly said, which made Lillee's face change.

"What do you mean?" Lillee roars angrily.

"No 1: Lillee will never call me her younger sister unless she wants to fake an angel in front of anyone.

Number 2: even though you tried to reveal your hate and anger toward me, you were calm. Besides, Lillee is more experienced than you; she's a great actress. Three, Lillee will never claim nonchalance when it comes to Conrad and Jane, so what do you think, Anita?" Tinsley smirked, which made Lillee stand up.

"You're speaking rubbish. What do you mean I'm Anita? I'm Lillee, the one you grew up with..."

"Lillee didn't save your mom as she promised. Your mom's dead body is currently in the hospital with no one to collect it." Tinsley suddenly revealed, which made Lillee's eyes widen in disbelief.

Chapter 149 Tricking Her

Tricking Her

"What? Lillee didn't do..." She yelled, but she suddenly lowered her voice as if she just recollected herself, and she switched to a gentle voice. "What... What do you mean? My mom is Mrs. William; what do you mean?" Lillee cried out in fluster, but Tinsley already knew what she wanted to know, and she began to explain.

"Anita and Lillee were hit by a car in an area where there was no CCTV, something orchestrated by Lillee. Lillee woke up and demanded that her face was Anita, and because you have the same shape, no one suspected. But when you woke up, you demanded that your face be changed, but no one listened to you because you were a criminal, and soon you were deported back into Ryle country, where you were captured by the police and sentenced to life imprisonment. A few weeks later, Lillee visited you and made you portrayed as Lillee with the agreement that she would pay the money that would pay fee to make your mum recover her health. And when you tried to disagree, she threatened you by saying that it was your loss anyway since you couldn't leave the police station. Besides, no one will believe you no matter how you cry out that you weren't Lillee." Tinsley quickly deduced, which shocked Anita.

"You. How did you know?" Anita gasped in shock with tears in her eyes because Tinsley was right. She suddenly held Tinsley's hand. "And were you being truthful that my mom is dead?"

Tinsley shook her head. "No, but your mom is on the verge of death due to lack of treatment, but if you help me, I'll help you save your mom. Not only that, I'll pay you a huge amount to start a new life and to change your face back to the normal look." Tinsley uttered, which made Anita fall silent.

After a few minutes, Anita nodded in agreement, and they both chatted until Tinsley left.

After Tinsley left, Anita requested a Policeman. "Inform Anita that Tinsley met me tonight. She already knew the secret, and she tried to bribe me into cooperating with her." Anita whispered to the policeman before she was returned to her VIP cell.

Upon receiving the messages from the policeman, Lillee scoffed and smiled sinisterly, "Tinsley, do you think it's easy to control whoever I chose?" That's right, Lillee was also the mastermind behind the accident.

After all, she knew that she couldn't let go unless she was smart about it. And after so much searching and seeing Anita, who looked almost like her, with the both of them having the same body shape, she quickly arranged an accident and took over Anita's identity.

The next day, Lillee quickly went over to the police station to see Anita and teach her things to say when Tinsley next arrived since she watched the CCTV video of Tinsley's arrival. "You have to make sure that you do it well. I still have to make her pay, and once I do, you can leave. And before you do, I'll make your face famous, okay?" Lillee informed, and Anita nodded before Lillee walked out of the visiting room confidently.

"You're under arrest, Miss Lillee."

Lillee had just walked out of the visiting room only to see policemen surrounding her.

Lillee's expression changed, "What do you mean? Tinsley...." Lillee called in surprise when she saw Tinsley walking in leisurely.

"Hi, Miss Lillee. Ah, you thought Anita betrayed me. Nah, it's part of our scheme. You bitch." Tinsley said and completed her words with a slap on Lillee's face.

Lillee's eyes widened, and she tried to rush at Tinsley angrily, but the policemen quickly restrained her.

Tinsley suddenly stared at one of the policemen, and the man suddenly yelled. "Actress Lillee is a hardened criminal, and because of that, she'll be transferred." The policemen yelled, and everyone fell silent, and many quickly dispersed. Tinsley quickly talked to the policemen about releasing Anita before she walked out.

"You people are talking rubbish. Let go of me. I'm Anita, not Lillee. You Tinsley bitch, I'll kill you." Lillee tried to struggle, but two policemen took hold of her and dragged her into an ambulance.

Soon, Tinsley's guard, Assistant Jacob, and Tinsley entered the car, where a tied Lillee was thrown.

"Madam?" Assistant Jacob called after gagging the yelling Lillee.

"You know where to go," Tinsley replied coldly, which made Assistant Jacob shocked. "Ma... Madam."

"I'm not going to repeat myself. Perhaps I can if you want to be sacked from your job." Tinsley muttered coldly, which made assistant Jacob have no choice but to order the driver to drive to the underworld

Tinsley suddenly turned to Lillee with a sinister smile. "How nice would it be if you never touched my husband? I'll have let this go and forget everything, but for all you've done, tonight would be your last night on earth." Tinsley said darkly, which sent a trace of fear down Lillee's spine. She suddenly felt that this Tinsley was different from who she knew, but no matter how much she tried, Lillee had been gagged and restrained, and there was no way she could escape.

Soon, the car drove towards the place Jarek had kidnapped the man who had made Tinsley fall. Even though it was Tinsley's first time coming to such a place, she looked so calm that it made Assistant Jacob in awe. His respect for Tinsley increased at that moment.

Lillee shivered at the scary scene she saw, but no matter how she screamed and struggled, she was locked into a cell.

"Madam..."

"Get me the toolbox; I will take care of her. No argument." Tinsley said, which made Assistant Jacob unable to say a thing than to follow her orders.

It was later in the day when Tinsley came out of the cell. "Madam, what should we do with Lillee's remains?" Jacob couldn't help but shiver after witnessing what Tinsley was capable of.

He had always thought Tinsley was an innocent lady, but after seeing all she had done to Lillee, he rethought it, and now he thinks that Jarek and Tinsley are made for each other.

"I saw some python on my way. Just make her their plaything for a month before she was finally eaten by them." Tinsley ordered, which made Assistant Jacob's eyes widen, but he bowed his head. "Yes,

madam..."

Before he could complete his words, Tinsley's phone began to ring, and she saw that it was from

Annabelle, so she quickly changed her voice to the cute and innocent one. "Mom?"

"Jarek is awake."

Chapter 150 Pregnant And The Wedding

Pregnant And The Wedding

"Wife, the investor held praise for you in yesterday's meeting," Jarek said while kissing Tinsley. Tinsley stared at the pregnant women's book Jarek was reading a few minutes ago with a frown before she shrugged while wondering what was wrong with him.

"But they spread words about how I'm such a cold lady then. I guess the profit talks after all." Tinsley said and began to recheck her luggage, which she had packed the day before. Tinsley knew how much

Jarek was fond of changing her clothes which was the reason she was going through her things because she was afraid that he'd do the same thing this time.

After their wedding, Tinsley auditioned as an actress, and she was picked for the female lead role in a thriller drama, and because of that, she'll be traveling out of the country.

"Jarek, not again." Tinsley facepalmed herself slightly as she began to pick up her things that was changed by Jarek one by one. "Jarek, I'm going to a hot country; how can I endure wearing sweaters?"

Tinsley facepalms herself while glaring at him.

Jarek hugged her from behind and began to kiss her neck gently. He purposely changed the topic

"Wife; we'll miss you. Don't go." He uttered, which made her push him away, but he clung to her again, which made her sigh.

"Jarek, you promised to support my dream." She gasped when Jarek bit her neck while his hand began to run through her body.

"But, wife, you'll be leaving for four months and more. How can we survive?" He said.

"Bullshit. After making love with me all night? Are you going back on your promise?" She said while pushing him away from her.

"Wife. I didn't make a promise." He lied, which made her eyes widen, but before she could complete her words, she suddenly felt a gripping pain that made her break into sweats. Tinsley quickly bent slightly while holding her stomach.

Noticing Tinsley's sudden actions, Jarek was concerned immediately, "Tinsley, what's wrong?" He asked while holding her waist worriedly.

Tinsley suddenly pushed him away and ran to the toilet, and upon doing so, she began to vomit, which made Jarek's brow knit.

Jarek quickly picked up his phone and quickly dialed a number. "Come here in less than ten minutes, or you can just go extinct." He muttered coldly and cut off the call before he walked toward Tinsley.

Jarek quickly packed her hair into a bun before he helped her wash her face. Tinsley's face was now pale, which made him worried. "Tinsley, are you unwell? Did you hide it from me because you wanted to go to the set?" Jarek frowned slightly and led her to the set.

"No, I'm fine before," Tinsley said and quickly held his hand. "Jarek, it's just a stomach upset. I'm fine; I have to go to the set..." Before Tinsley could complete her word, she suddenly and ran to the bathroom again, which made Jarek frown.

"Don't tell me this is just a stomach upset this time; you have to wait for the doctor to confirm that you're fine before you leave." Jarek frowned and accompanied her out of the bathroom.

Tinsley's lips parted as if to argue, but she shut down when Jarek glared at her coldly. Knowing that Jarek would only stick to his rules, Tinsley had no choice but to sit on his lap and hug him while Jarek's hand caressed her stomach gently, hoping to help with the pain.

Soon, the doctor arrived while sweating profusely. After giving the permission to enter, he saw Jarek, the triplet, and Tinsley hugging each other, and he almost cursed loudly.

The doctor thought someone was very sick by the threatening voice Jarek used to talk to him.

"Check her health." Jarek coldly glared at the doctor before he walked out of the room.

"Mom, please be fine, okay?" The triplet said and placed a kiss on Tinsley's forehead cutely before they walked out of the room.

Tinsley suddenly had the thought that this set of clingy father and triplets who were making a hill out of a mole would certainly make it hard for her to leave unless they were sure that she was fine.

"Good morning, doctor."

"Dad, Mom will be fine, right?" The triplet climbed on the worried Jarek's lap.

Jarek nodded and ruffled their hair slightly, "Hm, mom is strong." He replied, and the triplet nodded.

"Mom is really strong. When mom is alone in EL, mom is always strong too." Ariel chatted. "I want to be strong like mom." She said, which caused a lot of chats from the kids.

Soon the doctor came out with a smile on his face, and the triplet immediately ran into the room while Jarek stood up and stared at the doctor immediately.

"Madam is pregnant!" The doctor revealed, which made Jarek freeze.

"What?" The cold president Jarek lost his bearing and immediately strode into the room to see Tinsley staring at him with red eyes.

"Jarek, the doctor said I'm carrying a baby," Tinsley said with red-rimmed eyes. She knew Jarek was incapable of making her pregnant, which made her bewildered about her sudden pregnancy, and it made her afraid that Jarek would think she cheated on him.

Jarek's eyes turned cold with anger. "You cheated on me?" He growled at her, which made Tinsley's face pale.

Her lips parted, and she opened and closed her lips as she tried to find what to say, but before she could say a thing...

"Yay, we finally have a younger sibling. I'll tell Grandmom and Aunt Rylee and Uncle Walker."

"I'll tell Grandma also."

"I'll tell Aunt Brigitta and Aunt Rory."

"Wait..." Before Tinsley could even try to stop the kids, they've ran out excitedly.

Jarek held Tinsley's chin with a cold frown. "White Tigress, you're really capable..." He uttered with a sneer which made her shake her head hurriedly and fearfully.

"Jarek, it's not what you think it..."

"I finally tied you down fully." Jarek suddenly muttered with a grin and hugged Tinsley tightly.

"I didn't cheat on you. Wait, what?" The confused Tinsley couldn't help yelling in confusion.

"Do you think you can cheat on me? I'm healed. Tinsley, I made you pregnant. I was just joking with you earlier." Jarek said and burst into laughter while Tinsley looked stunned and tried to process all that she had just heard.

"You mean you were healed, and you knew I never cheated on you, and you were playing?" She asked calmly, only to suddenly pinch him angrily. "Tell me, when did you get healed? Why didn't I know about this? Besides, you knew I was going to the set. Did you purposely hide this from me and tie me down with pregnancy to prevent me from going? Quickly, spill the truth." She stared at him angrily, which made him have no choice but to spill everything.

"After I woke up, doctor Ryan did a full body check on me, and I discovered that I was healed, just like that." Jarek said, which made Tinsley gasp

Apparently, Jarek aimed to get her pregnant, which was the reason he had been reading the pregnancy book. She had been asking him the reason, and he only said he was curious about what he missed during the triplet pregnancy, unknown to her that...

"So you knew before our wedding, yet I didn't know until now. President Jarek, you're really capable."

She gritted

"Congratulations to us, wife," Jarek replied with a grin that made her glare at him. She suddenly grinned wildly.

"Now that I'm pregnant, do you know you have to abstain from making love to me?" She revealed with a proud smile which made him shocked, but before he could say anything, their family and friends barged into the bedroom with the grinning triplet, who rushed toward their parents.

"Tinsley, Jarek, congratulations. Where are we celebrating tonight?"
