

I Help A NPC Become The Legendary Witch

Chapter 851 - 851: Eternal Night Tea Party (3)

Chapter 851: Eternal Night Tea Party (3)

Err...

After the NPC Black, who claimed to be the person in charge of this space, announced the start of the tea party, the players at the long table still looked at each other.

After the NPC Black finished explaining the rules, it seemed like he really did not interfere anymore, nor did he take the initiative to communicate with the players.

The scene fell into an awkward silence.

However, very quickly, "My Soul" from Green Maple, who had the most carefree personality, was the first to speak, breaking the stiff atmosphere. Moreover, the moment he opened his mouth, his words were quite shocking.

"Hey, Little Blackie...Ahem, Little Feather, I asked you to help me get some props that possess Vivian's aura. Have you made any progress? I'm in a hurry! I'm waiting to use it!"

After Soul Treasure finished speaking, the corners of the Ka guild leader Hei Yu's mouth twitched. He was cursing crazily in his heart. It was fine if he had changed his nickname, but how could he say such words in front of everyone! And it was at Vivian's tea party!

However, he had no choice. After all, he could not afford to offend the rich woman opposite him.

Hei Yu first secretly observed the NPC at the main seat. Seeing that "Black" seemed to be the same as before, ignoring the players, he heaved a sigh of relief. Then, he hurriedly waved his hand and said,

"I'm sorry, Sister Hun. The thing you want...Uh, it's a little difficult to get. If you really can't help it...Why don't I go to Taobao and buy some random stuff...Just make do with it first?"

"Huh? I want these things for the sake of creating a new legendary travel record card about the "fox-faced witch". Only by deducing the character on the card and the history behind it can I get the clues to create it. What are you talking about?"

The body of the soul treasure that was originally stuck to the high-back chair immediately sat up straight. It angrily glared at Hei Yu.

“Uh...”

Hei Yu was a little speechless for a moment. Fortunately, at this moment, the voice of another player at the scene saved Hei Yu in time.

“Sister, do you have any other requests? For example, what kind of things must it be?”

The person who spoke was an old acquaintance from the Flame Domain, the Stellar Tower’s president Luo Chen. Hun Bao shook his head and said,

“No, as long as it has Vivian’s scent on it. If you have to say... Of course, the closer it was to the body, the better it would be. This way, when I performed the ritual, the success rate of creating the corresponding card would be higher.”

“Yes... I understand. I can help you. A few of my friends and I are closed beta players. We were the first to come into contact with Vivian, so we still kept some of the items that Vivian gave us during the Flame Domain period. We’ve always wanted to keep them as mementos, but we didn’t use them, so we kept them in our backpacks.”

Luo Chen’s words made Soul Treasure’s eyes light up. She couldn’t help but say excitedly, “Really? That was great! How many of you are going to buy?”

However, Luo Chen chuckled.

“It’s fine. These low-level props from the closed beta are not worth much to us now. Just treat it as a greeting gift for us to make friends.”

“No, no, no, that won’t do. I never take other people’s things for free.” My soul shook his head.

Seeing that the soul treasure insisted, Luo Chen thought for a moment and finally said, “Actually, I recently obtained a very rare fire skill book. However, when I was upgrading the skill level, I had gathered all the other materials, but I still haven’t had any leads on the material ‘High Elf Feather’. Since Sister Soul is in Green Maple, the Kingdom of Wind, she should be more well-informed than us. When the time comes, help me pay attention to the information on this material. I’ll be very grateful.”

“... High Elf Feather? No problem, leave it to me, Ah Chen! “Let’s not talk about anything else. In terms of NPC races, our Green Maple City definitely has the most. I remember that in our Green Maple City’s largest Autumn Leaf Library, the administrator seems to be an elven NPC. I’ll help you ask when the time comes. It shouldn’t be a problem!”

“There really is? Thank you so much, Sister Soul. I’ll be waiting for your news!”

Luo Chen was just trying his luck, so he said it casually. In the end, he didn’t expect to really get a clue from the soul treasure. He was immediately surprised and pleasantly surprised.

Because in the Eternal Night Tea Party, many system functions were disabled, the two agreed to add each other as friends after they left. However, Luo Chen had promised to give the Soul Treasure an item, so they could use the blank travel record card to trade in the space.

The two of them, who were satisfied with each other’s needs, seemed to have made a good start for the tea party.

The White Phantom, who had been quietly observing the entire process without saying anything, finally felt a little restless when it saw this scene.

“That... I would like to ask everyone, do you have any information about the [Confinement]?” White Phantom couldn’t help but ask.

“Confinement?”

His speech immediately attracted everyone’s attention, but most of them were at a loss.

White Phantom immediately explained, “Yes, this is a Winter organization, and it’s also the main storyline of our Winter storyline. They seem to have been secretly conducting some experiments all over the world. I’m one of them who defected. My current mission is to destroy this organization, so if anyone has any relevant information, I’m willing to...”

The tea is over, the white ghost is over, the words are still not finished, the tea is over, the sound is over, the “f * ck” is interrupted.

Everyone, including White Phantom, looked in the direction of the voice and realized that the person who was looking excited was the president of Ka, Hei Yu.

Chapter 852: The Eternal Night Tea Gathering (2)

“Brother Bai, let me confirm with you again. The organization you mentioned is called the Confinement? Forbidden? Sealed?”

“Yes, it’s true.”

“What a coincidence. Our KO was just recruited by an executive officer of the ‘Confinement’ the day before yesterday!” Hei Yu was so happy that he slapped his thigh without caring about his image.

Err... This was...

White Phantom looked at the excited Black Feathers and did not know what to say. Suddenly, he regretted asking. Wasn’t this equivalent to opposing their factions? Moreover, it was a super guild like Ka. The remaining players in the tea party also had awkward expressions on their faces.

However, Liao Zixuan, who had been sitting in the main seat and listening to the players below, finally showed some expression. His eyes narrowed slightly.

Seemingly realizing that the atmosphere was not right, Hei Yu finally reacted. He slapped his forehead and hurriedly explained,

” Brother Bai, you’ve misunderstood me. We, Ka, have indeed joined the ‘Confinement Beers’, but it’s not the kind of joining you think. We... Actually, he went in as a mole!”

Hei Yu hesitated for a moment when he said the truth. After all, this was a big move that involved the development of Ka.

However, firstly, the four players here were not strangers. Secondly, they were the ones that Hei Yu was most assured about. It was also because of the tea party rules that the NPC “Black” had mentioned previously.

Everyone had to communicate honestly here, and at least at this stage, the contents of the tea party could not be leaked, or they would be blacklisted by Vivian.

With this double insurance, Black Feathers decided to happily share the secret of how they were deceived by the ” Apostle ” and then awakened by Vivian. Finally, they were saved by the gentleness of the little girl and decided to betray and follow Vivian.

As soon as he said that, the ones who had the biggest reaction were Luo Chen and White Phantom.

Because he was a reinforcement sent by the Flame Domain to the Thousand Islands, he knew a little about the reputation of Ka in the Thousand Islands. Through the quest of ” Creating Annihilation Stars “, he knew that Ka was not as simple as it seemed. It was only until today’s tea party that he finally understood that Ka was playing such a big game. All the Thousand Islands players had been deceived by them.

As for White Phantom, he was stunned for a moment before a look of surprise appeared on his face. However, it quickly turned into hesitation."President Hei Yu, as far as I know, the 'Confinement' organization has very strict requirements for its members."

" There are players who joined the Confinement Camp in Winter, but they were all given a 'brainwashing' buff. As long as it's something that harms the Confinement Camp's interests, the system will forcefully stop it. Some of them are even worse off, they can't even accept missions issued by organizations. You...Isn't that the case?"

White Phantom's words had broadened Hei Yu's horizons. Liao Zixuan, who was listening, was also secretly surprised.

If the people from Ka were also brainwashed, then the effect of the spy he had planted would be greatly reduced.

But fortunately.

" The previous executive called 'Apostle' did give us a similar buff. However, the new executive seems to trust us very much, perhaps because he saw that we haven't betrayed him. He didn't say anything else."

"Is that so..." The White Phantom nodded thoughtfully.

Then, he helped Liao Zixuan ask the question that he was more concerned about.

"President Hei Yu, can you tell me the name of the executive officer who contacted you?"

He was here.

Liao Zixuan kept his spirits up and obtained information from the players 'conversations. This was one of his original intentions in establishing the Eternal Night Tea Party.

Although he had the " game forum " as a channel, he could indeed obtain some general information through forum posts. However, the more valuable and detailed insider information, like what the president of Ka was talking about, would not appear on the forum at all. " We've only been in contact with her for a short time. We only know that her executive code name is 'Doll', and her level is the same as the ' Apostle 'back then. They are both in the ' Middle Three Chiefs 'class. She looks like a white-haired little girl, but when she fights, she will immediately turn into a huge scary doll. Her style should be more like a warrior class."

Hei Yu described in detail the scene when he first saw the 'doll' to the White Phantom. The White Phantom listened very carefully and seemed to be familiar with the codename 'doll'.

"Wait, I remember! Doll...Yes, it's the " doll ". I've seen it in the organization's internal information. She should be the confidant of the " doctor ", responsible for protecting the doctor..."

Halfway through her sentence, White Phantom remembered that the others probably did not know about the 'professor'. Hence, she explained to Hei Yu,"That 'doctor' is also one of the Executors of the Confinement, and he is one of the top three Chiefs."

Soon, the White Phantom began to mutter to itself with a frown.

"That's strange...How did she appear in Thousand Islands? Did the doctor go to Thousand Islands too? Hiss... President Black Feather, have you seen a blond man next to the [Doll]?"

Under White Phantom's hurried questioning, Hei Yu shook his head.

Chapter 853: Eternal Night Tea Party (3)

" No, she's alone. But Brother Bai, you're wrong. This 'doll' doesn't seem to be moving around the Thousand Islands. She's only here to recruit the remnants of us 'apostles'. She's already taken us away from the Thousand Islands by boat."

Hmm?

Leave the Thousand Islands by boat?

Not only did the White Phantom become even more interested and curious, but even Liao Zixuan, who heard this, also felt a little discontented in his heart. Good heavens, they were just about to leave the Thousand Islands, and you Confinement Beings also left, right?

They couldn't continue to crash into each other, and their destination would always be Guili, right?

It was a pity.

“Leave the Thousand Islands? Are you going back to Winter?”

“Gui Li?”

“Guili?”

Two players cried out in surprise, one after the other. There was also a tea party manager who was cursing in his heart.

Looking for trouble, huh? Do you Confinement Beings like looking for trouble? You just like to run into the muzzle of a gun, right?

Liao Zixuan was furious.

The two players on top, other than White Phantom, were the last of the five members of the Eternal Night Tea Party. They were the guild leader of the Cutting Moon Guild from Gui Li, Waning Moon.

Waning Moon was originally eating well, but in the end, he suddenly had to eat it. How could he not be surprised?

” We don’t know exactly what we’re going to do in Gui Li, but the ‘Doll’ once said that our general direction should be to assist an executive called the ‘Warden’ who has long been in Gui Li.”

After Hei Yu explained further, he turned his head to look at the waning moon.

“Brother Mooncrescent, you were born in Guili. Have you heard of this executive officer?”

“No, but when the time comes, I can help you ask our sect master. She’s very powerful and knows everything.”

“Sect Master?” Hei Yu was about to arrive at Gui Li, so he wanted to know more about it as soon as possible.

In the end, Waning Moon sighed and revealed a bitter expression.

“Sigh, don’t mention it. It’s just that I went to do the mission on Planet Annihilation last time and met a crazy immortal. Her strength and background seem to be quite big, but her brain is a little... Anyway, when you come to Guili, just ask about Divine Firmament Sect.”

Divine Firmament Sect's name is in the Great Wall.

Hei Yu and Liao Zi Xuan secretly remembered this name in their hearts.

Liao Zixuan also recalled that there was a letter saying that Senior Sister Vivian had come. He wanted the little girl to return to the sect as soon as possible after she was done with the matters at the Thousand Islands? At that time, he had burned it as a scam. Now, it seemed that he had been a little careless.

From the beginning, when everyone was still familiar with the tea party, it was a little awkward at the beginning, but now it had become a heated discussion and exchange of information.

There was no doubt that the effect of the first Eternal Night Tea Party was far beyond Liao Zixuan's original expectations.

Unfortunately, Liao Zixuan was willing to listen even if the players wanted to communicate more. However, the time that the card could maintain the space was limited. With Meow's current power, the tea party would only last for half an hour at most before the curtain call.

Liao Zixuan, who had been silent all this while, stood up again as the guide, ready to chase them away.

Although the players were reluctant to part, they would not violate the NPC's rules.

However...

"Lord Hei, may I ask when the next Eternal Night Tea Party will be held? How can we enter again?" Before leaving, the White Phantom asked the mysterious Guide first.

This was also what the other three guild leaders wanted to ask. They had already tasted the sweetness of the tea party and discovered the huge potential of the tea party.

Indeed, with the tea party leading the way, they could become friends with each other. After they went out, whether in reality or in the game, they could directly form their own Group chats. At first glance, it seemed that there was no need for a tea party.

This was actually what the more straightforward "My Soul" thought.

But in reality, the guild leaders of the three Super Guilds and the White Phantom who single-handedly established the rebel army, White Star, had long realized the irreplaceable value of the Tea Party.

Absolute trust.

In other words, the exchange of information and the trading of items here were supervised by NPCs. They no longer had to doubt each other's authenticity. This was even more precious to the higher-ups.

After all, even in the game, cheating and deception were not much less than in reality. It was precisely because of this that the preciousness of "trust" was even more evident.

The Eternal Night Tea Party was undoubtedly a place where they could negotiate without worry.

For example, White Phantom's mission was to destroy the [Confinement] organization. It did not have to be Winter's. As long as he participated in the destruction of the organization's activities in other places, he would also be rewarded. Therefore, White Phantom had the intention to support the Ka guild with some powerful tools.

However, the premise was that it had to be carried out during the Yongye Tea Party. Although White Phantom knew that the dignified Ka would not swallow the props and not do anything, but...What if? This was a chain of suspicion, and the Eternal Night Tea Party was the best place to eliminate such concerns.

Moreover, Black, the person in charge of the tea party, had also emphasized that there would definitely be new members in the Yongye Tea Party in the future. Judging from the quality of the current members, those who could enter would definitely be big shots.

Such a safe, hidden, and advanced social circle...

Everyone wanted to do their best to show their faces and make themselves known in front of the NPCs so that they could maintain their position as a member.

Under the players' expectant gazes.

"The next tea party will be held in a week. The specific time will be one day earlier and will appear on your invitation cards. As for the way to enter, it's very simple."

"The way to enter and leave is the same. You only need to pray to the invitation and recite two words."

Then, under Liao Zixuan's signal, the five players stood up from their high-back chairs and surrounded the long dark red table.

The starry sky above their heads shone with silver light. Everyone clasped their hands in front of their chests.

Under Liao Zixuan's guidance, he recited the slogan that he had imitated from a certain Bible for Vivian on a whim.

“Vimon.”

“... Vimon!”

Chapter 854 - 854: Fire-chasing Moth (1)

Chapter 854: Fire-chasing Moth (1)

Flame Domain.

Cauldron Secluded Mountain.

This was a special noble’s cemetery. Gray-white tombstones were erected in the mountains. The size of the tombstones and the words engraved on them recorded their glorious deeds in their lives. The neatly arranged steps went down from top to bottom, symbolizing their nobility when they were alive.

However, there was not much cemetery culture in the Flame Domain’s tradition. Therefore, it could be seen that most of the tombstones, no matter how grand and grand the funeral was, and no matter how dignified the tombstones were, as time passed, the corners of many tombstones had long been worn away, and the words on the tombstones had become blurry.

Some of the better tombstones had traces of being cleaned up, but two-thirds of the tombstones were covered by vines and moss. They could only wait for the elderly tomb keeper to remember when he would kindly come over with his walking stick to fix them.

Most of the time, the quiet cemetery should have been deserted. Today, it welcomed a noble woman with an extraordinary temperament.

The old tomb keeper at the door only took a glance at the noblewoman before quickly shrinking his head back. He did not question her and allowed her to enter the cemetery. After all, he was just doing an idle job here. People like her who could tell from their clothes that they were from a rich family were basically allowed to enter by default.

Louise arrived at the highest level of the cemetery without any obstruction. The higher she went, the fewer tombstones there were. Finally, the lady stopped in front of a very eye-catching tombstone.

The eye-catching feature here was not because of the luxurious decorations on the tombstones, but because compared to the " weathered " tombstones along the way, this one was still clean and tidy.

It was obvious that she had been cleaned and cared for regularly.

The only tomb that could be located on the top floor was the Earl's tomb, and from the crest of the " Sisre " family engraved on the tombstone, it already indicated the owner of this tombstone.

The noblewoman stared at the earl's tombstone with her usual expression, but the absent-mindedness in the depths of her eyes still revealed some of her inner thoughts.

After a long time.

Louise didn't say anything else. She just sighed and bent down to place a beautiful blood-red flower beside the tombstone.

After doing all this, Louise was not in a hurry to leave. Instead, she turned to look at a big tree beside the tombstone.

There, a woman in a bishop's robe was leaning against the shade of a tree.

" The Paramita Rose is a legendary flower that can connect life and death and rest in peace. It can only be nourished by the precious blood essence of the Blood Kindred's Princes and above. Coupled with the secret cultivation method of the Druids, it will take decades to hundreds of years to bloom."

The female bishop seemed to be talking to herself as she stood up and left the shade of the tree. She walked to the side of the count's tombstone.

After she squatted down, she looked at the blood-red flower that Louise had just placed on top of it and sighed as if she was admiring a rare item.

"From the number and color of the petals, this Nirvana Rose is probably hundreds of years old, right?"

"And...After the Forest God died, the Sun Well dried up, and the Druid's wisdom was lost. This led to many precious and rare plants that could no longer be cultivated. They became extinct and became history."

After saying this, the female bishop...Fire God Alice finally stood up again and shifted her gaze from the blood-colored flower in front of the tombstone to the noblewoman opposite her.

"Is it really good to use the last Nirvana Rose in this world here...Louise?"

Heh.

The noblewoman chuckled after Alice's words.

"If Lord Fire God had come forward to stop this absurd love, perhaps he could have preserved a Nirvana Rose for this world."

"But unfortunately...You didn't."

"So, compared to the Fire God, who can give up a loyal believer with great potential, it's nothing for me to give away a little flower that's useless except for a slightly nice name. Don't you think so, Alice?"

At the foot of the mountain, the old gravekeeper suddenly felt that the weather had become much hotter. Even the breeze that should have been refreshing in the mountains and forests had become a little hot. Soon, it had even evolved into a heat wave that blew on his body, causing a faint burning sensation.

This frightened the old tomb keeper. Just as he was panicking, the heat wave came and went quickly. After a while, the temperature in the cemetery returned to normal, and the breeze was no longer hot. The old man heaved a sigh of relief and continued to lie back on the chair to take a nap.

"As expected, the Water God's Chains are actually...It's useless now, right?" Louise sighed when she saw Vulcan trying to retract his power.

It was easier for her emotions to fluctuate and her aura to leak out uncontrollably. This was even when she was wearing the Water God's Chain, which had the effect of calming her heart and concentrating her mind. All signs indicated that the corruption of the Fallen Abyss on Alice's body had reached a high level.

"I have long expected this. After all...If my sister's power could really resist the Fallen Abyss, then the Thunder God wouldn't have gone half-crazy, the Twin Gods wouldn't have turned against each other, and the Nature God wouldn't have sacrificed herself to create the Forest of Dreams to completely separate the two continents."

Chapter 855 - 855: Fire-chasing Moth (2)

Chapter 855: Fire-chasing Moth (2)

Alice shook her head.

She was like a young girl with an incurable disease, trying to accept her fate by recalling her past.

Louise opened her mouth, wanting to say something, but hesitated.

Alice seemed to have read the question in the lady's mind, and a rare relaxed smile appeared on Fire God's face.

"Since I know that the Water God's Chains won't work, why did I send that little girl and her little wolf to the Thousand Islands?"

"But I think you should know the answer after meeting them."

Facing Alice's smug and proud eyes, she was like an old mother showing off her child at a parent-teacher conference.

Although Louise was a little unhappy, she had no choice but to nod and admit it.

"That young lady does have some of my style back then. On this account...So I stopped them from coming back to see you and led them to the Rock God."

"Oh, oh, oh, oh, oh, oh, oh!" Alice patted her chest in relief.

She smiled and praised, "Louise, can't you also do a good deed?" I was still worrying about this problem. With that cold and aloof sister of mine, she definitely won't take the initiative to appear. If they return to the Flame Region and can't see their god, with those little fellows 'personalities, I'm afraid they will be anxious to death. At that time, it will be troublesome..."

"Wait, Alice, although you're indeed infected by the Fallen Abyss, it's not to the extent that you can't see anyone, right? You... [Hmm?] What's with your divinity?"

Normally, no one would be stupid enough to probe a god. However, Louise sensed that something was wrong from Vulcan's words.

Therefore, when she tried to sense the Fire God's state, the expression on the noblewoman's face could only be described as shock.

Gods were divided into Godhood, Divinity, and Heart of God.

The Heart of God was the vessel of power, divinity was the vessel of the soul, and godhood was the symbol of authority.

But at this moment, Louise could sense that the position of the God's Heart was empty. This kind of operation was not elegant for those gods who had lived long enough, but for a god like the God of Fire, who was considered "very young," it was still very harmful.

However, what really made Louise's expression change was that she could not even feel Louise's "divinity" anymore. To a god, this was even more fatal than losing her "divinity."

This was because losing the divine persona meant only losing the title of "Fire God," but the dissipation of divinity meant the extinction of the consciousness of "Alice."

However, Vulcan did not answer Louise's anxious question.

Instead, she looked into the distance and asked the noblewoman.

"Louise, do you know about creatures like moths?"

"Moths?"

"Yes, this is a very magical creature. They like places with light, so anything that can emit light becomes their target. It could be light, moonlight, or...Flames."

"That's why when I was still young, I never understood. When I emitted the scorching heat, all other creatures tried their best to avoid the burning flames, but those moths..."

"In the darkness, they were completely different from other living beings. For the so-called light, they chose to plunge into the flames. Then, under my gaze, their fragile bodies were burned to ashes in the blink of an eye."

"Is it really worth it to give up your life for that extremely short light?"

Facing the noblewoman's increasingly furrowed brows, Alice seemed much more relaxed.

She raised her palm, and soon, a crystal moth condensed from fire elemental energy landed on the Fire God's fingertip.

"However, now the Dark Demon seems to understand them a little. It also understands the decision of the Forest God. The Nightwatcher never left its post, but it was... It was just a different way of guarding."

"Although I'm not as powerful as the Forest God, nor am I as bold as the Ice God, if I'm just a Fire-chasing Moth...It should be more than enough, right?"

Louise did not speak.

Because she knew that it was useless for her to say anything at this moment.

As the God of Fire muttered, more and more fiery red crystal moths appeared on her fingers. However, Alice's body began to become more and more illusory.

"Thunder God's actions back then have already proved to us that the goal of Fallen Abyss is divinity. In that case...I really couldn't take them off my body, but I could still take them with me and disappear."

"Well, although I'm not their only target, I believe that the others are definitely stronger than me. It won't be so easy for the Fallen Abyss to corrupt them like it did me. Moreover...And the secret weapon I sent out!"

"Although this secret weapon isn't that powerful yet, I'm willing to believe in those two little fellows. I believe that they can stop the tragedy, change fate, and save...Their god."

"Back then, the Dreamscape Forest bought us some time to catch our breath. This Fire-chasing Moth is my gift to those two little fellows. I'll pay for the time they need."

The Fire God's voice became weaker and weaker as he spoke. Almost half of his body had already turned into a flying crystal moth.

Chapter 856 - 856: Fire-chasing Moth (3)

Chapter 856: Fire-chasing Moth (3)

They flew towards the sun high up in the sky, and then their bodies began to combust on the way. Their wings were wrapped in flames and finally dissipated into the air.

" Louise, I'm very sorry about what happened back then. I believe that the others are the same. If we had chosen to believe you, perhaps the tragedy in the Western Continent would not have happened. Since you mentioned it, you have already seen your past in that little girl. Then, I hope..."

"Don't repeat the mistake we made back then on her. This is considered my...This is the last request."

Alice's last words echoed in the noblewoman's ears, but the Fire God's body had completely dissipated.

The Crystal Moths that flew up into the sky before burning themselves were the materialization of Alice's divinity. However, just as the last wave of Crystal Moths was about to repeat the process of destruction...

Suddenly, as Alice's body dissipated, an azure necklace that fell to the ground erupted with a dazzling blue light.

The blue light was like a large net, blocking the last few crystal moths that wanted to chase after the fire. In the end, they kept shrinking and were trapped in the necklace.

After doing all this, the light of the Water God's Chain completely dissipated. It was as if the huge net had exhausted the divine power in the necklace, turning it into an ordinary item.

However...

When Louise bent down to pick it up, she realized that this was not the case.

The power of the Water God in the necklace had indeed been exhausted, but in the gem in the middle of the necklace, a fiery red crystal moth was flapping its wings. The rich fire elemental power quietly took over the necklace.

The change of divine power caused the appearance of the necklace to change. It changed from the shape of a water droplet to a crystal moth coat of arms.

Drip... Drip, drip, drip...

The collision of the Water God and the Fire God's power, or rather, the blending of power, produced a wonderful reaction. At first, it was a very weak sound of rain, but in the end, it became a heavy downpour.

However, the strange thing was that the sky was still clear and there were no dark clouds.

This was a rain of sunlight.

And in the raindrops, Louise sensed that it was the divinity from the Fire God's self-combustion. With the heavy rain that covered the Flame Domain, it bestowed divinity to all the people in the domain.

Every Fire God Sect mage's comprehension seemed to have increased greatly at this moment. Their understanding of magic advanced by leaps and bounds. Every knight felt their bodies filled with power at this moment. The bottleneck that was stuck because of their talent was broken without any attack. As for the players of the Flame Domain...

[Ding! Due to unknown reasons, when you are in the "Flame Domain", the efficiency of obtaining experience points is increased by 150%. The amount of experience points that exceed the limit of the current version will be saved at 40%. The experience points will be automatically converted when the next version update opens a new level limit.]

All along, the Flame Domain had been regarded as the weakest among the nine countries. Not only were the gods the youngest, but Alice's persistence in the concept of "low-level martial arts" had also made the Flame Domain almost impossible to see any supernatural beings above level four.

However...

Now, it seemed that at least the label of " low-level martial arts " had to be removed. In a country that was nourished by divinity, supernatural beings would definitely sprout like mushrooms after a rain.

But of course, there were pros and cons. The Water God's Chains had protected the last trace of the God of Fire's divinity crystal moth, which meant that the Fallen Abyss had not disappeared as well. They had spread to all parts of the Flame Domain along with the divinity that had scattered.

One could imagine that in the future, the people of the Flame Field would inevitably continue to fight the Fallen Abyss creatures.

Louise finally understood why the Water God was so weak back then. It wasn't just because of the octopus. The Water God had undoubtedly put in a lot of effort into the Water God's Chain that she had given to her sister.

This was a very bold path.

No one knew where it led to.

But at least, Louise liked this route.

This path was called the Fire-chasing Moth.

Chapter 857: Taking a risk means taking big strides forward!_1

It was winter.

In an extremely cold place.

Confinement Base Zero.

The cultivation chambers were arranged neatly on the ground like silkworm cocoons.

One of the warning lights suddenly lit up, and lines of text appeared on the display board in front of the cultivation chamber.

[Injecting the Demonic Abyss Solution... End]

Suddenly, the light in the incubation chamber began to magnify violently. The various indicator lights on it flickered crazily. After about five seconds, everything gradually calmed down and returned to its initial state.

[The 429th " rebirth " is complete...]

[The data record has been uploaded to the magic net center...]

The words on the display board ended there, followed by a voice that sounded like a little girl's baby teeth, echoing in the quiet underground storage room.

" Welcome home, Dr."

Ka...

With the sound of the cocoon-shaped cultivation chamber opening, a large amount of white fog immediately appeared when the extremely low temperature in the chamber came into contact with the outside world. A golden-haired man sat up in the chamber and waved his hand to push away the cold fog in front of him. After skillfully removing the various tubes on his body, he stood up and walked out calmly.

The entire process seemed to have been repeated countless times.

However, the blonde man had just come out. Before he could move his limbs and familiarize himself with his new body, the doctor looked up...

Not far away, a red-haired woman with a demonic sword at her waist was staring at him with her light purple eyes. There were two vertical horns on her head, one on the left and one on the right, which seemed to indicate that she was of an extraordinary race.

Judging from the red-haired woman's posture, she must have been waiting for a long time in front of this cultivation pod.

"Tsk, the welcome lineup this time around is really big..."

"It's not your style to come looking for me in such a hurry. Did something happen?"

"... Miss Dusk."

Base Zero was the exclusive area of the "doctor". Among the Confiners, there could only be one identity that could appear in such a confidential place without the consent of the "doctor".

Winter Executive Officer, who was also one of the Top Three Chiefs.

The red-haired woman, codenamed "Dusk," was also a loner from the "keep away from strangers" aura she emitted.

Seeing that the doctor had already been reborn, she didn't tease him like the doctor did. She didn't waste any time and went straight to the point, "I received news that Louise has already left Green Maple."

Louise, the only known "Progenitor" level Blood Breed, had existed long before the Era of the Nine Gods. No one knew how long she had lived, and she was recognized by all countries as the woman closest to a "god."

After the "disaster" in the Western Continent, many powerful existences chose to deliberately weaken themselves. Louise was one of them. She rarely went out and often fell asleep.

But now, he had quietly left without a word. It was no wonder that the "Twilight" in charge of "Green Maple" would directly discuss with the "doctor". This news was absolutely important to all forces.

However, the golden-haired young man did not seem to be very surprised after hearing it.

On the contrary, he seemed to have suddenly understood something and nodded with an "I see" look.

"Yes... This explains it. No wonder a legendary weapon like the Annihilation Star would actually appear on the battlefield of the Thousand Islands..."

Regarding the organization's failure in the Thousand Islands Plan, although it was not under the jurisdiction of "Dusk", the red-haired woman had more or less heard about it. Combined with the doctor's tone now...

"You mean... Louise went to Thousand Islands?"

"There's at least a 90% chance." The blonde man nodded.

Those who were familiar with the "doctor" knew that even if it was an objective truth, the doctor would never leave "10%" space. Therefore, if he could say 90%, it could be assumed that the doctor had confirmed it.

"This is my negligence. I did not expect that one of Louise's heirs would appear in the Thousand Islands at this time. I also did not expect Louise to value her, the successor, so much. It seems that there should be some hidden secrets that we are unaware of..."

"Ah! However," Twilight," you can rest assured that the Fallen Abyss of the Thousand Islands has subsided, and Louise has no reason to stay any longer. I guess she will return to Green Maple very soon. Perhaps she is already on her way."

The doctor thought about it and added,

"After all..." The fact that you guys were able to obtain information about her disappearance at this time is the best proof. For experts of this level, no one has the right to inquire about her information. Only she deliberately gave us information."

Perhaps the doctor's words made "Twilight" a little unhappy.

"Hmph!" The red-haired woman frowned. "If that's the case, then she could have hidden her tracks all the way until the end. No one would have known. Why did she reveal herself in the end?" Just to let everyone know that she went out for a trip?"

"According to the character model we established for Louise... Yes, she might really want to scare organizations like ours."

The red-haired woman was speechless.

"I'm here, there's another thing. After the death of your puppet, she recruited a group of unbrainwashed foreigners into the confinement group and regarded them as her subordinates."

Chapter 858: Taking a risk means taking big strides forward!_2

"Although they were once the remnants of the Death Apostles, this is clearly against the rules. I guess this is not your order, but her decision on her own. You..." How do you plan to deal with it?"

The doctor shrugged indifferently at the red-haired woman's kind reminder.

"Not really. It's rare for a 'doll' to make a decision on its own. I think it's pretty good."

"Aren't you afraid that there's something wrong with those foreigners? As far as I know, the foreigners in the Thousand Islands are very obedient to Vivian."

"Yes... From the images of the 'apostles' when they were alive, these people were the first to oppose Vivian, and they were all massacred by the little girl. Based on this, I think there's at least 80% certainty that they're not on Vivian's side."

"What if that little girl forgives them? Based on the feedback from Vivian, I believe that this is the doing of a saint."

Holy Maiden...

The doctor shook his head.

"Just relying on the 'Saintess' alone is not enough to turn a village girl into the savior of the Thousand Islands in just half a year. Don't forget, she's a Demoness. We don't need to look at the process. We only need to look at the results. Just the Flame Domain once could be explained by luck, but now, even the Thousand Islands have gained both fame and fortune. They have turned our plan into a stepping stone for their own fame. You say that such a person is actually kind-hearted and pure...I don't believe it anyway."

"Compared to this, I'm more worried that this little girl has stepped on our heads several times in a row. After tasting the sweetness, will she become addicted to it? Once she finds out about our plan in Guili, she will follow us."

After listening to the professor, the red-haired woman also felt that it made sense. She subconsciously said, "If you think she's troublesome, I can help."

But this idea was quickly rejected by the doctor.

" There's no need for that at the moment. Besides, there's only half a year left until Green Maple's Travels 'Secret Realm. In the Queen's plan, the Western Continent is also indispensable. Therefore, we have to find a way to break through the Forest of Dreams, which has isolated the two continents. The only way we know now is the thing in the Travels' Secret Realm."

" All other plans can fail, but this one is not allowed. We don't have time to wait for the next " Journey to the Secret Realm ". That's why the Empress sent you, the strongest executive officer, to be in charge of Green Maple."

And you... As the princess of the Ghost Clan, wasn't the reason why you were willing to join us, the Confiners, precisely because of that thing that could allow you to return to your 'hometown'?"

The red-haired woman fell silent after the doctor spoke. She seemed to have recalled something bad, and the two horns on her head seemed to be flickering.

"I understand."

After saying that, Sunset turned around and was about to leave.

The doctor said to the red-haired woman: Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

" After you take out that thing from the mystic realm and help the Empress break through the blockade of the Forest of Dreams, I believe that the supreme Empress will definitely fulfill her promise to you and assist your Ghost clan in taking revenge on the Thunder God."

For the doctor, it should be...Pacify? Incentives? The red-haired woman stopped but did not turn around. She only turned her face slightly and said with her back facing him,

"What about you, Doctor? You aren't a Winter person, right? What's your reason for serving the Empress? What do you want from the Empress?"

"The Empress's love for me is her greatest gift to me."The blond man replied.

" Dusk " seemed to have expected such a standard answer. She snorted and the red-haired woman quickly disappeared from the underground base.

Finally, only the doctor was left.

In the basement that was filled with bottles, jars, and all kinds of cold instruments, the smile on the blond man's face gradually disappeared. Then, he took out a withered seed from his pocket.

“Lisa...” He muttered to himself in a voice that only he could hear.

Indeed, every executive officer had their own obsessions, which was why they would pledge allegiance to the Empress. The Empress was the only deity willing to accept their allegiance ” directly “.

Unfortunately, there were some obsessions that even a ” god ” couldn’t achieve.

For example, the ‘Pang Gang’

To resurrect another god.

Sakuragi Island, port.

Hey, be gentle, be gentle! The things inside were all fragile.”

“Yes, yes, yes. Bring these too.”

“This is bad! Captain Nan, do you know what Xing ‘Er likes to eat?”

Nan helplessly held her forehead as she looked at Zhao Jie, who was anxious about going home.

After the Fallen Abyss of the Thousand Islands was over, the Northern Cross was ready to return to the island. Now that the Zhao Chamber of Commerce had established a firm foothold on Sakuragi Island, Zhao Jie could not find any reason to delay any longer.

And most importantly...

“Uncle Zhao Jie, I think that the fact that you can go over should be the greatest gift to Xing ‘er.” Beside him, he was also comforting the uncle with a smile on his face.

Compared to Zhao Jie, who was exaggeratedly carrying boxes of luggage onto the Northern Cross as a ” reunion gift ” for his daughter, Vivian had very little luggage.

Even Nan couldn’t help but ask,”

“That... Vivian, are you sure you’re bringing... These?”

These were the little wolves in his arms, the sparrows and the dark green snakes on his shoulders.

“Yes, yes. For me, no matter how far the journey is, as long as they are here, it’s enough.”

"Haha, that makes sense. But I really didn't expect you to be willing to come with us, Vivian. After all, Planet Annihilation has already..." I'm going to give the little ones a long vacation after we go back to Northern Cross. If you don't mind, Vivian, let me be your guide in Guili!"

"I don't have much ability, but I've been to all corners of the world and I'm familiar with everywhere. Haha!"

The generous Nan made Vivian's eyes light up. It would be great if she said that. Zhao Jie's eyes turned and he quickly interjected, saying that although he had left his hometown for more than ten years, he was still a native of the country. He could also do the work of a guide.

In short, amidst the laughter, Vivian was still in the Thousand Islands, but the entire travel plan of Guili had been planned by Nan and Zhao Jie.

The wolf cub curled its lips and yawned. It was a little dispirited and continued to doze off in his arms.

After all, before this, when he told Liz and Shirley that he was about to leave for Guili, he still received a lot of resentment from them.

Because Liz already had the territory of the Flame Domain to take care of, and now there was another Sakuragi Island, she was almost unable to split herself up, so it was even more impossible for her to travel with them.

As for Xue Li, Liao Zixuan had wanted to bring her along, but Xue Li had rejected him. She wanted to stay in the Thousand Islands, or to be precise, the Abyssal Sea, with Clark.

Although the mouth of the Abyssal Sea had been blocked by the Astorokis, there were still hidden dangers. At the same time, because there were remnants of the Fallen Abyss aura here, it was an excellent place for Shirley to cultivate. This time, it was not a wild path. With the real leader of the Fallen Abyss here, Shirley had to learn a lot of Fallen Abyss knowledge from her.

So, in the end, Vivian embarked on a journey alone.

"Prepare to anchor! Set sail, set sail!"

Finally, all sorts of goods and supplies were loaded onto the ship. After they were ready, Nan, the captain, waved his hand and gave orders.

Vivian stood on the deck of the bow, looking at the endless sea in front of her and Sakuragi Island that was gradually disappearing behind her.

The little girl who had already experienced a sea trip was now much bolder and braver. Even if it was an unknown country, she was still curious and looking forward to it.

Adventurers had to take big strides forward. No one knew where the end of the next journey would be.

Goodbye, Thousand Islands!

Gui Li...Hello!

Thousand Islands Chapter.

Finished.
