

I Help A NPC Become The Legendary Witch

Chapter 771 - 771: I Will Make a Great Creation That Jumps to a New Version!(1)

Chapter 771: I Will Make a Great Creation That Jumps to a New Version!(1)

[suggested location: Flame Domain-Starfire Forest]

[Required portions: 19]

[God Sakura-branch]-once offered by Yaei Shrine... It could provide stability, which was a must for the base of the Annihilation Planet.

[suggested location: Thousand Islands—Sakuragi Island]

[Required portions: 10]

[Bloodcattail Iron]...[suggested collection location: Green Maple-Blood Ridge],[Dihu Rock]... [It is recommended to collect...]

Now Liao Zixuan finally understood why Gui Li kept such a powerful weapon but didn't make it, and why that rich woman was willing to give him the blueprint so easily.

These materials were precious...It was not bad, but the difficulty was that the distribution was too wide, and each collection location seemed to be a little netherworld and remote.

The Qilin Pavilion probably knew that he would not be able to gather all the materials in a short period of time. Moreover, there was also the material of Guili on it. If he wanted it, according to their thinking, he would have to go to Guili sooner or later.

At that time, they would probably use the excuse of providing the materials and then forcefully take a share of the profits from him. At that time, even if he created it, Qilin Pavilion would have the right to enjoy the benefits. On the other hand, Qilin Pavilion would not suffer a loss if they did not create it.

Tsk tsk...

This little plan was really shrewd.

Liao Zixuan shook his head.

What a pity.

It seemed that Gui Li had yet to realize the power of the Fourth Calamity. This material corresponded to the five countries of the Eastern Continent, which happened to be the five countries of the server. In other words, the "manpower" was already in place.

Then, he needed to consider two things.

First, Vivian's influence was only limited to the Fire Field and the Thousand Islands. How could he get the players from the other three countries to help?

The second was...Transportation. Assuming that the Players had collected the materials, how would they transport them to his hands?

Regarding the first point, it wasn't difficult. What really gave Liao Zixuan a headache was the second point, transportation.

The first thing he thought of was naturally the Adventurer's Association. This kind of force that spread all over the world had the ability to "deliver goods across borders." Back then, Liz's blood essence bottle had been sent from the Flame Domain to the Thousand Islands using this method.

However, there was a fatal flaw in this route. The items transported could not be too large, and the distance could not be too far. If it was a lotus seed like the "Winter Snow Lotus," it would be fine, but if it was wood, iron, or rock, it would probably not work.

However, the only place where Vivian could pass the "Winter Snow Lotus" was in the winter, which was at the extreme end of the Eastern Continent. Liao Zixuan doubted whether Vivian's "Platinum" badge was qualified enough to pass the Adventurer's Association.

After eliminating the Adventurer's Association, Liao Zixuan's second thought was to use the trading function of the "player system." Unfortunately, for the sake of the game's "authenticity," such a transaction could only be done through a local area network. It could not even cross cities, let alone cross countries.

The only thing that could ignore distance and allow players in any corner of the world to trade freely through the system was probably...

Only...

Liao Zixuan's eyes suddenly flashed with excitement.

"Ji Xing Token!"

Of course, the current version of the " Travelling Chronicles Card " was just a card, a tool for entertainment.

However, Liao Zixuan knew that in Version 2.0...No, it should be the next version 3.0. As the foundation for the subsequent version 4.0, the Travelling Notes Tablet at that time had already begun to gradually reveal some "other" abilities.

And if the present self can awaken these abilities in advance.

"Try it!"

Chapter 772 - 772: I Will Make a Great Creation That Jumps to a New Version!(2)

Chapter 772: I Will Make a Great Creation That Jumps to a New Version!(2)

At the Adventurer's Association of Deep Moon Island.

"Thank you for your patronage. The association has also recently released a 'Expansion Pack's' pre-view manual. It only costs five silver coins to get first-hand information about the new card at any time."

" No need, thank you."

"Yes, sir. Facing the stars and the sea, I look forward to your next visit."

After the conversation with the magic puppet receptionist from the Adventurer's Association ended, Liao Zixuan walked out of the association with the two card bags he had bought.

If he wanted to study the tablet, he would need a sample. The fastest way to obtain it was naturally through the Adventurer's Association. However, Sakuragi Island didn't have it yet, which was why Liao Zixuan had come to Deep Moon Island.

The current Deep Moon Island was completely different from when Liao Zixuan had first arrived. It was no longer as peaceful and prosperous as it had been in the past. The streets and alleys were crowded with foreigners who had moved from other islands. Every now and then, they would encounter fully-armed and serious-looking Grand Fuxi Law Enforcement patrol warriors.

Many of the shops they passed by were either tightly shut or their prices skyrocketed. Flowers and plants began to grow wantonly on the streets, and no one had the time to repair them. The entire Moon Abyss Island was surrounded by an oppressive and somber atmosphere.

Liao Zixuan glanced at the system notification on the interface.

[Time remaining until Fallen Abyss Descent: 4 days 19 hours 08 minutes 33 seconds]

There was not much time left for him. The second wave of Giant Crocodile Boss would be in four days, and the third wave after that would be the Tortoise Crab. Therefore, it was best to complete the creation of the Annihilation Star within a week.

How could he finish the 'Annihilation Star' that Gui Li had spent hundreds of years spinning in a week?

It sounded a little ridiculous.

But...

Liao Zixuan opened the two card packs in his hands. The first was a " Basic Pack " that could be bought anywhere. As expected, it was a blue sky and white clouds. The second card pack was a " Regional Basic Pack " provided by the association based on where you were. For example, the Regional Basic Pack on Lunar Abyss Island was easier to get than the ordinary " Basic Pack "...

Shua!

To Liao Zixuan's surprise, a purple light flashed from the card bag in his hand. Then, in the middle of the blue and white cards, a card with a purple-haired woman holding a bow and arrow was unusually eye-catching.

Epic!

[Grand Fuxi General-Six Paths Robe]

F * ck!

Could it be that after spending so much time with Vivian, he had finally let the little girl's luck touch him?

Besides, Vivian had been out for more than a day. It was about time for her to come back...

Liao Zixuan quickly calmed down after the momentary surprise of the Epic Card. From the description of the card's skill, it was very suitable for the character of the Six Paths

Robe. It was a very powerful offensive card. In the game of Ji Xing Card, it could have an unexpected killing effect, but...It was only in the game of Ji Xing Card.

Yes, from this, it could be seen that other than playing cards, no matter how powerful a card was, it was no different from a piece of waste paper when it left the card table.

Therefore, in the early versions, the Travelling Notes Tablet was not valued by the entire player community. The players of the other four countries were still busy doing missions to level up and fight against the Fallen Abyss.

Only the players of Green Maple had many card players. The reason was because almost all the NPCs that the players of Green Maple could come into contact with were more or less passionate about playing cards and had a fanatical interest in the Travelling Notes Card.

Liao Zixuan remembered that the most famous time in his previous life was when a Green Maple player took on a mission to catch an adulterer and brought a victim NPC to catch the blonde and the female protagonist having an affair. In the end, when they pushed open the door and entered, the blonde NPC said, "If you're a man, let's have a game of Ji Xing cards!"

Then, to the stunned Green Maple players, the victim NPC really started playing cards with the blonde. The most ridiculous thing was that at the end of the mission, the victim and the blonde felt that it was too late for them to meet each other. After playing cards, they developed feelings for each other and then dumped the green tea female protagonist together.

As more and more ridiculous things happened, such as NPCs playing cards with players when their own houses were on fire, or sitting down to play cards with players when their enemies were chasing them. When their enemies caught up, they could join in the chaotic game.

Therefore, the first time that the Travelling Notes card made a name for itself among the players of the other four countries, it became a household name. Instead, it relied on "Let's play an exciting game of Travelling Notes!" This kind of joke meant that no matter how urgent or dangerous the situation was in Qingfeng, everyone would put down everything at hand and play an exciting game of cards with you after saying this sentence. Everything would wait until after the game was over.

Even though they were joking, including Liao Zixuan, they were not interested in playing cards. At most, they would say, "Oh, so there's a card system in the game."

Because in the end, only Green Maple had a large number of missions related to the Travelling Notes Card. They could rely on playing cards to obtain a large number of game resources. In Green Maple, the ones with the highest level and the most luxurious equipment were not the ones with the best combat skills, but those who could continuously win and play cards the best.

What really made all the players start to take the Traveler's Chronicles seriously and had a sensational impact on the entire world of Fallen Gods was...

[Manifestation]

Yes, when the Ji card broke free from the shackles of the game and began to produce effects in reality, it immediately set off a huge uproar.

Chapter 773 - 773: I Will Make a Great Creation That Jumps to a New Version!(2)

Chapter 773: I Will Make a Great Creation That Jumps to a New Version!(2)

The Spell Calendar Card could instantly release the spell within it to attack the enemy. Wearing the Calendar Card was equivalent to directly having the weapon. As for the unit Calendar Card, this was an ability that had not been revealed even in the plot of his previous life.

After all, each version of Fallen God was based on one of the Nine Nations. Version 3.0 was the home game of Gui Li, and Version 4.0 was the home game of Green Maple, which was also the home game of the Travelling Ji card.

But it didn't matter.

Liao Zixuan didn't need to activate the other complicated functions of the Travelling Notes Card. He only needed the most basic "storage" function.

Storage, as the name suggested, was the ability to store items in the real world into the Travelling Records Plate. It could be understood as a card creation in disguise.

In that case, they needed a travel record tablet that the players in version 1.0 had never seen before.

[A blank card]

It was also this card that opened the curtain on the 'materialization' ability of the Travelling Notes card.

Liao Zixuan was now very fortunate that there was a "fall scientist" from Green Maple who wrote a long popular science article on "The Origins of the Traveling Ji Card" on the forum. He also noticed the potential of the Traveling Ji Card and forced himself to click on it.

It was because of this that he knew how to make "blank cards".

The revolution of the Traveling Ji Card originated from a native NPC of Green Maple. That's right, he was not a foreigner player, but a very ordinary NPC. It could even be said that he was a very noob NPC. This NPC had always been persistent in using only the human-side Traveling Ji Card. At that time, in the environment of Green Maple, whether it was the Blood Race, the Elf Race, the Orc Race... The quality of the cards from the other races was better than that of the human side. Therefore, this NPC who only played the human side of the game had almost never won.

However, he was defeated again and again. Perhaps it was because his pure human side deck was too weak that he was crushed almost every time even if he tried his best to develop other tricks. He might have lost three or four rounds in the time it took for others to play one round.

When he was defeated once again, he saw the virtual illusion on the card being killed by the other party. However, this time, the virtual illusion on the card seemed to have exhausted its strength. When the card reformed, it returned to his hand... A blank card without a card portrait and description.

However, at that time, the NPC was already seriously ill. The reason why he was so passionate about playing cards was that he wanted to win once with the pure human deck at the end of his life. He made a wish to the blank card. If possible, he hoped that he could become a legend of the human side of the travel card, a legendary card that could save the pure human deck from the bottom.

Then, a miracle happened. His body turned into specks of starlight and integrated into the Travelling Chronicles Card. The first card that was not issued by the Adventurer's Association was born just like that. It also opened the curtain of the "materialization" of the Travelling Chronicles Card.

Throughout the entire story, the key to getting a blank card was to constantly play cards and then consume the power of the card spirit in the card.

Liao Zixuan took out a white ordinary card.

[Prison Cuffs]

[Rarity: White]

[Type: Weapon Card]

[Mana Consumption: 1]

“Card Effect: Both sides will be equipped with a 0/2 handcuff. Each handcuff will automatically lose one durability point after each round. It cannot be replaced by other weapons.”

When Liao Zixuan summoned the Chronicle Card System, he played this card in the game. The card immediately transformed into a set of handcuffs that they had seen on Prison Mountain. It was the most common handcuffs worn by prisoners.

As for the [Sea Serpent's Feet] magic sealing handcuffs that he had put on Vivian, it was probably a rare card.

All in all, the handcuffs transformed from the cards were the card souls. Normally, the handcuffs would be worn out by multiple duels, and eventually completely dissipated. This way, the "blank card" that had lost its card soul would be obtained.

However, according to the scientific research of the Green Maple Falling Scholar, the number of games that NPC played was at least four digits. Now, even if he did not eat or drink, he could not play thousands of games all day long.

Therefore, Liao Zixuan decided to adopt a more indigenous approach.

Liao Zixuan put away the card and left the Lunar Abyss Island. Thanks to the current Fallen Abyss, most of the islands on the Thousand Islands were empty. He found an uninhabited island easily.

From the human form to the black wolf, the card seemed so small. What Liao Zixuan wanted to do now was to use the authority of his soul to try to invade the inside of the card.

The card soul should also be considered a branch of the soul. According to this logic, he could directly erase it without using the conventional method of playing cards.

However, this was easy to say, and the possibility of success was still unknown. After all, countless players had tried to destroy the Cards of Travels, but no matter how they attacked, the cards were unharmed. No one knew what material the Adventurer's Association used to create the cards. Some people even guessed that the reason why the cards were so tough was because they had the support of God behind them. They had been integrated with "divinity", which was why they were indestructible. There was no possibility of any pirated copies of the Travelling Notes card.

Fortunately, what Liao Zixuan was doing now was not to physically destroy the card, but to invade into the card and wipe out the soul.

Liao Zixuan focused all his mental strength on the Prison Cuffs. He controlled his mental strength to wrap around the card and then kept trying to infiltrate it. Soon, the black wolf's eyes revealed a look of joy because Liao Zixuan successfully felt his consciousness gradually sinking into the card.

The internal world of the card was pitch-black. There was a core that was emitting green light in the center. There was no doubt that this was the soul of the card. The core looked a little strange, like a chess piece. Moreover, there seemed to be a layer of green wind revolving around the core, protecting it.

Liao Zixuan was the first to try to breathe the dark flame at the core. However, the dark flame, which had been at a disadvantage in the past, seemed to have met its match this time. When the black flame was about to reach the core, the surrounding green wind suddenly accelerated, as if it was an autonomous defense mechanism, and began to confront the dark flame.

However, Liao Zixuan's dark flames were endless, and the green wind barrier protecting the core was obviously limited. After Liao Zixuan increased the power of the dark flames, it was obvious that the core's defense could not take it anymore and began to melt under the dark flames.

Hei Lang's attention was completely focused on the card space, but he did not know that there was a sudden gust of wind on the island outside. The sea water was swept up by the wind and turned into a raging wave that hit the reefs. The vegetation swayed wildly in the hurricane and was on the verge of collapse.

However, very soon, a faint song seemed to ring out in this area, but it also seemed to come from a distant place. The raging hurricane gradually calmed down, and the sea returned to calm. The swaying vegetation also escaped from the danger of being uprooted.

At the same time, on the other side, Liao Zixuan was just a little bit away from completely breaking through the core. When the dark flame completely broke through the barrier and came into contact with the core, the core that had lost the protection of the green wind was almost shattered by the dark flame.

After the core shattered with a crack...

The original card drawing on the [Prison Handcuff] started to fade like an ink painting. Finally, the handcuff pattern disappeared from the card.

The name of the card on the interface also refreshed at the same time. It changed from [Prison Cuffs] to...[Empty]. All the card descriptions were blank.

Immediately after, the system notification sounded in Liao Zixuan's mind like a tide.

" Ding! Congratulations on successfully obtaining the first " blank " Travelling Records Card. You have obtained 10 Legend Rating."

[Ding! According to the rules of the Covenant of Chronicles, when the first owner of the blank card appears, he will get a chance to write the Covenant.]

[Ding, please write down...

[Prologue's first sentence...]

Chapter 774 - 774: Preface to the Covenant

Chapter 774: Preface to the Covenant

Alliance... Covenant?

Liao Zixuan looked at the notification in front of him and was a little confused.

Even though he had experienced the plot of his previous life, he had never heard of this thing.

However, he quickly came back to his senses. Liao Zixuan had long been prepared for this situation. After all, as time passed, the benefits of " reading the script " would become smaller and smaller, and more and more unknown things would come sooner or later.

Liao Zixuan didn't think much of it, let alone be afraid. He wasn't a person who relied on his past experience. His previous life's experience was just a supplementary tool.

Instead, it was better to say that even if his identity had changed, his heart as a " player " that was full of exploration and uncovering the unknown would never change.

Therefore, after a brief moment of surprise, Liao Zixuan quickly began to study this " Covenant " excitedly.

First of all, if Liao Zixuan guessed correctly, this should be the hidden achievement series in Fallen God. However, the reward was a little scary.

Good heavens...

A total of 10 Legend Points!

When Vivian inherited the eight-fold shrine, even the entire Sakuragi Island only gave her five Legendary Points. The higher the Legendary Points, the more difficult it was to obtain them. Liao Zixuan felt that the 10 Legendary Points reward would have to be upgraded to the level of "major historical event."

Although this was indeed the first "blank" card of the Travelling Chronicles Card, Liao Zixuan felt that it was not that bad. The real thing that accounted for the majority of the Legendary Points rewards was probably...

[Covenant of Chronicles]

To be precise, it was the right to write the Covenant.

He had relied on the Travelling Chronicles card to trigger the "Covenant" prompt. Then, he could infer that perhaps the target of the "Covenant" was all the players of the Travelling Chronicles card?

It's a little similar to...Cards and rules?

Finally, this "Prologue's First Words" was a little interesting. Could it be that he was asked to write the first sentence of the "Covenant"? Similar to the preface that readers would see on the first page of every book?

It corresponded to the big words that all the players would see before the game started?

Then...

Was there a need to ask what he was going to write?

Anyway, the system did not give him any hints about what he had to write or what restrictions he had.

Since he was asked to improvise, Liao Zixuan, who had transformed back into his wolf cub form, did not even think about it. He directly tapped his little paws on the virtual keyboard, and it was a series of tapping.

Very soon.

[Vivian is the cutest in the world!]

Looking at the line of words in the [Covenant] input box, the wolf cub nodded in satisfaction.

Preface of the alliance? No, no, no. The scale was too small.

He had the entire country as his loyal base, and in the future, he would have the Ji Xing tablet that would rise to become the focus of the world, and he could also...

A better advertising spot than this!

In this way, as long as they played the Traveler's Cards, whether they were natives or players, they would be forced to brainwash them with the words 'Vivian is the cutest in the world' before the game started!

The little wolf cub was excited just thinking about it.

The world's star was here today!

The legendary witch was just around the corner!

[Confirm!]

The little wolf cub smiled foolishly and slapped the "confirm" button with its paw.

After that.

[Ding, please write the first sentence of the Prologue for the Covenant of Chronicles...]

After the same prompt flashed, the line of words that the little wolf cub typed in the [Covenant] input box was automatically cleared, and it became a "waiting to be input" state again.

Sigh...

Damn it!

It seemed that his little scheme had failed and was mercilessly rejected by the system. However, the little wolf cub did not give up on trying. After all, it might have been too straightforward. It was not impossible to be a little reserved.

Therefore, the little wolf cubs began to try other advertising channels...Cough cough, the Preface of the Covenant!

For example...A heart for Vivian! Come and play with Vivian! Follow Vivian, meow, follow Vivian, thank you, meow! Long live Vimom!

Wei...

Later on, the little wolf cub reflected on himself again. Since the "covenant" was a rule of playing cards, there must be the word "rule" in it. Perhaps this was the reason why the system did not allow him to pass. In that case...

[Vivian is the cutest in the world, so when your opponent is Vivian, you will automatically admit defeat!]

He had failed!

[When your opponent is Vivian, you can only use the lowest level of ordinary white cards to fight her!]

He had failed!

[When your opponent is Wei...]

[Dang...]

F * ck!

Half an hour later, the wolf cub sat on the ground with a depressed expression.

Then, the prompt box in front of him regarding the [Covenant] panel was still in the state of " waiting to be entered."

Later on, even though the wolf cub tried to input a few more normal rules, they were still mercilessly rejected by the " Covenant " system.

Good heavens, his requirements were quite high!

Alright.

I'm not a professional. I won't write it, okay?

No way.

Because the wolf cub realized that writing the preface of the " Covenant " was mandatory. Every day he failed to write it, the " blank card " in his hand would not be able to be used.

Even if he closed the prompt box, when he wanted to use the " blank card," it would still automatically pop up.

Ughhh!

The wolf cub was a little mad.

He had never expected that he would be stuck at the " review " step even though he had already made it through the most difficult step.

Just as he was wondering if he should go to the forum of the Green Maple section and find inspiration from the players...

Chapter 775 - 775: Preface to the Covenant (2)

Chapter 775: Preface to the Covenant (2)

What?

As if sensing something, the wolf cub suddenly stood up and looked at the distant sea.

Soon, a small black dot appeared there.

When the distance was shortened, it turned into the figure of a familiar little girl and appeared in the sky above the island.

Naturally, the other party immediately saw the wolf cubs on the island below, so he followed closely behind. His surprised voice could be heard from afar.

“Xiao Hei!”

Vivian, who was in mid-air, quickly approached the ground. Although they had only been separated for a little more than a day, the little girl immediately squatted down and hugged the wolf cub in her arms.

After a day of alone adjustment, Vivian’s condition was obviously much better than before.

After a brief moment of intimacy, the wolf cub curiously asked the little girl why she was here.

According to the current location of the island, Vivian should not be able to return to Sakuragi Island from the border of the battle line.

The little girl’s explanation for this was that on her original route, there was a sudden gust of wind in front of her, and the sky seemed to be covered by the dark clouds. Such unpredictable weather changes were not common on the island, so Vivian decided to change direction at the last minute to avoid the bad weather and avoid the storm.

In the end, he did not expect to meet the wolf cubs here in advance.

“Speaking of which...Xiao Hei, why are you here? And this card is?” Vivian looked curiously at the blank card floating above the wolf cub.

When the wolf cub briefly explained what had happened here, including the planet of annihilation, Vivian was pleasantly surprised and a little lonely.

Of course, the little wolf cub was surprised that he had won such a powerful weapon for Sakuragi Island and Thousand Islands in the upcoming battle with Fallen Abyss through intense negotiations with Gui Li. As for the desolation...She couldn't help much...

No, no, no!

Didn't he say that he couldn't have such self-denial and depressed thoughts anymore?

Vivian shook her head in her heart.

It could be seen that the solitude and thinking of this day had indeed changed the little girl a lot.

The little girl secretly clenched her fists. Right now, she should not feel lonely because she could not help. Instead, she should immediately think about what else she could help with at this moment!

Yes, that's right!

It's not that I can't do anything, but what I want to do!

And what was available now was naturally...

“Ji Xing card...Alliance...”

“Xiao Hei, do you want me to try?”Vivian mustered up her courage, her face tensed up, and volunteered to the wolf cubs seriously.

The little wolf cub did not care about that. He had tried many times anyway, so he probably had to use professional card rules, so he did not expect Vivian to do it.

However, the little girl's confidence that she was more and more willing to try was still worth encouraging!

He briefly explained the concept of the Covenant to Vivian and gave her a warning. He told the little girl that it was okay if she failed. After all, he had failed many times.

On the other side, Vivian was deep in thought after listening carefully, muttering to herself.

“Alliance...Rules...”

“Oh, right! Can you let me see what you wrote before? This can be used as a reference.” Frowning, Vivian clapped her hands.

To be honest, although she volunteered to do something, she knew nothing about it. So Vivian wanted to learn from the previous failures of the wolf cubs to see if she could get any clues.

But on the other side.

Err...

The little wolf cub immediately brushed it off. After all, if Vivian really knew what he had written earlier...

“Eh? Xiao Hei, some words seem to have appeared on this scroll...”

The previous system prompt was written from the player’s perspective. In reality, there was a faint green illusory scroll that served as the carrier of the ” Covenant.”

Not long after Vivian’s voice fell, the scroll suddenly changed. Then, all the ” history records ” written by the wolf cubs appeared on the scroll and appeared in front of Vivian.

Little Wolf Cub:||||)!”

Vivian was speechless.

The second personality: “o(* Greatest ∇ Greatest)”

How should he put it?

There was once a report about a passerby who was sent flying a few meters away by a truck that went out of control. He held his breath and shakily took out his phone from his pocket. After deleting the browser history, he closed his eyes peacefully.

The little wolf cub didn’t understand at first. He felt that the unscrupulous media was exaggerating too much.

But now...

A red flush that was visible to the naked eye began to spread from the little girl’s ears at the speed of light. Vivian looked at the ” unsightly ” prologue of the covenant with the word ” Vivian ” on it, and she almost found a hole to hide in.

She was extremely thankful that this scroll did not pass Little Black's review. If Little Black really succeeded, everyone who played the travel card in the future would be able to see such shameful lines. She... How could she still have the face to go out!

How could she still have the face to face others!

Just kill her!

"Small! Black!"

A few minutes later, the little wolf cub with a bump on his head continued to sit in Vivian's arms and study the covenant with the little girl.

Chapter 776 - 776: Preface to the Covenant (3)

Chapter 776: Preface to the Covenant (3)

Vivian had some recollection of the Traveler's Cards. When they first met Maggie on the Astorokis, the astrological girl had taken out a legendary card based on Vivian and enthusiastically introduced the Traveler's Cards to the little girl. It was a card game that was very popular among adventurers.

If he was the one to write the prologue...

Vivian thought to herself.

Very quickly, a thought that was very characteristic of a young girl came naturally.

"Xiao Hei, if only all the disputes in the world could be solved with this card game. Then no one would get hurt again, right?"

Hearing Vivian's naive words, the wolf cub in his arms snorted and turned his face away, refusing to discuss. His evaluation was that she was not even as cute as Vivian.

"Xiao Hei!"

Seeing that Vivian was a little embarrassed, the wolf cub sighed and waved its paw. It was as if it wanted to try writing on it. This was even more ridiculous than what it had done before. If it succeeded, it would be its loss!

However, the little girl was not discouraged. She rolled up her sleeves and wrote down what she had just said. Vivian tilted her head and asked,

“I’ve written it down, and then what, Little Black?”

Just wait and see. The system notification of failure would soon come anyway...

The little wolf cub yawned lazily. Before he could finish speaking, the system notification sounded immediately.

However, this time, it seemed a little... Different?

[Ding! The "Preface of the Covenant" you have written has been successfully recorded. All future contestants of the "Covenant" will be forced to abide by the agreement with you.]

[Ding! Your right to edit has been exhausted. Every author has only one right to edit. Once recorded, no one can modify it in any way.]

[Ding, the current [Covenant of Chronicles] has been activated. The number of [Covenant] remaining to be written is: 4】

[Ding! Since you are the author of the "Preface", all future authors must write a new "Covenant" based on the "Covenant-Preface".]

[Ding, do you wish to sign your name on the alliance agreement?】

The first few system notifications stunned the little wolf cub again.

However, he immediately woke up from the last one.

A signature, a signature was required!

The little wolf cub didn't care much about the content of the "Covenant". He only cared about his advertising space. Little Wolf Claw took a fierce slap without thinking.

[Yes!]

[Ding, you have successfully signed your name.]

In the end, the words that had originally appeared on the greenish scroll seemed to have completely dried up and were imprinted on it, unable to be erased. At the end, three eye-catching golden words were added.

[Preface of the Covenant: All killing, war, and plunder are prohibited. All disputes will be resolved through the victory or defeat of the Ji Xing card.]

– Vivian]

Before the wolf cubs and Vivian could take a closer look, the scroll turned into a green breeze and slipped away from the little girl's fingertips, as if it had become one with the world.

The current green wind might still be too weak, but one day, it would become stronger and stronger. In the end, it would be able to blow across the entire world and bring the seed of hope back to its homeland. With the help of time, it would take root and sprout, rise from the ground, and finally become a shelter in the future, even if it encountered a storm...

A towering tree.

Chapter 777 - 777: Recasting the Glory of KO, We Are Unshirkable!(1)

Chapter 777: Recasting the Glory of KO, We Are Unshirkable!(1)

Although it seemed to be a big deal, it did not seem to have any immediate significant impact. Therefore, the "Covenant" was quickly treated as an interlude by the wolf cub. He was now experimenting with the ability of the "blank card" with Vivian.

The wolf cub found a coconut and asked Vivian to see if she could "print" it on the card.

There was no need for any complicated operation. As long as the little girl willed it, the coconut in reality would immediately be sucked into the card. Then...

[Fresh Coconuts]

[Rarity: White]

[Type: Brand]

"Card Effect: Summon a fresh coconut after use.

[Wear: 0/5]

Vivian immediately tried to play the card again. If it was an ordinary card, it would have to be played at a specific table, but this time...

There was a flash of light from the card, and then a coconut that was exactly the same as the one the wolf cub had taken appeared in Vivian's hand.

After repeated tests, they came to the following conclusion.

The first thing that was stored in the card was equivalent to time stopping. It would be the same as before.

Secondly, the type of items that a blank card could store depended on the type of card it was originally from, and the difficulty increased accordingly.

The simplest was the equipment card that could store items, followed by the spell card that could store magic. As for the unit card, it had not been revealed in the plot of the previous life, and they could not convert it now.

The wolf cubs and Vivian could only make white quality blank cards for storage and spells. They could not make higher-quality cards for the time being. As the rarity of the cards increased, the core barrier inside the cards seemed to be stronger, and there was no way to break through.

But the good news was that they only needed a storage card now. Secondly, perhaps because Vivian had become the author of the Covenant, the little girl did not need to spend a lot of effort to make a blank card like the wolf cubs.

After Vivian picked up a card, it was as if she was following her own door. It might not even take a few seconds for her to erase the contents of the original card.

In other words, as long as there were enough normal equipment cards, Vivian could continuously create storage cards.

In the end, the wolf cub noticed a new attribute on the panel of the travel record card, the wear value.

Once the wear value reaches the upper limit, the blank card will be automatically destroyed.

This attribute should have something to do with the quality of the travel records token. The higher the original quality of the travel records token, the higher the upper limit of the wear value.

This was all they had figured out for the time being, but it was enough for their next plan.

The most difficult " transportation " part of the production of " Annihilation Star " had been completed.

Next was the mobilization.

The materials for Planet Annihilation were distributed in five countries of the Eastern Continent, not to mention the Fire Field and the Thousand Islands. However, Vivian's influence had not spread to the other three countries yet. It was natural for her to issue a commission through the Adventurer's Association. However, this was equivalent to making everything public. Anyone who checked the commission of the Association would know what they were doing.

Liao Zixuan didn't want Guili to be able to grasp the production progress of Planet Annihilation so easily in real-time. He also didn't want to expose the " blank card " so quickly.

He wanted to create the Annihilation Star quickly and well. He also wanted to create it in a hidden manner to avoid leaking the news to the greatest extent. He wanted to create the illusion that he was helpless and let the Guili Five Elements see it so that they would let down their guard.

As for the final surprise, it was already too late. Even if Gui Li wanted to go back on his word, he couldn't do anything about it.

Therefore, the international commission from the association was rejected by the wolf cub. But it did not matter, he naturally had other ways. After all, not only did Vivian have influence, but the players also had influence among themselves.

Green Maple, return to the cold winter, this three countries, although the total number of players add up, may still not have the flame domain, but each country still has the local guild power, have the country's first one, two, three, the guild is.

Although Vivian did not know the players of these foreign guilds and her influence was very low, but... Someone recognized him!

Bluestar, reality, world, world, medium, each big game, circle, club, private guild, large studio, famous, those, may, all bow down, don't see, look up, see, study each other, relationship, not necessarily good, but one, each, definitely all familiar, the great.

Therefore, what the wolf cub needed to do now was to find a guild with high influence in the game circle within the Fire Domain and the Thousand Islands with Vivian. Then, they would let this guild act as their agent and let them contact the foreign guilds.

The most important point of this plan was that the guild that was entrusted with the task had to be a reputable and high-quality guild. This way, the foreign guild that the other party contacted would also be of the same level and would not have any problems.

In this way, they could bypass the vision of the aborigines, obtain high-quality foreign workers, and expand their overseas influence. It was simply killing three birds with one stone.

Now, there was a problem.

Among all the guilds that Vivian had come into contact with so far, they were the most famous and influential guilds in the game circle. At least, they were once...

That was naturally...

KA!

Chapter 778 - 778: Recasting the Glory of KO, We Are Unshirkable!(1)

Chapter 778: Recasting the Glory of KO, We Are Unshirkable!(1)

Sakuragi Island.

“Yo, yo, look, isn’t that someone from the Ka guild?”

“Hey! It really is!”

“Weren’t they quite arrogant before? They said that they wanted to lead the main storyline of the 1,000 islands. He couldn’t even accept the NPCs ‘quests on the island?’”

[illegible]

When a group of solo players passed by the gathering place's waste disposal plant, they saw a group of players with the K <anno data-annotation-id="333333d4 – 444c-444a-446a-999999999997"> A </anno></anno></anno></anno></anno> who were working hard to dispose of the waste. They immediately mocked them.

If it was in the past, they wouldn't have dared to do so even if they were given a hundred guts.

But now...

“You guys!” A few of the Ka members had fire in their eyes and were about to go up and PVP with these people.

It was the sudden dissuasion from the crowd that stopped them.

“Alright, forget about them!” The owner of the voice was the president of Ka, Hei Yu.

“Guild Leader! But, but...They!” A few of the Ka Ka members gritted their teeth.

However, Hei Yu still shook his head and pressed their shoulders down.

“Don’t forget our current situation. If you really fight with them, those who provoke them won’t be red-listed. Regardless of whether we win or lose, we will immediately be chased down by the NPCs, or even expelled!”

Hei Yu was right. This was the current situation of the Ka guild. It was also the reason why those independent players who were clearly not as high level as them dared to mock them like this.

Ever since Hei Yu led almost all the members of the Ka guild to join the mysterious camp of the “Apostle”, the Thousand Islands Guild’s favorability was directly deducted by 1,000 points, and it became Hatred.

As a result, after the “apostles” were defeated, they became stray dogs. As long as they dared to step into the island where the Three Pursuers were located, they would definitely be wanted and imprisoned. They could not play at all.

Perhaps it was because they did not have the Three Pursuing Principles that they would not be attacked by the NPCs and could still survive. Even so, if they made the slightest mistake, they would still be at great risk of being expelled.

Then, they would really have to wander around.

However, the Fallen Abyss Descent storyline was approaching. If they were to leave now and go to an isolated island in the wilderness, they would lose the protection and supplies of the NPCs when the Fallen Abyss Descent began. Wouldn’t that be equivalent to sending themselves to their deaths?

Therefore, the only way for Ka was to endure.

Oh no, there was another option, which was also the choice of the vast majority of players who had been deceived by the “Apostle” and more than half of the “former” members of the Ka Guild.

Abandon the Winter Executive Camp.

However...

"Hmph, a bunch of stubborn fellows. They're still guarding that Winter Camp and won't retreat. They're really persistent!"

"That's right. The plot is clearly in the villain's camp, but they still have delusions."

"I heard their guild leader say that anyone who dares to leave the Winter Faction will be kicked out of Ka. Guess why there are only so few people left from Ka, who used to be a 10,000-man team."

"Sigh, the remaining hotheads are really pitiful. They're still foolishly following that president."

"Pitiful? What was there to be pitied about? How many people had they scammed to go to Deep Moon Island? He even took the opportunity to earn money for the ticket. Now that he thought about it, his brain was really kicked by a donkey back then. That was why he gave up on Sakuragi Island, causing his level to be pulled apart by several levels! He deserved it! It seemed!

"Let's go, let's go. Just looking at them makes me angry. Let that guild leader continue to dream in his winter dreams!"

When the solo players saw that the members of Ka Guild ignored them after Hei Yu stopped them, they buried their heads and continued with their garbage disposal missions. After a while, they felt bored and left one after another.

People always liked two things the most. First, they liked to watch others fall from their pedestal. Second, they liked to take the opportunity to beat up those who were down.

Obviously, Ka was a perfect match for the players.

Therefore, they had to listen to this kind of mockery every day. Even if they knew they were wrong, it was useless.

The game was the same as reality. If one made a mistake, they had to accept the punishment.

Many of the members of Ka couldn't take it anymore and quit the guild. They gave up on the Winter Faction's mysterious faction and re-established their reputation with the Thousand Islands Faction from scratch. This way, at least they wouldn't become red names with the Thousand Islands Three Enforcers.

However, there was still a small group of people who could be said to be the backbone of the Ka guild. They still believed in their president and their president's plan to turn the tables...

In the eyes of the Thousand Islands players, they were stubborn and unrepentant, unwilling to admit their failure.

However, only they knew this. As the guild leader, Hei Yu knew this very well.

This mysterious winter Enforcer camp must not retreat!

Because this was their only hope of turning the tables.

And this "comeback" did not mean that there would be a new Winter Executor who would take over them one day and continue to fight against the Fox-faced Witch.

Regarding this option, Hei Yu had already chosen wrongly three times.

Therefore, he would not make the wrong choice this time.

They were indeed waiting for the new executive officer to come and pick them up, but it was definitely not to take revenge on the fox-faced witch, but...As a spy, he would take the opportunity to infiltrate the enemy's rear!

Go against the fox-faced witch?

Only a ghost would go against the fox-faced witch! This was especially so now that the other identity of the Witch with the Fox Face was revealed. It turned out that she was the daughter of the Fire Domain's official, Vivian, who was rumored to be a hot favorite in the closed beta.

With the double buffs, if Hei Yu was still stubborn, then he would not be the guild leader of Ka.

With an NPC like this, who was obviously the version's daughter, only by clinging to her thigh could the guild develop rapidly.

However, if he were to switch to the normal method of hugging someone's thigh now, it was obviously too late.

That was why he decided to take a big gamble. Since they couldn't compete with those guilds that had been hugging thighs from the start, then they would compete with the posture of hugging thighs!

Those who are mocking and quitting Ka, just wait. Sooner or later, he will lead Ka to reclaim their throne!

Just as Hei Yu was enduring hardships and tasting his courage, continuously encouraging himself in his heart...

Suddenly.

"Yes... Guild Leader!" The exclamations from the Ka members next to him rang out again.

What's wrong now?

What was going on today? He had clearly chosen an inconspicuous place like the scrap yard to find a quiet place with fewer players. Why were there people coming one after another today?

Just when Hei Yu thought that another group of taunting players had arrived, and he felt a little irritated and angry...

"Fox...Fox..."

"What is it?" Hei Yu felt a little strange about his little brother's trembling tone and did not really listen to what he said.

"Fox-faced Witch! Guild Leader!"

Finally, he could not hold it in any longer. This Ka player pointed behind Hei Yu in horror. When Hei Yu turned around, he saw the witch wearing a fox mask who had appeared in the waste plant like a ghost. At this moment, she was facing them. Hei Yu's eyes instantly widened.

Even if it's the guild leader, it's also the surrounding, many KA members, it's one reaction, it's all scared out of their wits, even in his mind, it's the subconscious reaction, it's running away!

In fact, it was no wonder that they reacted so violently.

It was said that when technology was still advanced and people could only experience the game through the computer screen, there were many big and small streamers who were scared by horror survival games. Now, Fallen God was a completely immersive virtual reality online game...

The people of Ka had indeed been affected by Vivian's "dark" plot in the Abyssal Sea.

Fortunately, Hei Yu's mind was still clear. After a short period of shock, his sharp sense of smell instantly detected the scent of an opportunity.

Why?

This was because the fox-faced witch was not attacking them.

It would be better to say that if the other party really wanted to attack them, then there was no room for them to panic.

One must know that the image of the Dark Fox-faced Witch, that terrifying black chain claw that instantly killed almost all the players in the Ka team at her peak, was still vivid in Hei Yu's mind. The shadow was still there.

There was only one possibility left.

The fox-faced witch was here...He took the initiative to look for them!

But why did the fox-faced witch choose to look for these "war criminals" instead of others? What was so special about them?

Following this line of thought, he thought about it.

The answer was self-evident.

No one could understand the excitement and trembling in Hei Yu's heart.

He was...

He finally made the right decision!

Chapter 779 - 779: Recasting the Glory of Ka, We Are Unshirkable!(2)

Chapter 779: Recasting the Glory of Ka, We Are Unshirkable!(2)

"Don't panic! Don't panic! Especially the few of you, why are you rubbing the offline channeling bar? Stop!"

"And you two bastards, why are you taking out your weapons?"

Hei Yu scolded the Ka members sternly while at the same time, he raised his hand and hammered the heads of a few Ka members who were preparing to fight.

"You like to take out your weapons?"

“Put them away! Stand properly!”

The two Ka players who had pulled out their swords woke up as if they had just woken up from a dream. They were so scared that they broke out in a cold sweat. It was not that they really wanted to fight Vivian. It was purely their player's instinct.

This batch of Ka players who could still stay could be said to be elites. They could also be considered Hei Yu's confidants. Therefore, they carried out the guild leader's orders very quickly and accurately.

In the blink of an eye, all of them straightened their backs in front of the fox-faced witch, just like prisoners in labor reform who were about to be examined by the leaders of the organization.

This scene made the wolf cubs who were walking around feel a little funny.

Not long ago, the overlord guild in version 1.0 in his previous life had actually fallen to such a state. Liao Zixuan sighed in his heart and wanted to laugh.

However, in Hei Yu's heart, this would be the turning point of Ka's fate. Thus, he naturally would not allow any actions that might cause the fox-faced witch's favorability towards them to drop.

Even if they already had negative favorability points.

“What are you guys doing now...”

Finally, the fox-faced witch in front of him opened her mouth. Hei Yu clenched his fists and immediately reported truthfully.

“Lady Witch, we are dealing with the waste produced by the infrastructure project on Sakuragi Island. We are recycling the waste to prevent secondary pollution!”

Vivian looked at the pile of waste and then looked at the few members of Ka. She couldn't help but ask,

“Just you guys?”

Of course. A mission like this was smelly and long, and the reward was only a mosquito leg. Which player would be willing to accept it? If it wasn't for their negative reputation points, they wouldn't be willing to accept other missions.

This was what Hei Yu thought in his heart. However, Hei Yu definitely had to change the way he put it.

" Yes, Mistress Witch. We know that we've made a huge mistake, so we took the initiative to take on these dirty and hard jobs. We don't ask for your forgiveness, but we hope that we can atone for our past actions in this way!"

Looking at Hei Yu's righteous and stern words, his expression was full of regret, and he seemed to be turning over a new leaf. Vivian nodded. She could hear the situation that Hei Yu did not say out loud.

" Thank you for your hard work. We have indeed been negligent on this point. Waste disposal is also an important part of the construction of Sakuragi Island. We should pay more attention to it. I will increase the corresponding rewards in the future."

"Thank you, Witch..."

Very good! Everything was going smoothly! However, before Hei Yu could finish his words of thanks, the fox-faced witch suddenly changed the topic. Following that, her entire aura changed.

"But you said just now that you hope to atone for your sins, but why..."

With Vivian's voice, all the members of Ka could feel the fox witch's sharp gaze sweeping over them and finally landing on the " Eye of the Abyss " that had fused into their bodies.

"Why, are you still unwilling to give up that evil power?" Although there was a fox mask separating them, anyone could imagine the frown on the speaker's face behind the mask.

That's right, once players leave the mysterious faction of Winter, they will no longer be able to use the powerful " Abyssal Abyss " class unique to that faction. The " Abyssal Eye " that was originally integrated into the body will also automatically disappear.

In other words, Hei Yu and the members of Ka still had the fusion of the " Eye of the Abyss " in their bodies, and they were still professionals of the Abyss of the Abyss. This was the best proof that they were still on the Winter Executive Camp.

He was here!

Opposite him, Hei Yu's heart tensed up. He was now incomparably certain that they were at the critical point of triggering a hidden mission. The conversation at this moment was probably the final step.

Hei Yu took a deep breath. Ever since he was toyed with by the " Apostle ", he understood one thing. He should never underestimate every NPC in " Fallen God ", especially those who were in a higher position.

Therefore, instead of explaining to the Fox-faced Witch on the surface, Hei Yu felt that it was better to be more sincere. That's right, according to Hei Yu's recent research on the Fox-faced Witch, he felt that the most important thing to this NPC was one word.

Sincere.

The turning point that changed his opinion of the Fox-faced Witch was when the Fox-faced Witch chose to return all the power that the Apostle had stolen from them to them after defeating the Apostle in the Abyss Sea.

Hei Yu remembered very clearly that many players on the forum at that time were actually extremely puzzled by the Fox-faced Witch's behavior. Some of the "friendly merchants" even scolded the Fox-faced Witch because of this, saying that she was too much of a saint.

Looking at the "friendly merchants" standing on the moral high ground on the forum and angrily condemning the fox-faced witch, those who did not know better would think that these people had defeated the "Apostle" executive officer, and the fox-faced witch had taken the results of their battle without authorization.

However, Hei Yu could not be clearer about what the other party was truly angry about.

Chapter 780 - 780: Recasting the Glory of Ka, We Are Unshirkable!(2)

Chapter 780: Recasting the Glory of Ka, We Are Unshirkable!(2)

It was nothing more than the fact that they could have eliminated a strong competitor for them. In the end, because the fox-faced witch had given them back their EXP, skills, and classes, Ka had a chance to live and not die completely.

Of course, as 'friendly businesses', they were unhappy.

"So, Lady Witch, from that time on, I swore to turn over a new leaf and follow you. That's why we can't give up our connection with that executive organization."

"I hope that we can act as Lord Witch's spies in the enemy's camp and deliver information to Lord Witch. At the same time, we can also act as a sharp knife behind her! As long as the witch gives us an order, we will instantly turn around at the most critical moment and give the enemy a fatal blow!"

After Hei Yu had sincerely said everything in one breath, he suddenly felt an inexplicable sense of relaxation.

To be honest, in the past few days, they had seen countless innocent people in the Thousand Islands become homeless because of the Fallen Abyss that they had indirectly caused. Their families were shattered and they were forced to flee. Even if they were only players, they did not feel good watching this. They felt a faint sense of sin.

In the past, he thought that the game was just a game, and everything was to serve the players. As long as he was happy, it was enough. But now, Hei Yu admitted that the planning of "Fallen God" was very successful, and indeed used this plot to teach the players the first lesson of the open beta-please treat this world well.

The fox-faced witch was definitely the most successful and crucial NPC in this series of plans. The plan borrowed her hands to display the goodwill of this virtual world in front of the players without hiding it.

If the fox-faced witch had not chosen to return the power back then and had instead killed them with a single blow, Hei Yu believed that the current him would not have paid attention to what they had done wrong. Instead, he would have been blinded by hatred and only wanted to regain his power.

Perhaps the other version of him would continue to stay in the Winter Faction. It might seem like the outcome would be the same, but the goals would be completely different. One would be for pure power, while the other would be for salvation.

Opposite him.

The wolf cub, who was watching silently, finally yawned in relief and changed to a comfortable position to take a nap.

He had also heard about the internal tricks of Ka on the forum. Now that Hei Yu dared to say these things in front of Vivian, it should confirm that those rumors were true. Ka was indeed going to be the sixth brother.

This made Liao Zixuan admire Black Feather a little. He was impressed by the president of Ka. This execution, this reverse thinking, had indeed found a breakthrough for the dying Ka. He could only say that it was not unreasonable for Ka to be able to dominate in version 1.0 in his previous life.

For them, Ka's attitude saved them a lot of trouble and made the rest easier.

So... Could this be the legendary "protagonist halo"?

No.

It could only be said that the little girl's kindness had been repaid, right?

"Alright, I accept your determination."

A crisp sound lingered in his ears. Hei Yu swore that this was definitely the most pleasant sound he had ever heard.

The Ka players who were following Vivian held their breaths and almost hugged each other after Vivian's words.

[Ding, due to your performance, the fox-faced witch has a +100 favorable impression of you.]

[Ding, your relationship with the fox-faced witch has risen to: 0 (Cold)]

The system notification sounded. Although "Cold" could be said to be the lowest level of positive favorability, at least... It could be considered neutral and not hostile. This was already enough to surprise Hei Yu.

But even more surprising...

There were even more people who were a little shocked.

"However, rather than using words, I hope that you can prove yourself with actions. Right now, I happen to have a top-secret mission in my hands that requires manpower."

"Absolute... A top-secret mission?"

"That's right. I need you to hide on the isolated island before the third wave of Fallen Abyss arrives and create the Annihilation Star for Sakuragi Island."

As the fox-faced witch nodded, the system notification sounded in the minds of Hei Yu and the other Ka players.

[Ding, the fox-faced witch has issued an SS-rank mission to you: "Create Annihilation Star." Will you accept it?]

Sh... Annihilation Star?

What was that?

Hei Yu did not react for a moment. However, after he clicked on the mission details...

[Create Annihilation Star]

[Mission Details: After accepting your loyalty and repentance, the fox-faced witch has decided to use a mission to test you. The Star of Annihilation is carried by the Northern Cross Fleet. It is a strategic heavy cannon from Guili. It once displayed its destructive power during the demon wave defense battle on Sakuragi Island.]

[Now that the fox-faced witch has successfully obtained the blueprint for Planet Annihilation through her negotiation with Gui Li, what you need to do now is to collect the materials and create this heavy cannon that can turn the tide of the battle! This is not only for the Thousand Islands, but also a crucial step to rebuild your image in the fox-faced witch's heart.]

[Mission Target Steps: 1. Collect the materials needed to create the Annihilation Star from the five countries of the Eastern Continent. 2. Gather at least 20 Master Craftsmen or above. 3. Create the Annihilation Star.]

[Mission Requirement 1: Create the Annihilation Star before the third wave of Fallen Abyss attacks, or the mission will be considered a failure.]
