

The Lord 1011

Chapter 1011: Follow My Commands

Zhao Fu had some information about the Half-Beasts, which was that they were half human and half wolf. They had humanoid bodies, wolf ears, and wolf tails. Their hands could turn into wolf claws, and they were quite well-built and fast as well.

They also had an innate talent, which was that they had an incredibly powerful sense of smell. Dealing with them was quite difficult.

Orcs and Half-Beasts were all Outlanders, and Outlanders usually had an advantage in might and speed. Humans were quite ordinary in that regard.

For the other Kingdoms, they understood the advantage that the Half-Beasts had, so they did not want to make any trouble. More importantly, this was a personal grievance between the two Kingdoms as opposed to an invasion from the entire Half-Beast world, so they did not want to get involved.

Zhao Fu led his 300 City Lords and went to the Lelai Kingdom's army camp. The General responsible for defending this area had already received information about Zhao Fu. He was quite angry that he had to hand overall power to this outsider who had suddenly appeared while they were in an intense battle.

No one would feel at ease about this; after all, switching commanders in the middle of a battle was a military taboo and could cause morale to plummet.

Zhao Fu led his people and entered the meeting tent. After seeing Zhao Fu, the people inside looked slightly displeased and did not seem very welcoming. There was a valiant-looking man sitting in the main seat. He looked like he was in his thirties and wore an azure set of armor.

He coldly looked at Zhao Fu before saying, "What methods did you do to beguile the Empress Dowager to have her allow you to come here to take charge? Do you know the state of the battle? Do you know the strength of the other side?"

Zhao Fu had already put on his black cloak again, and hearing the General's distrusting words, he replied calmly, "There's no need for you to worry too much about this; all you need to do is follow my commands. If you disobey, don't blame me for showing no mercy."

This made everyone feel quite angry, but they all held it in. After all, Zhao Fu was someone sent by the higher-ups, and he had received the acknowledgement of both sides.

Most people felt quite doubtful after hearing Zhao Fu's confident words, but they could not disobey orders. As such, they could only follow Zhao Fu. However, they secretly hoped that Zhao Fu would make mistakes so that they could get rid of him.

The General coldly harrumphed, walked down from his chair, and stood to the side. Zhao Fu walked up and sat down instead.

Zhao Fu had a rough grasp of the situation. The Half-Beasts had already broken through the defensive lines and had conquered ten or so of the Lelai Kingdom's regions. The Lelai Kingdom had quickly built defensive walls, barely stopping the Half Beasts' assault.

However, as time dragged on, the Half-Beasts sent more and more people, and their attacks became fiercer and fiercer. It was becoming harder and harder for the Lelai Kingdom to defend, and soon, they might have to use their Nation Armament.

Because the Half-Beasts' Emperor had died as well, their Kingdom's Fate was also in chaos. However, they had quickly settled their internal conflicts, and because their new Emperor had been acknowledged by the Royal Seal, they were able to attack the Lelai Kingdom with all of their forces.

If it wasn't for Zhao Fu's arrival, the Lelai Kingdom still would not have been able to resolve their internal fighting, which may have led to their demise.

Of course, Zhao Fu only had some rough knowledge, and he did not overestimate himself. He said to the General, "I need all reports, including information about the other side's Generals."

This made the General feel quite startled, and he felt slightly less worried; it seemed that Zhao Fu was not an arrogant and reckless person, and perhaps he could resolve the Lelai Kingdom's crisis. He now felt approved of Zhao Fu more and ordered people to bring out some detailed information.

Zhao Fu earnestly read through the information, but soon, a soldier hurriedly ran in to report, “Sir, the Half-Beasts are ferociously attacking the middle defensive line, and the situation is quite dire. Please send reinforcements!”

The General was about to give the order to send reinforcements but quickly caught himself. He was no longer in charge, so he could not give out orders.

As such, everyone turned to look at Zhao Fu. After thinking for a while, Zhao Fu ordered, “Have the middle defensive line’s soldiers retreat and allow the Half-Beasts in. The other two defensive lines are to continue defending their locations and await further orders.”

“Wait!” The General stopped the soldier and looked at Zhao Fu furiously as he said, “The middle line is defending against the Half-Beasts’ main force. Let alone not sending reinforcements, you’re having them withdraw? If they withdraw, the Half-Beasts will swarm in, and defending against them will be impossible. Even if we stop them, our losses will be too great.”

The other people could not understand why Zhao Fu would give such an order either, so they also opposed him.

Zhao Fu did not care too much about this and said calmly, “I understand this, but don’t worry too much and just follow my orders.”

This made all of the Generals feel quite dissatisfied because they felt that those orders were absolutely wrong. If the middle defensive line retreated, the Lelai Kingdom would be in true danger.

However, just as they were about to refuse again, an incredibly great might covered all of them, making them feel as if a massive rock was weighing down on their bodies. Some of the weaker Generals crumpled to the ground, a wave of coldness flowing through their bodies and hearts.

Everyone looked at Zhao Fu in shock, and they understood why the higher-ups had sent him. This power exceeded anything they could imagine.

“Any more objections?” Zhao Fu’s calm but slightly cold sounded out.

Everyone lowered their heads, not daring to say anything.

Following this, the middle defensive line started to retreat. The other side did not expect this at all and did not hold back as they rushed forwards and entered the inner regions of the Lelai Kingdom. The Half-Beasts from the other battlefields also surged over.

There was now a massive gap in their defenses, and countless Half-Beasts swarmed in.

It seemed like the Lelai Kingdom was going to be destroyed, and the ordinary soldiers were all terrified. They could not understand why the higher-ups had given such a stupid order.

However, on the second day, the Lelai Kingdom started its counterattack. The two armies on the two sides started to attack from the sides and from behind, cutting off any path of retreat for the Half-Beasts.

This made the Half-Beasts laugh condescendingly – they had already reached the inner regions of the Lelai Kingdom, so what was the point of cutting off their retreat? Their army would be able to reach the center of the Lelai Kingdom and destroy it before dealing with them after.

They had heard that the Lelai Kingdom had changed its commander to an outsider. At first, they felt quite wary towards Zhao Fu, because after their many years of fighting, they knew that the Lelai Kingdom was not stupid.

However, after their investigations, they found that the Lelai Kingdom had only obtained another 300 City Lords and did not gain any more soldiers. If they reached the inner regions, with the Lelai Kingdom's power, it would be very difficult to stop them.

Chapter 1012: Blue Wolf Kingdom

In response to the Lelai Kingdom gaining another 300 City Lords, the Half-Beasts had already thought of how to deal with them. Moreover, given that they were already stronger than the Lelai Kingdom to begin with, they did not care too much about this.

At first, they were quite wary against any plots from the Lelai Kingdom, but now, they believed that the Lelai Kingdom was simply seeking death. Since they had chosen to fight like this, they would not hold back and directly rushed towards the Lelai Kingdom's Royal City.

However, an army quickly stopped them. However, the difference in their strength was quite great – the Half-Beast army had 35 million people while the Lelai Kingdom’s army only had ten million people. The Half-Beast army had 800 or so City Lords, while the Lelai Kingdom’s army only had 500 or so City Lords.

In actuality, this was not the Half-Beasts’ full force. They had left behind a portion of their forces to deal with the Lelai Kingdom’s two other armies to give them time to destroy the Lelai Kingdom’s Royal City.

The powerful auras from both armies clashed as the atmosphere became quite oppressive. An austere aura spread out, making the entire region seem deathly silent.

“Hahaha... Ye Xiong, you’re quite capable; how about you come and serve the Blue Wolf Kingdom! We won’t mistreat you; the Lelai Kingdom is already doomed,” a big Half-Beast man said while loudly laughing in the sky.

Ye Xiong was the name of the General who had originally been in charge, and he also stood in the sky. The Blue Wolf Kingdom was the name of the Kingdom attacking the Lelai Kingdom.

Ye Xiong did not respond to the other side’s wild words and looked towards Zhao Fu. After personally witnessing Zhao Fu’s strength, he did not have any complaints. He trusted that only Zhao Fu had the power to resolve this crisis.

“Ignore him, wait for them to attack,” Zhao Fu calmly said. Ye Xiong followed Zhao Fu’s orders and ignored the big Half-Beast man.

Seeing this, the big Half-Beast man’s smile disappeared, and he coldly harrumphed as he shouted, “Charge!!”

The massive Half-Beast army flooded forwards like an unstoppable tsunami towards the Lelai Kingdom’s army. The sounds were incredibly shocking and shook the surrounding tens of thousands of kilometers.

The Cavalrymen at the front were incredibly fast and ferocious. The Blue Wolf Kingdom was a Level 3 Barony Kingdom and had brought five Corps with them. There were two Corps dealing with the other two armies.

The Lelai Kingdom was only a Level 2 Barony Kingdom, so it only had five Corps in total. Two of their Corps were fighting against the Half-Beast Kingdom's other force, so they only had three Corps here.

In this battle between Kingdoms, Corps were incredibly important. Having an extra one could make a key difference.

"Roarr!" The Half-Beast Cavalry were a Corps, and gray auras rose up from their bodies and formed a gray wolf that was hundreds of meters long. It roared towards the sky before giving off a terrifying aura and charging over.

The Lelai Kingdom's Corps also roared as they exploded out with a green aura, condensing a green rhinoceros that gave off immense might as it charged at the gray wolf.

Boom!!

The two massive beasts clashed together, resulting in horrifying shockwaves that blasted out like gales. However, this battle had only just begun.

Boom! Boom! Boom! Boom...

Four more explosions sounded out from the Blue Wolf Kingdom as four massive auras shook the surrounding 1,000 kilometers. The four other Corps also condensed their Corps Formations. They were a rat, a boulder, a rabbit, and a fang. These four Corps Formations gave off ferocious auras as they also flew towards the Lelai Kingdom's army.

In battles between Kingdoms, they would ordinarily begin with using Corps Formations, as they had immense destructive power. Moreover, even if they were destroyed, they would not suffer any casualties; at most, the soldiers would be drained.

The Lelai Kingdom's army released its two other Corps Formations. One was a staff and the other was a sparrow. They both gave off powerful auras as they rushed towards the Blue Wolf Kingdoms' army.

They had two fewer Corps Formations than the Blue Wolf Kingdom, so they could only use City Lords or a large number of soldiers to defend. The City Lords and soldiers were at a disadvantage because the Corps Formations could suppress City Lords, and using soldiers to defend would result in countless casualties.

Zhao Fu did not hesitate and sent out 150 or so City Lords to deal with two of the Corps Formations. 70 or so City Lords against a Corps Formation would not be a big issue.

Of course, this depended on the strength of the Corps Formations – there were ordinary Corps and Special Corps.

Out of the Lelai Kingdom's 500 City Lords, 150 of them went to deal with the Corps Formations, so there were only 350 against 800 enemy City Lords now.

As the Blue Wolf Kingdom's soldiers charged, the Blue Wolf City Lords also exploded out with power and flew towards the Lelai Kingdom's City Lords.

A massive battle erupted! The two armies savagely clashed together, cavalymen against cavalymen and infantrymen against infantrymen. The sounds of weapons clashing filled the air as blood flew everywhere and the aura of death continuously spread.

The Lelai Kingdom was at a disadvantage, as they had fewer people, and the Outlanders were incredibly ferocious in battle.

The Blue Wolf Kingdom's army was not too surprised that they held the upper hand, as they had expected this – the Lelai Kingdom could not stop them.

Boom!!

Suddenly, a terrifying aura rippled out like an ocean. The entire battlefield was covered by this aura, and a feeling of terror appeared in everyone's hearts.

The sudden appearance of this aura caused the Blue Wolf Kingdom's side to become quite shocked. They looked over and saw a black-cloaked figure turn into a ray of light and fly past, leaving behind 20 or so City Lords' bodies slashed in half.

“Roar! Roar! Roar...” He then tossed out rings, from which massive Wyverns appeared, giving off massive cries.

After these Wyverns appeared, they flapped their wings and created large gusts as they dove towards the Blue Wolf Kingdom's army, breathing out flames or icy blasts and incinerating or freezing their soldiers.

The orderly Blue Wolf Kingdom's aura instantly fell into chaos. After all, 500 Wyverns that were all around 100 meters long had suddenly appeared, and they were unable to respond in time.

However, this was the outside world, and the blue Wolf Kingdom had many Stage 4 soldiers. They drew their bows and aimed at the Wyverns. They contained immense force and shot into a Wyvern that had been careless.

The Wyvern gave a pained cry; with how big its body was, a single arrow could not deal it much harm. However, hundreds of arrows were still quite dangerous.

It could be seen how great the difference between the Legacy Land and the outside world was. After all, Great Qin's Wyverns could sweep across the entire Legacy Land as ordinary soldiers could not deal with them at all. Only City Lords could be used to contend against them.

Chapter 1013: Violet-Clothed

Zhao Fu ordered all of the Wyverns to be more careful and try to end the battle as soon as possible. Otherwise, their losses might become quite great.

Boom!!

Zhao Fu released all of his power, and he gripped the Death Disaster Sword as he flew towards the Blue Wolf City Lords. Terrifying sword lights continuously slashed out, and the ordinary City Lords were unable to defend at all as they continuously fell at Zhao Fu's hands.

With the Wyverns' help, the Lelai Kingdom's army gradually took the upper hand.

The expressions of the Blue Wolf Kingdom's side were quite unsightly. They had never thought that there would be someone so powerful helping the Lelai Kingdom. It was already evident that they were going to lose, and Zhao Fu had killed almost 200 City Lords already. The number of soldiers they had lost was also innumerable, and that number was quickly rising.

Without needing to think too much, the Blue Wolf Kingdom gave the order to retreat, or their losses would be even more severe.

However, even though they wanted to retreat, the Lelai Kingdom's army would not let them off. Zhao Fu's gaze was now on the Blue Wolf Kingdom's Commander, and he slashed a sword light at the big Half-Beast man.

The Lelai Kingdom's two other armies also started to attack the portion of the Half-Beast army that had been left behind. The Lelai army there had a big advantage in both soldiers and City Lords.. This was because Zhao Fu had sent a lot of the Lelai Kingdom's forces to those two armies, so it would not be too difficult for them to obtain victory.

Chi!

The big Half-Beast man was sent flying by Zhao Fu, and he spat out a mouthful of blood. If it wasn't for the fact that he had used both his City Lord Seal and General Seal, he would have died.

The other Blue Wolf City Lords could not just watch as their Commander was killed, so they quickly headed over. However, whether or not they could stop this was a different matter.

The Great Qin Seal within Zhao Fu's body continuously provided him with a large amount of power. The Death Disaster Sword in his hand gave off an intense gray light and an eerie deathly intent that continuously corroded people's bodies. All of the City Lords' hairs stood on end, and their bodies instinctively trembled.

"Arghhh..." Pained cries sounded out as Zhao Fu drew out a massive sword light, covering 30 or so City Lords. Blood and fragmented corpses fell to the ground, and 30 or so City Lord Seals floated in the air.

Seeing this terrifying scene, none of the Blue Wolf City Lords dared to stay any longer. They could only quickly run, and the army below also started to retreat.

The Lelai Kingdom's two armies at the back had also taken down the remainder of the Blue Wolf Kingdom's army and was attacking from behind.

From this side, Zhao Fu led the Lelai Kingdoms' City Lords to chase after the Blue Wolf City Lords while the Lelai army chased down the Blue Wolf army.

In the end, the Lelai Kingdom's two forces joined together and pincerd the escaping Blue Wolf army. The Blue Wolf Kingdom's forces were completely taken down, and the soldiers were either killed or surrendered. Most of the City Lords died, and only 100 or so were able to escape.

As for the Blue Wolf Kingdom's Commander, he had been killed as well. With Zhao Fu chasing after him, it was impossible for him to escape.

The Lelai Kingdom's City Lords grinned as they cleaned up the battlefield. The Lelai Kingdom had obtained a great victory, and as part of the Lelai Kingdom, they were naturally incredibly happy. They were completely won over by that cloaked figure in the sky.

If it wasn't for his help, the battle would have gone completely differently, and the Lelai Kingdom most likely would have lost. It was Zhao Fu who had saved their Lelai Kingdom, and with this sort of expert helping the Lelai Kingdom, who would dare to bully them in the future? Now, they had immense confidence.

"Lord, how should we move on?" Ye Xiong came before Zhao Fu and respectfully cupped his hands as he asked for orders.

Zhao Fu thought about it and said, "Go and take over the regions that had been conquered and reinforce the defensive lines. Don't attack the Blue Wolf Kingdom."

Now that the Blue Wolf Kingdom had suffered a heavy defeat, losing 70% of its City Lords and soldiers, the Blue Wolf Kingdom was quite defenseless at this moment, and if they could grasp this opportunity to attack, it would be a great opportunity.

The Lelai Kingdom was not very strong, so Zhao Fu felt that attacking another world was too dangerous. The Blue Wolf Kingdom did not dare to completely commit to attacking the Lelai Kingdom, and they had only launched an attack of this scale because their Emperor had been killed. Neither of the worlds wanted to engage in a world war, and they knew that the Blue Wolf Kingdom was only attacking out of revenge.

The Blue Wolf Kingdom had also communicated this to the neighboring Kingdoms, which was why they dared to attack. Otherwise, no Kingdom would dare to attack another Kingdom in another world like this.

The Blue Wolf Kingdom had promised that if it destroyed the Lelai Kingdom, it would just take some resources and Cities and not any territory. They promised to give the territory to the surrounding few Kingdoms.

For the other Kingdoms to receive a large amount of territory for free, they were all quite pleased, so they did not help the Lelai Kingdom and only watched from the sidelines.

If Zhao Fu directly attacked the Blue Wolf Kingdom without communicating with the surrounding Kingdoms first, they would most likely be chased back by the Half-Beast world incredibly quickly. Unless they had the strength to fight against a few Kingdoms, they could not attack.

As such, Zhao Fu gave the order to solidify their defenses before sending ambassadors to the other Kingdoms to see what their stances were.

This was quite troublesome and complicated. However, this was the outside world, and everyone paid more attention to these things.

After news of the Lelai Kingdom emerging victorious spread, everyone else was incredibly shocked; they could not believe this. What was going on? Didn't they have internal conflict, and wasn't the Blue Wolf Kingdom much stronger? How did the Lelai Kingdom win?

All of this was because of the appearance of a single person who had instantly turned the Lelai Kingdom's situation around. Everyone was quite curious where this person had come from, and they all feared his terrifying power.

The entire Lelai Kingdom cheered in joy over this victory, and Le Yuyu and the others also had big smiles on their faces.

Even though they had expected this result, Zhao Fu's performance had completely exceeded anything they could imagine. They had barely suffered any losses and yet had obtained such a great victory. With this sort of man as their support, she felt incredibly satisfied.

On the other hand, the Blue Wolf Kingdom was in full panic. They had made so many preparations and had been much stronger than the Lelai Kingdom, yet they had lost so terribly. They had lost 70% of their forces, which was an incredibly heavy blow to them.

The entire Kingdom fell into panic, and the new Emperor immediately ordered for all of their resources and effort to be put into defense. He also sent out ambassadors to the other Kingdoms to request for support.

At that moment, a handsome young man dressed in violet clothes, followed by seven women who were as beautiful as goddesses, appeared above the Lelai Kingdom's Royal City. His powerful aura was like a massive storm that swept through the entire City.

Chapter 1014: Eight Princesses

This aura was even more domineering and arrogant than the aura Zhao Fu gave off, and it assaulted the entire City, causing the Lelai Kingdom's defensive formation to activate.

All of the Lelai Kingdom's regions gave off a faint light, and a massive power gathered towards the Royal City and formed a powerful barrier that protected everyone within the City.

The violet-clothed young man lightly smiled and did not seem to care about the barrier as he said, "I am the Young Sect Master of the Eight Dragons Essence Sect. I heard that it costs 300 Cities to take the Princess' hand in marriage. I would like to request for the Princess to come out to meet me; if she is suitable, I will provide 300 Cities."

The City below was in chaos as soldiers quickly gathered, and within the Palace, Le Yuyu quickly brought out a group of people to see what was going on.

One of the seven women looked incredibly beautiful and was devilishly bewitching. She was called Princess Qiu Mei, and looking at the chaos below, she walked up, hugged the violet-clothed young man, and said, "Hubby, when will you be able to gather eight Princesses? I can't wait to serve you and let you have your way with me."

The violet-clothed young man lightly laughed and rubbed her round bottom as he said, "You little perv, it's not time yet. After I've gathered eight Princesses and cultivated my Sect's Supreme Art, the Eight Dragons Divine Art, I will become the Eight Dragons Essence Sect's Sect Master. When that time comes, I'll give you everything you want."

Feeling the violet-clothed young man's actions, the beautiful woman looked quite shy and panted as she hugged the young man tightly.

Besides them, an extremely pretty woman with a fiery figure also came up and hugged the violet-clothed young man. She was called Princess Han Nan, and she lightly harrumphed as she said, "Hubby, I want some too; you can't show favoritism to this little floozy."

The violet-clothed young man smiled and placed his other hand on that woman's bottom, causing her to also start panting.

The five other women also went up and affectionately called him hubby, and the violet-clothed young man grinned as his hands moved around on their bodies.

At that moment, Le Yuyu came out of the Palace with a few people. Feeling this terrifying aura, she made preparations to use the Nation Armament at any time.

The Little Emperor was only six years old, so of course he could not fight. As such, Le Yuyu had set the Nation Armament to fight automatically because a person with such terrifying aura might not be something the Lelai Kingdom could deal with.

Moreover, she knew about the Eight Dragons Essence Sect. Even though it was not one of the Five Great Sects of the Ancient Stem Domain, it was not weak either. It had the strength of a Dukedom Kingdom, and it had existed for quite a long time.

The Lelai Kingdom naturally could not offend such a powerful Sect, so Le Yuyu could only endure and ignore the domineering fashion in which this person had appeared.

Now that Le Yuyu and Le Zhiwen were Zhao Fu's women and had the Six Desire Demonic Qi, they did not want to leave Zhao Fu for even one second. Le Yuyu knew how her daughter felt about Zhao Fu, so she could only say courteously, "Young Sect Master, Our daughter has already been married to someone else, so I apologize but I must ask you to leave!"

“Hmph, anyone who my hubby wants will belong to him. Hurry up and call your Princess out!” a tall and slim beauty who gave off a cold and arrogant demeanour said. She was called Princess Han Shuang, and she also exploded out with a powerful aura that bore down on the City.

Le Yuyu felt slightly infuriated, but in the face of this power, she could only endure it.

“Hmph! Did you not hear our hubby speak? Hurry up and call your Princess out; to become our hubby’s woman is a glorious thing for your whole Kingdom. Otherwise, don’t blame our hubby for destroying your Kingdom,” an extremely pretty woman wearing red clothes and giving off a slightly barbaric aura said to Le Yuyu with her red lips. She was Princess Huo Yan, and she was from a Kingdom called the Flame Speech Kingdom.

Le Yuyu’s expression was quite grim. The Lelai Kingdom was not a match for the Eight Dragons Essence Sect, and if Zhao Fu hadn’t come, she would have been all too happy to marry her daughter to this young man. That way, not only would they obtain 300 Cities, but they would also have the Eight Dragons Essence Sect as a supporter.

However, they had now become Zhao Fu’s women, and with Zhao Fu’s help, the Lelai Kingdom had survived this crisis. Moreover, both her body and soul needed Zhao Fu.

Le Yuyu felt quite troubled before making a decision. Finally, she prepared to speak.

“Mother!” Le Zhiwen didn’t want to make things difficult for her mother, so she walked out. She bowed to the violet-clothed young man, saying, “I am the Princess Royal of the Lelai Kingdom. Also, I already have a husband.”

The violet-clothed young man gave a pleased smile, not seeming to mind Le Zhiwen’s words. His eyes gave off violet light as he started to look over Le Zhiwen, saying, “Good looks, decent figure, appropriate constitution, hahaha... I’ve finally gathered eight Princesses.

“Wait!” The violet-clothed young man suddenly felt that something was off. He used his vision technique to closely examine Le Zhiwen and found that she was no longer a virgin.

“What a disappointment. I finally found a suitable one but she’s been taken already.” The violet-clothed young man felt quite angry and did not bother staying here any longer. He took his women and turned into a ray of light, disappearing over the horizon.

Marrying a Princess for 300 Cities was quite an interesting matter, and because the violet-clothed young man had happened to hear of this, he came over to have a look, but in the end he returned in disappointment.

The Eight Dragons Essence Sect's Supreme Art, the Eight Dragons Divine Art, required eight Princesses with a large amount of Phoenix Qi. Moreover, these eight Princesses all needed to have the same constitution, have the same birthday, and all be virgins. It could be said that the requirements were incredibly strict.

However, the power it could bring was immense – engaging in dual cultivation with these eight Princesses would make one's Cultivation much faster, and it was much more powerful than ordinary Arts. More importantly, if one practiced this Art to the pinnacle, it would be able to block eight fatal attacks.

Since Le Zhiwen was not a virgin anymore, she was useless to him. Moreover, he did not want to touch someone who had been taken by someone else as he did not lack beauties at all.

Zhao Fu sensed the disturbance in the Lelai Kingdom, and after giving some orders, he hurried back to the Royal City and saw the rays of light disappearing into the distance. He slightly frowned before going into the Palace.

"Why did you only come back now?" Seeing Zhao Fu come back, Le Yuyu sprang into Zhao Fu's embrace and started to sob in frustration.

The soldiers and palace maids stared at this scene in shock. Even though Zhao Fu and Le Yuyu had a relationship, this was something secretive between them. On the face of things, she was the Empress Dowager; how could she leap into another man's embrace like this?

Le Zhiwen hurriedly called out to her mother, causing Le Yuyu to come back to her senses. She let go of Zhao Fu, and Zhao Fu gently asked, "What happened?"

Following this, Le Yuyu told Zhao Fu what had happened, causing a trace of anger to appear within Zhao Fu's heart.

Chapter 1015: Saint Realm

Zhao Fu had no intention of letting his women be wronged. Even though Zhao Fu had not fallen in love with them, he felt that he should at least take responsibility for them as a man.

He stretched out his hand, lightly wiped away the tears from Le Yuyu's face, and comforted her gently, saying, "Don't worry, I won't let you be wronged like that in the future."

Le Yuyu felt a warmth within her heart. If it wasn't for everyone else's gaze, she would have leapt into his embrace again.

"How is the battlefield over there?" Le Yuyu returned to proper matters and asked.

Zhao Fu smiled and said, "Everything concluded perfectly. We don't have to worry about the Blue Wolf Kingdom in the future. After dealing this massive blow to them, it will take them a long time for them to recover. If it wasn't for the other Half-Beast Kingdoms, I would have wanted to attack them in their own world.

"However, I sent out ambassadors to those other Half-Beast Kingdoms. If they don't object, the Lelai Kingdom can attack the Blue Wolf Kingdom. Also, we're bringing over the Half-Beasts we captured, and I plan to use them."

Le Yuyu smiled as she nodded. "It was all thanks to you this time. Now that you're not busy anymore, come to Our chambers; We have prepared ten or so pretty palace maids for you to properly thank you."

Hearing this, Zhao Fu lightly laughed and replied, "There's no need for that. I still need to prepare some other things; there are some matters that are not settled yet."

Hearing Zhao Fu's words, Le Yuyu thought about the current situation and could only let him go.

A few days later, the other Half-Beast Kingdoms sent back replies. The Blue Wolf Kingdom must have offered them benefits because they all supported the Blue Wolf Kingdom. Of course, this was only verbal support. However, Zhao Fu did not dare to attack the Blue Wolf Kingdom, so he could only give up on this plan.

At the same time, he continued to build even tougher defenses in order to defend against the Blue Wolf Kingdom or anyone else attacking. Soon, the Lelai Kingdom gradually fell into peace again.

As for the surrendered Half-Beasts, they were given some training. Even though they could not attack the Blue Wolf Kingdom for now, perhaps it would be possible in the future. When that time came, these Half-Beasts would be of some use, so they started to prepare now.

After dealing with these matters, Zhao Fu returned to the human world. There were still many regions that had not yet been cleared, and the process was quite slow. However, Great Qin was going as fast as it could, so Zhao Fu could not say much.

The three other Continents were not too peaceful, and there were dark undertows. Even though they said arrogant things like telling Great Qin to stop expanding so rapidly or that they would ally together to attack, they understood that this would not have much of an effect. Great Qin's wild ambitions could never be satisfied, so they knew that they had to convince everyone.

It was not just all players but all system factions as well. Only if all of them allied together could they resist Great Qin.

Even though Great Qin was a massive threat, since Great Qin was not attacking, many people still felt hopeful that it would remain at peace with them. As such, convincing everyone to band together was quite difficult.

During this period of time, apart from Great Qin, Tina Pendragon's Great British Empire was also developing quite quickly. It now had 600 regions and had become a Level 6 Barony Kingdom.

The human world only had these two Kingdoms for now. The power of Kingdoms vastly surpassed that of ordinary factions. Within the Legacy Land, their development was quite fast, but it would be different if they were in the outside world.

Moreover, it was likely that the human world would only have these two Kingdoms. A few Dynasties that had once had an opportunity to establish Kingdoms had been delayed because of various matters.

For example, Akhenaten's faction could be ranked third in the human world. His Dynasty had a massive amount of Fate and power, but because of the Southern Continent being conquered, he had been forced to relocate. He had lost a large amount of Fate, and his faction was now much weaker than before.

Now, what Great Qin lacked most was time. This was the fifth year in the Heaven Awaken World.

Everyone was doing their best to develop, and all of Zhao Fu's factions in the human world, Dark Demon world, and Fish Scale world were developing well. There were not any battles, and Zhao Fu became quite free.

As such, Zhao Fu decided to go into the Heaven Spirit Stele and continue to recite some of the Book of Daoism to pretend to be a higher-being. Everyone present once again fell silent and felt immense admiration.

Zhao Fu had done this quite a few times now, and every time he would only recite a few lines before not speaking anymore. This way, he would seem quite mysterious. Of course, he was doing this for the benefits; he was not so bored as to do this for fun.

Zhao Fu never asked for any fees, but he did occasionally mention what he needed. If anyone sent them to him, he would continue speaking.

Because of this, Zhao Fu had obtained many good things, such as materials, equipment, skills, and other items. Every time he spoke, he would receive a big pile of things, and they were all of good quality. After all, those who could enter the Communication Region all had high-grade accounts.

However, compared to the number of people who listened, there were not actually many people who sent gifts; most people wanted to just freeload.

In actuality, Zhao Fu could set up a private room that could only be accessed by sending gifts. With Zhao Fu's Supreme level account, he could create private rooms for free.

However, there was a limit to how many people could enter private rooms, and if people asked questions, Zhao Fu would have no way to answer them, making it easy for him to be exposed. He could not disregard questions so easily by pretending to be mysterious.

"Higher-being, are you willing to take a disciple? I'm a genius and won't disappoint you!"

"I'm 18 years old and am still a virgin; would you be interested, sir?"

"Senior, I don't quite understand these sentences. Would you mind explaining them for us?"

After obtaining a heap of things, Zhao Fu grinned as he looked at his private messages and ignored all of them. Those people had no value at all; they wanted Zhao Fu to give them something before they would reciprocate, and some were even thinking of swindling him.

The Heaven Spirit Stele was quite similar to the internet, and on the internet, anyone could do anything they wanted. However, they could not threaten the real world.

Zhao Fu was quite satisfied with what he had received today. He had only casually recited a few lines and received so many things. Other people would not even be able to imagine obtaining things like this. One item that Zhao Fu had received was a liquid called the Thousand Flower Liquid.

This Thousand Flower Liquid was created using over 1,000 Spirit Flowers, and it was black-colored. It had massive benefits to the growth of flowers, and Zhao Fu wanted to use it to help with the growth of the World Flower.

He had planted the World Flower for one year now, and even though he had used all sorts of items on it, it still had not bloomed. Perhaps this Thousand Flower Liquid would be effective.

Just as Zhao Fu was about to leave, another rainbow-colored account sent a message, “What is the Saint Realm?”

Chapter 1016: Making Friends

After seeing that rainbow-colored account, Zhao Fu instantly had a bad feeling. After all, only higher-beings could have accounts like that, while Zhao Fu was just a fake. He still had no idea why he had been given a Supreme level account.

However, if the other person was really a higher-being, Zhao Fu did not have the guts to play pretend anymore. He could not help but think about the power of the higher-being he had encountered in the outside world; it was not something he could contend against.

Facing the question from this account, Zhao Fu could only stare in confusion because he did not know what the Saint Realm was.

At that moment, the golden dragon rolled its eyes and said, “Zhao Fu, don’t you know that? It’s after you break through to Stage 9 and comprehend the Way of Saints. This person is very likely a higher-being, so you should stay away.”

After hearing this, Zhao Fu understood. However, his Cultivation was only at Stage 7, so how could he talk about things beyond Stage 9?

Hearing that this person was most likely a higher-being, Zhao Fu instantly became wary and wondered if he had gone too far and attracted a real higher-being.

Zhao Fu did not dare to reply to that higher-being’s message because higher-beings had terrifying abilities. Zhao Fu did not want to take a risk with no benefits.

At that moment, the other person sent over another message, “Relax, this Sovereign does not have any ill will towards you. I know that you’re just a little cultivator.”

“Ahaha...” Zhao Fu felt quite awkward. He had been worshipped by countless people in the Communication Region, but he had been seen through instantly by a higher-being.

He could sense that the higher-being really did not have any ill-intent, so Zhao Fu thought about it and decided to talk with this higher-being for a while. After all, this was someone who stood at the peak of the Heaven Awaken World, and if he could develop a connection with this person, even though it was a massive risk, there could be massive benefits.

“Senior, I’m indeed just a little cultivator,” Zhao Fu answered respectfully.

The higher-being quickly replied, “Hahaha.. the things you said attracted our attention, but the true Dao is not something you would be able to talk about. However, the book of Dao that you recited from is quite advanced, so many people believed you.

“However, in our eyes, it’s something that can be seen through easily. You’re most likely from a new world, and what you recited from is a scripture from your world, right?”

After reading this, Zhao Fu felt quite startled; he had never thought that the other person would be able to tell this as well. He thought about it and replied, “Senior, you’re right. However, how could you tell?”

The higher-being replied, "I'm quite familiar with this type of book, so I could naturally tell. I wanted to ask you for the full text of that scripture. If you have any requirements, I'll agree as long as they're appropriate."

Zhao Fu could not help but feel delighted; he could ask for things from a higher-being, which was a massive opportunity. After all, even ordinary things to someone who stood at the peak of the world would be incredibly important to Zhao Fu.

At that moment, Zhao Fu thought of a few things, but just as he was about to speak, he could not help but think of all of those quests to kill him, and he sank back into his thoughts.

Whether it was because of himself or because of Tuoba Qing, he would have to face the threat of higher-beings in the future. This made Zhao Fu feel quite unsafe, and it was something that had been bothering him for a while. After all, Great Qin did not have the strength to fight against a higher-being.

Perhaps if he could establish friendly relations with this higher-being, it would be of use to him in the future, so he made a decision.

"Senior, since you want to have a look, I will give it to you. My world also has many similar scriptures, and if you're interested, I can give them to you as well."

The higher-being replied, feeling quite surprised, "Of course, this Sovereign is quite curious about your world. There were actually people who were able to write such profound things to the point that they're of some help even to us.

"Also, don't you want anything? This Sovereign can give you top-quality Heaven Grade Arts, Divine Earth Armaments, or a Marquisate City."

Zhao Fu could not help but feel completely dumbfounded. Those things were things that others could not even dream of obtaining, yet he could casually choose one. This was especially so of the Marquisate City. After such a long time, Great Qin had finally become a Marquisate Kingdom.

Marquisate Kingdoms completely reigned above Barony Kingdoms, and in the boundary region, they were almost invincible.

However, in order to obtain even bigger benefits, Zhao Fu could only politely refuse. He ordered his people to collect all religious texts, including Taoist, Buddhist, and Christian books.

Following this, he gave them all to the higher-being through the Heaven Spirit Stele.

After a while, the higher-being was quite satisfied. Zhao Fu decided to also go to the Dark Demon world and Fish Scale world to also collect their scriptures. However, after he gave them to the higher-being, he was quite disdainful, making Zhao Fu feel quite surprised.

Only after asking did he find out that the scriptures from the Dark Demon world and Fish Scale world focused on cultivation and were not very sophisticated. On the other hand, the human world's scriptures focused on the spirit and breakthroughs in the spirit.

Zhao Fu had never thought that this would be the case. After all, the human world was not a cultivation world, so the scriptures they had were naturally focused on the spirit. This was why the higher-being had taken an interest in them.

Zhao Fu felt quite surprised, and the higher-being once again asked him what he wanted. In exchange for all of the scriptures Zhao Fu had provided, he could even give a Dukedom City.

This made Zhao Fu's heart leap. After all, a Dukedom City was the Royal City of a Dukedom Kingdom, and if the higher-being could give even such a thing, he would simply be too terrifying. However, for future benefits, Zhao Fu could only endure it and refuse.

Afterwards, Zhao Fu and the higher-being became friends in the Heaven Spirit Stele, and Zhao Fu fulfilled his goal. This was all for a few useless books, making Zhao Fu feel incredibly happy.

Following this, Zhao Fu took the Thousand Flower Liquid to where they were planting the World Flower.

This place had turned into an ocean of flowers, and the entire region was filled with all sorts of flowers, and they would never wilt. Countless butterflies danced about, creating an incredibly beautiful scene.

The World Flower was already 120 meters tall and had five wide leaves. Its stem was five meters wide, and there was a flower bud at the top. The bud was quite tender, and it gave off a jade-like luster.

Zhao Fu poured the Thousand Flower Liquid onto it, and it was quite absorbed by the World Flower. It began to rapidly grow until its height reached 260 meters. The bud became bigger, but it still did not bloom, making Zhao Fu feel quite disappointed.

Chapter 1017: New General Stars

Two months later, Zhao Fu called together the most outstanding Outlander leaders. One of them was Logue, who had been called Old Logue in the past. He no longer looked old at all, and with Great Qin's help, he had grown from a weak and elderly Goblin Village Chief to a City Lord with Stage 5 strength.

He was undoubtedly the most prestigious Goblin, and he was one of the Outlander leaders who had followed Zhao Fu for the longest. He was also quite proficient at magic attacks.

The second was Doke. He was the leader of the Kobolds and had joined quite early on as well. He was highly esteemed among the Kobolds and was quite powerful. He was proficient at using spears and also had Stage 5 strength, and he wielded a City Lord Seal as well.

The third was Daisy. She was the leader of the Elves and was highly respected by all of them. She had also joined around when Doke had joined.

She had already been quite beautiful, and after fusing with the Holy Hall Bloodline, she had become even more beautiful and gave off an aura of purity as well. She was also incredibly powerful and proficient at magic attacks, and she also had a City Lord Seal.

The final one was Saar, the leader of the Orcs. After conquering the Orc City, he had been promoted and performed quite well. He was ferocious in battle and had contributed much to Great Qin.

He also had Stage 5 strength and liked using sabers, and he was respected by all Orcs. He also had a City Lord Seal.

Zhao Fu called them over for the purpose of fusing General Armaments. They had already fused with General Fate – now that Great Qin had participated in a large number of battles, they had killed many Generals, allowing many people in Great Qin to fuse with General Fate.

During this period of time, Great Qin had also gathered 400 Soldier Souls, which could provide Great Qin with another four General Armaments.

General Armaments were incredibly important, and Zhao Fu gave them the fused Divine Soldier Souls to fuse together.

The four people obeyed and stood apart from each other, looking quite excited. Zhao Fu had given such important things to them, who were Outlanders. It could be seen how much Zhao Fu valued them.

The forty Divine Soldier Souls gave off a large amount of white light and floated into the sky, forming four circles of orbs.

Following this, they gave off powerful auras, and the white light they gave off became more intense before forming forty massive orbs of light.

Boom!!

An explosion sounded out as the forty orbs of light gave off an even greater might, causing wild winds to ripple out. Within the orbs of light, the images of soldiers started to melt like ice and transformed into traces of violet qi, and the orbs of light seemed to call out to each other.

Boom! Boom! Boom! Boom!

Four massive explosions sounded out, causing the clouds to swirl as the heavens and earth dimmed. Four massive violet stars, giving off noble starlight, broke through the skyline and gradually descended.

In that moment, the people in the other Continents sensed these ripples and could not help but frown. After the real world had been destroyed, many people's Fate Stars had awakened, so they were quite sensitive to Fate Stars.

Looking at the four stars in the distance, their expressions became gloomy, and they sighed because that was the direction Great Qin was in. Because this had happened many times, they did not feel surprised about it anymore.

All of their Generals had awakened General Stars, but because they lacked General Armaments, they could not use their General Stars for much.

Back at the Midland Continent, Logue and Daisy raised their staffs, while Doke raised his spear and Saar raised his saber.

Boom! Boom! Boom! Boom!

The four of them released all of their power, causing terrifying auras to ripple out like corporeal shockwaves. Massive gales roared as the ground started to crack. Boulders rolled about and trees madly swayed. On the side, Zhao Fu unleashed his Emperor's Domain to defend against the wind.

The four people gave off different-colored auras that formed aura flames around them, and their auras became more and more powerful.

Boom!

Another massive explosion sounded out as the four people gave off intense lights that formed pillars of light. They gave off terrifying might as they shot into the sky, slamming into those four violet stars. Following this, the four violet stars gradually started to change color.

One gradually became black and gave off black starlight, giving off an aura of conquering. Zhao Fu was quite familiar with this General Star, as it was the Army Destroyer Star – this one belonged to Saar.

One star gradually became silver-white, making it look like a moon. It gave off a gentle starlight, and its aura was also quite gentle. It also contained a type of Yin Qi.

This was the Lunar Star, and it was Daisy's Fate Star. It was similar to a moon, and it was of a Yin and water attribute. It represented homeliness, wealth, motherhood, wives, and daughters.

The common folk often related the Lunar Star to the legend of Chang'E, and they would often worship the moon. The earliest records of it were from the Book of Documents: The sun, moon and stars were the ancestors of heaven; the mountains, rivers and seas were the ancestors of the earth. The heavens and earth were comprised of these six ancestors.

One of the stars gradually became a noble yellow color and gave off a yellow light. It gave off the aura of a Commander-In-Chief and Prime Minister, and it gave off an intense superior might.

This was called the Heaven Minister Star, and it was awakened by Logue. It represented Prime Ministers and had a supportive function.

The Heaven Minister Star was a star of leadership, and since ancient times, it had been called a 'seal star.' This represented prudentness and steadfastness, and it considered the bigger picture. It was not obvious that it was a Yang type star, and it was often mistaken to be a Yin type star.

Zhao Fu could not help but feel surprised. He had never thought that Logue would awaken a Heaven Minister Star. If he gave Li Si or Shang Yang a General Armament, they would most likely awaken Heaven Minister Stars, as they were suited to being Prime Ministers.

However, because they lacked General Armaments, Zhao Fu had to put all General Armaments to use, so Civil Ministers like Li Si and Shang Yang naturally were not given any.

The final star became a fiery color and gave off flaming light. It was extremely bright, and it gave off immense heat.

This star was called the Solar Star and was Doke's Fate Star. It was a noble star of light, universal love, and authority.

Chapter 1018: Sect Writ

The Lunar Star and Solar Star were opposing stars, and they could affect the two tree stars in the heavens, sun, and moon.

In ancient times, the Solar Star was referred to as the 'Noble Star' or the 'Culmination Emperor Star.' It was similar to the Myrtle Imperial Star, but their characteristics were different.

Even though the Solar Star was a star of assisting the ruler and was incredibly noble, it had to be bestowed by an Emperor.

Zhao Fu had never thought that Doke would awaken a Solar Star, and he was quite surprised. However, this made sense – after all, it was not just humans who could awaken General Stars. A General Star was determined by one's fate, and the type of fate one had determined one's General Star.

The four General Stars gave off their own starlight, and they brought with them mighty auras as they shined down on the world. Under those four stars, the countless people seemed incredibly small.

The four pillars of light gradually grew weaker, and the light that the four people gave off soon disappeared.

At that moment, the four stars gave off terrifying power, dispersing the clouds in the surrounding 10,000 kilometers. The four stars gave off an intense starlight that turned into four pillars of light and shined down on the four people's bodies.

The four people received the baptism of their General Stars, and their auras gradually changed and became stronger. Terrifying auras rippled out like shockwaves from them.

Following this, the pillars of starlight gradually disappeared. Logue's Epic grade Desolate Wood Scepter became yellow and seemed somewhat metallic, and it gave off a prestigious yellow light. Starlight flickered on it, engraving 'Heaven Minister' on it – it was now the Heaven Minister Scepter.

Daisy's Epic grade staff became silver-colored as if it was made of silver, and it gave off a gentle white light. The word 'Lunar' was now engraved on it, turning it into the Lunar Staff.

Doke's spear turned into a flaming-red iron spear that gave off a searing heat. There seemed to be flames burning on it, and the word 'Solar' was now engraved on it, making it the Solar Spear.

Finally, Saar's saber became a black-gold saber that gave off a ferocious aura that could cause others to feel fear. The words 'Army Destroyer' appeared on it, turning it into the Army Destroyer Saber.

Looking at the General Armaments in the four people's hands, Zhao Fu smiled and took them to have a look. They were similar, yet different, to the previous General Armaments.

The Heaven Minister Scepter's final special effect was called Heaven Minister Soldiers, and it made soldiers all-rounders. It not only increased their attack power and defense, but it also increased their speed and recovery, making them suitable for supporting.

The Lunar Staff's final special effect was called Lunar Soldiers, and it allowed soldiers to absorb the power of moonlight. This made their battle power increase several times over if it was at night.

The Solar Spear's final attribute was called Solar Soldiers, which was similar to Lunar Soldiers, but it allowed soldiers to absorb the power of the sun, making them more powerful at daytime.

Finally, the Army Destroyer Saber's special effect was the same as the previous Army Destroyer General Armaments.

Because the four General Armaments were already top-quality Epic grade equipment, after fusing with the power of the General Stars, they became vastly improved and became Level 2 Saint Armaments.

Great Qin now had 16 General Armaments, which was quite a large number. Most other people in the human world did not even have a single General Armament. He was now eight away from being able to fuse a King Armament.

Even though Zhao Fu did not have precise information on King Armaments, from the shard he had obtained in the past, he knew that a King Armament's power far exceeded General Armaments, so he greatly looked forward to the day he could fuse a King Armament.

After looking over the General Armaments, Zhao Fu returned them to their owners and held a celebration.

Following this, Zhao Fu went to the blood pool where they were refining the Primogenitor Statue. Because they had unified the Midland Continent and also taken over a Continent in the Fish Scale world, they now had a lot blood in the blood pool of all kinds of varieties.

This made the speed at which they refined the Primogenitor Statue much faster. The Primogenitor Statue started to go through some changes, such as its hair becoming blood-red and its body becoming black.

Zhao Fu was not sure what the Primogenitor Statue would become like after it was fully refined. However, at their current speed, it would still take another 180 years.

It seemed that he had to work harder and unify the human world in order to make the process even faster.

Another month later, three rays of demonic light shot into the sky, causing the weather to change. The clouds swirled as three massive auras spread out, and three terrifying images appeared in the sky.

One looked like a ghost, one looked like the face of a demon, and one was a demonic sword. The three images all gave off dense demonic qi, bringing with them a powerful aura of suppression. Everyone felt terror and trembled.

These were the three re-established Sects. Zhao Fu would only refine Nation Armaments and handed out Sect Armaments in order to increase the number of top-tier forces Great Qin had.

Zhao Fu gave the position of the Demon God Sect's Sect Master to Elise and gave the Sect Armament to her.

Zhao Fu made Zhao Mo the Sect Master of the Demon Ghost Sect, and he made Zhao Sha the Sect Master of the Demon Murder Sect. Finally, he made Ge Nia the Sect Master of the Demon Sword Sect.

The best choices for Sect Masters were those who had talent in cultivating and walked the path of supreme experts as opposed to Generals or aristocrats. Only then could they use the full power of the Sects and Sect Armaments.

As such, Zhao Fu would not make people like Bai Qi, Wang Jian, and the others Sect Masters. They were responsible for leading soldiers in battles, and if they were made Sect Masters, it would be quite strange. At the same time, Zhao Fu would not make any Civil Ministers Sect Masters either.

Zhao Mo had used to be a Demon Sovereign King, but in the future, Zhao Fu would have him walk the path of Sects as opposed to the path of Kings. After all, Great Qin could only have one King.

With Zhao Sha's Sin Devil bloodline, he was destined to be a supreme expert. As such, he was a suitable target to be nurtured. Finally, Ge Nia was Great Qin's number one swordsman. With his sort of talent, if Zhao Fu did not properly nurture him, he would be wasting a genius.

Elise and Zhao Mo were already considered Great Qin's most powerful forces, while Zhao Sha and Ge Nia were slightly weaker.

Now, all four of them were monstrously powerful, but Zhao Fu felt that there were still not enough of such people. Great Qin did not lack any Generals, but it seemed that it needed to nurture more genius cultivators. They would be immensely useful in the future.

Zhao Fu thought about it and decided that he could not delay in this; he could not lack soldiers and top-tier forces in this world. Without more top-tier forces, Zhao Fu would be quite limited.

Zhao Fu gathered his subordinates, and after a series of discussions, he decided to put into effect 'Sect Writs.'

Chapter 1019: Level 11 Marquisate Kingdom

Sect Writs were writs that encouraged people to join Sects, and they gave support to Sects to develop. Sects were the best places to nurture top-tier experts, as most experts in the world came from Sects. As such, it was important to greatly develop Sects.

Whether it was the management or structure of Sects, it was best to set them up like ordinary Sects. Moreover, it was better to start nurturing disciples from as young as possible, ideally below 16 years of age.

Zhao Fu had only started cultivating after entering the Heaven Awaken World, and his Cultivation had fallen behind most people his age. This was the case even though he had Heaven grade aptitude, and without it, he would have fallen behind even more.

In the future, Great Qin's focus would not be the development of academies but Sects. Both of them were incredibly important: One increased knowledge and culture, while the other increased strength. Only by developing both would Great Qin's future path be more secure.

Zhao Fu placed his attention on Sects and also helped the Hundred Schools of Thought develop. This was because the Hundred Schools of Thought had extraordinary abilities and would be a great help as well.

However, a few days later, a letter was sent to the Great Qin palace. It came from the Great Tang's Li family, and after hearing about this, Zhao Fu frowned. He did not even want to look at it and planned to destroy it.

However, the soldier who brought the letter reported, "The person who sent this said that Your Majesty must have a look, or else Your Majesty will regret it eternally."

Hearing this, Zhao Fu frowned and opened the letter. It was personally written by Li Zhe, but instead of words of repentance like last time, they were filled with cursing towards Zhao Fu and his mother.

He wrote that Zhao Fu was a unfilial bastard and as lowly as a beast to have forced the Li family into such a state. He also said that Zhao Fu's mother was a slut and a piece of trash and that him playing with her was her glory. He said that he regretted being so soft-hearted before; if he had known all of this would have happened, he would have killed them both.

After reading the letter, Zhao Fu felt immense anger well up within him to the point that he nearly coughed up blood. He was even tempted to head to the Western Continent by himself to get rid of the family.

However, Zhao Fu coldly laughed and threw out the letter, blasting it to smithereens with his power.

This was clearly a trap – there were most likely countless people waiting there in ambush. They wanted to anger Zhao Fu and lure him over before killing him. Once Zhao Fu died, the Great Qin Empire would most likely crumble.

The Li family was certain that Zhao Fu would go; with Zhao Fu's current status and personality, how could he endure such a thing? After all, most people with immense power in the human world did whatever they wanted with reckless abandon. This was especially so with Zhao Fu's own father writing such a letter – no ordinary person would be able to endure.

However, Zhao Fu decided not to go. They had definitely prepared something that would be able to kill him.

Zhao Fu was not so stupid as to go. He had been enduring this since he was little, and he could wait longer for his revenge. Zhao Fu did not put the Li family in his eyes anymore, and if he still cared about what Li Zhe said, it would be his loss.

Great Qin had already cleared out one-fifth of the empty regions, and soon, it would truly control the Midland Continent and Southern Continent. It seemed that it was the Li family who felt worried – once Great Qin finished clearing, it would most likely immediately attack.

The entire human world would once again become chaotic, and their situation would become even more difficult. They would have to face a direct attack from Great Qin.

If Zhao Fu went, he would be giving them what they wanted; only by not going would he be able to enrage them and make them even more panicked.

“In the future, destroy everything that the Li family sends over. There is no need to deliver them to Us.” Zhao Fu deeply breathed in and calmed himself down before turning his attention to Great Qin’s development. He then ordered people to start collecting information on the remaining Continents so that they could prepare a plan of attack.

It was now June, and it was another hot summer day. The sun seemed to be roasting the ground, and a sense of heat could be felt everywhere. It was quite annoying, and this year’s summer was even hotter than before.

However, everyone in Great Qin looked incredibly delighted. A black pillar of light stood between the heavens and earth, and countless clouds quickly gathered, forming a massive vortex. A massive gale blew away all of the hot air, making it instead a bit chilly.

Nine massive black dragons spiralled in the sky, causing the clouds to swirl. They gave off an unimaginably powerful might, creating an incredibly shocking scene.

After a year or so of clearing, Great Qin had finally unified the Midland Continent. It had also completed its Great Wall, marking all of the Midland Continent as its territory.

As for the Southern Continent and Netherwater Continent, they had not yet been fully cleared.

Now, Great Qin had become a Level 11 Marquisate Kingdom. The Midland Continent had 14,570 regions, and each level of Marquisate Kingdoms required 1,000 regions. However, leveling up to a Dukedom Kingdom required unifying an entire world, which had tens of thousands of regions. Ordinarily, Kingdoms only had nine levels.

However, Dukedom Kingdoms and Marquisate Kingdoms were quite special – after reaching Level 9, Marquisate Kingdoms could continue to level up. However, after Level 9, the number of regions required for the next level up doubled, becoming 2,000 regions for each subsequent level up.

A Level 11 Marquisate Kingdom's stats were naturally incredibly powerful, and the nation Fate was incredibly mighty. It had countless residents, and these were Great Qin's new stats:

Village Name: Great Qin Royal City (Human King)

Level: Marquisate Royal City (Level 11)

Village Area: 12,429,400 square kilometers

Village Territory: 1,632,421,800 square kilometers

Residents: 3,492,950/290,240,000

Military: 7,192,640/332,482,000

Popular Support: 86

Village Special Stats: Territory Crop Output +400%, Territory Crop Growing Time -400%, Population Limit +220%, Residents' stats can randomly +28, Soldiers' stats +33%, Population Attraction +300%, chance of attracting higher grade population +300%

Subsidiary Village Limit: 18,096,930

Subordinate Villages: Logue Village, Jean Village, Dorun Village, Li Family Village, Wolf Village, Ferocious Tiger Village...

Great Qin's overall population was now at 26 billion, and it had two billion soldiers. There were 1.4 billion Stage 1 soldiers, 70 million Stage 2 soldiers, 3.5 million Stage 3 soldiers, and 100,000 Stage 4 5 soldiers.

Great Qin now controlled 27,570 regions, and this included the regions in the Southern Continent and Netherwater Continent. There were 14,570 regions completely under its control within the Midland Continent.

Great Qin had one Marquisate City, three Barony Cities, nine Capital Cities, and 25,000 Great Cities, and this did not include the 20,000 Cities in the Dark Demon world's Southern Continent. It also had 6,521 Cities, 9,860 Towns, and 3,589,489 Villages.

Because they now fully controlled 14,570 regions, they had 40,210 Counties, which meant they could have 40,210 County Seals, 14,570 Province Seals, 1,457 Baron Seals, 145 Marquis Seals, 14 Duke Seals, and one Earl Seal.

At the same time, the Great Qin's Corps automatically upgraded as well. They were now Level 21 Corps, and each Corps could have 6.2 million soldiers, and they could now have a shocking 56 Corps.

Chapter 1020: New Corps

Great Qin's strength had once again become many times more powerful. They had over 40,000 Counties, which meant that Great Qin could have over 40,000 Civil Officials defending Great Qin. With the other Cities and Martial Officials, Great Qin's true power could be said to be absolutely monstrous.

With this sort of strength, the three other Continents would not be able to break into Great Qin at all. Now, only Great Qin had the right to attack them, and they no longer had to fear the threat of the other Continents.

However, Zhao Fu was now posed with a new problem, which was the 33 new Corps.

Great Qin already had 23 Special Corps, and Zhao Fu had spent a lot of effort creating them. The main problem was the vessels, which were quite rare. Each vessel required immense power.

Back then, Zhao Fu had already used up all of the special vessels to create the 23 Special Corps, and he could not think of anything else that could be used.

This made Zhao Fu's head ache – could it be that he had to establish ordinary Corps?

At that moment, Zhao Fu thought about the Sects and the Hundred Schools of Thought. Perhaps they could be used as vessels.

When he thought of this, a smile appeared on Zhao Fu's face. However, they had only just submitted to Great Qin, and their factions all belonged to themselves. Zhao Fu needed to confirm if they would be suitable or not.

The Sects that Zhao Fu had conquered would definitely be useable, as the Heaven Awaken World's sects were not any weaker than most Dynasty factions. There were still 29 Corps remaining, however.

A few days later, Zhao Fu discussed this matter with the Hundred Schools of Thought, and they were all quite cooperative. After some testing, they found that only some Schools were suitable, as some Schools were not suited to fighting, such as the School of Legalism, the School of Logicians, the School of Miscellany, and the School of Medicine.

These Schools all had abilities in other areas, so they were unable to become vessels for Corps. One of the suitable ones were the Ancient Clans; they had been one of the most powerful legacy factions, and their legacy was a bit stronger than even China's Five Great Dynasties.

There were also the School of Taoism, the School of Military, the School of War, the School of Armaments, and the School of Yin Yang.

There were seven of them in total, so there were still 22 Corps that required vessels.

At that moment, Zhao Fu remembered that two of the Corps he had seen during the battle between the Lelai Kingdom and Blue Wolf Kingdom were Cavalry Corps. Great Qin did not seem to have any, and with how powerful Cavalry Corps were, Great Qin could not do without them. As such, Zhao Fu decided to create some Cavalry Corps.

Great Qin's main mounts were Black God Horses, which had been enhanced many times. The Black God Horse Den was already incredibly high grade, and it had fused with a trace of Divinity, making it incredibly powerful.

Zhao Fu went over, tested it, and found that it was possible to be used as a vessel.

Apart from the Black God Horses as the main mounts, Great Qin had also nurtured two other types of mounts, which were the Orcs' Giant Wolves and the Elves' Giant Deer.

The Giant Deer were relatively mild, and ordinary people could ride them as well, though controlling them was quite difficult. However, the Elves were quite proficient at riding them. On the other hand, most ordinary people did not dare to ride the Giant Wolves. Because of how ferocious they looked, ordinary people did not dare to ride them.

Moreover, the Giant Wolves could only be mounted by the Orcs; anyone else who rode them would not be able to control them at all.

Because of this, Great Qin had nurtured some Giant Wolves and Giant Deer but not in large numbers.

In actuality, Great Qin now had many Orcs and Elves, hundreds of millions of each, so Zhao Fu felt that nurturing two Cavalry Corps for them would be no problem.

The Giant Wolf Den and Giant Deer were both bound to Cities; this was the advantage that the Outlanders had. If humans wanted mounts, they would have to search and capture them for themselves.

Zhao Fu went to an Orc Great City and took out a Corps Core. He found that it was suitable to be a vessel, but it did not have enough power and could only create an ordinary Corps.

However, Zhao Fu would not be stopped by something like this. This was because the Giant Wolf Den required Orc Blood Crystals, which were fused from the blood of countless Orcs. An Orc Blood Crystal required the blood of at least 100,000 Orcs to form.

They could increase the power of the Giant Wolf Den using Orc Blood Crystals, and Great Qin had many Orcs. As such, Zhao Fu ordered people to collect blood from Orcs. Similarly, the Giant Deer Dens also required Elf Blood Crystals, so he also ordered for Elf blood to be collected as well.

Of course, this did not require the killing of any people; everyone just had to give a bit of blood. Because there were hundreds of millions of them, a bit from everyone could form an ocean.

Using the secret techniques of the Orcs and Elves, all of the blood was fused together into two blood crystals that were each one meter wide. They gave off powerful auras as well as the dense smell of blood, making people instinctively want to retreat from them.

Following this, Zhao Fu used the two blood crystals on the Giant Wolf Den and Giant Deer Den. Two rays of blood-red light shot into the sky, causing blood-red auras to spread out. The images of a giant wolf and giant deer appeared in the sky, giving off heaven-shaking roars.

The Dens' power continuously increased, causing all sorts of abnormal signs. This was to be expected from fusing the blood of hundreds of millions of people, and the two Dens gained enough power to become vessels.

Now, Zhao Fu still had 19 more Corps to create. This was still quite a large number; what else could he use?

Suddenly, Zhao Fu thought of something, and he could not help but smile. Back when Great Qin had become a Level 1 Marquisate Kingdom, Great Qin had not yet unified any large areas. Now that they had unified the Midland Continent, they had conquered many Legacy factions.

Even though these Legacy factions' stats were quite ordinary and the Special Corps they created would be quite ordinary, they would be better than ordinary Corps at least. As such, Zhao Fu decided to make these Legacy factions into vessels as well.

Zhao Fu ordered people to bring him information on these Legacy factions, and he found that 14 of them could be used as vessels.

There were now five Corps Cores remaining. After thinking incredibly hard, Zhao Fu realized that he had forgotten about a powerful City, which was Masanori Hano's Devil City.

After they had submitted to Great Qin, Zhao Fu had not visited ever since. It did not need to be stated how powerful the Devil City was – all of its residents had a trace of the Devil bloodline, and the City had all kinds of powerful Devils. Ordinary people did not dare to take even a step inside.

With the Devil City, there were only four Corps Cores left. Zhao Fu could not think of what else to use, so he stored them away for now. There would be more battles in the future, and he would obtain more suitable vessels.

Following this, Zhao Fu started to create the Corps. He first went to the Black God Horse Den and fused a Corps Core into it. A formless aura spread out, and countless Black God Horses raised their heads and whinnied, while their King, Black Forest, did the same.

The Den gave off boundless black light, and a powerful aura blasted out as if a godly spirit was descending. An incredibly tall and well-built black horse appeared above the Den before turning into a stone stele.
