

The Lord 1321

Chapter 1321: Bluestar Forbidden Pupil

A few days later, Zhao Fu received news that the Devil Horn Empire was gathering their army and was planning to attack the Grassi Continent that Great Qin occupied. If they could conquer that Continent, the Devil Horn Empire would also have three worlds.

They had been eyeing that Continent for a while now, and they had not even completely digested the Lantong World yet.

Now, Great Qin had two options. The first was to defend and not allow the Devil Horn Empire to obtain the Grassi Continent no matter what so that they could not obtain the Grassi World.

The second choice was to withdraw from the Continent, cede it to the Devil Horn Empire, and allow it to continue to develop. When it grew to a certain size, Great Qin would ally with the other worlds to attack it together.

In the end, Zhao Fu chose the first option because the second option was too dangerous and things could spiral out of control easily. The Devil Horn Empire had many supporters, and if they acted in key moments, they could change the situation. Moreover, Zhao Fu did not trust the other worlds.

The next day, the Devil Horn Empire mobilized ten billion soldiers, giving off a massive aura like an apocalyptic flood and sweeping towards the Grassi Continent.

Great Qin also mobilized ten billion soldiers to defend, which gave off an aura similar to a grand and impenetrable mountain.

Both sides were used to dealing with each other, and they did not waste any words before they started fighting.

“Roar! Roar! Roar...” Great Qin’s countless beasts and the Devil Horn Empire’s devil beasts intensely fought in the sky and on the ground. The auras they gave off were incredibly majestic and shook the surroundings, causing the heavens and earth to become austere, and the atmosphere became incredibly chaotic.

Massive flying beasts battled in the air, using their fangs and claws to tear and rip at each other, causing countless feathers and pieces of fur to descend.

The beasts on the ground ferociously charged at each other, resulting in heavy and muffled explosions. They used their fangs and claws to savagely attack each other, causing blood to fly everywhere. Pained and furious cries continuously sounded out, creating a bitter and grim scene.

The Devil Horn Empire soldiers gave off massive auras as they roared and swept forwards like an ocean. Their power seemed to be able to destroy everywhere, causing the heavens and earth to dim. Great Qin continuously shot out arrows, which descended like rain and continuously killed Devil Horn soldiers.

However, because Great Qin had gone through a few large battles, they were in short supply of Talisman Arrows and Talisman Bolts. Using their Corps Formations, the Devil Horn army was able to defend against most of Great Qin's attacks, and they quickly reached the defensive walls and started to attack.

Great Qin continuously shot down arrows, while the Devil Horn Empire responded with arrows. The Devil Horn soldiers used all sorts of methods to scale the walls, while Great Qin continuously threw down heavy objects to stop them.

The sounds of battle thundered out, shaking the surroundings, and soldiers on both sides quickly died. A dense stench of blood spread out, seeming to be able to dye the sky blood-red.

The Devil Horn Empire had come prepared. Apart from the massive and ferocious devil beasts, they had also summoned out massive blue eyes.

The blue eyes were about 100 meters wide and floated in the air, giving off sapphire-like lights. Their gazes were cold and did not contain any emotion, causing people's hairs to stand on end, and they also gave off an intense might.

The blue eyes were summoned from a Lantong forbidden technique called the Bluestar Forbidden Pupil. Each Bluestar Forbidden Pupil required 10,000 Lantong people's eyes to summon.

Moreover, they had to be the eyes of living people, and dead people's eyes were not usable. Even though there were only a few thousand massive eyes on the battlefield, Yao Ming had used 100 million Lantong people's eyes to summon them.

The people who cast the forbidden technique could not help but think about the Lantong people who had been bound on pillars. They had used their fingers to dig out their eyes, causing blood to spurt everywhere. The victims howled and struggled, but the soldiers had held their heads down and slowly dug out their eyes.

The people who had their eyes dug out were essentially crippled. Without eyes, they could not do anything, and keeping them alive was a waste of food. As such, Yao Ming ordered those people to be thrown into where the devil beasts were nurtured to become food for the devil beasts.

Just like that, 100 million Lantong people had not only lost their eyes but also become food for devil beasts as well.

If it wasn't for the fact that Yao Ming was worried about a Lantong uprising, Yao Ming would have summoned 10,000 Bluestar Forbidden Pupils and sacrificed even more people. However, he understood that he could not do this, as the Lantong people would definitely start an uprising.

After digging out the eyes of 100 million Lantong people, the Lantong people had already been filled with fury. They had surrendered to the Devil Horn Empire and had never thought that the Devil Horn Empire would do such a thing to them.

They had sacrificed 100 million Lantong people for this battle, and if there were even more intense battles in the future, it was likely that more Lantong people would be sacrificed. In order to avoid the Lantong people fighting back, Yao Ming had to show restraint.

However, the Bluestar Forbidden Pupils summoned from sacrificing 100 million Lantong people were terrifyingly powerful.

Boom! Boom! Boom...

As the Commander of the army gave the order, the Bluestar Forbidden Pupils looked towards Great Qin's direction and shot out terrifying blue rays of light that brought with them incredibly destructive power. The air exploded as the blue rays of light flashed by.

Bang! Bang! Bang...

Massive explosions sounded out as rocks were blasted everywhere and smoke rose up. Thousands of large holes were blasted open in Great Qin's defensive wall and some places collapsed. The soldiers who were hit by the blue rays of light did not even have time to cry out before they were reduced to ashes.

The blue rays of light caused massive losses to Great Qin and broke through Great Qin's defenses. The defensive walls had powerful restrictions reinforcing them, but they had still been broken through by the blue rays of light; it could be seen how powerful those attacks were.

"Kill!" Seeing that Great Qin's defenses were broken, the Devil Horn army's morale was greatly bolstered and the soldiers roared as they flooded towards the holes.

Zhao Fu's expression became grim as he sent Stage 2 soldiers to defend the holes, and he also ordered for 1,000 or so Dragon-Slaying Ballistae to be aimed at the Bluestar Forbidden Pupils.

Bang! Bang! Bang...

Rays of light containing terrifying power seemed to cause the air to explode leaving behind traces in the air. All of them were Talisman Bolts, and combined with the Dragon-Slaying Ballistae, they were naturally incredibly terrifying.

Chapter 1322: Fallen Angel Army

1,000 or so rays of light gave off ferociously sharp auras as they shot towards the Bluestar Forbidden Pupils. However, just as they were about to hit, they were stopped by a formless energy.

The 1,000 or so rays of light tried to break through, but the formless energy stubbornly resisted. In the end, the formless energy was greatly reduced, but the 1,000 or so rays of light dissipated and turned back into ballistae bolts and fell to the ground.

The Bluestar Forbidden Pupils were extremely slow, and if they were attacked, it would be impossible for them to quickly dodge. As such, Yao Ming had paid a great price to set up protections for them.

The Bluestar Forbidden Pupils once again gave off an intense blue light, and a powerful and dangerous aura spread out as they once again prepared to shoot out those terrifying rays of light.

Zhao Fu's expression fell and he turned into a ray of light as he rushed out, wanting to stop those Bluestar Forbidden Pupils.

Yao Ming coldly laughed and he also turned into a ray of light as he flew out. He knew that if he relied on the power of his cultivation, he definitely would not be a match for Zhao Fu, so he exploded out with the power of his Nation Armament. Seeing this, Zhao Fu could only release his own Nation Armament's power.

Boom! Boom! Boom...

The two of them started to fight, causing cold lights to shoot everywhere as terrifying ripples spread out and wind gales blew.

Countless Devil Horn Soldiers swarmed forwards towards the holes in the defensive walls. Great Qin's Stage 2 soldiers blocked the holes and released countless sword lights and saber lights, killing the incoming Devil Horn soldiers.

However, the Devil Horn Soldiers were not afraid and charged over even more ferociously, as this was a key moment. Once they broke through, they would win.

Boom! Boom! Boom...

Explosions sounded out as the air trembled and the Bluestar Forbidden Pupils shot out blue rays of light that gave off annihilating power and shot over. The intense blue light dyed the sky completely blue.

Bang! Bang! Bang!...

Explosions sounded out as Talisman Bolts blasted out, seeming to be able to tear through steel. Under that sharp aura, countless people's hairs stood on end.

Bang! Bang! Bang...

The blue light and the Talisman Bolts collided, resulting in massive explosions. The light was blinding and shockwaves spread out.

In the end, the blue rays of light were stronger and countless Talisman bolts scattered into motes of light, while the blue rays of light continued onwards towards the defensive walls. However, because they did not have much power left, they only left marks on the defensive walls.

The Bluestar Forbidden Pupils needed to recharge before shooting again, but Great Qin's Dragon-Slaying Ballistae did not have this problem and could immediately attack again.

Rays of light containing terrifying power shot towards the Bluestar Forbidden Pupils, but were once again stopped by that formless energy, which was once again greatly reduced

The Devil Horn soldiers at the holes were on the verge of swarming through, and Great Qin continuously mobilized Stage 2 soldiers over, as well as countless Devils to stop these Devil Horn soldiers.

The battle was incredibly intense and blood continuously flew out. Howls could be continuously heard and more and more people died.

Seeing this, Yao Ming gave a smile of delight because the situation was in his favor. If this went on, the Devil Horn Empire would conquer the Grassi Continent, giving them three worlds.

However, he felt quite a bit off pressure facing Zhao Fu, and he could only stall Zhao Fu. He felt that Zhao Fu's power had significantly increased from before.

Yao Ming was quite shocked about this, and he could not understand how Zhao Fu had become more powerful so quickly. He had to quickly get rid of Zhao Fu, as if this continued, Zhao Fu would become far stronger than him someday.

Boom!

Yao Ming exploded out with the full power of his Nation Armament as an enormous violet sabre light ferociously slashed towards Zhao Fu. In response, Zhao Fu slashed out a terrifying sword light, and as both sides clashed, it caused a massive explosion.

Bang! Bang! Bang...

More gigantic explosions sounded out as 1,000 or so rays of light shot out towards the Bluestar Forbidden Pupils, once again weakening the formless energy's power.

However, the Bluestar Forbidden Pupils gave off an even more intense light and an even more dangerous aura spread out. The Bluestar Forbidden Pupils were preparing to shoot out an attack that was much more powerful than before, and they would cause many times the damage from before.

Swish! Swish! Swish...

Great Qin hurriedly shot out Talisman Bolts again, once again weakening the formless energy but not destroying it.

The Devil Horn Empire's Commander gave a cold smile as he prepared to have the Bluestar Forbidden Pupils shoot and deal a massive blow to Great Qin.

Suddenly, 1,000 or so creatures came out of the air. They looked somewhat like rats but had the heads of bats, and their teeth and fangs had a metallic luster and seemed quite sharp. They looked quite terrifying.

These were the Nothingness Beasts that Great Qin had nurtured and fused City Lord Seals with. They were about 100 meters tall and after appearing from the air, their sharp claws gave off five rays of cold light as they attacked the formless energy protecting the Bluestar Forbidden Pupils.

After being weakened many times, the formless energy had become quite weak and as the 1,000 or so Nothingness Beasts ferociously attacked, it looked like it would be destroyed soon.

The Devil Horn Empire's Commander's expression fell and he quickly ordered the Archers to attack. Arrows shot out, but the Nothingness Beasts hid back within the nothingness and avoided this wave of attacks. They then came out again and continued to attack.

In the end, the Nothingness Beasts destroyed the formless energy and rushed through, tearing and biting at the Bluestar Forbidden Pupils, easily damaging them.

The Bluestar Forbidden Pupils turned into motes of blue light and disappeared. The Nothingness Beasts then once again hid within the nothingness and reappeared elsewhere, launching sudden attacks on the Devil Horn army and causing a lot of chaos.

Elsewhere, at the places where the Devil Horn Empire had blasted open holes, groups of Fallen Angels with black wings appeared in the sky, giving off powerful auras. There were roughly two million of them.

They raised the Darkness Swords in their hands and blasted down black rays of light that gave off terrifying power.

Boom! Boom! Boom...

Explosions sounded out as the black rays of light descended and exploded. A single ray of black light could kill or injure ten or so Devil Horn soldiers, instantly causing countless deaths and casualties. The two million Fallen Angels all had Stage 3 strength, and their attacks were naturally quite terrifying.

Following this, even more Stage 2 Great Qin soldiers rushed to the holes and started to kill the Devil Horn soldiers in an orderly fashion. They had blocked them from rushing in.

Only now did Great Qin reveal their cards, whether it was the Nothingness Beasts or Fallen Angels. He had obtained all of them from the Cosmic Historic Ruins and had never used them yet. Yao Ming did not know about them at all, and he naturally did not have any countermeasures.

Looking at the disappearing Bluestar Forbidden Pupils and the Devil Horn soldiers in chaos, Yao Ming hatefully glared at Zhao Fu and gave the order to retreat.

Chapter 1323: City Stats

Currently, the Devil Horn Empire had no way of breaking through Great Qin's defenses. As such, they could only retreat, or else they would lose even more people for no reason.

The Devil Horn Empire's retreat signaled Great Qin's victory. Great Qin's countless soldiers cheered and Zhao Fu grinned as he gave the order to clear the battlefield.

Both sides suffered great losses and Great Qin did not gain any great benefits. The only benefit that Great Qin gained was that they stopped the Devil Horn Empire's advance, while the Devil Horn Empire had suffered great casualties and injuries and had not achieved anything.

The ones who benefitted the most from this fight between Great Qin and the Devil Horn Empire was the alliance of surrounding worlds.

Seeing that Great Qin and Devil Horn Empire did not fight to the death, they all felt quite disappointed. They had been waiting for both sides to suffer heavy losses before destroying them both in one go so that they would not have to worry in the future.

The alliance also formed an allied army to prevent Great Qin and the Devil Horn Empire from suddenly doing anything.

However, in terms of battle power and unity, because they were different factions from different worlds, they were much weaker than Great Qin and the Devil Horn Empire.

They had been watching the battle between Great Qin and the Devil Horn Empire, and that was the reason why Zhao Fu did not chase after the Devil Horn Empire.

After this battle, the Devil Horn Empire most likely would not dare to lightly attack Great Qin. The Devil Horn Empire had suffered great losses and had not been able to defeat Great Qin. However, Great Qin had revealed many of its cards, and the Devil Horn Empire would be more prepared next time.

Since these methods would be less effective next time, Great Qin had to prepare other methods to defend against the Devil Horn Empire's invasion. This was quite troublesome, as powerful methods were not very easy to prepare.

After returning to Great Qin, Zhao Fu gave out rewards for contributions during the battle, especially rewarding the Fallen Angel Corps.

They had fought powerfully and killed countless Devil Horn soldiers, and they had been quite eye-catching.

Arasina lightly harrumphed as she said, “But of course! They’re all This God’s Fallen Angels. After you conquer a God Race world and turn them into Fallen Angels, they will be even more powerful.

Zhao Fu smiled as he looked at Arasina. He found that her attitude towards him was not as cold and disdainful; it seemed that familiarity really did breed ‘fondness.’

Arasina and the female attendant Nossi, as well as the 24 God Emissaries, were often given love by Zhao Fu, so their attitudes towards him gradually became better. As a Fallen Angel godly spirit, Arasina’s bewitchingness continuously grew.

Boom!

Suddenly, a shocking explosion sounded out as the world became dark and clouds swirled, and a terrifying aura covered the Heaven Awaken World.

Within the vast void, the eight crystals slightly trembled. Countless experts sensed this and were startled, looking quite serious and worried.

Zhao Fu’s expression also froze. He went outside the palace and looked at the chaotic sky. He was familiar with these ripples, as this had happened twice in the past.

“System announcement! City stats have been reduced by 10%.”

“System announcement! Region power has been somewhat reduced.”

As expected, system announcements sounded out in his head. The first time, City Lord Seals had been rendered unusable; the second time, production stats had disappeared. Now, city stats were going to be reduced by 10%.

Cities gave various stats, such as production stats, soldier and resident bonuses, spawning stats, etc.

Apart from these, there were also some special stats, and now that they were all going to be reduced by 10%, there would be a great impact.

There was also region power. Every region contained power, which could allow one to administer the region and use its power.

However, now that Great Qin had established a Kingdom and had even unified a world, the weakening of region power did not have significant effects. However, it would affect some smaller factions.

“Ai!” Zhao Fu could not help but sigh. Now, everyone could see problems with this. The power of City Lord Seals had disappeared, production stats had disappeared, and now city stats and region power had been weakened. What would disappear next?

If this went on, it seemed like all stats would be reduced or completely disappear. The entire Heaven Awaken World’s power could weaken or even... be destroyed.

After thinking about this, Zhao Fu was given a big fright. If the Heaven Awaken World was destroyed, those who lived in it would also be destroyed.

Even though such thinking was quite terrifying, this sort of conclusion was quite possible if things continued on like this.

Zhao Fu could not help but think about the advice that the higher-being had given him, which was to hurry and upgrade to a Royal Kingdom. The higher-being definitely knew something, or else they would not say such a thing.

Rising to a Royal Kingdom was great pressure for Zhao Fu. He only had three worlds, and he was still seven worlds away from rising to a Royal Kingdom.

Now, Zhao Fu could only hope that nothing bad happened to the Heaven Awaken World, or else a small faction like Great Qin at the boundary would be doomed.

A while later, the abnormal signs disappeared and everything became peaceful again, and Zhao Fu hurriedly held a meeting with his important subordinates about the future.

After hearing what had happened, everyone felt quite worried and prepared a set of specific plans. Even if things happened in the future, they would be prepared. Otherwise, they would be caught off-guard and be destroyed.

The meeting continued on for a few days, and afterwards, Zhao Fu planned to go to his chambers to rest. However, he unexpectedly ran into the Flower Fairy.

Even now, Zhao Fu was not clear what sort of existence the Flower Fairy was. She was something from a Festival and had powerful flower energy. She had been casting a blessing but had been kept here by the World-Cleansing Butterfly.

The Flower Fairy was most likely waiting for him here. Before, the Flower Fairy had saved his life, so Zhao Fu felt quite grateful towards her. Seeing her, he lightly smiled and asked, "What is it?"

The Flower Fairy paid her respects and smiled as she said with a slightly red face, "Your Majesty, I can sense that you have very powerful flower energy within your body. I want to borrow your flower energy to create a Flower World, which can spawn ten or so Flower Spirits per day. They will be of great help to you."

Hearing this, Zhao Fu felt quite delighted. Great Qin had three Flower Spirits, which were Roserose, Lilylily, and Peachy. They could not only control all sorts of plants to attack but could also reduce the withering of flowers and had high-grade healing and magic skills.

Most importantly, they had the ability to reduce the amount of time plants took to grow. Now that the production stats had disappeared, they were very important

Chapter 1324: Flower Pupil

Zhao Fu smiled as he nodded and said, "Of course! How do we do it? What do you need Us to do?"

The Flower Fairy's face became slightly red as she brought Zhao Fu to the flower region. This was the place for nurturing Flower Devils, as well as where the World Flower was planted. There were flowers all over the place, which seemed to dress the ground with colorful clothes.

Moreover, because of various buffs, the flowers here would never wither and would bloom in all seasons, causing there to be a dense fragrance of flowers here.

This was undoubtedly the most suitable place to create the Flower World. By now, the World Flower had grown to 5,000 meters tall, but it still had not bloomed. The flower bud was still a jade-green color, and it would still be a while before it would bloom.

The Flower Fairy shyly started to set up a colorful magic formation of light within the flower region.

After the magic formation was set up, every single flower in the surroundings started to give off traces of different-colored auras, which flooded into the magic formation, and a powerful aura spread out from the magic formation.

The light from the magic formation dyed the sky all sorts of colors. The entire sky over the flower region became like this, creating a beautiful and fantastical scene.

The two of them stood at the center of the magic formation, and the Flower Fairy's face became red as she said nervously, "Your Majesty, we need to unify. My flower energy will enter your body, and your powerful flower energy will enter my body, which will create a flower development energy.

"At the same time, the combining of our flower energy will bring great benefits for both of us. You will be able to obtain flower source energy, while I can use your flower energy to recover my memories and power."

"Unify?" Zhao Fu looked at the embarrassed Flower Fairy's face and realized something as he looked at the Flower Fairy's delicate and beautiful face and her slim figure.

Sensing Zhao Fu's gaze, the Flower Fairy embarrassedly lowered her head and did not dare to meet Zhao Fu's gaze.

Zhao Fu naturally understood, and he smiled as he went up, hugged the Flower Fairy, and took off her clothes. At first, the Flower Fairy did not resist and shyly cooperated, but during the most important moment, she panicked. However, the two of them started to go about it within the flowers soon.

As the two of them united, the massive amount of flower energy that the magic formation gathered flowed into their bodies.

The Flower Fairy gave off an intense light and countless images of flowers appeared around her. There were cape jasmines, peach blossoms, sakura blossoms, etc. There were countless of them, and the area seemed to contain all the flowers of the world.

There seemed to be a sea of flowers in the surroundings, and within the sea of flowers, there were eight flowers that were quite hazy and gave off an ephemeral aura that was in the eight cardinal directions.

Based off the auras they were giving off, Zhao Fu could tell that one was the World Flower's aura, and another was the Evil Spirit Abyss Flower's aura.

The two flowers were of the Seven Wondrous Flowers, and Zhao Fu was startled to find that the hazy flowers within the sea of flowers corresponded to the Seven Wondrous Flowers. However, there was an eighth one – could it be that there was an eighth Wondrous Flower that no one knew about?

Before Zhao Fu could work out what was happening, his body started to become hot as the Evil Spirit Abyss Flower in his throat gave off a black and violet light, seeming to come alive.

Countless demon women with seductive figures and beautiful appearances appeared, who twisted their bodies as they danced.

Zhao Fu's eyes became blood-red and his pupils all disappeared as two black Evil Spirit Abyss Flowers appeared within them. They gave off a chilling evil aura as if they had the power to bewitch countless creatures.

Zhao Fu's face also went through some changes; his face became more angled and handsome, and he gave off a dense evil aura and seemed slightly more feminine.

Boom!

Suddenly, Zhao Fu's body trembled – the Six Desires Demonic Crystals within his body exploded out with enormous amounts of Six Desires Demonic Qi, and six rays of black light giving off sharp auras flew towards the sky.

The Six Desires Demon Gods appeared in the sky; Zhao Fu's Six Desires Celestial Art had broken through, and countless traces of Heaven and Earth Demonic Qi flowed into the Six Desires Demon Gods' bodies. The sky was covered with demonic clouds and a massive might spread out.

Now that the Art had broken through, Zhao Fu gained the ability to summon the Six Desires Demon Gods. However, things were not over just yet.

The Six Desires Demon Gods in the sky raised their hands, and a massive power blasted down and entered Zhao Fu's body. Zhao Fu's body seemed to be filled by that Six Desires Power, and his eyes once again went through changes.

Within the two Evil Spirit Abyss Flowers, six small black runes appeared, and demonic qi circled around the flowers. They gave off an attractive force, and it was as if looking into Zhao Fu's eyes would cause one to be sucked into darkness.

The Six Desires Power and the Evil Spirit Demon Abyss' power actually combined, which made Zhao Fu feel quite shocked. He had never thought that the two powers could fuse together.

Boom! Boom! Boom...

Sensing the Six Desire Demonic Qi, the six statues within the Six Desires Celestial Sect gave off intense ripples, which passed through a few worlds, causing countless people to be shocked as a heaven-toppling aura spread out.

The six statues within the Six Desires Celestial Sect seemed to come to life. Their eyes were filled with dense killing intent, causing the people in the Six Desires Celestial Sect to be greatly shocked. They had never seen the Six Desires Celestials react so strongly before.

The various higher-beings were greatly dismayed, and one person sighed as he said, "That person's Six Desires Demonic Art has once again progressed; looks like he has harmed countless women. We should kill him before the situation gets beyond our control!"

Another higher-being nodded as he said in approval, "This Sovereign also feels that we should kill him as soon as possible. The reaction from the Six Desires Celestial Statues is dozens of times more intense from before, all because of that person's threat. I'm afraid that that person has encountered some heaven-defying opportunities in recent years."

The other higher-beings also agreed with this and decided to temporarily leave the Sect to find that legatee of the Six Desires Demonic Art and put an end to this matter.

This shocked many people – the six higher-beings personally acting to hunt down a single person was incredibly rare.

However, they knew that there was a lot of enmity between the Six Desires Celestial Sect and the Six Desires Demonic Art, so they could understand. Countless Sects expressed their support, wanting that scourge to be eliminated as soon as possible. However, all sorts of evil sects supported the legatee of the Six Desires Demonic Art.

Zhao Fu did not know about this, while the true legatee of the Six Desires Demonic Qi had tens of peerless beauties with him. Before, he had been traveling around and having fun as he conquered more beauties because the Six Desires Demonic Art required a large number of peerless beauties.

However, after hearing about this, he could only run about hiding, not understanding why this was happening. He had not done anything big, so why was the Six Desires Celestial Sect reacting so intensely, with the six higher-beings personally coming to kill him.

Chapter 1325: Celestial

He did not know that he had completely overestimated himself, and the person that the six higher-beings were looking for was not him but Zhao Fu. With the six higher-being's terrifying power, it was possible for them to create great problems for Zhao Fu.

Zhao Fu's body was incredibly hot as he was affected by the Six Desires Demonic Qi and the Evil Spirit Abyss Flower. He could not hold back his desires, and he continuously ravaged the Flower Fairy.

Under the effects of the flower sea, the Flower Fairy breathed raggedly and shyly responded to Zhao Fu.

The two of them went at it for an entire day before stopping, and the Flower Fairy's face was completely red as she powerlessly lay on Zhao Fu's body. Zhao Fu lightly hugged the Flower Fairy, and they enjoyed the afterglows of the pleasure together.

After a while, the Flower Fairy said shyly, “Your Majesty, the unifying I was talking about isn’t like this; it’s two people taking off their clothes and pressing against each other while kissing, causing the two powers to combine.”

Zhao Fu was quite startled and realized that he had misunderstood; no wonder the Flower Fairy had briefly resisted, but Zhao Fu said shamelessly, “Even if it’s like that, I couldn’t hold back because you’re too enticing.”

The Flower Fairy could not help but feel incredibly happy, and she put her head against Zhao Fu’s chest, not daring to meet his gaze.

Suddenly, the Flower Fairy thought of something and said sweetly, “Husband, my power has not yet recovered, but I’ve recovered some of my memories. I’ve realized that I’m a trace of a remnant soul, and if I gather more flower energy, especially that of the Eight Wondrous Flowers, I will be able to recover my power.”

Hearing this, Zhao Fu felt quite startled and asked in curiosity, “What kind of remnant soul?”

The Flower Fairy’s existence was quite special and Zhao Fu had always wondered just what kind of existence she was. Hearing that she had recovered some of her memories, Zhao Fu could not help but ask.

The Flower Fairy smiled mysteriously. “Husband, try to guess what my remnant soul is. I’ll give you a hint, it’ll completely blow your mind.”

Zhao Fu thought about it, and said in shock, “Don’t tell me you’re the remnant soul of a higher-being.”

If it was a higher-being lying in his arms right now, Zhao Fu would feel quite shocked and afraid. The difference in strength was like comparing an ocean to a grain of sand; a higher-being’s finger could kill him countless times.

Last time in Emperor Path College, Zhao Fu could not even resist the Emperor Heaven Realm, which was nothing in front of a higher-being. By now, Zhao Fu knew how terrifying higher-beings truly were.

With Zhao Fu's Stage 9 Cultivation, it was only natural that he would be terrified if there was a higher-being lying in his arms. Now, Zhao Fu felt a chill within his heart.

The Flower Fairy looked at Zhao Fu with her beautiful eyes and smiled as she shook her head.

Zhao Fu let out a sigh of relief and asked, "Is it something below higher-beings then? The remnant soul of a Flower God?"

Now, Zhao Fu guessed that the Flower Fairy was the remnant soul of a Flower God. Her blessing and abilities were like that of a godly spirit's, and most of the events in the Legacy Lands were related to godly spirits.

However, the Flower Fairy once again shook her head and said, "I'm not some Flower God; before, I was even stronger than a higher-being."

"What?" Zhao Fu looked at the Flower Fairy in shock – if she was even more powerful than a higher-being, wouldn't that mean she was a Half-Step Celestial? Zhao Fu felt chills run through his body; if there was a Half-Step Celestial lying in his arms, he felt that he was going to be scared to death.

This was especially so given what he had just done with the Flower Fairy. If he had done it with a Half-Step Celestial and she wanted to make trouble for him in the future, he would die without even knowing how he died.

Facing such an existence, Zhao Fu could not help but feel nervous. "Umm... Flower Fairy, I'm sorry about just then, I didn't ask you properly. However, are you really the remnant soul of a Half-Step Celestial?"

The Flower Fairy lightly laughed, "So even Great Qin's Emperor knows how to be afraid! Don't worry, husband, I'm not angry; don't you see how happy I am? Also, I'm not some remnant soul of a Half-Step Celestial?"

Zhao Fu felt quite startled; stronger than a higher-being but not a Half-Step Celestial... what could that be?

The Flower Fairy smiled as she said, "Husband, what else could I be?"

Hearing this, Zhao Fu felt as if his heart was going to stop. He looked completely shocked as he thought of something unbelievable. Could it be that the Flower Fairy was a true Celestial?

Thinking about the possibility of a legendary Celestial being in his arms, Zhao Fu's first reaction was to run and disregard everything; he did not even think to put on his clothes.

Now, Zhao Fu felt his entire body go cold and cold sweat appeared all over his body; he had actually done that to a Celestial. Even if he told anyone else, they would not believe him because it was simply too shocking.

Just what kind of existence was a Celestial? They were the peak existences of the Heaven Awaken World; they could cause the heavens and earth to split and destroy countless worlds. Nothing in existence had the power to stop them.

Even though Zhao Fu had always been curious about what kind of existence the Flower Fairy was, he never would have thought that she was the remnant soul of a Celestial.

However, Zhao Fu still needed to confirm, and he asked, "Flower Fairy, are you really the remnant soul of a Celestial?"

The Flower Fairy smiled and nodded seriously.

Now that this had been confirmed, Zhao Fu felt as if his heart had fallen into a deep abyss. If the Flower Fairy wanted to do anything to him or Great Qin, he and Great Qin would not even have the courage to resist.

Seeing this, even the golden dragon within Zhao Fu's body felt incredibly shocked. It had never thought that the Flower Fairy would be such a terrifying existence.

The Flower Fairy sensed the changes in Zhao Fu and shyly kissed him as she said, "Husband, you don't need to be afraid of me; aren't I your woman now? Moreover, my current power is not even one-tenth of yours. I've also recovered only a small portion of my memories and cannot help you much right now."

This was the first time Zhao Fu felt too afraid to accept a woman. It was not that he did not want her but that he did not dare. Thinking about the Flower Fairy's identity, he felt that he was going to be scared to death.

However, with such a terrifying woman, the help she would provide him and Great Qin would be immense in the future.

Moreover, he also had a Concubine from the Origin Race. Even though she had left for a long time and he did not know if she would come back, she was still his Concubine. She was naturally Tuoba Qing, Zhao Fu's first woman.

It had been a few years, and Zhao Fu wondered where she was and how she was.

Thinking about Tuoba Qing, Zhao Fu could not help but feel a bit worried. What if the Flower Fairy would have to leave as well?

The Flower Fairy saw Zhao Fu's expression and she lightly hugged him as she asked caringly, "Husband, what is it?"

Chapter 1326: Overlord War

Zhao Fu shook his head, indicating that it was nothing. He looked at the Flower Fairy's beautiful face and evilly smiled as he pressed her below him and asked, "Flower Fairy, do you want to do it again?"

In response, the Flower Fairy embarrassedly nodded.

However, just as Zhao Fu was about to start, there were some movements around them, and the Flower Fairy said, "Husband, I think Flower Spirits are about to be born."

Hearing this, Zhao Fu could only stop, and the two of them put on their clothes and went towards where the movement was coming from, which was a few hundred meters away.

A little red flower that was a few centimeters tall and had four petals absorbed the surrounding flower energy and quickly grew.

It gave off an intense red light, and a figure gradually condensed within the red light, and the red light gradually dissipated.

Soon, a Flower Spirit appeared before Zhao Fu. She had a slim, elegant figure and snow-white skin. She was quite beautiful and had long, red hair, and she had a red flower on top of her head. She wore clothes made of flower petals, which only covered her important parts. She also had a pair of transparent wings that looked like leaves.

What was surprising was that she was as big as a regular human, while Roserose and the others who were only as big as a palm.

Zhao Fu asked the Flower Fairy about it, and her reply was that there were many types of Flower Spirits and they were all different. Some had special abilities, but they were mostly quite similar.

Hearing this, Zhao Fu examined the strength and abilities of the newly-born Flower Spirit. It was like an ordinary Flower Spirit, and Zhao Fu felt at ease.

They could spawn ten or so of these Flower Spirits every day, and Zhao Fu was quite satisfied with this. Now, he wanted to bring the Flower Fairy back to the palace and make her a Concubine. He imagined that she would have unimaginable amounts of Phoenix Qi and would not have any less than Tuoba Qing.

“Husband, the Flower World here requires me to regularly come here to maintain it. I also want to stay here and absorb flower energy to recover my power and memories,” the Flower Fairy said.

Zhao Fu thought about it; this was undoubtedly the best place for the Flower Fairy, so he said, “Alright, you stay here then. I’ll order people to build a palace for you here, and I’ll give all of the Flower Spirits to you to manage.”

The Flower Fairy gave a happy smile. “Thank you husband! I forgot to say, I left a trace of Celestial Flower Energy within your body, so make sure you hide that. Also, you can now absorb all kinds of flower energy and can fully use the Evil Spirit Abyss Flower in your throat.”

Zhao Fu spread his senses through his body and found that there was a new flower within him. It was very small, about as big as a mung bean. It had eight petals and gave off eight different-colored lights, and it gave off an extremely strong power.

Zhao Fu felt quite touched; this was evidently very important to the Flower Fairy, yet she gave it to him. He could not help but cuddle with her for a bit longer.

Following this, Zhao Fu returned to the palace and made the Flower Fairy a Concubine; she indeed had a massive amount of Phoenix Qi. If he had made her a Concubine earlier, just from the Phoenix Qi she contained, he would have understood that her identity was not simple.

However, back then Zhao Fu really did not have any thoughts of laying his hands on the Flower Fairy. If it wasn't for that misunderstanding, given that she was his benefactor, he definitely would not have laid his hands on her.

Right now, there was a massive war going on in the Desolate Crow World, which was the world next to the White God World. It was a battle to be the overlord.

The Desolate Crow World was quite special, as they did not have any Sects or Kingdoms; everything was organized into Tribes. The race here was called the Desolate Crow Race and they were all tall and well-built and had powerful muscles. They were natural-born warriors.

However, the culture and traditions here seemed to have stayed at a primitive level. They all wore beast skins and beast fangs, held crude weapons, and gave off barbaric auras.

The Desolate Bird World's geography was also quite special. They had 68 Continents and most of them were quite small. A few regions could even form a Continent, and they were occupied by different Tribes.

The biggest of the 68 Continents was at the center, so it was called the Overlord Continent. If anyone could conquer this Continent, they would become the Desolate Crow Overlord and receive the loyalty of the other Continents and be able to command them.

This battle was a massive battle for the Overlord Continent, and the winner would be the Overlord who would unify the 68 Continents.

Boom!

A valiant-looking young man in purple held a sharp sword with nine violet dragons around him. He gave off an intense King's aura, and he slashed out with his full strength, causing an enormous violet sword light to tear through the heavens and earth.

His opponent was a muscular young man who held a massive stone hammer. He exploded out with terrifying power, and he roared like a wild beast and gave off an unstoppable aura as he rushed towards the violet-clothed young man.

Bang!

The violet sword light gave off terrifying power as it shot over, and the muscular young man swung his hammer with all his might, giving off immense destructive power as it smashed towards the violet sword light. However, in the end, he was blasted back by the sword light and coughed up a large mouthful of blood.

The violet-clothed young man appeared beside him and pointed his sword at him, saying coldly, "You've already lost, not just in battle power but also in terms of Tribe strength. You only have two choices: submit or die."

The muscular young man did not hesitate because he was indeed weaker, so he acknowledged the other young man. He half-knelt and said loudly, "I, Yewu Yuanyin, am willing to submit to the Is Tribe!"

The violet-clothed young man was Si Ji, the Legatee of Great Xia.

After escaping from the human world, Si Ji came to the Desolate Crow World. In order to regain power, he used everything at his disposal; he married the daughter of a leader of a large Tribe and received the baptism of the Desolate Crow Race, becoming half a Desolate Crow person.

Following this, he took over the Tribe and developed it. The primitive power that the Nine Province Cauldrons contained had been very beneficial to him because the Xia Dynasty had also been established during a primitive time. The primitive power that it hid gave him enough strength here.

In the end, Si Ji triggered the Overlord battle and became the Tenth Overlord of the Desolate Crow World.

During this time, Si Ji had gone through many hardships and his aura had changed. It had become steadier and sharper, and it had a valiantness to it. He had endured a lot of bitterness and condescension from others just to take revenge on Great Qin someday.

Now, this day had finally come. He was now the Tenth Overlord of the Desolate Crow World, and he had become an existence looked up to by countless.

Si Ji had never thought that he would be in such a position. Even though he was not the true ruler of this world, he could use this world's power. Now, he barely had the qualifications to fight with Great Qin.

Because they were only separated by a few worlds, Si Ji had been keeping an eye on Great Qin's activities, and he knew that Great Qin had conquered three worlds.

Chapter 1327: Desolate Crow Race

Right now, Si Ji only had the qualifications to fight with Great Qin, and winning was not very possible. Si Ji naturally thought about the Devil Horn Empire, who Great Qin was fighting with. If he allied with the Devil Horn Empire, it would be possible to defeat Great Qin and wash away his shame. He would repay Great Qin ten times over for everything in the past.

He had also considered the allied worlds; their overall strength was greater than that of the Great Qin's and the Devil Horn Empire's, they were not unified and did not dare to directly fight with the Devil Horn Empire or Great Qin. As such, Si Ji could only give up working with them.

After becoming the Overlord of the Desolate Crow World, Si Ji had immediately sent an ambassador to the Devil Horn Empire to request an alliance.

After hearing about this, Yao Ming felt delighted. Allying with another world at a time like this would be a massive help to the Devil Horn Empire, allowing the Devil Horn Empire's overall strength to surpass Great Qin's. As such, Yao Ming naturally agreed happily.

After Yao Ming agreed, Si Ji was not too surprised, as he had already expected this. In a situation like this, only an idiot would not ally together.

Both sides had a common goal and they quickly formed a deep partnership. Yao Ming even gifted countless equipment and medicinal pills to the Desolate Crow World to increase its strength and deepen the bond between them. Soon, they began to discuss how to destroy Great Qin.

In the end, both sides were very satisfied and came up with a plan to destroy Great Qin. They all left with smiles and left to make preparations.

Zhao Fu naturally heard about this matter soon, and he was somewhat surprised to hear about Si Ji's appearance. He had never thought that he would meet this old enemy again, or that he would become the Overlord of a world.

However, Zhao Fu did not take Si Ji too seriously. There was a pile of information about the Desolate Crow World in front of him, and he knew much about it.

Si Ji was not the true ruler of a world; he could only lead the large and small factions, and his rule was not absolute. Many factions were not truly loyal to Si Ji.

Zhao Fu coldly laughed; he would show Si Ji what a small world should do when two large worlds were fighting.

A Great Qin ambassador quickly headed to the Desolate Crow World. After much investigation, they found that most people were not very satisfied with an outsider like Si Ji becoming the Overlord. However, because they did not have the strength to resist, they had hidden their resentment.

After hearing that Si Ji was going to ally with the Devil Horn Empire to fight Great Qin, many people were quite resistant. The names of the Devil Horn Empire and Great Qin had spread throughout the surrounding ten or so worlds, and they were the two largest Kingdoms in the surroundings.

The Desolate Crow World's people did not want to get involved, even though they had the strength of one world and their fighters were not weak.

However, they were split into countless factions, while the opponent was a unified faction. When fighting, it would be evident that the unified faction would be much stronger in terms of morale, equipment, and coordination.

The Devil Horn Empire and Great Qin were both massive, unified Kingdoms, and their Desolate Crow World evidently did not have enough strength. If they got involved, they would most likely suffer a loss.

However, Si Ji was the Overlord of the Desolate Crow World and he had the power to make this decision, and they had to follow his orders.

In order to pacify the people and quell the resistance, Si Ji announced to everyone that they would not submit to the Devil Horn Empire and would be working as partners. From now on, the Desolate Crow people would conquer other worlds; they would not be afraid of shedding blood or fighting.

This was quite effective, as the Desolate Crow people were a warlike people and did not fear battle. They had never left the Desolate Crow World before, and perhaps under the leadership of this new Overlord, they would be able to conquer other worlds instead of continuing to fight amongst themselves.

Because of the Desolate Crow World's geography, it was quite difficult for the factions to be quite unified, so they did not attack other worlds, while other worlds did not want to make trouble with the Desolate Crow World either.

Now that they were going to conquer other worlds, this was a historic moment, and Si Ji immediately received the support of countless young people.

However, some older Desolate Crow people expressed their worries. They were now old and were not as hot-blooded anymore. They just wanted to live their days in peace. The Desolate Crow World joining the battle between these two large Kingdoms could cause the Desolate Crow World to fall into danger.

Great Qin's ambassador had already contacted the Tribe that was most dissatisfied with Si Ji. This Tribe was quite powerful, and it could rank in the top three in the Desolate Crow World.

This Tribe was called the Silent Tribe and was quite shocked at the sudden arrival of Great Qin's ambassador. They could not understand why Great Qin's ambassador had come to them.

However, as the ambassador of such a big Kingdom, the Silent Tribe still received this ambassador very seriously.

Great Qin's ambassador directly spoke of his purpose here: Great Qin was willing to provide all sorts of aid to help the Silent Tribe become the Overlord of the Desolate Crow World, and also told them of Si Ji's true identity. He was a rebel from Great Qin, and Great Qin had to kill this person.

Now that he had gained control of the Desolate Crow World and wanted to join with the Devil Horn Empire to resist Great Qin, Great Qin's Emperor was very furious and was willing to help the Silent Tribe.

However, if the Silent Tribe refused, Great Qin would choose another tribe to become the Overlord. Great Qin was willing to provide all sorts of equipment and even battle beasts to help with this, and they could even become the true rulers of the Desolate Crow World.

The Silent Tribe was already dissatisfied with Si Ji, and they had wanted to become the Overlord but did not have the power. Now that they heard that Great Qin was willing to support them, they were naturally quite pleased.

After hearing that Great Qin would choose someone else if they did not accept, they did not hesitate to work together with Great Qin.

Following this, Great Qin's ambassador left and came back with a great number of gifts, saying, "Our Majesty is very pleased to work with you and sent over ten million sets of armor, ten million sets of weapons, six million bows, five million bottles of Stage 3 medicinal pills, and 100 war beasts."

The Silent Tribe's people were all dumbfounded; they had never thought that Great Qin would be so generous. Looking at the equipment giving off cold lights, as well as the bottles of medicinal pills, everyone's eyes widened and their breathing became erratic.

With such massive support, everyone in the Silent Tribe felt delirious with joy. Now, they were certain that Great Qin would indeed fully support them to become the Overlord.

They had never suspected Great Qin's motives, as Si Ji was a rebel from Great Qin. They had investigated this and confirmed it.

Even if he wasn't a rebel, given how he had antagonized Great Qin, Great Qin would definitely want to kill him and destroy his faction. As such, it was natural that Great Qin would support them and help them get rid of Si Ji.

Chapter 1328: War Beast

In actuality, all of this equipment was no longer useful to Great Qin. Great Qin now provided Black Iron God Equipment for all of its soldiers, and all of the medicinal pills that it provided contained Hidden Evil, which they had used against enemies like the Orc City in the past.

Even though this was quite sinister, Zhao Fu did not want to fully support a faction that might bite him in the future. More importantly, Zhao Fu did not trust them.

Seeing how delighted the Silent Tribe's people were, Great Qin's ambassador gave a pleased smile and said, "Everyone, these are just the items and are not much. What's most fearsome about Great Qin are the battle beasts, please have a look."

Massive gray wolves appeared in front of everyone. Looking at their bodies, which were close to 100 meters long; their savage gazes; sharp teeth; and the ferocious auras they gave off, everyone felt quite shocked.

"Is this Great Qin's true strength?" Everyone could not help but gulp. Even though they had heard about how powerful Great Qin was, they had never seen its strength for themselves. Today, their eyes had been opened and they had seen Great Qin's true strength.

Now, they were even more sure that the Desolate Crow World definitely was not a match for Great Qin. At the same time, they were extremely happy that such a powerful faction was supporting them, which would allow them to easily take the position of Overlord.

Following this, Great Qin's ambassador told them about a massive piece of news, which was that if the Silent Tribe truly wanted to work with Great Qin, Great Qin's esteemed ruler, the Emperor, would personally come to talk and would provide a method for developing the battle beasts.

Everyone in the surroundings was sent into an uproar; they had never thought that even the Emperor would come. The Silent Tribe's strength was on par with a Marquisate Kingdom, but compared to the ruler of three worlds, they felt quite overwhelmed.

At the same time, they were not in a hurry to agree; the leaders returned to their tent and gathered the most powerful and influential people in the Tribe and started to discuss this matter from the beginning again. What they decided would affect the fate of the entire Silent Tribe.

Within the tent, there sat a middle-aged man who was slightly skinny and wore black clothes. He was the Chief of the Silent Tribe, Moke. There was a well-built young man next to him called Moyue, who was the Young Chief of the Silent Tribe.

The two rows below were filled with seated people, and they were naturally the powerful and influential people in the Silent Tribe. They all looked to Moke and waited for him to speak.

Moke told all of the information to everyone and asked for their opinions.

Soon, someone said, "I feel that we should work with Great Qin. They have a reason for getting rid of Si Ji, and we want to become the Overlord; we have a common cause. Moreover, Si Ji already knows that we're dissatisfied with him, and if he has an opportunity, he will immediately destroy our Silent Tribe."

Someone else said, "I agree. We should take this opportunity to make a move against Si Ji with Great Qin's support. If we wait, it might be too late."

However, there were people who were hesitant, saying, "For Great Qin to support us so greatly, their aim definitely is not simple. I feel that Great Qin wants the Desolate Crow World to have a civil war so that it will not be a threat."

Others nodded, and one person said, "This civil war will be the Desolate Crow World's biggest civil war. We have Great Qin's support, but Si Ji will have the Devil Horn Empire's support.

"When the time comes, who knows how many people will die? It's possible that we will become sinners of the Desolate Crow World and cause countless lives to be lost."

After hearing this, the atmosphere in the tent became incredibly heavy. Most people now did not feel like working with Great Qin and did not want a terrifying civil war in the Desolate Crow World.

Seeing this, someone said dissatisfiedly, “I know you don’t want a large civil war, but don’t you know that Si Ji is Great Qin’s enemy? Now that he has allied with the Devil Horn Empire, the Desolate Crow World is already involved.

“Even if we don’t have a civil war, Great Qin will attack the Desolate Crow World sooner or later. When that time comes, the Desolate Crow World will have mountains of corpses and seas of blood; this is unavoidable.

“Also, Si Ji can get rid of us at any time. Do you want to just wait to die? If we want to take the Overlord position, a civil war is inevitable.

“More importantly, Great Qin has other Tribes to choose from to work with; do you think the others will definitely reject Great Qin? A civil war will happen sooner or later; the most important thing is for us to gain power through this.

“Also, even the Emperor will personally come; this shows Great Qin’s sincerity. Also, everyone saw those battle beasts. A single one of those terrifying battle beasts can most likely rival 50,000 to 60,000 soldiers.”

“If we can obtain the method for developing them, not only will the Desolate Crow World be ours, but the surrounding worlds will also belong to our Silent Tribe as well. Our Silent Tribe will lead the Desolate Crow race to an age of glory.”

Hearing this, everyone silently thought about it. It seemed that working with Great Qin was the best option.

In the end, Chief Moke asked for more opinions before deciding to officially work with Great Qin.

After hearing this, Zhao Fu smiled and did not feel too surprised because he had long since expected this.

As such, he snuck into the Desolate Crow World and came to the Silent Tribe, and the one receiving him was the Young Chief Moyue.

The Chief Moke did not appear, as he was still quite wary of Zhao Fu. After all, Zhao Fu had a Nation Armament that possessed the power of three worlds and could easily kill him. As such, he did not directly meet with Zhao Fu and had Moyue meet with him in his stead.

Within a tent, Moyue presented Zhao Fu with fine wine and meat to celebrate their cooperation. There was essentially nothing much to be discussed; it was just Great Qin providing all sorts of resources.

What the Silent Tribe felt would be quite difficult would be obtaining the method for developing those battle beasts. With how terrifying they were, the method was possibly Great Qin's greatest secret, and they would not give it to the Silent Tribe easily.

The method for developing the battle beasts was the thing that the Silent Tribe wanted the most, as it would allow them to sweep away all factions.

As such, they decided to receive Zhao Fu properly before bringing this matter up. However, how could Zhao Fu agree so easily? He did not outright refuse but gave some space for negotiations.

Moyue let out a sigh of relief; things were still possible. He continued with the Silent Tribe's plan and laughed as he had everyone else leave and called in ten beautiful women from the Silent Tribe.

These ten women were all tall, slim, and slightly tanned. They were all extremely pretty and the one in the lead was quite exceptional and immensely beautiful. Her figure was very mature and gave off an intense wild aura.

Chapter 1329: Xueru

The other women were also like this, and they had a trace of wildness to them and a forthright and strong aura. Most Desolate Crow women were like this: Because their people were quite valiant and warlike, they naturally did not have a weak, soft aura.

Moyue pointed at the most beautiful woman and smiled as he said, "This is my little sister; she's called Moli. She and these other women are all famed beauties from our Silent Tribe, and now they belong to Your Majesty. This is a small gift from our Silent Tribe."

Zhao Fu could tell the Silent Tribe's intentions; the Chief sending even his daughter here showed just how seriously the Silent Tribe took this matter; they were showing their attitude about the matter.

At the same time, they wanted to solidify the relationship between the two parties, mainly through Moli. She would be able to help the Silent Tribe in various ways and help the Silent Tribe collect information about Great Qin.

As such, when offering people, most factions would choose people close to them they could rely on, as they could bring all sorts of advantages.

“Your Majesty, enjoy yourself. We’ll talk about official matters after.” Moyue laughed as he left the tent.

Zhao Fu felt quite surprised; he had prepared to bring them back to the palace and did not expect to be doing it with them here.

Moli gave a confident smile and walked over to Zhao Fu and sat on his lap. She wrapped her arms around his neck and looked at him enticingly as she said, “Great Qin’s Majesty, I’ve heard a lot about you. Now, I want you to do me!”

Zhao Fu could not help but laugh; it was rare to see such daring women, who were so confident and wild.

What followed next did not need to be described nor could it be described, and intense sounds came out of the tent.

At first, Moli teased Zhao Fu a bit, but soon, she started to plead for mercy. The other women had long since collapsed, so Zhao Fu could only go at it with Moli. He wanted to see if she would still be so arrogant in the future.

There were about five or six female guards outside, who were Moli’s personal bodyguards. Moli led an army in the Silent Tribe, and she was quite strong herself. If it wasn’t for an incredibly important matter, the Silent Tribe definitely would not give Moli away.

These female guards all had decent looks, mature figures, and savage auras. Hearing their mistress moaning as if she was in great pain, they quickly entered the tent, and their moans soon sounded out.

Moyue waited in the distance, but the sounds were too loud and hearing them, he could not help but react.

He then heard his little sister's voice, and he could not help but imagine her being pressed under that man being ferociously ravaged. Hearing his little sister pleading for mercy, he could only sigh in amazement at Zhao Fu's abilities. Even with the female guards, it was not enough for him.

It seemed that Great Qin's Emperor was just as the rumors said, extremely licentious. With this downfall, it would be quite easy to control Zhao Fu and obtain what he wanted.

Moyue immediately ordered people to bring another 30 beauties here so that Zhao Fu could enjoy himself.

Right after the 30 beauties were sent in, their voices could be heard. Moyue listened from a distance away and could not take it anymore, and he decided to find a woman. However, soon, he once again heard his little sister's voice.

Moyue inwardly cursed and just as he was about to send in more women, his body froze as he saw a peerlessly beautiful middle-aged woman walk towards the tent.

This middle-aged woman was not only incredibly beautiful, she had snow-white skin and an incredibly voluptuous figure. She wore clothes made of fox fur and gave off a trace of a noble and mature aura. Anyone would want to press her down and ferociously do her.

She was his mother, and his father's only woman. She was called Xueru and was from the Snow Tribe. Why had she come here? Moyue felt incredibly shocked and had a bad feeling; he hurriedly went over and blocked his mother, saying, "Mother, why did you come here?"

Xueru looked angry as she said, "Your bastard father gave me to that person in the tent and told me to properly service him."

Moyue felt as if his head had exploded, and his mind went blank. With how free the Desolate Crow people were, there would be men who invited friends to do their wives or had wives serve important guests. However, Moyue never would have thought that his father would give his mother to someone else.

However, Moyue quickly realized that his father was also most likely quite reluctant and only did so for the grand scheme of things.

Xueru's constitution was that of a Desolate Crow Woman Constitution, which had a unique charm, and it could make any man like her and go mad for her. With how lewd Great Qin's Emperor was, he would definitely be controlled by his mother.

Even if they were unable to obtain the Great Qin Empire, they would be able to obtain massive help from Great Qin. The benefits would be unimaginable.

Also, people with this kind of constitution had immense desires, and the previous Overlord had a Desolate Crow Woman Constitution. She needed over 1,000 men every day to satisfy her.

This was the reason why his father was so skinny; when he was younger, he had been a young hero who had countless beauties. However, he could barely deal with his mother, so she was his only woman.

However, as his father aged, he became more and more incapable; if this went on, his father would die because of his mother's body.

In actuality, Moyue hoped that his father would die sooner so he could receive the position of Chief and obtain his mother. He had deeply loved his mother since he was young, but he had hidden this and did not dare to let his father know.

That was the reason why he was so shocked and infuriated when he heard that his father was gifting his mother to someone else.

Moyue said furiously, "Mother, wait here; I'll go talk to father. I definitely won't allow such a thing."

Xueru lightly smiled and hugged Moyue, saying, "As expected from my good son. However, remember not to fight with your father too much; it's enough that he retracts this order. The only ones in my heart are you all, and I don't want to go and serve another man."

Moyue greedily breathed in his mother's scent and tightly hugged his mother as he resolutely nodded. He definitely would not allow such a thing to happen; his mother was his, and he would not allow anyone else to have her.

Moyue quickly ran to his father's tent, and just as he was about to yell at his father, Moke threw out a pile of clothes that caused Moyue to collapse to the ground. He looked at his father dumbly because those clothes were the underwear he had stolen from his mother since he was young.

Moke did not have any intention of blaming Moyue, and he could only sigh as he said, "I knew of your thoughts since a long time ago. Even though our race does not forbid such a thing, this is the best outcome for me, for you, for your mother, and for your little sister."

Chapter 1330: War On All Sides

Moyue's expression became dim and he sat there powerlessly. The secret he had hidden deep within his heart had been long since known by his father, the person he did not want to know the most. Now, he did not have the strength to try to persuade his father.

Going by his father's plan, his father would be rid of his mother and would be able to recover his strength, and his mother would receive satisfaction. He would not do that taboo thing either, and with his mother's help, his little sister would have a better time in Great Qin. The Tribe would also receive great support from Great Qin.

Outside the tent, Xueru heard the sounds from within the tent and her body reacted greatly due to her constitution. Her face started to go red, and a hazy look appeared in her eyes.

However, Xueru was doing her best to hold herself back. Even though she greatly wanted to go in, she stayed far away and told herself that she could not let her thoughts go wild.

Xueru moved further away, but she could still hear the moans of the women within. Their voices were filled with immense pleasure and satisfaction.

Xueru almost lost control of herself and went in, but she controlled herself and prepared to leave. Perhaps her bastard husband would take back that order.

At the same time, she felt a bit disappointed; Great Qin's Emperor was indeed incredibly terrifying in this regard. Now that she had heard it with her own ears, she believed all of those rumors.

“Ahhh!” a cry suddenly sounded out, causing Xueru’s body to freeze. That was Moli’s voice, Xueru’s daughter. Hearing her daughter being ravaged by Great Qin’s Emperor, Xueru angrily stormed in.

As soon as she went in, she saw an incredibly erotic scene. There were lustful and lewd auras everywhere, and there was faint Six Desires Demonic Qi in the air.

Xueru breathed in the Six Desires Demonic Qi, and under the stimulation from the scene and sounds, she could no longer control her body and she leapt onto Zhao Fu.

Zhao Fu looked at this enticing beautiful woman; she was just his type, so they quickly started going at it together.

The dispirited Moyue returned to the tent and did not see his mother, allowing him to let out a breath of relief. With his mother’s personality, she had most likely long since left.

However, in the next moment, Moyue’s body lost all strength and he helplessly knelt on the ground as he dumbly stared at the tent. Within the tent, he could hear the sounds of his mother and another man doing it, and his mother was reacting greatly.

Even though he had secretly listened to his father and mother doing it a few times, it was the first time he had heard his mother sound so happy and lewd.

Without even thinking about it, he knew that his mother was happily and intensely doing it with Great Qin’s Emperor like an incredibly lewd woman.

This lasted for half a day, and only when torches were lit at night did the sounds stop.

Moyue gave a somewhat twisted smile as he came to the tent and softly asked, “Great Qin’s Majesty, may I enter?”

This whole time, Moyue had been outside, and he had listened to the sounds of his mother and Great Qin’s Emperor do it for hours. Under the stimulation, he had actually started to enjoy the feeling.

Zhao Fu answered, and Moyue walked in. The women inside the tent had put on their clothes again, and their faces were quite red and they had faint smiles on their faces.

His mother and little sister were currently lying within Zhao Fu's arms, and his little sister was happily smiling with both arms around him, looking as if she was in love. His mother also affectionately lay within his embrace and lowered her head, not daring to face him.

Zhao Fu said, "I can help your Silent Tribe develop war beasts, but I need you to provide the wild beasts and Tribe Stones. The more ferocious the beasts are, the better.

"Also, don't worry. I won't use any trickery and I can do it in front of you all. Moreover, the beasts and Tribe Stones belong to you, so you should be able to fully control them."

The Tribe Stones that Zhao Fu spoke of were the equivalents of City Lord Seals; they had a different name but the same function.

Hearing that Zhao Fu was only going to help them develop war beasts and was not going to give them the method, Moyue felt incredibly angry. He had sacrificed his mother and little sister but had not obtained the method.

"Good husband, just help my son!" Xueru played her role and kissed Zhao Fu's face as she spoke coyly. She wanted to help the Silent Tribe gain as many benefits as possible.

Moyue looked at his mother hugging someone else, calling someone else husband, and even kissing someone else. However, he felt a bit excited.

Facing Xueru's intimate actions, Zhao Fu felt somewhat embarrassed. Now, he understood that this beautiful-middle-aged woman was Moyue's mother and the Chief's woman. He was amazed at the Tribal world's freeness and chaoticness.

However, Zhao Fu was not someone who would disregard everything on the account of a woman, so he said, "Great Qin can only do this much. I'll help develop as many war beasts as Tribal Stones you have."

"Alright, it's a deal!" A slightly-skinny middle-aged man walked in; it was the Silent Tribe's Chief, Moke.

Even though Moke had not been here the whole time, the information from here had been continuously reported to him. He understood that Great Qin was already making great concessions, so he came and agreed.

The Tribe had 4,000 Tribe Stones, which would allow them to gain 4,000 terrifying war beasts. Thinking about their terrifying power and the excellent equipment that Great Qin had provided, the Silent Tribe instantly became a faction that could sweep across everything.

Looking at Moke, Xueru felt slightly resentful; he had given his own woman away. However, Zhao Fu could not only truly satisfy her, but he could also make her feel extreme pleasure. Adding on Zhao Fu's incredibly handsome looks and extraordinary bearings, Xueru was incredibly delighted to have met Zhao Fu.

If she had been given to a man who was not as capable as Zhao Fu, Xueru's eyes would be filled with rage and hatred.

Zhao Fu smiled and nodded, and he felt more wary towards Moke. To be able to give his beloved woman away, this man definitely was not simple.

The two sides quickly signed a Contract and Zhao Fu took out more resources and gifted them to the Silent Tribe. This caused the Silent Tribe to rejoice and feel even more confident.

Following this, Zhao Fu started to convert war beasts. The Silent Tribe had picked out 4,000 incredibly strong and ferocious Desolate Crow Beasts.

The Desolate Crow Beasts actually included all sorts of wild beasts, such as tigers, lions, crocodiles, elephants, apes, etc.

The wild beasts looked like the beast on earth, but something they all had in common was that they had black skin or scales on their heads.

Zhao Fu fused the Tribe Stones into them, and ferocious auras exploded out. The prepared Silent Tribe started to attack the surrounding large factions and made a challenge to the Tenth Overlord Si Ji.

The largest battle in the history of the Desolate Crow World exploded out.