

The Substitute Bride Triplets And The Impotent Billionaire

Fool (2)

Chapter 38 Fool (2)

Lillee was so pissed that she left home to join Conrad in celebrating her role. She later ends up bragging about the role on her social media pages after taking a few drinks without informing or taking permission from manager Frankie.

Later that night, Tinsley called them to reveal that she'd be returning home with Lillee after the photoshoot, which made Mrs. William fake happiness while repeatedly thinking of ways to punish Tinsley

"Tinsley, what's wrong with you? Lillee had just bragged about the role with Conrad."

"So? Is anything wrong?" Tinsley arched her brows while inwardly thinking about Jarek's weird actions.

"That's what I should be asking you. You're suddenly changing." Rory frowned.

"I'm not. I know what I'm doing."

"By making Lillee your female lead?" Rory questioned with a frown, but Tinsley only shrugged in reply and continued to play with the triplet.

"Morning," Lillee said during her live program. She wasn't the type to post before the main source does but Taming her is a big drama, and she had been excited all night that she couldn't help revealing without getting approval from her manager or the taming her crew.

Because Tinsley was the writer of Taming Her, Lillee believed she could do all she wanted without getting any scolding.

"So today I'll be visiting the Taming Her crew, I'm so excited," Lillee muttered, which made the live comment turn into a frenzy mode.

'Revealing info before releasing, isn't this against the rule?' Someone commented.

'Congratulations, Actor Conrad's bride.'

'Our Actress Lillee keeps hogging all good fortune to herself these days. Congratulations, actress Lillee.' The fans kept praising Actress Lillee which made her happy.

After having a happy talk with her fans, Lillee immediately stopped her live program which had now sent uproar in the entertainment industry due to the news that she revealed but Lillee doesn't care at all.

She bid her mom goodbye and immediately got into the car while asking the driver to drive to the address Tinsley sent to her.

"I'm sorry, miss, there are many crews involved in the photo shoot, but you didn't have a permit nor did the crew inform me to let you in, so I can't let you in."

CHAPTER 21

"What are you talking about? What do you mean?" Lillee frowned angrily at the carefree bulky security.

"You can't enter the building." The guard simply replied to her, which made Lillee's frown deepen.

"Do you mean that I, Actress Lillee, would be using an impure method to enter a building?" Lillee's anger was already building, but she kept on clenching her fist in order to keep her sanity and to prevent herself from losing her emotions.

"I never said so." The guard replied carefree which got on her nerves.

Lillee secretly swore that if she successfully entered the building, she'd make sure the guard got fired first, but she tried to explain. "White Tigress is..."

By now crowds are already gathering due to Lillee and the guard's argument. Besides, Lillee had boasted about her role in Taming Her that morning, which further drew people's attention to her.

"Actress Lillee, perhaps you can try calling White Tigress to come pick you up?" The security replied to her calmly but Lillee seemed to detect mockery from his tone which made her fume angrily.

'You wait!' She'll show that bodyguard.

Lillee harrumphed and quickly took out her phone.

Upon taking out her phone, Lillee immediately dialed Tinsley's previous number, but the first ring didn't pick up, nor did the second or third which almost made Lillee run mad with anger.

It was only after the third call that it was finally picked.

"Who's speaking?" Tinsley replied lazily on the call.

Lillee was aggrieved, but she knew who to show it at. "Didn't you tell the security to let me in? He kept refraining me from doing so." Lillee replied in a pitiful tone which made Tinsley snort inwardly.

"I already told him. Even if I didn't remember to tell him, you should be able to enter the building with your reputation as Actress Lillee, shouldn't you?" Tinsley replied calmly but Lillee felt that Tinsley was mocking her.

And it made Lillee feel that Tinsley had purposely done that to humiliate her, and she swore to pay Tinsley in folds.

"Send your assistant to pick me up," Lillee said.

"I don't have one. However, I'll send someone to pick you up." Tinsley said and cut off the call without letting Lillee speak another word.

Lillee was angered when Tinsley cut off the call. She cut off the call like that? It made Lillee want to strangle someone. But remembering that Tinsley will soon be under her command, she decided not to pay attention to these little details for now, with the intent of returning everything in the future.

Lillee snorted at the guard and went to sit in her car to wait for the person Tinsley would be sending to pick her up.

But after ten minutes, the person was yet to arrive; what the hell is Tinsley and the foolish person she sent doing for them not to have arrived?

"Tinsley, what the hell are you doing? Are you messing with me on purpose?" Lillee scowled angrily as she called Tinsley back.

"Do you think I have time? I'll send another person." Tinsley snorted at her and cut off the call.

Lillee slammed her fist hard on the chair, "You bitch!" Lillee clenched her fist hard.

"Wait till I settle you," Lillee swore that she'd rip Tinsley apart at that time.

A gore image immediately filled her head. With these images that kept popping into Lillee's head, she'd certainly be a horror genre writer's bestseller if she should write it down.
