

The Lord 1291

Chapter 1291: Nine Continents

In fact, many Royal Kingdoms expressed that they were willing to support Great Qin and help it become a true Royal Kingdom. After all, Great Qin had the potential to become a Royal Kingdom, and if it did become one, it would become a powerful ally of theirs.

However, Zhao Fu still refused because they would not give their support for free – Great Qin would have to sign unfair contracts and would be greatly restricted in what it did.

Whenever those Royal Kingdoms had any requests, Great Qin would not be able to refuse. Even though they would be able to provide Great Qin with immense help, Zhao Fu could not just agree.

This made some of the Royal Kingdoms displeased. With their strength and foundation, them offering to help Great Qin was showing that they respected Great Qin. However, Great Qin did not give them any face, and they demanded for Zhao Fu to personally come out and apologize.

Now, there were currently a few people standing in a hall and giving off powerful auras. Their heads were all tilted upwards, looking quite arrogant.

In their eyes, Great Qin was just a new world that was quite strong, but their Royal Kingdoms would be able to casually destroy it. As such, they did not place Great Qin in their eyes at all. At the same time, they took Great Qin's King as just a Saint Realm expert.

“Where is your ruler? Tell him to hurry up and get out here. None of you have the right to talk with me. Don't you know that I'm the ambassador of the Jade Six Kingdom?” a big man shouted.

Bang!

A formless power blasted the big man, who had Heaven Realm Cultivation, backwards. This person was simply intolerable, and the more one endured his abuse, the more overboard he would go.

Zhao Fu walked out with a cold expression wearing a mask, hiding his appearance.

After being sent flying, the big man coughed up a mouthful of blood and looked furious as he roared, “You dare attack me? I’m the ambassador of the Jade Six Kingdom. The Jade Six Kingdom will immediately bathe Great Qin in blood!”

Zhao Fu coldly harrumphed, “Even though Great Qin only has two worlds, it’s not something that can be casually bullied. Also, do you think you really represent the Jade Six Kingdom? Even if the Jade Six Kingdom wanted to destroy Great Qin, it has to pay a heavy price. Do you really think you’re worth that price?”

Zhao Fu’s might as a Holy Son spread out, causing everyone’s bodies to freeze and for them to sweat cold sweat as they felt quite nervous.

This caused all of the ambassadors to become much more subdued. If they caused a war and billions of people died, they would not be able to bear the responsibility. Moreover, their main purpose here was to scope out Great Qin and see why that terrifying star had appeared.

“If you want to work together with Great Qin, it must be on equal terms. Great Qin will not accept any unequal contracts. As for that violet star, Great Qin does not know anything about it either. If you’re here for that, please return!”

Hearing Zhao Fu’s words, the ambassadors felt quite displeased, but they endured it.

Seeing how tough Great Qin’s attitude was, they could not use threats of force to obtain information. Just this King’s aura alone was enough to instantly kill everyone here. Everyone was shocked at just how powerful Great Qin’s King was.

Some people angrily left and planned to report this matter and have the higher-ups deal with it. It would be best to send over some experts to teach Great Qin a lesson.

Some stayed behind, and a white-robed elder smiled as he bowed and said, “This old man comes from the Dao Cultivation Sect and greets Your Majesty!”

Hearing that this person was from the Dao Cultivation Sect, Zhao Fu’s expression became even colder. It was not just because of Bai Shengjun but because of the Ancient Stem Banquet. However, Zhao Fu still nodded at him, indicating for him to continue.

The elder said respectfully, “This old man is here on orders from the Sect Master to collect information on that violet star. If Your Majesty is willing to assist, this old man will be eternally grateful!”

However, how could Zhao Fu tell him about this matter? He coldly replied, “Our answer is still the same – We don’t know anything about the violet star.”

The other ambassadors slightly frowned. Despite being a new world, Great Qin was so unwilling to give face. If they did not even respond to such courtesy, they would not be putting them in their eyes at all.

The elder’s expression was quite awkward and he felt that he would not be able to accomplish anything, so he could only choose to leave. However, he said courteously, “We would like to invite Your Majesty to the Dao Cultivation Sect sometime. The Dao Cultivation Sect welcomes Your Majesty.”

After receiving information about Great Qin, the Dao Cultivation Sect’s Sect Master found that Great Qin’s King was quite extraordinary. As such, he ordered the elder to act respectfully; otherwise, the elder would not have acted like this.

The others also felt that they could not get anything out of Great Qin’s King, so they decided to secretly investigate. They also reported this to the higher-ups and emphasized on how arrogant, cold, and powerful Great Qin’s King was.

They did not know that Zhao Fu was that mysterious Emperor who had shocked ten or so Domains within the Cosmos Historical Remnant. Right now, they only treated him as an ordinary King.

This matter not only caused Great Qin to enter the eyes of the Royal Kingdoms of a few Domains, but the Devil Horn Empire entered their eyes as well. Looking at its domineeringness that spanned four worlds, it also had the potential to become a Royal Kingdom, so they also paid visits to the Devil Horn Empire.

Yao Ming’s expression had been quite unsightly after seeing the Violet Sky Dragon Star. He clearly understood how terrifying that star was, and it caused his emotions to plummet.

However, now that so many Royal Kingdom level factions were visiting and expressing their willingness to support him, his Devil Horn Empire would be able to quickly rise to a Royal Kingdom, and he would be able to easily destroy Great Qin and get rid of this big threat.

Right now, Yao Ming wished he could devour Zhao Fu just like how he had devoured his little brother. Now, killing Zhao Fu was his greatest desire.

Time passed day by day, and soon the excitement about the Violet Sky Dragon Star gradually died down. Great Qin had quietly developed this entire time and did not make any noise. On the other hand, the Devil Horn Empire started to become raucous.

It invited all sorts of people and made agreements with a few Royal Kingdoms and obtained their support. It opened up trade with the surrounding five or six worlds, boosting their economies.

Because they could obtain great gains, the surrounding worlds' attitude towards the Devil Horn Empire changed. Before, they were quite wary of the Devil Horn Empire, as it already had nine Continents and was a great threat.

As such, Yao Ming had paid a great price in terms of money and resources, and he had made friends with the Princes of a few Royal Kingdoms. There was even a licentious Prince who had set his eyes on some of his Concubines, and he didn't hesitate to give them away.

A few unimportant Concubines for the favor of a Prince of a Royal Kingdom was an incredibly good deal. That Prince happily promised that he would convince his Royal Kingdom to give the Devil Horn Empire as much help as possible.

Following this, the Prince showed no restraint and pulled off the Concubines' clothes and started to do them right in front of Yao Ming.

Chapter 1292: Five Celestial Senses

Looking at his Concubines being taken by someone else right in front of him, Yao Ming felt quite displeased, but he endured it. As long as the Devil Horn Empire could rise to a Royal Kingdom and obtain great strength, it would be worth it.

If he had enough strength, he would be able to conquer that Prince's Kingdom and capture all of that Prince's sisters and relatives, and do them in front of him. That would feel much better.

The Concubines moaned under the Prince's body, and this lewd scene caused Yao Ming to also react. He prepared to call over a few Concubines because he had many of them. Even though he did not have as many as Zhao Fu, he had still gathered many beauties.

However, that Prince stopped him and told him to join in. Yao Ming did not hesitate and took off his clothes and joined in, and he called over a few more beautiful Concubines.

After a wild orgy, Yao Ming and the Prince became much closer, and they sat next to each other like brothers as a few Concubines serviced them below.

Soon, half a year had passed, and the Great Qin Empire welcomed in its eighth year in the Heaven Awaken World. After steadily developing for so long, its strength had grown significantly.

It now had 270,000 Cities, 50,000 Towns, four million Villages, and 210 billion people.

It had 16 billion soldiers – one billion were below Stage 1; 13 billion were Stage 1; two billion were Stage 2; 70 million were Stage 3; and two million were Stage 4.

Great Qin also had one billion Ghost Soldiers, 1.2 billion Devils, and 240,000 beasts. There were 1.2 million large-sized beasts and two million Fallen Angels.

Great Qin also had 21,000 Wyverns, and 18,000 were able to fight. There were also 1.1 million Corpse Soul Soldiers and 25,000 Corpse Soul Commanders.

There were also five million Illusion Flower Devils, 2.6 million Spiders, and six million Giant Wolves.

Because the production stats had disappeared, Great Qin had modified its plan. It had reduced its population to soldier ratio to make sure that there were enough people working to produce food. Food was now the most important resource, and they could not afford to run out.

Also, the reason that Great Qin had so many Stage 1 soldiers was primarily because of the Blood God Pills and Darkness Crystals. With the Darkness Blood Pills, they could cause a Stage 0-5 soldiers to instantly become Stage 1.

Darkness Blood Pills were refined from Darkness Beast blood, and the Darkness Beasts were wild beasts that had been corrupted by darkness. Because Great Qin had constructed a Darkness Magic Formation, living creatures would often be corrupted.

The Darkness God Pills also contained a large amount of Darkness Power, and they could give one a weak Darkness Bloodline.

The reason why Great Qin had so many Stage 2 soldiers as well was also because of this. Not only did they consume Stage 2 Blood God Pills, but there were also Darkness Crystals and Darkness Blood Pills. Otherwise, Great Qin would not be able to have two billion Stage 2 soldiers so quickly.

A Stage 2 soldier could deal with seven or eight Stage 1 soldiers. As such, two billion Stage 2 soldiers was equivalent to having 14 billion Stage 1 soldiers. With them, Zhao Fu now had the strength to resist a Royal Kingdom.

It was a pity that the higher one's cultivation was, the more difficult it became to raise it. As such, there were not as many Stage 3 and Stage 4 soldiers.

Now, Great Qin's soldiers had truly turned into Darkness Soldiers. Not only did they have black armor and black weapons, but the auras that they gave off were also black and they had Darkness Power. Adding on their black hair, black eyes, and cold and resolute faces, anyone would feel fear when looking at them.

Great Qin's army now no longer looked like a human army but a demonic army that could destroy everything. They gave off an intimidation of pure darkness.

Zhao Fu was quite pleased with this. Despite spending so much time and resources, the results were extremely good.

Now that they had greater strength, Great Qin could continue expanding outwards. However, Great Qin's biggest enemy, the Devil Horn Empire, had received the help of a few Royal Kingdoms and had also grown quickly, giving Great Qin a lot of pressure.

Now that the Devil Horn Empire had the support of a few Royal Kingdoms, its threat was much greater. As such, the surrounding worlds were more willing to work with Great Qin to resist the Devil Horn Empire.

Zhao Fu came to the Spider Palace because there was something important that he needed to take care of.

It had been a while since he had been here, and he found that there were more people here. The Spider Attendants with short, black hair, black eyes, and bewitching figures now numbered around 1,000, while there were ten or so ones with silver hair and silver eyes. It seemed that Elise had been diligently completing the task that he had given her. Zhao Fu smiled and walked towards Elise.

“Your Majesty, 1,000 Spider Crystals and the one I condensed have been prepared. Can you give me a reward now?” Elise leapt into Zhao Fu’s embrace and hugged him as she gave a flirtatious smile.

Zhao Fu laughed as he picked up her petite figure and walked towards her chambers. The other Spider Attendants all gave coy laughs and rushed over as well.

However, nothing happened – Zhao Fu looked over the fingernail-sized crystals on Elise’s bed.

There were three types of the crystals. One was black, and there were over 1,000 of them. One was silver, of which there were ten or so of them, and one was red. They all gave off mysterious auras, and the black ones were the lowest grade while the red one was the highest grade.

Elise had already taken off her clothes, and she hugged Zhao Fu from behind as she said coquettishly, “Your Majesty, you still haven’t rewarded me. You can look at those Spider Crystals later!”

The other Spider Attendants also came over. There were already a few of the silver-haired Spider Attendants squatting down serving Zhao Fu.

However, Zhao Fu cut her off, “That comes later; I’ve been waiting for this for six or seven years, and I can’t wait any longer.”

These Spider Crystals were made by Elise and the Spider Attendants, and it took a lot of time and effort to produce them. Their main use was to unlock Premonition, the fifth sense of the Five Celestial Senses. What Zhao Fu wanted to do was unlock Premonition.

Zhao Fu had first unlocked Vision, which enhanced his vision and enhanced any abilities related to his eyes. Divine Sense had strengthened his soul and given him great immunity against mental attacks.

Perception made him incredibly sensitive to his surroundings, and increased his Comprehension of Domains. Heavenly Sense had raised his affinity with the heavens and earth, and it would make it easier for him to comprehend the Dao of the Heavens and Earth.

The final sense was Premonition, which would give him foresight of certain things. It was a sixth sense that spiders naturally had. The Spider Crystals that they created could unlock Premonition, and after such a long time, Zhao Fu would finally unlock the Five Celestial Senses.

It had been six or seven years since he had first unlocked Vision, and Zhao Fu could not help but feel incredibly excited.

Chapter 1293: Celestial Mode

A massive formless energy covered these crystals and refined them into liquid. Zhao Fu opened his mouth and gulped down all of the liquid and started to refine it within his body.

After entering Zhao Fu's stomach, the liquid turned into a formless energy and spread out within Zhao Fu's body. Zhao Fu's body quickly absorbed that energy and went through slight changes, giving off a profound and mysterious aura.

Boom!

An explosion sounded out within Zhao Fu's mind – the mysterious energy flowed into his head, causing Zhao Fu's soul to tremble and quickly devour that energy. A formless ripple spread out from Zhao Fu's body and he slowly opened his eyes.

The final sense of the Five Celestial Senses, Premonition, had been unlocked!

Zhao Fu did not have the ability to look into the future, as that was related to looking into Heaven's Secrets and would cause a backlash from Heaven's Secrets. However, Zhao Fu now had premonition and danger, but it was only a few minutes in advance at most.

Now, the most important thing was that after unlocking the Five Celestial Senses, he would be able to unlock the Celestial Mode.

It was said that not only could the Celestial Mode move mountains and fill seas, but it could also both cause disasters and bring blessings; it allowed one to fuse with the heavens and temporarily become a Celestial Being.

Celestial Beings were a type of race birthed by the heavens, and they had extremely great power. At the same time, they belonged to the apex race within the Spirit Race and had few numbers. No one knew if there were still any Celestial Beings.

After all, the Spirit Race did not have great numbers, and as the apex race of the Spirit Race, they would naturally have very few numbers. No one had seen a Celestial Being in a long time.

Now, it was time for Zhao Fu to combine the five senses and enter the Celestial Mode.

First was Vision. Zhao Fu's eyes gave off an intense silver light, looking like two eyes made of silver. He then activated Divine Sense, and his soul also gave off an intense white light that passed through his body. It looked as if Zhao Fu's head was giving off countless rays of white light.

Zhao Fu then activated Heavenly Sense, causing his body to give off an intense yellow light that illuminated the room. Next was Perception, which caused intense golden light to appear and form a golden energy barrier around Zhao Fu.

Last was Premonition – countless rays of black light shot out of Zhao Fu's forehead and pierced through 100 meters of space.

Now, Zhao Fu's body gave off five different lights and his body was filled with five different energies. What Zhao Fu needed to do was fuse those five energies together.

Zhao Fu started to gather the five energies into his chest and fuse them. Because they all belonged to the Five Celestial senses, they were quite easy to fuse. Soon, the five energies formed a lychee-sized five-colored orb of light at Zhao Fu's chest.

At that moment, something unexpected happened. The trace of rainbow-colored aura left behind in Zhao Fu's body by the Celestial Peach suddenly flew towards the five-colored orb of light.

Boom!

Zhao Fu felt the world and his mind tremble as his mind went blank. All of his senses seemed to disappear – he could not see, hear, or smell anything, and his body had no feeling to it.

The heavens and earth started to go through changes as a berserk wind blew and clouds wildly gathered. The world's power quickly gathered, and the ocean-like power flowed into Zhao Fu's body and gathered at the rainbow-colored orb of light on his chest.

The orb of light trembled a few times before condensing and forming a seven-colored pearl, and an even greater power was drawn over.

Boom!

The rainbow pearl seemed to be satisfied and exploded out with an extremely great power, sending out a terrifying shockwave. The ground cracked, and fortunately the Spider Attendants had all retreated far away, or else they would have been heavily injured if not killed.

Zhao Fu gave off a faint rainbow-colored light and a rainbow-colored magic formation the size of a coin appeared on his forehead. A two meter wide circle made of rainbow-colored runes appeared around him, while Zhao Fu sat at the center.

After opening his eyes, Zhao Fu's eyes gave off a rainbow-colored light and his body seemed to give off an etherealness. He seemed to be both there and yet not there, as if he was a Celestial.

Zhao Fu did not know if this was the Celestial Mode or something else. Zhao Fu was not sure, but what he did know was that he had taken hold of a supreme power.

In this state, Zhao Fu's eyes could see through nothingness and see all kinds of formless energies and elemental essences. His body could sense everything in the surrounding 10,000 meters, even a grain of sand.

At the same time, Zhao Fu had foresight of everything that would happen in the next minute. However, this was only if there were no powers interfering with him.

Even though it was only for one minute, it was incredibly clear. Before, with Premonition he could only hazily sense danger.

Even though one minute was not very long, one could do much in that time and avoid many disasters. It was a very powerful technique, and ordinary people naturally would not have it. What was key was that Zhao Fu would not receive Heaven's Secrets backlash from using this.

Now, Zhao Fu had some powerful tricks up his sleeve for the Emperor Path College exam next year. He would not be much inferior to those true geniuses.

Compared to when he had met Wu Five, he had gone through immense changes. Not only had he awakened the Violet Sky Dragon Star, but he had also obtained a Divine Bloodline and gained Celestial Mode.

If he once again fought Wu Five, Zhao Fu was confident that he would be able to defeat him without fusing with the Six Paths Demon Images. Zhao Fu definitely had the power and would not have to fight so desperately.

Now that Zhao Fu's bloodline had risen to a Divine Bloodline and he had the Violet Sky Dragon Star, the damage he would take from fusing with the Six Paths Demon Images would be greatly reduced. He would no longer be heavily injured just from fusing with them.

Zhao Fu wanted to try out the true power of the Celestial Mode, but looking at Elise serving him below, looking both pitiful and bewitching, Zhao Fu laughed and started to go about it with her.

The Spider Attendants also went over in delight. They had tasted this pleasure a few times before, or else they would not be so desperate.

Lewd sounds continuously sounded out as Zhao Fu started to ravage the various Spider Attendants, causing them to gasp and moan.

On the other side, the Devil Horn Empire was currently discussing a big matter. After half a year of developing, with the support of a few Royal Kingdoms, they had grown immensely.

They were digesting the population they had absorbed, and their army had greatly grown. They had also greatly improved their equipment and weapons. They now had three million devil beasts and had returned to their peak.

Moreover, these devil beasts had gone through the baptism of the Kin Devil Spirit Vein. Their eyes were blood-red, and even though they were slightly less intelligent, they were much more powerful and savage.

Chapter 1294: Lantong

After drinking the fountain water from the Kin Devil Spirit Fountain, the Devil Horn soldiers obtained that restrictive power and became much stronger. They were also much more ferocious than before, and their battle prowess greatly increased.

With the help of the Royal Kingdoms, Yao Ming had also developed a Kin Forbidden Technique. He had some soldiers kill their siblings and parents and then devour them. Adding on the fountain water, they could become devil monsters.

Their bodies were two meters tall and they had two horns on their heads. They had blood-red eyes, muscular figures, and scales. Each of them could fight seven or eight others at the same level.

There were not many of these monsters because the soldiers had to kill their own relatives and eat their corpses. It was only because of massive rewards that some people would choose to do this.

Many people had started to kill and eat their relatives for wealth and power.

Late at night, a young man held a knife as he snuck into a room. Looking at the two elderly people sleeping soundly, he inwardly apologized to them; it was time for them to be of use. After a few strikes, the young man killed the two elderly people.

The two of them died quickly. The young man went over them and started to eat in big mouthfuls. These two elderly people were his parents who had raised him for many years.

Within a courtyard, a big man looked at the baby in his arms and thought to himself about the massive wealth and power he would gain. He then looked at his wife, who he had knocked unconscious, and he made up his mind – they could always give birth to more.

The big man raised his arms, preparing to slam the baby onto the ground, but the noise might be too big. As such, he used his hand to suffocate the baby before devouring it in large bites. The baby's flesh was quite tender and supple, and the flavor made the big man feel quite intoxicated.

At a desolate place, a young man held a dagger as he eerily smiled and walked towards another young man. The other young man had a few wounds on his body and blood stained his clothes. He weakly pleaded, "Little bro, I've always treated you well. Why are you doing this?"

The young man coldly laughed, "For power and authority! Our King even ate his own little brother and became much stronger, so big bro, help me one last time!"

In the end, the young man killed his big brother. Instead of devouring him like a wild beast, he used his dagger to gradually cut off his big brother's flesh and slowly ate it.

Within a room, a young woman tearily pleaded, "Big brother, don't do this! We can't do this!"

A young man was ravaging the young woman, who continuously struggled. The young man savagely laughed and enjoyed the young woman's body. However, because the young woman was resisting too greatly, he used his hands to suffocate her before continuing.

Afterwards, he took a few bites but then spat it out. He found that he did not like eating raw flesh, so he took a cleaver and started to chop apart the girl's body to boil it.

A while later, a delicious aroma floated out, and the young man added some seasoning before eating in big mouthfuls as he thought about the fame and glory in the future.

This sort of thing started to happen more and more. In order to obtain power, Yao Ming was willing to pay any cost and had no ethical reservations. Now that even their King had done such a thing, no one else had any worries.

Right now, killing one's relatives and eating them was not only not a crime, but they would even receive immense rewards. As such, many people started to do this.

There were more and more of the Kin Devil Soldiers, and soon their numbers reached 400 or 500 million. Their battle power could rival three billion ordinary soldiers, and with such a terrifying army, Yao Ming felt that doing anything was worth it.

If they continued like this, his dream of having a Royal Kingdom would soon be realized. He would also be able to destroy Great Qin and devour Great Qin's Legatee.

With the Devil Horn Empire's strength, they could start a war as opposed to continue to quietly develop like this. Now, the Devil Horn Empire had the power to deal with various threats.

Yao Ming summoned his subordinates and started to discuss expansion. Their target was not Great Qin because Yao Ming knew that Great Qin had also become much more powerful. Attacking Great Qin right now was not a wise decision.

He needed to further develop his power before he could destroy Great Qin; this power was not enough. As such, he decided to attack some other worlds first and increase his power.

Yao Ming chose the Lantong World because it was next to the Devil Horn Empire and was the closest world. Moreover, after fighting against them for many years, they had whittled away a large portion of the Lantong World's strength.

Comparatively speaking, the Lantong World was weaker than the other worlds and would be easier to take down with fewer casualties.

Moreover, after conquering the Lantong World, the Continents that the Lantong people had conquered in the Grassi World would also belong to the Devil Horn Empire. When that time came, the Devil Horn Empire would have five Continents in the Grassi World. If they could conquer the Continent that Great Qin occupied, the Devil Horn Empire would have the strength of three worlds.

After making detailed battle plans, Yao Ming officially started to invade the Lantong World. Because of the wariness of the other worlds towards the Devil Horn Empire, they had to quickly conclude this battle or else the other worlds would also get involved.

In fact, they might even simultaneously attack the Devil Horn Empire to tie down their army. There was also Great Qin, their greatest enemy; they would definitely try to stop them too.

Because the Lantong people were often invaded by the Devil Horn Empire, they had invested a lot in their defenses; it would not be so easy to break past them.

As such, Yao Ming would not act without preparations. In actuality, ten or so years ago Yao Ming had set down a few pieces within the Lantong World in preparation for this day in order to quickly conquer the Lantong World.

Before, the Lantong World could join forces with the Grassi World to resist the Devil Horn Empire's invasion. Adding on the other worlds restricting the Devil Horn Empire, the Devil Horn Empire would not be able to conquer the Lantong World.

However, things were different now – the Grassi World had already been destroyed, leaving only the Lantong World. The Devil Horn Empire had also given great benefits to the surrounding worlds, so they were not too wary towards the Devil Horn Empire. If the Devil Horn Empire suddenly attacked the Lantong World, they would not be able to react in time.

The Devil Horn Empire went all-out, preparing to take down the Lantong World in one fell swoop.

Late at night, the sky was completely black and there were no stars. The lighting was quite dim, and visibility was low. The wind blew loudly, making people feel quite unsettled.

The Lantong World had constructed a large defensive wall at its border with the Devil Horn Empire, and there were Lantong people standing guard all around. Because they had been continuously invaded by the Devil Horn Empire, the Lantong people were always incredibly wary of the Devil Horn Empire and did not dare to be careless.

Chapter 1295: Devil Horn Invasion

However, the problem was that there were traitors – and not just one but four. They were scattered across a few Continents, and they were three Barony Kingdoms and one Marquisate Kingdom. The Devil Horn Empire had buried these pieces for ten or so years and they would have a fatal effect today.

However, because the Lantong people were incredibly wary of the Devil Horn Empire and were on their guards against traitors, they all joined together to defend as opposed to remaining scattered.

Once something happened anywhere, all of the Lantong people would know. Under Yao Ming's orders, the Marquisate Kingdom started to launch attacks on many Kingdoms, causing the Lantong World to fall into chaos.

No one could understand why this Kingdom would be so arrogant as to attack others. However, they were successful in drawing a lot of the other Lantong people's attention and forces.

On the other hand, the three Barony Kingdoms' forces took this opportunity to take down a portion of the defensive wall. The prepared Devil Horn soldiers flooded in, giving off ferocious auras that swept across everything. No one could stop them.

By the time the Lantong people realized that something was wrong, it was already too late. They hurriedly gathered to defend and called for help.

Countless flying beasts flew in the sky, and countless beasts surged forwards on the ground. Massive amounts of Devil Qi filled the world, and the pairs of blood-red eyes seemed especially conspicuous in the darkness of the night.

Seeing this scene, countless Lantong people felt their legs weaken. They felt an impending aura of death and could not help but tremble.

Swish, swish, swish...

The sound of the air being torn could be heard as countless terrified Lantong people shot out arrows, forming an arrow rain. The flying beasts fell after being struck by arrows, and countless beasts on the ground were also hit as they howled in pain and died.

However, even more devil beasts leapt onto the defensive walls, using their claws to maul soldiers to death, their beaks to bite off soldiers' heads, or their bodies to send soldiers flying. The Lantong soldiers continuously died.

Countless devil beasts also destroyed portions of the defensive walls and rushed in, charging into soldiers and trampling on them. Countless pained and terrified cries sounded out as the Lantong people started to run.

The Devil Horn army quickly breached into Cities and in order to motivate the soldiers, Yao Ming ordered that they could do anything, whether it was pillaging or rape.

The evil soldiers charged into Cities and savagely laughed, killing anyone they saw and taking anything of value.

They disregarded any pleas for mercy, and one soldier loudly laughed as he cut off the hands and feet of a young man lying on the ground, paralyzed with fear. He cried out and squirmed like a worm, dragging out a trail of blood behind him.

A Cavalryman dragged an elderly man behind him with a rope, causing that elderly man's flesh to be torn up, and he cried out in pain. In the end, he was dragged to death, his flesh mangled beyond recognition.

Bang!

A large sound rang out as seven or eight soldiers crashed into a room and looked at the young man and beautiful pregnant woman hiding. They gave savage smiles as they rushed over.

The young man knelt on the ground as he pleaded for mercy, offering everything of value so that the Devil Horn soldiers would spare them. However, the Devil Horn soldiers cut down the young man before starting to violate his pregnant wife.

The young man felt incredible pain, and he wanted to kill these bastards. However, he did not have any strength. He was on the verge of death, and he deeply experienced the feeling of the weak being preyed on by the strong. He hated himself for not being stronger.

Following this, the soldiers took everything of value, as well as the beautiful woman, who was extremely weak. It was rare for them to be able to play with such a beautiful woman, and they planned on taking her to the streets and selling her for one silver coin for each round.

In the end, the beautiful pregnant woman was screwed to death by the soldiers, and her corpse was thrown to the side.

These Devil Horn soldiers were not even as bad as the Kin Devil Soldiers. Because they had obtained a restrictive power, they liked to slaughter others in horrific ways, such as tearing people's stomachs open or tying them to pillars and killing them cut by cut.

There were some who were even more twisted. They buried people and put a straw in their mouths before pouring flaming oil into the straws and causing those people to burn to death from the inside. They could not struggle at all and suffered immense pain.

The Lantong army quickly gathered, but whether it in numbers or strength, they were vastly inferior to the Devil Horn Empire. Moreover, they did not have a massive devil beast army.

However, the Lantong people still made a final charge because they were the Lantong World's final defense. If they did not defend against the Devil Horn Empire's invasion, the Lantong World would perish and their families would all die horrible deaths.

Boom!

The two massive tides ferociously clashed together, resulting in a massive explosion. The sounds of countless weapons clashing could be heard, and both sides desperately killed, causing blood to fly everywhere.

A Lantong soldier gripped his spear and stabbed it through a Devil Horn soldier's chest. A Devil Horn soldier chopped off a Lantong soldier's arm before slashing through his throat. A Devil Horn soldier smashed his hammer down onto a Lantong soldier's head...

The Lantong army started to disintegrate at a rate visible to the naked eye. The soldiers were unable to stop the Devil Horn army at all, and they were either killed by the devil beasts or the soldiers.

In the end, unsurprisingly, the Lantong people lost. Only some soldiers were able to escape, and Lantong corpses were left all over the ground.

The Devil Horn side loudly cheered. They were not interested in the ordinary corpses, but they cut off the heads of the Generals' corpses and stuck them on spears that were planted in the ground to announce their victory.

The final resisting force had disappeared, and the Lantong people could no longer defend. In the face of the Devil Horn Empire's twisted and cruel methods, they chose to submit in fear. Just like that, the Lantong World perished.

The battle only lasted for a few days, and at the start, the surrounding worlds were not prepared at all. By the time they had gathered their forces, it was too late; the Devil Horn Empire had already conquered the Lantong World and even if they attacked, they could not reverse this.

Now, the Devil Horn Empire had two Worlds and nine Continents in other worlds, which was far more than what Great Qin had. It was now the most powerful Kingdom in this area.

The Kingdoms around the Devil Horn Empire hurriedly allied together because the Devil Horn Empire was too big of a threat. If they did not do anything, they would be destroyed just like the Lantong World.

At the same time, some Kingdoms contacted other worlds to cooperate and suppress the Devil Horn Empire.

Some worlds even took the initiative to invite Great Qin to suppress the Devil Horn Empire. They wanted to borrow Great Qin's strength to suppress the Devil Horn Empire's domineering flames, but Great Qin did not reply or attack the Devil Horn Empire.

This was because while the Devil Horn Empire was attacking the Lantong World, Great Qin was attacking the Dark Demon World that it had been eyeing for a long time.

Chapter 1296: Don't Blame Us

After hearing that the Devil Horn Empire was attacking the Lantong World, Zhao Fu and his subordinates discussed whether they should attack the Devil Horn Empire. However, if they did that, they would at most only be able to stall the Devil Horn Empire, and Great Qin would not be able to benefit in any way. As such, it was best to attack the Dark Demon World while the Devil Horn Empire was attacking the Lantong World.

Now that the Devil Horn Empire was attacking the Lantong World, they naturally would not be able to stop Great Qin. That way, Great Qin would have three worlds.

Ever since the Grassi World, Half-Beast World, and Elf World had been conquered, the Dark Demon World had gone into high alert. Without the three worlds, they would not be able to stop Great Qin at all. As such, they would be the next world to be destroyed.

Moreover, Great Qin had already conquered a Continent in the Dark Demon World, and their world only had three Continents left.

It could be said that Great Qin could easily destroy them, and they were so terrified that they could only defend. They were truly united, which was quite rare, or else they would be destroyed.

However, even if they were united, they could only defend their own Continents and could not gather all of their forces to fight a final battle against Great Qin.

After all, Great Qin had already conquered one Continent and could simultaneously attack three Continents. As such, they naturally could not gather together. Great Qin split into three armies and attacked the three Continents in order to conquer the Dark Demon World as quickly as possible.

The most powerful Continent, the Eastern Continent, had around 15,000 regions. Four of the seven World Legatees came from the Eastern Continent, and the World Protector was also from the East Continent. It was definitely the most powerful of the remaining four Continents.

The two other Continents were relatively weaker, so Zhao Fu personally led soldiers to attack the Eastern Continent, while Bai Qi led soldiers to attack the Western Continent and Wang Jian led soldiers to attack the Northern Continent.

Zhao Fu and his army quickly arrived at the Eastern Continent. There were countless restrictive barriers here; the Eastern Continent wanted to stall for time, but all of them were forcefully destroyed by Great Qin.

The two armies quickly clashed. One side defended a 100 meter tall defensive wall with serious and nervous looks. They gave off powerful auras and seemed as if no one could get past them.

On the other hand, Great Qin's side was dressed in black armor and gave off a majestic and boundless aura. They were much more terrifying than the Dark Demon World's forces and looked like a darkness dragon that could shake the world, and they gave off a power that caused the entire world to feel terror.

Great Qin's military forces vastly surpassed that of the Dark Demon World's. Because they had taken in people from many Continents, they had five billion soldiers attacking the Eastern Continent of the Dark Demon World.

The Eastern Continent only had three billion people, and most of them were ordinary people and not proper soldiers, or else they would not have even these numbers. However, because the Dark Demon World was a Cultivation World, now that their bodies had fused with their bodies in the real world, most of them had at least Stage 1 strength.

Zhao Fu stood in the air with Mo Yao'Er next to him. Opposite him was Mo Qi as well as a bald-headed elder, who was the Sect Master of the Demon Study Sect. There was also a cold-looking woman with almost flawless looks, wearing white clothes – she was the Dark Demon World's number one beauty, the daughter of the Demon Celestial Sect's Sect Master. There was also a peerlessly beautiful woman with a graceful figure, but there was a hint of savageness about her, making her look like someone to not be lightly offended. She was the Dark Demon World's number two beauty.

There was also a handsome young man who gave a bright and confident smile. He was another of the World Legatees, the Legatee of a Dynasty.

“Do you think that you have the strength to defend? If you surrender, We will treat you all well and will not pursue past matters.” Zhao Fu stood in the air and gave a confident smile as he released a powerful aura.

Mo Qi and the others' expressions were quite unsightly. It had been a while since they had seen Zhao Fu, and his power was now ten or so times greater than theirs. If it was before, Mo Qi would have been able to at least fight decently with Zhao Fu, but he could not do so at all anymore. Fortunately, he had a Nation Armament, so he could somewhat resist, or else he would be directly suppressed.

Mo Qi looked at Zhao Fu seriously and did not reply, showing that he was not willing to surrender.

Beside him, the Dark Demon World's number two beauty, Mo Qianqian, coldly laughed as she said, “We will not easily submit to anyone. Make us submit if you have the ability to do so!”

Zhao Fu's smile disappeared as he said coldly, “Since you all want to die, Don't blame Us!”

Boom!

A terrifying aura spread out like a wild gale. Zhao Fu did not hesitate and released all of his power as he started to attack.

Sensing Zhao Fu's terrifying aura, Mo Qi and the others' expressions became even grimmer. They immediately exploded out with the power of their Nation Armaments as powerful winds blew out.

Zhao Fu disdainfully laughed and also unleashed his Nation Armament's power. He did not use his cultivation power, as using his Nation Armament would settle things much faster.

Now that Great Qin had two worlds and an additional four Continents, the power that his Nation Armament contained far surpassed the Nation Armaments of Mo Qi and the others.

Shing!

Zhao Fu rushed up and his sword slashed out a massive sword light as a sharp sword wind blew out, giving off an aura that seemed to be able to tear apart anything as it flew forwards.

Mo Qi looked quite shocked, and not only did he release his Sect Armament's power, but he also released the Dark Demon World's Clan Armament. In this time of crisis for the whole Dark Demon World, the Clan Armament would be able to release its greatest power. However, in the end, Mo Qi was still blasted back by Zhao Fu.

The bald-headed elder roared as he slammed his palm out. Countless traces of demonic qi flowed out and formed a 1,000 meter tall palm that gave off a boundless aura of destruction as it slammed towards Zhao Fu.

Zhao Fu casually swung his sword and a blood-red sword arc appeared, slashing through the palm and causing it to explode and dissipate into demonic qi. The massive sword energy also sent the bald-headed elder flying, leaving a gash on his chest.

The white-clothed woman, handsome young man, and Mo Qianqian gave off powerful auras as they charged at Zhao Fu, but they were all slashed back by him.

Explosions continuously sounded out in the sky as terrifying shockwaves rippled out. However, it was evident that the Dark Demon Legatees were not a match for Zhao Fu. Despite using the full power of their Nation Armaments, they could not stand up to him at all. After all, the difference in power between the two sides was simply too great, whether it was their personal power or their Nation Armaments' power.

As the battle in the sky unfolded, Great Qin's soldiers below also charged. They first shot out a wave of Talisman Arrows that turned into powerful rays of light, seeming to tear the sky apart. The Dark Demon soldiers' bodies were torn into pieces, causing blood to splatter everywhere as cries continuously sounded out.

They first used a wave of Talisman Arrows to suppress the other side, after which the Wyverns and flying devil beasts gave off roars and started to attack the defensive walls.

The flames and icy blasts roasted or froze the soldiers, while the devil beasts devoured the soldiers or slammed into them, and the Devils tore their bodies apart.

Chapter 1297: Punishment

On the ground, Great Qin's army roared as they surged forwards like a black flood, giving off an aura that seemed to be able to destroy everything as they charged towards the defensive walls.

Massive spiders easily climbed up the walls and used their blade-like legs to cut apart soldiers' bodies, while the enormous Corpse Soul Commanders swung their heavy weapons and smashed the soldiers into meat paste.

Countless Giant Wolves leapt onto the defensive walls and started to madly tear apart the soldiers, while the Illusion Flower Devils released pollen that caused countless soldiers to fall into an illusion.

With the various devil beasts and beasts attacking, Great Qin's soldiers were able to easily scale the defensive walls and start fighting with the enemy soldiers.

A Great Qin soldier hacked down with his black saber, chopping into a Dark Demon soldier's head. Another Great Qin soldier pierced through the chest of a Dark Demon soldier with his black sword, while another stabbed his black spear through the heart of a Dark Demon soldier.

The Dark Demon soldiers desperately resisted and attacked the countless devil beasts, beasts, and soldiers, resulting in an intense battle.

However, it was very evident that the Dark Demon World was not a match for Great Qin. They were suppressed by Great Qin from the very beginning and were unable to defend at all. Most of the people falling were from the Dark Demon World, while Great Qin only suffered small losses.

Under such immense pressure, the Dark Demon World could only use their trump card. They activated magic formations, from which large amounts of demonic qi spread out, and a cold demonic intent caused people's hairs to stand on end.

100 meter tall Demon Generals wearing demonic armor and holding demonic weapons appeared. They had savage faces and gave off ferocious auras. The immense demonic might caused the surrounding atmosphere to become incredibly heavy.

After these Demon Generals were summoned, before they even had time to roar, countless beasts and devil beasts savagely charged over and the two sides clashed together.

A Demon General swung its large saber, sending out a massive saber light that blasted a Corpse Soul Soldier flying. However, a few other beasts leapt over and started to tear it apart.

A few Giant Wolves knocked over a Demon General and they opened their mouths full of sharp teeth and started to maul it. The Demon General turned into demonic qi and disappeared. Elsewhere, a Demon General stabbed its spear through a Spider's body, killing it instantly.

Another Demon General held a large axe and ferociously swung it, chopping a Giant Wolf in half, causing blood to spurt everywhere. A Corpse Soul Soldier holding a large sword sliced a Demon General into a few pieces.

Even though Great Qin suffered some losses, they were able to quickly kill the summoned Demon Generals and go back to killing the Dark Demon soldiers.

The Dark Demon World's soldiers continuously died, and some people had already started to run in fear. The fate of the Dark Demon World was already decided, and there was no hope.

Seeing this, the Spirit Light people hidden nearby could only retreat. They had come due to the Dark Demon World requesting help to resist Great Qin.

However, Great Qin had attacked so ferociously from the start and had immense numbers. This made it so that the Spirit Light people were not willing to attack like they had agreed on.

Seeing that the Dark Demon World was going to fall, there was no point in them acting, so they could only retreat.

“Arghh!” Mo Qi roared as he sent all of his power into his Clan Armament and Nation Armament, and a demonic light shot into the sky, causing the heavens and earth to continuously tremble.

Boom!

Zhao Fu coldly smiled as he slashed out with his sword. Countless images of broken corpses appeared around him, giving off a power that seemed to be able to slaughter everything as they surged forwards and inundated Mo Qi.

After the images disappeared, countless broken body parts fell from the sky. The Dark Demon World's World Protector had died just like that, and seeing this, everyone else threw down their weapons and knelt as they surrendered.

Zhao Fu coldly looked over them. The other Legatees' faces were pale, and they understood that they were not a match for Zhao Fu at all.

It was not just them who had lost; the army below had also lost, and the entire Dark Demon World had lost.

The Legatees could only choose to submit, or else they would die. Now that the Dark Demon World was going to perish, they could not escape.

After they submitted, everything was much easier to deal with. Great Qin broke through the defensive walls and swarmed into the Eastern Continent and started to conquer City after City. Most of the Dark Demon people could only just submit to Great Qin, but there were some people who resisted.

In response, Great Qin killed those they could and captured those they could and then threw them into the Four Soul Devil World to also turn them into Devils.

Great Qin's soldiers, clad in black armor, walked into Cities, and the commoners all knelt in terror. Sensing the darkness aura coming from Great Qin's soldiers, their hair stood on end. Those people felt even more terrifying than people from the Demon Race; they were true darkness soldiers.

Great Qin's soldiers gathered all of the commoners together before going through the houses and taking anything of value and any food.

Now, food had become an important resource and they could not afford to waste anything. If anything unexpected happened, they had to have a backup stockpile.

At the same time, they also captured some soldiers who were hiding and wanted to resist. These soldiers hid among the commoners and wanted to use the layouts of the Cities to attempt a final resistance. Even though there were not many of them, they were able to slow down Great Qin's soldiers and even cause some casualties and injuries.

During a time like this, they had to use special methods to scare the Dark Demon people who had just surrendered in order to prevent them from resisting. Because they had only just surrendered, they had not been completely settled yet.

Of course, Great Qin would not use a soft approach and offer forgiveness; it would only use a bloody suppression.

For the rebels who had died, their clothes were stripped off and their stomachs were torn open, and they were hung on the City walls.

If they hadn't died, they were brought in front of everyone else to be punished. This applied for everyone, men and women, old and young.

They were tied to pillars and their skin was gradually peeled off starting from their faces, revealing their blood-red flesh. These people would die slowly, and they were hung under the intense sun.

The intense sunlight seared their skinless flesh, and the pain stabbed at them all over their bodies, causing horrific howls to sound out.

"Arghhh..." Those people could not endure the pain and could not stop howling, and their voices filled all of the Cities. It was like a hell on earth.

Countless commoners were gathered together, and looking at the thousands of people on the pillars, even though they did not experience that sensation, they understood how painful it was. They became even more terrified and knelt on the ground, not daring to move even a bit.

Chapter 1298: Demon Primogenitor

Now, these people became even more obedient. Great Qin continued to clear out houses and hung some more people up.

They also instituted a system of guilt by association: If anyone resisted, their whole family would be punished. At the same time, anyone who hid would be treated the same way. This was quite effective, and there were fewer people resisting and hiding.

Seeing this scene, the people who had just submitted to Zhao Fu could not take it and tried to persuade him to show more mercy. This included the young man with the bright smile, but Zhao Fu ignored them.

Great Qin needed to do this to suppress the Dark Demon people as quickly as possible; they would not show any mercy to those who resisted.

Finally, Zhao Fu came to the Demon Heaven Sect, the Dark Demon World's number one Sect. It was the most powerful, and because of Mo Qi's death, it had resisted the most. They had activated their Grand Sect Formation and wanted to fight until the end.

Boom!

Zhao Fu used his Nation Armament and slashed apart the Grand Sect Formation in one strike. He stood in the air and watched as the Dark Demon World's final resisting faction was destroyed.

Great Qin's countless soldiers flooded in and started to kill. Whether they were men or women, elderly or young, they were all killed. In response to the Demon Heaven Sect's stubborn resistance, Zhao Fu did not accept any surrenders.

Countless Demon Heaven Sect disciples died pitifully, and the stench of blood continuously spread out. The cries of pain seemed unceasing, and this place had become a slaughterhouse.

A Great Qin soldier used his spear to pierce through a woman who was shielding a child, and the spear stabbed into the child as well. The child howled in pain, and blood leaked out of the woman's lips as she looked at the soldier pleadingly.

The soldier's expression was cold as he carried out Zhao Fu's orders. The spear in his hand trembled as a powerful energy spread out. Two pained cries sounded out as a large hole appeared in the woman and child's bodies.

A Great Qin soldier looked at a young man running away and vigorously threw his spear. His spear sailed through the air and nailed the young man against a wall, while an elderly man cried and leapt towards the young man, his son.

The Great Qin soldier slowly walked over, and looking at the elderly man holding his son in his arms, his gaze was cold as he drew his saber and chopped the elderly man's head off. Blood gushed out from his neck, spraying all over the wall, and the elderly man's head rolled with an agonized expression on his face.

An elderly woman held a baby as she bitterly pled for mercy, saying that the child's parents had already been killed by Great Qin. She hoped that Great Qin could at least spare the child and only kill her.

However, the Great Qin soldier did not even wait for her to finish and a few sword lights flew out, reducing the elderly woman and baby to bits.

Zhao Fu watched the soldiers coldly carrying out his orders in satisfaction. After fusing with the Darkness Crystals, their souls had become darker as well and did not show any mercy. They were like cold killing machines; that was how powerful soldiers should be.

Mo Yao'Er, who was hugging Zhao Fu, said, "Owner, there are many pretty women below, why not enjoy them? Have a celebration of our victory in the Demon Heaven Sect! I also want it as well. If you don't want to keep those women, you can kill them after playing with them."

After speaking, she then looked at Mo Qianqian and the number one beauty Mo Xianxian, "You two, properly serve Owner later, or this will happen to your Sects as well."

Before, as the top three beauties in the Dark Demon World, there was some enmity between them. Mo Yao'Er's beauty had been eclipsed by theirs, as had her strength, making her feel quite displeased.

Now that she had followed a ruler like Zhao Fu who had conquered the Dark Demon World, she was naturally going to take out her grievances against them.

Mo Qianqian coldly harrumphed. With her temper, she normally would have cursed at Mo Yao'Er, but because she had just been conquered and Mo Yao'Er was favored by Zhao Fu, she did not dare to do anything. Given Zhao Fu's cruel methods, he evidently was not a good person.

“Great Qin's Majesty, the Demon Heaven Sect is willing to submit to Great Qin; please stop the killing! I'm willing to give you the Demon Heaven Sect's supreme treasure!” an elderly man knelt on the ground as he pleaded.

Zhao Fu did not recognize this elderly man, and Mo Yao'Er explained that he was the Demon Heaven Sect's Sect Master.

Hearing this, Zhao Fu's expression became cold. These people had resisted so intensely before, and now they were scared after being massacred. However, Zhao Fu was quite interested in this supreme treasure, so he gave the order to stop killing.

The countless soldiers who seemed like they had turned into demons stopped, and the Demon Heaven Sect's disciples felt as if a calamity had passed. They weakly collapsed to the ground, and some people started to loudly cry in fear.

Zhao Fu came to the elderly man's side and asked, “What is that supreme treasure?”

Seeing that Great Qin had stopped its slaughter, the elderly man let out a sigh of relief and looked as if he had aged ten or so years as he said, “It is a finger of the Demon Primogenitor. It is in the depths of the Demon Heaven Sect and provides pure demonic qi for the Demon Heaven Sect.”

“Demon Primogenitor?” Hearing these two words Zhao Fu understood somewhat. The Demon Primogenitor was the origin of the countless Demon Races' bloodline, and each Demon Race only had one Demon Primogenitor; each Demon Primogenitor would give birth to a race of Demons.

A Demon Primogenitor's corpse would be incredibly useful, and it was indeed a supreme treasure. However, the elderly man said it was just a finger, making Zhao Fu feel somewhat disappointed.

Zhao Fu followed the elderly man into the depths of the Demon Heaven Sect, which was thousands of meters below the surface. Within a massive stone cave, there was a pinky finger floating within a magic formation.

This finger was as white as jade, and it was as big as a normal person's pinky finger. It gave off a faint black light and gave off an enormous demonic qi as well as a powerful might.

Zhao Fu's body uncontrollably gave off a wave of demonic qi; after obtaining the Sky Demon Sword, he had obtained Sky Demon Qi.

Even though Sky Demon Qi was a high-tier power, it could not compare to the Demon Primogenitor Qi. Under the Demon Primogenitor Qi, Zhao Fu started to somewhat lose control.

At the same time, Zhao Fu felt a wave of hunger. He waved his hand and a formless energy brought the pinky finger over, and after hesitating, he put it in his mouth and ate it.

The Demon Primogenitor finger was surprisingly tasty, and Zhao Fu wanted to have a few more bites. There was still some blood in the finger, and as he chewed, blood squirted out of it. The bones were a bit hard, but Zhao Fu vigorously crunched and ate them as well.

After the finger entered Zhao Fu's stomach, Zhao Fu's Divine Bloodline started to digest it. A massive wave of Demon Primogenitor Qi spread out, and his body quickly absorbed it.

Standing by the side, the elderly man was quite shocked as he watched Zhao Fu eat the finger. Even though he was not against eating people, that was the finger of the Demon Primogenitor, and the power it contained was not something that an ordinary person could digest.

Chapter 1299: Split in Three

After eating the Demon Primogenitor finger, Zhao Fu's Divine Bloodline easily digested it so that not even a speck remained. Zhao Fu now had some Demon Primogenitor Power, and even though it was quite weak, Zhao Fu was still quite satisfied.

“Let’s go!” Zhao Fu glanced over at the dumbfounded elderly man and spoke calmly as he walked out, and the elderly man hurried after him.

After coming outside, Great Qin’s soldiers had finished taking over the Demon Heaven Sect, and all of the people from the Demon Heaven Sect had been gathered together.

Zhao Fu sat above and considered how to deal with these people. He had planned to punish them, but considering that their attitude in making up for their offences was not bad, he spared them this time.

Mo Yao’Er flirtatiously sat within Zhao Fu’s embrace and said, “Owner, I helped you find ten or so beauties from the Demon Heaven Sect!”

Zhao Fu looked over and saw ten or so women walk over. They all had graceful figures and snow-white skin. They were all extremely beautiful and had outstanding demeanors.

Of the women, there was a woman in green robes who stood out the most. She had a voluptuous figure and a proud aura. She was quite strong and not much inferior to Mo Yao’Er in terms of looks either.

Mo Yao’Er noticed Zhao Fu’s gaze falling on the green-robed woman, and she smiled as she introduced her, “Owner, she’s called Tian Ling’Er, and she is the daughter of the Demon Heaven Sect. She’s ranked fourth in the Dark Demon Beauty Rankings and was Mo Qi’s fiancée. She’s still a virgin; Owner, do you want to do her?”

Hearing this, Zhao Fu smiled and lifted Mo Yao’Er’s chin and asked, “Is it me who wants it or you who wants it?”

Mo Yao’Er giggled and kissed Zhao Fu as she said, “I like Owner doing me every day!”

Zhao Fu stopped Mo Yao’Er from pressing things further. Great Qin’s invasion of the two other Continents in the Dark Demon World were also quite successful. Now that the most powerful Eastern Continent had been conquered, it was no surprise that the other Continents had been conquered as well.

Bai Qi and Wang Jian were currently tidying up the two Continents and Zhao Fu awaited the results. Soon, Bai Qi and Wang Jian sent detailed reports, and Zhao Fu gave the order to build a defensive wall on the border with the Spirit Light World.

Zhao Fu knew that the Spirit Light World had tried to interfere, but they did not dare to act after seeing how ferocious Great Qin was. They also had the ability to move a large number of soldiers to other worlds.

Now, their task was to calculate their gains. Because it was difficult for the Dark Demon people to escape from their own world, they had gained enormously in terms of population and Cities.

They gained four billion people, 70,000 Cities, countless treasures, and an endless amount of money. At the same time, Great Qin also obtained an ocean of food.

Great Qin's soldiers started to clear out the Dark Demon World and conquered the Cities that were in the wilderness or hidden away in order to avoid future troubles. However, they left 100 or so regions unconquered to maintain the Heaven Domain Boundary.

Within the Demon Heaven Sect, Zhao Fu started to go at it with Tian Ling'Er, Mo Qianqian, Mo Xianxian, and the others. Looking at them moaning and breathing raggedly underneath him, Zhao Fu felt quite satisfied and felt a grand feeling. He could see Great Qin sweeping across the heavens with unstoppable momentum and conquering everything in its path.

He would become an Emperor who would establish an unending reign and conquer all of the major Races and enjoy the most beautiful woman. This was undoubtedly something that countless people dreamed of and wanted to pursue.

"Hubby, I want more!" The originally cold Mo Xianxian, the number one beauty of the Dark Demon World, tightly hugged Zhao Fu with a reddened face.

After unrestrainedly enjoying himself, Zhao Fu led the army back to Great Qin, and the invasion of the Dark Demon World officially concluded. Great Qin had conquered the Dark Demon World and was now a force with three worlds.

After returning to Great Qin, Zhao Fu enfeoffed new Concubines and the Emperor Phoenix Statue's power now surpassed that of an ordinary Clan Armament. The Great Qin Palace now not only gathered massive amounts of Phoenix Qi from Great Qin's three worlds but also from the Grassi World, Half-Beast World, and Elf World.

The ocean of Phoenix Qi made the Emperor Phoenix incredibly powerful, and its power definitely surpassed that of a Clan Armament.

After clearing out the Dark Demon World, their next target would be the Spirit Light World.

At the same time, Zhao Fu received news that the Devil Horn Empire had successfully conquered the Lantong World, and the other worlds wanted to ally with Great Qin to suppress the Devil Horn Empire.

Zhao Fu felt quite displeased – before, Great Qin had sent out countless ambassadors to ask the other worlds to join together to suppress the Devil Horn Empire, but no one had replied. Now that they felt the Devil Horn Empire's pressure, they wanted to ally with Great Qin.

However, Zhao Fu held back his displeasure; if he could ally with the others to suppress the Devil Horn Empire, it would be possible for Great Qin to destroy the Devil Horn Empire. Without the big obstacle that was the Devil Horn Empire, Great Qin's path in the future would be much smoother.

However, news of Great Qin conquering the Dark Demon World quickly spread – such a big matter could not be concealed.

After hearing about this, the various factions were shocked. The Devil Horn Empire was enough to terrify them, and now there was Great Qin. This news caused their faces to all become incredibly pale; there was danger everywhere.

The factions were now unwilling to ally with Great Qin. Great Qin now had three worlds and three additional Continents, and it was only a bit weaker than the Devil Horn Empire.

In the end, the other worlds formed an alliance to resist the Devil Horn Empire and Great Qin. The area was now split in three.

Zhao Fu could only inwardly curse at them. He had expected the others to go back on their word at their own convenience.

After hearing that the Lantong World had been conquered, Zhao Fu sent a large number of soldiers to the Grassi World. Now that the Lantong World had fallen, the Continent that the Lantong World occupied in the Grassi World naturally also fell into the Devil Horn Empire's hands. The Devil Horn Empire already had four Continents there, and it now had five.

If they conquered the Continent that Great Qin occupied, the Devil Horn Empire would have three worlds. Zhao Fu could not allow such a thing to happen, no matter what. As such, he needed to stoutly guard the Grassi Continent that Great Qin occupied.

Now that two big factions had risen up, this caught the attention of the surrounding 100 worlds. Even some of the factions in the inner Domains were interested in these two factions, particularly those from the Ancient Stem Domain.

After all, these two factions held a total of almost seven worlds and had risen powerfully. If one of them won out, the twenty first Royal Kingdom would appear in the Ancient Stem Domain.

Because the two factions were both in the remote boundary region, they could not threaten the various Royal Kingdoms and powerful Sects, so none of them held any ill intent. Instead, they were interested in supporting one of the sides, hoping to gain a reliable ally in the future.

The Devil Horn Empire naturally greatly welcomed this, and Zhao Fu also welcomed this. After all, anyone providing Great Qin with resources was a good thing. However, Great Qin demanded equality and did not want to be bullied by others.

Chapter 1300: Legatee Ambassadors

Within those factions, most of them wanted to support Great Qin. After all, even as a new world, Great Qin had performed spectacularly, which was quite rare. It had much greater potential than the Devil Horn Empire.

However, many big things had happened around Great Qin, and it was likely that those things were related to Great Qin. This made Great Qin seem somewhat mysterious, so most people were willing to support Great Qin.

As such, many factions sent out ambassadors to Great Qin, and this included some people Zhao Fu was familiar with, such as the Ice Origin Kingdom's Bing Qixue, the Heavenly Music Sect's Yin Ruoshi, the Wine Sun Kingdom's Jiu Xiaoyun, the Volcano Sect's Huo Yan, and even the Ancient Sword Sect's people.

In response, Zhao Fu did not dare to show himself – even if he wore his cloak and mask, he would be recognized. Once he was recognized, Great Qin would be in a predicament.

As such, Zhao Fu had Li Si receive them, and this caused a lot of dissatisfaction. After all, these Royal Kingdoms and Sects had sent their Legatees to personally come, showing their sincerity.

And yet, Great Qin's King was not willing to even show himself, and this was unacceptable. Some people suspected that Great Qin was looking down on them, but Li Si explained that Zhao Fu was ill and could not come out, which the ambassadors were barely able to accept.

However, Zhao Fu somewhat did not want to work together with these people. The Ancient Sword Sect was an enemy, and Great Qin would one day destroy it. Also, because of past matters, the Dao Cultivation Sect might stand against Great Qin in the future.

There were some factions that did not have any enmity with Great Qin, but after knowing about Zhao Fu's identity, they might harbour ill-intent towards Great Qin. If they worked together, it would be likely for Zhao Fu's identity to be exposed.

However, if he directly refused, he would offend everyone. If they acted against Great Qin or supported the Devil Horn Empire, Great Qin would fall into an incredibly disadvantageous position.

In the end, Zhao Fu could only endure the discomfort and accept working together with some of the large factions. Zhao Fu did not want the resources offered by the Ancient Sword Sect and Dao Cultivation Sect as he saw them as enemies, but he did not dare to refuse.

Putting aside the Dao Cultivation Sect, which was the most powerful faction in the Ancient Stem Domain, even the Ancient Sword Sect would be able to destroy Great Qin. As such, Zhao Fu felt quite pained.

After the talks concluded, the ambassadors felt quite interested and excited as they went about the Great Qin City. They were all shocked at Great Qin's culture and luxuries.

There were all sorts of things they had never experienced before, such as human plays, poems, delicious food, and wines. What shocked them the most was the scene of all sorts of ideologies clashing together, filling Great Qin with great vitality.

This was something that would not be seen in their Kingdoms and Sects, making them feel quite curious as to how Great Qin had done this to create such an awe-inspiring scene. This was not something that could be done overnight.

It was most likely to do with Great Qin's policies, as Great Qin had been promoting such a thing this entire time. They supported all Sects and Schools, which was completely different to them.

Whenever they destroyed a faction, they would get rid of everything related to it and would not keep anything behind in order to prevent any future troubles. However, Great Qin walked the opposite path, and their results were quite good.

The feeling that Great Qin gave was that of a powerful Empire gradually rising in the wilderness, and it had an unstoppable future.

Looking at the soldiers wearing black armor, holding black weapons, and giving off powerful darkness auras, the ambassadors also felt quite shocked. They felt that all of Great Qin's soldiers were quite exceptional and extremely strong. No wonder Great Qin was able to make such great accomplishments despite being a new world.

Everyone gave Great Qin high praise, and they felt that they had not underestimated Great Qin's potential. It seemed that supporting Great Qin over the Devil Horn Empire was the correct decision.

Everyone felt great interest as they continued to explore the City, appreciating Great Qin's sceneries and luxuries. Some people wanted to scope out Great Qin's true strength.

Bing Qixue felt quite interested in the people holding brushes and writing at tremendous speed on the streets, while Bai Haoran was interested in the various Schools' books on philosophy. Jiu Xiaoyun fell in love with Great Qin's various wines, while Qing Murou held many street foods in both hands.

After half a day of touring around, they had heard a lot about Great Qin's Emperor. Not only was he exceptionally talented, but he was also like a god in Great Qin. He was virtuous, gave rewards and punishments appropriately, and loved his people. He set down clear and fair policies and was an enlightened liege.

At the same time, some licentious rumors were also spread, such as that the Emperor was interested in mothers and mature women.

It was also said that Great Qin's harem had innumerable beauties and all of them were as beautiful as goddesses. It was a place where countless men dreamed to be.

After asking about it, the ambassadors heard that Great Qin's Emperor brought women from various worlds into his harem and it seemed that the rumors were true. However, they were quite shocked at the numbers.

With so many women, Great Qin's Emperor was surely too lustful; could he deal with them all? They soon heard about the Emperor's prowess in the bedroom, making them feel incredibly dumbfounded, and they could not help but think of a dragon in human form.

These were just some stories and rumors that Great Qin allowed to be spread around; the truly important matters would not be allowed to be exposed. As such, the ambassadors were unable to gain any useful information, and they now felt even more curious towards Great Qin's Emperor, who they had not been able to meet.

Some people returned to their own factions with the information they had obtained, while some remained in Great Qin, hoping to see Great Qin's Emperor. Great Qin's Emperor was the ruler of Great Qin and the core, so they wanted to see what he was like.

Only by seeing what he was like could they get to know him and see the nature of Great Qin.

However, how could Zhao Fu allow them to see him? The consequences of his identity being exposed were too severe, so he absolutely could not meet with them, and he could only continue to give excuses.

In the end, everyone could only bitterly return. At the same time, they felt quite curious – why did Great Qin refuse to see them? What sort of person was he?

They did not know, and they would never be able to guess that Great Qin's Emperor was that mysterious Emperor who had shaken many Domains.

After hearing that most factions were supporting Great Qin and only one-seventh of the factions had come to him, Yao Ming felt quite angry. It was evident that those factions looked down on the Devil Horn Empire and thought that Great Qin would win.

This made Yao Ming hate Great Qin even more, and he swore that he would use strength to prove himself and show those people that the Devil Horn Empire was the most powerful faction.
