

THE SUBSTITUTE BRIDE TRIPLETS AND THE IMPOTENT BILLIONAIRE

Chapter 81 Overprotective

Overprotective

Chapter 81 Overprotective

"I investigated the flying harness and Lillee was behind it," Jarek said to Tinsley and began to play a voice recording to her. The voice recording was of the assistant's sincere confessions. Confessing what Lillee asked him to do and what she had him done to many actresses in the past.

Apart from harming Tinsley's flying harness, the assistant was also cooking up something that'll also injure Aldean and Rylee to stir up the audience's anger and as if that wasn't enough, he also planned to steal the production's drama and release it ahead of time, etc.

Tinsley's lips parted in disbelief. "What the hell? Why is she so cruel to me? I hadn't even done anything to her, but she's already attacking me. She was Mom and Dad's favorite child when we were growing up, even when I was never liked, she made them hate me more by scheming at me, Jarek what was my offense? Why?" Tinsley's shoulder shook as she tried not to cry.

Jarek hugged her and began to caress her back softly. His heart was aching as he watched her try hard not to cry, his hate for Lillee was raging, and he swore to make her pay for every single thing she had done to Tinsley, "Babe, let it out. I'm here." Jarek began to comfort her.

Tinsley wrapped her hand around him and placed her head on his chest, hearing his calm and strong heartbeat gave her the belief that she'd be safe. That Jarek will always protect her and the children.

"Jarek, let's get married." Tinsley finally replied while wiping her tears away.

"Wife?" Jarek was stunned and parted from her.

"Hm. Let's provide our Triplets with a warm home." Tinsley replied with a smile on her face that dazzled him.

Jarek smiled and parted his lips. He was about to say something when the Triplets barged into the room, "Dinner." Ariel yelled, which made Jarek massage his forehead in distress.

These children only know how to interrupt their parent's romantic time every time.

"Eh. Mom has red eyes." The sharp-eyed Mason suddenly yelled loudly, which made their expression change.

"Dad, what did you do to mom?" The Triplets yelled at Jarek angrily which made him chuckle.

"Mom, Mom, why are you crying?" Ariel quickly climbed on Tinsley and used her hand to touch Tinsley's face. She hugged Tinsley and began to pat her mom's back. "Mom, don't cry. Mom, don't cry."

She said while patting her mom's back

Tinsley stuck out her tongue playfully at Jarek as Mason and Jason stood in front of Tinsley protectively.

Jarek wanted to laugh at the scene of his children being overprotective of their mom while showing him a fighting stance. "Dad!" Mason and Jason glared at Jarek angrily upon seeing him laugh.

Jarek picked the two children by the collar with his two hands, wanting to tease them, "So, what will you do?" He questioned them and laughed while watching them trying to struggle in his hold.

"We'll take revenge once we get stronger," Jason said seriously while trying to remove Jarek's hand that held him. The little boy had never hated being a powerless child as much as he was at that moment.

Tinsley and Jarek laughed at the scene, "Babies, daddy didn't bully mom." Tinsley finally said in a sincere voice while Jarek also placed the little kids down.

"Huh?" They all turned to stare at Tinsley in disbelief. They all thought that Tinsley was protecting Jarek.

"Something got into mom's eyes so daddy helped mom let it out." She replied, which made them bow their heads in remorse.

"Dad, we're sorry." They said downheartedly but Jason and Mason suddenly clenched their fist. "Dad, we'll get stronger so that you'll never bully Mom." And with that, they ran out of the room together.

Tinsley laughed hard at the scene that had just taken place while Jarek stared at her grimly. "President Jarek, I'll be waiting for the day you... Haha!" Tinsley laughed loudly while rolling around the bed.

Jarek finally had enough so he captured her waist to stop her, but she continued to laugh boldly, "It can't be that President Jarek planned to bully a sick person, let me remind you, my kids are down..."

Jarek finally pressed her down intending to kiss her until she was out of breath, but before he could,

Mason suddenly kicked the door, "Dinner." He yelled which made Jarek part away from Tinsley angrily.

He couldn't help but think he needs to take Tinsley on a vacation away from the kids, or at this rate, he'll never move forward in his relationship.

"Bye, honey. Have fun." Tinsley waved him away while chuckling happily. Jarek's eyes darkened, and he pressed her to the bed. "Get well soon, and we'll see if you have the energy to ridicule your husband anymore." He smirked as he watched her gulp in fear. "Why? Because your strength will be spent on the bed." He replied and walked away with a smug expression on his face while Tinsley kept on looking at him with a pounding heart. Tinsley finally snapped out of it when Jarek was about to leave the room, "Jarek?" She quietly called. "Hm?" He turned back to her. "About Lillee and William's family, I'll handle them myself at the right time." She uttered which made him clenched his fist in anger. He took a deep breath and tried to regain his calmness.

Chapter 82 Greedy

"Are you sure?" He questioned her with a serious expression and she nodded immediately.

"Yes, I am. I'll solve them at the right time. Since she used her wedding to ridicule me, I'll start from there also. Her happiest day will become her ridiculing day." She replied seriously and he nodded firmly.

"I'll obey your words. Do you want to come along?" He asked her if she wanted to come down to have dinner with the kids.

"No, thanks." Tinsley shook her head and lay back on her bed. "Hm, Jarek, when can I have my phone?" She asked with a seriousness that made him laugh. Ever since she had woken up, her phone had been with Jarek and he had been the one to arrange her things.

"When I have you in bed." He replied which made her glare at him with red on her face. Originally, what he wanted to say was he'd give it to her when she was in full health but upon remembering that he planned to have her at that time, he decided to reply to her with that.

"You're a shameless rascal." She clinked her tongue playfully before burying her head under the blanket, making him laugh and leave the room.

At this rate, the news online had now reached the highest with everyone being angry about White Tigress and Jarek for deleting every bad comment made. Unfortunately no matter how furious they are, they couldn't leave one unless they wanted to get sued by J empire.

Constance's followers from 100 thousand had now reached over 2 million followers in those few days with brands reaching out to her for major deals.

Seeing such things happen to her, Constance began to get greedy and hungry for attention and she kept on acting as if she loved Tinsley to stir up the fans.

Lillee stepped back, enjoying Tinsley's misfortune, she couldn't help thinking that Tinsley's end would soon be near. Besides, she could also picture the scene where Jarek will kick Tinsley and her bastard children out of the house.

"Conrad, I've thought about it, let's hold our wedding sooner, exactly two months after I shoot my drama," Lillee explained happily.

At that time, she can't wait to see Tinsley become a laughingstock when her movie gets revealed ahead of time, with a bad edit that would make the audience lose their interest in the first scene.

"Ok, the invitation card will be ready in a week, do you have anyone you want to invite, besides, will you invite Tinsley?" Conrad doesn't understand his infatuation with Tinsley these few days. Maybe he hated her like he claimed, or maybe he didn't, but he found himself scrolling through her page a few times a day.

Especially Jarek's who kept on posting shots of her until lately when he stopped doing so which possibly was due to the accident.

Lillee clenched her fists upon hearing Conrad's question. Invite who? That Tinsley bitch? That's definitely the last thing she'll do on Earth. She couldn't watch people's attention be snatched by Tinsley on her wedding day, but she tried to hide everything with a sweet smile.

"Of course, I will. Even though my sister never put me in mind, I always love her. After you give out the invitation letter, I'll personally send it to my sister and Conrad, you can send it to President Jarek of J Empire, having someone of that caliber can make us catch the eyes of many big families." Lillee said in a soft voice that made him unable to refute, besides Conrad thought that Lillee was doing it all for his benefit.

Unknown to him that everything Lillee was doing was for her benefit.

The both of them continued to talk about their future until they finally bid themselves goodnight. After the call with Conrad, Lillee finally decided to have a talk with the man she planted in Tinsley's Taming

Her Crew set.

And they both talked that night with the man promising to cook something intense that'll shock Lillee.

Thinking that it was Tinsley's end that would shock Lillee, she was excited and cut off the call immediately.

She couldn't wait for several of the misfortunes to befall Tinsley!

Chapter 83 Shady Pictures And Lies

Shady Pictures And Lies

Chapter 83 Shady Pictures And Lies

There's always a calm before a storm and that's the current mood online. Everyone kept waiting for

Tinsley, or J Empire, or Taming Her crew to come online to explain all that was happening in the past few days but nothing happened and everything went silent, but everyone knew that there was no silence; rather they were all waiting for the time Tinsley will be caught up by them.

The online life looks normal, not too hot and not too cold because they can't find someone to latch onto except Constance who kept on providing the audience what they wanted which made her followers continue to increase.

Lillee also tried to post her pictures and her hardworking behind-the-scenes pictures in order to get likes and stir waves from the netizens and those people who believe that Lillee was always innocent begin to bash Tinsley while loving Lillee.

The calm was like that on social media until Mrs. William suddenly decided to come online to post shady pictures and things about Tinsley.

With words about how Tinsley was bad and how she refused to return home ever since she returned to Ryle's country even after she called her.

Not only that, but she also continued to post about some bad things that Tinsley did in the past. After seeing such a post, normally, people's hate for Tinsley increased more than a notch.

And whether there is evidence or not, no one cares anymore since Tinsley was painted as the villain, and she never came out to clarify herself which they considered as being guilty.

Normally people have been annoyed that they can't do anything except hold in their calm until when she'll get into their palm. Reporters also kept on hanging around trying to find Tinsley or Taming Her location, but they couldn't because everything about the movie was very secretive.

And no one dares to go to J Empire to want to interview Jarek unless they have a death wish.

It was a very calm day when some pictures, audio, and videos suddenly began to drop online and what was shocking was that they were related to the pure Constance and White Tigress.

The pictures shocked a lot of people, especially Constance, who never expected that something like that existed.

"Woah, where did you get those?" Tinsley asked while listening to the voice note of Constance.

'Those netizens are fools and very easy to fool. Just because I made up some words about White Tigress, they were quick to believe it. Well, thankfully it works for me, and now I'm on my path to being an A-list star. Who cares about that White Tigress bitch anyway? Serves her right.'

It was just a random self discussion and that was just the beginning. Besides, Tinsley was shocked when she listened to the discussion between Lillee and Constance that Jarek didn't upload online.

"Lillee instigated her also? How did you get these?" Tinsley asked as she went through the pictures of Constance hugging old and ugly fat men, old enough to be her father.

"Hm. I asked my men to watch over her and the set all the time. They've planted CCTV devices near her which recorded most of the things here and naturally, we were able to trace the rest from there."

Jarek replied. "And they had many discussions on the set, I don't think we should upload online yet,"

Jarek said and sent some files to her.

Tinsley happily placed a kiss on Jarek's cheeks before she went through it. Her eyes lit up with happiness upon going through it. Well, since that writer also planned to destroy Taming Her, well, Tinsley also had enough evidence to destroy his movies. All thanks to Jarek. "Thank you, hubby," Tinsley said and placed another kiss on his cheeks.

"You can find Lillee, right?" Before Jarek could ask for something, Tinsley quickly placed a kiss on his lips. "Gift. Thank you, hubby." She replied while blinking at him innocently

Jarek stared at her grimly, he was planning to take her on a few days' date away from the protective Triplets who doesn't want him to advance in his relationship with their mom.

"Okay," Jarek replied and covered her with a blanket which she flung away carelessly.

"I'm really fine. The doctor said I'm fine, yet you said I should stay in bed. Definitely, you don't want me to run to the set." Tinsley grumbled casually, but Jarek nodded carefully.

"Yes."

Tinsley gasped when she heard his words, she quickly pushed him away from her, "Okay. You can leave. Goodbye, have fun at the office." Tinsley said while waving at him happily.

"I'm only leaving to meet some important partners, I'll be back soon." He said and placed a kiss on her face.

"Where's my phone? I'm okay. The doctor said I'm okay." Tinsley quickly yelled before he could say anything. "I can walk, I can do anything. Yet you still stuff me in the bed. If I can't walk, I can type."

Tinsley quickly said, which made him narrow his eyes.

Unable to refute, Jarek quickly brought out her phone and handed it to her. She smiled upon seeing it, and she quickly unlocked it and then began to go through it with her eyes lighting up at every second.

Seeing that Jarek had left, Tinsley quickly got down from the bed. She smiled when her leg touched the floor. Jarek was so protective of her that if she wanted to visit the restroom, he would carry her, so she wouldn't stress herself.

Tinsley ran to the bathroom while humming happily. She quickly prepared the bathtub before she soaked in it. She closed her eyes with delight and placed her phone on a stand. She couldn't help but miss all these little things that she thought were insignificant.

Suddenly, the door was barged open and a not-calm Jarek appeared in Tinsley's point of view.

Jarek's eyes darkened when he saw her in the bathroom, "You."

"President Jarek. I only want to relax, and I'm really healthy. Definitely healthy. I can run to the set tomorrow because I'm in full health." She replied leisurely.

"You aren't. The doctor said you can't soak in water, too much, how many times do I need to tell you?"

He said and placed a towel next to her before he walked out of the bathroom.

A few minutes later, she joined him and she was now wearing a bathrobe. Jarek's eyes darkened upon seeing the image, but he quickly warned himself that she was sick. Extremely sick. Slowly, the desire diffused.

"Right. Why did you return?" Since he had gone to the meeting with his foreign business partners, he wasn't supposed to be back at this minute.

"Well, I brought you this." Jarek suddenly pointed toward a wheelchair, which made Tinsley's expression turn ugly. "In case you wanted to visit the restroom."

"President Jarek, it seems you have forgotten. I was only sick, not broken-legged."

Chapter 84 Lillee And Constance

Lillee And Constance

Chapter 84 Lillee And Constance

Discussion online had turned fervent and many people are dragging Constance online for pretending to be what she wasn't and for misleading the people and calling them fools:

'Look at this little bitch! To think that I always thought that she was different, and I also planned to follow her online for the rest of my life, unaware that she was one of the worst bitch.'

'When I said that this was scripted you never believed, now you can see. She's a fan indeed.'

'This little actress is actually a bitch in heat. Just look at the way she was wrapping herself around disgusting old men, tell me how much do you charge, let me take you for the night, and I'll pay you double.'

Constance's expression turned ugly, and she quickly went to look for Lillee who was now lounging leisurely in the dressing room after finishing her shoot for the day.

"You never told me this is how it is going to end." Constance had been feeling like she was the one at the top of the Earth these past few days. Now that something bad happened, she was almost losing her mind.

Lillee smiled secretly upon seeing Constance's unhappy expression. Yeah, in fact, she was at first uncared. Not until the girl started to brag and get out of hand and refused to listen to her instructions also.

Lillee instructed Constance to focus more on acting instead, she only knew to shade White Tigress to gain support from the fans. Watching her followers grow was her aim.

Before, it was only her conversations and pictures that were posted online, but now, they were also the shreds of evidence of an unknown person who transferred a huge amount of money to Constance to break away from Taming her.

Not only that, but they were also screenshots of chats between Lillee and Constance that showed that she had lied to Tinsley.

And there was much evidence that shows that Constance wasn't gentle and poor; instead, she had been going out with older men, so she could secure her role and she also had many cases of bullying her schoolmates in the past.

Now, the White Tigress is completely clean but still, she had refused to say anything online yet which made fans direct their anger at Constance.

At a time like this, Lillee was afraid that Constance's issue would stir up trouble for her or that the person who posted the evidence may be tempted to do something if the person saw both Lillee and Constance together. Lillee intended to separate herself from Constance until she found out whoever was behind it.

"Can't you hear me?" Constance yelled out with a hoarse voice that revealed that she had probably been crying ever since the incident happened.

Now everyone on the set was looking at her weirdly, even the director was criticizing her acting all day.

"Didn't you enjoy it in the beginning? You kept on delivering more than I wanted you to, didn't you? How can you run to me now?" Lillee sneered, which made Constance's expression change.

Constance was stunned by Lillee's voice, and she immediately pushed Lillee angrily, "You bitch, you ruined my life all because I helped you? How can you not be any remorseful?" She yelled at Lillee while struggling with her.

She suddenly slapped Lillee's face hard and began to entangle with her. "You asked me to ruin White Tigress. You evil demon." Constance yelled while punching, slapping, and kicking Lillee.

Lillee who had always been pampered all her life, basically knew nothing about fighting, so she was prone to be beaten up, but Constance didn't intend to go far; after all, she still has to rely on Lillee.

"I swear to God if I'm kicked out of the set, I'll definitely pull you down with me. I have evidence to prove that you instigated me to lie at Tinsley, and I'll make sure that all your goddess behavior is destroyed in the entertainment industry." Constance threatened her but suddenly Lillee slapped her in anger.

"How dare you threaten me? Remember who put you here? If you push me hard, I will make sure you're destroyed." Lillee unmasked all her facade and suddenly bashed Constance's head against the wall, which made her whimper tearfully.

"Stay calm when I'm being nice. I don't need to lift a finger to destroy you." Lillee replied angrily before she released Constance.

Constance finally regained herself and suddenly clapped. "Is that it? Is that the goddess?" She suddenly brought out her phone and Lillee's eyes widened when she saw that Constance's phone was placed on record.

"I never lose my guard whenever I'm next to you so every bit of evidence I have is spread around my phones and systems. How much of a reputation hit do you think you'll have if I released everything you've told me, Miss Lillee? Mind you, I also have a video record." Constance laughed tauntingly before she swaggered out of the room with a raised chin.

"This bitch!" Lillee clenched her fist and angrily swept all the things on her table away. "I swear to destroy her," Lillee muttered and finally calmed down.

'Not yet. Not yet. I have to end this film successfully. After that, I can take care of her in a clean sweep.'

Lillee thought before she angrily went through social media.

Social media has gone wild and everyone was pointing to Billionaire's deed crew as shameless one.

They believed that the director or writer must have instigated this after all. They had accepted Lillee when she had been rejected by Tinsley and also accepted Constance which means that the crew wasn't a good one.

The Billionaire's Deed which was on the top search as one of the most followed upcoming movies quickly became the opposite and not only that, reporters had somehow found where the crew were and surrounded the location to interview each of them.

Lillee's expression turned grim, and she couldn't help but clench her fist in anger

"Miss Lillee, the director needs to see you."

Chapter 85 A Warning

A Warning

Chapter 85 A Warning

"Director...."

"What the hell is going on with you and Constance, huh? Are you both going crazy? Can we have momentary peace in our set? If it isn't you that was scolded, it's her. What the hell! Are you two sent to spread negative energy in our set?" The director began to scold Lillee the minute she entered her room.

She turned to see Constance with her head bowed to hide her bloodshot eyes.

Lillee interrupted, she felt that it wasn't her fault, "Direct..."

"Shut up. What I need now from both of you isn't an excuse, what I need now is a way to be back on the chart, not the bottom. I think this is the worst film of the year already." The director cried out while ruffling his hair angrily.

Both Constance and Lillee's expressions turned ugly. "Director, what are you talking about? We aren't the marketing crew." They retorted which made the director smack the table hard, making them jump in fear.

"You aren't in the marketing crew, but you've gladly marketed my movie to the opposite path it should take. You, Lillee, I don't want to know how you do it, I want to see a change in the chart of this movie.

You have Conrad. And you Constance, I want the same thing. You have your old daddies, use them to clear our path. Do I make myself clear?" The director gave out a fierce warning and then left the room immediately.

Constance glared at Lillee before she left the room. She picked up her phone and her expression fell when she saw that people were still bashing her online.

And it had worsened. Some were already threatening to harm her once she was out of the billionaire's deed set which made her tremble in fear. There were occasional threats of the fan planning to burn her house, etc. Which almost drove her crazy.

Constance had never expected that she'd fall this low and as if that wasn't enough, all the people who followed her began to unfollow and unlike her post and they were also leaving negative comments in all her posts, both the recent and the ones she had forgotten about.

Constance continued to scroll through her social media. Suddenly, she came to a stop having a bad premonition when she saw that the new user that posted all her secrets online had also posted someone else.

She quickly tapped the post and saw that the post was related to Mrs. William. Constance smiled in glee. Serves that Lillee bitch right.

The evidence contained a voice note of Tinsley and Mrs. William. In the audio was that of Mrs. William calling Tinsley to force her to come home, so Tinsley could give Lillee the female lead role of Taming her and a few things which made people shocked.

Besides, the audio only contained Mrs. William's voice so many people were able to see what Tinsley faced through and they quickly changed their narrative:

'So not only strangers scheme at White Tigress, but families also do?'

'Poor white Tigress.'

'I can tell that Lillee is definitely not someone good.'

The Williams also began to receive massive bashing online. Reporters and fans also crowded their houses and the company for juicy revelations which made them unable to leave their homes. Conrad was also pulled in.

Tinsley laughed loudly when she read a piece of news from a legit news source that Conrad and William's family hadn't been seen in the public eye for four days now due to the fear of fans and reporters.

The news even stated that the fans crowded the William's Mansion but didn't force them to come out even when the fans destroyed some of their things they refused to appear.

"So you're really not going to do anything with Constance and Lillee now?"

Due to boredom, Tinsley had invited Rory over to Jarek's place.

"Not yet. Constance will definitely be on Lillee's neck now, and I bet that Lillee will try to destroy Constance soon, so she won't let her secret out. When that time comes, we shall see." Tinsley replied while swinging her feet childishly.

"Are you serious?" Rory stared at Tinsley skeptically.

"You should know by now that I never let the fun stop." Tinsley rolled her eyes at Rory.

"Then what did you plan to do?" Rory asked eagerly.

"I planned to have dessert and some snacks at my favorite shop. Spend that money on me, baby."

Tinsley replied, which made Rory roll her eyes.

"Sometimes you're really crazy, no wonder you're a writer. Let's go." Rory also stood up and they both began to leave the mansion. "So, how's it going with you and your husband?"

"Children are always interrupting the adult fun time," Tinsley replied expressionlessly while fixing the car belt.

"Huh, right? Why don't you guys have a vacation and bring the Triplets to stay at my place, or they can stay at the mansion, no problem?" Rory suggested.

"But the kids are too young to be alone," Tinsley replied, and she suddenly received a smack on her head from Rory.

"Stupid." Rory rolled her eyes and taunted making Tinsley glare at her.

The days flashed by quickly and the crews are nearing the end of their acting. Now Tinsley was running to the set daily to Jarek's distress.

Jarek silently watched Tinsley apply her skincare routine that morning since she was going to the set that morning; the relationship between the two had gotten closer than before.

Tinsley wondered why he wasn't preparing for work that morning and was instead staring at her. She suddenly winked at him through the mirror, "Too sexy; unable to have your eyes away?" She mumbled, which made him stare at her with a deep look.

He suddenly walked toward her and hugged her from behind, "Tinsley, I'd like to tell you something."

Jarek said, wanting to come clean with her.

"What is it? About your family?" She asked and carefully placed her face serum on the table before she turned to him with an inquisitive look.

"No. About me." He replied, which made her stare at him with a suspicious look.

"You have a wife outside? You have a mistress outside? The Triplets has some step-siblings outside..."

She continued to blurt out until Jarek was unable to take it anymore.
