

I Help A NPC Become The Legendary Witch

Chapter 741 - 741: This Will Be a Bloody Battle!_3

Chapter 741: This Will Be a Bloody Battle!_3

“Little Black, please!”

Vivian could not hold it in any longer. She wanted the wolf cubs to reveal their true form and use the huge size of the forbidden monsters to break through the fleet of the Flame Field.

As for the wolf cubs...

Sigh.

Forget it, forget it.

Just take it as a signal to the other side.

Signal? What signal?

Of course, it was the signal that meant Vivian was here.

As for what the signal was for...

At the same time, on the other side.

“Da...Archbishop Damir, are we really not going to retreat? These unknown monsters under the sea are getting closer and closer to us!”

On the leading fleet of the Flame Domain, several Fire God Cult's deacons looked at the underwater black shadows that were swimming toward them at high speed from afar and swallowed nervously.

On the other hand, the outlanders were still fine. They were more curious.

Of course, the calmest one was still the young man in casual clothes at the bow of the ship. It should be mentioned that Damir had long wanted to change out of that tattered archbishop's robe. It was too inconvenient for him to move around slowly. Now, he finally changed out of it with the excuse of going out to sea.

Oh, speaking of the Black Tide, Damir had actually sensed it a long time ago.

After inheriting Maggie's "God's Heart", coupled with his terrifying talent, he eventually became a legend. The current Damir had long surpassed Maggie's strength on the surface, becoming the first Tier 5 Great Mage in the Fire Domain's history.

Therefore, in the eyes of Damir, who was over level 50, these level 19 piranhas were no different from ants.

The reason why he did not take action now was that he wanted to take the opportunity to train the support troops he led. In simpler terms, it was...

Before performing on stage, let's rehearse first!

Damir had already cast a spell in secret, forming a scarlet transparent barrier around the Flame Field's fleet. The Thousand Islands were most afraid of the piranhas biting the bottom of the ship, but it was not a problem in front of this Great Wizard.

"Although we're going to support the Thousand Islands, we're also representing the Flame Domain's image outside. Now, in your first battle, use these monsters to practice. Cough, cough, he was a disgrace to the Flame Domain! This will become a valuable experience for you. It is also the time for you to personally take revenge for the pain of the Flame Region!"

The mages of the Fire God Sect were awed by Damir's words, and they were no longer nervous. The soldiers of the knight regiment were even more motivated, eager to take revenge for the disaster that Fallen Abyss had committed.

As for the players from the Outlander army, they were even happier. The first thing they did was to engage in such an exciting team battle. Each and every one of them stretched their bones and could not wait to start the battle!

According to the normal script, this should be the case.

Unfortunately...

"Look, there seems to be a fleet coming from the other side!"

"That symbol is...Thousand Islands!"

"That's great. This way, we can work together from the inside!"

"Uh... Wow! Wait, look at the sky. What is that? A...A huge black wolf?"

The players who had gone through the closed beta were only a minority among the large group of public beta players. Moreover, Vivian had not shown up for a long time,

At the same time, he was multitasking, and he did not stop reciting an incantation.

When the dazed Bishop Mas ran to Damir's room to get his clothes, Mas recalled the incantation that Damir had just said. Suddenly, the bishop widened his eyes.

If he remembered correctly, only one spell would have such a long opening incantation...

[Forbidden Spell!]

[Super Magic!]

Wait a minute.

Archbishop Damir, why did he suddenly cast a forbidden spell? Could it be that those underwater monsters were really that strong? A Super Spell was needed to kill it?

At the thought of this, Mas did not even hesitate to use the "Flash" spell to quickly send this archbishop's costume to Damir, who was about to cast a forbidden spell.

He finally understood the reason why the young man suddenly changed his clothes. It must be to borrow the weak auxiliary ability of the archbishop's clothes, right? However, the situation was so tense that even Archbishop Damir had to count in such a weak support. This is bad!

He was afraid that he would have to face a...

A bloody battle!

Chapter 742 - 742: Swallowing Piranha: Thank You!

Chapter 742: Swallowing Piranha: Thank You!

A red doomsday-like color dyed half of the sky red.

The surrounding temperature began to rise gradually, evaporating the moisture in the air bit by bit. When the sea breeze blew over this area, the already hot air brought a burning feeling to people's faces.

Other than the sound of the waves, there was an indescribable, but one could feel it just by listening to it. It was a complicated and obscure incantation that made people look up to it, but it contained endless mysteries. It was like the prayer of a god, echoing in the sky above this sea area, echoing... In the ears of all living beings.

Outlander players, Fire God Mages, Knights, Sailors, and the Thousand Islands Fleet on the other shore, and...Hei Lang, the little girl, and everyone's eyes were now looking at a gorgeous figure in the sky.

It was the owner of the incantation.

It was the source of all the phenomena in the world.

A young man in a fiery red robe stood in the air. His wide sleeves were fluttering in the wind. The gilded patterns on the corner of his robe showed his nobility. The countless lines symbolizing fire and scorching flames became the main theme of the robe.

Half of the young man's right hand was holding a dazzling scepter. The dazzling light here was dazzling in all kinds of ways. There were seven or eight colorful gems embedded on the top of the scepter, all of which were sparkling at this moment. As for the largest ruby in the middle, it was shining brightly, as if it contained endless magic power.

The Fire God Cult's mages below were both excited and shocked. They had always thought that the gemstone on the scepter was just for decoration. They did not expect it to be able to glow.

If it was matched with the Fire God's crown on the young man's head that was shining like a crown...

Not only the Fire God Cult mages on the ship, but even the knights could not help but want to worship him. They mistakenly thought that the gods had descended and the Fire God had appeared.

After all, they had never seen that young man display such a stance like today.

"Brother, this is...What's going on?"

"It seems that it suddenly entered... It's in cinematic?"

The Fire God Cult's players were also dumbfounded. Spring Summer and Autumn Winter looked up at their own NPCs, but from their expressions, it was not difficult to see some pride and excitement.

After all, who wouldn't like the fact that their own faction's NPCs could have CG animations in front of so many people?

At least...

The Fire God Cult's players still thought so.

Damir did not disappoint them.

The young man floating in the air took a deep breath.

His gaze was fixed on the little girl on the black wolf in the distant sky. From the slight trembling of the scepter in his hand, one could tell how nervous Damir was at that moment.

Come on!

Look at me, Vivian, I've... I'm not the same as before!

"The great Fire God is...Please allow me to borrow your power... Let the scorching flames...All filth... When the people lost in the night and the cold..."

Looking up...It was a tear in the dark sky...Bringing light and heat... The one that can turn night into day..."

The incantation finally came to an end.

Damir pointed his scepter forward.

At the same time, his eyes burst with a brilliant light of magic.

"Forbidden Curse..."

"Super Spell-Meteor Shower!"

Boom!

A loud sound came from the sky. When everyone looked in the direction of the sound, they found that a hole had been torn in the sky that was dyed red above the sea.

The Fiery Meteors wrapped in raging flames poured down from the hole in the sky like meteors made of flames. From afar, it looked like a heavy downpour, but it was not raindrops, but flint.

Many people in the Fire Field were very familiar with this Super Spell. It was impossible for them to forget it. This was because it was the terrifying spell that Archbishop Maggie had used to borrow the power of the Fire God statue in the city when the Fallen Abyss monsters had attacked the city and Fire Code City was in danger.

This was also the reason why Damir had chosen this spell.

Back then, although Archbishop Maggie had used this move to flatten all the Fallen Abyss monsters outside the city, at the same time, because Maggie had failed to control the subsequent power of the meteorite, the hot boulders that fell from the sky burned the forest and burned the living beings, leaving huge pits full of scars on the wild land. The ecological environment was completely destroyed. It could be said that she had injured the enemy and herself.

However, the current him...

Damir gritted his teeth. A level seven super spell was indeed too difficult for him. The Heart of God in his chest was beating wildly.

His telepathic thoughts enveloped every single blazing meteor. Damir studied it day and night and finally improved it. At the cost of slightly reducing the power of the Super Magic, he obtained absolute control.

Under Damir's control, the spectacular meteor shower did not land on the Flame Domain or the Thousand Islands fleet. Instead, it all landed on the black tide filled with Piranhas.

Boom!

Buzz...

The Fallen Abyssal Flesh-eating Fish, which had tormented the Thousand Islands players and given the Grand Priest a headache, were like glass toys under the falling meteorites.

They didn't even need the meteorites to hit their bodies. Just the heat waves that the meteorites carried when they approached instantly burned them to ashes. The high-pressure airflow that was like a shock wave shattered their bodies.

Chapter 743 - 743: Swallowing Piranha: Thank You

Chapter 743: Swallowing Piranha: Thank You

This is the super high level magic.

The shock brought by the scene was naturally incomparable.

Thousand Islands Fleet.

The Six Paths Robe, which had been leading the Grand Fu Priest's soldiers and had been prepared for a bloody battle, showed a rare look of shock on the usually cold and arrogant purple-haired woman's face.

Although she was from the Thousand Islands and did not know about Damir or this spell, she could vaguely guess from the power and destructive power of the spell.

At this moment, three question marks appeared in the Six Paths Silk Robe's mind.

The Flame Domain actually had...Such a monster?

How could such a monster be sent to support us?

And finally...

No! This is not to support us, but...

Six Paths Robe looked at Vivian with a complicated gaze.

Just how much power did this little girl have in the Flame Domain for the Flame Domain to be willing to dispatch such a heavyweight figure at the fastest speed?

Luo Sha subconsciously recalled the little girl's words yesterday when she asked for help from the Flame Domain.

She was so silly, so silly.

Six Paths Robe was ashamed that she had believed Vivian's words.

However, in the heart of this Great Fu Practitioner, as well as in the hearts of all the Thousand-island Warriors present, it was indeed a shot in the arm.

After all, with such a powerful external aid, the dark clouds of pressure over the past few days seemed to have been lifted.

He believed that as long as the video of the magic was released, the entire Thousand Islands would be excited and cheered up, right?

After the magic effect of the Burning Meteor that lasted for a few minutes faded, Six Paths Robe led the Thousand-island Fleet to meet up with the Flame Field's fleet while he prepared for the upcoming meeting.

After all, the other party had sent such a heavyweight figure, so she had to be very careful with her words and actions.

In that case, Luo Sha secretly guessed the identity of the other party and his relationship with Vivian. No, it shouldn't be that simple. Could it be that they were fellow disciples? It shouldn't be. According to normal logic, that kind of strength should definitely be...

Master!

That's right! The archmage was most likely Vivian's mentor. Only with such a relationship could he support Vivian so much. Luo Sha could not think of a second possibility.

On the other side, Vivian finally met up with Damir. The huge black wolf was no longer needed. It had turned back into a small wolf cub in the little girl's arms.

They were no longer suspended in the air and returned to the sight of the people on the ship.

"Damir! I didn't expect it to be you!" Vivian smiled happily when she saw the young man in front of her who was both familiar and unfamiliar.

After quietly sizing up Damir, she said with a sigh,

"To be honest, when I saw you from afar just now, I didn't dare to recognize you because your body...Uh..."

What Vivian wanted to say was that he was a little different from the Damir in her impression.

After all, in the little girl's impression, the young man always appeared in a very simple and plain outfit. Now that he was wearing this gorgeous archbishop's uniform, Vivian really... She was a little uncomfortable. No matter how she looked at it, it felt very twisted.

However, looking at the youth opposite her who was looking forward to her evaluation, the little girl finally changed her mind and said,

"So handsome!"

With Vivian's praise, Damir was like a nervous student who was waiting for the results of the test paper. When he saw the full score, his anxious heart was finally relieved.

After the young man heaved a sigh of relief, he immediately smiled embarrassedly. He touched the back of his head with one hand and waved his other hand non-stop. He even explained,

"Cough cough...Vivian, don't tease me. Actually, I don't want to wear these at all. They're all from the Fire God Church, that... That's right! A new bishop named Mas. You don't know, but he's very old-fashioned. He's been supervising me and making me wear this uniform. Sigh, my head is about to die!"

Although the young man's words seemed to be filled with disdain, when he looked at Damir's mouth that was almost scooping up to the sky, the wolf cub in Vivian's arms revealed a human-like disdainful expression. Only a fool would believe what he said!

" Really?!"

"Phew, then I can rest assured." Vivian patted the flat steel plate on her own.

The wolf cubs couldn't bear to look at them anymore and covered their faces with their claws. Vivian nodded her head cutely and agreed with Damir's words.

"Yes, yes! Actually, I also feel that although the Archbishop Damir looks very impressive now, but...I keep feeling that the distance has increased. I still prefer your original appearance! It makes people feel very close!"

Seeing that Damir himself was complaining about the archbishop's costume, Vivian no longer cared and spoke her true thoughts.

Then, the little wolf cub saw that the happy smile on the young man's face immediately froze.

The corners of his mouth, which had been scooping up to the sky, had now become a late-stage convulsive patient.

"This, is that so? Ha ha, ha ha..."

"Oh right, Damir, that spell just now was...!"After a simple exchange of greetings, the little girl immediately brought up the transcending magic from before.

Seeing that the topic had changed to the Raging Meteor, Damir's stiff expression instantly changed. It was as if he had come back to life again. He had a second chance, and this time, he rubbed his nose and coughed.

Chapter 744 - 744: Swallowing Piranha: Thank You

Chapter 744: Swallowing Piranha: Thank You

” That’s right, it’s the one that Teacher Maggie used. I changed it a little, but I haven’t had the chance to experiment with it, so I wanted to take this opportunity to try it out. In the end, I didn’t expect you to be here, Vivian...”

“No, no, no. To be able to see Archbishop Maggie’s Blazing Meteor unleash its true power, I believe that Archbishop Maggie must be feeling the same as me. We’re both very happy and gratified.”

Vivian waved her hands at Damir’s embarrassed expression. This time, her last compliment was sincere.

But soon, the little girl said with a little regret,

” I still remember when you taught me basic magic. As long as you cast it once, I could learn it very quickly. However, although I watched the entire time and tried my best to learn it, I didn’t have any clue...”

Vivian shook her head.

It was originally a very simple lament. The little girl just wanted to express the profundity of transcendental magic, and how amazing Damir was to have mastered such profound magic and even improved it.

However, who would have thought that when these words were placed in the ears of the young man opposite him, it would have a completely different meaning.

“No, it’s okay! If I’m not satisfied with watching it once, then I’ll do it again!” Damir patted his chest.

“Ah?” Vivian was a little confused.

“No, no, no, Damir, that’s not what I meant. I mean...”

Before Vivian could finish her sentence, the young man gave the little girl a look that said, “I’ll take care of it. Don’t worry.”

” Just in time. I think there are still some piranhas over there that haven’t been cleaned up. As long as you want, Vivian, I’m willing to demonstrate it for you no matter how many times it rains!”

Damir mustered up his courage and said what he thought was a very handsome last line with a red face. Then, he flew back into the sky.

“The great Fire God is...Please allow me to borrow your authority... Let the scorching flames...All filth... When the people lost in the night and the cold...”

“Forbidden Curse...”

“Super Spell-Meteor Shower!”

The sky, which had just regained its blue color, turned red again. The hole that had closed was torn open again, and hot meteorites once again visited the sea where the Fallen Piranhas were.

The surface of the sea where he used to be.

“Great Fire God...Meteor Shower!”

“Great...Meteor Shower!”

“Wei...Meteor Shower!”

“Meteor Shower!” “Meteor Shower!” “Liu Xing...Rain of Fire, the Flowing...” * Cough

Fire Rain!”

“Liu...”

If the Swallowing Piranhas had consciousness, they would never understand that they were just cannon fodder in the vanguard. What did they do to deserve the treatment of being ” cleansed ” by super magic?

We still don’t know when the sky turned blue again that day, nor do we know how many times the Flame Domain’s future Legendary-mage used the Super Spell Meteor Shower.

It could only be said that a person’s potential was endless and needed to be stimulated.

As the young man raised his staff high, his head became heavy and his feet became light. His legs kicked, and his body tilted. He collapsed from the air and fell straight down like a corpse. It was only when a wolf cub kindly caught him that the tragic scene of the young man plunging into the sea was finally over.

But of course, Vivian's headache was not just Damir, who had exhausted his mana and fainted.

There was also...

Whether it was the Thousand Islands or the Flame Domain, the Fire God Cult, the Knight Regiment, the Grand Priest, or the foreigners of the two countries... They were all looking at him with extremely strange gazes.

Chapter 745 - 745: Is Is It Still Too Late to Leave the Fire God Sect?_1

Chapter 745: Is Is It Still Too Late to Leave the Fire God Sect?_1

Although Damir had fallen before the "Descent of the Fallen Abyss" officially began, and of course, he had only fainted temporarily, this Great Wizard's sacrifice was not in vain. He had also received a huge reward!

The Fallen Abyssal Piranha School acted as the vanguard, and their goal was to surround the Thousand Islands. Thus, once there was a gap, they would replenish it from the surroundings until the gap was filled.

However, under the large scale of the Meteor Shower, this sea area became a bottomless pit for the Fallen Abyssal Piranha Fish. They rushed over to fill the gap and then turned into ashes in the heat wave.

He even waited until it was over to take a look.

He discovered that not only were the Fallen Abyssal Flesh-eating Fish gone, but the Blacktide surrounding the Thousand Islands had also begun to relax. Not only did it stop compressing, but it also began to retreat.

There was only one explanation for this phenomenon.

Soon, the fleets of the Thousand Islands and the Flame Field discovered a giant piranha the size of a warship not far away. Half of its body was still intact. From the remaining body parts, one could vaguely see that its belly was facing up. It was dead beyond belief. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Without a doubt, this should be the leader of the first wave of attacks after the descent of the Fallen Abyss, the Fallen Abyss Piranha King, in Liao Zixuan's memories from his previous life.

Unfortunately, this BOSS had yet to welcome the real battle. It did not even show its face before it fell here.

He looked like an ADC who was killed by an unknown AOE before the team battle even started.

This explained why the Fallen Abyss Flesh-eating Fish had retreated.

It was the same in his previous life. As long as the BOSS was eliminated, the monsters in the Fallen Abyss would slow down their attacks until the next Boss appeared.

Now that the Piranha King had died, the first wave of attacks had been dismissed.

This could be seen from the [Fallen Abyss Countdown] on the game panel.

Originally, there were only 14 hours left before the Fallen Abyss attacked. However, as the Piranha Boss was killed and the Piranha Tide retreated, the countdown started to increase. It increased by five days, becoming five days and 14 hours left.

With his own strength, he had delayed the Fallen Abyss 'attack for five days, giving the Thousand Islands five more days to rest and prepare.

It could only be said that this was licking... * Cough cough *

Was this the power of a version's child? It was indeed terrifying!

As he sighed in his heart, the little wolf cub looked at Damir, who was being carried back to his room on a stretcher by the Fire God Cult members. Even though he had lost consciousness, he was still shouting 'Meteor Shower' in a daze. He silently raised his little paw for this future Legendary archmage who had indeed shown his 'sharp'.

The wolf cub told Vivian the good news, and Vivian passed it on to the Six Paths Robe.

The purple-haired general was happy, but the strange look in his eyes did not change.

No matter how much the little girl explained, the truth could not be changed.

The Six Paths Robe had long since found out about Damir's identity. It was precisely because of this that he felt that his worldview had been subverted.

Recalling how she firmly believed that Vivian had invited a 'mentor' over, the Six Paths Robe once again uttered the classic sentence in her heart...

She was so silly, so silly.

The Six Paths Luo Sha couldn't help but wonder if there was something wrong with her or with this pure and simple-looking girl in front of her.

If even the strict and serious characters of the Six Paths were like this, then there was no need to mention the extremely active foreigners.

Speaking of which, the gamers were quite interesting.

As a playful and gossipy netizen, Little Wolf had opened the forum from the beginning and witnessed the ups and downs of the players on the forum, especially the Fire God Cult players.

From the very beginning, Damir had shown off his might, his costume and pose had made him look cool, and his super magic had brought about cool cinematic. At one point, the players of the Fire God Cult had cheered on the spot and let out words like:

[This scene, this lineup, this cinematic, isn't this the one that blew up Shark's fox-faced witch?]

[Damir: I'm not pretending anymore. I've laid my cards on the table. I'm the official son.]

[Brother, is it too late to change classes from scratch? Can you join the Fire God Sect?]

[Hubby is so handsome!]

[The dancing flame between your fingers is my unchanging faith. I have no regrets in entering the Fire God Sect in this life!!]

[I can already imagine how many video authors in the MAD region this cinematic can support...] Cut it for me!

[This cinematic has been added to the Fire God Sect's must-watch video course.]

He had to admit that the Vulcan God players were very successful in their verbal attacks. The other players could not even refute them. After all, the faction NPCs had indeed given them a lot of face.

Until...

The hot little girl appeared on camera.

The little wolf cub could still clearly remember that the bullet comments of many Fire God Cult players in the live broadcast room were very inflated. They were still imagining how flattered, grateful, and admired the NPC of other forces, including Vivian.

However, if time could be reversed, these bullet comments would definitely be uniform. There was only one sentence for the little girl.

Chapter 746 - 746: Is Is It Still Too Late to Leave the Fire God Sect?_2

Chapter 746: Is Is It Still Too Late to Leave the Fire God Sect?_2

[Don't come over!]

At first, Damir coughed, scratched his head, and smiled foolishly when he was talking to Vivian. Some of the sharp-witted Fire God Cult players, especially the female players, felt that something was wrong.

Where is your aura? Where is your status? Why was he acting like a bootlicker?

Then, there was no need to say anything more about the next one.

He had helped the Fire God Cult's players to cross out the word "seems" in their previous sentence.

In the end, Damir squeezed himself dry and fell from a high altitude. It was a stroke of genius that elevated the cinematic to a height that didn't belong to it.

It also silenced all the Fire God Cult players who were still trying to find excuses for their NPCs.

They were so happy with each other earlier.

The other non-Fire God Cult players on the forum were very happy.

[I really like the saying of the Vulcan players: " Isn't this the cinematic of the Fiendish Fox-faced Witch?»]

[Vivienne (Fox Witch):"Mm-hmm, you guys, the outlanders of the Fire God Sect, continue to say, the official son, right? I love to hear it."]

[Is it too late for Brother Meng to jump ship from zero to the fox-faced witch? Can you join Sakuragi Island?]

[Vivian (Fox-faced Witch): Madam, you don't want your husband to...]

[Between your fingers...Forget it, I'm tired, let's destroy it]

[I've already predicted that this CG will be able to feed countless ghosts and animals...]
Cut it for me!

[This cinematic has been added. The Fire God Sect has joined the "Hatred Education" course.]

It was the same on the forums, and it was even more so for the Fire God Sect players who were offline.

"Brother, do you see that? This is the outcome of bootlicking." Spring and Summer's faint voice rang out beside Autumn and Winter.

"Uh..."

"Hey, big brother, don't become such a person in the future. Otherwise..."

Qiu Dong suddenly felt a chill around his neck.

"Impossible! It was absolutely impossible! I have such a cute, virtuous, gentle, and caring sister. Why would my brother need to find another woman!"

Qiu Dong heaved a sigh of relief when he saw his sister's smile.

He stole a glance at his petite sister, and then at Vivian, whose face was full of "innocence".

As expected...

Women were a terrifying species that couldn't be judged by their looks!

Qiu Dong, the expert from the Fire God Cult, sighed.

The Fire God players, the Thousand Island Fleet players, the Sakuragi Island players, all raised their eyebrows and were full of pride.

They had already felt that it would be embarrassing to receive Flame Domain's support, and now that they had been humiliated by the Flame Domain's NPC, Damir, they felt even worse.

Therefore, all the Sakuragi Island players were eager for the Fox-faced Witch, the NPC of their faction, to make a move. It might not be able to make the Fire God Cult players lose their morale, but it would at least help them regain some morale.

Unexpectedly...

Good heavens.

They had underestimated the fox-faced witch.

The facts proved that she was still a fox witch. Did she still need to prove it?

The fox-faced witch had shown them what it meant by...

With just one sentence, the Archbishop of the Flame Domain, who had the highest status, started to spammer with super magic.

In the future, if the Flame Field players wanted to step out and stand high above the rest as reinforcements, looking down on the Thousand Islands players, they only needed to reply with one sentence.

[Isn't this the Thousand Islands? They usually shout so loudly. Why do they still need the support of our Flame Domain?]

"Oh, that's true. Your NPC is our witch's lackey."

[We've just met and we've already helped you delay for five days. Hurry up and thank your father from the Flame Domain?]

"Oh, that's true. Your NPC is our witch's lackey."

[After receiving such a great favor from us...]

"Oh, indeed, so..."

[Don't be like this!]

As for the fox-faced witch, her real identity was Vivian, a person from the Flame Domain...

Was this important to them?

What they liked was this person. This NPC's kind, cute, and extremely charming soul. As for her true identity, let alone being a person from the Flame Domain...So what if they were Guili people, Green Maple people, or Winter people?

Moreover, since you said that Vivian was an NPC from the Flame Domain, why had she never shown her face in the Flame Domain? The Flame Domain must have done something wrong to her. Otherwise, why would she come to the Thousand Islands?

Moreover, who said that one would be a Flame Domain NPC for life if they were born in the Flame Domain? I'm afraid you don't know how high Vivian's reputation is in the Thousand Islands. The entire island is hers! Your Flame Domain doesn't have such treatment? So Vivian will definitely settle down in our Thousand Islands!

The Thousand Islands players were still madly pursuing Vivian. They even imagined that Vivian could stay in the Thousand Islands forever as a fox-faced witch.

Not far away, on the Flame Field's fleet, as the most senior group present, Luo Chen and One Big Watermelon, who had gone through the closed beta, shook their heads.

From the Thousand Islands players, they saw how they were during the closed beta. They also liked and believed in Vivian.

However...

Sigh, you guys are still too young!

Luo Chen and Big Watermelon looked at each other and saw the self-deprecating look in each other's eyes.

Your Demoness...And it's your great witch!

She had easily "controlled" and "toyed" with a top-tier Great Mage of the Flame Domain, making the Thousand Islands players reluctant to let her go. If this wasn't a witch, then what was?

Looking at that pure face, that innocent expression, that caring expression, this disguise technique was simply too good. When they thought about how hidden under this appearance was actually a witch who was extremely good at manipulating people's hearts, they felt a little cold.

So... Hehe, was there any point in arguing whether Vivian belonged to the Thousand Islands or the Flame Domain?

Obviously, it was meaningless.

This was because the Witch did not belong to any country or any faction.

Fallout and Big Watermelon had a strong premonition that the Thousand Islands would not be Vivian's end. She would only become a passerby like the Flame Domain.

Perhaps in the next version, Vivian would change into a new identity, come to a new country, lie to another group of NPCs, and reap the love of another group of foreign players.

Ah...!

Their hearts ached when they thought about how Vivian, whom they had found with great difficulty, was going to go missing again.

Sure enough, they would end up being played by Vivian, just like Damir.

A sense of sadness rose in his heart.

However, this would not stop them from following Vivian's footsteps. Even if they knew that it was an unreachable goal, a beautiful moon in the well, they were willing to give up everything for it.

Damn it!

Unknowingly, their hearts had been taken away by the "witch". Even if they only saw Vivian for a while, they were already content...

Long live Vivian! Long live the Demoness! Long live Vivian the Demonic Sect!

Amen... Oh no.

Vimon!

Looking at the group of familiar ID Otaku players, they looked at Vivian with sad expressions, as if they were eating knives, but also as if they were looking for faint hope in the midst of eating knives, crying and laughing at the same time. The little wolf cub's face was full of question marks.

It had only been a few months since they last saw each other in the open beta. What was wrong with these people?

What exactly had they experienced to turn them into this state?

Forget it.

The wolf cubs did not have the time to analyze their psychology. Now, Liao Zixuan only had one thing on his mind.

He was on the ship...He sensed Xue Li's aura!

In addition, he had already known from the players that Liz was here.

Hey hey hey hey hey hey

Shirley, my Shirley! Liz, my Liz!

The wolf cub made up an excuse and slipped away while Vivian was busy being the middleman between the Thousand Islands and the Fire Domain.

Liao Zixuan felt that Vivian had been stealing his scenes recently.

Those who didn't know better would probably think that this wolf cub was just a supporting role.

Therefore, it was time to get back at him and show him the queen that he should have as the main character... Cough, the wings on his back were still open!

In terms of wings, you, Vivian, are still far from it!

Chapter 747 - 747: Lord Black, Please Punish Miss Liz

Chapter 747: Lord Black, Please Punish Miss Liz

Although he was going to look for a human, there was a very important question in front of the little wolf cub.

He already knew that both Cher and Liz were on the ship, and he was not like a certain witch who could split herself. He could only find one at a time, so whether to go to see Liz first or to find Cher first was the question that Liao Zixuan needed to think about.

However, this level of difficulty was nothing to the wolf cub, who was a master of emotions. It was simply a free pass.

As a human...As a half-human, and more importantly, a noble, she would naturally value such a formality. Even if she did not show it on the surface, she would still care about it in secret. Young ladies like them would definitely think that the party who was seen first meant that the other party was more important to them.

As a magical creature, Cher didn't have many human thoughts and emotions. Cher didn't care about "first" or "second". What she valued more was time. If he went to see her and spent time with her, it would be more practical.

In summary, just like doctors who prescribed the right medicine, as a qualified master of time management, they also had to divide their strategies according to the preferences and needs of the target and serve the client well.

The first one was to meet Liz and satisfy the vanity of this noble lady. Then, he quickly left and went to accompany Shirley. He had to be careful here. He had to spend more time with Shirley than Liz. This way, even if Shirley knew that he was met later, she wouldn't care. After all, they had been together for a longer time.

This was 300 romance comics, 500 games, and 70 GB of...Cough, the last one was worth it.

There were no disharmonious females, only lazy males—a certain wolf cub who did not want to be named.

After making up his mind, the wolf cub was still not in a hurry. He found a corner with no one around and transformed into a human form that he had not seen for a long time. He went to the ship to find a mirror and tidied up his clothes and cuffs.

“Yes... Handsome, too handsome!”

Looking at the tall and mighty black-haired man in front of the mirror, Liao Zixuan could not help but shake his head and sigh.

This was how a protagonist should look like!

Not a little girl made of steel.

After everything was ready, Liao Zixuan began to inquire about Liz's room. Unlike the Astorokis, the ships of the Flame Domain did not have the configuration of a luxury cruise ship. There were only a few cabins and rooms. Liao Zixuan only needed to ask a little to know where Liz was.

Hence, he strode towards Liz's room and knocked on the door to give her a surprise.

However...

“Hmm?”

Liao Zixuan had just arrived at the door and placed his hand on the doorknob. Before he could knock on the door, he suddenly heard a click. As if sensing his arrival, the tightly shut door opened a small crack.

He looked at the half-closed door in front of him. He had clearly opened the door for him, but he could not see the figure of the owner. There was also no sound from him for a long time. It was as if he had to wait for him to take the initiative to enter. It was a little like he wanted to refuse but was still welcoming him.

Tsk tsk...

The city people knew how to play!

Liao Zixuan didn't expect Liz to be so interesting. Could this be the legendary saying that absence makes the heart grow fonder? He was looking forward to it even more. Pushing the door, flashing in, closing the door, the whole set of actions was done in one go, like flowing water.

"Li... Xue Li, I really want you to die!"

Liao Zixuan greeted the white-haired woman sitting by the window with her back to him.

If one couldn't be sure just by looking at the hair color, the naked jade feet and the ring-shaped accessories tied to the legs indicated their identity.

Liz would never do such a thing.

So... What the hell?

Why was Shirley...In Liz's room?

Liao Zixuan looked at the woman who turned around after she spoke. Sure enough, it was Xue Xue Li's face. He was shocked. Fortunately, his eyes were sharp and his mind was sharp. He quickly changed his words when he noticed that something was wrong. Otherwise, he would have died of embarrassment.

On the other side.

"Lord Hei." Following Liao Zixuan's voice, Xue Li turned around and greeted him respectfully. At the same time, she was about to kneel down and salute him.

Although Liao Zixuan felt a little strange, he didn't think too much about it. He thought it was because he hadn't seen Shirley for too long. Shirley still had a demonic mind. Her old habit of emphasizing her superior and subordinate was acting up again. He immediately took a few steps forward to stop her.

The soft and tender touch of the woman's wrist came from his palm. At the same time, because of the distance between them, Xue Li's unique fragrance also entered his nose.

"If you do this again in the future, I'll be angry!"Liao Zixuan pretended to scare Xue Li.

As for Xue Li, she immediately revealed a knowing expression and naturally leaned her body against Liao Zixuan's shoulder. In an unseen place, the corners of her mouth curled up and flashed across the woman's face.

The distance between the two of them was rapidly shortened once again, and the two of them were almost face-to-face. Xue Li's little nose twitched slightly, and she took a deep breath of the forbidden demonic aura that came from Lord Black.

It was as if there was a chemical reaction in the woman's body. Xue Li's entire body seemed to soften a little, and she went from leaning on Liao Zixuan to lying in his arms.

Her originally wild and proud face that belonged to the wolf clan was now covered with a red blush of indulgence and nostalgia.

"Yeah, long time no see." Liao Zixuan hugged Xue Li and sighed.

Chapter 748 - 748: Lord Black, Please Punish Miss Liz

Chapter 748: Lord Black, Please Punish Miss Liz

Although they had only stayed on the Thousand Islands for less than three months, too many things had happened in between, giving him the illusion that a long time had passed.

Just as the atmosphere in the room was about to heat up and the two of them were about to enjoy this quiet and beautiful time together, the air in a corner of the room suddenly vibrated slightly.

The movement was extremely small and flashed by. Liao Zixuan, who was still a little addicted to reuniting with Xue Li, naturally did not feel it. However, Xue Li sighed a little regretfully.

She had been keenly aware of it, but it was more accurate to say that she had expected it.

She immediately got up from Lord Black's embrace and took the initiative to distance herself. Xue Li returned to her original serious face.

"Lord Hei, I have something important to report to you. It's about...It's Miss Liz's."

Something urgent? Liz?

Hearing this, Liao Zixuan immediately frowned and looked at Xue Li's solemn expression. He instantly forgot about the joy of reunion and even asked nervously,

"Liz? What happened to Liz?"

"Speaking of which...This should be Liz's room. Where is she now?"

Although Lord Black had retracted his words in time, Xue Li could still feel the aura that was released from Lord Black's body after she spoke.

Originally, Cher thought that she had grown fast enough, but Lord Black's imposing manner still made her feel a little palpitating and afraid. It seemed that not only she was improving, but Lord Black and Lady Vivian were also improving at a terrifying speed.

And...

Xue Li heaved a sigh of relief in her heart. Lord Hei was indeed...It was still the same Mr. Black from her impression.

After all, this small detail alone could explain a lot.

Xue Li believed that the other girl, who she had hidden in a corner with the power of Fallen Abyss, should have seen it more clearly than her.

In that case, she could say what she wanted to say next without worry.

"It's like this, Hei..." Xue Li told Liao Zixuan about what she had mentioned to Liz about the Blood Breeds hunting them down.

Of course, the ending was slightly changed.

"So you're saying that Liz returned to the Flame Domain halfway because she was worried that she would implicate us?" Liao Zixuan took a deep breath and repeated.

Shirley nodded.

"When did she leave?"

Even though she couldn't see anything from Lord Black's face, Xue Li could clearly feel that Lord Black was angry, and very angry at that.

However, since she had chosen to help the human girl, Shirley suppressed the fear in her heart and replied,

“Half... Half a day ago?”

After receiving Xue Li’s reply, he turned around and was about to run out of the door, but Xue Li quickly blocked the door.

“Lord Hei, you are going to...”

“Is there a need to ask? First, he would capture her and teach her a lesson. Finally, he would find the vampires who dared to have designs on Liz!”

Listening to Lord Black’s furious words, Shirley silently mourned for the human girl.

“Then you don’t have to run so far anymore, because...”

As Cher spoke, she withdrew the power of the Fallen Abyss from Liz’s body. The young girl who had originally fused with the shadow in the corner gradually appeared.

Seeing that Lord Black had yet to react, Xue Li immediately wanted to take the opportunity to escape, but she did not forget to say something before she left.

“Then I won’t disturb you. Lord Black will punish and teach Miss Liz a lesson. Shirley will leave first.” Shirley raised her voice under the words “punishment” and “lesson”.

Then, under the furious gaze of the human noble girl, she left the room in a flash and closed the door very considerately.

After Cher left, the room fell silent.

Liao Zixuan was speechless.

Liz lowered her head, wishing she could find a gap to hide in. She did not dare to look at the young man who was staring at her at all.

She was now extremely regretful that she had believed Xue Li’s nonsense back then. She had asked her if she wanted to see how Lord Black would react if she really left.

Lissy swore that she had really been hot-headed back then. In addition, she had indeed wanted to see if Bai would really be like what Cher had said. She did not think that she would be a burden if she was targeted by the Blood Breeds, so she agreed to Cher’s suggestion.

If he had known that it would end up like this...

This noble lady promised that she would never fall into Cher's trap.

Damn it!

This despicable female wolf!

However, no matter how much Liz scolded Shirley in her heart, it was useless. From the appearance of the young girl, coupled with Liz's panic and the expression of a child who had made a mistake, Liao Zixuan immediately figured out the whole story.

Ha...

Hehe...

She was relieved, but she was still angry. Not bad, it had only been two months since they last met, and she already dared to tease her!

Since he had made a mistake, he had to pay the price.

"Bai, that, you... Listen to me!

"Ah!"

From this noble lady, oh no, the Countess who was now the number one in Fire Law City, panicked screams and screams for help echoed in the room.

Fifteen minutes later.

Liao Zixuan walked out of the room.

Chapter 749 - 749: Black Lord, Please Punish Miss Liz

Chapter 749: Black Lord, Please Punish Miss Liz

Don't misunderstand, of course nothing else happened in such a short time. Liao Zixuan only gave the girl an unforgettable lesson, making Liz reflect on her mistakes and swear that there would never be a second time.

What was that?

Lip marks on the side of her neck?

Don't be embarrassed. That was for the girl's blood. As a vampire, although Liz could maintain her normal functions by relying on human food, she still had to drink some blood.

Liz has already endured for more than two months. Do you know how she has endured these two months? ? How did a vampire who had tasted the forbidden fruit for the first time endure the silence... Cough, hungry nights?

After obtaining White's forbidden blood again, the sweet and mellow feeling traveled along the tip of her tongue, making every cell in her body feel like they were jumping for joy like electricity. They greedily absorbed it until they were finally saturated. Like a person who had eaten too much after a big meal, Liz lay on the bed and didn't even want to move a finger. She fell into a deep sleep.

Did he think that this was the end?

Of course not.

Xue Li, do you really think that you can stay out of this?

I really misjudged you!

It's only been a few months, how did you change too!

Although she was heartbroken, she was still vengeful. Xue Li probably didn't know how petty men could be.

Liao Zixuan's figure flashed. Even if Xue Li hid on another ship, she still couldn't escape Liao Zixuan's search and was quickly captured.

However, compared to Liz who was still trying to resist and struggle, Cher, who was a demon, was much calmer.

After she was forced into a corner by Liao Zixuan, she saw that there was no way to retreat. She also saw the faint teeth marks on the young man's neck. Xue Li pursed her lips and took the first step, looking at Liao Zixuan with a fiery gaze.

"Lord Hei, actually...The Fallen Abyss in Xue Li's body is also a little unable to be suppressed. She needs Lord Hei..."

Twenty minutes later.

The wolf cubs supported themselves against the wall and returned to the boat where Vivian was.

Don't ask.

In order to suppress the Fallen Abyss in Xue Li's body, the little wolf cub had used up too much of its dark flame power, to the point that it could no longer maintain its human form, and could only revert back to its little wolf form.

Sigh...

The little wolf cub suddenly felt a little envious of Vivian. Why was it that the others were all bootlickers, while he had to spend so much effort on his own?

Sigh, heavens, when will you bestow me with a bootlicker?

The wolf cub looked at the sky.

Then, a fiery red sparrow happened to hover in the air, as if it had finally found a wolf. After chirping happily twice, it flew down.

Immediately after, the little sparrow was probably looking for the wolf cub to play with. However, after discovering the fatigue and exhaustion of the wolf cub, the little sparrow immediately became anxious and circled around the wolf cub.

After hesitating for a moment, he immediately plucked one from his body...Two, three, all of them were precious Flaming Feathers! He picked it up with his beak and carefully fed it to the wolf cub, helping it hold it in its mouth.

[Ding, your summoned beast "Xiao Hei" has used "Blazing Feather". HP recovery speed +1000%, all attributes toughness greatly increased, fire elemental resistance greatly increased, fire elemental damage +500%, magic power recovery speed...]

The little wolf cub was speechless.

Xin Yan!

In the future, who would dare to bully you, who would dare to call you an idiot, wuwuwu...This wolf will be the first to stand up for you! If you really can't get married in the future, I'll take care of it!

Looking at the little wolf cub's recovery, the little sparrow giggled happily at the side.

"Chirp chirp!"

[PS: In order to save some traffic for everyone, this chapter has omitted hundreds of millions of details. If you want to see the complete version, you can join the group... Oh, I don't have a group. Then it's fine. I can only admire it myself. Sob, sob, sob...Hahahaha!

Chapter 750 - 750: Opening a New of the Sakuragi Island Era

Chapter 750: Opening a New Chapter of the Sakuragi Island Era

“Liz!” Vivian shouted in surprise as she saw the blonde girl walk out of the crowd.

There were two surprises for the little girl here. The first was, of course, that not only Damir, but even Liz had come to the Thousand Islands. The second was that she could finally be free!

Vivian, who was already dizzy from the handover of the Flame Field and the Thousand Islands, ran to Liz and excitedly held her hand as if she had seen a life-saving straw.

“Liz, since you’re here, why didn’t you come out? I didn’t see you at first, so I thought you weren’t on the ship!”

Vivian could not be blamed for being surprised. It was fine if Liz did not show up in the previous battle, but after the battle ended, the danger was resolved, and the two sides began to interact with each other. When various follow-up defense plans were made, the Countess, who represented the nobles of the Fire Domain, did not show up. It was indeed a bit unreasonable.

“Uh, this...” Facing the little girl’s question, Liz was obviously a little hesitant.

“Wallis, I feel that compared to before we parted, your complexion has become better, more energetic, and more beautiful!”

Vivian did not care about Liz’s strange behavior, but quickly turned her attention to the girl herself.

Liz was still very pale, but unlike the “pale” that was a little similar to the Blood Breed’s characteristics, the girl gave off a feeling of vitality. Her skin revealed a hint of red amidst the whiteness. Under the light, it was definitely saturated.

If the girl was a green apple before, she was now a ripe peach. No wonder Vivian was so surprised.

“Eh? And his skin too! Mm... It was soft, bouncy, and so comfortable to touch!”

The little girl praised her in an envious tone while holding the young girl's hand and not letting go. She pinched it as if she was a little addicted.

Ever since she had the little wolf cubs, Vivian seemed to have developed the habit of touching things she liked.

Although Liz was in such a public place. She was a little embarrassed and wanted to pull her hand back, but...The girl was guilty, especially in front of Vivian. Just look at Lily's guilty expression.

She did not dare to say that she was so radiant and energetic now because she had drained the blood of her wolf cubs. Therefore, she could only be at Vivian's mercy.

However, this scene was completely different in the eyes of the players from the two countries.

"This... The fox-faced witch even knows your Countess?" A new Thousand Island player couldn't help but ask a Flame domain player who looked very experienced.

The player chuckled.

Luo Chen patted the shoulder of the newbie from the Thousand Islands and said like an old man, "You don't know what the players called Vivian during the closed beta."

"How should I address you?"

"Human-shaped Earth-pushing Maiden. "Luo Chen said these five words with pride.

As for the aborigines 'Six Paths Robe, perhaps it was because their knowledge had been refreshed too much, but they actually felt that this scene was within their expectations?

With the addition of a professional like Liz, the progress of negotiations between the two countries was much faster.

Very soon, the fleet of the Back Flame Region began to split up according to plan, heading towards the islands that they were going to support.

The native troops of the Flame Field did not care, and those who did were still unconscious. However, the players were all looking forward to being assigned to Sakuragi Island, where Vivian was sitting.

Oh, other than the Fire God Sect's players.

Liz didn't disappoint the players. More than half of the outlanders, especially the outlanders selected by Liz's own camp who had experienced the "reconstruction of Red Flame Town", were all arranged by the girl to sail to Sakuragi Island.

Even though the Three Pursuers were envious, they couldn't say anything. After all, the Flame Domain said they were here to support the Thousand Islands, but even a fool could tell who they really wanted to support.

Apart from Sakuragi Island, the other large islands could also be allocated some support forces to let them drink some soup. Sanxing was already satisfied.

Sanxing had a hunch that if the Thousand Islands could survive this disaster, perhaps a new chapter and era would be ushered in. However, the protagonist of this time would no longer be the prosperous core of the Thousand Islands, but...

The one who had been abandoned for hundreds of years and had long faded out of the sight of the people of the Thousand Islands, forgotten by others...Sakuragi Island.

However...

Just as Sanxing was still feeling conflicted about Sakuragi Island, it was a completely different scene.

"No! I absolutely don't want to stay on this island. What right do you have to send me to this damn place? Where's your superior? I'm going to see your superior!"

"I thought I had gotten a ticket to transfer, but it turned out to be Sakuragi Island? Damn it! Were the people of Sanxing Xing crazy? If I had known that I would be transferred to this ominous island, I would have stayed on my original island. At least I still had my house and land there!"

"That's right! Look at the surroundings of this island. It's filled with bare rocks. It's not even as good as a deserted island! They even said that we should take refuge on this island. I saw that before those monsters could come, we would have already died of illness and starvation!"
