

The Substitute Bride Triplets And The Impotent Billionaire

Be My Wife

Chapter 50 Be My Wife

"President Jarek?" Mason, Jason, and Ariel tilted their head at Jarek with curious eyes.

They were calm, not at all fearful as if they weren't the ones who had just been snatched from their mother.

"Where's mom?" Ariel asked while swinging her little legs cutely.

"Are you our dad?" Jason suddenly asked which made Jarek cast his eyes on Jason.

This little boy is smart. He gave it to Tinsley that she really knew how to care for his kids but his heart was filled with pain upon remembering that he wouldn't have discovered their existence if it wasn't for the meeting.

Ever since the incident that happened with his family, Jarek had always been determined to build a warm family and home for his children until the moment he discovered that he wouldn't be able to father his own child.

His world fell apart at the news and he had always believed that he may never heal which made him close himself until he saw Tinsley and then he wanted to strive to and heal himself before he would ask her out.

He didn't know how she conceived his child but that would be talked about later.

He looked through the driver's mirror and he saw that she was still trying to catch up with him which made an evil glint flashed past his eyes.

"Yes, I'm your dad," Jarek replied to the kids straightforwardly.

"Why did you leave Mom then?" Ariel tilted her head curiously.

"I didn't leave your mom," Jarek replied with a sigh.

"Did Mom leave you?" Jason narrowed his eyes suspiciously which made Jarek sigh.

Jarek seemed to have the feeling that Jason didn't like him as much as Mason and Ariel. Maybe it's because he wasn't in their early life.

"Why did Mom leave you?" Mason asked inquisitively which made Jarek sigh.

These kids are so clever for their age that he didn't know whether to laugh or cry.

"That's adult business," Jarek replied to them.

"When is Mom coming to pick us?" Jason asked which made Jarek sigh in frustration.

These little kids didn't even cry or throw tantrums. They were only curious, calm, and inquisitive.

Jarek sighed and drove into one of the most expensive estates in the country. "Let her in." He instructed the security with a cold voice.

"Mom is here." The triplets said excitedly and without waiting for Jarek to open the door, they immediately got down from the car and ran toward Tinsley's car.

Jarek narrowed his eyes at the triplet's action using it to hide the sadness that flickered past his eyes.

The triplet didn't put him in their eyes but when it comes to their mom, their mom was their everything.

At that minute, Jarek came to a realization that he couldn't separate the mother from the child and vice versa. And it wasn't like he wanted to. He wanted them all.

Suddenly, a wicked thought flashed past his head which made him break into a grin, he quickly hid his grim expression.

"Babies." Tinsley sighed in relief when the triplets ran into her embrace.

She was at first afraid that Jarek would take the kids away and wouldn't let her into his mansion but it seems that he would be giving her a chance to redeem herself.

Tinsley looked up to see Jarek leaning against his car while glaring at her coldly which made her tremble in fear.

"Mom, did you hide us from Dad?" Jason glared at Jarek as if he couldn't believe all Jarek was saying and that Tinsley was the innocent one. His beautiful mom was always the innocent one.

Tinsley bowed her head shamefully not knowing how to explain it to the children. "I..."

"Mom has a situation, so Mom had to stay abroad with you kids." Jarek decided to defend her, not wanting to embarrass her in front of the kids.

He sighed upon knowing that it was his fault for being careless. He should have checked for her safety that year when he woke up but because his mind was in a state of a mess due to the news, he had taken everything as a one-night stand.

"Let's talk," Jarek says to Tinsley without looking at her and immediately hands the triplets to his butler.

"The kids will live with me from now on," Jarek said straightforwardly. Not asking for her opinion which made her pale in fear.

How can she live without her bundle of joy? Tears well up into her eyes, "Jarek. I. I'm sor..."

"You weren't when you hid them from me." Jarek interrupted her coldly which made her heart begin to pound in fear.

"I know I was wrong and I would do anything to redeem myself." Tinsley bit her lips while hoping that she had something beneficial that would be useful to Jarek.

"Anything?" Jarek asked her to make sure she was sure of what she was saying.

Tinsley knew she didn't have the power to go against Jarek, he's one of the wealthiest Billionaires so he's capable of crushing her without lifting a finger.

And even if she went to the court for custody of the triplets she knew she would definitely lose to Jarek so the best thing she can only do is to beg for his amnesty.

Tinsley clenched her fist determinedly. "Yes."

Jarek smirked at her and suddenly pulled her by the waist which made her crash into his chest. "Be their mother; be my wife." He says to her which shocked her to the core.
