

I Help A NPC Become The Legendary Witch

Chapter 801 - 801: The Shocked Progenitor Vampire (Part 2)

Chapter 801: The Shocked Progenitor Vampire (Part 2)

This bet was a little too big for Ichiro, and he felt that he had suffered a great loss. Ichiro really wanted to ask Louise, who exactly were you to say such big words so casually?

But it didn't matter.

Ichiro didn't even want a wish that wasn't excessive, let alone a wish that wasn't excessive. If he had any evil thoughts, it would taint his reputation as a loyal believer of the fox-faced witch.

The truth is that he is the same as the Archmage who came from the Flame Domain. He can be a hero once, even if it is only for a short time. At least in Lady Vivian's heart, he is different from those passers-by characters. He can remember his name. That's all. This is the greatest wish of Yilang.

But just thinking about it, how was that possible? Although Ichiro had been inspired by Louise's belief that mortals could achieve great things, he still treated her as a motivational chicken soup. Deep down, he still did not believe her.

But in short.

"Alright, Madam Louise, I promise you, but this is only to prove to you that we, the people of the Thousand Islands, trust the Three Principles, the Sakuragi Island, and the frontline. Therefore, even if you lose, I don't need you to fulfill my wishes."

"After all, my greatest wish is for the Thousand Islands to survive this calamity."

After Ichiro spoke seriously, Louise only smiled and continued to look at the battle without saying anything.

While the two of them were talking, the battle situation changed again.

The Demon King Crab's huge body, which was used to force players to retreat, became its biggest weakness when facing an agile player like Owl.

It had no more than three ways of attacking: using its four limbs to collide and stomp, using its pincers to wave and sweep, and finally, spraying high-pressure water from its mouthpart.

The first two were useless in front of Owl's nimble movement technique. It could not even touch the edge of the young man's clothes. On the contrary, because of the range of the attack, it exposed more of its weaknesses outside of its shell. It was pierced by Owl's blood spear one after another.

With the strong recovery ability of Fallen Abyss creatures, logically speaking, as a leader, the wound should have healed very quickly. However, in reality, it did not. Instead, the color of the wound was still deepening. This was the power of Owl as a vampire. It could also be said to be authority.

As long as the attack hit the target, the enemy would be inflicted with the negative BUFF of "non-stop bleeding."

When the Demon King Crab finally stopped using its cumbersome body and turned to lock onto Owl's figure, it quickly shot out high-pressure water from its mouthpart...

Whoosh!

A purple arrow that seemed to have been waiting for a long time arrived in the blink of an eye.

Although the high-pressure water line was fast and lethal, if it wanted to shoot, it would inevitably expose the inside of its most fragile and soft mouthpart. This was the opportunity that the Six Paths Silk Robe wanted to seize.

Even though the entire process of spitting out might only take a fraction of a second, it was more than enough for the Six Paths Silk Robe.

The arrow filled with lightning accurately pierced into the Devil King Crab's mouthpart. Then, a dense purple light erupted from the crab's head...

Boom!

The explosive power produced by the surging lightning almost blew up the Demon King Crab. It took a few steps back with a thud. A lightning arrow was forced into its mouth. Now, the entire crab seemed to be a little stunned by the explosion.

On the other side, due to Owl and Six Paths Robe's suppression of the Demon King Crab, the players who had been forced back by the Boss were able to launch an attack again. They took back the lost beach position from the Fallen Abyss creatures.

The players continued to throw their skills at the Demon King Crab with the mentality of beating it up when it was down. Even if most of the damage was reduced each time, even if it was only 1 point of damage, with so many players accumulating it, it was no less than adding insult to injury to the Demon King Crab.

From the perspective of the players, the Demon King Crab's HP was rapidly decreasing. The thick tube of HP was about to be reduced to half.

"How is it, Madam Louise? What did I say? This big crab doesn't seem to be as powerful as the giant crocodile from the previous wave. It doesn't even have a decent attack method and can only be beaten passively."

"Now it seems that I've said too much in the previous fifteen minutes. In a few more rounds, this crab will die here. Hmph!"

Ichiro, who was on the scouting ship, felt very relieved when he saw the miserable appearance of the Demon King Crab, and his words became more and more confident.

However...

"Eh? Ichiro-san, why did that crab suddenly stop moving?" Louise pretended to be surprised as she pointed at him.

When Ichiro hurriedly turned his head back to look at the battle.

"This... This?"

Ichiro wasn't the only one who was stunned. Most of the players on the battlefield and the soldiers of the Sangha Sect were stunned as well.

This was because the Demon King Crab, which was covered in wounds, suddenly sank on the spot. Then, before anyone could react, it retracted all its exposed parts into its huge and tough shell.

From afar, it looked like a small hill covered in mud and moss on the beach.

The first few waves of Fallen Abyss monsters had always attacked crazily and never retreated, not to mention this Demon King Crab, which was actually hiding and defending?

At first, the players were overjoyed, thinking that this was a live target. They started to throw their skills even more desperately, but when the damage figures came out, they were dumbfounded.

Chapter 802 - 802: The Shocked Progenitor Vampire (2)

Chapter 802: The Shocked Progenitor Vampire (2)

Zero.

Previously, when the Demon King Crab was in its active form, no matter how low the damage dealt by the players was, they would at least deal dozens of damage. Some powerful ones could even deal hundreds of damage. But now...Zero.

What was going on?

The fact that the damage was gone wasn't the most worrying thing for the players. What made them most anxious was that the Demon King Crab, which they had just crippled to less than half of its health, had started to grow back!

It was impossible for the Six Paths Robe and Owl not to notice this.

Of course, they couldn't just let the Demon King Crab recover on its own.

However...

Shua!

The exact same purple arrow shot towards the mouth of the Demon King Crab's crab shell with a thunderous sound. However, who would have thought that after the explosion of the power of lightning ended, the crab shell was unharmed?

The purple lightning bolts ran wildly on the surface of the crab shell, but they could no longer penetrate it. They were completely isolated. After a few breaths, they were completely absorbed by the mud on the crab shell, and there was no trace of them at all.

On the other side, Owl's invincible blood spear seemed to have encountered a strong shield. He kept trying to find the weakness of the Demon King Crab in its host form, but unfortunately, the other party did not leave Owl with even the slightest opening.

This kind of completely giving up on offense and completely turning into a purely defensive mode could be said to have completely restrained Owl, who had high frequency but low single damage.

When they realized that they could not do anything to the Devil King Crab, which had given up on defending, the players were initially very optimistic. They thought that it was not a big deal. It was equivalent to the other side losing a boss-level combat power.

However, as time passed, everyone realized that something was wrong. The Boss Boss could not be killed. If it continued to linger here, the third wave of Fallen Abyss would never end.

They could kill the fallen creatures once, three times, five times...However, they could not take it anymore.

And as they were consumed, their line of defense became weaker. As time passed, the Demon King Crab did not have to do anything. As long as it was alive, it could rely on the endless stream of Fallen Abyss creatures under its command to break through their line of defense!

Oh no...Oh no!

Everyone gradually realized the serious consequences. However, the more anxious they were, the more they wanted to kill the Demon King Crab. The more they invested in attacking the Demon King Crab, the more the Demon King Crab remained safe and sound. However, because their power was scattered, their strength against the ordinary Fallen Abyss creatures was weakened, and their defense line became even weaker.

This led to an endless cycle. If they did not attack the Demon King Crab, the defense line would be dragged down sooner or later. However, if they attacked the Demon King Crab, the defense line would be in danger because of the scattered forces.

Ichiro, who was on the reconnaissance ship, was already as anxious as an ant on a hot pan. Just as Louise was about to speak up and tell Ichiro to admit defeat quickly and report the situation here to the headquarters of the Three Enforcement Forces...

Suddenly!

From the sky above the distant island, a black dot was rapidly approaching. In just a few breaths, all the soldiers and players on the battlefield could see the little girl hovering in the air with a black sickle in her hand.

"It's the Fox-Faced Witch!"

"Lady Vivian is here!"

"I knew it! How could my Vivian be absent from such an occasion!"

“Alright, everyone can rest assured now. Damn it, this stinky crab has changed its name to stinky turtle. We can’t do anything to you, but isn’t it easy for Sister Witch to do something to you?”

“Well, don’t be too optimistic. I think with this crab’s calmness, even Vivian might not be able to break through its defense.”

“Not necessarily? Brother, you’re a newbie, right? Was she the daughter of an official?”

” Let’s move the bench and watch the CG!”

How should he put it?

Seeing is believing.

When Ichiro had been boasting about Vivian, Louise had remained skeptical. But now, the little girl’s figure had stood there without saying a word, and the wind on the battlefield had changed.

The anxiety, nervousness, and panic caused by the Devil King Crab had all disappeared. Instead, they were cheering and excited. Many foreigners even put away their weapons and focused on watching. It was as if they did not need to do anything after the little girl made her move. They just needed to win.

Alright.

For the first time, Louise was fully focused. She began to pay full attention to the Black Sickie girl floating in the sky. She wanted to see...

What solution do you want to give to this situation?

Vivian could feel countless expectant gazes on her, and she took a deep breath.

At this moment, Owl and the Six Paths Robe also came to the little girl’s side.

“That guy is very hard. I can’t break through its defense.”The callous young man said concisely.

The Six Paths Robe also shook its head at Vivian, indicating that its arrows were useless.

The little girl didn’t say anything. Instead, she rushed straight at the Demon King Crab. She didn’t care about anything else. She wanted to give this guy a sickle first.

Then, as expected...

Ding!

The black scythe bounced back, and a huge backlash came from his palm. Looking at the place where the scythe had cut, there was only a very small scythe mark.

“How... How could it be? Even Vivian...” Some of the players below looked disappointed.

” What do I mean? I’m telling everyone not to be blindly optimistic. Vivian is not Feng Aotian. She can’t do everything.”

“Then what should we do now?”

Chapter 803 - 803: The Shocked Progenitor Vampire (3)

Chapter 803: The Shocked Progenitor Vampire (3)

“No, wait, look at Sister Witch. She doesn’t seem surprised. I feel that she must have another trump card!”

Reality proved that this player’s observation was correct.

Vivian symbolically slashed her scythe down, and as if to test her hand, she quickly retreated.

In the little girl’s mind.

“The other me, you see, Xiao Hei was right, relying on brute force is not enough.”

[Hmph, I didn’t use my full strength. If I had enough time to prepare, I would definitely be able to break that big guy!]

“Alright, alright, alright. I believe you!”

After comforting the second personality, Vivian returned to the Six Paths Robe.

“Lord Luo Sha, can you give the order for everyone to retreat?”

“Wha... Retreat?” The Six Paths Gauze Robe repeated in shock.

“Yes, Lord Luo Sha, please believe me. You must keep everyone away from the Demon King Crab. Otherwise, I’m afraid that it will affect and hurt everyone.”

“Spread out? Harm? You... Forget it, I understand.”

Six Paths Robe held back from asking further and immediately followed Vivian’s instructions. Although the players and the soldiers on the battlefield were puzzled, they no longer hesitated after knowing that it was Vivian’s intention. They immediately retreated and took the initiative to give up the battlefield.

At the same time, Vivian also used magic to transmit her voice. She began to repeat in this area, asking everyone to leave.

“Please leave this area immediately. I repeat, please leave the secondary area immediately!”

He listened to the magical voice transmission echoing in his ears.

The white-haired loli on the hill asked the golden-haired youth beside her,”

“Doctor, we are also in the area that Vivian warned. Do we need to leave?”

“No need.”

The blond youth looked at the little girl in the distance with a curious look. Even he was a little confused. What was Vivian doing? Of course, he would not leave.

However...

“Just in case, you should activate the defensive barrier to the highest level.”

“Yes, Doctor.”

“Please leave this area immediately. I repeat, please leave the secondary area immediately!”

The reconnaissance ships near the coast were also within Vivian’s warning range.

Seeing this, Ichiro immediately wanted to leave as well.

But...

“Mr. Ichiro, aren’t you curious about what the fox-faced witch you admire the most is up to?”

“I, I...”

“Aiya, don’t worry. Nothing will happen. Even if something happens, I’m here. Let’s not leave. It’s good to stop here.”

Louise’s seduction had finally compromised, and the other patrol ships had begun to run out. Only one of them had stopped nearby to watch the battle.

However, just like the professor and Lolita on the hillside, Louise also had her own methods to erase their presence, making it difficult for others to notice.

Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Therefore, after Vivian shouted for the last time and made sure that there was no one else around...

The little girl flew to the sky above the Demon King Crab in its hermit form again. This time, it was directly above it. What was even more puzzling was that there was no weapon in Vivian’s hand.

She was...What was he doing?

The only ones left in this area, the doctor and Louise, were both puzzled.

But then, Vivian gave them the answer.

A magic array began to rise under the little girl’s feet.

Was he planning to use magic to attack?

The doctor and Louise shook their heads.

The six lightning arrows from Luo Shan had already proved that the mud on the Demon King Crab’s shell had extremely high magic resistance. Pure magic would not be able to have much of an effect even if it was super powerful.

However, they soon realized that they were wrong.

Wait a minute, this is...

Teleportation spell?

Yes, it was.

The doctor and Louise weren’t mistaken, it was teleportation magic.

He counted the countdown of the teleportation spell. At the last second, the little girl raised her arms and waved them in a certain direction, as if they were a guiding signal.

Immediately after, Vivian's shout rang in the doctor and Louise's ears.

"Xiao Hei! Open fire!"

Little...

They hadn't even reacted to the black words.

Boom!

No matter how far away they were, they could still hear the thunderous sound, as if the sky had been struck by a heavy rod.

Then, from the distant horizon, a small dot of light appeared. This small dot of light was expanding at the speed of the blink of an eye. Finally, it turned into a meteor-like cannon and fell straight to where Vivian was just now.

In other words, it was directly above the Demon King Crab.

Weng!

It was no longer a rumble. It was just that the sound was so loud that there was only a ringing in his ears. After a thousandth of a second, he could not see anything. Only the light of the day from the cannon blast filled his entire field of vision.

About ten seconds passed.

Only then did his vision become clear again.

The beach...Oh no, it should be the bay now.

A hole that was dozens of meters deep turned the shore of the shallow water area into a water intake. There was no shadow of the beach at all.

As for the Fallen Abyss Creatures...

It had long disappeared, as if it had evaporated under the white light. Only when he looked into the deepest center of the pit could he see wisps of white smoke rising up, and the pungent smell of burning began to spread.

The Demon King Crab's shell, which could be said to be an absolute defense that even the Thunder Arrows could not do anything to, and Owl's Blood Spear could not stop, was now shockingly broken through!

The white smoke and burnt smell came from here.

Of course, the Devil King Crab wasn't the only one in a terrible state.

Amidst the rubble that had collapsed due to the shockwave, the gray-haired loli struggled to climb out. Then, she quickly dug out another crippled golden-haired youth from under the rubble.

Ichiro and all the crew members of a reconnaissance ship on the sea were dumbstruck. Madam Louise, who was doing her best to maintain her elegance and fix her messy hair, patted her chest proudly.

"Hu! Fortunately, I reacted.

Louise hadn't even finished sighing.

Her eyes suddenly widened.

The little girl who had left through the teleportation circle had actually teleported back. Vivian looked down and saw that the Demon King Crab was still alive.

Plum blossoms twice.

The light of the teleportation circle lit up under Vivian's feet.

Wait!

That kind of powerful cannon could only be the Annihilation Star, but the Annihilation Star could not be fired continuously. It had to be cooled down. You... What is the meaning of this? Again?

Ms. Louise's question was answered in the simplest of six words.

"Xiao Hei! Another shot!"

There was no problem with the little girl's voice.

But...

The white-haired loli who had just crawled out of the rubble: "Not good, doctor, she wants more!!"

On the reconnaissance ship, Ms. Louise with messy hair...

The Third Progenitor Vampire, who had persisted for 120 years, 4 months, and 21 days without swearing, finally offered her Day0 to the little girl on this day.

Boom!

Chapter 804 - 804: Breakthrough, Scumbag, and Smart Doll

Chapter 804: Breakthrough, Scumbag, and Smart Doll

[Ding, you have successfully killed Level 49 Fallen Abyss Leader–Devil King Crab]

[Ding! You have received 530,000 experience points, Thousand Islands Reputation Points +100]

[Ding, you have leveled up to Level 50. Your Life Contracted Beast, Little Black, has leveled up to Level 40 and entered the quasi-mature stage. Before making a breakthrough, it cannot level up again and cannot obtain any more experience points.]

[Ding, do you want to immediately break through for your Summoned Beast “Little Black”?]】

(Warning: Demons with higher bloodlines will have a higher risk of breaking through. Please be prepared before breaking through. If you fail, you may face damage to your bloodline, a drop in your grade, or even life-threatening danger. You will never be able to break through again.)

(Hint 1: Perhaps preparing some sturdy defensive items can significantly increase the success rate of breaking through.)

(Hint 2:???)

After operating the long and thick black cannon barrel.

After two rounds of cannon fire.

The little wolf cub felt extremely comfortable all over his body. Every cell in his body seemed to be happy. He couldn't help but stretch his limbs and rub his little claws. He wished he could do it a few more times.

Perhaps, this was the most simple and unadorned happiness of every male.

Unfortunately, there were only two Annihilation Stars in total. Now that the muzzles were all emitting hot smoke, they would not be able to fire again without cooling down for half a day.

Moreover, judging from the signal from Vivian and the system prompt, there was no need for a third shot.

Speaking of the system notification.

In a slightly selfish way, Vivian was able to reach level 50 so quickly because of the "Descent of the Fallen Abyss". There was no better place to level up than the endless creatures of the Fallen Abyss.

The little girl with the Player System could treat the Fallen Abyss as a large-scale event like the current players. As everyone knew, events were always the most efficient way to improve their strength. This was also one of the reasons why the wolf cubs supported and encouraged Vivian to stay in the Thousand Islands.

Of course, these dark thoughts should be left to the bad wolf cubs.

As Vivian reached level 50, the wolf cub, who shared the experience, also reached level 40. The reason for the difference of ten levels was that monsters needed more experience points than humans, and forbidden monsters needed twice as much.

Bloodline brought authority and power, but it also brought restrictions. When they first entered the Abyssal Sea, Orochi, who was also a forbidden demon and a "senior", had already warned the wolf cub that the forbidden path was not easy to walk.

It might not be obvious in the early stages, but the further one went, the more restrictions one would have. The "breakthrough" that the system had given him was probably the same.

Even though the little wolf cub still did not know the exact form and difficulty of this "breakthrough", from what he had learned from the Fire God Alice in the Flame Domain...

[There has never been a complete forbidden monster in this world.]

One could imagine that this "breakthrough" was most likely extremely risky. The further it went, the more likely it was to die, causing countless forbidden monsters to be stuck at the "complete body" stage.

Therefore, the little wolf cub did not hesitate to choose the "No" option.

Instantly, the comfortable feeling that he had initially felt throughout his body began to recede like the tide. His restless body also gradually calmed down.

This was the advantage of the player template.

If it was a normal forbidden monster, it probably wouldn't have the ability to "suppress" it. Even if it tried to suppress it, its power would still be forced to grow to a critical point by the forbidden bloodline, and then it would be forced to break through.

However, the wolf cub was different. As long as he wanted to, he could stay at level 40 for the rest of his life. All the increase in strength, which was also the experience points, would be automatically isolated by the system.

At first glance, not being able to level up and not being able to obtain experience points seemed to be a huge loss.

However, this was definitely a good thing.

This meant that he had unlimited time to prepare for the breakthrough until the success rate of the breakthrough was close to 100%.

And the first notification that came from the System, the only thing that could help him break through was...Defensive item? F * ck, could it be the classic method of being struck by lightning?

Hmm, then I'll have to find a powerful guy who specializes in defense.

The wolf cub decided to put the matter aside for the time being. There was no rush. The most important thing now was to meet up with Vivian and see how the situation was on the battlefield.

He was obviously thin... * Cough cough * Xin Yan, who had successfully slimmed down, called out to Little Sparrow to watch over the two Annihilation Planets. Then, a teleportation light flashed beneath the little wolf cubs' feet.

Weng!

After a flash of light, the first image presented in front of the little wolf cub was an island with a missing corner.

From afar, it looked like a round biscuit that had been bitten.

The place where he had "bitten" was undoubtedly the place where he had bombarded the Annihilation Star.

Yes, yes... Not bad, not bad!

He did not waste so much time and energy. This power was really something.

The wolf cub's eyes lit up with excitement and satisfaction. Vivian, the perpetrator, saw that her accomplice had finally arrived. She ran over and patted the wolf cub.

Whenever the little girl was nervous, she could only relax by stroking Little Black. As time passed, it became a habitual action.

Chapter 805 - 805: Breakthrough, Scumbag, and Smart Doll (2)

Chapter 805: Breakthrough, Scumbag, and Smart Doll (2)

As for the reason...

It was a tragic sight to see. Not a single blade of grass grew on the coast. The coast was charred black after the annihilation of the stars. The aftermath of the bombardment had destroyed several mountains in the distance, causing large areas of the mountains to collapse and not look like an island anymore...

Vivian held it in for a long time, and finally whispered into the wolf cub's ear, "Xiao Hei, do you think we... Would he be fined?"

The little wolf cub rolled his eyes at her in response.

Back then, when you shouted for me to fire the second cannon, your voice was so loud that you didn't even blink. You were so excited, but now that the cannon is over, you're scared after you come back to your senses?

Bah! Scumbag!

Liao Zixuan waved his paws and told Vivian that they were having sex at public expense. Not only did they not need compensation, but he was also prepared to ask for reimbursement from the three officials.

Seeing that Vivian was still a little embarrassed, the wolf cub pointed to the ground.

See, just wait and see everyone's reaction.

After the Demon King Crab was blasted into braised crabs, it also announced the end of the third wave of Fallen Abyss's descent. The Fallen Abyss creatures at the back began to retreat until they completely disappeared from sight.

The Thousand-island army, which had retreated outside the range of Planet Annihilation under Vivian's instructions, cheered and rushed forward again. Everyone wanted to see what the white light and the loud bang were.

The veteran players who had experienced the battle of the Dark Wave on Sakuragi Island had a vague guess in their hearts.

When the players finally returned to the main battlefield out of curiosity, they saw the huge cannon pit that had turned the "beach" into a "bay"...

"Oh my god, what is this?"

"It should be the Northern Cross. We saw a similar cannon on Sakuragi Island."

"No, I just confirmed it with my friend on Sakuragi Island. The Northern Cross is still parked on Sakuragi Island. It shouldn't be. Moreover, look at the power. It's several times stronger than the one at the tenth rank, right?"

"Yes, yes, yes. We clearly heard two cannon shots. Even if one of them was Northern Cross, what was the other?"

"I'm the daughter of the government and the socialite of the Fire Domain. As the Earth Pushing Lady, it's reasonable for Lady Vivian to know how to shoot, right?"

"The fox-faced witch, Vivian? Fox Face Cannon King Vivian!"

"What about the person who said that Vivian might not be able to deal with this turtle crab? Come on out, Vivian wants to treat you to braised crab meat!"

"May the world conquer the Wei Gate!"

A large number of players were discussing fervently. Then, they either stood beside the cannon pit or jumped into the pit to take photos with the braised crab.

Most of the native soldiers of the Third Court heaved a sigh of relief as they sat on the ground. They looked at the figure of the little girl in the air with admiration and a few more hints...She was afraid.

Indeed, anyone would be afraid of this.

If he made her angry, he would come to Deep Moon Island and do the same to her.

Hiss!

The soldiers of the Great Reclusion Ceremony shivered, and they were once again certain that they would never offend this young lady no matter who they offended in the future.

On the other side, when Vivian landed, she came to the Six Paths Robe who had also rushed back to the scene. The little girl apologized in embarrassment.

“Truth... I’m really sorry, Lord Luo Sha. I’ve underestimated the power of the cannon. Now, this island...”

In fact, the first shot had already shattered the Demon King Crab’s carapace defense. At this time, even the players could hack it to death. There was no need to fire a second shot. However, Vivian was a little intoxicated at that time. She asked Little Black to fire another shot. This was the biggest reason why the little girl was feeling guilty.

Luo Sha waved her hand.

“What kind of people do you think we are? It’s all thanks to your...Only with a secret weapon will we be able to end this wave of attacks. Don’t worry, the value of an island is far greater than a broken defense line.” Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Not to mention... Isn’t there still half of it left?” The Six Paths Luo Sha comforted the Dao of the Middle of the Middle

But soon, she wanted to say something, but she hesitated a few times. In the end, she sighed helplessly and said,

” However, if the next time you make such a big move under the circumstances, I hope you can still... It’s good to inform us in advance. This way, we can be better prepared and cooperate with your actions.”

” For example, this time, if someone disobeys the command and doesn’t retreat from the cannon’s range in time, I’m afraid...”

Vivian nodded like a chicken pecking at rice, but the wolf cub in her arms curled its lips.

Before firing the cannon, the little girl had deliberately used magic to transmit her voice. She had shouted a few serious warnings over the entire area and given them enough time to retreat. She had even scanned the area with area-of-effect magic to ensure that there were no accidental injuries before giving the order to fire.

Could it be that there were really people who were stubborn and did not listen to Vivian’s advice, and even used camouflage to avoid Vivian’s detection magic, just to stay in place and enjoy the show?

No way, no way.

The little wolf cub only had one attitude towards such a person who sought death.

He deserved it!

Meow!

“Doctor!”

White hair...Oh no, the gray-haired loli's heart-wrenching cries echoed in the cave.

Chapter 806 - 806: Breakthrough, Scumbag, and Smart Doll (3)

Chapter 806: Breakthrough, Scumbag, and Smart Doll (3)

Her doll-like tender face was now mostly covered by mud, revealing tearful eyes. Half of the tree branches and leaves were stuck in her dusty hair, and she could not be bothered to take them off.

Because the person on her lap was a seriously injured young man.

After the first shot, the white-haired loli had activated the highest power defensive barrier in advance and blocked 70% of the aftershock. It was just that the side product of the landslide, the falling gravel, was a little caught off guard and injured the doctor. In fact, their injuries were not serious.

However...

Just as she was feeling lucky, thanks to the doctor's wisdom and foresight...The second cannon is coming

Who would have thought...Who would have thought!

Once was not enough, he had to do it a second time!

The white-haired loli gritted her teeth.

At that time, she could only use the fastest speed to open a simple barrier and then use her body to block in front of the doctor. Unfortunately, they were still sent flying by the blast of the cannon.

After the world spun, he fell back to the ground, looking like this.

“Ahem...Cough cough...” It was hard to imagine that the golden-haired youth could still breathe after being injured to such an extent.

Even talking!

“This time...We were careless...* Cough cough * Sha Sha...The cannon earlier...

Data...Record it down, please.

“It’s recorded, Doctor. After analyzing and comparing it with the database, it can be tentatively determined to be the legendary prototype of the ‘Annihilation Star’ on the Northern Cross!”

“Then... Ahem, that’s good. These are all valuable research materials...He had to...Keep it well...” The doctor had a gratified expression on his face, but he was still spitting out blood.

Seeing this, the white-haired loli was about to cry.

She was specialized in combat and had no means of healing others. She could only watch as the doctor’s life force was rapidly disappearing.

“Sha Sha...After I left... You also retreat out of the thousand island, you also out of the Heading to Gui Li...Find Warden.

He will come to help you...”

“Don’t ever think about...Another person continued to collect data...You can’t be... The little girl realized...There were already two executive officers...

* Cough cough * They all died in her hands...You... He had to be careful...Protect yourself...”

The white-haired loli was already in tears when she saw the doctor’s dying words.

“Don’t worry, doctor. I, I will definitely hide myself well. But one day, I will make that little girl pay the price!”

As if he had heard the promise of the loli, the blond youth finally closed his eyes in relief and stopped breathing.

But two or three seconds later.

“Cough cough...Right, Sha Sha...Do you remember this prosthetic body...Also...
Destroy...

Don't leave any clues behind...”

He was like a worried old father, always wanting to remind him more. Unfortunately, this body still had its limits. After saying this, the golden-haired youth was completely dead.

After the white haired loli burned the doctor's body, she wiped her crying face and showed an expression of determination.

Although the doctor told her to hurry to Guili and meet up with the 'prisoner', but...

The white-haired loli was unwilling to give up. Even if she stopped collecting data, at least...He also wanted to integrate the legacy of the last executive officer in charge of the Thousand Islands Plan, the Apostle.

And the biggest legacy left behind by the Apostle.

The white-haired loli recalled the time when she saw the army of outlanders. She had already shown her extraordinary appearance. She also recalled what the doctor had taught her. They had to learn even in winter to control outlanders like Vivian.

Hence, he decided to do it.

The white-haired loli immediately accessed the database. Soon, a smug smile appeared on her tender face.

As expected!

There was still a group of foreigners who were still using the Eye of the Abyssal Abyss!

After the death of the " apostles ", these foreigners still did not give up, did not defect to the enemy, and did not succumb to the fox-faced witch's tyranny. Their loyalty was evident!

And these were the most precious legacies that the " Apostle " had left for her!

She really wants to listen to the doctor's words to give up the thousand island, but she wants to give up before, she wants to take this batch of foreign people's strength, and follow her to leave!

Why was it that only that little girl could borrow the power of a stranger, but she couldn't?

The white-haired loli made up her mind to study these precious foreigners who were loyal to the organization. She would use them as samples to replicate them so that she could build a large-scale foreign army like Vivian as soon as possible!

When the time came, they would have the strength of the outlanders. After they met up with the Warden, the Flame Domain and the Thousand Islands would have been defeated one after another. This time, the plan of the " God-killing Immortals " in Gui Li would not fail!

She clenched her fists tightly.

The white-haired loli hoped to prove to the doctor that even if the doctor was not by her side, she could still make a difference!

After all, she was...

Winter's Middle Three Chiefs Executive Officer-" Doll "!

Chapter 807 - 807: Mother-Daughter Conversation (1)

Chapter 807: Mother-Daughter Conversation (1)

Deep Moon Island.

On a reconnaissance ship.

Who am I? Where am I? What am I doing?

This was the question that Captain Ichiro was thinking about.

He remembered that when he was on a mission at the front line, he met a foreign witch on an isolated island. After he carried her onto the ship... For the sake of their safety, they were forced to abort their mission and return to the Moon Abyss Island.

Yes, that's right!

The confused crew members on the ship recalled what had happened just like Ichiro.

But now, when they looked around, they couldn't see Madam Louise.

That meant that the other party had safely disembarked and returned home, right?

Ichiro subconsciously found an answer that convinced him.

He shook his head, which was a little muddled, and quickly wanted to leave on the ship and head to the front line. He wondered how the third wave of battle was going.

However, before he could go out to sea, there was a cheer from the port. After asking around, he found out that the news from the front line had come. The Thousand Islands Army had won a great victory. The King Crab leader had been killed by Vivian's two cannons.

No, no, no. As expected of the fox-faced witch!

Ichiro let out a long sigh of relief. It was good that he had won. It seemed that he did not have to go back for the time being. Usually, after the current wave of the Fallen Abyss's descent ended, the next wave would come back three to four days later. This interval was the precious time for the frontline to return to the rear.

After the excitement, a slight sense of loneliness welled up in his heart. It was as if he had not been of any use. No...At the very least, he should save a foreigner.

Ichiro comforted himself in this way.

Speaking of which...

When did this small and elegant character carved on the bow of the ship appear?

[Sigh... I can't help it, I'm willing to lose.]

Sakuragi Island.

At the Sisre Aristocrat Residence.

Just from the name, it was obvious that this was an office building specially built for Liz. Although it only had three floors and was much simpler compared to the real castle of Liz's family in the Flame Domain, if it was placed in the desolate environment of Sakuragi Island, this three-story aristocratic building in the Flame Domain could be said to be the most eye-catching scenery.

Originally, Liz did not have such a plan at all. In the early stages of the construction of Sakuragi Island, it was a time when a large amount of manpower and material resources were needed. She even specially freed up a portion of the workers to build a mansion for herself. It was too extravagant. She was not someone who cared about ostentation.

But there was no other way.

The reason why it had become like this was all because of a certain wolf's forceful push.

Liz still remembered Bai's words at that time. She said that she was a foreigner from the Flame Field after all. If she wanted to work better on Sakuragi Island and make the foreigners of the Thousand Islands listen to her, she had to establish her prestige. Such a grand mansion was undoubtedly the fastest way to increase her status in the hearts of the foreigners.

Although Bai gave her a beautiful name and made it sound like it was all for work, so that she could work harder for Sakuragi Island, how could Liz not know that Bai was just trying to make her stay more comfortable? That was all.

After all, his original plan was to live in a tent.

However, from White's eyes, which showed that there was no room for discussion, Lissy could almost read White's meaning.

He doesn't like a silly girl, he's very selfish, others don't matter, but his people... He couldn't be wronged! You came all the way here, and in the end, you're staying in that lousy place. What a joke!

Therefore, in the end, she was stubborn and accepted the gift.

Although Liz didn't say anything, it would be a lie to say that she wasn't happy. Especially the feeling of being taken care of by such a domineering and unreasonable person, it made her feel like sucking blood again.

Previously, Liz had always felt that those women who read novels about domineering royalty were all idiots. However, after she became the female lead in one of those novels, Liz only felt...

How fragrant!

She finally understood why those novels were so popular among all classes, whether they were civilians or noble women.

Retracting her thoughts, Liz patted her face with both hands and prepared to dive back into the documents on the table.

Now, Sakuragi Island was divided into five major Urban area. The public security, land planning, resource distribution, facility layout, perimeter defense, and so on in each district constituted Liz's huge daily workload.

It was definitely hard work. Compared to Vivian and the others who were fighting the Fallen Abyss outside, Liz felt that what she had done was nothing. In order to not let herself feel guilty living in the comfortable mansion in the rear, the girl would only work harder.

However, just as she finished approving a few documents, Liz was interrupted again.

Outside the mansion, there were cheers of joy. Liz walked to the window and lifted a corner of the curtain to look down. On the simple street paved with stones, people were running around to tell each other, holding the latest announcement from Sanxing.

The third wave of defensive battle at the front line was a complete victory. There was even a picture attached to the notice. The fox-faced witch was floating high in the air, and in the deep pit under her feet was the blurry remains of the Demon King Crab that had been bombarded.

“Well done, Vivian!” The girl by the window waved her fist in encouragement.

At the same time, Liz’s mind was also rapidly thinking. Now that the news of victory had arrived, everyone on the island was in high spirits. She could not waste such a great opportunity. She had to think of a way to turn everyone’s excitement into work efficiency...

Chapter 808 - 808: Mother-Daughter Conversation (1)

Chapter 808: Mother-Daughter Conversation (1)

Just as the young girl was still pondering by the window.

Suddenly.

In her private office on the top floor of the mansion, a second voice came from behind Liz.

It was the voice of a mature woman.

“It seems that you have indeed made a lot of good friends.”

The moment the voice sounded, Liz, who was by the window, suddenly turned around. Her green eyes turned red in an instant.

Then, what appeared in the girl's vision.

He was also the owner of the voice that had suddenly sounded behind him.

It was a person who was leaning against the door of the room... A young noble woman?

Let's not talk about the other things things

Just from the clothes on the other party's body, Liz's pupils suddenly constricted nervously.

That was because...

Liz was very sure that the clothes were hers. She had found someone in the Flame Domain to specially order them. As for this set of clothes, it should have been quietly in the closet in her bedroom. She had personally hung it up yesterday.

Due to the limited space in the mansion, Liz's bedroom and office were combined into one, which was equivalent to being under the same roof, only separated by a door.

Since she woke up today, she had been working in her room and had never gone out, so this meant...

The other party had changed into her clothes easily under her eyes, and she, who was just outside the bedroom, did not notice at all.

This was almost a naked proof that the other party's strength far exceeded hers.

However, before Liz could get nervous...

The girl was stunned.

When she shifted her attention away from the noble lady's clothes and turned to look at the other party's face.

Liz, Liz's mind suddenly went blank.

It was as if he had been struck by lightning.

Thump thump!

Her high heels clattered on the floor in a panic, making a crisp sound. The girl subconsciously took two steps back. When she wanted to take a third step back, her back was already pressed against the cold wall.

"That's impossible... You... You are..." Liz, who was in a mess, stared at the noblewoman opposite her.

She stared at the other party's pair of red eyes that were exactly the same as hers at this moment. They symbolized the Blood Race.

The noblewoman looked back at the young girl with a smile and did not say anything.

After a long while, she seemed to have recovered from her shock. She took a deep breath and her heaving chest slowly stabilized. The young girl closed her eyes and recalled the first time she had awakened the sleeping Blood Clan bloodline in her body by drinking White's forbidden blood. She had once seen the mysterious woman's blood shadow in the portrait in the deepest corner of her bloodline.

When Liz opened her eyes again, the portrait overlapped with reality, allowing Liz to finally confirm the identity of the noblewoman by the door.

Without a doubt, that was her...

Mother.

On the other side, Liz's final expression had already explained everything. Madam Louise, who was leaning against the door, also patted her chest in relief.

"Hu! Fortunately, you recognized me. Otherwise, I would still be worried about how to introduce myself to you."

"Louise Dracula, for the time being... Hmm, the third ancestor of the Blood Tribe, right? This young and beautiful lady opposite me, can you tell me your name?"

"... Liszt Hisser." The young girl clenched her teeth tightly. The last three words represented the family name.

However, Louise didn't mind. Instead, she shook her head and sighed."

"Although I know that I'm not a competent mother, it feels terrible to ask my biological daughter's name in front of her..."

"So, is your father alright?"

It was obvious that Louise was trying to find some common topics, but unfortunately...

Louise received the cold gaze of the girl opposite her.

"He's already dead. After he was abandoned by the person he loved the most, Fallen Abyss took advantage of the situation and corrupted his mind. The youngest earl, who had a bright future, became Fallen Abyss's minion. He also became a puppet of the other party's organization under someone else's scheme."

"In the end, the Earl who had completely fallen into madness...Killed by his daughter."

The room fell silent after Lissy spoke.

After a long time, Louise spoke again.

"Is that so..."

"It sounds like a sad story, but fortunately, I should say... Could there be a fortunate ending amidst misfortune? To die at the hands of his own daughter, I believe that this is what the Count in the story wanted the most, right?"

As soon as the woman finished speaking, a blood-red chain flew towards Louise.

Liz had warned herself countless times in her heart that the other party was much stronger than her. She had to be calm, calm, and not be impulsive.

However...

When the young girl saw that Louise was able to remain calm after she had said those words, she even called this outcome a blessing?

In the end, Liz couldn't hold it in.

The power that she had been suppressing all this time erupted at this moment. The blood-red chains condensed from her blood were aimed at Louise's vital points. Liz showed no mercy at all, and she didn't need it at all. She didn't hide her naked killing intent at all, condensing it into this furious attack.

Then, as expected.

The noblewoman didn't even raise her hand. The blood chain that was flying like an arrow came to an abrupt stop when it was only a finger away from Louise's face.

Chapter 809 - 809: Mother-Daughter Conversation (Part 1)

Chapter 809: Mother-Daughter Conversation (Part 1)

Then, no matter how much Lissy gritted her teeth and urged it, the blood chain remained motionless, unable to advance any further.

“Yes... Although the moves were simple, it wasn’t your fault. After all, you hadn’t learned anything yet. Instead, it was better to say that you could condense such a high-quality Blood Chain without knowing anything. Tsk tsk, was this the potential of using the taboo blood as the awakening blood?”

Louise viewed the blood chain hovering in front of her as if she was looking at a piece of art that was going to be taken to the competition.

As her slender fingers caressed the surface of the blood chain, the blood chain weapon that belonged to Liz began to tremble.

It was as if he wanted to break free from Liz’s control and submit to Louise.

However, how could the girl give up? She focused her mind and used all her willpower to fight for control of the blood chain with Louise, even though...The other party had only placed his finger on it and lightly swiped it a few times.

“Not bad, you can persist for so long. It seems that you have trained your control.”

Louise nodded in admiration. She no longer used her fingertips but her entire palm to grab Liz’s blood chain.

This was the last straw that broke the camel’s back.

Plop!

Liz could not hold on any longer. She did not even have the strength to resist. Louise had taken control of her blood chain. Even she herself was a little exhausted from concentrating for a long time and almost fell.

When she came back to her senses, the girl realized that her forehead and back were already soaked in sweat.

But...

The corners of Liz’s mouth still curled up reluctantly.

That was because...

“Eh?”

Louise looked at the blood chain in her hand. It began to collapse and self-destruct until it completely disappeared. Finally, she revealed a surprised expression.

“So... You can’t do anything about the taboo power.” Liz leaned against the wall and slowly stood up, her eyes staring fearlessly at the noblewoman opposite her.

The girl’s blood chains looked no different from ordinary ones, but in reality, as someone who had absorbed the forbidden blood of a certain wolf, each of her moves naturally contained some forbidden power. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Therefore, in the confrontation just now, it was true that Liz had lost in terms of control over “fresh blood” on the surface, and she had lost miserably. However, as the blood chain was about to change owners, it stimulated the taboo power inside. Even the old woman who claimed to be an “ancestor” couldn’t stop it from collapsing.

This was why Liz was laughing.

At least she knew that the other party was not invincible, and her revenge was not far away.

Louise, on the other hand, laughed after hearing the explanation. She spread her hands helplessly. “This is a power that even the Nine Gods can’t understand, let alone me.”

“However, I really did not expect that the concentration of the forbidden blood in your body would be so high...No, it should be that other than that forbidden monster, you haven’t taken any other blood, right?”

Even though Liz snorted coldly and turned her head away without answering, Louise followed her deduction and became excited as if she had discovered a new continent.

“Then it seems that I was wrong. I thought that it was only a one-night friendship between the two of you, but now it seems that your relationship is not ordinary!”

“Aiya, when we get home later, Liz, you have to be careful. Don’t let your second sister know about this. Otherwise, she’ll probably be so envious of you, hehe...”

Louise didn’t look like a mother at all. She was looking forward to it like a fun person.

The young girl across from her frowned at this sentence. It wasn’t because of the second sister, but because of the first sentence of the noblewoman.

“To... Home?”

“That’s right. Actually, the main reason why I came to the Thousand Islands this time is to bring Owl, this silly child, back to Green Maple. But since you’re also here, then it’s just right. Let’s go home together, hmm, what do you say? Liz.”

Chapter 810 - 810: Mother and Daughter’s Conversation (Part 2)

Chapter 810: Mother and Daughter’s Conversation (Part 2)

After the noblewoman spoke, the young girl did not say anything. She just looked coldly at Louise.

The meaning that Liz expressed was very clear.

Home?

That’s your home, not hers.

Why didn’t you think of the word ‘home’ when you abandoned us? Now that he had awakened his bloodline with a miraculous possibility, he had jumped out to acknowledge her as his daughter and his ” family “?

The girl cast a disgusted look at Louise.

If this wasn’t her room, Lissy would really want to spit on the ground. Even if it was disgraceful, only this most primitive action could vent the anger in her heart.

Bah!

Disgusting!

Don’t even think about it!

On the other hand, Louise was in a good mood. From the beginning when Liz emphasized her surname, then when she took the initiative to attack her, to now when she did not hide her hatred, she was not angry.

It was hard to believe that this was a Progenitor Vampire.

According to normal logic, Louise was in the wrong. No matter what Liz did, she should not even have the right to be angry, let alone be angry.

But in reality.

If Louise's other children were present, including Owl, they would only think that Lissy had gone crazy. It was this youngest sister who was challenging her mother's bottom line.

This home that Liz looked down on was the dream of many people in Green Maple, and even the entire continent. They would fight to get in, even if it was as a lowly servant.

There was only one reason. The mistress of this "home", the third Progenitor Vampire, Louise Dracula, was an absolute powerhouse known as a "demigod."

The so-called Demigods were just below the Nine Gods. They were the top few on the continent, and their number could be counted on one hand.

For an existence that had risen to this level, logic? Their very existence was the reason.

But on the other hand.

Perhaps it was because everything was too easy for them to obtain, so they felt that those things that even they could not obtain were precious.

For example, the 'Pang Gang' Kinship?

This might explain why Louise was acting like this. She did not seem to have the airs of a powerhouse at all. She only rubbed her temples as if she had a headache and sighed at the same time.

"Although I've already mentally prepared myself for this, but... Sigh, it seems to be much worse than the worst situation I imagined. This is a little difficult..."

"If you want to find me, I'll find you. For this matter, can you get out? I have to work now." Liz said expressionlessly.

She used her actions to prove her words. After walking back to the desk from the wall beside the window and sitting down, the girl ignored Louise who was at the door and continued to write.

However, the noblewoman did not leave. Instead, she began to size up the room.

"Speaking of which, when I first arrived at Sakuragi Island, I was a little worried about how to find you on such a big island. Thanks to this mansion, it really helped me a lot and saved me a lot of effort."

"Let me guess. From the interaction just now, Liz, you shouldn't be such a flamboyant person. As for the other little girl on this island who has more say, with her personality, I don't think she would even think of this. In that case, this magnificent mansion could only be built by one person."

"Yes... I see. No wonder you don't want to leave. If I could be pampered by such a man, I wouldn't leave either."

Louise seemed to be deliberately provoking him. After walking around the room as if she was looking around, she came to the desk where Liz was.

"However, Liz, have you ever thought that you... Are you worthy of others 'love?'"

Seeing that the young girl seemed to be fully immersed in the work at hand and was not listening to her at all, Louise did not mind at all and continued to talk to herself in front of Liz's table.

"Indeed, you are smart, beautiful, and have outstanding talent in governing the territory. This is where your value lies. However, this value is based on the difference in strength between the two of you."

"Once the gap in your strength becomes greater and greater..." Your horizons, knowledge, and judgment will be greatly different. The difference means that there will be differences, and differences will breed contradictions. Every contradiction will create a crack between you. As time passes, the crack will become bigger and bigger. In the end... Kacha."

"Trust me, Liz. I've seen too many examples of this."

Sha, sha, sha...

Lissy didn't lift the tip of her pen, nor did the speed of her movement change. She continued to be expressionless.

However, Louise's lips curled up slightly. After all, it was not easy to maintain the same writing speed when writing, right?

"Okay, okay. Let's assume that you two miraculously managed to get along and continue to have a good relationship. A cruise ship is willing to accompany a small wooden boat on a voyage, but life can't be smooth sailing, right? At least there have to be some waves. However, the waves for a cruise ship may be destructive waves for a small wooden boat like yours."

"For example, if I were the enemy of your forbidden monster, you wouldn't be able to resist me if I wanted to do anything to you by force. You could only be held hostage by me...Ah, of course, I've always hated this kind of drama, so don't worry, Lissy. I never take the initiative to force others."