Chapter 86 Opening Up To Her

Opening Up To Her

Chapter 86 Opening Up To Her

"Listen to me, please. White Tigress." He replied while messaging her brows.

"Ah, certainly." Seeing that she was getting too forward, she shut her lips and looked up at him. "So, what do you plan to say?" She asked him.

"About my condition." He finally replied after taking a deep breath to prepare himself. Jarek planned to be with Tinsley forever. Even though he didn't understand how the Triplets came about, he knew he should still tell her the truth about the testicular trauma.

Tinsley's face suddenly turns pale due to fear, "Don't tell me you have a heart problem or cancer." She quickly burrowed into his embrace. "Don't tell me any bad news, okay? Don't tell me you're dying or else I'll leave with the Triplets, and we'll never see you again." She tried to threaten, but her voice came out in a weak and scared voice that showed how scared she was.

"You dream and think wild. Really worthy of being a writer." Jarek said while caressing her back to calm her down.

"The truth is I have serious testicular trauma." He dropped while waiting for her reaction.

Tinsley was stunned when she heard what he wanted to say. "That's it?" She asked and kicked him on his foot angrily. "I thought you were dying, I was so scared." Tinsley patted her chest while Jarek watched her in disbelief.

After calming herself down, Tinsley turned to him with a clueless and innocent expression. "Wait, what is serious testicular trauma?" She asked which made him laugh loudly.

All the anxiety Jarek had quickly disappeared in that minute.

"What's funny?" She asked and he shook his head. He took hold of her hand and led her to the bed before he explained the truth about his testicular trauma and the shock he had when he discovered that she had a triplet for him.

"When you returned, I tried to receive some treatment but it didn't improve the situation." He explained which made her hug him, feeling sad on his behalf. She was glad that he told her the truth and more glad that the one-night stand happened that night.

"It must have hurt a lot." She stared at him with tears in her eyes and he also nodded to signify that she was saying the truth.

She suddenly separated from him with a knowing expression. "Oh, is that the reason you're yet to do that? Ah, I understand." She patted his shoulder.

"It's cool, you don't need to worry yourself. I understand." She stood up calmly while humming not noticing the angry stare on Jarek's face.

This wild thoughts woman. "Who do you say can't do it?" He asked grimly but Tinsley who wasn't looking at his face happily replied.

"Well if you can. You'll certainly have done so. Don't worry you don't need to hide from me." Tinsley pats his shoulder comfortingly and begins to walk away from the bed with seductive steps.

Jarek was annoyed by her taunting words. More so, he had been holding his desire in for a long time.

Now that he cleared himself to her, he knew he didn't have to hide his desire anymore.

Without a warning, he grabbed her waist with his right hand and gently pushed her to the bed, and climbed over her with a dark stare that sent a chill down her spine. "Say it again." He muttered near her ear

Tinsley gasped when he suddenly bit her ears, "Jarek wait! You can?" She tilted her head with suspicion that annoyed Jarek to the core.

"Wait? You get what you asked for." With that, he began to untie the knot in her robe.

It can't be that Jarek can do it now and wants her to do it now.? "The kids. The set." She stared at him with a blushing face when he began to untie the second knot of her robe.

"The driver has taken them to school. Wife, it's time to do your wife duties, it can't be that you're planning to run from it. Are you?" He asked before he took off the robe completely.

Tinsley nodded her head and he smiled at her sincerely. "Be gentle." She muttered in a shy voice and he nodded firmly before he planted a kiss on her forehead.

"I will."

Tinsley rubbed her aching waist while panting softly. Jarek suddenly planted a kiss on her lips. "It's enough." She cried out and tried to push him away from her but he hugged her closer to him with his hand running through her skin.

"Tinsley, I'm really happy." He uttered while planting a kiss on her neck. "I'm happy that you accepted us."

Tinsley could feel the change in him again which made her glared at him in disbelief. This man, they've been at it since early morning. "Jarek, the Triplets..." She gasped when he began to kiss her neck again.

"Hm. The door is closed. They can't come in when they return from school." Jarek replied. "Honey,"

All words of protest were shut from her lips by the demanding Jarek.

It was late at night when Tinsley finally woke up, she saw Jarek typing on his laptop.

As if noticing her stare, he turned to look at her and flashed her a smile, "How do you feel, honey?" He closed his laptop and diligently got down from the bed to pour her water.

He placed her head on his lap and gently gave her the water to drink.

"You said you'll be gentle." Tinsley glared at him with eyes filled with grievances. Her voice was hoarse and her eyes were red and her lips were swollen.

"I did. Are you hungry?" He asked her gently.

"That's certainly nowhere near gentle." She glared at him with a pout.

Chapter 87 Mrs Williams

Mrs Williams

Chapter 87 Mrs Williams

"Mom." The Triplets bolted into the room and quickly hugged Tinsley.

"Dad said you were at the set when we arrived from school." Mason expressed, which made Tinsley blush.

This Jarek! How can he lie about the set to the children?

"Did you do well in school?" Tinsley asked them and let them sit on her lap.

"Yeah, mom. I did well in my test." Ariel said proudly.

"Me too, mom." Jason and Mason cried out eagerly which made her rub their heads fondly.

"Dada." Jason and Mason called which made Jarek massage his brows.

"Can you call me Daddy?" He said in a helpless tone which made Tinsley snicker. She was enjoying his misfortune until Jarek suddenly eyes her with a lustful stare that made her shrink back.

She couldn't help but remember how this man had repeatedly made love to her while teasing her until she cried and acted like he wanted.

"Younglings," Jarek called and pulled the both of them with his right hand which caused them to struggle in his hand.

"Say Dad." He silently told them with an expression that revealed how much he was enjoying their struggles.

"Jason and Mason. Say dad. Dad would let you go. You don't want to be late for school." Ariel called loudly while Tinsley looked at them warmly, enjoying the family's happy time.

Mason and Jason looked at Tinsley helplessly after failing to get out of Jarek's hold. "Mom. Mom. Help us, Mom. He is bullying us." Mason cried out shamelessly which made Tinsley part her lips.

"Do you want to say something?" Jarek interrupted Tinsley with a dark look which made her shake her head quickly.

"No. No. Baby, quickly call Dad and Dad will let you go." Tinsley coaxed the little boys.

"Jason, Mom doesn't like us anymore. Mom likes him more. Look, Mom doesn't even support us. Mom supports Dad." Mason cried out in a spoiled voice which made Jason nod his head seriously.

"I think so," Jason replied seriously which made their lips twitch.

'What nonsense? These little kids already knew how to guilt-trip their parents.' he thought and raised them higher which made them continue to bawl louder.

Tinsley's heart softens, and she can't help calling Jarek softly. "Hubby."

"Listen, if you call mom to help you every time that means you're not a strong man. A man would stick to words, rely on his capabilities and call 'dad'" Jarek threatened them.

Upon hearing Jarek's words, they turned to Tinsley. "Mom, is that true?"

Tinsley had no choice but to nod her head. Jarek glared at the little two faintly; they wouldn't even believe his words.

After getting Tinsley's affirmation, they turned to Jarek and called obediently, "Dad."

Jarek placed the two on the bed. "Kiss Mom and let's leave for school," Jarek informed them, and they quickly did so.

"Hm. Mom and Dad will be going on a vacation." Jarek suddenly revealed which made them turn to him with their full attention on him.

"Dad, are we going with you?" They asked eagerly, but Jarek shook his head.

"Mom and Dad only," Jarek repeated.

"You see, I told you, Mom and Dad don't like us anymore," Mason told Jason and Ariel seriously.

Jarek rubbed his forehead and faintly glared at Mason, that little devil who's able to have anyone bow to his schemes.

Tinsley immediately sat up in a panic and pulled the three into her hug. "That's not true. Mom and Dad love you the most." She said while rubbing their voices.

Mason rubbed her back and said quietly. "Mom and Dad will not go on a vacation without us, right? We love Mom so much, we can't bear to part from Mom." Mason said in between feigned sniffles.

Tinsley quickly parted her lips and nodded in affirmation. "Mom and Dad won't leave. We won't leave, right hubby?" Tinsley looked at Jarek expectantly.

Jarek clenched his fist knowing the little devil had blocked his romantic time again, but he had no choice but to nod, "No, we won't leave."

Mason flashed a cunning smirk to Jason and Ariel, he separated from Tinsley with a docile look. "Mom, we are leaving, we'll be studying well." They said and ran outside.

Tinsley shook her head looking shocked, "I feel like I'm tricked." She scratched her neck absentmindedly.

Jarek pursed his lips and walked toward her. He took hold of her chin with a dark look, "Dear, you've canceled our vacation, you can only pay me with your body." He moved closer to her as if he wanted to kiss her.

"Dad!" Mason suddenly kicked the door, interrupting Jarek's kiss. Jarek, the billionaire president, never felt this helpless. He really needs to do something or else these kids will never let him enjoy a romantic time with his wife.

Jarek placed a kiss on Tinsley's forehead before he turned to leave.

Tinsley brought out her phone to check social media and see how the William's family was coping but when she checked, she discovered that they were holding a live video in the house, and they'll soon end it.

Tinsley caressed her hair feeling sad that she didn't log in early but still, there was time.

"Tinsley is our child and the last thing we will do is try to tarnish her image. I don't know who posted that evidence, but they purposely wanted to use that to disrupt my happy family." Mrs. William continued.

'Oh, how happy is your family? Tell us how many kids President Jarek and Tinsley had and what are their names?' Tinsley quickly typed happily with the intent to cause trouble.

Mrs. William's expression changed when she saw the comment but when she saw that it was from Tinsley's official page, her face turned cold and she ignored the comments.

'Looks like you don't know? Then tell us what Tinsley's birthday is, or you don't remember? What about Tinsley's favorite meal...' Tinsley continued to comment happily.

Seeing Tinsley's comments made the live audience fall into frenzy, her questions further sparked another frenzy and the fans started commenting that Mrs. William should reply to Tinsley.

Mrs. William was immediately taken over by rage; her life was already going well until Tinsley finally came online and began to cause trouble for her, "Tinsley, you bitch! Fuck off and don't cause trouble..."

As if realizing what she had just done, Mrs. William came to a stop, but now the fans finally knew that she was pulling a facade, and it sent everything into a mad frenzy.

Unable to take it anymore, Mrs. William quickly quit the live program while Tinsley laughed loudly. The William had just begun their misfortune.

Soon, it was reported that the William's family share price had fallen turbulently to almost half which sent the family into a panic.

Not only that, but people also began to unfollow Lillee.

Chapter 88 Conrad And Tinsley

Conrad And Tinsley

Chapter 88 Conrad And Tinsley

And naturally, the Billionaire's deed also began to fall in rank which almost made everyone in the crew cry while secretly cursing Lillee for adding their innocent team to her misfortune.

Lillee pursed her lips tightly. She had never expected that Tinsley would suddenly appear to destroy all that her mom had done and as if they weren't facing enough trouble from the fans, the company shares also began to plummet while the investors also began to withdraw their funds.

Any more, and they'll go bankrupt. "Conrad, what do I do? Sister had caused trouble for Mom and Dad again." Lillee cried out in a feigned soft voice. "It's okay that she's coming at me and our team but can she stop causing trouble to Mom and Dad?" Her cries made Conrad's heartache, forgetting that it was the William family who tried to spoil Tinsley's name in the media.

"That vixen!" Conrad cried out. "Don't worry, I'll certainly find her this time and give her a piece of my heart. It's not enough that she tried to steal me away from you, but she's shameless enough to keep causing trouble? I wonder what President Jarek finds in a bitch like her." Conrad replied.

"So how's the invitation letter going?" Lillee asked which made Conrad's anger diffuse.

"It should be out tomorrow. I'll have your list and send it to whoever you want it to be sent to," Conrad replied, which made Lillee smile happily.

"Conrad. I can't wait to be your wife. We'll finally fulfill our childhood dream." Lillee uttered in a shy voice that made Conrad begin to tease her.

After a little discussion, Conrad cut off the call and summoned his assistant. "Get the Billionaire's deed and Lillee on hot search." He instructed, which made his assistant frown slightly.

Conrad's assistant doesn't like Lillee in any way or the other, he felt that she was a pretending bitch who likes to use Conrad. "But..."

"No, but." Conrad fired immediately which gave the assistant no option but to nod his head.

"That restaurant I asked you to check on. Have you done so?" Conrad asked.

The assistant expression changed into a serious one. "Yes, CEO. I have checked White Tigress's information and according to what was written in it, today should be the day White Tigress will be visiting her favorite restaurant." The assistant informed Conrad and his heart began to pound rapidly to his surprise, but he tried to suppress it.

"You can leave." Jarek waved his assistant away before lifting his hand to touch his chest. He fell into deep thoughts before he picked up his jacket and left the office.

Soon Conrad's car was packed near the restaurant, he lit up a cigarette and silently began to smoke while glancing at the restaurant's front door. He was hoping that Tinsley would appear that afternoon.

"Have you cleared the surroundings as I told you?" As a famous top actor and a successful CEO,

Conrad's life was always monitored by the paparazzi and reporters, hoping to get good news or bad ones that'll shock the audience.

Besides, the paparazzi were now interested in the juicy news that filled the internet these days and once they had their eyes set on Conrad they would definitely not let him go.

A car silently drove into the restaurant's park. Conrad clenched his fist and his breath quickened as he stared at Tinsley's beautiful figure that had just gotten down from the car.

Conrad put on an eyeglass and a face mask before he followed Tinsley into the restaurant. Conrad had already booked the restaurant earlier, in order to be able to talk to Tinsley at his convenience and he was glad that she gave to the company that afternoon.

Tinsley was slightly shocked to see an empty shop even when the shop was about to close, it was never this empty.

After visiting here a lot of times, Tinsley already knew how many customers the shop always has and how long it takes to buy what one wants due to the queues and the rules of fairness. This restaurant doesn't care about position so no matter how rich or poor you are, you have to wait until it is your turn.

Things were about to turn back, she guessed that the shop had been booked but what she can't help but wonder is why she was allowed in.

She had just taken a step when Conrad walked into the dessert shop.

Tinsley's expression changed into fury upon seeing Conrad, but she tried to suppress herself and instead tried to leave, which made Conrad displeased.

"Don't you know how to greet an old friend when you see them?" Conrad asked Tinsley which caused her to glare at him.

"Bullshit! I think Mr Conrad doesn't grasp the meaning of friend or is it that you lost your memory?"

Tinsley taunted and turned to leave.

Staring at Tinsley's exceptionally beautiful face, the way she carried herself and talked, etc. Made Conrad fall into deep thoughts.

Such a beautiful woman that he would like to have as his mistress, unfortunately, Jarek already owned her.

Conrad was so far in thought that he didn't know when Tinsley entered her car.

Tinsley sat down in the backseat with a frown on her face and she tried to deduce Conrad's behavior.

She can't help wondering what was wrong with him.

That idiot Conrad had disgraced her in front of millions of people, now he dared to call her a friend? Did he have a screw loss?

Tinsley can't help wondering if Lillee had sent Conrad to fight for her but if it was then she was wrong because Conrad doesn't seem to have the courage.

"Tinsley. Tinsley." Conrad suddenly began to call, but Tinsley ignored him because she didn't care about what he wanted to say.

Naturally, she would soon settle him, Lillee, and William's family.

"Ignore him and drive," Tinsley informed her driver with a cold tone.

Chapter 89 Onyx Deep Secret

Onyx Deep Secret

Chapter 89 Onyx Deep Secret

The triplet got down from the car before Jarek could take them down "Dad bye. No vacation right?"

Mason silently snickered while staring at Jarek intently with his cute eyes.

This little devil! Jarek snorted inwardly with his heart aching at their devilish little plans.

"No vacation." He replied calmly, which made Mason, Jason, and Ariel yell happily.

"Yay!" The triplets cried out in excitement.

"Goodbye, Dad. Have a nice day." They waved him away and ran immediately, without letting him follow them like he normally does.

"Drive to Rory's company," Jarek informed the driver with a silent snicker. The little triplet thought they could stop him from having a vacation with his wife, unfortunately, they can't.

Soon the driver arrived and stopped at Rory's company entrance. Jarek's arrival stirred attention, but everyone could only watch the man from a distance while Jarek paid no one any attention as he calmly dialed Onyx's number.

Soon Onyx arrived in front of the company. He walked toward Jarek who silently held his phone with his other hand tucked in his pocket.

"What are you doing here?" Onyx asked Jarek inquisitively.

With Onyx's guide, they both began to walk into the company. A lot of female staff were smiling in excitement as they watched the two Adonis enter the company.

"I need someone's help; your wife exactly," Jarek informed, which made Onyx nod his head.

"Is it about the triplets?" Onyx asked Jared knowingly, to which he nodded.

"Hm. They're killing romantic time." He uttered which made Onyx snort mockingly.

Onyx suddenly smiled mischievously as they entered the elevator. He calmly buttons on their floor. "It can't be that you are planning to sneak away without the triplets." He asked while looking at Jarek.

"Hm. They're very scheming. It won't be romantic if they come along, which is where you and Rory step in." He informed.

"Oh." Onyx nodded. "We are here." They both walked out of Rory's private elevator before they began to walk toward Rory's office.

Onyx knocked on Rory's door, and she asked him to enter before they did.

Rory was on a call when they entered, but she waved and pointed for them to sit on the sofa. Jarek and Onyx did so immediately.

Rory quickly cut off her call upon seeing the two. She confidently walked toward the opposite sofa and sat on it. "President Jarek, to what do I owe your visit?" She joked with a calm expression.

"I need your help." Jarek cut to the chase immediately, which caused Rory to furrow her brows in surprise.

"Is anything the problem?" Rory asked seriously while staring at Jarek and Onyx.

"Not really. I want the triplets to stay at your place for a week." He revealed, which made her sigh.

Rory suddenly gasped in excitement. "It can't be that you two have finally decided to have a vacation.

Did Tinsley suggest this?" She asked, but Rory quickly shook her head. She knew Tinsley was definitely not the one to suggest something like this, so it can only fall on Jarek.

"Tinsley is a wrapped mother who easily falls to the triplet command, so she can't leave the triplets. I guess this is President Jarek's idea." She stared at him with a burning gaze that made Onyx clear his throat. He was filled with jealousy.

Why can't Rory stare at him like that? Why would she be staring at Jarek like that? The jealous Onyx couldn't help but think that way.

"Yes," Jarek replied, knowing that she was right.

"Okay. No worries, when are you leaving?" Rory asked in excitement.

"Now," Jarek said, which made her nod her head.

"Oh! So I'll be the one to pick the triplets from school, right?"

"Hm." He nodded.

"Okay, deal." Rory quickly replied which made Jarek's lips curved up in appreciation.

"Thanks." He appreciated it, which made her wave her hand calmly.

"No worries. I'm doing this for my godchildren. I miss them." She said to which Jarek nodded his head.

Jarek stood up and left after telling Rory and Onyx that there wasn't a need to accompany him out.

"President Jarek is so romantic," Rory commented with excitement. "Tinsley is so lucky. She found her male lead." She said

Onyx was a bit uncomfortable with Rory's praise words to another man; he also wanted to be praised by her. "I can also be," Onyx commented which made Rory stare at him seriously.

"I believe you." she finally replied after a few seconds.

Onyx smiled at her words and suddenly held her hand. "Actually, there's something I need to tell you, Rory." He said seriously.

Onyx knew he couldn't keep on hiding his secret from Rory. She needs to know his identity, after all, they would be together forever. Besides, he can't wait to marry her.

"What is it?" Rory asked while tilting her head to look at him with a smile. She returned to where she was sitting while looking at him curiously.

Onyx took a deep breath. He had tried mentioning Mafia and the underworld to Rory, but she always switched the topic every time which made him unable to guess what she thought about them. He only hoped that she'd accept him.

"Rory, the truth is I'm who is widely known as Claw in the underworld." He released while staring at her expression intently.

Rory's smile immediately disappeared. "You are actually joking, right?" She stared at him with trepidation and disbelief while hoping that he'd tell her he was joking.

Onyx shook his head and stared at her calmly. "No, I am not." The burden he never knew he was holding was relieved off his shoulder upon telling her the truth.

Rory shook her head in disbelief. "Stop joking around. I know you are lying to me. How can you be the famous, cold-blooded, and ruthless claw in the underworld? You are just a broke and gentle guy, right?

Which was the reason you applied to my company?" She tried to deny it, but Onyx shook his head to stop her from denying the truth.

"If I was a poor guy, I would never know Jarek or be his friend." He replied, which caused her to gasp knowing he was right. "I..."

Rory immediately stood up, "No. Don't tell me anymore. I don't want to hear."

Onyx moved closer to her, wanting to explain to her, "Rory, I..."

Rory immediately waved him away, "Leave. Leave me alone! You know what? I don't want to see you again. Leave my office." She yelled at him with furious stares.

"Rory. I..."

Chapter 90 Trip Alone

Trip Alone

Chapter 90 Trip Alone

"I said leave or what? Will you lock me up in your dungeons if I don't talk to you?" She yelled out which made him take a deep breath to suppress the hurt he was feeling in his heart.

He knew that she needed time to take in all that he had just revealed to her. "I will be back soon when you've calmed down," he informed, but Rory fired at him angrily.

"I don't want you to. I don't want to have anything to do with you. Leave me alone, don't come back ever. We have nothing between us, and we will have nothing between us."

Jarek placed a kiss on Tinsley's lips before he moved toward the closet. He picked up a luggage and, under Tinsley's curious gaze, he began to pack some of their clothes into the luggage.

Tinsley was stunned by his behavior. "President Jarek, what are you doing?"

"Preparing for our vacation." Jarek simply replied without stopping what he was doing.

Jarek's reply stunned Tinsley, and she couldn't help staring at him stupidly.

"Vacation?" Haven't they promised not to go without the triplets? They had promised the triplet not to...

"Hm," Jarek replied and rushed to the bathroom to pack their things.

Tinsley gently got down while holding her aching waist; an impact of yesterday's actions. "Didn't we promise the triplet not to..."

"Tinsley," Jarek called her seriously, which made her stare at him.

"We also need our alone time, have dates, and do the fun things couples do. You won't deny us this beauty because we have our triplet, right?" He asked seriously, which stunned her.

"Ok, I understand. I was just worried about the triplet. They haven't stayed away from..."

"They did when you were at the set, and they were fine." He retorted calmly

"Because you were there," Tinsley replied him.

"They'll stay with Rory. Rory will make them fine." Jarek dropped.

Tinsley was stunned immediately. "Rory knows about this?" She questioned

"Hm. Just returned from her company." He revealed which made her nod her head.

"Oh." Tinsley sat down and watched him get busy. "Mason will definitely feel cheated." She replied quietly.

"That scheming little devil. Knows how to make one submit to his whims easily." Jarek chuckled

"Yeah, right?"

Jarek finally zipped the bag and stared at her, which made her shrink back.

"Why are you looking at me like that?" She whispered.

Jarek took a look at his wristwatch, "Our flight is in an hour. We are yet to take a bath." He said with a cunning smirk.

"If I can remember well, you've taken a bath since dawn. What do you mean we?" She eyed him skeptically.

"I haven't taken a bath so to manage time, let's take a bath together." He uttered cunningly which caused her to glare at him.

"Scheming big devil. No way, I'll rather go take a bath in the guest room to save time." Tinsley said and began to make her way outside, but before she could, Jarek suddenly pulled her by the wrist, and in one tug, she slammed her chest with his hard one.

She glared at him with teary eyes.

Jarek bent down and carried her up immediately to her surprise. "What are you doing? Let me down."

She repeatedly struggled in his embrace but no matter what she did, she was still carried to the bathroom and naturally, she served President Jarek that morning.

"You scheming devil." Tinsley glared at Jarek angrily while he carried her to where her skincare products were placed.

Jarek wasn't fazed; instead, he kissed her forehead and gently placed her down. "I'll be waiting. And wife, you're beautiful." He commented with a flirty smirk that made her blush.

"Go away." She punched his chest lightly, harrumphed, and turned to her products. Her heart warmed at his comment and she smiled happily.

"Where are we going?" Tinsley asked

"A place where you don't need to use your phone," Jarek informed her because he already knew how much she can't do without the triplets.

Who knew if, on an impulse, she'd demand to return home to the triplet? He really can't accept that.

Tinsley quickly hid her phone behind her guiltily. "Why wouldn't we need a phone? How can I contact my babies? How can I take a selfie and flaunt my beautiful date..."

"Well, there's a way for that. It's just a vacation where we only need each other." He informed her calmly.

"You'll be taking your phone away also? And stop work?" She asked and quietly removed her phone from her back

"Hm. We only need each other." He replied which made her roll her eyes.

"Cheesy. As long as I can talk to the triplet daily." She touched her nose guiltily. Actually, the real reason behind her objection was the triplet, but she didn't want to make it obvious

"I know already." He said and hugged her waist closer.

"Master, Madam, we've arrived at the airport." The driver announced which made Tinsley widened her eyes with a gasp.

"Damn, I forgot my passport." She covered her lips with a helpless look.

Jarek kissed her forehead with a smile. "I picked it already. Let's go." He said while holding her hand.

They were both using masks but still, their outstanding figure caught people's eyes which made people stare at them while whispering in astonishment and excitement.

Tinsley suddenly stopped in her tracks which made Jarek stop also while arching a brow. "What's up, honey?"

"I feel like a guilty mother." She muttered helplessly.

"I understand," Jarek said and suddenly wedding-carried her which caused her and the people to gasp.

"When the kid asked, tell them dad kidnap you." He replied seriously and calmly began to stride toward the airport.

Tinsley nodded her head and wrapped her hand around Jarek's neck. "Ok, Daddy." She teased.

Jarek's eyes darkened lustfully, but Tinsley missed it. "What did you say?" He asked the clueless Tinsley.

Tinsley laughed silently which captivated Jarek. Even though her face was masked, her eyes were pure and bright, and it attracted Jarek intensely. "I said, okay Daddy."

"Well, I'll let you call me that in bed later." He teased which made her face reddened. She punched his chest playfully.

"You tease. How can you always think of..."

She pursed her lips shyly which made him laugh. He teased her. "Think of what?" He asked, enjoying how she tried to avoid his gaze.

The people who watched their whisper couldn't help feeling sweet inwardly. The couple's interactions are so sweet, and it made people secretly capture them.

Even though they could see people taking pictures of them, both of them didn't object to it.
